Mt. Pleasant United Church Celebrates 80th Anniversary

Rawdon — Last Sunday Mount Pleasant United Church was filled with worshippers for the 80th anniversary. Despite a heavy snow storm on Saturday evening and a blizzard on Sunday morning, it took several benches to accommodate the overflow at the morning service.

There was a large number of former residents and friends from all the nearby communities and old residents were present from Foxboro, Frankford, Ivanhoe, Rollonay and Stoco points.

Ferns and chrysanthemums added a bit of beauty and during the service the storm ceased and bright sunshine added another glow.

Former Pastor's Greetings

Rev. Fred G. Joblin of Port Perry beamed with happiness as he rose to bring his message of greeting. He spoke of the wonderful occasion and the great joy of seeing so many people who formerly worshipped at Mount Pleasant as well as members of sister churches in the area. Then, too, he was delighted to see so many people who were still at Mount Pleasant and had been there continuously for the past 28 years.

Mr. Joblin came to Rawdon charge in July 1923 and spoke from the wealth of his experience and the spiritual richness of his years of ministry. He gave a vivid picture of church life at Mount Pleasant preceding the depression years and said, "In the year of union, 1925, Rawdon Circuit contributed the huge sum of $2,500 for missions and other charitable church funds."

Mr. Joblin spoke of his great pleasure in seeing Mr. John L. Bailey in the audience, as he is the only person living who attended the dedication service in June 1871.

Historical Document

Rev. Joblin presented a prized document of historic value to the pastor, Rev. R. B. Bonsteel, for the archives of Mount Pleasant United Church. This was the original copy of the deed to the land where the church is situated and is signed by the late Nehemiah Hubble and his wife, Cinderella.

Mr. Joblin said, "No one can adequately measure what those pioneer stalwarts did for us eighty years ago. These devoted people built the church in order to carry on the cause of Methodism and just below the hill the Baptist folk were busy completing their edifice." Prior to the building of the two churches the services were held in homes and school houses as well as open air meetings in summer.

These early pioneers really sacrificed to give us today such a heritage and it is up to the younger folk to maintain their high standards and carry on the work these pioneers have passed on to future generations. There is no other way, if we, as a people, wish to see clear cut Christian ideals."

Mr. Joblin based his message on "The Three Good Cheers of Our Lord," and this was the first sermon he preached on Rawdon charge in 1923. "Be of good cheer, thy sins are forgiven thee; Be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid, and Be of good cheer, I have overcome the world."

Pastor in Charge

The pastor of the church, Rev. R. B. Bonsteel, was in charge of the service and the hymns chosen all might have been used at the dedication service 80 years ago.

Two of them were written by that famous Methodist, Charles Wesley, and the other by Isaac Watts. Perhaps the tunes on Sunday were different, but they were the ones which were sung so often by our forefathers.

Mr. Bonsteel spoke briefly on the theme " Ye have not chosen Me, but I have chosen you," as Jesus was referring to the disciples.

He also welcomed all who had braved the storm to be in attendance at this service which closed with the rendition of "Love Divine."

The full choir rendered "Blessed Hilltops of Prayer," in the morning and "Take Jesus With You Wherever You Go," at the evening service.

Mr. Raymond Smith was the soloist with Mr. Stanley Hawthorne as accompanist, both of Madoc. He contributed "The Lord's Prayer," in the morning, and "This Is My Task," at night.

Evening Service

The evening service opened with "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go," and Rev. Fred G. Joblin offered a gracious prayer which included memories of other days.

The pastor read a letter of greeting from Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Clarke, Deseronto, as they labored on Rawdon circuit early in 1900. Mr. Clarke referred to the fact that he organized Mount Pleasant Epworth League on October 13th, 1907, as a week-night meeting for all the congregation and meetings were held every Friday night at the church with folks of all ages in attendance. The message closed with the thought, "Best of all—God is with us."

Mr. Bonsteel based his message on the text, "Yet on man trouble thee, for I do belong to Jesus Christ My Lord, through the marks I bear in My body." He cited many cases to prove that the marks of Christians show themselves.

He also spoke of the great need of humanity both in Canada and in other lands and said the Lord meant that whoever is in need of love and assistance should be given help.

In closing, he stressed the need of a personal rededication of each one in order to carry on the great work of the church throughout the coming winter months.

The offering for the day was over $300.

The service closed with the rendition of "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," after Mr. Joblin pronounced the benediction.

A quiet fellowship followed at the close before the guests departed homeward. A chicken dinner is being served Tuesday evening.

RAWDON

Ninety Friends, Present Gift Of Folding Money

Rawdon — About 90 friends and relatives gathered in Wellmans Orange Hall on Wednesday evening and tendered Mr. and Mrs. John Carlisle (nee Della Johnston), a delightful party in honor of their recent marriage.

The program consisted of community singing led by Mrs. Lorne Watson.

Mrs. Frederick Beckett sang a duet with Miss Marie Vanderburg as accompanist and Mr. Kenneth Matthews gave a couple of selections on his electric guitar with his mother, Mrs. W. Matthews, as accompanist. A duet was given by Mr. Craig Watson and Mrs. Lorne Watson.

Mrs. Clifford Clancy read "Advice to Men," and the Misses Mildred and Muriel Morton contributed a duet.

Address Read

Mrs. Douglas Clancy read an address of appreciation to Della and John and Mrs. Clarence Dunham presented the newlyweds with a purse of folding money.

Della and John expressed thanks to the Wellmans folk for their kindness.

Guests were in attendance from Campbellford, Healey Falls, Stirling, Carmel and Trenton.

Refreshments were served and a social hair enjoyed.

The Wellman's Wide-A-Wake Sunday school class held their October meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Beckett and at that meeting they presented Della with a rose satin comforter in appreciation of her services to the class. She graciously said "Thank, you" and hopes to be able to attend their various meetings.

UNKNOWN AREA

The Antarctic Continent, as big as Europe and Australia combined, has been only half explored and mapped.

4TH SIDNEY

PRESENTATION MADE

4th Sidney — A fine spirit of loyalty was shown by the Y.P.U. of Scots United Church when they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgeon Sine for a pot-luck supper on Friday night last.

The object of the gathering was to present one of their number, Mr. Lawrence Dafoe, a gift of money. He lost practically all his clothing, his wrist watch and $85 in money when the home of his uncle, Mr. Carman Frost, burned last week.

Anniversary services were held in Scotts' United Church on Sunday. The morning service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. W. Neelands, who chose his text from 1st Kings 18:22-44.

The evening service was in charge of Rev. Morley Clarke of Roslin, whose text was taken from 2nd Timothy 4:21, "Do diligently to come before winter," stressing the words "come before winter."

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Sine and son Glenn, of Springbrook, also Miss Lorena and Mr. Lorne Sine of Wallbridge, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. Morley Sine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bleecker of Holloway; Rev. W. Neelands and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scott were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moon.

Sorry to report that baby Paul Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Scott, is a patient in Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cherry and Richard of Belleville, also Mr. and Mrs. Keith Fox and Graham, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgeon Sine.

Mrs. W. Mallory of Trenton, spent a few days with Mrs. Alton Sine.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gray and Anna and Mrs. S. W. Lloyd, 4th Sidney, also Mr. and Mrs. Carman Frost, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dafoe. They also entertained some young friends at the supper hour.

SCOHARIE

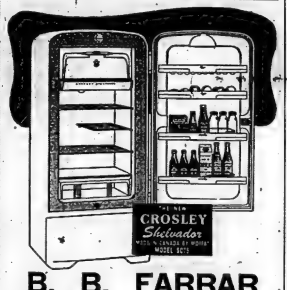
Mr. and Mrs. Keith Foster are rejoicing in the birth of a son, Nov. 3rd, at Prince Edward County Hospital. Little Ann Foster is staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster.

The Live Women's Circle were pleasantly entertained on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Merrill Hagerman, Warings Corners.

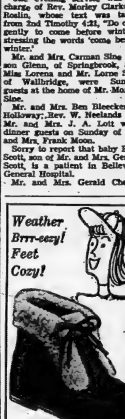
Mr. Roland Istead, Toronto, spent the weekend with fils parents here.

This winter came as something of a surprise. One day there are several varieties of flowers blooming gaily, and the next day they are under several inches of snow.



Mrs. Ralph Stone, Mrs. John Shaw and Mrs. William McGee spent a recent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Leavitt, Wooler.

Mr. William McGee has gone on his usual trip north deer-hunting.



Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Maybee of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Parkhirst of Ottawa visited their mother, Mrs. Clara Jackson over the weekend. Mrs. Jackson is ill and confined to her bed. Mr. and Mrs. C. Maybee visited her mother also.

ONE RIED EXTRA

Sudbury, Ont. (CP)— Camille Rovinelli brought home the limit of five tasty partridges from a hunting trip and they were cooking them when another partridge on tip, wing crashed through the porch window.

Mackenzie Road Is Vital Link With Northland

Edmonton, (CP)—The Mackenzie highway, a vital link with Canada's northland, reached farther into the Northwest Territories than any other highway in Canada.

Only the Alaska highway extends farther north, but it enters Yukon without touching the Northwest Territories, and doesn't link with important industries of the area.

The all-weather Mackenzie highway stretches across muskeg, forests and farmlands for 384 miles from Grimshaw near Peace River in Alberta to Hay River on Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories.

It is a vital supply route for northern industry, carrying mining machinery, provisions and supplies to the north and shipments of fish, grain, fur and lumber to the rail port of Grimshaw. It is also an important outlet for gold from Yellowknife and uranium from Port Radium on Great Bear Lake.

Trucks Used

Large trucks now deliver supplies to the doorsteps of traders who once waited weeks for them to be freighted along the Peace River or carried by winter tractor-train. The truck cargoes are moved on to Yellowknife and points on the Mackenzie river by boat from Hay River.

Homesteaders in Alberta's far north use the highway to carry harvest to elevators. Areas around Manning, Keg River and Fort Vermilion have become increasingly important as agricultural centres and last year alone marketed more than 600,000 bushels of wheat and 200,000 bushels of coarse grain.

Great Slave Lake is Canada's greatest supplier of fresh-water fish. Last year about 8,000,000 pounds of whitefish and lake trout, valued at $612,000, were hauled from Hay River down the Mackenzie highway while only about 1,000,000 pounds were carried by the water route.

Formerly Used Water

Formerly limited supplies of fish were taken only in summer from the northern lake and transported by water down the Slave and Athabaska Rivers to Waterways on the Athabaska River. Winter fishing now accounts for almost half the total annual catch.

The fur industry has also been affected by the highway. Pelts are shipped in large trucks to Grimshaw. Trappers and traders have been brought closer to Peace River towns and are within easy reach of hospital and medical services.

Tourists seeking new horizons travelled the highway last summer, stopping to view two of the north's scenic spots—the Louise and Alexandra Falls. Both are located on the Hay River, within the Northwest Territories.

Construction of the highway was started in October of 1946 and completed in 1948. Preliminary surveys had begun in 1938 and were carried on during the winters of 1938-39-40 in an effort to find a winter road for tractor-trains.

The winter road was used during the winter months until the all-weather highway was built. Parties set out in 1945 to survey the terrain for the Mackenzie highway. They followed the same general route of the winter road, detouring around muskeg and swamp areas.

Construction of the $4,300,000 highway was a joint effort of the federal and Alberta governments. The 303 miles in Alberta were paid for jointly while the 81 miles in the Northwest Territories was a Dominion government project.

Maintenance graders and trucks keep the road in condition during summer months and two snow plows keep it open during the winter.

Sling-Shot Wizard Amazes Americans

Fort Frances, Ont., (CP)—A 14-year-old boy and his sling-shot, and a parking-meter hitching post will likely be long remembered by a party of United States hunters who have returned to their Illinois homes from this northwest Ontario district.

The boy and his sling-shot drew their attention when they returned from a hunting sojourn in the Kenora area.

At Sioux Narrows the tourists stopped the young boy and asked where he had shot the four partridges he was carrying. They discovered there was no shot in the birds.

The boy demonstrated:

He drew a sling-shot from his pocket, aimed and precisely dotted an "I" on a nearby signboard.

The Americans next surprise came when they attempted to park on a busy down-town Fort Frances street.

Spying a vacant parking meter nose they began to head in. Before they could wiggle their car into position a horseman rode up, jumped from the saddle and tied his mount's rein to the parking meter.

That's north country, Suh—it's mighty rugged yet.

BOLD FOXES

Kirkland Lake, Ont. (CP)—With advent of cooler weather foxes are getting bolder and more numerous on the highway between Englehart and Cobalt. Hardly a day goes by without motorists reporting sighting the animals crossing the road.

SPAIN'S POPULATION UP

Madrid, (Reuters) — Spain's population is now 27,809,000, according to the provisional results of the 1950 census, an increase of 2,032,000 in the last ten years. Madrid's population has increased from 1,088,647 in 1940 to 1,608,334 in 1950.

MISSION TO CHINA

Bombay, (Reuters)—An Indian cultural mission is visiting communist China on a month's tour, the India-China Friendship Association announced here. The Indian Mission will participate in the anniversary celebrations of the communist revolution.

Inflation Hits Australia Hard, Cost of Living Keeps Rising, Wage-Price Spiral Operating

By LOUIS L. LECK
(Canadian Press Correspondent)

Sydney, Australia, (CP)—Latest official figures indicating inflation's steady increase in Australia have the population really worried.

A rise of six per cent in the cost of living from July 1 to Sept. 30 forced up the basic wage from £9 13s. to £10, 7s. a week in Sydney. An office boy at the big lead mine at Mount Isa earns £12, 2s. a week, and a fly-sprayer on a whale chaser earns £30 a week.

Inflation has been creeping up on the Australian people faster than ever for more than a year. Based on the 100 as the average for the period 1923-1927, the official cost-of-living index stood at 91 in September, 1938. It rose to 143 in 1948, 164 in 1950. For March this year the figure was 171; for June, 183; for September, 194.

Massive Worries

What worries Prime Minister R. G. Menzies most is that since he took office in December, 1949, the cost of living has increased by about 25 per cent. The Australian system of fixing basic wages means that increases in the cost-of-living index are automatically reflected in the basic wage.

It's the old spiral of higher wages meaning higher prices, meaning still higher wages.

Some trades unionists accept the fact that automatic adjustments in wages do not keep pace with rising living costs, but they are not prepared to accept the opposition put forward by some employers that the only way to break the vicious circle is to stop raising wages.

Against Price Control

On the other hand, employers are cold towards the Labor party's proposition that the proper action is strict control on prices. Employers say price control is useless without a wage freeze and all the controls that go with it.

Basically, rising prices here are part of a world-wide inflationary trend which has affected most other countries. But there are special factors intensifying the problem in Australia. One is the steep increase in Australian wool prices. Another is the increased immigration total, running at about 125,000 Immigrants a year. It is estimated that every immigrant involves a capital expenditure of about £1,000 before he starts to add to the national income. And pressure of immigration on housing, transport, and to some extent on good supplies, is considerable.

Many Shortages

Australia also is chronically short of coal, steel, electric power and transport facilities. These shortages have prevented production increasing as fast as is necessary to cope with the inflationary effects of higher export incomes and immigration.

Also looming large is the defence and development program. During and immediately after the Second World War the public works program of roads, railways, irrigation schemes and the vast Snowy Mountains hydro-electric plan was allowed to lapse. But since the war the need for these public works has become urgent. So has the need for diverting a proportion of productive capacity to re-armament.

In 1948, Commonwealth arbitration court reduced standard working hours in industry from 44 to 40. In 1950 it increased the "real" basic wage by £1. (Under the Australian system this of increase was related not to the price level but to the capacity of industry to pay. However the increase has since been subject to changes in the cost of living.)

No Unemployment

There is no unemployment in Australia today nor has there been for several years. Consequently the basic—and generally lowest paid industries—have been starved of labor while less essential industries have been able to attract workers by paying considerable margins over the basic wage.

These are the factors operating to increase inflation.

The policy of the former Labor government of John Curtin and J. B. Chifley was to curb inflation by controls, of which the most important were wage pegging, price control, subsidies on basic food items, and control of credit and land sales. Only credit control remains on the books.

The Menzies government has found it desirable to re-impose control of new capital issues and in the budget recently increased taxation rates steeply. Meantime the little man watches the climbing index with fear and puzzlement.

MET 'MORAL' REQUIREMENTS

Madrid, (Reuters)— Madrid dressmakers worked day and night for three days to lengthen the skirts of 350 dresses for a new revue, the clothing in which had to meet sudden new "moral" requirements by the Madrid authorities. The new revue: "A Night Out".

UNUSUAL BITE

Montreal. (CP)— Mrs. Ernest Hebert was treated for an unusual bite on the farm. The provincial laboratory identified the attacker as a non-venomous scorpion commonly found in Central America, probably reaching Mrs. Hebert's home in a bag of imported fruits or vegetables.

QUEER TARGET

Wilcox, Sask. (CP)—An albino duck was shot near here by Billy Schneider. The duck, a spoonbill, had flesh-colored feet and bill, pale pink eyes and white feathers.

South Africa's Plan to Divide Whites From Natives Arouses Blacks' Hostility, Suspicion

By L. M. WEID

Johannesburg. (CP)—Dr. Daniel Malan's nationalist government is about to launch its most ambitious scheme to date for the territorial separation of white and native people.

With the support of the city council, the government has decided to remove a group of African townships from Johannesburg to a site well away from the city's white residential suburbs. Villages will be built to accommodate the Africans and transportation to and from work will also be provided.

African opinion is hostile and suspicious. It regards the scheme as an attack on the restricted right of Africans to own freehold property.

Situated a few miles west of Johannesburg, the townships are estimated to be capable of housing more than 50,000 families.

The plan was an important plank in the Nationalist party's program at the general election which brought it to power three years ago. At that election the Nationalist party specifically asked voters of Johannesburg for a mandate to remove the "black spots" within the city's boundaries.

Government to Pay

The city council's support for the project is conditional. The chief conditions are that the government must shoulder the cost, provide alternative accommodation before the townships are moved, provide cheap money for sewerage and other services, and provide transport for the Africans from their new, more distant homes to their jobs in the city.

Originally the townships were clear of the city. But as booming Johannesburg expanded, white residential suburbs executed a pincer movement around them until today, grossly overcrowded and shabby, they are tightly enclosed by thousands of white homes.

Race friction mounted with the years, exploding into the world's headlines last year with ugly riots, when Africans clashed with the police.

The minister of Native Affairs, Dr. Hercules Verwoerd, has notified the city council that the government will make $5,000,000 available for the first stage of the plan, and has already set aside $500,000 for a first instalment.

Property-owning Africans have formed the "anti-expropriation committee" which will fight the removal plan.

The chairman of the committee, Dr. A. B. Xuma, who was at one time president of the All African National Congress, said that people would fight the scheme with every means at their disposal.

African residents of these townships, he said, had not been consulted. "It is their feeling that this scheme is not in the public interest, nor in the interests of social welfare, but is a plan to destroy freehold ownership by Africans. Instead of removing the few freehold townships available to us, it should be the policy to extend such facilities."

Xuma's Opinion

Dr. Xuma thought it was significant that only freehold townships were to be moved. Western native townships, built on the property of the Johannesburg city council, did not fall under the scheme, he said.

The scheme is also condemned by an Anglican missionary, Rev. Trevor Huddleston, who often acts as a spokesman for the Africans in Johannesburg's townships.

"The moral issue involved is such that the churches cannot let this get in default," he said. "If, in the eyes of the African people, the churches are powerless to make some sort of stand, they will lose the Africans' confidence entirely.

"The proposal to move the people en bloc from these areas will increase the present feeling of insecurity. Some of them have the right of freehold tenure which they will not get again, and it is equally clear that wherever they have to go will be farther from their work, with resulting transport and other problems."

Unknown Korean Hero to Van Doos

With the Canadians in Korea. (CP)—No one knew his name but a platoon of the Royal 22nd Regiment won't forget the actions of a small Korean boy who pinch-hit recently as a stretcher bearer, then was wounded himself.

The platoon of the Van Doos was pinned down by enemy mortar, tax and artillery fire and stretcher bearers were moving up to care for the wounded. Among them was the small Korean who had pestered Canadian officers to let him help.

As he bent over a stricken soldier, a shell exploded nearby and a fragment pierced the youngster's neck and came out of his eye.

He staggered, but waved on other stretcher-bearers who came to him. Then pressing a handkerchief to his bleeding eye he stumbled to the rear.

When the action was over and the Canadians went back to their permanent positions in the rear, he was gone.

They never saw him again.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

ell, we're off to the hockey wars come Friday evening the Hugh Pelton Peters help our senior "B" Hawks pry d off the brand new 1951-52 season.

And from here, if power on paper means anything, the ollemen from the city of the brtlock, appear to be the n to beat. That perhaps, is a trifle far-fetched, since none the Hawks has an official senior action, but day-aside, ch's names of some rather potent puckshooters on the ros of the Jim Ellis crew. Add some quality - unknown now ng, (they need be good to some under the heading "inie"), and the Peter pressed a rather formidable puckuring lineup of talent.

They say that Ray Harding, perennial cage custodian for the will do a Brodo act this season, alternating with young Bill Milos, former Oshawa kicker-ootier, Harding, 'tis said, is ng to the point where the pipe-and-slippers look attractive, nis between-pipes spot will be taken by the Oshawa youngfrom time to time.

the home, it happens to all. Harding, if he does decide to ng for keeps will leave a vacancy in senior hockey of the nriet that will be hard to fill. The pesky cuss was always a rn in the side to opposing goal-seekers and it seemed he as unshaky give in thwarting players wearing the livery a Belleville squad.

Meanwhile the senior Hawks will line-up with what appears th department to be a better distribution of attacking strength that which wore the Redmen livery last season. They'll be rolled up by the Black Hawk uniforms, the only change from Chicago type being the crest will be worn on the sleeves.

Coach Red Doran has been drilling his senior squad hard ed they should be in fair-to-middling condition when they ot out on the ice on Friday evening against their ancient mies from Peterborough.

Big Vern Geyer will centre the line of Keith MacDond and Jerry Maher with Junior Barrett acting as pivot an for wingers Peter Jones and Gerry Desjardins. Doran mself will centre the third line with "Nobber" Day and ck Wilson on flanking jobs.

Behind the blueline will be Lou Schmidt, Tommy Schreier, Trumble, Jud Semark and Doug Bastedo. Maurice Lefort will be between the pipes.

If you are a depositor and believe that because Joe ookes trimmed Bill Brown by a larger score than he did Sherley Smith, the latter is a better man than Brown then ere isn't much to choose between the Kingston SAC's and e Queen's University squad. Brockville Macedonas trimmed Queen's a bit more handily than they did Stan Scrutn's new crew, but don't take that as any sort of a criterion. o-season deposers often go astray and what will happen tween the opening gong and the final whistle is in the nds of the hockey gods. However, the Hawks are not weakned by any stretch of the imagination, and remember what appened last year. Friday night's game should be a good test both the Hawks and Peter, and if our memory serves us ight the 1950-51 Redmen scalped the haughty Ellis crewmen their first appearance here.

NORS TO REGISTER

AYS WELL BEFORE ROYALTY

Floyd "Busher" Curry, hard-working right winger of the ontreal Canadiens, plays his best hockey before Royalty. On onday, October 29 in Montreal with Princess Elizabeth and rince Philip looking on, Curry scored three of Montreal's six oals, and all three were notched in the second period. This was s first Hat Trick of the season.

Three players in the NHL scored three goals in one period season. Maurice Richard of Canadiens did it twice, and both mes it was in the opening period. He tallied three against Bosn on February 3 and repeated the performance against Chiago on March 10. Bert Olmstead, teammate of Richard's, did he same thing in the second session on March 10 against the Black awks. Nick Mickoski of New York Rangers fired the rubber inn the Chicago cage three times in the second period on Decem- 24 a year ago.

"CAT"

The symbol of a cat has long been a superstitious emblem, especially when connected with Hallowe'en, and Emile "Cat" Francis, stellar goalkeeper of Cincinnati in the American Hockey League proved no exception to Indianapolis. Francis blanked the Caps on the holiday night, and in a return the next night, the "Cat" only allowed a single tally in another Mohawk victory.

mior Tigers eek Fourth ootball Title

The smooth-functioning Tigers ed through an unbeaten, unied, eight-game schedule to take junior big four title and then nged Windsor 18-5 for Ont- honors in a sudden-death final.

They meet Montreal Notre Dame de Grace here Friday night in a sudden-death eastern Canada championship game and the right to travel west for the Canadian final. Edmonton Maple Leafs and Saskatoon Hilltops clash in the sudden-death western final in Edmonton Saturday night.

Under coach Fred Veale, the Hamilton squad has rolled up one of the most amazing records in Canadian football. As the wild-cats in 1948 and 1949 and as the Tiger-Cats in 1950 and this year, they have won 43 of 46 games to date.

Yet, despite their record this season, the Cats are not rated as highly as the teams of the last two seasons. The backfield appears stronger and faster, but the line is considerably weaker.

Fraser's Sensational Booting Rallies Trailing Bengals On Slush Covered Gridiron

By JACK SULLIVAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, Nov. 8—(CP)—Hamilton Tiger-Cats gave their blessings today to the ice undersoading and water puddles of Varsity Stadium for they have discovered a star who should help them materially along the glory road to the Grey Cup.

The name: Cam Fraser, 21-year-old funny-shinned freshman who made his big-league debut in yesterday's frolic and fired his team-mates to a 24-7 walloping over Toronto Argonauts in the first of the two-game total-points Big Four Football Union semi-final. The 17-point cushion should be enough to send the Cats against Ottawa in the finals next week.

Ironically enough, the well-beaten Argonauts can claim some share in the glory they have heeded Hamilton's pleas to use the Canadian Rugby Union's new $12,000 heating unit in an effort to make Varsity a reasonable facsimile of a football field. Fraser might still be waiting around for his chance.

Stenzel Crowed

The youngster, out of Hamilton's junior ranks, was sent in by Coach Carl Voyles in the second half after Jim Stenzel, Argonauts' cool Joe (King) Krol. Worthington couldn't make the soggy ball behave on his punts and Voyles, who "didn't have the nerve" to start Fraser in league games, gave him the go-ahead.

The lean, long-legged kid in his bright new uniform rimmed the 12,500 brave customers in the stands with a brilliant performance as they're seen all season. He out-kicked the great Krol, sent the double blue backs scurrying for his towering 45 and 55-yard spirals and the Cats took over from there.

Behind 7-6 going into the last two quarters, the Big Bengals who spent most of the first half trying to get out of their own nose due to Worthington's ineffective kicking, found themselves roaming in Argo territory and made it pay off.

Wagoner Carried Mail

The line tightened against the desperate Argonauts, perennial mudders as demonstrated by their 13-0 Grey Cup victory over Winnipeg Blue Bombers last year. The front wall also bored holes in the Argo line for fast-charging backs, and that was the ball game.

The Tigers powered for three touchdowns—two of them converted—and a single, and it the final whistle the 1950 champions were still groping around deep in their own arena.

Hal Waggoner carried the explosive, pointe-scoring power in his 170-pound frame with two spectacular touchdowns. Early in the first quarter he burst through the middle in the clear and outsped Fleet Argo Backs for a 72-yard major. In the third he snaked around a flock of would-be Argo tacklers a 22-yard gallop around the left end for his other touchdown.

Tiger-Cats, on the prowl and ever alert, converted Argo mistakes and a break play, a direct result of the field conditions, to their advantage.

Eddie Bevan pounced on a Doug Smylie fumble behind the Toronto line and missionized later an Argo third-down snapback from a puddle of water floated in the small-sized river before reaching Krol, giving Hamilton possession on the Toronto 12. From there Bernie Custis ghosted around the end for the fourth and final touchdown.

Toronto's lone touch in the second quarter probably hurried Fraser on the scene to handle the kicking chore. Worthington fumbled a first-down snap behind the Hamilton line and Art Scullion picked it up about five yards out and walked across.

Krol accounted for two Argo singles and Tip Logan, classy convert and placement kicker, contributed three converts and a single to the Hamilton cause.

Argonauts will be sadly weakened for the final Saturday. Back Ted Toogood is out with a shoulder separation and lineman Lorne Parkin and Fred Black suffered leg injuries.

Major League Baseball Crowds Smaller Than 1950

New York, Nov. 8 (AP)—Major League baseball attendance dipped about seven per cent to 16,212,628 in unofficial figures for the 1951 season.

Ten of the 16 clubs showed a decline, the most startling being Boston Braves' 48-per-cent drop to 467,481 and Detroit Tigers' 43-per-cent decrease to 1,132,567.

Reflecting the improvement under Manager Paul Richards, Chicago White Sox, improved their 1950 attendance by a dazzling 70 per cent with a draw of 1,328,000. The Philadelphia A's also showed a marked gain on their sorry '50 figures, moving up 31 per cent with a paid total of 465,466.

Both the disappointing Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs dropped off 23 per cent to fall below the 1,000,000-mark.

The world champion New York Yankees led both leagues with 1,951,464 about six per cent below their 1950 attendance record. Cleveland was next with 1,704,984.

Brooklyn topped the National with 1,329,431, followed by New York Giants with 1,133,867. Each indicates a 15-per-cent increase. Attendance at the three-game tie playoff is included in the Dodger and Giant total.

Whether it was Bill Veeck, free orchids or sensational managing, St. Louis Browns picked up a few customers, moving from 347,131 to 293,770, low for the majors. Still, the 46,639 increase represented a gain of 19 per cent.

Name Yogi Berra American League Valuable Player

By JACK HAND

New York, Nov. 8—(AP) — Yogi Berra, squat New York Yankee catcher, today was voted most valuable player in the American League for 1951 in an astonishing finish to a wide-open race.

Tabulation of votes from the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America showed Berra, Red Garver, St. Louis and Allie Reynolds of the Yanks each with six first-place ballots.

The result was sure to start tongues wagging around the circuit, for Berra slumped badly in September and finished with a .294 average. The 26-year-old Berra led the Yanks in runs batted in with 88 and hit 27 home runs.

Berra won on points with a total of 184 on the basis of 14 for a first-place vote, nine for second and so on down to one for 10th. Garver, baby-faced 30-game winner for the last-place Browns, was a close second with 157. Reynolds, who threw two no-hitters for the world champs, was third with 125.

Voting was distributed among 23 players with another 15 receiving honorable mention, in the closest finish in years.

Willie Mays in the American and Brooklyn's Roy Campanella in the national this was the first time two catchers ever were named most valuable.

Enters Ring Minus Trunks

Detroit, Nov. 8 (AP)—Al Gronik, semi-finalist in the Kid Gavilan-Tony Janiro fight here last night, came into the ring.

Clad in the usual robe, he took the crowd's applause, then went back to his corner. Handlers started to remove the robe.

Then they put it back on quickly and Gronik made a fast break for the dressing room. He'd forgotten his trunks.

He drew, finally, with Richie Anderson of New York City, over eight rounds.

ans Wake in Time to See . Leafs Shut Out Chicago 1-0; Rangers, Red Wings Tie 4-4

By JACK SULLIVAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Detroit's Red Wings came from behind to tie New York Rangers 4-4 in a National Hockey League game at Madison Square Garden last night.

That should take care of pro-fessional hockey's doings for the evening but in Toronto, two clubs known as the Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks (they're in the same league) fumbled around in a well-manicured blue, white and red ice of Maple Leaf Gardens for 60 minutes. The result: 13,454 paying customers (plus the fortunate ones who don't have to pay one cent for Toronto, none for Hawks.

Kid Gavilan Wins Over Tony Janiro In Fourth Round

Gavilan floored the Youngstown veteran three times in the fourth round of their 10-round non-title bout, and was awarded a technical knockout. It promoted him a January date with England's Randy Turpin, one-time conqueror of Sugar Ray Robinson.

Janiro now has lost his last two bouts, the other being a 10-round TKO to Rocky Graziano here in October. Gavilan also took a split decision in a meeting last December.

Ottawa's Bruce Cummings Awarded The Jeff Russell Memorial Trophy

Ottawa, Nov. 8 (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders, awaiting a shot at either Hamilton Tiger-Cats or Dominion Argonauts in the Big Four football final, have carried off this year's eastern individual gridiron prize.

Handsome Bruce Cummings, 25-year-old kicker playing his second year with the Riders, has been awarded the Jeff Russel Memorial Trophy and runner Bill Bykowski, former Windsor high school player, has been named the league's outstanding rookie.

Their selection — from the votes of 12 Big Four referees and five league governors—was announced last night by Wes Brown Big Four secretary-treasurer.

Eighth Rider to Win

Cummings, five-foot sleven halfback who in addition to his brilliant kicking has been outstanding in many back punts, is the eighth Rider to win the Jeff Russel Trophy since it was first presented in 1938.

To commemorate a Ottawa Montreal player who lost his life in an accident, the trophy goes to the player the judges consider best combines sportsmanship with ability. The Rider's snap, Don Loney, won it last year.

"What a year this'll be if we can grab the Grey Cup," said Cummings when told of his selection.

The graduate civil engineer from the University of Toronto is where he played with the Blues three years—had just come off the practice field.

"That's about a fellow needs," added Bitkowski. 21-year-old blond giant who had his rookie season in the first game of the season.

Candidates for the Jeff Russel Trophy this year were: Billy Bass and Buckets Hirsch, Toronto; Bob Coulter and Bill Chambers, Montreal; Bernie Custis and Vince Mazza, Hamilton, and Bill Stanton and Cummings, Ottawa.

Candidates for the rookie award were: Phil Adrian and Mario Pacenti, Montreal; Peter Neuman, Hamilton and Bilkowski.

Julius Boros Leads Golf Pros In Open Tourney

By KEN ALYEA

Pinehurst, N.C., Nov. 8 (AP)—Soft-spoken Julius Boros, rated as one of the comers among golf's young professionals, today smashed a two-stroke lead as the North and South Open golf tournament swung into the second round.

Boros, playing out of Southern Pines, N.C., shot a steady 34-36—70 over the rugged 6,707-yard No. 2 championship course of the Pinehurst Country Club to lead Henry Picard of Cleveland and Tommy Wright of Kingsport, Tenn., by two strokes in yesterday's first round.

Canadian Shot a 79

Sharing third place at 71, one under par, were: Tommy Bolt of Durham, N.C., Francis (Bo) Wininger, amateur from Pleasantville, N.J., and Manuel de la Torre, Milwaukee, Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., and John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Five more including defending champ Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., were bracketed at 72.

Montreal's Stan Horne, the only Canadian in the field of 110, had a 79.

A professional less than two years, the 31-year-old Boros turned in 14 pars and four birdies in compiling his four-under par round. He has always done well in this tournament. He tied for fourth a year ago and, as an amateur, tied for second three years ago.

Snead still the choice to take down the top money of $1,300 recovered after an uncertain 36 in bag two birdies and seven pars for an incoming 34.

Britain's Ryder Cup team, beaten here in the biennial matches with the United States team earlier in the week, came up with three of the first day's 73-shooters—British Open champion Max Faulkner, Harry Westman and Dai Rees.

Remember When

(By The Canadian Press)

Montreal Winged Wheelers won the eastern interprovincial rugby union championship 20 years ago today with a 6-1 victory over Toronto Argonauts at Montreal. The Wheelers, whose only previous victories had been in 1908 and 1919, dropped out of competition soon after the 1931 triumph which they capped by winning the Canadian championship.

ANCIENT ORIGIN

Bridgewater, N.S. — (CP)—Sketching the history of the native Indians of the Maritimes tribe, Thomas Raddall, noted author and historian, said here that "only legends remain to tell us of the possible origin of the tribe." While there was a belief they came from the southwest, he said other evidence points to Eskimo extraction.

Chevrefils Fires Four Goals In Hershey Win

(By The Canadian Press)

Pittsburgh Hornets retained their winning ways handing Cleveland Barons a 5-2 defeat last night to extend their victory streak to 10 straight. They have only lost one game.

Danny Lewicki and Gordie Hannigan scored two goals apiece to pace Frank (King) Clancy's squad to victory. This puts the Hornets safely atop the Western Division standing with 20 points. Ray Hannigan got the other in the first period.

At Syracuse, Neal Chevrefils tied an individual scoring record for the current American League season as he blasted home four goals to lead Hershey Bears to a 8-4 victory over Syracuse warriors at War Memorial Auditorium.

The triumph was Hershey's sixth against three losses and a pair of deadlocks and tightened the Bears' grip on first place in the Eastern Division of the circuit.

At Cincinnati, the home team battled desperately back from a 4-1 deficit but couldn't overtake Buffalo Bisons tonight and tumbled to a 4-3 loss. The defeat, before 2,345 fans, ended a four-game Mohawk winning streak.

Les Hicker, Sid McMahaney, Vern Kaiser and Gerry Couture tallied for the Bisons while Ian MacKinlosh, Buddy O'Connor and Eddie Kullman were the Cincinnati goal-getters.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Nov. 8 — (AP) — Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers, speaking in support of the farm system, says that Brooklyn lost $129,518 on its minor league operations in 1950 . . . He calls it a "subsidy" to the minors . . . The Phillies' Bob Carpenter, putting the annual cost of running a club at $800,000, estimates that it costs $347,000 to develop one major league player . . . Both figures add up to one thing: too much . . . Obviously a city like Santa Barbara, Calif. (pop. 44,764) can't afford to take a $70,000 loss on baseball even if that includes the cost of a big tryout school . . . It can't afford the school, either . . . The same goes for $23,000 at Valdosta, Ga. . . . So while there's "subsidizing the minors" the Dodgers seem to be subsidizing independent opposition right out of business in those leagues . . .

A minor leaguer, kicking the subject around recently suggested:— "Why not make it a real subsidy for the Class C and D Leagues? . . . Have the major leagues established a fund to cover losses but let the independent owners operate the clubs on a reasonable financial scale . . . In the same way let the clubs use local talent as far as possible, but have the majors set up a pool of young players on which they could draw to fill out their squads."

A good bridge player profits from the signals he gets from his partner. And a response to a signal often formed a new signal. Otherwise the pair would never reach so many favorable contracts.

A jump overcall is a jump defending bid in a different suit. It is a signal that shows a hand with at least eight tricks and a suit that is at least rebiddable. With only eight tricks, it is not forcing to game.

Such a bid needs two tricks in partner's hand for a good try at a game. So, partner may pass if he has less than two tricks. But with two tricks or more, he should bid something.

Thus, any responding bid by partner promises help enough to make a game. So the responding bid, sets up a new game. It turns the non-forcing jump overcall into a forcing-to-game proposition.

All bidding follows T-A-N: takeout, assist, no-trump; in that order. So, if partner bids he has a selection from one of those three kinds of bids. Only he chooses his bids in that order.

If partner takes out to a new suit, he admits his side should go to game. If he rebids the suit named, he admits his side should go to game. If he bids no-trump, he admits his side should go to game.

You have the seat hand shown here:

♠J 8 6
♥K 5
♦8 7 6 2
♣A K Q 9

South opponent opens with a diamond. Your west partner sticks in a jump overcall of two hearts. He says he has a redrebiddable suit in hearts and eight tricks. He does not force you to bid. He asks you to bid only if you have at least two tricks.

Now you should be three clubs. This says you have at least two tricks, at least a biddable club suit, but not enough to help make a game in something.

Partner should not stop there.

You promise to help him go to game. You are both ready to carry the mail.

Allies Reject Red Proposal For Buffer Zone

By Nate Polowetzky

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 8—(AP)—Allied negotiators today "completely rejected" a communist buffer-zone proposal because it "would have relieved the communists from any pressure to reach agreement" on other Korean truce terms.

The flat turndown came after four hours and 35 minutes spent in finding out just what the communist plan meant. A United Nations' command communique said it was "a fruitless effort."

The communique explained the red compromise "would have provided in essence for an immediate and irrevocable demarcation line.

"This in turn would have relieved the communists from any pressure to reach agreement on other agenda items, deemed essential by the U.N.C. to a full-fledged military armistice."

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chairman of the U.N. armistice sub-committee, said, "we completely rejected the proposal."

However, a U.N. spokesman said there is nothing to prevent the communists from rubbishing it up again when sub-committeemen meet in Panmunjon Friday.

The big hitch is that the reds would set up a buffer zone across Korea now with no guarantee it could be altered later, even if the fighting fronts shoved beyond it.

"If we were assured of adjustments in any tentative line of contact now," the spokesman said, "we would be much closer to solution than we are now.

Another sub-committee sub-committee's 161th at Panmunjom—was set for 11 a.m. Friday.

Allied negotiators again asked the reds to accept a plan the U.N. advanced Monday. This would postpone final settlement of the buffer zone until all other armistice questions are decided.

The U.N. command has indicated it is particularly anxious to settle the question of prisoners of war. This is item four on the agenda. The buffer zone is number two, and the only armistice item discussed in negotiations which first opened July 10.

Hodes said the U.N. command was afraid the communist proposal would settle a buffer zone right now. That could halt the shooting without signing a formal armistice.

ALLOW AIRDROP

Calcutta, India, Nov. 8 (AP) — The statement of a correspondent at Kalimpong reported yesterday that Tibet's Dalai Lama has given permission to communist Chinese forces to airdrop food on Lhasa, the capital. This would be the first time planes have been permitted to fly near the sacred Buddhist city. A critical food shortage in Lhasa was said to have made the airdrop necessary.

Two Children Burned to Death At Sudbury

Sudbury, Nov. 8 (CP)—Two children were burned to death and five persons sent to hospital after an oil burner exploded early today in a Peter Street house.

The children were Rita Roy, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Roy, and Leo St. Jacques, 14, son of Clovis St. St. Jacques. Rita did not escape from the house. Leo died in hospital today.

The injured are:

Leo Roy, 13, brother of the dead girl, burns on hands and face and lacerations;

Mrs. Melina St. Jacques, 66, extensive burns on face, head and back, fair condition;

Noella St. Jacques, 10 months, burns on face and hands;

Miss Yvonne Corbeil, 30, extensive burns on face and hands;

Don Dallaire 18, a rescuer who suffered burns on his left hand and arm and cuts.

Dallaire rescued two of the five victims by climbing to the roof of a porch and breaking a window.

Spread of the blaze was prevented by O. Courtemanche, a neighbor, who removed two 40-gallon drums of oil which were at the rear of the house when the flames were only a few feet away.

Statement Given By Accused Ruled Inadmissible

Peterborough, Nov. 8—(CP)—A statement which Dr. Herbert Young rescued from the flames in Thompson made to him after her arrest on a charge of murdering her husband was ruled inadmissible at her preliminary trial on Wednesday.

The first day the trial ended with the filing of photographs by an Identification officer and with the testimony of two ballistics experts concerning a rifle bullet they said was found in the body of the husband, Roy Thompson, 37, after the shooting last Aug. 25.

Dr. Young's statement was introduced in evidence at the 33-year-old mother's preliminary hearing Sept. 24 but was not read out in court or given to the press at that time.

After it was ruled out, Dr. Young told of talking to Mrs. Thompson the night of the slaying and of finding her in "a highly emotional state."

The old-fashioned courtroom was crowded as Mrs. Thompson, mother of a three-weeks-old baby, went on trial.

Witnesses at the preliminary hearing testified that Thompson, a prosperous dealer in scrap metal, had been drinking to celebrate his birthday the night of the slaying.

Neighbors said they heard Thompson and his wife quarrelling, rushed into the home and found the slain man in the bedroom and his wife hysterically sobbing that she "shot him."

They quoted her as saying: "he said she was yellow and afraid to fire." The trial is continuing.

Liberal Leader Answers Critics About Legal Fees

Toronto, Nov. 8 (CP)—Liberal Leader Walter Thomson issued a statement Wednesday that the fees he received as Ontario solicitor for the director of the Veterans' Land Act were one-third of the minimum fee set by the county of York Law Association for that sort of work.

He said he received from the federal government over a five-year period $345,427.93 for fees taken on property transactions. He said this averaged $22.50 a title and average value of properties involved was $3,000.

Mr. Thomson said the law association set a minimum fee of $75 on a $6,000 transaction. He said one-third of the federal money he received was spent on legal fees and expenses not including wages, office overhead or travelling expenses. From the balance he had to pay his staff, comprising 35 persons; maintain offices in Toronto, Hamilton and London; and pay staff travelling expenses.

Mr. Thomson said he had hoped for a "clean campaign" and regretted Mr. Porter's initiative opponents "by inference and innuendo" charged. "I suggest there is something improper about the fees paid me by the federal government.."

Ontario Riding Will Have Woman As Candidate

Oshawa, Nov. 7 (CP)—A woman today filed nomination papers as an independent candidate in Ontario riding for the Nov. 22 provincial general election.

She is Mrs. Evelyn M. Bateman, Oshawa insurance saleswoman and member of the city council for the last five years. She said she is a member of no party. Conservative opponents "by inference and innuendo" charged.

Mrs. Bateman said Progressive Conservative, and T. D. Thomas, C.C.F., who held the seat in the last legislature.

She is the fifth woman nominated for the election. The others: Lambton West, Mrs. Marcella Brown, Liberal; Middlesex South, Mrs. Anne Wood, C.C.F.; Kenoks, Mrs. Bessie Mitchell, C.C.F.; Prescott, Anne Mayer, Independent Progressive Conservative.

Second Large Diamond Cache Found in Room

Rouses Point, N.Y., Nov. 8—(AP)—A second large cache of diamonds was found in a hotel toilet bowl yesterday and federal agents pressed a search for a woman believed linked to an international smuggling ring.

A plumbing leak at the Holland Hotel led to discovery of the diamonds. No official estimate of their total value was disclosed, but it was reported privately "$250,000."

A woman was detained at this border point early Sunday by customs officials and registered at the hotel. After questioning she was released and left on a train bound for New York.

Authorities would not disclose her name. They said she was suspected of being linked to a smuggling ring and operates between Europe, Canada and the United States.

The day after the woman left the first cache of diamonds was found in a plastic case, which was pulled from a toilet near her room.

The case contained about 728 stones—the largest of which weighed slightly more than a carat. The value was placed at about $100,000.

The plastic case found yesterday was slightly larger.

ROUGH STUFF

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, November 9

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—Some days require calm, less aggression for better handling of many propositions and today is likely that sort. Gain more and faster by accuracy and skill rather than speed.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Profit by advice to Aries. Day very favorable to sound thinking, clever management and efficiency in any useful, purposeful endeavor. Prepare also for next week's tasks.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Not all ideas will be brilliant and some readily so be grateful if you do well in your duties and keep up with schedule. Aim for greater efficiency, correctness and smile.

June 22 to July 23—(Cancer)—Home, children artistic matters among top favorites here, but no urgent work should be neglected because of this. An evenly allocated program will permit more time for all essentials.

July 24 to August 23—(Leo)—Hold enthusiasm and ambition to a sensible tempo and accomplish more in the end. All sound matters, your occupational and household duties can move along smoothly. Avoid moodiness.

August 24 to September 23—(Virgo)—Whatever the demands of your position or duties, maintain calmness, cheerfulness. We save time, energy and disposition this way. Not unfriendly period but care is advised.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—Similar to Taurus now. Most to be achieved if you don't worry, don't procrastinate but do attend to essentials first. Then there will be time for plans, weekend diversion.

October 24 to November 23—(Scorpio) — Promising for well planned and executed action. Of course be purposeful, and strive after more constructive gains. Industry, trades, manufacturing essentials, the military among the favored.

November 24 to December 22 — (Sagittarius)—Advice to Leo can be helpful. Less speed and excitement will allow clearer mind for good work and better nerves. Unless urgent matters need doing, finish things already started.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn)—Can be a day to your liking. Patience and sound judgment are paramount for desired results. Hard work, handling delicate tools, machinery, intricate devices sponsored.

January 22 to February 20—(Aquarius) — If your duties are familiar, you should have little trouble accomplishing all or most, and better than expected. But whatever you do, think and work for the results.

February 21 to March 20—(Pisces)—Tricky spots, especially for new or little understood matters, but on whole the outlook is pleasant, promising. Pitch in with confidence and you will sail along more smoothly.

YOU BORN TODAY: Usually deliberate, determined, careful in speech and action. You are clever, intuitive; fond of learning, but may have to watch lest you become too satisfied with self. We can all learn more, we can and should improve constantly. It is wise to observe how intelligent successful people manage. There are great possibilities for achievement in a profession or any constructive field of endeavor. Curb impatience and occasional tendency to strong temper. Enjoy the outdoors, and prey daily.

Something Familiar About This

To football fans, the muddy field of Varsity stadium, Toronto, has all the marks of a confirmed story. Last year's Dominion championship game was played there and the players were bogged up to their ankles. So authorities bought a tarpaulin to put over the field to protect it from snow. This year when snow and slush descended before the Hamilton-Argos game, what happened? You guessed it —same thing as last year. Water flowed over the field before the game — and without the tarpaulin. — Central Press Canadian.

PICTON

Vegetable Growers Propose New Marketing Organization

Picton—Vegetable growers in Ontario propose to set up a co-operative marketing organization for the marketing of vegetables for processing including canning crops, and this is to be known as the Ontario Canned Crops Co-Operative. For the present, farmer growers will be canvassed to sign an agreement which constitutes a firm membership in the new organization, as well as a ballot which represents a note favoring the new development.

The plan was described at the annual meeting of Prince Edward Canning Crop Growers here Monday night by Carl Nicholson of Essex County.

The proposed agreement, subject to acceptance by canning crop growers during the canvass, sets up the new co-operative marketing organization with authority to act as agent for the selling of prices and contract conditions for vegetables for processing. It binds farmers-growers to have their produce sold or contracted for under this arrangement. The intended agreement specifies that growers shall accept only contracts offered by processors which carry the stamp of approval of the Canned Crop Co-Operative.

This development follows difference in opinion between growers and canners early in the year. The growers refused to accept negotiated prices and refused to sign contracts. New prices were set and it was stated at the meeting that Ontario can crop growers had received a million more dollars more than they would have had they not gone on "strike." Of this amount $350,000 was for tomatoes. Mr. Nicholson said prices paid farmers should also be such as would enable him to pay his labor the same rate as those in industry. He urged co-operation between canner and grower. Labor has organized in most farmers' markets, he declared.

E. C. Peck and D. O. Reynolds endorsed the principle of grading of tomatoes but felt grading of a bushel to a load unsatisfactory.

L. Butler of Vineland Station said higher returns could also be secured from cash crops by also increasing production.

Directors for the county, elected were, E. C. Peck, Gordon Dempsey, R. Graham, E. McFaul, D. O. Reynolds, L. Hagerman, J. Dick, R. Short, H. Barker, C. Ackerman, V. Striker, I. Wilkinson, A. McCormock, A. Mann, Neil Parks.

TWEED

Large Congregations Attend St. John's 59th Anniversary

Tweed — On Sunday last St. John's United Church, Tweed, celebrated its 59th anniversary with large congregations attending the both morning and evening services. Rev. A. L. Sisco, B.D., minister of Tweed pastoral charge, conducted the services with Rider Rev. Isaac A. Armup, B.A., D.D., Toronto, former moderator of the United Church of Canada, as guest speaker.

Dr. Armup was born in Norfolk county and received his education at Aylmer Collegiate Institute and Toronto University (Victoria College), graduating in 1909 with the B.A. degree and winning the Prince of Wales Gold Medal and the Literary Society Medal in Oratory. Wesley College in Winnipeg honored him with the Doctor of Divinity degree in 1924.

Served as Secretary

Dr. Armup served as secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement of the Methodist Church from 1910-1914, then from 1918 to 1933 was assistant secretary of the Young missions in the Methodist Church.

At the time of church union in 1925, he was secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the United Church of Canada, which post he has filled to date. At the General Council held in September 1944, Dr. Armup was elected Moderator of the United Church of Canada. Armup has twice visited the mission fields in Japan and China and in 1938 saw the work in Africa, India and Korea in addition.

In 1946 he visited the Trinidad Mission for the first time.

At the morning service Dr. Armup chose his subject, "The Altar in the Wilderness," and in the evening his subject was, "The Land of the Humming Bird." He described in much detail and humor his visit to Trinidad, which was most interesting.

Special music was rendered by the senior and junior choirs of St. John's United Church. The morning anthem was "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem," with Mrs. R. Hamilton as soloist. The Junior Choir of 37 boys and girls sang a special number—"Beautiful Saviour," and "Gracious Saviour" under Gladys Congdon.

At the evening service the Senior Choir sang "Rose Divine" with Mrs. M. C. Dales as soloist and "Saviour, Now the Day is Ending," with solo by Mrs. S. H. Connor. The Junior Choir anthem was "Gracious While I Pray."

The choirs were trained and directed by Mr. S. H. Connor, principal of the Tweed Continuation School. At the organ console for the Senior Choir was the organist Mr. Fred Porter, while Mrs. S. H. Connor, at the piano, accompanied the Junior Choir.

A new roll hearing system has been installed in the church and was used for the first time on Sunday. Special thanksgiving was received through the envelopes which was gratifying.

Murray township council held its November meeting in the Town Hall on Monday afternoon.

Hallowe'en Party

The choir of the United Church sponsored a Hallowe'en Social in the church on Wednesday evening. Many ladies were contributed to those in costume in the different age groups. The judges were Rev. and Mrs. Baker of Stirling; Mrs. Wilbur McColl and Mrs. Mac Ward.

Mr. Wayne Tompkins was chairman. Some items on the program were: solos by Mrs. H. Ewing and Patsy Brown, a duet by Janet Fletcher and Christine Crosby; trio by Dianne Anderson, Dianne Brown and Ann Redcliffe; piano solo by Ann Redcliffe; readings by Lois Pridham and Nancy Smith and choruses by the junior and senior public school rooms and by the Bethel school.

Refreshments concluded an enjoyable evening.

SUFFERERS FROM STOMACH TROUBLE, WEAK KIDNEYS, LAZY LIVER, NERVOUSNESS AND GENERAL RUNDOWN CONDITION

EVERY PERSON who suffers can have a special introductory bottle of SYNTONA to try for ONLY 25 CENTS.

Simply read the offer below. Do this in your own interest.

This new and scientific medicine, known as SYNTONA, is now on sale at this amazing price temporarily. Therefore, we will not make any trial bottle at 25 cents, because we believe the people who are benefited will buy a regular size. The offer is good for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week only.

WHAT IT IS!

This is no salts or pill, nor is it a powder, capsule or tablet.

SYNTONA is an advanced medical compound of 12 of the finest medicinal ingredients, all in liquid form, combined. It is taken before meals and mixes with the food in one's stomach, thereby aiding the digestive process that factor stomach trouble. It acts through the mucous membrane and pores, sweetens, blends and purifies the blood stream. Thus SYNTONA brings the system relief from kidneys and relieves headaches, bladder irritation and stomach upset.

Now, whether SYNTONA will help you as it has thousands of others, whether it will end your suffering in the way it has for others, is for you to try it for 25 cents, only a fraction of its worth. This introductory offer is good for Thursday, Friday and Saturday only, so you can get it cheap. Why not get it now, this 25 farmers to yourself and your family.

WHAT IT WILL DO!

SYNTONA will cleanse your bowels, sweeten your stomach, purify your blood and brighten into daily beauty.

It will bring you awful gases and insomnia (frequently from the same cause) which may have been inside of you a long time, causing you many days of misery with headaches, dizziness, nervousness and sleepless nights.

SYNTONA will relieve acid conditions and help the digestive organs repeat and clean, and give great relief from acid indigestion, sweating sour stomach, shortness of breath and dizziness.

IT WILL improve your appetite and help you get the good out of the food for ENERGY and RESISTANCE.

SYNTONA will act as a chemist to your system, and relieve those conditions of imposition that may have become chronic, such as constipation, BACKACHE, SHARP PAINS and RISING AT NIGHT.

It will make your liver more active, thus relieving spells of biliousness and sick headaches.

Relieves those with rheumatic and arthritic pains, by clearing the system of acids quickly and irritating waste matter.

IT WILL clear up eruptions that are caused by the impurities in the system, and creates a healthy complexion or "rosiness" that is due to stomach trouble.

SYNTONA will make your stomach sweet, your breath pure, your blood rich and your whole system feel like a NEW PERSON after a few days' use. Why suffer from these conditions any more? Why not try SYNTONA? Why not get relief? Why not be a NEW PERSON? Why not be happy?

The Outsiders

By Jane Abbott

She had spoken to him only in monosyllables since he had thrown the two-dollar bill at her, but, now, in her excitement she forgot that she was punishing him. "You'll never guess!" she giggled, tossing her head.

John had stopped just inside the door. If she had glanced at him she would never have seen that his shoulders did not have their usual sag, his face its discouragement. But she did not look at him. She hurried on to tell him of her experience. "I've been talking to no less a person then Miss Edna Forrestall! Over at Pete's. You'd never think to look at her that she'd lived in Europe—or had any money! Honest, I'd hate to be seen in the shirt she had on! And she isn't much on looks, either, except her hair. . ."

The girl's step, like her voice danced as she moved about the room, putting out a scarf, tidying. ". . .and I'm not sure that's real—I mean the color of it! My party's on, too. She fairly jumped at it! Next Tuesday evening. I hope it doesn't rain! I know just how I'll fix a table out on the porch—if it rains, we'll use your office—you'll just have to clear your stuff away. . ."

Suddenly she felt his inattention, a wall against which she was talking. She wheeled around from the hotbox to face him.

"What's happened John?" Thinking swiftly, "I hope it's money!"

"I saw Doctor Cook coming out of the Beebe house this morning. That's the third time he's come to different ones here in the valley, in just this month. It's getting worse instead of better."

It was the old theme but John was saying it in a different voice now. Marilyn threw him a suspicious look as she set a bottle of milk down on the table. "Who wants to doctor them, anyway? They're the only ones I've ever" reminded John a little shortly. He came to where she stood at the table. "I'm ready to admit it was a mistake, coming here. I've been thinking it over—we'll go.

Her head flew up. "Go? Go where?" She asked it sharply.

"Back to Kingston. I'll try for a practice there. We can live with my family until we can swing a place of our own. My mother won't mind turning her parlor over to me for an office."

"We will not," retorted Marilyn, on a held breath. "I'd die before I'd live with them again! On them!"

John said "I thought you could take a job, to help until I get ahead."

Marilyn swung on him, her hands on her hips, her face, thrust forward and upward, contorted with fury. "You thought so! Me go back to a stinking typewriter and support you, because you haven't any up and go—you didn't have enough to pick off a good commission during the war, like a lot did! I don't believe you know enough to doctor a sick goat!" A sob choked her off for a moment. "She'd spring this just when I've met Elsa Forrestall!" "I'm not going anywhere John Streeter." John looked away from her, his face gray. "I thought you'd

He had had no thought but of returning to the complete happiness of the two weeks of their honeymoon in a doll-size bungalow on Fire Island. The only shadow that had touched it was his imminent going and they had turned their backs on that. He had taken the memory of every hour they'd had together with him into Africa, Sicily and Italy.

Marilyn had gone to live with his mother and sisters while he was overseas. On coming home he had found that the arrangement had not worked so well. His mother had said nothing to that effect but Marilyn had said a great deal. He had found out, too, that Marilyn had spent her allotments as fast as she got them and he had counted on some savings from them to help tide them over while he was establishing himself in a practice.

They'd begun to quarrel—sometimes over more inconsideration on the part of his mother, trumped up in Marilyn's head, he knew, but most often it was over money. He gave her all he could but it never was enough.

He was used to not having much money. His father's salary as principal of a high school in Kensington had barely covered the family living. His sisters had gone to work when they finished high school. He'd worked for a part of his expenses through college. It had made him a little angry that Marilyn could not accept similar circumstances. Angry and hurt and then—this dead end.

He'd told himself sometimes that he was through with it all. One didn't get out from under the responsibility of marriage simply by saying you were through. Divorces cost money. Alimony took money. He'd thought all that out. He thought now "if that shrap had caught me instead of Casey that night under Sorrento. . ." Then Marilyn would have had his Insurance. Right now, she'd probably rather have it, than him around. If. . .

"Hello?" said a voice next to the ear. Chris Cameron's head appeared in the window. "Engine gone sour?"

John jerked himself straight, his eyes shifting from Chris' keen glance on him. "No. Engine's all right. Maybe you could say I was making up my mind to something."

Even royalty must take the weather as it comes, and during Princess Elizabeth's visit to Halifax it's come in form of a bitter driving rain. ## 271 CANDIDATES ON HOME STRETCH IN ONT. ELECTION

Nomination Day Held In Ridings Thursday

Toronto, Nov. 9—(CP)—Ontario's election campaign today entered the home stretch. The field number 271.

When nominations for the Nov. 22 vote closed yesterday at 2 p.m. EST—an hour later in the far northwestern ridings of Kenora and Rainy River—this was the line-up of candidates for the 90 seat legislature.

Progressive Conservative, 90; Liberal, 90 (including two Liberal-Labor); C.C.F. 77; Labor-Progressive 9; Independent 6; Independent Progressive Conservative 2; Independent Labor 1; Socialist-Labor 1.

The Canadian Press compilation was not completed until early in the evening owing to crippled communications between Toronto and Picton, where nomination papers were filed by candidates in Prince Edward-Lennox riding. Wednesday's snowstorm which swept across the province disrupted telegraph and telephone communications and the final report was delayed until 6:15 p.m.

Both the old-line parties are headed by the same party leaders in 1949 when George Drew led the Progressive Conservatives to office and resigned from the Ontario House. Walter C. Thomson became provincial leader of the Liberals just a year ago but until now, has retained his seat in the House of Commons.

Guiding Tor Nine Years

The official opposition leader, E. B. Jolliffe, has guided the C.C.F. for nine years. It was the party in the 1943 election, when the Progressive Conservatives took over the government after 18 years with the Liberal rule; in 1945 and in 1948, when the C.C.F. for the first time became the official opposition in the Ontario House. The party won 21 seats in that election.

Jolliffe Says Rent Committee 'Deliberately Killed' in August Before Findings Made Known

(By The Canadian Press)

E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario C.C.F. leader, says that if his party wins the Nov. 22 provincial general election, it will immediately re-establish the legislature rent committee to clean up what he terms "the present chaotic situation" on rentals of houses and commercial premises.

In a campaign speech last night at Oakville, midway between Toronto and Hamilton, he said the rent committee was "deliberately killed" last August because the government is opposed to rent controls. He said it was "not to desire" just when it was about to make specific recommendations on rent adjustments.

Frost On Tour

Premier Frost toured a section of western Ontario last night and spoke in Arthur, Listowel and Brantford, telling his Brantford audience Ontario civil servants need have no fear of dismissal because of political views. Walter Thomson, Ontario Liberal leader, told a Hamilton gathering the government had neglected to spend $30,000,000 as federal funds that were available for hospitals and other public health projects.

Mr. Jolliffe said the present provincial government can only be determined by studying relevant federal statutes and amendments to them. The government has made only a few changes when it took over the federal rules.

"Even then, tenants don't know where they stand with their landlords and the landlords don't know either. Even their lawyers don't know how the regulations stand."

The state of confusion in rent regulations was worse. Many small business men were being forced into bankruptcy by "extortionate" landlords.

Mr. Thomson said the government had taken only $18,000,000 of the $40,025,299 in federal health funds at its disposal since 1948.

Surplus Existing

"Why the shortage of hospital beds when this surplus is evident? Add to this some $20,000,000 in other surpluses. Much could have been done with this to save life and health throughout Ontario.

"There is no lack of money for this, but just a refusal to use the funds available. The government wouldn't even touch its own great surplus, even though the need was great."

A Liberal administration would use the federal funds to set up additional clinics for cancer detection and for treatment of rheumatism and tuberculosis and would provide more rehabilitation centres for the crippled.

Premier Frost said at Brantford that his government believes civil servants should not be subject to "the whims and fancies of political parties." Provincial civil servants were treated as part of government, not as political appointees.

"I have tried since I have been prime minister of this province to build up a civil service which would not be at the mercy of politicians."

Country Park Helped

At Arthur, he said his government has tried to provide rural dwellers with improved hydro and telephone facilities, grand and community centres and arenas and has contributed toward meeting hospital deficits. "In all, in an effort to place farm life more on a par with urban life. A plan announced this week to provide loans for housebuilding on farms and in small towns and for building farmers' sons set up their own farms was a step in the same direction.

Also at Arthur, Health Minister Phillips announced a system of capital grants to establish psychiatric units for early treatment of mental cases in general hospitals. He said he hopes the plan will pay 30 per cent of all mental cases "who otherwise would go to mental hospitals."

Today Premier Frost speaks in Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury, the Niagara Falls and Welland and Mr. Thomson in Thorold and St. Catharines.

PRIME MINISTER SAYS IT'S 'CANADA' NOT 'DOMINION'

Some Members Oppose Drift

Ottawa, Nov. 9—(CP)—It's Canada—not the "Dominion of Canada".

For two years now, that concept of grown-up nationhood has been developing quietly in Ottawa and moving up on the Canadian people. It finally was tied down officially last night.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, present at the opening session of conservative and Social Credit adherents of long-standing tradition and ties, gave "Dominion" the last word—and unofficiate—farewell.

While this was the formal and official goodbye to "Dominion" for the federal government, it was an anti-climax to all that has been going on for the last couple of years. In that time, the government has deliberately erased "Dominion" from official publications by stages. It's always "Government of Canada," instead of "Dominion of Canada."

Some members opposed the drift. Their main chance came on the floor last night on a minor government bill which, along with minor amendments, changed the title of the "Dominion Lands Survey Act" to the "Canada Lands Survey Act."

Red Tape Keeps Sisters Apart

Hamilton, Nov. 9 — (CP)— Two widowed sisters, separated for 45 years, may not see one another again unless Canada relaxes immigration policy, not only military but political, financial and economic chaos.

Any hope the small countries had entertained that a lessening in east-west tension might result about in this session was shattered yesterday by the hard-hitting policy speeches of Russia's Andrei Vimisnky.

Australia, N.Z. Pledge Support Of Truman Plan

Delegates Chide Vishinsky For His Cynical Attitude

Paris, Nov. 9 (CP) —Australia and New Zealand today pledged warm support of the Truman plan for peace and disarmament, turned down in the United Nations yesterday by Russia's Andrei Vishinsky.

Delegates to the two Commonwealth countries decried the Russian foreign minister's action and urged the General Assembly to speed talks on the plan.

Australia's Minister for External Affairs, Richard Casey, fixed the blame for the present stage of world affairs on Russia.

"Millions of humble people who are yearning for peace will be appalled," he said, "by Vishinsky's cynical levity."

Lauds Western Plan

New Zealand's high commissioner in London Fred W. Doidge called the western plan "a genuine attempt to bridge" the east-west split.

State Secretary Dean Acheson of the U.S., met Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France in Paris today before the session began, planning the next move after Russia's cold abouleter.

Cuba's chief delegate, Dr. Aurelius Sanchez Arango, said his government supports all measures intended to repel aggression and added that Cuba wants "peace based on rights, liberty and justice."

The U.N. has drawn up a blueprint for such a security plan, embracing not only military but political, financial and economic phases.

Any hope the small countries had entertained that a lessening in east-west tension might result about in this session was shattered yesterday by the hard-hitting policy speeches of Russia's Andrei Viminsky.

Egypt Protests British Influx Of Troops Saying it Constitutes 'Almost Seizure of Suez Canal'

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 9. (CP)—Egypt protested formally to British-Ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson today that an "uninterrupted influx" of British troops in Egypt constitutes "an almost total seizure of the Suez Canal."

The note, handed by the foreign ministry to the British embassy also accused Britain of other infringements of Egyptian sovereignty which "recall acts of Nazi authorities during World War II."

It referred to previous protests against British actions in the disputed canal area, saying such acts could "only encourage and instantly the spontaneous movement of resistance of the Egyptian people."

Egypt has scrapped her 1936 treaty with Britain and ordered Britons out of the canal zone and the Sudan. The Britons refused to go and poured reinforcements into the canal zone. The Egyptians also cold-shouldered a western bid to become a part of a Middle East anti-communist defence command.

"Anyone who commits theoretical (legal) abortion today," said Dr. Heffernan, "does so because he is either ignorant of the modern methods of treating complications of pregnancy or is unwilling to take the time to treat them."

Abortion is legal only in cases where doctors say it is necessary to save the mother's life.

Dr. John H. Morton of the College of Medical Evangelists at Los Angeles, told the reporters:

"I have seen three women die from vomiting due to the morning sickness of pregnancy. They might have been saved by abortion. I have seen women die of heart trouble because they demanded it.

"Every woman wanting an abortion should be given a hearing."

Doctors Declare Legal Abortions Should be Banned

San Francisco, Nov. 9—(AP)—Legal abortions should be outlawed along with those now prohibited by statute because they are "legalized murder," two prominent surgeons said today.

A third surgeon said too many permissible abortions are being performed, but cited instances in which he said such surgery should be allowed.

Dr. Samuel A. Cosgrove of Columbia University and Dr. Roy J. Heffernan of Tufts Medical College, Boston, favor abolition of the practice, they told reporters at the American College of Surgeons' Clinical Congress.

"Anyone who commits therapeutical (legal) abortion today," said Dr. Heffernan, "does so because he is either ignorant of the modern methods of treating complications of pregnancy or is unwilling to take the time to treat them."

Abortion is legal only in cases where doctors say it is necessary to save the mother's life.

Dr. John H. Morton of the College of Medical Evangelists at Los Angeles, told the reporters:

"I have seen three women die from vomiting due to the morning sickness of pregnancy. They might have been saved by abortion. I have seen women die of heart trouble because they demanded it.

Truce Negotiators Cancel Session

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 9 —(AP) — Truce negotiators cancelled their afternoon meeting today after an "inconclusive and unproductive" morning session.

A United Nations Command communique, which described the talks as fruitless, said negotiators will meet tomorrow at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. EST Friday.)

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, U.N. spokesman, said he got the impression communist representatives might be waiting for new instructions in view of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrie Vishinsky's pronouncement in Paris for a cease-fire within 10 days.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Nov. 9. (CP)—Synoptic Sunshine and milder temperatures have, finally, returned to Southern Ontario today after a week of wintery weather. Clouds blanket the northern part of the province but even there temperatures have moderated considerably. All indications point to a warmer weekend in all forecasts for Southern Ontario.

British Politician Demands Probe Of Buxom Jane Russell 'Stealing' Babe

London, Nov. 9 (AP)—A member of parliament demanded an official inquiry today into the removal of a London baby from Britain by Hollywood's buxom Jane Russell.

"We don't want to export babies to Hollywood or anywhere else," Marcus Lipton told newspapermen.

He said he will bring the matter up in the House of Commons this afternoon. He plans to question to Sir Tavid Maxwell Fyfe, home secretary.

The baby in the case is Thomas Kavanagh, 6-month-old son of a poor family in London's working-class district of Lambeth. His father, Michael, is a carpenter and Thomas is one of three children. The Kavanaghs live in a three-room flat which rents at 11 shillings a week.

Mrs. Kavanagh says she entrusted the baby to Miss Russell for a three-month visit to America "because I thought he would have a better chance there."

Miss Russell has said she did not expect to adopt the child. But British prohibitions on adoption of children of British citizens by nationals of other countries.

Lipton filed the following question for the Home Secretary to answer in the House next week:

"Is the Home Secretary satisfied that Thomas Kavanagh was taken from the country with the parents' consent, and will he investigate this matter?"

Lipton told reporters that in his view "the procedure was irregular in the extreme to the very least."

Miss Russell had insisted originally that Thomas would be returned at the end of the visit. She said she didn't think it wise to adopt a child whose parents knew where it could be contacted.

English law restricting adoption would apply in Tommy's case. She said he was a citizen of the Republic of Ireland.

Toll of Dead Rises to Six, 15 Still Buried

Milan, Italy, Nov. 9 — (CP) — The toll of known dead rose to six in storm-lashed northern Italy today as rescuers removed two bodies from the debris at three crumpled houses at Taverneriolo.

Another 15 persons were still buried and probably dead under the ruins.

Earlier, four persons in other areas were killed as storms struck Northern Italy from Genoa on the Ligrian Sea to Venice on the Adriatic.

The disaster at Taverneriolo, town of about 2,000 inhabitants, was caused by a landslide which crashed against the houses when they could not longer resist flood water pressure.

Warm-Hearted Welcome Given To Royal Couple on P.E. Island, Visit Confederation Chamber

Charlottetown, Nov. 9—(CP)—Prince Edward Islanders are proud of their confederation role, their longevity, their silver foxes and Anne of Green Gables. And they worked all four last night in hearted royal visit welcoming commoners Duke and Duchess.

The royal couple board the cruiser Ontario tonight for Sydney, N.S., then to Port aux Basques, Nfld., where they complete their 10,000-mile Dominion tour. Next week they'll be home in England.

Bright sunshine, blotted from time to time with woolly clouds scudding across the blue sky, greeted Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh as they were cheered through the province by a crowd estimated to have swelled the local population of the city at least three times. The procession route was lined with a shoulder-to-shoulder string of flag-waving school children.

First Welcomed

The Confederation Chamber where the leaders of Canada held their preliminary meetings was the scene of the province's first official welcome. The princess spoke from the balcony of Province House to a crowd estimated in

SCHOOL EDUCATION COMMITTEE TO MEET FEDERATION MEETS

The Ontario Federation of Home and School Association, School Education committee, is meeting in the city at noon today at the administration office of the Board of Education.

In addition to members from the Belleville district there will be in attendance: Mrs. R. D. McLellan, Brantford, president of the Federation and three vice-presidents, Mrs. R. A. Taylor, Toronto, Mrs. G. C. McAuley, Hamilton and Mrs. R. J. Fleming, Toronto.

The central committee of the Belleville Home and School Associations of which Mrs. R. B. Hall is president, will meet with and entertain the visitors at luncheon at the conclusion of the meeting.

5,000 POPPIES GIVEN BY COMMITTEE

Remembrance Day observances were conducted in all schools of the city today.

In public schools, the O.S.D. Albert College, Belleville Collegiate Institute, Bayside Public School and St. Michael's Academy, students and staff paid a memorial tribute to Canada's dead of two wars.

The Belleville Poppy Committee donated 5,000 red symbols for distribution to students and pupils.

MOTORIST FINDS 2,000 CIGARS LYING ON HIGHWAY

A motorist driving on No. 2 Highway west of Belleville this morning must have thought Santa Claus was making an early call this year when he investigated a parcel lying on the road only to find that it contained 2,000 cigars.

The finder of the cigars reported the matter to provincial police who said the parcel of smokes undoubtedly had fallen off a highway transport or some other vehicle carrying the smokes.

CAR ROLLS OVER NEAR BOSS' CORNERS

When his car went out of control on a curve south of Boss Corners on the Belleville-Toronto highway a car driven by Peter Woolley, Toronto, yesterday afternoon skidded into the ditch and rolled completely over. The car was badly dented but thy driver was unhurt.

Provincial police officers investigating the accident stopped a passing car carrying five men and the ditched vehicle was shoved back onto the highway, and the motorist drove away, his car apparently still in good operating condition.

Game Officials Want Deer Heads Turned In

Department of Lands and Forests officials at Tweed have issued an appeal to hunters not looking for trophies of the hunt, to turn in deer heads to their nearest conservation officers, to express them directly to Tweed.

These heads, officials say, make an extremely valuable contribution to the fund of knowledge being built up on deer populations, raises of bucks and does, proportion of fawns in the kill, and scarcks information on ages.

It is important that specimens be tagged giving the hunter's name and the date and township in which the animal was killed.

Obituary

DELOS FOX

Delos Fox

In ill health for the past year Mr. Delos Fox, lifelong resident of the Cooper district, died Thursday at the home of his son, Albert Fox.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Christie Fox, Mr. Fox was born at Cooper and had farmed there all his life. He was a member of Cooper United Church and was president of the Cooper Cheese Factory.

Surviving are his wife, the former Margaret Woods, and 13 children. There are six daughters, Mrs. George Graham, (Norma) of Cooper; Mrs. George Grant (Doris) of Shelburne; Mrs. Jim Wilcox (Carrie), of Toronto; Mrs. John Thompson (Barbara) of Eldorado; Miss Shirley Fox of Frankford, and Miss Carol Fox, at home, and seven sons, Clare and Robert, Chatham; Albert, Cooper; Jarvis, Floyd, Farley, and Calvin at home.

Mr. Fox is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Gibson Bailey (Maude), Hazenbrook and Mrs. Eva Pomeroy, Toronto.

HARRY H. JOHNSTON (Thomas Wash.)

Tacoma, Wash.—Harry H. Johnston, civic leader, practising Tacoma attorney and former Belleville resident, died at the Pierce county legal profession and former county prosecutor, died recently at his home at Dash Point, Tacoma, Wash. at the age of 85.

Mr. Johnston was stricken Aug. 27 while attending a case at the courthouse. He was taken to a local hospital later and was moved to his home when it was believed he was improving. He had almost recovered when he died suddenly and without warning at 3.30 p.m. Friday.

Mr. Johnston served four years as Pierce county prosecutor, from 1933 to 1936. He was known as the "crusading prosecutor", for his strenuous drive on vice in the county which at times extended into the city of Tacoma.

Active Leader

He was active as a civic leader, being responsible in no small measure for securing a telephone system for Dash Point and in construction of East Sidelview which paved the way to get to Dash Point was by boat.

He was active in political circles, being a life-long Democrat, and was prominent in the party for more than 50 years. When William Jennings Bryan was campaigning for the presidency, it was Harry Johnston who was making as early call this year when he investigated a parcel lying on the road only to find that it contained 2,000 cigars.

The finder of the cigars reported the matter to provincial police who said the parcel of smokes undoubtedly had fallen off a highway transport or some other vehicle carrying the smokes.

for the Democratic party campaign song book in 1900. During the panic of 1896-97, the young attorney accepted the post of city editor of the old Tacoma Ledger, where he served for several years, later returning to law practice.

Mr. Johnston was born on Nov. 17, 1865, at Belleville, Ontario, being the son of the late ex-school inspector for south Hastings, J. W. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston. He received his early high schools there and was graduated by Toronto University law school receiving degree of bachelor of law. Soon afterwards he came to Tacoma, arriving in 1891. He was admitted to the bar the same year and started a private practice. The young attorney grew up with Tacoma, being active in law practice until his illness, thus becoming the oldest practising attorney, from the standpoint of service, in Tacoma and Pierce county, and dean of the profession in this area.

Mr. Johnston is survived by his wife, Lula, at the family home, and by one son; Leith Johnston, Chicago; a stepson, Ray Sherman, Tacoma; two daughters, Mrs. Helen I. Evans, Seattle; Dr. Madeline J. Algee of Compton, Calif. Two brothers, Dr. Johnston of Belleville, John Johnston of Foxboro, and three grandsons and one granddaughter.

CHARLES FREDERICK WRIGHT AND CARMEN GEEN

The funeral of the late Charles Frederick Wright and Carmen Geen, who were married in Rollin, by their car at St. Ola early this week, was held from the late residence of Mr. Wright and that of Mr. Geen from the home of his mother, Mrs. Harriett Geen, Thomasburg, this Friday morning to St. James' United Church, Stirling. There was a large attendance at the double funeral, the church being filled to capacity with friends and neighbors of the deceased.

Rev. G. O'Hearn celebrated the Requiem Mass and spoke a few brief and comforting words to the members of the respective families. He also conducted the last rites in the Catholic cemetery.

The bearers for Mr. Wright were Wilfred Wright and Carroll William Long, John Wallace, Edward (Ted) Pollack and Robert Pooler and for Mr. Geen, Wallace McTaggart, Carl Ray, Ambrose Emerson, Joseph Mitchell, Joseph and Michael Kirby.

ROBERT McDOWALL SMITH (Smithfield)

A well-known resident of the community, Robert McDowall Smith passed away suddenly at his home in Smithfield, Ontario, on Thursday.

The late Mr. Smith was born in Smithfield, 72 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Smith, and has resided in the community all his life. He was a farmer and apple grower.

He was a member of the Smithfield United Church and was active in the board of session. Surviving are his wife, the former Bertha Morgan, one daughter, Mrs. Lorne (Marion) Powell, Frankford, one brother, Lee of Smithfield, and one sister, Mrs. Earl (Elizabeth) Bedal of Brighton.

MRS. THOMAS ALEXANDER (Agnes Bowden)

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas Alexander Bowden was held from the Gardner and Wells Funeral Home, Toronto on Wednesday afternoon. The service was conducted by Rev. F. M. Harvey, who also said the last rites at Deseronto cemetery.

The late Mrs. Bowen died in Belleville General Hospital on Monday last, after a lengthy illness. She was born in Rawdon, 74 years ago, being the daughter of the late David James Rawdon and Emma Miller. She was a member of the Pentecostal church.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Ross Thompson and Mrs. Thomas Powell, of Napanee; Mrs. James Jaynes, of Newburgh; two sisters, Mrs. Leonard Markle and Mrs. Miles Lewis; and one brother Peter Bradshaw, all of Rawdon, 9 Cumber of grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Belleville Club Members Tender Complimentary Dinner to H.N. Becker

Paying tribute to the civic mindedness of one of the city's most popular businessmen, members of the Belleville Club attended an informal dinner party in honor of Mr. Henry N. Becker, manager of the Bank of Montreal branch, who is the speaker for the Canadian Club of London, Ontario in the near future.

Of his presentation address, Dr. George H. Stobie stated that the quest of honor had wielded himself into the life of the community. "Perhaps Henry's greatest assets, said Dr. Stobie, "are his ability to make friends and his tremendous enthusiasm for everything he undertakes. No one can resist his persuasive powers with the result that he has been the cooperation of everyone associated with him in any project undertaken, and aside from his business activities he applied his boundless energy to the welfare of children and veterans' affairs in the city for which he will long be remembered."

Making reference to Mr. Becker's other interests, Dr. Stobie said he was a perfectionist. "No matter what it is—whether playing golf, fishing or gardening he puts his whole heart into the effort." As an instance of this Dr. Stobie cited the hole-in-one which Mr. Becker had the good fortune to get on the 9th hole. "There are no dull moments when Mr. Becker is one of any group."

Lauding Canada as a great country whose citizens were more stable than most other countries of the world, with few or unexplained labor strife and with less unrest, the speaker stated that Canada's future lay in the large share in the nation's rise to prominence. Inasmuch as an industrial war would greatly increase the efficiency and foresight of its personnel, he said, in this light bank Mr Becker represents. He has contributed in no small way to the success of the bank and it could be predicted that further deserved promotions would be his reward in the years to come.

At the conclusion of his address, Dr. Stobie presented Mr. Becker with a handsome silver tray with the good wishes of the club members.

Mr. Becker, in accepting the gift expressed his appreciation for the fine tributes paid to him. If anything he had done in helping to organize playgrounds for children which would benefit them in other lives in the future, then he was amply repaid. He stated that he always liked the places where he worked and each had its own particular appeal.

Belleville, he thought, was superior in many respects and he would have liked to stay on but in his case it was necessary to go where he was directed. He would always look forward to returning whenever convenient to renew friendships. He would never forget the warmth and the welcome he had received and the many kindnesses that had been showed him during his residence in the city would always remain with him as one of friendship cherished memories.

Dr. George Faulkner, who acted as chairman of the function, and Dr. R. W. Tennent on behalf of the Belleville Club members also spoke in tribute to Mr. Becker and for his fine way he had served in the life of the community. He would be greatly missed by a large circle of friends and it was hoped that he would return as often as circumstances permitted.

Many Attend Whitney Rally At Rossmore

Rossmore — A crowd estimated at 250 braved bad roads, fallen trees and telephone wires, as well as fog, to attend a rally at Tobe's Gardens, Wednesday night, in the interests of Norris Whitney, Progressive Conservative candidate in Prince Edward - Lennox.

Speaker was Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, minister of public welfare, who outlined the policies of the Provincial government.

The candidate, Norris Whitney, said he would be at the service of every elector if elected. He felt that any problems which affected each individual are connected with municipal affairs, and believed that his long municipal service would be of benefit.

Ernest Sandercock, candidate in Hastings West introduced Mr. Goodfellow and came in for praise as a valuable member of the government. Dr. Russell Ison, Marlbank, urged organization, as did J. K. Welsh of Picton.

Clifford Smith, president of Amelianburg Progressive Conservative Association welcomed the crowd. Philip Dodds, campaign manager, paid high tribute to Mr. Whitney. Prince Edward county council had won him a high reputation for ability and perseverance.

Entertainment was provided by Syrita Molloy, Marilyn Barber, Bram Rumphreys and H. McNish. Hugo Martin' orchestra was in attendance.

Buy a Poppy On Saturday To Help Veterans
Tomorrow is National Poppy Day.

Across the Dominion the bloodred symbols of "Remembrance" will be worn by Canadians of all walks of life to honor the country's glorious dead of two world holocausts.

Belleville in conjunction with her sister communities will observe this day of remembrance and memorial tribute. Members of the city's war service organizations such as the Canadian Legion, Army, Navy, Air Force Veterans in Canada, Belleville Wing, RCAF etc., will offer the poppies for sale.

Not only will the red flowers symbolize the sacrifice made by the country's war dead, but the proceeds from their sale will bring alleviation from distress to needy veterans, too proud to appeal for assistance to the regular organizations of charity. Also it will bring much-needed income to patients in war hospitals and sanatoriums of veterans' factories who make the poppies and wreaths.

Remembrance Day service will be observed on Sunday with war veterans parading to the Station Street Cenotaph for memorial service at three o'clock in the afternoon. Veterans, regardless of affiliation are requested to fall in at the Bridge Street Armouries at 2.45. Bands will be in attendance but "Last we forget" tomorrow is Poppy Day.

Three Deer Shot By Dan Stewart Near Denbigh
Deep hard-crusted snow is making it tough going for the hunters of the deer-hunting parties in the northern parts of the country, according to hunters returning from that area.

One gang of nine Belleville men returned to the city yesterday with one third of their legal count and stated that bush conditions were almost "impossible." In places snow is almost up to the hips making it difficult for dogs to run.

Dan Stewart, Front Street barber, was the marksman who brought down the three deer shot by the local nine-man party. Other members of the party were Harry Farnell, Al Moore, Ted Reddick, Dr. R. A. Wyatt, Ali McCoy, Charlie Hines, Merle Wright and Kenneth Thomas. The camp was 30 miles northwest of Denbigh.

"They just happened to come my way," Mr. Stewart modestly reported last night as the party showed the two fine bucks that graced the fenders of their car. Both of the bucks dressed over 200 pounds, with one the largest of the three at 250 pounds. The bigger of the bucks is exceptionally fine animal with an unusually heavy set of horns.

Mr. Stewart already had his mark on the third buck taken by the gang. Last year Mr. Stewart broke the leg of a buck but the animal got away. This year he shot back fell under Mr. Stewart's gun.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Nov. 9 — (CP) Prices climbed steadily today in early afternoon stock market dealings. Fine operating support pushed industrials from yesterday irregularity.

Layers, refining oils, banks and manufacturing companies gained from fractions to more than a point.

Speculation in mining issues dwindled with only a few issues showing turnovers of 25,000 or more shares.

Western oils climbed strongly. Anglo — Canadian, Canadian Atlantic, Calgary and Edmonton, Federated Petroleum, Kroy, Canada Southern and Security Fire posted advances ranging from 10 cents to 45 cents. Calvan Consolidated, Model Oil, National Petroleum and Trans Empire added pennies.

Base metals strengthened. Consolidated Smelters jumped $1.50 while International Nickel and Noranda gained fractions.

Senior golds were unchanged while secondary issues showed little trend in penny dealings.

Murray Re-elected

New York, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Philip Murray, 65-year old former coal miners, was re-elected today to his 12th year as president of the C.I.O.

Election of officers followed the passage of no-strike ruling for intensified political action next year and authorizing Murray and other officers to pursue whatever avenues toward labor unity that may develop.

Possibility of a C. I. O.-A. F. L. merger appeared remote, however. Murray has declared the C. I. O. against immediate merger while favoring co-operation between the two big labor groups.

CONVICTED OF MURDER

Titusville, Fla., Nov. 9 — (AP) —Dr. Hans A. Strasser, 44, was convicted of second-degree murder last night for slaying his wife when he found her nude in bed with another man.

Three Candidates File Papers At Nomination Day in Madoc, Small Number in Attendance

Madoc.—(Staff Special)—Each of the three major parties will contest Hastings East in the November 22 election, it was disclosed here Thursday afternoon at the official nomination meeting by the returning officer, Arnold Casebolt, of Madoc.

Mr. Gaebel announced the Hastings East candidates as follows: Donald Carruthers, of College Hill, Liberal; Roscoe Robson, Canniflon, Progressive Conservative, and Arthur Whitehead, of Point Anne, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation.

Each candidate in a provincial election is required to submit to the returning officer, either directly or through his appointed agent, nomination papers signed by 100 voters resident in the constituency. No deposit is required, as for federal elections.

J. A. Nickle Chairman

James A. Nickle, of Madoc, who was chosen chairman for the meeting, allotted each candidate 15 minutes to present his case. Afterwards, Mr. Nickle said that anyone else who wished to speak for the candidates might do so, provided each kept to the same amount of speaking time.

Mr. Carruthers, Mr. Robson and Mr. Whitehead each spoke for a few minutes. W. J. Henderson, Liberal, M.P. for Hastings East, then spoke in behalf of Mr. Carruthers and Maurice Lachapelle of Point Anne, for Mr. Whitehead. As Mr. Robson had brought no "imported" speaker, he was given a second chance to address the audience.

Denied Charges

Mr. Robson denied charges that Hastings East had been neglected by the Frost administration. "During the six years that I have been your member," said Mr. Robson, "the Ontario government has spent more than $6,000,000 on highways in Hastings East, as compared with $3,000,000 in Hastings West, and as compared with only $80,000 in Hastings East during the year before I was elected."

Mr. Robson continued: "Just recently, the government has called for tenders for a road - building contract for $300,000 in Hastings East. There has been work done on Highway No. 62 every year since I have been your member. Do any of you people who live in this district think that Hastings East is being neglected."

Mr. Whitehead declared that nearly all the worthwhile legislation which had been placed on the statute books, at both Ottawa and Toronto, for years past, had been placed there because of "prodding" done by the C.C.F.

Great Developments

"Great developments are taking place in this province," said Mr. Whitehead. "The C. C. F. purposes seeing that the working people get a fair share of this prosperity, which they have not got so far.

"Most of the C.C.F. candidates are men who have worked for a living. They have worked with their hands, and they understand the problems of other people who have to work for a living.

"This is my first venture into politics, and I am not well acquainted up here, but if our party is returned to power, I pledge to you that I will do all I can to help any of you to solve his problems."

Objective Outlined

Referring to his leader, Mr. Carruthers declared that Mr. Thomson's objective was to bring happiness and contentment to the people of Ontario.

"The free hospitalization plan, a reduction in the gasoline tax, the farm subsidy plan and an immediate refund on gasoline tax collected from farmers were only a few of the improvements which a Liberal government headed by Mr. Thomson would provide," said Mr. Carruthers.

Mr. Carruthers denied what Mr. Robson had said about the condition of the roads and highways in Hastings East. "There are roads that should be taken over by the province, which have not been taken over," he said. "These roads are too heavy a burden on the county."

Mr. Lachapelle, for the C.C.F., explained that he, although new to politics, had been long associated with labor unionism, and was the international representative of the Cement Workers Union.

Praises Wage Contract

"We want you to understand," said Mr. Lachapelle, "that our union has got us the best wages and working conditions of any cement workers within 30 miles of Belleville. What, our union has done for the group to which I belong, the C.C.F., will, if elected do for the working people of all Ontario, that is, improve their wages, working conditions and living conditions.

"The Ottawa government has just voted down price controls. I have helped negotiate enough union contracts to know that, when we make a wage gain, it is never equal to the increase in the cost of living. Do you want that to continue?"

Mr. Lachapelle repeated that the CCF stood for improvements in the living conditions of the working people. "The party's platform had been published in full," he said, referring briefly to improvements which the CCF advocated in workmen's compensation, housing, hospitalization, working conditions, and labor conciliation.

Only 19 in Favor

"When the House of Commons voted on price controls," said Mr. Henderson, speaking for the Liberals, "only 19 of the 262 members favored such controls. Everyone knows that the Commons is elected by the people. These figures give you an idea of just how much price controls are wanted.

"They grow a lot of tomatoes in these parts, I understand. Take tomatoes for an example. If you are going to control the retail price of tomatoes, you will have to control the price the farmer gets for them, also the wages of the man in the canning factory, not to mention other persons connected with the industry. Do the people want all these controls. Most of your elected representatives seem to think that these controls are not wanted."

Hastings East since the Conservatives assumed power in Ontario. He referred also to hydro extensions and to the fact that two new hospitals had been built in this region within the last year.

"Compare what we have given you with what you had before, and I have no doubt as to which way you will vote on November 22," said Mr. Robson.

KILLARNEY HAS HYDRO

Killarney, Nov. 9 — (CP) Hydro chairman Robert Saunders last night threw the switch that brought hydro to this Georgian Bay north shore hamlet. Nearly all the 500 residents attended the ceremony, held on the steps of the Roman Catholic Church.

To The Citizens Of Belleville:

I am taking this medium to bring to you a renewed appeal on behalf of the Executive and myself of the Belleville and District Community Chest Campaign.

We are nearing the end of the drive but there is still a lot of work to be done. We want to do everything possible to reach, and yes, go over our objective.

We are making a special request of our team captains and canvassers to complete their canvass as quickly as possible so that the clerical work of the campaign may be completed and a report given to the citizens of our results.

Before this is done we want to ask you again, those of you who have not given as yet, to be ready to give, and those who have given to increase your contribution if at all possible.

While we are grateful for what you have done, we must ask you to do better if the four participating agencies are to have enough to carry on their very worthy and humanitarian work.

I know you realize that a dollar at today's purchasing power split four ways does not provide much for the service expected from any one of these agencies.

Please give with all your heart so that our objective will be reached and sufficient will be obtained to enable the continuance of the present welfare services.

Yours faithfully,

J. J. Trudeau, Chairman
Belleville and District Community Chest

WHY TAKE A CHANCE ON THIS

You'll see lots of machines like this advertised by others who have no connection whatsoever with SINGER.

Many of these people take old SINGER treadle heads (some of them 50 years old!)—add motor and parts that are not SINGER—put machines in new-looking cases or cabinets of different makes—and sell the results as "rebuilt" SINGERS. Often these machines are used as "come-on" or "bait" to sell other make machines at higher prices.

Obviously these "rebuilts" are not really SINGER Machines. And they are not backed or guaranteed by SINGER. (The only place you can get a used SINGER—one that has been guaranteed and reconditioned by SINGER experts with all-SINGER® parts is at your SINGER SEWING CENTER.) Why take a chance . . .

Hon. Wm. A. Goodfellow Urges Picton Folk to Support Whitney

Picton — Wednesday evening in the Masonic Hall at Wellington, Hon. Wm. A. Goodfellow, minister of public welfare, addressed a large audience, one-third of whom were women.

Mr. Goodfellow was introduced by James deC. Hepburn, ex- M. P. P., who spoke in support of Norris Whitney. When introducing Mr. Goodfellow, Mr. Hepburn said, "Anything Bill Goodfellow does is well done; anything he promises will be carried out. Besides, he is our neighbor, living near Brighton, and that is another reason why we welcome him here today." I have much pleasure in presenting Mr. Goodfellow."

The minister said he had some difficulty with his constituents in Northumberland County, because there the people constantly forget to use the handle to his name, and he is known everywhere as 'Bill', — but he acknowledged he would not want it otherwise.

Speaking of the recent storm, he replied that the government must try to give as good rural telephone service as the larger centres receive. He thanked Mr. Hepburn for his words, and said he was reminded of another occasion, when he was introduced as "the man who looks after all the widows in the province". But he was pleased to come to Prince Edward in support of Mr. Whitney, and because he owes an obligation to the people here, since his grandfathers were one-time residents of this county.

Mr. Goodfellow said the Conservatives were a good candidate in Norris Whitney. His municipal training will stand in good stead at Queen's Park. It is a valuable asset to any member in the provincial legislature.

"Your government", continued the speaker, "has tried to give the people sound administration, and the things they want; but governments can spend only the money collected in taxes, and new services can only be established by added taxation. Governments should give only such services as the people cannot supply for themselves. But with our expansion we must develop more services. That is what the provincial Conservative government has tried to do. We have attempted to assist municipalities by giving increased grants. These have increased from $18,000,000 to $156,000,000.

Our better services include open roads the year round, to give all children equal opportunities for a good education. This takes considerable study, and there is a tendency among representatives to 'pass the buck' to the municipal governments which are the best kind because they are nearest to the people. It is a question in my mind if the provincial government has not taken away some municipal responsibilities which they should be retaining and accepting.

The effectiveness of the opposition to bring any real criticism against the Frost government is a fine recommendation for the Progressive Conservative party," the speaker said.

Welfare Legislation

"Relative to public welfare the provincial government is pleased to report the doing away with the means test, regarding old age pensions, and in considering the health services the province has, over a period of years, assisted by grants for the erection of 109 new hospitals. It is the duty of a government to assist private interest and initiative in such projects, instead of taking over the services and levying a poll tax, plus more and more sales taxes. I am happy that under my address over 70 years of age are to receive a pension without a means test, which was not true and was often embarrassing. Our policy has been to co-operate with the government at Ottawa, and Premier Frost was the first to say our provinces could not operate. We are also anxious to provide for the unfortunate and the aged folk over the age of 18. We have learned that people will accept assistance from Toronto when they hesitate to take it from their municipal council. Social welfare should be paid for by the provincial government assisted by federal funds, and real estate should not be taxed for this. We are trying to supply comfortable accommodation for aged people in homes where they will be glad to live. The province pays 50 percent of the cost of building such homes for the aged and also 50 percent of the cost of maintenance. But, when everyone depends on the government for benefits, that will be bad, for then people will have lost all personal interest in others. The government should not take away the responsibilities of private organizations, especially the child welfare.

Hydro Service Extended

The minister continued: "In rural Ontario nothing means so much to the people as hydro. Prince Edward farmers use higher electrical services than in any other county of the province. In the last six years much has been extended to rural areas.

Referring again to Mr. Whitney, the minister said he had been impressed with the way Mr. Whitney had expressed his ideas and that municipal training is a valuable asset to any member in provincial legislature. "At Queen's Park, we are trying to give the people of Ontario sound and sane progressive government, and we will welcome Norris Whitney, so make sure you understand, and that your neighbors understand, the policies of the Frost administration. I feel it would be in the interests of this county to have a representative sitting on the right of the speaker," Mr. Goodfellow said.

Benefits Our Women

The minister expressed appreciation for the presence of so many women. He said "give no one good, ambitious woman, who is interested in the welfare of the county, and she will do more than 20 talkative old-time Tories. Equal rights and equal pay for equal work is part of the provincial government's legislation for women, and by 1953 women will sit on juries in Ontario. Women, generally, are more intelligent, and more responsible than men, and their presence will be an added asset to court decisions."

Referring to Mr. Thomson, who also comes from Northumberland county, Mr. Goodfellow said that although he does not agree with all the ideas and opinions of his neighbor, he does not criticize him for he is a 'good fellow,' and every government, regardless of party, has succeeded in promoting the interests of Ontario to some extent.

In closing, Mr. Goodfellow expressed his pleasure at being in Wellington, and said, "I hope to have the pleasure of welcoming Norris Whitney to Queen's Park, as your representative, next Spring."

Warden James Cleminson was chairman. He expressed his pleasure in seeing such a large gathering. He introduced the Prince Edward-Lennox candidate, Norris Whitney, citing some of his outstanding abilities which had been put to good use in county council, and as a former warden.

Norris Whitney

Mr. Whitney replied saying the provincial government has given much assistance to the municipalities in the past, and that the provincial premier and his ministers are very sympathetic toward municipal problems. Mr. Whitney believes the dominion government should divert some of the sales taxes collected toward the sum donating for hospitalization. "In the process of expansion, I am in favor of the dominion and provincial governments giving more assistance to the municipalities", he told his supporters.

"We are fortunate in having the minister of welfare with us tonight as a representative of the Frost administration, whose policies are a steady building-up in all departments."

Comparing this policy with that of the opposition, Mr. Whitney said it would be impossible to "all-of-a-sudden" put these into effect without causing a great deal of confusion. "You cannot reduce taxes without reducing services. If the provincial revenue is not increased, how can services be increased?" he asked. "In the municipalities we will be willing to accept provincial assistance, but we do not want increased taxes. If I am elected to be a member of the Frost government, I will do my best to see that our municipalities will receive every available consideration for expansion of services in our county", Mr. Whitney promised.

Warden Cleminson thanked the speakers, expressing appreciation for information received from the minister of public welfare. He notified Col. Ron Church, vice-president of Prince Edward-Lennox Conservative Association, present, and also the ex-reeve of Sophiasburg, Jack Welsh, both of whom spoke briefly in support of Mr. Whitney.

Since the speakers were both to speak again that evening at Rossmore, Mr. Cleminson declared the meeting adjourned.

Smoke and Water Damage Heavy

Madoc (Special)—Considerable smoke and water damage was caused at the Northern Wholesale Store in Madoc Thursday evening when fire of unknown origin was discovered in the premises shortly before 8.00 o'clock.

Dense smoke was discovered rolling from the premises and the fire department was able to check the blaze before it gained much progress. There was very little fire damage but smoke and water damage to the stock will be considerable.

Observers said the blaze could easily have been a serious one as the store is in the Bailiff block in the business section of the village. The store is a general wholesale business operated, by Percy Locke.

Encouraging Attendance At Special Services

The services which have been held in Victoria Avenue Baptist Church this week have been part of an all-Canada effort, sponsored by the Baptist Federation of Canada. The speaker, Rev. Dixon A. Burns, of Toronto, was in Charlottetown, P. E. I., attending a meeting of the Federation executive, immediately preceding the beginning of the campaign and, because of the unseasonal weather, was nearly late for his appointment. Two planes were grounded but the third flight got through, and by tagging the train at Dorval, Quebec, Mr. Burns was able to make it by Sunday morning. In spite of the bad weather this week, the congregations have been very encouraging and the spirit at the meeting was excellent.

Mrs. Marion Crowley Newby, whose beautiful contralto voice has been delighting those who have heard her, is a music teacher in Toronto; Her singing of Negro spirituals and gospel solos is unsurpassed. She was associated with Rev. Dixon Burns when he was on the staff of the Toronto Bible College. He resigned this past summer to become superintendent of Home Missions for the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec.

FOR THE WELFARE OF OUR OWN COMMUNITY

MUST GO OVER THE TOP

To Date $15,000.00 or 75% of Our Minimum Objective Has Been Reached

$5,000.00 IS STILL NEEDED

FOR ESSENTIAL COMMUNITY WELFARE SERVICES

Every one benefits from the work of the CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY, THE VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES, THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION and The ST. JOHN AMBULANCE, and we appeal to you to make your donation NOW—or to add to the contribution you have already made.

We All Have a Stake in This Community and We All Must Work to Ensure the Success Of This Vital Campaign

The next day or two MUST tell the story of success for the Red Feather Campaign.

In the general canvass over 1700 people have subscribed a total of $4900 or an average of $2.29 each, but several hundred persons have to date contributed nothing. Not only must these people contribute but the amount must average somewhat higher if the minimum objective is to be obtained.

The generous response of Belleville citizens to a worthy appeal is well known and it is reasonable to expect that they will rally now to insure that the campaign which will meet the operating deficits for the year of the participating agencies will go over the top.

It is evident that most contributors have responded in an excellent manner, BUT MORE IS NEEDED.

THERE IS STILL TIME TO DO A MAGNIFICENT WIND-UP JOB.

WEDDINGS

NOLAN—GOODIER

White and bronze chrysanthemums formed the setting on Saturday, Nov. 3, in St. Mary's Church, Otter, for the marriage of Dorothy Louise Goodier, of Ottawa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goodier, to Robert Francis Nolan, of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Nolan. The Rev. Father O'Neill officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a charming bridal gown featuring a taffeta jacket with long sleeves and Queen Anne collar. The full skirt was fashioned of taffeta having a nylon net overdrape, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and white gardenias.

Mrs. Donald McPherson, of Ottawa, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, gowned in mauve taffeta fashioned in drapless effects with redingote of nylon net.

Miss Doris Kerr, of Ottawa, and Miss Jessa Nolan, of Belleville, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids, gowned alike in aqua taffeta gowns with strapless bodices and net redingotes.

Mr. William Nolan, of Belleville, was groomsman, and the ushers, Mr. Ernest Goodier, of Ottawa, and Mr. Fred Travers of Belleville.

The reception was held at the bride's home, where the bride's mother, attired in navy taffeta dress with three-quarter lace jacket, assisted by the bride-groom's mother in a navy and white figured dress, with corsage of white 'mums, received the guests.

For the wedding trip to Toronto, and Niagara Falls, the bride wore a green flannel worsted suit with black accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan will reside in Belleville.

Out-of-town guests were present from Belleville.

GIBSON—BEATON

St. Stephen's Presbyterian Church, Brighton, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, October 13th, at 1 p.m., when Gwendolyn Rae Beaton, elder daughter of Mrs. Malcolm Beaton, of Ottawa, and the late Dr. Beaton, became the bride of Donald George Gibson, of Ottawa, formerly of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gibson. The Rev. G. H. Sparks officiated before a bower of pink gladioli and white chrysanthemums and ferns.

Mr. R. C. Beaton, organist, rendered the traditional wedding music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her mother, wore a lovely gown of pearl grey with royal velvet accessories and matching feather hat, and carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Mr. William Nolan, of Ottawa, attended the bridegroom.

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, who received wearing a navy dress with corsage of white gardenias. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who was also attired in navy blue with similar corsage.

For travelling to the United States and Western Ontario, the bride chose a navy blue gabardine ensemble with fur collar, matching hat, and corsage of American Beauty roses. They are residing in Ottawa.

Guests from out-of-town were present from Cobourg, Toronto and Montreal.

OGILVIE—INGRAM

Bancroft Parsday United Church, decorated in pink and white, was the scene, Tuesday, October 30, at 7 o'clock, when Annie Bernice daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ingram, Faraday, to Robert Vital Ogilvie, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ogilvie, Highland Grove, Ont.

The Rev. John Wheeler performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Ray Hawkins played the wedding music and Ralph MacDonald sang "I Love You Truly" as the bridal party entered the church and "Because", during the signing of the register.

The bride wore a navy suit with grey accessories and her bouquet was of red roses and stephanotis. She was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Fern Ingram, who was in a wine suit with navy accessories and wore a corsage of cream roses and stephanotis.

A luncheon was held for the immediate family at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received the guests, wearing grey crepe and black accessories with a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother assisted, wearing a dress of navy with navy accessories and corsage of pink roses.

In the evening a dance was held in Orange Hall for friends of the bride and groom.

After their wedding trip, the couple will live in Maynooth, Ont.

McEWEN—CRUMBLEY

Autumn flowers intermingled with ferns formed a pretty background in Bayside United Church, on Saturday, October 13, at 2 p.m., for the marriage of Ruth Louise Crumbley, of Plainfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Crumbley, to Clarence William McEwen, of Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McEwen. The Rev. J. Ross Campbell officiated.

The wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Harrison, church organist, who accompanied the soloist, Mrs. M. Dills, who sang "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a bridal gown of white nylon net in lace over the bride, with sweetheart bodice having a round neckline, long, tight-fitting sleeves ending in V-points over the wrists, and bouffant skirt, caught up at intervals by taffeta bows shorting the floor length veil of silk illusion was held by a halo of white rosebuds and lily-of-the-valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of Peterboro red roses.

Mrs. W. A. Christopher, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a floor-length gown of blue sheer over taffeta, with matching skirt and bracket headdress. She carried a hand-bouquet of yellow baby 'mums tied with a blue satin bow.

Miss Betty Chumbley, of Plainfield, sister of the bride, was attired in yellow sheer over taffeta, with matching mitts, and headdress and carried a hand-bouquet of yellow 'mums with yellow satin bow.

Little Barbara Ann Mattis, cousin of the bride, was sweet in her frock of pink sheer over taffeta, with matching headdress and tiny mitts. She carried a nosegay of mauve baby 'mums.

Mr. W. A. Christopher attended the bridegroom, and Mr. J. E. Mattis, of Belleville, uncle of the bride, and, Mr. J. E. McFarlane, were ushers.

At the reception held at the home of the bride, which was prettily decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers and white wedding bells, the bride's mother received the guests, wearing burgundy crepe, with black accessories and corsage of yellow carnations. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who wore navy blue with grey accessories and corsage of yellow carnations.

For the wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Washington and New York City, the bride chose a navy blue ensemble with pink accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Mr. and Mrs. McEwen are residing in Kingston.

Out-of-town guests were present from Eglinburg, Kingston, Whitby, Trenton, Belleville, Odessa, Kanoloopa, B.C., Mount Chenney, Portsmouth, Harrowsmith, and Picton.

Prior to her marriage, the bride was the honored guest at the home of Mrs. J. J. Sheridan of Belleville, and at the home of Mrs. William Townson, also of Belleville, when she was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Doreen Day To Address Women's Canadian Club

Mrs. Doreen Day, promotion fashion director of the T. Eaton Company, Limited, of Montreal, who will address the Women's Canadian Club at the regular luncheon held in Holloway Street United Church on Saturday afternoon, has been engaged in style promotion for more than 25 years.

At present, she is supervisor of the fashion bureau and wedding bureau of the Montreal store.

Mrs. Day's work in the T. Eaton Co. is the personal coverage of many of the fashion openings in such style centres of the world as Paris, London, New York, Los Angeles, as well as speaking engagements before club groups and over the radio.

During World War II, Mrs. Day at the request of the Navy, assisted in the design of the WREN uniforms. In addition to her fashion work, Mrs. Day holds the position of 1st vice president of the Canadian Society of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals; a former director of the Advertising and Sales Executive Club, of Montreal, and the Women's Auxiliary of the Children's Memorial Hospital.

Rev. Thomas Larkin Addresses Parent Teacher Association

Rev. Thomas Larkin was guest speaker at the November meeting of St. Michael's and Holy Rosary Parent-Teacher Association. Father Larkin has recently been appointed pastor at Howe Island.

He was introduced by Very Rev. Dean Garvin and spoke on how happiness may be achieved, in the state of society today by the development and drawing out of the natural faculties that a person has, whether mental, physical, moral or spiritual.

The next meeting will be addressed by Rev. Father Harrigan, of Alderdale.

During the business part of the meeting, it was stated that Catholic Book Week will be from November 11 to 16, and all are invited to see the books displayed at the school.

Parent attendance planquers were filled by Mrs. Fluney's class at St. Michael's and Sister M. Cyrilla's class at Holy Rosary.

Refreshments were served by mothers of Grade III.

Let Hubby Try His Hand In the Kitchen

By KAY KEX
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ever try letting hubby loose in the kitchen? There's no telling the surprises he may dream up—dishes you didn't think he even knew existed.

Men have gained the reputation for being able to make coffee and cook eggs—"just let it kiss the frying-pan that's all." But when they brought their cooking talents to the fore—they can make a cake or whip up a fancy dessert? And a friend of mine claims her father is a whiz at making porridge.

Here's proof that the head of the family can turn out as cute an array of bridge - club delights as mother would wish to set before her friends.

It's a bread-and-mushroom-soup special.

Slice a fresh loaf of bread lengthwise. Spread canned cream of mushroom soup heavily on the lengthwise slices of bread. Put in a jelly-roll" and fasten down with toothpicks. Toast to a golden brown in the oven (about 300 to 350 degrees).

The New Look

This male has picked up at least one of the cooking secrets of the French. He likes to use a wooden spoon.

Into an egg into a bowl. Add salt, pepper and stir lightly with a wooden spoon.

Melt pat of butter in frying - pan. Pour in eggs and stir with wooden spoon. "It must be wooden", says our male friend—until almost firm. Makes tasty (large); one large spoon.

Put the vegetables through a shredder or use an ordinary grater.

Dressing: juice of one lemon; add to this two tablespoons of sugar; season with salt; add mixed salad dressing. Salt to taste. Toss all this together. Garnish with slices of tomato and hard-boiled eggs.

A Salmon Dish

However, left to his own devices—when the rest go downtown shopping — hubby most frequently will seek food from a can. Perhaps goes after any tinned salmon that may be around the house. This he puts in a casserole and spreads leftover potatoes on the top. First, however, he heats up "an egg or two"—there are so casual about the high cost of living he—and cuts this with the potatoes. The dish is seasoned with salt and pepper and popped into a moderate oven for 20 minutes or so.

"Excellent" says our friend, "with milk or lager."

INTERIM REPORT MADE

Brantford, Ont., Nov. 9 (CP)—Students at Brantford Collegiate don't have to wait until the January report card to find out how their studies are progressing. Headmaster W. S. Turner yesterday announced a plan to prevent faulty study habits — under which teachers grade each of the 1,500 pupils and send home an interim report.

St. Thomas' Parish Guild Holds Christmas Bazaar

The annual Christmas bazaar and afternoon tea, sponsored by St. Thomas' Parish Guild, was opened Wednesday afternoon tea-room in parish house, by the president, Mrs. A. R. Ketchesson, in the home of the Rector, Archdeacon Arthur Smith, who was out of town. Mrs. Ketchesson welcomed a most cordial welcome to the assembled patrons, members and guests.

Those receiving at the door were the president, Mrs. A. R. Ketchesson and Mrs. Arthur Smith, wife of the rector. Mrs. G. Miller was treasurer for the afternoon.

Everywhere the eye turned, the Christmas motif was in evidence, with sprays of evergreens and cones of red and silver. A stately Christmas tree with its glistening globes of green, red and gold, and its many packages in red, made one look forward to the day of days with happy anticipation for the gifts one hoped to purchase for that particular friend, some tiny tot, some home-loving aunt and homekeeping brother, as well as for the breadwinner, could all be had in this spacious emporium.

Sparkling Jewels

The jewellery table, convened by Mrs. Austin Smith, Mrs. N. Nicholson and Mrs. R. Ivey, was sparkling with its clips, and necklaces, earrings, bracelets and many designs, some with blue and white, others with pearl clusters in circles of silver, and there were also pretty brooches made from shells; lapel ornaments, jewel boxes, mosaic hatpot stand with silver corners, jardinieres and an emerald spider web pin. This table was also rich among the many lovely costume pieces, the most looking for the absent little Miss Muffet.

The candy table with its vast array of delectables was decidedly attractive. Within a grove of evergreen trees was a little red sleigh, piled high with tiny gifts, all wrapped in red and silver papers and drawn by six brown reindeer, urged on by a tiny, red Santa Claus. On either side of Santa's sleigh were cellophane bags of all kinds of confections, gifts, white and green divinity fudge, chocolate cream and maple creams. These were convened by Mrs. R. McBride and Mrs. R. Widdifield.

Lovely Knitting Bags

In charge of the fancy work table with its lovely black knitting bags appliqued with red poppies, roses, and clusters of tiny multi-colored flowers, tiny sewing kits fashioned from red, yellow and black felt, green bridge cloths with yellow water lilies, and pink roses, pink cosmetics, daisy hot - mats, woven and crocheted place mats, rainbow aprons, linen cloths, and handsome, clothespin bags fashioned to the form of Bugs Bunny with yellow print beaks, the baby things in wool, tiny white bootees, bonnets, sacques, sets in white and pink, and tiny, little white knitted nightties, cosy and warm. In fact, anything a wee tot could need for the cold months ahead. In charge of these were: Mrs. Lanning, Mrs. R. Bertrand, Mrs. Ruth Murray, Mrs. J. R. Barnes and Mrs. Robert Lanning.

The Christmas gift table was a riot of color with its lovely assortment of knitting bags, beach bags in heavy awning material in blue, white, green, various clothespin bags of unbleached cotton trimmed in green, black, red and gold, little woolly black Aunt Jemimas, a cuddley horse in red and white, pretty cocktail aprons in green taffeta with clusters of flowers, velvet chokers with rows of pearls, mitts, diamond socks, sleeveless sweaters, embroidered pillow slips, as well as many other suitable gifts, too numerous to mention. Mrs. N. Arnold, Mrs. A. Conlin, Mrs. F. Clarke, Mrs. E. Young, Mrs. A. Bell, Mrs. J. Sherwood and Mrs. N. C. Fisher were kept busy packaging and making change.

Dolls' Picnic

One of the outstanding sights was the dolls' picnic under the flowering trees. Here were dolls sitting in groups with their picnic lunches spread out on the ground, others were playing, others, sweethearts perhaps, were standing around under the trees, in earnest conversation, and too little to hear, others were peacefully sleeping in the pretext play pens, while others were leaning over the old rail fence, watching humpty-dumpty and the little yellow dogs and cats. Just outside this rail fence, was a beautiful display of dresses in white with a tiara of diamonds in her golden hair, and there were also dolls waiting in gowns of blue and yellow and pink.

Nearby was a dolls' store, replete with racks and racks of dolls of every hue and every design, little baby dolls wrapped in blankets, dolls dressed for the day, and pink, little straw hats were shown for summer, and all kinds of dolls' clothes were on sale. The busy ladies in charge were: Mrs. R. Bertrand, Mrs. R. Selwood, Mrs. Barbara Seibert, Mrs. B. Featherston, Mrs. R. Boyle, Mrs. E. Ivey, Mrs. W. Baldwin and Mrs. N. Edwards.

The handicraft table was that of the books convened by Mrs. F. J. Leach. There were books for all ages, including a set of four of Shakespeare's plays in red leather bindings: the Arch Patrol," "The Eagle's Song," (if they do sing, they must be white) "The Bells," and "Love-Lies-Bleeding" and several others for children.

The fancy work table was a mecca of eager buyers, and the dainty aprons, some in black organdy supplyished with a splash of red poppies across the front; others in pale green with tiny flowers and many, many, made of pretty printed goods, all making perfect gifts for Christmas. Mrs. R. Anderson and Mrs. L. Foxard had charge.

Ladies With Good Things

The homecooking table, was bountifully laden with all manner of good things to eat, so many in fact that it took quite a decision between "the white layer cakes generously topped with shredded coconut and iced in pale pink or the chocolate or the lemon, apple or cherry pies; the tasty pies of pumpkin, and the tiny hermits or the chocolate coated cup cakes. There were also jars of jellies, of canned pears and peaches, relishes, and pickles and some citrous waiting for the embellishment of icing, lemon and sugar to make tempting preserves. Looking after this alluring display were Mrs. T. Gibbon; Mrs. J. Mastine; Mrs. Arnold; Mrs. R. Jones and Mrs. R. Roy Gibson.

Downstairs was the tea room, convened by Mrs. A. Lewis, assisted by the tea room hostesses: Mrs. H. Alton, Mrs. A. F.IV. Leslie, Mrs. J. T. L. Hawkins and Mrs. B. Smith.

Bower of Beauty

The room was a bower of Christmas beauty with its pendant lights muted by tiny fringes of red and white interspersed with silver bells and its windows, each bearing its cluster of evergreens centred by a huge red bow. The long, tea table, exquisitely appointed with a points de Venise cloth of Madeira outwork, edged with Brussels lace, was centred by lovely bowl of snowwhite chrysanthemums, and red poinsettias, flanked by silver candelabra, each with five ivory tapers while at the ends were arranged silver epergnes. Each little guest table was centred with a tiny spray of green and red rose hips. Those who presided were: Mrs. S. E. Morton and Mrs. Arnold Thomson; Mrs. Vig-Blaikiee and Miss Ida Thompson; Mrs. F. G. Partridge and Mrs. Harry Smith; Mrs. J. Watson, Mrs. Austin Smith and Mrs. F. J. Leach.

Those who made the tea and replenished luncheon: Mrs. J. R. McKenna, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. H. A. Singer, Mrs. T. Kelly, Mrs. J. Spellman, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. H. G. Penny, Mrs. H. J. Code, Mrs. R. Bass, Mrs. R. J. Alwell, Mrs. B. Brown, Miss M. Blakelee and Mrs. W. Hurst were in charge of the dainty relish plates while those who served included: Mrs. J. Field, Mrs. T. Sawyer, Mrs. R. Ivey, Mrs. Ida D. Featherby, Mrs. W. S. Stone, Mrs. W. Lawrence, Mrs. W. Wills, Mrs. A. Purdy, Mrs. A. Gean, Mrs. G. Little, Mrs. J. V. White, Mrs. J. Marshall, Mrs. J. E. Kitchman, Mrs. A. Skelcher, Mrs. W. D. Saunders, Mrs. A. Coulter, Mrs. M. Lavinia, Mrs. J. McDonald, Mrs. R. T. Potter, Mrs. G. Hales, Mrs. L. Kelly, Mrs. J. Howe, Mrs. T. Wrenshall, Mrs. N. Jefferies and Mrs. J. Arnott.

A splendid afternoon's bazaar and a delightful tea. Much credit is due to the conveners and all these assisting.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Now's the time to demonstrate your maturity, girls!

Dear Miss Fairfax:

We are two girls, one 18 and the other 19, who are in love with two boys in service. Our parents have nothing against these boys, but they don't think we are old enough to marry. They have asked us to wait until we have graduated from college, but since neither of us has even started college yet, we want to skip it.

We think we are old enough to know our own minds, for we are very mature for our ages. How can we make our parents understand? We would hate to hurt them in any way, but we are very much in love with these boys.

V. E. and Y. H. O.

Dear Girls:

I don't know just what your idea of being "very mature" is, but the way I look at it, if you were as mature as you think you are, you would see the sound wisdom of your parents' attitude and go along with it. You don't believe it, I'm sure, but the chances are very great indeed that if you get married now, you'll be thankful for a way to get out of it before long. That happens to the majority of girls who marry boys in service on the impulse of the moment. It's awfully easy, in that you're temporarily in love with a chap who's on his way to fight for his country and looks simply divine in his uniform. But somehow, after he's been gone for a while, that boy may give up to come along who look divine to you whether they're in uniform or not.

Now's the time for you to demonstrate that maturity you're so proud of by going on with your schooling and preparing yourself for a constructive and happy life. Believe me, I'm sure you'll be glad to have it for your own protection this good sound foundation for living. Write to the boys, of course, but don't go overboard on the sentimental side. Take it easy, have a lot of good times with all the friends you can, and in time you really will "know your own minds" as well that you'll make far better wives for some lucky man than you can be now.

Any friend thinks she's "too respectable"

Dear Miss Fairfax:

Recently I met a boy who I thought was a swell guy. One night he told me he would like to take me out, but for some reason he could not. Later he told me that several girls had told him a girl he went in for petting, and he thought I was too respectable for that.

Do you think that if this fellow really liked me he would try a thing like that? And do you think we could work it out between us, as we are still good friends and can talk quite frankly with each other?

M. A.

Dear M.A.:

I don't see why it should take very much frank discussion between you and this boy to make your position clear. All you have to do is to tell him that he's quite right; that you definitely are "too respectable" to go in for petting; then let your behavior show him that you mean what you say.

I certainly do think that if he really likes you he will want to be with you on your own terms. If he doesn't, but tells you he doesn't care to take you out because he always expects to pet with any girl he dates, you'd better give him up right now unless you're looking for trouble.

BEAUTY

Keep your teeth polished

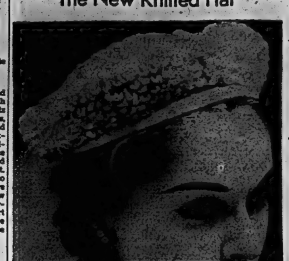
What kind of teeth does your smile reveal? If they are white and sound, highly polished, they will contribute to the sum-total of good looks. The use of the lipstick calls attention to them. If any defects are present they can be corrected. If you have been unfortunate enough to lose your teeth you can wear demountable ones that defy detection. They have a more natural appearance and coloring than they once did. It is surprising how many individuals—some fairly young—have had to resort to this convenient makeshift.

Because the first processes of digestion take place in the mouth, it is necessary that teeth and gums be in a healthy state. If there is the slightest discomfort, food is not masticated properly and the digestive motors have heavier work to do. There is no sense in economizing on professional attentions. Better cut down on glad dry goods and toddle to the dentist's office every six months.

He will clean the teeth thoroughly, make a careful examination, do such repairs as may be necessary and remove tarter, a hard substance that forms at the roots of the teeth, under the gums. It consists chiefly of phosphate of lime deposited by the saliva. If it remains on for any length of time it hardens, can only be removed by the little pick-axes and chisels of the dentist's equipment. Teeth that are not used—some people chew only on one side—collect tartar, so watch out for that habit.



If the teeth are brushed just once a day, it should be at bedtime. The safe routine would be to brush after each meal, because food substances can change in character even after a few hours; forming destructive chemicals.

Have two brushes. They should be fairly small ones so as to reach to all parts of the dental arch. Bristles set in groups can be kept cleaner than those that are massed closely together. Cold water should be used to moisten a brush before it is used, and afterward. Hot water softens the bristles, alters the shape of the handle and may make the brush unsuited for efficient cleaning.

If you keep your brush in a glass tumbler, have the bristles end upward. It should not be kept in a toothbrush container that prevents drying and encourages bacterial growth.

There seems to be a difference of opinion as to the effect of diet on the teeth, though all specialists agree that milk is helpful because of its calcium content.

The New Knitted Hat

By ALICE ALDEN

THE knitted hat has added a nice come-back and is already sliding high down pretty heads. To celebrate its return, the new knits have put on all sorts of airs and graces and have brought with it matching gloves or bibs, as has this one. Sally Victor makes a snowball beret of white yarn loops frosted with iridescent white beads, and mounts it on an angora jersey band. With it is a matching muff, draped bib tied on with a black velvet ribbon.

MARYSVILLE

Marysville—Miss Betty McAuley spent the weekend in Toronto.

Mrs. Catharine Dundon and daughter, Mary, of Elgin called on their friends and relatives over the weekend.

Rev. Father T. Raby, of Kingston, spent the dinner hour on Sunday evening with Rev. Father Donoghue.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Whalen of Kingston, spent the weekend in Marysville.

Old man winter came in with a bang on Friday evening with a heavy fall of snow covering the country side and causing several accidents along the highway.

Mr. Peter Roach is sporting a new car and Mr. Gene Whalen a new truck.

A large crowd were in attendance at the dance on Friday evening held in the parish hall.

Mrs. Peter Whalen spent Tuesday in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kenedy, have taken up residence in Belleville for the winter months.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

During my brother's 10-day leave we are going together (at least we are planning to, if all goes well with his leave) to the formal church wedding of a lovetime mutual friend of ours. Should I hold my brother's arm, explaining to the usher that my brother and I are together, or should I take the usher's arm? (If the usher's arm, which arm should he offer me?)

Janet

Take the usher's arm. . . the usher should, if he knows what's what, offer his right arm. Your brother may walk on your right or a step or two behind you and the usher. (And incidentally, at weddings, the man guest often enters the pew first, leaving the seat nearest the aisle for his woman companion. . . "the girl" is that aisle seat. . . the better to look, my dear!)

Wedding present cheque made out in name of bride-to-be

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. We are the prospective bridegroom's mother and father, and have decided to give a cheque as our wedding present to the couple. To whom should we make out this cheque—to our son, to his bride-to-be, or to the couple?

2. Also I would like to know how the recessional leaves the church?

M. D. A.

1. Since all wedding presents are given to the bride-to-be, a cheque that is a wedding present should be made out in the name of the bride-to-be.

2. First: the bride and bridegroom. Next, the bride (or matron) of honor, either alone or with the best man. Next, the bridesmaids, two by two, as in the processional. Last, the ushers, two by two, as in the processional. (Or, If the bride wishes, the bridesmaids and ushers may be "paired off")

No good sense or good taste to keep presents after broken engagement

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Last February, when I became engaged, my fiance gave me a hope chest. As our wedding date was not set, I had no showers given for me, but some of my relatives and friends and three of the girls who work with me in the office, knew that I had a hope chest and so for my birthday and other occasions they gave me articles to put in the chest. Now we have broken our engagement, and I have already returned the engagement ring, a jeweled wrist watch, and some other presents he gave me. Should I also return the chest to him, and the things sent for it to the givers?

Betty

Yes, return the chest to your ex-fiance, and to the givers the presents given for it. Now that you must start a new design-for-living, you shouldn't clutter up your life with unhappy symbols. "Possessing" such things isn't constructive, and hanging onto things that were given to you for something that no longer exists . . . your engagement . . . doesn't show good sense or good taste.

Procedure of "calling in"

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

At a dance given by a girls' club or at any other private dance, is it correct for a man to "cut in" on a couple who are dancing, whether or not he knows either the girl or the man? Or must he know both the girl and the man?

Rhea R.

A man may cut in on a girl he knows, but he should not cut in on a girl he doesn't know. However, he may cut in on a girl he knows, even when he doesn't know the man with whom she is dancing.

Basic Beauty

Wool jersey outfit

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

STAR of the season is the basic dress in light weight wool jersey that is nice for general wear and that lends itself to pretty accessories for a softened mood. This frock is quite slim, the line being broken by a hip pocket at the right side. The three-quarter length sleeves have turned back cuffs. For "dash" there's an extra collar and scarf snap-on arrangement, the collar beaded, the scarf lined in bright red.

Wife Preservers

ROSLIN

Miss Found Outlines Daily Food Needs At Institute Meeting

Roslin — On Wednesday afternoon the Roslin Women's Institute was hostess to the following W.I. branches: Phillipston-Elzon Melrose, Chapman and Plainfield at which the departmental speaker, Miss Found from Toronto, gave a talk on "Your Food and Your Figure."

Questions Explained

The following questions were explained by the speaker: Why are people overweight? Does overweight run in families? Is overweight dangerous? How common is overweight? Why do people overeat? Why do some people gain weight and others remain slim when they eat at the same table?

"We all know the old saying, 'an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure'. How well this applies to weight control. Better to avoid overweight than be forced to correct it."

Canada's Food Rules

These foods are good to eat. Eat them every day for health.

Have at least three meals each day.

Milk, children (up to 13 years) at least 1 pt. Adolescents at least 1½ pints. Adults half pint at least.

Fruit, one serving citrus fruit or tomatoes and one serving of other fruit.

Vegetables, at least one serving of potatoes and at least two servings of other vegetables, preferably leafy, green or yellow and frequently raw.

Cereal and bread. One serving at whole grain cereal and at least four slices of bread (with butter or fortified margarine).

Meat and fish, one serving of meat, fish, poultry or meat alternates such as dried beans, eggs and cheese.

Use liver frequently. In addition eggs and cheese at least three times a week each.

Vitamin D, at least 400 international units daily for growing persons and expectant and nursing mothers.

The speaker gave several menus for a day's meals, also menus for reducing. Calories in food and the approximate amounts in the various foods were given.

At the conclusion of the conference the Roslin ladies served afternoon tea to all present.

A successful Hallowe'en masquerade party was held in the hall on Wednesday evening under the auspices of St. Paul's W.A.

Prizes for costumes were awarded to children, Jimmie Bailey, Heather Empson and Billy Bailey, adults, Lorne Meeks and Mrs. Orlie Parks. Music was provided by the Kerr orchestra from Plainfield.

A week ago Sunday Mr. Davenport from Trenton conducted the services in the Roslin parish, with a service in Moneymore in the morning and at Roslin in the evening.

The new Anglican rector, Rev. Gardham took charge of the Roslin parish the first of November and on Sunday had services at Roslin, Moneymore and Thomasburg.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fargey have returned home after a trip to Quebec where they visited her parents.

Mrs. Wm. White is visiting at the home of her son Mr. and Mrs. Stuart White this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hamilton who have been living in the village moved last week to Plainfield.

Hallowe'en Party

Miss Sine and pupils of S.S. 3, Thurlow, entertained about 25 parents and visitors to a Hallowe'en party on Wednesday afternoon. The children were gaily dressed in various costumes representing clowns, the hobo and witches.

An appropriate program and games for the occasion were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Donald Mitchell, Mrs. Robt. Atkins acted as judges, and the following received prizes: best dressed girl, senior, Nancy Decillie, as Martha Washington; best dressed boy, Betty Anne Keetle, as hobo; Linda Smith, as ghost and Barry Hill as a pirate.

BIG CIGARETTE HAUL

Sherbrooke, Que., Nov. 8 (CP)—RCMP officials today reported the seizure of 750,000 American cigarettes smuggled into Canada and said it was the largest haul ever made in the Dominion. A wagon and a team of horses were seized along with the cigarettes last night at St. Mathias, about 40 miles southeast of Sherbrooke, near the American border. No arrests were made, police reported.

Lining up Their Defence Against Big Three Plan?

MADOC

District President Mrs. S. R. Beatty Addresses W.I.

Mrs. Wilfred Forestell was hostess for the regular meeting of Madoc Women's Institute on Friday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Keenahan, presided and opened the meeting in the usual manner.

The treasurer's report showed the proceeds from the Fair Booth down from that of last year. Communications were read and it was decided to send $25 to Mrs. Purcell for the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada.

Mrs. Hollin reported on the canvass for the C.N.I.B., and moved that, the W.I. donate $10 as usual. Mrs. Moon reported that the flag, which the W.I. purchased a few years ago, had been located in good condition. It was decided to have this flag turned over to the local council, to be flown in the park each day.

The president and secretary were appointed as a committee to arrange for a wreath for the cenotaph for Remembrance Day. Mrs. K. Caskey reported that as yet the committee had been unable to find suitable pictures for the school.

Mrs. K. Caskey, who was one of the delegates to the 25th Area Convention in Belleville, on Oct. 18-19, gave a splendid report on the activities of the first day. Some ideas which she brought back to the members was the suggestion that the Institute give a donation to be given as special prizes to the school pupils at the annual fall fair to encourage them to take an interest in preparing exhibits, and secondly, that the Institute members, as a group, prepare a display of their handiwork.

Butter-Margarine War

Miss Vankleek reported on the second day of the convention, making special mention of papers given on the butter-margarine war, storing milks, and what Canada makes, makes Canada.

The district president, Mrs. S. E. Beatty, then addressed the meeting. She congratulated the Madoc Branch on their activities, and spoke of her visits to other branches in the district, stressing the importance of having the reports in on time. She also suggested that in preparing the programs for the next year to include mottos and have a meeting dedicated to "grandmothers".

Mrs. P. H. Hayne spoke a few words of appreciation to those who gave the reports and to Mrs. Beatty. Mrs. G. White spoke briefly in regard to the recent opening and dedication of the new Home for the Aged at Belleville, and wondered if the Institute might at some future date supply a picture or two for same.

After the meeting, the hostess and her assistants served refreshments.

Jet Pylons Get Final Check

Before being shipped to a New York aircraft plant, a completed jet-plane pylon is checked by an employee of a Mansfield, Ohio, factory. Looking much like miniature warships, pylons are part of the underbelly on F-84 Thunderjets. Suspended under each wing, they are used for carrying auxiliary fuel tanks, or varied armaments. —Central Press Canadian.

Little Benny's Note Book

Pop couldn't stop yawning at breakfast, and ma said, William, you've been working too hard. That's the trouble with men, they drive themselves till they drop in their tracks, and they call that progress. You ought to take a rest, she said.

By golliies you've hit the old nale on the old head, pop said. Tomorrrow I'm going to stay home and soak in 24 full hours of relaxation, pop said, and ma said, Now that sounds sensible.

Yes sir, and when I say stay home, I mean lay in bed, pop said, and ma said, What, all day?

Well, all the day, anyway, pop said. I've got it all thought out already, and please dont bother your head about making my bed. I'll make my own bed when I get up. I dont want my morning rest disterbed by the thought that you're busing frantically outside the door itching to make up my bed, he said, and ma said, But William, you never made a bed in your life, at least your married life.

There has to be a first time for everything, pop said, and ma said, Not necessarily for lazy fakes.

And dont worry about my breakfist, either, pop said, if I get up in time for breakfist, I'll make my own. And I'll get my own lunch, too, and maybe a late afternoon snack. Just loaf and nibble, as the mood strikes me. That's the only way to relax he said, and ma said, Oh my, 2 or 3 operations in the kitchin. Really, William, I mean really, dont you think it would be rather a violent change to take sutch an utter leaf after all that habitual activity? Dont you think you could get somebody to go out with you for a moderate day's fishing? she said.

I see what you mean, pop said. I'll call up Herb Lewis, he's always reddy to stop werking, he said.

And he called up Mr. Lewis, and Mr. Lewis said sure.

IMMIGRANTS ARRIVE

Quebec, Nov. 8 —(CP)— More than 1,900 immigrants from central Europe arrived today aboard the Italian vessel Fairsea from Bremerhaven, Germany. The vessel docked here instead of at Halifax because of royal tour activities there.

FOREST AREA

Canada's forests cover about 37 per cent of the total land area of the Dominion but much of this is inaccessible to industry.

Cows can't use crutches

We've heard from Denmark that a cow over there had to have its leg amputated, but gets along quite nicely now on a new one made of aluminum.

Whether or not this artificial leg was made of Canadian aluminum, we wouldn't know. Perhaps it was, because we do produce one quarter of the world's supply. That's quite a big thing for Canada. It means jobs for Canadians, and money from abroad to pay for Canadian imports. Right now we are hard at work on extension projects in Quebec and British Columbia; for we intend to go on playing our part in helping Canada grow. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Synod Concerned About Shortage Of Clergymen

St. Catharines, Nov. 8—(CP)—Retired business men pastoring were suggested as a solution to the problem of the Anglican Synod of Ontario to serve in areas not generally help meet the current shortage of clergy.

Dean C. E. Brown of London said at a final session of the two-day meeting that many elderly men, active in church work would be able to help more effectively than lay readers who are not permitted to perform baptisms. The church might consider permitting such persons to perform Holy Communion in the absence of the regular priest.

Rt. Rev. W. L. Wright, Bishop of Algoma, said if the work of the church were to continue, there must be a steady stream of new clergymen from each diocese.

Delegates passed a resolution suggesting God, in revision of the prayer-book, a rubric be included in the marriage ceremony to provide for advance notice of intent to marry. In addition, before the wedding, the rector should instruct the couple in the fundamentals of Christian marriage.

At another session the synod urged observance of Sunday as a day of worship and asked Canadians not to participate in secular activities alien to such observance.

"Joblin Days"

Rawdon folk will be delighted to hear that a special "Joblin Sunday" was held at London, Ontario, on Sunday, October 28th. For the first time Rev. Fred G. Joblin, formerly of Rawdon who now resides in Port Perry and his three sons who are ministers and who received their education at King George high school, Stirling, were all assisting with the same service.

Rev. Fred Joblin has a church in London, Ontario, and he presided over the service. His brother, Rev. Kingsley Joblin, Toronto, gave the message, based on the theme "A Day of Glad Tidings."Mr. Kingsley Joblin prefaced his remarks with the announcement that a baby girl had arrived at Fred's parsonage on Saturday, October 27th.

Rev. Elgie Joblin, Muncey, and the father of the three ministers, Rev. Fred G. Joblin had a special part in the service.

Chinese Fear

Rawdon folk received two jolts last week, first along came the tax bills and they sure have gone sky high. The Rawdon school area takes a lot of dollars to finance, and the residents who live in the Stirling Union school section found that a new school can eat up a lot of money. Those who had previously helped to finance the new Alma School at Marmora a few years ago, have a fair idea, but a dollar of those days is now worth about 50 cents. The folks had hardly recovered from this news till the man winter came along with several inches of snow and then several degrees of frost which finally hit the zero mark.

Very few people were prepared for the winter weather. The storm windows were still in storage. The flowers haven't been given their winter protection; the plowing isn't finished; the cattle were still out in pasture, and there were a dozen and one jobs to be completed. The first snow came Friday and into Saturday night, a real snowstorm was in evidence. However, despite all the adversity, it will likely all get back to normal before Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMaster recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Deniford.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Finkle and daughters of Chatterton, were recent guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boulter Johnston.

Greater Efforts Needed to Put Red Feather Drive 'Over the Top'

standstill for a few days, and the normal flow of contributions in evidence prior to this interruption has not returned.

As a result officers recognize that unless renewed effort is put forth immediately the balance of $4,500 needed to reach the minimum goal will be the most difficult of the total campaign. There is still confidence in the minds of the individual members of the executive that the campaign will go well over the top, but this will require the combined efforts of workers and citizens hitherto lately.

Many citizens have sensed the difficulties encountered by the volunteer workers and have come to the assistance of the campaign by sending in or bringing in their contributions to headquarters at the Y.M.C.A. In making an analysis of the situation at an early hour this morning the directors observed the great numbers of contributors still not heard from, and calculated that it was on these persons that the success of the campaign would depend.

Giving great appreciation to the numbers of citizens who had shared in the campaign, the chairman, J. J. Trudeau, expressed belief that if the size of the contribution were increased by those who had yet to contribute, the final figures would be well beyond the minimum objective which had been the goal hoped for from the beginning of the campaign.

Workers and team captains were urged to uncover every possible source of revenue in the prospects they had and leave none unsolicited. It is recognized that there are many persons who have not yet been approached who will have a donation awaiting a canvasser.

Some who have already contributed may feel that their dona-

Princess Elizabeth, Philip Visit Prince Edward Island, Call on Premier Macdonald

By JACK BRAYLEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Charlottetown, Nov. 9—(CP)—Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip came to Prince Edward Island today for the first of three island stops which will bring their Canadian tour to a close.

From here the royal couple go by sea to Cape Breton Island to visit the steel city of Sydney and then to St. John's, Nfld., and farewell.

Behind them were thousands of sad Haligonians who stood for hours to give their welcome in the driving rain which fell for both days of the royal stop there.

But the Princess, who drove with her car window down most of the time despite the wind-driven rain which pelted into her face, said her Halifax welcome had not been dimmed by the elements.

"We shall take away with us memories of your wonderful welcome," she said at a provincial dinner last night.

Their final day in Halifax was a busy one of official functions and rides through the city.

Many Children Present

One of the most moving spectacles was at the Halifax forum where school children from almost every available seat after being moved to cancel a scheduled program on the spacious exhibition grounds.

With vapor like a Scottish mist rising from the rink's ice surface, the New Glasgow, N.S., girls pipe band paraded with colorful dress and music.

As the players marched, Princess Elizabeth beat out a rhythm with her right foot on the bright red carpet.

As the royal pair left the rink the voices of the children blended in a hazy rendition of "Auld Lang Syne."

Later in the day they were entertained informally in a private home for the first time on their tour.

Princess Elizabeth sat on the arm of a chesterfield beside a blazing log fire in the home of Premier Angus L. Macdonald. The Duke perched on a piano stool.

Each had a cup of tea and chatted with Premier and Mrs. Macdonald and their three daughters.

Princess Sorry

To Conagn the Princess said she was sorry she had to miss the ride of the junior Bengal Lancers, cancelled because of rain. Conagh is a lancer of the famed musical ride performed by youngsters.

The royal couple called at visit by Admiralty House where Elizabeth had a sherry and Philip stuck to his naval tradition and a wardroom sip of rum.

The Princess, with apparent Canadian pride, said Lt.-Cmdr. W. H. Esworthy, a visiting United States submariner, how he liked working "with our navy".

"Fine," was the reply.

Striking Dockers Agree to End Wildcat Walkout

New York, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Striking longshoremen today agreed to end New York's 2-day wildcat walkout.

A rebel union faction yielded to a New York State fact-finding board in the early-morning hours, and promised to have the 30 miles of docks open later in the day.

The 37,000-man strike by wars the costliest in the history of the world's biggest port. At the peak of the walkout 114 ships were tied up.

The New York State industrial commissioner, Edward Corsi, announced shortly before 2 a.m. EST that the ports of New York and Boston would be open at 1 p. m. today.

In New York, an increasing number of dockers said they were turning to work on non — military ships in recent days.

Corsi's announcement followed a four - hour meeting between representatives of the longshoremen and a three-man inquiry panel.

The stevedores are members of the International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.). Wage - Atlantic coast district represents 60,000 dock workers from Maine to Virginia.

More than 20,000 union dockers were affected by the original walkout, which began over railclination. 13 of a new contract. The dissident group, led by John (Gene) Sampson, went out three days later.

In announcing the back-to-work move, Corsi made no mention of concessions, if any, coming from either side.

Joseph P. Ryan, head of the I. L. A., said he is "very happy" that the walkout is over.

Some observers believed that the split-up in the two union groups was touched off by the long-standing feud for union power between Ryan and Sampson. Sampson has denied this.

The strike brewed after Ryan announced I.L.A. acceptance of a new contract with the new shipping association. The agreement gave the dockers a $2.10 hourly wage, a 10-cent boost over previous scales. The strikers wanted a 25-cent raise.

The Duke said his farewell at a civic luncheon in reply to the city's toast to himself and the Princess. He said he had been impressed by the enormous possibilities across Canada and was taking back home with him a message that "Canada is a good investment."

"But perhaps more important is the way people go to work here," he said. "Natural resources are not being squandered — rackety-bang towns and villages are not growing up without proper thought for their citizens' welfare."

Democrats Want Eisenhower to Run Says N.Y. Times

New York, Nov. 9. (AP)—The New York Times says today Democrats have visited Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Paris twice within five weeks and promised him President Truman's support for the 1952 presidential nomination.

The visits, the Times says, appeared to be part of a "much more active and organized campaign than has been generally known" to get Eisenhower as the Democratic nominee.

Arthur Krock, Washington correspondent for the newspaper, writes that he received his information from a Republican who should know and whose "standing in the nation is very high indeed."

On each occasion, the story says, the same statement was made to Eisenhower:

"It was that if, at any time before the Democratic national convention, he would say he would accept its presidential nomination, his visitors were convinced they could "guarantee" it and "a could count on the support of Truman.

"General Eisenhower's reported reply was: 'You can't join a party first to run for office. What reason have you to think I have ever been a Democrat?'"

The story says Eisenhower told about the proposition to a friend on his recent visit to the United States, with the remark:

"I don't know I have been a Republican all my life and that my family have always been Republicans."

Krock says evidence is growing that President Truman had offered to support Eisenhower in "the culminating point in a major enterprise to convert Democrats that seems to have failed."

The statements are a follow-up to an article published previously in which he had said a "thoroughly reliable and informed source" told him Truman had offered such support.

The president commented: "There's not a word of truth in it."

Hunting Party Found

North Bay, Nov. 9 — (CP) — Canadian National Railways officials here said today that Frederick Henry Hudson and party have been found safe by searchers in the Mattawa River section 70 miles southwest of here.

He is a cousin of Dr. Henry Hudson, Timmins dentist who with hockey player Bill Barilko, has been missing since Aug. 26 in the James Bay area.

BIG RESERVES

Coalfields in Britain are estimated to contain sufficient deposits for another seven centuries, with deeper mining methods.

R.C.A.F. Calls Off Plan to Drop Food to Camps

Trenton, Nov. 9 (CP) — The RCAF has called off a plan to drop food to temporarily-isolated lumber workers in the Cobalt area.

Temiskaming Airways based in the Cobalt district, will be able to fly in the supplies. The aircraft will land at a lake 30 miles from Earlton where the men will be able to take the supplies to camp by team.

A road exist when the freeze-up arrived two weeks earlier than expected. This ice on a lake near the camp has prevented a float-plane from landing.

RCAF officials yesterday members of the Search and Rescue squad would drop food by parachute. Earlton is 100 miles north of North Bay.

Sales, Financing New Motor Cars Further Decline

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday that sales of new motor vehicles totalled 28,022 units with a retail value of $70,887,329, down 28 percent in number and 15 percent in value from the 39,045 units sold for $83,061,552 in September 1950.

Number of new cars sold during the first nine months of the year dropped to 320,320 units from 331,804 in the similar period of 1950. Nine-month sales of commercial vehicles rose to 85,558 units from 77,642.

New vehicle sales financed in the month, 9,800 units with a financed value of $15,107,726 compared with 11,341 for $16,650,122 in September last year. In the nine months 96,022 units were financed for $145,320,902 compared with 103,317 with a financed value of $144,491,809 a year earlier.

Number of used vehicles financed was 20,110 involving $16,648,482 compared with 18,854 units financed for $12,299,598 in September, 1950. In the cumulative period 227,466 units were financed for a total of $141,528,-889 compared with 175,580 units financed for $115,144,322 a year ago.

Freeze-up Costly To Applegrowers

Trenton (Special) — Ernest Wilson, manager of the Dominion Experimental Sub-Station at Smithfield, reported today that a number of farmers in the district had lost quantities of apples due to the early freeze-up.

He said that the crop had not been expected and growers had left picked fruit in containers in their orchards. Senator W. A. Fraser estimated that he had 40,000 bushels of apples, while John Christianna was caught with several thousand hampers outside.

Further west, it is understood growers still had late varieties on the trees.

Three Airmen Killed and One Missing in Crash

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 9 (AP) —Three airmen were killed and one is missing in the flaming crash of a B-29 last night, but 11 men parachuted to safety.

The survivors said an engine caught fire while the plane was on a training mission from Randolph air force base.

The crew extinguished the fire but it broke out again. The order to abandon the craft was given. Only 11 made it. None appeared injured.

The plane carried four instructors and 11 student airmen.

Food Minister Says Britons Will Have Less to Eat

London, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Food Minister Gwilym Lloyd George warned rationed Britons today they must have even less to eat in coming months.

He said that our financial position our food supplies are in a very dangerous position," Lloyd George told the House of Commons.

"Leaving out of account the stocks which have been accumulated and set aside for strategical purposes, I find that our stocks of wheat and flour, margarine and cooking fats, sugar and butter — to take a few examples — are all well below the level of 1941." That was the year when German submarines sharply cut supplies of food and materials reaching Britain from overseas.

Lloyd George said even if additional supplies of meat, butter and cheese were found abroad the country's financial position would prevent Britain from buying them.

Of Britain's announced cut of £350,000,000 in annual imports, almost half — £160,000,000 — would be on food.

Union Members Boost Salaries Of Officers

Cincinnati, Nov. 9 — (AP) — The United Automobile Workers Union (CIO) boosted the salaries of their international officers yesterday, raising the president's and secretary - treasurer's pay to $15,000 annually. The two had previously received $7,800.

The vice - president's salary was increased from $6,000 to $13,000 at the annual convention, and all other board members from $5,400 to $11,000.

At the same time, the auto workers increased union dues from $1.50 monthly minimum to $2 minimum.

Harry E. O'Reilly, director of organization for the A. F. L., reported the A. F. L.'s total membership had increased by 750,000 between the union's 1950 and 1951 conventions. There is much organizing going on in Canada and among the 35,000 Maritime workers in the Great Lakes area, he added, and the A. F. L. has gained 10,000 members among atomic plant workers.

Mrs. L. Thompson Freed by Jury Of Murder Charge

Peterborough, Nov. 9 (CP) — Mrs. Lillian Thompson was freed yesterday of a murder charge that had kept her in prison since last August.

A jury in Ontario Supreme Court brought in a directed verdict acquitting the 33-year-old mother of five in the rifle-slaying of her husband, Roy, a prosperous scrap-metal dealer.

Mr. Justice W. F. Spence told the jury:

"There is no evidence here from which a jury could, without a reasonable doubt, find intent and convict."

Neighbors testified during the two-day trial about a quarrel at the Thompson home the night the husband, celebrating his 37th birthday, was shot in the chest with a .22 calibre rifle. One witness said Mrs. Thompson came running out of the house, saying: "Roy's shot dead. I've shot him."

There were no witnesses to the fatal shooting.

"There is only circumstantial evidence, which is as consistent with innocence as with guilt," said Mr. Justice Spence, ruling that the culpability of a manslaughter verdict. No defence witnesses were called.

Yesterday's hearing was held Sept. 24. The actual trial, due to illness last month, was delayed when Mrs. Thompson went to hospital to give birth to her fifth daughter. The other children range in age from 11 to 15 years.

Mrs. Thompson kept her composure during the trial except for a few moments when her 15-year-old daughter, Betty, testified: "I heard mother tell someone on the telephone that she shot daddy."

No Addresses At Nomination Day at Stirling

Official nominations for Hastings West were held at the community hall in Stirling Thursday afternoon when the candidates for the C.C.F., Liberals and Progressive Conservative parties filed their nomination papers with Returning Officer Urias "Sandy" Lumming.

There was no speech-making and with less than 20 interested electors on hand, after nomination papers were filed the candidates shook hands all around and the meeting was dismissed.

Filing nomination papers were Angus R. Duffy, garage operator, Liberal candidate; Ernest Gibbs, C.N.R. fireman, C.C.F. candidate, and Elmer Sandercock, real estate salesman, Progressive Conservative.

Harry Rollins acted as chairman of the very brief meeting following nominations. The three candidates by mutual consent had agreed there would be no speechmaking but nevertheless were called to the platform to give electors present the opportunity "to see the color of their ties."

Mr. Rollins thanked those who turned out for taking an interest in the election and in the affairs of the province.

Evidence of Baby-Farming Racket Found by Montreal Police Following Complaints

Montreal, Nov. 9—(CP)—Inspector Ernest Francoeur, acting head of the city police detective bureau, today confirmed the existence of a baby-farming racket here and said investigation was started because of "complaints."

Two policemen and two investigators of the social welfare office are investigating the racket which started was reported by two Montreal newspapers—La Presse and Gazette—as yielding sums up to $5,000 for the sale of illegitimate infants in the United States.

Inspector Francoeur said investigators made a complete check of all illegitimate births in the city during 1950 and compared them with adoption records. The survey showed 200 adoptions of children from parents of one religious faith although there were only six illegitimate births listed for women of that faith.

The Herald, following up reports by La Presse and the Gazette, says in a newspaper story today that one "victim" of the racket told the paper she was delivered of her illegitimate child "on condition she give it up for 'adoption' by people whose name was not revealed to her.

She agreed, was hospitalized and gave birth to her child. All her hospital expenses were paid. Afterwards, in the presence of two people she never met, she signed papers declaring she gave up the child.

Such papers, according to legal counsel, are worthless because a child may not be given in adoption unless both parents appear in civil court, testify before a judge and then sign legal adoption agreements.

The Herald story says the baby-farm business is operated with "the co-operation of doctors, by people with 'connections' in the United States and Montreal."

The story says there is a possibility police may lay charges of sequestering infants from their mothers since the papers signed in these cases had no legal standing.

MADOC

Rev. G. J. Miniely Conducts Services At Trinity Anniversary

Madoc — Last Sunday Trinity United Church, Madoc, held their anniversary services. Despite the most unusual inclement weather, a good crowd attended the morning service.

Special music was offered by the church choir which rendered an an anthem, "Great Are Thy Works, Jehovah." The junior choir, under the leadership of Mrs. R. McCoy, sang sweetly, "The Prayer Perfect." Miss Anne Wicks gave a solo number, "Beside the Still Waters."

Visiting Minister

The visiting minister for the services was Rev. G. J. Miniely B.A., of King Street United Church, Trenton, who chose as his subject, "Our Trust," basing his sermon on the text in the 118th Psalm, verse 9. In his opening remarks he paid tribute to the pioneers of the congregation and labored hard and had left a heritage to the younger generations. He said, "We were not only observing our church anniversary, but also the 436 anniversary of the Reformation by Martin Luther."

He left with his hearers many thoughts worth while considering in their attitude toward their church. "We are all lax in our church attendance and the worth while things pertaining to church life."

At the evening service Rev. Mr. Miniely gave a follow-up of his morning address. The subject, "The Challenge of Church-manship," basing his remarks on the text found in Mark 9:9 and under the title theme, "What Shall I Do." He said, "the marks of a Christian were "light and life," passion for people; keenness for knowledge; perceptive of positive power and peace through prayer, where we usually petitioned for something rather than seeking to do something."

Summing up the marks of a good churchman, was to be a Christian, a peace maker, a Bible student, a man of prayer and power, and like the young man who said, "Behold I do!" to be willing to do it.

The messages of the day left a challenge to church members the world over and especially to those who were privileged to hear Mr. Miniely.

The congregation of St. Peter's withdrew their services in order that the minister and people might unite with Trinity congregation. Rev. M. W. Heslep assisted in the service. The choir rendered an anthem at the evening service, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Hulin taking the solo parts. The junior choir again gave a number, "The 23rd Psalm." Mr. Hughes, Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. Hulin, sang "Come Unto Me."

Chrysthemums were used for floral decorations and a basket of flowers in memory of the late Mr. Frank Dafoe, elder of the church, were placed on the altar by members of his family. The anniversary supper will be held on Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Blakely and Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Al Lucas and Linda, of Belleville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. B. Tanner.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey of Peterborough, spent the weekend with Dr. S. R. and Mrs. Beatty.

Miss Joyce Moore, Miss Betty Derry and Clifford Derry, attended the Y.P.U. convention held in Belleville, recently.

GRANTED DIVORCE

Boston, Nov. 8 (AP) — The wife of a Northeastern University professor who said her husband read a complete detective story at a symphony concert and danced the polka when the orchestra was playing a waltz was granted a divorce yesterday. The grounds: mental cruelty. Mrs. Constance R. Rinki, 35, said the conduct of Raymond E. Rinki, 38, constantly embarrassed her.

LATTA

Latta—Callers on Wednesday afternoon at the Hamilton and Wilder home were Dr. Loyd and Mrs. W. H. Loyd of Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brimfield, of Camrel and Mr. Leon Ward, of Hedgerville.

The W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Clarence Marshall on Thursday afternoon.

Several ladies of the community attended the cooking school during last week in the Capitol theatre.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the sorrowing family of the late Mrs. Alfred Conlier in their bereavement, who was well known in this community and attended Plainfield school for a while with the late Mr. and Mrs. Nobes as her teacher, who was able to teach the high school work till they obtained their 3rd class certificate.

PRIME MINISTER

It brought a clamour from Progressive Conservative and Social Credit members that this with the centre of Commonwealth should not be served by cutting off the ferry "Dominion" from Canada.

The prime minister made it clear that this country is not going to be the "Dominion of Canada" but just "Canada". The measure carried with the "Canada" title.

Rather Like Name

"Some of us rather like the name of Canada," Mr. St. Laurent said.

There had been a "progression" since confederation, resulting in the statute of Westminster that gave Canada nationhood.

"This government," he said, "feels that the majority of people consider it is quite a privilege to be regarded as a 'Canadian' rather than as a 'Dominion' citizen."

Earlier the Commons gave third and final reading to legislation to provide a universal pension of $40 a month to all 70 and over beginning Jan. 1. Approval came after the bill weathered a final opposition assault and a C.C.F. attempt to change financing methods.

The measure now goes to the senate.

The C.C.F. wanted to knock out a $600-a-year ceiling on the income to be used in calculating the pension. They contended this would let the rich escape from paying their share."

Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North) put the paper-and-ink amendment to this effect, but it was ruled out of order by deputy speaker J. A. Bradette.

The ruling was appealed but was upheld by a vote of 118 to 57. C.C.F. and Social Credit members voted against the ruling and the Quebec Progressive Conservatives in the house at the time split seven to five in favor of the ruling.

271 CANDIDATES

At dissolution, this was the political distribution: Progressive Conservatives 53; C.C.F. 23; Liberal 14, including one Liberal-Labor, and two Labor-Progressive (communist) for a total of 90.

Ontarians in Canada's forces fighting in Korea have a vote in this election officers there for distribution among the men. How the vote is to be taken and how or when it is to be counted into the general vote at home have not yet been announced.

Nomination day was a day of near-tragedy for Highways Minister Thomson, seeking re-election in Lanark riding. He suffered head injuries and a fractured right hip and thigh-bone when an automobile in which he was riding collided with another near Carleton Place, 35 miles west of Ottawa. The minister, 54, was on his way to a political meeting. He likely will be incapacitated for weeks.

Thomson Has Stiff Fight

Of the leaders, Mr. Thomson apparently faces the stiffest opposition. He was nominated in Ontario riding, which he represented in the Commons and which takes in the industrial city of Oshawa. He is opposed by Oshawa's mayor, Michael Starr, the Progressive Conservative candidate; T. D. Thomson, who held the seat for the CCF in the last House, and Mrs. Evelyn Bateman, Oshawa alderman running as an independent.

The premier, seeking re-election in the eastern Ontario riding of Victoria which he has represented since 1937, is opposed by a Minden restaurateur, Edward Harding, a Liberal. Mr. Jolliffe, fighting to retain York South ben Progressive Conservative, Liberal and Labor-Progressive candidates against him.

The Labor-Progressive bid in the 1951 election is stronger than in 1948 when the party had two candidates. But it is far under that of 1949 when it put 31 candidates into the field.

That was the year when a record number of candidates—317—sought provincial office. Three years ago, the number was 290.

Seven mayors and the reeves of two townships as well, as cities are in the lists. The mayors: Arthur J. Reaume, of Windsor, running as a Liberal in Essex North; Phillip Fay of Timmins, Liberal, in Cochrane South; F. M. Deans of Oakville, Liberal in Halton; R. M. Robertson, of St. Catharines, Liberal, in Lincoln; W. L. Houck of Niagara Falls, seeking re-election as a Liberal from that city; Starr of Oshawa in Ontario riding, and S. F. Lawrice of Waterloo, Progressive Conservative in Waterloo North.

Reeves Running

The Reeves are William Beech of the township of York, running as a Progressive Conservative in York South, and H. Ward Allen of West York, Liberal candidate in York West riding. Both townships are densely populated areas on Toronto's outskirts.

This is the way the election shapes up in the 90 ridings: Three-way contests among the three main parties in 63; two-party battles between the Liberal and Progressive Conservative forces in 13; four-way contests in 11 and one three-way battle in Toronto St. Andrew.

Seven women, the same number as in 1945, seek election. The list is headed by Agnes Macphail C.C.F., who seeks re-election in York East. Miss Macphail, first woman to enter the House of Commons and a veteran of political warfare, is opposed by Liberal and Progressive Conservative candidates.

Of the others, Mrs. Bateman in Ontario is an Independent. Mrs. Marcella Brown, newspaper woman on leave of absence from the Sarnia Canadian Observer for the campaign, is the Liberal candidate in Lambton West. Mrs. M. E. Cartwright, Kingston lawyer, is the C.C.F. standard-bearer in that city; Mrs. Anne Vowles represents the party in Middlesex South and Mrs. Beatrice Gould in Muskoka-Ontario. The seventh woman is Ann B. Mayer, running as an independent Progressive Conservative in Prescott.

The dean of the legislature, Harry C. Nixon, will be fighting his ninth election. He has represented Brant East since 1934 and is seeking re-election in that riding at the age of 61 against Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. opposition.

V.C. Winner Seeks Seat

Rev. John W. Foote, reforma Institutions minister, who won the Victoria Cross at Dieppe, seeks re-election in Durham. He is engaged in a three-way fight.

Farquhar Oliver, former Liberal leader and House leader in the party in the last two sessions of the legislature, also has a three-way fight on his hands in Grey South.

In Kingston, where Mrs. Cartwright seeks the seat her partner husband never won in seven battles, W. M. Nickle, Progressive Conservative, is one of her opponents. He is the son of William Folger Nickle, the man who more than any else, is credited with the abolishment of titles in Canada. He led the fight against the granting of titles to Canada for most of his years in the Commons, from which he resigned in 1915. He was attorney-general of Ontario in the Ferguson Conservative government in the 1920s.

In Wentworth, the Progressive Conservative candidate is Art Child, for years goalie of Hamilton Tigers in Ontario Hockey Association competition. He seeks to unseat T. L. Easton, CCF. The third candidate is Russell Reid, Liberal.

FOOD PROBLEM

The world's population, now estimated at 2,377,000,000 people, is increasing at the rate of 500,000 every week.

FOXBORO

Foxboro — A meeting of the C.G.I.T. girls was held in the Sunday school rooms on Tuesday evening.

Hallowe'en was celebrated on Wednesday evening when a number assembled in the Sunday school rooms dressed in various costumes. They were judged, and awarded prizes. Refreshments of sandwiches and cookies were served.

Congratulations were extended to Mr. Richard Yorke who on a recent date celebrated his 91st birthday. Mrs. Fred Prindle of Plainfield spent the day with her mother and uncle.

Rev. W. Merrick, Camilton, was a dinner hour guest on a recent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Reynolds.

Adult films were shown in the Sunday school rooms on Friday evening.

The first heavy snow storm of the season came on Friday evening as a reminder of the coming winter — this causing the trees to present a fairy-like appearance.

Mrs. R. L. Edwards, Cobourg, returned home on Saturday after spending some time with her sister, Mrs. A. Bookis.

Mr. Glenn Priest spent over the weekend at his home in the village.

Mr. Ed. Montgomery attended the anniversaries at Mount Pleasant, Hawdon, on Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Earl McKelvie.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Flemington, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund of Springbrook; Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Woods, Madoc, and Mr. Wallace Fleming and Helen and Mrs. A. Fleming were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bush of Toronto spent the weekend with the latter's mother, Mrs. George Priest and Mrs. Priest.

Mrs. K. Chambers returned home after a pleasant visit with friends at Shannonville.

Several local sports went back north on a deer-hunting expedition.

6TH TYENDINAGA

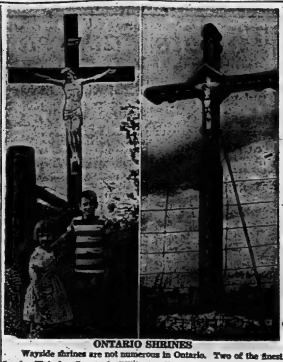
6th Tyendinaga — The first of winter visited over the weekend with cold weather and snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Gibson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harold Skelly and Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Treverton and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Skelly and David, and Mr. and Mrs. Art Wright on Saturday evening.

Miss Bessie Boldrick spent the weekend at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Treverton entertained at a family dinner on Sunday in honor of Rev. W. J. Hyde of Chicago, who baptised Brian Franklin, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Denyes, Mr. and Mrs. Erle Denyes, Belleville, were present for the ceremony.



Mrs. C. Goodman returned home from Northport on Saturday.

KELS CLOG PIPES

Port Talbot, Wales, Nov. 7 — (AP)—Eels from flooded brooks stopped production last night at the huge Abbey Steel Works. The eels clogged pipes supplying water to cooling jets and 250 tons of production were lost before they could be removed.

27,514 U.S. CASUALTIES

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP) — Announced United States battle casualties in Korea reached 27,514 today, an increase of 1,922 since last week.

ONTARIO SHRINES

Wayside shrines are not numerous in Ontario. Two of the finest border Waterloo County in Pilkington Township between Arisa and Maryhill. Left is a shrine about 40 years old on the Art Seltzer farm. It was built in appreciation of prosperity enjoyed by a family named Keleher. The children before it are Jackie Lucas and Barbara Bennett. The other shrine is thought to be at least 150 years old. It stands on the farm of Anthony Drexler, R. R. 2 Arisa. Mr. Drexler says he was told as a child that the shrine was built by three brothers who came to that section of the country when it was virgin territory. The figure of Christ was carved from cedar by Mr. Drexler's father when the original was ripped down by vandals. — (CP Photo.)

Two Turnkeys Of Don Jail Are Dismissed

Toronto, Nov. 8—(CP) — Two turnkeys at Toronto's Don jail were dismissed yesterday and Governor G. Sanderson reprimanded as the Ontario Department of Reforms Institutions continued its investigations into the recent escape of five prisoners.

Dismissed were R. Bennett, who had been employed at the jail for 20 years, and J. Latimer.

Reason for the dismissal of the two guards was that "they had never made hourly inspections as provided for in the regulations."

Reforms Minister Foote said:

"Governor Sanderson has justifiably been given a great deal of credit for improving the conditions at the jail since he took over present duties. But under the circumstances I had no alternative for reprimanding him for laxity in his own duties."

Leonard Jackson, William Jackson and Edwin Boyd escaped from the jail Saturday night when they sawed a bar on a second-storey window, slid down a rope of bedsheets and scaled the outside wall with a second rope of bedsheets.

CARRIED MANY EMIGRANTS

Rotterdam, The Netherlands, Nov. 7 (Reuters) — Holland - America line ships carried 50,000 emigrants from Rotterdam to Canada this year, it was learned today. The line has made 21 emigrant trips across the Atlantic and about 5,000 persons have booked for future trips.

IVANHOE

ST. ANDREW'S W.M.S.

Ivanhoe — The October meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Allen Fleming on Thursday afternoon, in the absence of the president, the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Barton Haggerty.

An interesting talk was given by Mrs. William Shaw, on Phurah, an unsung hero in Deborah's time. He was a servant of Gideon, obedient and courageous and had a large part to play in the deliverance of the Israelites from the Midianites.

The prayer lesson, Psalm 84, was read by Mrs. Harold Thompson. Rev. W. H. V. Walker led in prayer. Plans were made to attend the 65th anniversary of Madoc W.M.S.

Mrs. Milton Shaw sang, "Near to the Heart of God." Miss Bessie Fleming read "A Slave Trader's Story"—John Newton.

A chapter in the study book was taken by Mrs. Arthur Hassall.

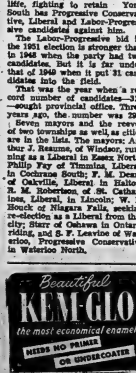
Mrs. W. H. V. Walker read a letter from the press secretary of the Presbyterial.

After the meeting closed refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Gordon Gregg and family spent Saturday in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell of Foxboro were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Shaw.

Messrs. Frank Reid, Hugh MacMillan and William MacMillan will spend the next ten days in North Hastings hunting deer.



Mr. and Mrs. Earl McMaster and family were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Sharpe.

Mrs. Milton Shaw and Wayne were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thrasher and attended anniversary services held at Mt. Pleasant.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

THEY'RE OUT!

Tonight the Belleville Hawks and Peterborough Petes face the barrier for the first heat in the Senior "B" story of Memorial Arena while two rivals—east Algoma play hosts to the 1952 edition, of the Queen's University squad. The Kingston entry no yet unnamed but dubbed by some as the "HACK" nonentity "Social and Athletic Club" of the spacious Nylon Courtney, has drawn a bye on opening night and will not see action until they tangle with the Eagles in Peterborough Wednesday evening when the Hawks entertain the Queen's team here.

Tonight fandom should get a pretty fair idea of what the senior "B" game has in store for them this season, insofar as the Hawks and Petes are concerned. Both squads have been drifting hard for the opener and some outstanding packing should be on tap for the carioca. Playing Coach "Red" Doran will make his debut in a Belleville uniform, while some new faces will be seen out there in the Peterborough ranks. Should be a lulu tilt and no doubt a large crowd of fans will help usher in the senior bracket brand of lacksaz activity.

WHAT ABOUT IT?

What has happened to the junior "B" grouping? That question is being asked by sports scribes throughout the junior circuit but no one seems to be in a position to come up with the answer. This department wired the Ontario Hockey Association for a clarification of the group just Monday after learning that Kingston Vics had been admitted to the chartered circle, but no reply has been received from far. It is about time the group teams were told what is going on, who is "in" and something about a schedule.

BEST OF LUCK!

Champions in their own COSSA district two Belleville football teams rally forth tomorrow afternoon in quest of the mighty Ontario green titles, they are Albert College senior "B" Bay of Quinte champions and the Belleville Collegiate Institute junior "A" titlists which meet the Lakeshore champions in their respective divisions at Alexander Park, Oshawa. The college bunch and the Whitby High School squad at 2:15 p. m., with the junior game between Belleville C. I. and Oshawa C. I. scheduled for 1.30. Winners of the senior contests will meet either Athlone High School or Deseronto High School on a western field Saturday, November 17th. Winners of the junior clash due to the victors of the Orillia C. I. or Stanford C. I. (Niagara Falls) game on one of the latter's fields on the same date, In both cases the COSSA championships will be at stake.

Coaches "Red" Townsend of BCI and "Pete" Beach of Albert College are confident of their teams chances tomorrow afternoon. Both squads are in excellent shape and are said to be the best COSSA group representatives to come out of the city in some time. Albert boasts a rugged line averaging 190 pounds and that's a lot of beef facing any man's squad. The team average is 180.

Townsend's juniors form a powerful aggregation which swept everything before it during a seasonal exhibition schedule. The undefeated youngsters of BCI are expected to come through with a fine performance and victory.

GOLDEN PARADE!

Jargon the popular ditty "Come-on over to Mrs Home" and the title of the novel "For Whom the Bell Tolls" and you've got what probably supersede to the 1953 Home-ditty of the National Football League.

A little while ago the National League tossed open its doors; Commissioner Bert Bell "tolled" George Ratterman two thousand bucks and the New York Yankees' prodigal son rejoined the Gotham "That Old Gang of Mine".

Now the Bell has tolled again. This time another two-thousand and the second of the fatted calfers picked up sticks, kissed Canadian football goodbye and fluttered back to his home acris under the aegis of the Philadelphia Eagles.

He's Neil Armstrong, former Eagle quarterback, who shook the dust of the City of Brotherly Love from his football cleats, hopped a west-going chartabus and joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers. He led the Western Conference with 56 pass catches, 1024 yards gained and 11 touchdowns.

The international gridiron steeplechase is becoming popular. Armstrong, like Ratterman, jumped his sizable contract to play Canadian football. Armstrong admitted at a hearing held at his own request that his contract with the Eagles for two years was "valid and existing".

Then the Bell "tolled". He talked Armstrong for $2,000, told him to be a good boy and he could return to Philadelphia. He slapped his wrist, and murmured, "This fine is for action detrimental to the welfare of the National Football League and of professional football".

It would seem that the professional football rainbow that stretches across the international boundary is the only one extant with a pot o' gold at each end. And smart Yankee players are taking advantage of it. Who's next?

Sport in Brief

(By The Canadian Press)

At Winnipeg, Tom Casey said on his regular sports broadcast last night that Lou Trudeau has signed a contract to coach Winnipeg Blue Bombers again in 1952. Casey, himself a player for Bombers, said club officials will make the announcement within a few days.

At Toronto, Ontario Agricultural College Aggies of Guelph yesterday shut out University of Toronto 13-0 in an intermediate intercollegiate football game, ruining Varsity's chance of playing through the season undefeated.

The W. of T. team has piled up enough games to ensure the intermediate championship and the Aggies gave them their first defeat this year.

At Winnipeg, George Chenier of Toronto successfully defended his Canadian snooker championship yesterday by defeating Lou Levitt of Montreal 4-1. Th'Frenchman's fifth defence of the title since he claimed it 5½ years ago. His four game run in the afternoon session gave him a total of 26 victories in the best-of-31 game match. Levitt won nine during four days' play.

Argonauts, Sasky Roughriders Face Gridiron Elimination; Varsity-Victory Means Title

By JACK SULLIVAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Two championships and a title contender are down for decision this weekend as the Canadian senior football campaign, the most exciting in years, gets down to cases. Only one of the five games has no bearing on flag races.

The Western Canada title is at stake at Regina where the Roughriders, down one game in the best-of-three final series to Edmonton, tackle the Eskimos Saturday night. The Esks, 15-11 winners in the Alberta capital last Saturday, can wrap it up with a victory. A Rider decision would prolong the series to Monday, also at Regina.

In the east, Toronto Balmy Beach takes an eight-point lead to Sarnia for the second game of their two-and-one-home total-point Ontario Rugby Football Union championship series with the All-Canadian champions. The Beaches surprised the experts in the 23-15 victory at Toronto last weekend.

Ti-Cats Favored

At Hamilton, the favored Tiger-Cats are expected to send Toronto Argonauts to the sidelines in the Big Four. Tiger-Cats galloped over the Scarlets 36-7 in the second at Varsity Stadium Wednesday in the first of their home-and-home total points semi-final series and the 17-point margin appears as formidable as Hamilton mountain.

The Intercollegiate Union winds up its schedule with McGill at the University of Toronto and University of Western Ontario Mustangs battle with the wireless Queen's at Kingston. The Redmen-Blues battle is the big one.

A victory for Varsity now with a one point lead over McGill, would give the Blues the title. But a complicated Intercollegiate ruling would send the clubs into a sudden death play-off if the Redmen, riding on a five straight victory skein, take this one.

The regulation calls for the play-off if the second-place club has defeated or tied the team finishing first at the end of the regular season. McGill's only loss was administered by Varsity in the season opener at Montreal.

The clutch games are billed for Regina and Hamilton. Coach Har Smith of the Roughriders, faced with eliminating in the Grey Cup hunt, called tough scrimmages Thursday and today. The Eskimos and Roughies have travelled east for the Grey Cup but neither has been successful.

Ottawa Waiting

Argonauts, who have shown they come up with the big ones, can only hope for a dry field at Hamilton. This would give them a slight chance on their forward passing with quarter Bobby Wiskowski leaning to Al Pfeifer, one of the best combinations in big time football.

But indications point to a shove to the sidelines for the 1950 Dominion champions and a move up for Tiger-Cats for a home-and-home total point Big Four title series against Ottawa Rough Riders next week.

The three clubs ended in a point-tie at the end of the regular schedule a week ago. A draw gave Ottawa the bye.

Bisons, Caps Tie One-All

Indianapolis, Nov. 9 (CP) — Buffalo Bisons and Indianapolis Capitals of American Hockey League each scored a goal a period last night and matched defences in the overtime to finish in a 1-1 deadlock.

Buffalo took a 3-2 lead at 12 minutes of the third period when a 50-foot shot by Les Hickey went into the cage off the stick of Earl Reibel, Indianapolis forward. The Capitals tied the score at 15:02 on a wild shot by Bert Hirschfeld that glanced in off a skate in a hot scrimmage.

Reibel and Calhum Mackay of Buffalo got the first period goals Stan Long of the Bisons and Billy McComb of Indianapolis scored in the second.

Coach "Red" Doran leads his senior Hawks in action tonight in Memorial Arena against the Peterborough Petes in the opening game of the senior 'B' group schedule. Peterborough, ancient hockey enemies of Belleville, that the Hawks will be gunning for victory and the 1953 inaugural between these teams should provide some exciting hockey.

Negro Athletes Treated Well In Vancouver

Vancouver, Nov. 9 — (CP) — Jimmy Cole, a Negro who used to play sandlot baseball here, now is the unofficial agent for all Negro boxers who appear in Vancouver.

"My boys," says Jimmy, "want to stay thanks. Vancouver, you're ing good to us."

In an interview Jimmy added: "A lot of our southern boys arrive here with fears as to how they'll be treated. I meet them, find out their tastes and try to arrange for their entertainment by our people.

"Take Earl Richmond (who fought here recently).

". . . took him among our own people, he went to church, as was received in homes and befell right at home, instead of being left lonely and feeling unwanted.

"His said when he left how well he had been treated by white people . . .

Color Did Not Count

The other night, (promoter) Jack Fox pitched Floyd Marks as his best of the card at the gardens and gave him a watch. All the other boys on the card were white and it meant a lot to us to see that the color of skin did not count.

"We feel human up here. Need I say more?"

At the end of the baseball season here, Vancouver Capilanos Negro catcher John Ritchey as most popular player on their Western International League team.

DROWNED BABY

Eagle Rock, Calif., Nov. 8 (AP) —A few minutes after a young mother screamed that she had killed her baby, police yesterday found the body of four-months old John Lawrence Walton in the bathtub of the family home. Mrs. Arline Fay Walton, 26, came out of the surf at Santa Monica and screamed to him: "I want to kill myself. I just killed my baby."

Taken to a police station, she said she had tried to stab the baby, then had drowned him in the tub.

Middlecof Leads, Golf Tourney, Snead is Out

(By The Canadian Press)

Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., dentist, yesterday came up with his second one-under par 71 to take a one-stroke lead in the halfway mark of the $7,500 North and South Open golf tournament at Pinehurst, N.C.

With single rounds remaining today and Sunday, Middlecoff's 142 was one stroke in front of three rivals — Jimmy Adams, Scottish member of the British Ryder Cup team; the reigning British amateur champion, Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, and Tommy Bolt, Durham, N.C., pro. Chapman's four-under par 70 was the day's best effort over the windswept 7,007 yards of the 72-hole championship course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Sammy Snead, of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the PGA champion who was gunning for his third straight north and South victory, blew himself to a 78 for 150, eight off the pace, and withdrew.

Canadiens Thump Boston 4-2 As Leafs Down Chihawks 3-1

By JACK SULLIVAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Chicago Black Hawks fans who debunked for years the old saw "you gotta produce a winner to get a crowd," are yielding to that popsicle theory since their first heartbreak years. They've decided, since getting season National Hockey League attendance records, that a last-place club can become a title boxing.

Only 4,102 hard-rollers have showed up at Chicago Stadium (capacity 20,000) last night to see Bibbs Goodfellow's last place crew drop a 3-1 decision to Toronto Maple Leafs. It was the amazing turnout at the stadium since the Hawks' get-up N. H. L. franchise 25 years ago.

The other N. H. L. game last night was played in Montreal where the Canadiens climbed to within one point of the third-place Boston Bruins with a 4-2 decision. A count of noses showed 13,771, another crowd of the season at the Forum.

Fruitless of Job

Hawk fans have shown the patience of a Job as their "favorites" floundered around to a new seller. Since the 1946-47 season, they've trailed the pack in the Norris Cup except in the 1948-49 campaign when the Hawks climbed a notch.

And through it all the Chicago fans turned out in fantastic numbers—321,321 in the 1946-47 season, highest in the league. The following year the count was 321,-894, again high-water mark for the six-team circuit and it was the same story in 1948-49 when the figure was 321,604.

Figures weren't compiled, for publication, the last two seasons but unofficial surveys indicated a drop in all N. H. L. cities except Toronto and Montreal.

Start Tub-Thumping

The N. H. L. brass now may get cracking on that publicity campaign they set up a couple of years ago in the Canadian and American public. The publicity board, set up at a meeting in New York, was instructed to "plan and develop a positive, Canadian-wide hockey objectives for a vigorous presentation to the public."

Last night's defeat was the second in five days on Chicago ice. Leafs, who shut out the Hawks 1-0 Wednesday night in Toronto, posted home two goals in three minutes in the second period for the lead on which they coasted home.

At Montreal, the Bruins softened their first loss in seven games. Bert Olmstead, Rom Lowe, Leo Gamble and Paul Meger scored for the Canadiens and Johnny Peirson and Vic Lynn for Boston.

The Bruins gave the Montrealers a scare in the final period with a parade of power plays but Gerry McNeil in the Montreal nets held them out.

Hanover Farm To Resume Harness Racing

Harrisburgh, Nov. 9 (AP) — Hanover Shoe Farm, largest breed stable in the United States, announced it is turning horses to harness racing competition next year. The farm discontinued racing in the late 1920s.

For a starter, Lawrence B. Sheppard, President of the Horse-Breeding Corporation at Hanover, Pa., will enter The Heel and Sollctor, champion three-year olds he acquired at record prices yesterday.

The Hanover Shoe Farm operator also paid $100,000 or Solicitor, while his topped previous high of $72,130 paid by J. J. McIntyre, Nellia, Va. for the yearling Imperial Hanover in 1946.

Sheppard's purchases were made in spirited buying which saw the four-day total Standard-bred Sales soar to a record $1,-481,335.

Tar Heel and Solicitor were purchased for breeding purposes but they will race next year, Sheppard said.

Lawn Bowlers Top Major A League

Lawn Bowlers, Callaghan Ice, and Belleville Golf took five points from City Cleaners, Kinmen and C.N.R. Sunday in the last night's Major A League session at the Bowl-O-Drome. In the other game Schwab's got four points and Moore's Chisel-ers three.

Bowlers lead the second quarter with 11 points, followed by Schwab's 11, Mooring Chisel-ers 8, City Cleaners and Belleville Golf 7 each, Callaghans Ice 5, Kinmen 4 and CNR 2.

Team scores:

Bowlers' Dorlies of Schwab's continued to lead the individual bowlers with 945 (311).

Bouts Between Robinson, Graziano, Turpin, Kid Gavilan Being Mooted

New York, Nov. 8—(AP)—Talk today of a Sugar Ray Robinson-Rocky Graziano middleweight title bout at Chicago, June 30, and another American visit by Britain's Randy Turpin, livened the boxing beat.

Turpin may be matched with Kid Gavilan, the welter champ, in an over-the-weight bout at New York or Detroit next January. At least that's what Al Weill, International Boxing Club matchmaker, has in mind. This would lead up to a third Robinson-Turpin meeting at London next June, providing there were no upsets.

Talks Turkey

Robinson's manager, George Gainford, talked turkey with Jim Norris, IBC president, about the Chicago Stadium match with Graziano, the managers are in agreement on terms—35 per cent to Sugar Ray and 25 per cent to the ex-champ—but a "few kinks" must be ironed out.

A major factor in making the match will be an agreement on a date with the usual Wednesday night television sponsor. It just so happens that Feb. 20 is a Wednesday.

Robinson is set for a charity title defense against Bobo Olson at San Francisco, Dec. 20. It will be his first start since winning back the title from Turpin last September.

Weill revealed plans for another visit by Turpin on his return from Detroit, where he saw Gavilan stop Tony Janiro in the fourth round. Gavilan, a welterweight who doesn't mind mixing with heavier boxers, is willing—even eager—to take on Turpin.

To Tour Japan

In the meantime, Joe Louis was ready to shove off Monday for an exhibition tour of Japan. First stop will be Honolulu to referee a wrestling match, Monday night. In Japan, Louis will fight any Japanese fighters big enough for him or bow army boys.

Louis is due to return to New York, Dec. 10, when he hopes to be more positive about his retirement plans. There is little likelihood that Louis will fight again if first a proposed tax settlement can be reached.

Dandurand Offers Lark Shares To Partners

Montreal, Nov. 9 (CP) — Leo Dandurand said last night he has offered his stock in Alouettes Big Four football club to his two partners, Eric Gadsby and Lew Hyman, and given them until Nov. 26 to make a decision.

Dandurand announced several weeks ago he was resigning as president of the Montreal team and would sell his one-third interest. By agreement he is obliged to offer it to the other two shareholders.

Dandurand said he was not breaking off all relations with the team and had been in discussions on plans for a reorganization for 1953.

Jim Thorpe May Have Cancer

Philadelphia, Nov. 8 (AP) — Jim Thorpe, 63-year-old Indian athlete termed the United States' greatest of the last 50 years, undergoes a delicate operation today for what a hospital spokesman describes as a form of skin cancer.

Thorpe has been appearing at a Philadelphia cafe heading an all-Indian song and dance troupe. He entered hospital several days ago when a sore on his lower lip failed to respond to ordinary treatment.

The former Carlisle Indian Institute football star and 1912 Olympic decathlon winner will undergo several delicate operations calling for plastic surgery, a spokesman said.

West Indian Cricket Team Scares Aussies

Brisbane, Nov. 9 (Reuters) — The best Australian attack seen for years today answered the West Indies' challenge to Australia's claim to world cricket supremacy when the first test match began.

West Indies lost their first five wickets for 85 runs, but unexpected resistance by their tail-enders, especially Captain John Goddard, took the total of 216 before the innings ended. Australia had replied with 18 for no wicket by close of play.

Taking full advantage of the heavy atmosphere and lift from the pitch, pace bowlers Ray Lindwall, Keith Miller and Bill Johnston had West Indies in trouble from the start.

Brilliant fielding, wickets often being hit by throw ins from the boundaries, completed a first-class display of all-round attacking strength by the Australians.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 9—(AP)—The evils of too much money for film producers were exposed today by Gabriel Pascal, noted maker of George Bernard Shaw movies.

Pascal, who made a career of filming Shaw plays, admitted that he is a victim of wealth. He claimed that it shouldn't happen to film producers.

"The producer must be a creator," he declared. "He must work hard and suffer in order to produce a work of art. When he has too much money, he has too many assistants and workers to do things for him. He loses the close contact with his production and the result is bad."

Pascal cited his own example. He rose from obscurity to produce "Pygmalion," the first of Shaw's works to be filmed. The picture was a great success and he went on to make "Major Barbara," also hailed by the critics. But then came "Caesar and Cleopatra."

"It was a bad mistake," he sighed. "I was the victim of too much money. As a result, I got too far from the picture and too far from the public. It became a picture that lacked a basic appeal to the general moviegoer."

Pascal now is engaged in making "Androcles and the Lion," which he says is not as expensive, as it seems. It has a big cast and expensive sets, but he added that it is being shot in 56 days, a short schedule for such an epic.

The producer has the rights to 10 more Shaw plays and has plans to shoot them in the next five years. He plans to start right in with "Devil's Disciple" and follow with "Candida", perhaps with Olivia DeHavilland.

Also on the slate is "The Doctors' Dilemma."

AT THE CAPITOL — Leo Gorcey, Hunts Hall and the Bowery Boys are in town again at Capitol Theatre today and Saturday in "Come Out Fighting." On the same program "The Lion Hunters" with Johnny Sheffield as Bomba the Jungle Boy.

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Saturday, November 10

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—Good day for study, planning. May not be so auspicious for unfamiliar tasks. The day requires patience and sensible action. Hold conferences, check for errors. Rest, relax, too.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Some indifference. Don't force extensive work or business deals unless they are important. Important to present needs. If day is free, enjoy a healthy relaxation, perhaps a good book.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Benefic Mercury rays. Day favors mental work; writings, study, research, planning clever things and advertising. Such aspect demands care in important changes. Fussiness good.

June 22 to July 22—(Cancer)—If duties permit, take things easier; in any event, don't strain and don't worry. Money interests, familiar work are sponsored, can bring benefits if handled sensibly. Enjoy some rest.

July 24 to August 23—(Leo)—Your best positions are more restrictive. The entertainment world, writing, promoting good plays, pictures, etc. highly favored by Jupiter and Mercury influences. Good fun obs erved.

August 23 to September 22—(Virgo)—Sports, authors, actors, producers, all media of good entertainment highly sponsored. Financial gains advanced. Avoid pointless changes in matters now profitable and well managed.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—And you have friendly rays. Professional matters, children's activities, entertainment, recreation—gain generally. Avoid harmful extremes, you can have a pleasant, fruitful day.

October 24 to November 22—(Scorpio) — Benefic on whole though selfish desires are false. Financial gains can be had, indulging in pictures, the theatre, radio, television interests soundly managed. Sports, journalism favored.

November 23 to December 22 —(Sagittarius)—Promising for your worthy goals. Live up to your best; be honorable, thoughtfully acquisitive and you can enjoy the lasting fruits of wise endeavor. Artistry, skill, efficiency count.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn)—Difficult or laborious matters may irritate but patience and good cheer will aid you and them. Activities requiring finesse, artistry are bright spots now, enjoy what they offer.

January 23 to February 20—(Aquarius) — Uranus' configuration stresses steadiness of purpose and no sudden changes that could prove unprofitable. Returns pleasant for necessary matters done well, consistently.

February 21 to March 20—(Pisces) — Your Neptune gives warning against carelessness in shipping, travel by sea or in confidential issues. But day on whole has advantages, will benefit those who go along calmly, rightly.

YOU BORN TODAY can be wisely prudent, conservative, or a spendthrift. Are innately capable, mentally alert. May have to curb sharp temper or retorts, perhaps a dictatorial manner at times. Keep your temper in the face of foes you can achieve high success, gain powerful friends through your intelligence and honorable principles. Do not heed flatterers, those who would impose upon your generosity or sympathy, nor dishonest schemers. Shun the insincere, the untrustworthy. Take precautions against unwise investing, unsound ventures.

Doucett Fractures Hip, Thigh Bone In Car Accident

Odessa, Nov. 8—(CP)—Highways Minister Doucett of Ontario yesterday suffered head injuries and a fractured right hip and thigh-bone when a car he was driving in a political meeting collided with another.

The 56-year-old minister was taken to civic hospital here where he first was reported in semi-conscious condition. Later the hospital said he was conscious, that the head injuries were "minor" and his condition last night was described as "quite fair."

The collision occurred near Carleton Place, about 35 miles west of Ottawa.

Mr. Doucett had left his home in Carleton Place to drive to Finch, Ont., where the accident occurred. He was scheduled to speak at a nomination meeting in Finch on behalf of John McDonald, Progressive Conservative candidate in the recent constituency in the Nov. 21 Ontario election.

RAWDON

Three Hundred Fifty Enjoy Chicken Supper At 80th Anniversary

Rawdon—On Tuesday evening the Mount Pleasant ladies served a hot chicken dinner with all the trimmings to over 300 people in the church hall.

The tables were laden with platters of chicken, cold meat, jellies, sweet apples and scalloped potatoes, creaming, celery and vegetables were served hot. Cheese, celery and pickles completed out the first course with pie and more pie for dessert.

Several guests were in attendance from Belleville, Trenton, Foxboro, Frankford, Campbellford, Madoc, and all the nearby communities were represented. A large number were Oddfellows and had come home for this 80th anniversary supper.

Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Clarke, of Deseronto, were delighted to be in attendance as it is 27 years since Mr. Clarke served Rawdon circuit. He saw many changes in the personnel with only a few of those he knew so well in those days, still going strong.

Filled to Capacity

The church was filled to capacity with those who waited to enjoy the brief program, while dessert of refreshed them after the supper.

At 8:15 Rev. Fred G. Joblin, of Port Perry, led in the singing of a few gospel hymns after which the pastor, Rev. R. B. Bonisteel, presided over a brief program. He also expressed appreciation to all who had in any way helped to make this anniversary dinner a success.

The guest soloist, Mr. Alphonse McCue, of Odessa, who is a personal friend of the pastor's, and who made a very special effort to attend, by being influenced by Mr. John Potter, of Odessa, delighted with his selections.

His second group were "All Day on the Prairie" and "The Blind Plowman", with "The Lord's Prayer", as his closing selection. He was accompanied by Mr. Stanley Hawthorne, of Madoc.

Mr. Hawthorne and Miss Betty McConnell, Mount Pleasant, contributed two piano selections; the Misses Barbara Middleton and Eleanor Thompson, Springbrook, sang two selections, "The Lord is My Shepherd", and "Before the Sun Goes Down".

By special request, Mr. John Coggins, Burnbrae, a former member of Mount Pleasant sang "Whispering Hope".

Mr. Fred G. Joblin pronounced the benediction and the 80th anniversary came to a close, despite all the vagaries of the weather-man who handed out what will probably be the worst storm of 1951.

Don't Count God Out

By ROY L. SMITH

In the midst of one of the blackest days of the war, when the German and Italian armies were hammering at the gates of Alexandria, and the fortunes of the allies were at their lowest, an old man said to a group of people who had voiced his alarm, "Don't count God out yet."

A sober-minded old man who had read much history, said to another young preacher about the same time, "I have just finished reading once again an old classic entitled, 'The Fifteen Decisive Battles of History.' It is a book that ran those like these. Read it with the far look and you will discover that each one of them came out for the good of the race. That means this one will also."

A Remarkable Parallel

Only a few centuries earlier than the Hebrew exodus from Egypt, Assyria had overrun Egypt and compelled the people of the Nile to pay an enormous tribute. Only a few centuries later, the Assyrians did it again. But at the moment Moses was leading the Hebrews across the Red Sea, Assyria was occupied with rebellion and revolt in the northeast and had no time for Egypt. Babylonia was still under the iron heel of the Assyrians. Egypt was picking herself up, rebuilding her strength, and completely occupied with her domestic problems.

The Uniform Sunday School Lesson for November 11: "The People Delivered," Exodus 8:15.

In 1763 the French and Indian wars closed on the North American continent and both England and France turned to their European economies. For a period of half a century they were both so completely absorbed—their forces were so completely engaged—that neither was able to give much more than passing military notice to the New World.

Competent historians, learned in the lore of the ancient East have said that between 1300 and 900 B.C. was the only time in two thousand years when the Hebrews could have made their escape from Egypt, and could have set themselves up as an independent nation. Other historians, equally learned and familiar with the facts of the world of 175 years ago, have said that the 75 year period from 1763 until 1838 was the only time in 300 years in which the American colonies could have really hoped to win their freedom.

It is a little difficult to count God out of that situation.

Destiny and Responsibility

A reverent study of history makes it very plain that when God intervenes to bring into some great cause of destiny, he always does. It some vast responsibility.

The responsibility of the nations of the western hemisphere in this hour of the world's peril is incalculable.

On this hemisphere are the greatest uncoupled areas of the entire planet, sufficient to provide a living for millions of the peoples from the overcrowded continents. In a day when the problem of feeding somewhat more than 2,000,000,000 human beings is giving the scientists nightmares, the western hemisphere cannot be callous.

In Canada and the United States there has gone on for a hundred years the great experiment in blending bloods of anything the earth has ever seen. Both nations have made an amazing success out of the melting pot. In this they have blazed a trail for all the world. Lions and lambs have laid down together and lived in peace.

Stakes Are Tremendous

With great rival nations in possession of the atom bomb, and with the hydrogen bomb on the way, the heavy carnival of the race is at stake. The possibilities are enough to send men mad. But the God who parcelled all that vast power in the atom is still in command. Don't count him out. Find him, know his will, and salvation is still a possibility.

2ND THURLOW

Departing Neighbors Honored by Friends

2nd Thurlow—About 100 friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. W. Gray gathered at their home on Monday night and tendered a surprise party in honor of their departure from the community.

Cards and a social chat was engaged after which Mr. and Mrs. Gray were given seats of honor. Mrs. Arnold Mitchell read an address, reviewing the past 26 years during which time they had lived and labored in the community, expressing regret at their departure from Thurlow and voicing the high esteem in which they are held. They were always ready and willing to give and to assist whenever the need arose.

Mrs. Gray is a past president and a valuable member of the Ladies' Aid, and Mr. Gray brought honor by serving as past councillor, reeve and a warden of Hastings County.

Mrs. Corah Howard, Mrs. Eric Leeming and Mrs. Harry Thomson presented them with a tri-light floor lamp and coffee table. Mr. and Mrs. Gray, expressed sincere appreciation for the beautiful gifts, which they will always cherish and the many fond memories of their many friends on the 2nd Line.

Their son, Mr. W. Gray, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Arnold Halvorg, Mr. Halvorg, and Mrs. M. Crawford, and Mr. Crawford, were among those present.

Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed by all.

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma was eating her grapefruit diet this morning, saying to pop, Will'm, there's a mouse in the kitchen.

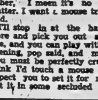
He must be a smart little fellow, pop said. He knew pretty where to find the tastiest food on the block, he said, and ma said, Thanks for the compliment, I'm sure, but I'd rather have a lion in my kitchen than a mouse.

Now my dear, you must learn to be satisfied, pop said. If you called up the zoo and asked them to exchange a loin for a mouse, they'd just laff at you, he said, and ma said, No they wouldn't either, I mean it's no laffing matter. I want a mouse trap, she said.

I'll stop in at the hardware store and pick you out a pritty one, and you can play with it all evening, pop said, and ma said, You must be perfectly crazy to think I'd touch a mouse trap, I expect you to set it for me and put it in some secluded corner out of harm's way, she said.

Very well, my dear, I'll bring home a pound of cheese and attend to everything, pop said, and ma said, All rite, but please wait till I'm all through in the kitchin for last sakes, in fact you'd better not start till I'm safe in bed, she said.

Why dont you take a little trip and visit your sister Fanny till I telegraf you that the mouse has been cawt? pop said, and ma said, You may think that's funny, but I'ry heard worse ideas than that.



Now my dear, keep a stiff upper lip, pop said. Remember your ancesters were pioneers and sioux Indians. Would you prefer it to be any special color? he said.

Meaning the mouse trap, and ma said, William, I dont want to hear another word about it till the whole ordeal is over.

The result being I'm waiting to see what happens.

The Outsiders

By Jane Abbott

"If that's done, come up to the place with me. We'll have some food—or you've eaten, yet, you, which me eat." When John hesitated, he added, "I need some one to talk to, right now. I've just finished burying old Blake's dog. Not a happy job—I loved Major."

John got out of the car, walked with Chris in silence further into the Hotch and up the road that led to Chris' camp.

"Make yourself comfortable," cigarette, and then sit down by the table. I'll make us some coffee." Chris went on the small kitchen in the lean-to. From there he called, "a couple of books that've just come there on the table. Look 'em over."

John sank down into a chair by the table but he did not pick up the books. He lighted a cigarette, drew on it deeply, feeling the tension in him slowly ease.

Almost always when he was here he experienced this quieting of his nerves. Why was it? He looked over the room. Its barenness? But, it wasn't bare. There were hooks to the ceiling on the walls, a table, a stone fireplace. "It's bare of everything but essentials," he thought then. No trimmings, no curtains, no rugs on the floor, which Chris kept scrubbed white with a broom. No ...ish.

There was only one picture on the walls and that hung against the pine boarding over the stone mantel. It was a faded coloured print of Christ and the fishermen. John had considered it a rather odd choice of subject for a rough place such as Chris had made for himself but he never had spoken of it.

No more odd, though, than the work Chris put into getting things to grow out there in the clearing. As if it were imported, somehow. He'd succeeded, too, last summer, vegetables and flowers, and now through the window John could see the ground turned and ready for the coming summer's crop.

He had got in the way of coming up to the camp now and then, and Chris sometimes, but not so frequently, stopped in at his house, but their talks were always impersonal. It was much as if a "Stop" sign stood posted in the way of their acquaintance. There were times when John wished it were not so, that they could come closer, those times when he felt desperately in need of a man friend, but with so much shut up in himself he respected the other's right to have it so.

Chris came in with steaming coffee and a plate of bread and cheese. "Here we are!"

John, taking a thick slice of bread and covering it with cheese found himself suddenly hungry. Chris, also, ate with an appetite. Neither said anything, giving their attention wholly to the business of eating.

Then John put his empty cup down on the table. "You got died, eh? I heard Snead say to someone that the animal was starving himself off."

"Yes. All these weeks— over two months, in fact. I stood him to take some food last night but apparently it was too late to save him. Anyway, it was his choice." Chris took a cigarette, pushed the box toward John. He struck a match, watched the flame curl up. "I wonder how many humans, choosing that way out, would really stick it to the finish as thoroughly as Major did. Not many I think. Something holds them back."

Red swept up into John Streeter's thin face, remembering where his thoughts had strayed that moment Chris came up to the car. "What holds them back?" His voice came roughly.

Chris got up out of his chair crossed to the fireplace to turn a log that was still smouldering. He nodded down at it. "Ever see anything like the way this apple wood holds a fire? Then, "it may be some saving sense of an integrity a man owes to himself." He spoke a little diffidently. He still stood before the hearth and he kept his eyes on the slowly kindling log. "Every man's born to it. And I've figured it's a human instinct to live up to it. Not so well, perhaps, in a good many cases, but the instinct is there. Say, to keep one's self-respect, to fight to keep it. . ."

"Sounds like the preaching a chaplain dished out to us sometimes in Italy!" He tried to laugh as he said this, but it falled him and he finished, all his wretchedness of spirit heard in his voice "God knows, a sermon wouldn't hurt me, right now! But how'd you know?"

Chris came back to the chair across the table from John. "I guessed you were pretty low, streeter. I read it on your face, when I came in the car. I had to say something — you can't see a man looking as broken as you looked and not say something— but I didn't intend it to be preaching. Habit, perhaps. You see, until a few years ago, I was an ordained minister."

John stared at Chris, diverted from his own troubles by his astonishment. "I never in a thousand years would have associated you with the ministry! Were you fired?"

"I resigned my church."

The 'ding' sign was down. John asked, without any hesitation, "whatever for? After you'd got one?"

"I found I was putting more importance on the soul of Mrs. Stuyvesant Frotheringham, we'll call her, than on Hannah McGarvey's, the woman who scrubbed the Sunday school room floor. That it was practical to see it so."

John considered that a moment. "I get you—the money in it?"

"Put in plain terms, yes."

"I suppose churches have to have money. But don't they have cake sales, things like that? I've heard my mother and sisters talk about 'em."

Chris laughed. "You do know something about it! But cakes don't build new and bigger and more marbled churches. And there's a certain prestige in a congregation made up of pew fillers with Mrs. Stuyvesant Frotheringhams. It brings others of the same feathered flock."

"Not so democratic, though," observed John.

"Or what Jesus had in mind when he sent His disciples afield," added Chris gravely. He took up a cigarette, but he held it in his hand without lighting it. "Don't think I rebelled at it from the beginning!" He frowned down at his cigarette as it it were something in his mind not pleasant to see. "I had a small church in one of those suburbs where everyone is pretty secure so far as money goes. I preached the kind of sermons they liked, that appealed to their intelligence. I worked up quite a reputation as an after-dinner speaker. I had it all the words and the right delivery." He paused and John thought he was not going to say more. But he did, still frowning. "I even became engaged to a girl whose father was very wealthy and easily persuaded to give charges of it away."

Chris struck a match, then, and lighted it to the neglected cigarette. "Bet you didn't marry her!"

"No. It was Milner's decision in the end. We didn't agree — well, on a great many things. I can see you might give up the girl, but why the church?"

"I had to go back to the beginning. In myself. I had to be sure of myself. And honesty with one's self isn't so easy to learn or to practise." He pushed the cigarette from him toward John. "Light up."

John shook his head, got up from the chair. "I'd better be going along. Thanks for the food." He was thinking Chris was for more than the food. Half-way to the door he stopped. "Marilyn's planning some sort of a party for the Forrestal girl — you'll know her, I hope you won't turn her down."

He saw some reluctance come into Chris' expression, and thought he was going to say, even before he heard from Marilyn, that he would not come. But Chris said, smiling, "I won't turn down."

John started to say "thanks" again but checked it. But he did hold out his hand and Chris clasped it warmly without any further word.

John did not want to go back to Marilyn, not yet. He was conscious of a quiet in him that he had not felt for a long time, and he dared not risk losing it.

He turned the car into the road that wound up over Spruce Hill. He would call on Mrs. Larkin. His mind was having the fifteen-year-old followed him to the door. "There isn't any money, Doctor." Her face was red with embarrassment.

"I don't want any money." John pulled a bill out of his own pocket. "Take this." He felt his own face reddening.

The girl drew back. "No. Gram wouldn't like it."

He put the bill down on a table. "She needn't know. You'll have plenty of ways to use it."

The girl nodded her head at that, her lips shaping a mute thank you.

As he got back into the car, he realized that his impulse of generosity had emptied his pockets.

"Marilyn'll make a big row over it." But now, at the thought he felt some resistance rising up in him, instead of the old weary dread. Hang on to your self-respect, Cameron had as good as told him. Every row with Marilyn had eaten into it, until there wasn't much left to hang on to.

At the top of the long grade down the hill, John shifted the gear into low. With the engine controlling the brakes, he could rest his whole thought on this dead-end he and Marilyn had come to. Chris had said he'd gone back to the beginning but he and Marilyn couldn't. What they had at Five Island was all washed up. But it might be possible to find some sort of peace between them, if money'd—if it were.

If there were any jobs around New Ederval. "I'd do anything" John said aloud, grimly. Then he drew up straight. The mill. Pete Snead had said, a few days ago that they were short of men, because some of the younger ones hadn't come back, after they got out of service.

At once it was as settled in his mind as if he had been thinking of it for weeks. He shifted the gear back to high, accelerated the speed of the car, unmindful of the hill, eager to tell Marilyn.

He found her on her knees, scrubbing the spindles of the porch railings. She gave him a slow, slightly propitiating smile. "I thought I'd get this done," she said.

Canadians Offer 'Rugged' Defence In Korean Battles

Communist Assaults Become More Vigorous

By BILL ROSS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

West Sector, Korea, Nov. 10 — (CP) — The Eighth Army today let correspondents tell a story that has been piling up for days — the rugged defence of Canadian and other Commonwealth units, night after night, against furious communist assaults.

The assaults had more punch than any since last spring.

The reds lashed unavailingly against Canadian positions early in their latest campaign but found them impossible to take or too costly to keep.

A solid week of attacks on the Commonwealth front — west of the Imjin River line in the area west of Majon — left it largely unchanged, except that a long salient on dominating ground was captured from the King's Own Scottish Borderers.

Western correspondent John Ulin said the Borderers suffered heavy casualties from Chinese shell fire last Sunday. However, a United Nations officer called "fantastic and untrue" Peiping red radio reports that two Border companies were annihilated, with 450 killed or wounded and 35 taken prisoners.

Fabrication Delayed

Part of the story of Canadian participation in the week's operations was reported earlier, but delayed censorship today permitted publication in more detail.

Two main attacks were made on the Canadians — one on the Royal Canadian Regiment the night of Nov. 2; and one on elements of the 1st and 2nd battalions of the Princess Patricia the night of Nov. 4.

But the reds found the main Canadian line inexpugnable. Not only is it thoroughly wired, mined and bomb-layered, but it is manned by troops eager to have the communists come in on them.

And it has a unique fleet of tanks of the Lord Strathcona's Horse are sitting out on spurs

Soviet Police Rushed to Quell Major Riots

Tehran, Iran, Nov. 10 (AP) — The newspaper Farman reported today that Soviet police and troops were rushed to Ghara, the capital of Russia's Kazakh Republic 16 to quell rioting and demonstrations. The report continued for two days before it was published, the newspaper said.

The anti-communist Tehran newspaper frequently publishes sensational stories. There was no official confirmation of the report.

The newspaper said that although the Alma Ata uprising was crushed there were similar demonstrations last night in neighboring Soviet Republics. Farman gave no further details.

The Kazakh Republic is one of four republics in Red Kreschi's much worry. Pravda and Izvestia have been centring heavy fire on it, the Liberal Manchester and White Russia, demanding strict punishment for any who violate the 1946 code of laws covering collective farms.

The peasants are being accused of "pilfering" cattle on a large scale, depriving the state of raw materials for light industry and for the food industry.

DOUCETT'S HURTS SERIOUS

Ottawa, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Highway Minister Doucett of Ontario, seriously injured in an automobile collision, will be laid up for several months, Ottawa Hospital authorities said yesterday. The 54-year-old Conservative cabinet minister is suffering from a fractured right leg and head cuts. The hospital said his condition is satisfactory, though he still is suffering a great deal of pain.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Nov. 10 (CP) Synopsis: There is much change in the weather picture for Southern Ontario over the weekend with all regions expected to continue to have fine weather and many reasonable temperatures. Northern Ontario remains overcast with occasional snow or drizzle reported north of Lake Superior and Georgian Bay. However, clear clearing from the west is expected in most of these regions Sunday.

Russia Suffers Sharp Defeat In U.N. Session

Paris, Nov. 10—(AP)—Russia suffered a sharp defeat today in its campaign to send red China in the United Nations. The 14-nation steering committee reversed, 11 to 3, to put the question on the agenda of the general assembly. One Latin abstained.

Observers do not expect the Soviet Union to give up, however, without a final fight on the floor of the assembly itself to have the question reinstated on the agenda as an amendment to the steering committee's report.

The committee was voting on a resolution submitted by Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand calling for rejection of Russia's demand that the assembly consider the question of Chinese representation.

U. S. delegate Warren R. Austin said the Soviet move "is a proposal which has been considered and rejected nearly 20 times."

Russia's Jacob A. Malik immediately took the floor to demand that the committee agree to include the item. Referring to Austin's statement that the proposal had already been defeated in various U. N. organs, Malik said "then almost a crime was committed against the great Chinese people."

Russia and Poland cast negative votes on the proposal, with Yugoslavia abstaining. Thailand joined the United States, Canada, Dominican Republic, France, Iraq, China, Thailand, Mexico and Chile in the yes vot.

Fresh Storms Sweeping Italy

Milan, Italy, Nov. 10 — (Reuters) — Fresh storms today swept over central Italy, where at least 24 persons have been killed and thousands of dollars of damage caused by floods and wind in the last three days.

At the same time emergency relief supplies were being flown from Rome to southern Italy, Sicily and Sardinia, devastated 10 days ago, with 110 persons killed.

In practically the whole of northern Italy men were desperately trying to keep the swollen rivers.

In Milan thousands of workers waded or rowed boats to work. Hundreds of buildings were flooded.

Roads and railroads were cut in dozens of points by landslides.

Bodies were still being dug out of the mud at the village of Tavernerio, near Como, where rain and debris killed 18 persons.

Iranian Premier May be Replaced If He Returns Empty-Handed

Tehran, Iran, Nov. 10 — (Reuter) — Big speculation grew in Tehran today that Mohammed Mossadegh might be replaced as prime minister if he returned empty-handed from his oil mission in Washington.

(It was announced in Washington yesterday that Mossadegh has extended his stay until the end of next week. Some observers felt he was staying on to make a last determined bid for American backing in the oil-nationalization dispute with Britain.)

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi has sent Mossadegh a message wishing him success, but expressing the hope that he would return soon.

Three former prime ministers are being mentioned as possible successors to Mossadegh.

Ghavam es Saltaneh, who was once accused of "collaboration" with Russia, had an audience this week with the Shah. He is believed to have the support of several deputies and senators.

Another is Seid Zia ed Din, said to be supported by some members of the senate and a strong lower-house faction. But he has only a relatively small base because of his pro-British pronouncements.

The third is Hussein Ala Khan, the present minister of court and ambassador designate to Washington. He has a reputation of great integrity but observers said the political forces behind him do not consider him the strong man "so badly needed" to control Iran.

Acting-Premier Baqir Kazemi announced today that Tehran University students will be prevented by the government from taking part in any political activity in the future.

The authorities closed the university a week ago after a clash there between communist and anti-communist students.

CHURCHILL MAKES BROAD HINT FOR FURTHER AID

Says U.S. Should Give Britain Consideration

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill broadly suggested last night that the United States give the "fullest consideration" to Britain's need for financial help for her rearmament program and her sagging economy.

"I feel sure this will not be denied us," Churchill said, speaking at the annual dinner given by the Lord Mayor of London.

As the wartime leader's suggestion was heard, the pound sterling fell against the U.S. dollar in free trading on the London exchanges.

Churchill based his belief that Britain will get American consideration on the fact that his country has provided the principal forward U.S. atomic base.

"It must not be forgotten," he said, "that under the late (Labor) government we took peculiar risks in making this principal atomic base for the U.S. in East Anglia, and that in consequence we placed ourselves in the very forefront of Soviet vengeance."

Have Every Right

"We have, therefore, every need and every right to seek and receive the fullest consideration from Americans for our point of view, and I feel this will not be denied us."

Churchill's reference to Britain as the principal U.S. atomic base pertained to the 20,000 American men at air bases spread all over the country. But no British or American official would say whether any atomic bombs actually are stored in England.

On the plains of eastern England, there are huge U.S. bomber bases, and further inland four more are nearing completion. These bases will be capable of handli g the huge A-bomb-carrying B-36 bombers.

Churchill said he wants to see Britain "play her full part" in this anti-communist struggle. He said the country first must regain its financial strength.

The treasury official said the request for aid will be made to financial authorities in charge of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. They will be for more ary rather than military goods and equipment, and the official said Britain's needs would be met fully in the new $4,800,000,000 mutual defence program authorized for Europe by the U. S. congress.

The request will be a reversal of the Labor government's policy which, after suspending payments in January, decided to carry out its $13,000,000,000 arms drive without American aid.

Turning to the international situation, Churchill voiced his fear last night that, although neither Russia nor the west wants war, "we are drifting, drifting or drag each other to their common ruin" in a third world war.

CHICAGO CHOSEN

Chicago, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Republican and Democratic parties chose Chicago's 23,000-seat International Amphitheatre for their 1952 national political conventions because of its television facilities.

Thomson Flays Ontario Policy On Homes for Old Folk, Promises to Hoist Pensions

(By The Canadian Press)

Walter Thomson, Ontario Liberal leader, last night attacked the Ontario government's policy on homes for the aged as "callous, heartless and penny-pinching."

In a Nov. 22 Ontario general election campaign address in St. Catharines in support of Mayor Richard Robertson of St. Catharines, Liberal candidate for Welland, he accused the government of committing elderly persons to mental hospitals because they are destitute and have no place to live but are not mentally ill.

He said the Liberals, if elected, will replace the homes for the aged system and raise pensions by $10 a month.

The administration had undertaken a $21-million-dollar project of building homes for the aged across the province. It tried to give the public the impression that it was generously providing "palatial country homes" for pensioners.

Callous Policy

"But it does not tell the public that it is collecting from every pensioner almost the entire pension cheque, of which 75 per cent is paid by the Dominion. Can anything be more heartless than this callous, penny-pinching policy of a government which has every year declared a multi-million-dollar surplus?"

Premier Frost spoke in the steel-producing city of Sault Ste. Marie in Northern Ontario. E. B. Jolliffe, Liberal MP for Grey-Simcoe, is a swing through an industrial section of the Niagara peninsula, addressed campaign rallies in Niagara Falls and Welland.

The Premier replied in an accusation by Mr. Thomson Thursday night that the government passed up $30,000,000 in federal funds available for health purposes. Mr. Frost said the funds were provided specifically for the improvement of certain health standards. Ontario, which already has the highest standards in the country, had less across them than many other provinces.

Mr. Frost said he is convinced that the greatest potential iron ore development in all Canada lies in the rugged Algoma district of northern Ontario. He said the potential of the iron and steel industry in the Sault Ste. Marie area is "enormous" and that his government is doing everything possible to help it develop.

Jolliffe Lashes Queen's Park

Mr. Jolliffe, in his Niagara Falls speech, blamed a shortage of doctors and nurses in Ontario on "mismanagement" by the government. Because the government kept subsidy payments low, nurses in training had to work long hours at "slave wages" and few girls were attracted to the nursing profession. Doctors were scarce because few young men could afford medical training, he said.

At Welland, he called the government's policy on "Canadianization" of industry "refusing to supplement old-age pensions to keep pace with increases in living costs. If elected, the C.C.F. would increase pensions, Workmen's Compensation and Mothers' Allowances.

Mr. Jolliffe, still in the north, today carries his campaign to Espanola and Sudbury. Mr. Jolliffe speaks in Owen Sound and Mr. Thomson has scheduled addresses in Exeter and Dunnville.

FALSE INFORMATION

Liverpool, Nov. 10 (Reuters)—Industrialist F. C. Hooper said Thursday it is "false, misleading and impertinent" to tell British industry that the way to get back on its feet is to copy American methods. Hooper, chairman of Schweppes Mineral Water Manufacturers, described the stream of British productivity teams which had studied American methods as "an egg-sucking course for grandmothers."

LOW THANKS RADIO STATIONS

Ottawa, Nov. 10. (CP)—Solon Low, Social Credit Leader, told the Commons yesterday that parliamentarians owe a "debt of gratitude" to the Canadian Association of Broadcasters for making free time available for broadcasts over their private stations.

HOUSE SETS UP MACHINERY FOR NEW CBC DEAL

Annual $2.50 Radio Licence Fee to Stay

Ottawa, Nov. 10 (CP) — Parliament today set up the machinery to consider a new deal for the CBC, but with one foregone conclusion — the annual $2.50 radio licence fee will stay.

Opposition parties in the Commons suggested abolition of the fee, along with plans for a special television licence fee when TV comes to Canada next spring. They also urged that control of Canadian radio should be taken from the hands of the CBC board of governors and placed with an independent body.

Revenue Minister McCann, who appears to be parliament for the CBC, said he is not in favor of elimination at this time of the radio fee which yields $6,000,000 a year. As the inquiry committee body, he noted that the Massey Royal Commission on arts, letters and sciences had recommended against it as well as against private radio stations establishing their own networks.

He said these latter matters could be taken up by a special committee to study changes in the CBC charter proposed by the government. The committee was approved at the end of more than four hours of debate on Canadian radio, all the time available at parliament's short fall sitting.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader said he didn't go for "ringing commercials" but generally the CBC did a good job. He favored the broadening changes proposed by the government, but thought the $2.50 licence fee ought be suspended.

The bill setting out the changes, including an annual $8,250,000 Maple Leaf Gardens dividend for the next five years, was introduced and given first reading. It will go to the committee along with sections of the Massey Commission report on the CBC and radio.

Some of the changes will embody the CBC's control over private broadcasting. For instance, a private station can appeal from decision of its licence to the Exchequer Court of Canada and it must be given a hearing before such suspension can take place.

Increase Board to 11

Under the legislation the CBC board of governors will be increased from nine to 11 members. Mr. Canada indicated this was to give further representation to the west and to the new province of Newfoundland.

All three opposition parties urged elimination of the $2.50 licence fee, established years ago to finance CBC television.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said now that a departure has been made from this policy and CBC financing to be done out of revenue, the government should go back to the old and eliminate the fee.

Mr. McCann said if it didn't come from radio, it would come from somewhere else. And though there were difficulties of collection, he did not think it should be abolished at this time.

Royal Couple Sail to Sydney, N.S., As Tour Draws Near to Conclusion

Sydney, N.S., Nov. 10 (CP) — Under rainy skies and a stiff gale-force wind whipping the harbor, the cruiser Ontario brought Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to this Cape Breton industrial centre today.

The ship and its accompanying destroyer, the Micmac, steamed the 320 miles across the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where the royal couple had a warm welcome yesterday.

Later today they sail for Newfoundland on the complete final 2,000-mile North American tour.

The couple stood on deck down the harbor to accompaniment of whistles from ships and industrial plants. Their decks were lined with crew members in the dress ship ceremonial, and the Ontario's band played as the guard of honor lined the quarterdeck.

Just as the Ontario was warped into her berth a bugle call sent the flags and pennants breaking in a long line over the masts from stem to stern.

The royal couple boarded the ship an hour late last night and were met right by the admiral and captain's quarters which had been made available. The delay gave Capt. Ernest P. Tisdall more time to make the long run and the rendezvous with the destroyer escort, so he stepped her up to 27 knots and made it right on the nose.

The ship had a smooth passage. However, when she struck the Gulf of Atlantic she rolled a bit.

The roll and an intake valve trouble caused the shut down the quantity of bunker oil over the forward starboard part of the ship. Working parties spent the rest of the night cleaning up the mess.

Cabins allotted to the royal couple were in much their usual state.

The only concession made to Princess Elizabeth was that she ship's company on the quarterdeck was equipped with sneakers instead of the ordinary noisy sea boots.

Big Three, Turkey Setting Up Middle East Command

Some Arab States Unwilling To Join Allied Defence Setup

Paris, Nov. 10 (AP)— The Big Three and Turkey joined in a four-power declaration today that they would set up an allied Middle east command, despite Arab objections.

The statement said the U.S., Britain, France and Turkey had decided to go ahead with the Middle East allied defence organization because the Middle East is vital to the free world and its defence against outside aggression can be secured only by co-operation of all interested states."

Some Arab states have said they are unwilling to join any allied defence setup in the Middle East, and have insisted that the Arab bloc of states themselves could provide adequate defences for that area against possible communist aggression.

Seven delegations from Arab states to the United Nations General assembly called a closed meeting today to consider the defence role of the Middle East.

Centre of Effort

The four-power declaration said the Middle East command is "intended to be the centre of co-operative efforts for defence of the area as a whole. Achievement of peace and security in this area through the command will bring with it social and economic advancement."

The four powers added that one of the Middle East commander's would be to assist and support "the states willing to join in the defence of the Middle East and to develop the capability of each to play its proper role in the defence of the area as a whole against outside aggression."

"It will not,' added the statement "interfere in problems and disputes arising within the area."

The part of the statement was construed to be a reassurance to Egypt that the Middle East command would play no part in Egypt's current fuss with Britain. Some of the four-power statement signers, over the Suez Canal and its defence by Egypt of the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian treaty two weeks ago.

Safety Record Made by Workers Of Steel Company

Hamilton, Nov. 10 (CP)—An outstanding record of safety in heavy industry was established by employees at Hamilton Works of the Steel Company of Canada, the organization's safety director said today.

None of the 341 workers employed in the department was injured seriously enough to miss a shift during a 535-day period.

General Manager Garment Union Is Dismissed

Toronto, Nov. 10—(CP)—Samuel Lapedes, general manager of the 1,200-member local of the United Garment Workers Union (A. F. of L.), was dismissed today. The office and records of the union were seized under a sheriff's order taken out by order of the union's international headquarters.

Louis Isaacs and Company, chartered accountants, has been called in by the union to audit the books. Mr. Isaacs said two other members of the office staff, both women, were also dismissed.

The order gave "subversive activities" as the reason for the actions, Mr. Isaacs said.

Mrs A. Ross of Edmonton, an international representative of the garment workers union, has been placed in charge of the office. Lapedes ousted from the district Trades and Labor Council last year for alleged communist sympathies.

Mother Names Daughter as Other Woman in Triangle

Los Angeles, Nov. 10—(AP)—Shaking with emotion, mother and daughter met in court yesterday for a hearing occasioned by the mother naming her daughter the "other woman" in a marital tangle.

Helen I. Cosgrove, 39, petitioned for the guardianship of three-year-old Vicki Diane, who she said was fathered by her husband, Albert, and born to her daughter, Joan Lee Ervin, 19. Miss Ervin is Mrs. Cosgrove's daughter by a previous marriage.

Mrs. Cosgrove testified that early in 1948 she learned that her daughter, then 16, was pregnant. Her efforts to learn the father's identity were futile.

She decided to pass the child off as her own.

But last Juzie, she said, she learned her daughter was pregnant again. This time, Mrs. Cosgrove said, her daughter confessed that both babies were Cosgrove's.

Mrs. Cosgrove seeks guardianship on grounds that her only natural parents are not fit to rear her.

When the hearing was adjourned until Tuesday, Vicki Diane was sitting on Mrs. Cosgrove's lap. As the two left the room, the little girl held out her arms and enriekcd:

"There goes my sister Joan!"

Forecast Ontario Hydro Revenue Will Top $100,000,000

Toronto, Nov. 10 (CP) — Ontario Hydro revenue will top $100,000,000 for the first time in 1951, Chairman Robert H. Saunders said today.

Mr. Saunders told the annual meeting of the commission that revenue for the year ending Dec. 31 will be about $110,000,000.

Expenditures will be about $100,000,000, leaving a net profit of $10,000,000.

Mr. Saunders said the commission's capital expenditures for the year will be about $150,000,000.

Hydro's total assets will be about $1,000,000,000 by the end of the year.

Mr. Saunders said the commission's power resources are adequate to meet the province's needs for the next two years.

He said the commission has been forced to curtail its program of rural electrification because of the shortage of copper.

Hydro has 1,000,000 customers.

Ill Luck Dogs Hunting Trip Until Last Day

Hunting trip that was dogged by ill luck and which went deerless until the last day of the hunt ended rather disastrously Friday afternoon, by a party from Prince Edward county men, when two of the hunters on their way home struck a deer with their truck, in heavy metal pole hoist protruding from the back of the truck shearing through the right side of the auto injured Mr. Parks who was sitting opposite the driver.

Earlier in the week George Beaumont, a brother of Charles, became lost in the woods only to found after 24 hours following a combined air and ground search.

And, the hunters slept deer-less until their last day in camp. Then George Beaumont averted a shutout when he shot a doe only a few yards from the camp.

Large Offering Of Fowl Seen On Local Market

Egg prices remained steady on the local produce market Saturday. Grade "A" sold at 26 cents mediums, 24 cents and 25 cents for pullets with extra large selling at from 70 to 75 cents per dozen.

There was a large offering of fowl with capons selling up to 65 cents per pound. Hens sold generally at 20 to 22 cents, while spring chicken brought from 25 to 40 cents per pound. A few ducks were offered at 45 cents a pound.

On the outside market there was a heavy offering of apples. Spies ranged from $2 to $3 per hamper; Sweets $2; with basket lots of McIntosh and Sweets bringing 50 cents. Greenings were 40 cents; Delicious $2.50 per hamper; Snows up to $1.50 and Wolfe Rivers $1 per hamper.

The price of potatoes is gradually on the incline with farmers quoting from $3.25 to $3.50 per bag and 75 cents per peck. Onions were 15 cents a quart and winter vegetables such as carrots and beets 25 cents the half peck.

Young pigs were plentiful at from $10 to $11.50 each.

Police Looking For Two Youths Who Left Car

Provincial police are looking for two youths who this morning abandoned their car on No. 14 highway west of Foxboro, after they had overturned it in the ditch.

A passing commercial traveller reported the matter to the police and gave a description of the two lads as given to him by a farmer's wife. The license number of the car driven by the two boys was that of a 1931 model auto reported stolen in Toronto. The car was badly damaged when it overturned in the ditch.

Wild Duck Was Banded in 1948

That banded wild duck shot near Massassaga Point a couple of weeks ago by Jack Callaghan, hailed from Georgetown, South Carolina, according to the Fish and Wildlife Service of the United States Department of the Interior.

Mr. Callaghan received word to this effect the other day. The letter follows: "Band No. 2 Lesser Scaup, banded at Georgetown, South Carolina, 1948.

The communication revealed that wild birds banded in North America have been recovered as far away as Argentina, Siberia, Africa, Greenland, France and the Islands of New Zealand in the southwest Pacific.

From recovery reports, ages of birds are being ascertained. A few examples are black duck, 22 years; ring-billed gull, 19; purple martin, 14; chimney swift, 13 and chickadees, nine years.

Talk on Public Health Given H-S Assoc.

The November meeting of the Prince of Wales Home and School Association was held in the school auditorium on Tuesday last. The president, Mrs. Jack Clark, presided during the business session. It was decided to hold monthly whist drives during the winter months. Mr. Austin Gallagher was elected chairman of the euchre committee. Mrs. Hinch, convener of the membership committee, reported 13 new members bringing total membership to 60.

A rummage sale, skate exchange and home cooking sale will be held in the school auditorium.

Mr. J. Durant, chairman of the program committee, introduced Dr. Brevik, speaker, for the evening. Dr. Brevik is M.O.H. for the city.

He spoke on his work in public health, stressing particularly the work in primary and secondary schools. The chief work of the public health officer is prevention. This is accomplished through the isolation of tubercular suspects. Inoculation of children, control of communicable diseases, testing of drinking water and inspection of sanitation.

One of the chief points stressed by Dr. Brevik is the instructing of mothers in the care and health of new-born babies.

In closing Dr. Brevik stated that the success or failure of a project of this type depended on the full co-operation of the local doctors and this he was glad to say was excellent.

Mr. James McBride thanked the speaker for his timely remarks.

The evening's program was highlighted by the songs of a groups of children from the school under the direction of Mr. Colclough and accompanied by Mrs. Bird. The songs included, "Tell Me Pretty Violet", and "The Sandman".

The program was concluded with games and refreshments.

Oh, It's Lovely To Be a Deer Hunter When the Woods Are Full of Snow

So you want to go deer hunting!

You think it would be a fine holiday trudging through frosty woods on sunny November days, stalking following deer tracks, or sitting comfortably beneath a large tree until a handsome buck trots down the runway and poses for a shot at fifty yards range.

Then, when you warm cosy cabin with your kill over your shoulder, supper of venison steak, fried potatoes etc. Then a pleasant evening at cards with a roaring fire crackling in the pot-bellied stove.

Ah, the joys of hunting. A man's life. What a story to tell the pantywaists back at the office.

Who wouldn't want to go hunting!

Now get the other side of the picture, the experience of two city residents, Herbert McCabe and Jack Lee.

Full of Expectation

Last Sunday they hied themselves away to the Chalk River district, some 100 miles north of Ottawa, 13 miles west of Petawawa Military Camp. They were hunting "in the raw." No fancy-Dan stuff about this. This is the real McCoy, where they've become seek the elusive buck.

They with a number of hunters from other parts of the country checked in at the Chalk River Hotel. It was a bitterly cold night with a threat of winter in cloudy skies and freezing winds.

Came Monday morning. A white blanket covered the district, some three inches of snow had fallen during the night. But intrepid nimrods shivering at five o'clock breakfast sallied forth into the white wilderness. Nary a buck nor a doe did they see.

They hunted nearly all day.

Back to the hotel to await better weather. At the crack o' dawn Tuesday they were up and ready to go. Outside the thermometer registered around the zero mark. Everything was frozen. Cars were bogged down under an icy crust covering a foot of snow.

Back to the hotel after wandering over the frozen "lovely" in the landscapes Chalk River "Better tomorrow" the guides said.

Peek out the window at Wednesday dawn brought gasps of astonishment from the hunters. During the night there had fallen inches of snow had fallen. Parked cars were mere humps on a mass of snow. Roads were blocked. Snow-plows later bucked their way from the main highways. But it was two days before roads were made passable.

Finally the "boys" made their way to the outside after five days of deerless hunting.

Still want to be a deer hunter? Then listen to this.

Lake Wesleankoon Lake way, the "boys" are comfortable in cabin or shack or whatever hunters "hole in" when weather puts a quietus on hunting.

Pickle Weatherman

Everything was lovely at the first of the week, and the nimrods drove merrily into camp and cabin with the blessings of the weatherman. Later in the week gentleman struck suddenly. Snow blasted out of the northwest to a depth of fourteen inches. Cars were frozen. Snow blocked all means of egress to the highways. One party was forced to drag a boat nearly four miles over a frozen lake to safety.

A hunter in town today from Lake Wesleankoon said the woods are snow-packed under thirteen inches of the white mass. Seven inches fell in the district north of Madoc yesterday morning. The deer, "the rascals" still keep out of sight. Some hunters are having seasonal luck. Near Denbigh the bucks are taking to the woods.

Still want to be a deer hunter? You can have it.

Recreation Need Theme of Talk To Y's Men's Club

The need for well-planned recreation was the subject of an address given by Jack Devine at the Y's Men's weekly meeting at the Y.M.C.A. Thursday night.

Pointing out that the day of the long leisure period was divided into three equal periods of eight hours for work, sleep and recreation the speaker said that it was important that increased attention should be given to well planned recreation.

He indicated that progress had been made in organized recreation in Belleville during the past few years. Directing his attention to recreation in Belleville he pointed out that had been done in promoting playgrounds, hockey, skating and basketball activities, the efforts of public spirited citizens a recreation committee had been organized and the council had generally authorized a grant of $15,000 to this committee which was cut to $7,500, a sum amount equivalent to approximately ½ mill of the tax rate.

Develop Full Program

In order to develop a full program of recreation in Belleville for people of all ages it was essential that the recreation committee would know how much money would be available each year. The speaker added that city council had authorized presentation to the taxpayers at the coming election a by-law providing in the yearly estimates an amount equivalent to one mill of the tax rate for recreation purposes.

Mr. Devine pointed out that this amount, which represented an additional one half mill to what has been the grant of the past year, would be used to provide facilities and supervision for increased recreational activities. He added that it was not the recommendation or intention of the recreation committee to sponsor activities such as hockey and basketball as a result up deficits by money grants which such activities might incur. He said facilities and supervision for such activities and others were the direct responsibility of the committee and should not fall on the shoulders of the parks board as it has to a great degree in the past. Much of the real work of the parks board is the upkeep of parks had been left undone because it had assumed many of these responsibilities for sports.

The speaker urged the club members to understand and appreciate the issue involved in the by-law and to vote for it. Reference to see that it was passed on election day. Bill Holway introduced the speaker and thanks of the club were expressed by Rudy Rohrer.

The report on Radio Auction given by chairman Roy Best, indicated success and that much work remained to be done before completion of the project in time for

IN MEMORIAM

WOODBECK. — In loving memory of my dear father, Sanford Woodbeck, who passed away November 9, 1946.

I do not forget him, I loved him too dearly.

For his memory to fade, from my life like dreams

My heart secure sincerely.

My lips may not speak, when my heart mourns sincerely.

For grief often dwells, where's there's love.

Ever remembered by his daughter Mabel. 1p

ROSS — In memory of a loving husband, Robert J. Ross, who passed away November 14, 1930.

Sweet memories linger around him

I would like to have heard.

Sweet words I'd treasure and cherish

My last parting word.

Sadly missed by his wife.

Are able to tell

What a void in her heart

At last saying farewell.

Sadly remembered by his wife MIR

GORDON — In loving memory of our dad, Arthur Ezra Hook, who passed away Nov. 10th, 1937.

November 10th, 1937

We've just needed a special day,

We're sad you're not under our care,

For the days we do not think of you, Dad, there are so few.

If all this world were ours to give

We'd give it, yes, and more,

To see the face of you, dear dad,

Just once as in days of yore.

Sadly missed by wife, Gordon, daughter Hilda Hazel and children. MIR

Shalom From Israel

By Leo H. Marcus

(Article 7)

NEW YEAR IN ISRAEL

Jerusalem — (Special to the Ontario Intelligencer) — October 1st and 2nd marked the occasion of New Year's here in the state of Israel. "Rosh Hassanah" is the Hebrew name for the holiday. From the point of view of a Canadian, it was interesting to compare the way the New Year is observed in Israel with the way that it is observed back home.

The Israelis do not observe the new Year with the festivity and gala celebrations as we do in Canada. To them the Rosh Hassanah is a solemn holiday and a time for meditation and prayer.

The state of Israel marked the holiday by allowing the people extra food ration and the post office marked the holiday by issuing a special New Year's stamp. It might be interesting to note that here, just as in Canada, the people send New Year cards and greetings to all their friends on this holiday.

Synagogues Crowded

Here in Jerusalem, the capital of Israel crowded synagogues and deserted streets marked the capital's observance of the holiday. Despite the great number of permanent and temporary synagogues, large crowds were unable to enter the prayer houses to participate in the services, and as a result were gathered outside to pray in the open.

Traffic was almost nil, although some negligible movement could be noted in the suburbs and the occasional police or army car and ambulance were to be seen. The usual lineup of taxis which operate to Jerusalem and ply the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv run on Saturdays and holidays was absent. All the stores and most of the cafes in the city were closed and even the Arab quarter of Jerusalem was still, most shops having put up their shutters in honour of the holidays.

Throughout the two days of Rosh Hassanah, thousands of people climbed the steep ascent to Mount Zion to offer prayers at the tomb of King David. Men and women alike, some bent with age, and some drawn from outlying tent villages, could be seen ascending the 100 steps to Mount Zion.

Fine Weather Prevailed

Fine weather, comparable to the type of weather that exists during Indian Summer in Canada did much to add to the enjoyment of the day. A short rain storm during the early hours of the second morning of the holiday cleared the air and cooled it off for the day which closed with a brilliant sunset.

This New Year had a great deal of meaning for the people of Israel. At present they are going through the hardest period of the small state's three-year existence and they hope that the new year will bring better times. They also hope that in the new year the state will be able to sign permanent treaties with her Arab neighbors so that the tension existing between Israel and the Arab nations will cease.

It is the sincere wish of the Israeli people to carry on peaceful negotiations with people of the Arab lands, and together with them do everything possible for the upbuilding and betterment of the Middle East. It will be up to each Israeli during the coming year to put his or her shoulder to the wheel and make extra sacrifices in order to accommodate and find or create employment for the thousands of immigrants coming into Israel each day.

This year, 5712 in the Hebrew calendar, presents many problems to the people of Israel. Although I have only been with the Israeli people a few short weeks yet, it is my humble opinion that, in view of their great hope and determination, they will be able to meet each problem as it arises.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

by
WINIFRED E. WILSON

WRECKED

Nature manages to provide a great assortment of weather conditions just at the season when travel in Birdland is at its peak. Equinoctial gales, torrential rains, sleet, and freezing temperatures are interspersed between days of sunshine and calm. Not so many years ago this was all with which the migrants had to deal; now, with the progress of civilization in America, hazards multiply.

Last May immense flocks of warblers flying north from their winter quarters were grounded by strong winds on Padre Island off the coast of Texas. Hundreds were killed in Corpus Christi by striking buildings, street lights, and telephone wires. Occasionally land birds attempting to migrate close to the east coast of America are blown far out to sea. Vessels sometimes encounter birds of small song birds struggling to turn back to the shore. But the reverse took place last autumn when gales of 100 miles an hour battered those ocean divers, known as Brunnich Murres. Unable to contend with this force of nature, many were blown from the coastal waters of Labrador far up the St. Lawrence River. As their only diet had always been salt water, fish, which could not be caught so far inland from Montreal on, they left behind a trail of dead and dying comrades. Exhausted and starved, the few that actually reached the Ontario could not survive.

A late spring snow storm often endangers the lives of migrants. Not only are they hampered by the heavy, wet snow, but their food is covered up. Early fall frost traps seal small ponds, depriving fish eaters of their customary restaurants.

But it is man who has erected lighthouses and tall buildings against which so many small travellers are wrecked. Man, too, is responsible for the death of ducks that eat contaminated food found in the water of some lakes. Shot spells tragedy for many. Numbers are never retrieved, but left dead or wounded.

Oil on the surface of water where ducks usually come down for rest and refreshment is a grave menace. Unsuspectingly, whole flocks descend from the sky only to be imprisoned by the oily scum that clogs their feathers. Scores are found unable to rise again. Sometimes this spilling of oil has been due to an accident, as when a tanker is rammed. At other times oil has been illegally dumped, as on the Thames, England, last August, when the victims were swans.

A WISE DECISION

Canada's prime minister, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, has demonstrated his stature by deciding not to proceed with actions against him by a Communist publication, although he was urged to "punish" the publishers of the pamphlet by certain of the opposition leaders.

Mr. St. Laurent understands, apparently, that no one pays any attention to Communist publications and that summoning their publishers before the tribunal of parliament and perhaps jailing them would only provide them with an opportunity to pose as martyrs for their cause.

The head of the government of Canada, surely, occupies too important and too dignified a position to engage in a personal controversy with some obscure, half-cracked agitator or to take personal vengeance upon any such individual for a mere verbal attack.

EDUCATION SOCIALIZED

According to a Canadian Press dispatch from Gateshead, England, educational authorities there plan to prohibit private coaching of children before examinations, on the ground that some parents cannot afford to pay for special lessons.

To this British socialism, or Marxian socialism, or Bolshevism? Whatever it is, it reminds us strongly of the passage in Shakespeare in which Wat Tyler, one of the leaders in the Peasants' Revolt, orders the execution of a well-known scholar in words which, as nearly as we can remember, run generally like this:

"Away with him, hang him. He speaks of such things as a verb and a noun, which are not fit for the ears of any Christian man to hear about."

PITWOOD PROSPECTS BRIGHT

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

While it is still too early to estimate how New Brunswick lumber exports will shape up next year, and the outlook for pulpwood and pitwood exports remains unusually uncertain, it is gratifying to learn that at least one type of timber product — pitwood — is already assured of a continued buoyant sale in Britain.

Contracts for export cargoes of pit props to the United Kingdom in 1952 are already being signed, and, as was the case this year, the economic benefit of this trade will be widely distributed among New Brunswick farmers and will be shared by truckers and part workers. Pit props, incidentally, are one of three products of this province—the other two being pulpwood and potatoes—which have been considerably stimulating the waterfront activity of Saint John this season.

CHEERS FROM NORTH BAY

(North Bay Nugget)

North Bay's "strategical location" has again paid off.

This city has been chosen as the site of the new mental hospital to be erected in Ontario. The announcement to this effect by Hon. Mackinnon Phillips, Ontario's minister of health, has been received with genuine satisfaction in North Bay and district.

Undoubtedly the fact that North Bay is the most advantageously located centre in Northern Ontario from the standpoint of transportation and communications was responsible for this city being selected. (Notwithstanding that other envious centres will now probably claim it was another reason which caused North Bay to be given the hospital for the mentally ill!)

It will be a 1,200-bed hospital and likely one of the most modern institutions of its kind in the country. Ontario, in a praiseworthy effort to give ever-increasing attention to providing suitable treatment for the mentally sick and we can count on the North Bay hospital being the "last word" in this connection.

CITY IN A HURRY

(Vancouver Sun)

Vancouver ought to add flourine to its drinking water right now. At trifling cost the element can work medical wonders that make it the best health city going.

For as little as fifteen a year-flourine will cut juvenile tooth decay by one-third to one-half. That's the estimate of city medical authorities who've investigated. They urge its immediate use.

THE UNSPANKED

(Calgary Herald)

We have seen too many of the "unspanked" children grow up to be anti-social spoil sports to feel that spanking is a confession of failure in the parents. This does not mean, on the other hand, that we advocate the iron hand, the stern, implacable father of old. A sense of discipline is the backbone of our society and, without that self-control developed by the family hand - where necessary, that society would be, if you can imagine it, even worse than that to which we now belong.

THE GARDEN DESOLATE

The leaves are raked, the beds are made,
The trees have drooped asleep,
And now the blankets will be laid
In snowdrifts inches deep.

The blue jay's call is all we hear
Where once resounded spring.

The ground is desolate and drear,
The winds are keen and strong.

Though death in winter seems the fate
Of many a lovely thing,
That resurrection they await
That comes with every spring.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McIntosh and daughters, Misses Ann and Belle, of Ottawa, are here to spend the weekend with relatives. Mr. McIntosh is an old Belleville boy.

Miss K. Richardson of this city has left to visit friends in Buffalo, N.Y., Detroit, Mich., and Niagara Falls, Ont.

20 YEARS AGO

November 10th., 1931.

Mr. S. E. Warren has returned home after spending a few days in Picton.

Many persons laughed so heartily at the Harry Tate show in the opera house last night that they burst buttons from off their clothing. Manager George Forhan's assistant gathered up quite a number of the buttons and he says that the owners may have the same by calling at the box office.

Mr. John Anderson of Dungannon invaded hot his house and contents by fire on Friday last.

40 YEARS AGO

November 10th., 1941.

Much interest is being taken in indoor baseball games this season and there were many spectators at the game in the Ammonite last evening between teams of the Cement Company and Mark and Hendrie. The latter team won, the score being 15 to 4. The following represented the Cement Company: H. Thompson, P. Reddick, C. Reddick, F. French, W. Mills, Capt. Reddick, M. Connell, H. Stark and J. Dowdall. Mark and Hendrie's team: Gerow, Draycott, Connell, Duggan, Mark, Kelcher, Connolly, Phillips and Hutchinson. Sergt. Howard Sharpe was a satisfactory umpire.

Mr. B. E. Hepburn, M.P., of Picton, was in town today.

50 YEARS AGO

November 10th., 1901.

Strength for the Day

DR. KEARL L. DOUGLASS

WE CAN IF WE WILL

We have fought two wars to rid the world of war, and today the threat of war is greater than it has been in recent centuries. This simple fact is a most discouraging reality of modern life.

We expected great results from UN, but we have run into discouraging difficulties. And the UN is the successor of that League of Nations which started in hope and ended in catastrophe. Sometimes it seems that the task of the ideal is unattainable. But of course it seemed in the days of that chatty, where could never be abolished. The pathway of moral progress is tortuous, both for the individual and for the race. But victories have been won in the past and they can be won today if we are willing to pay the price of victory. We shall have to take our setbacks and not get discouraged. We shall have to believe in the ideal of good and pursue it. Above all, we shall have to be patient, never allowing hate or revenge to degenerate into appeasement.

This all presupposes a wisdom which no one appears to be manifesting at the present time. But in spite of the fact that the world is full of good minds and well - disposed persons, World peace will not come overnight, but world peace is a possibility if we will make it so.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

VARIETY AND CHANGE

The spice of a happy life may well be a variety of interests and periodic changes. The all-round athlete fully develops himself through this variety of interests and changes so as to keep a balanced mentality. Work and play must be supplements to each other.

For years I have used to visit the beautiful garden of a big steamship official and talk to him about his flowers. Another hobby that he had was a kennel of dogs which he loved and they loved him. No one can be his best all the time by giving himself no variety of interests or a frequent change to clear his mind and stimulate many thoughts.

Many years ago I listened for hours in the club car of a train to the talk of a man to whom all were listening. He brought up many a famous name, familiar to all, and dwelled on many a hobby. I, with others, wondered at the occupation of the man. He talked as though he might have been a writer, an actor, a magician or a banker. Soon, one by one I listeners retired to their berths for the night, and I was left alone with him. I asked him what his business was and he said: "A coffee salesman!" I'll wager he was a good one.

No one is so interesting as he who has a wide variety of interests to keep him alive and active, and who has had the courage to make a change in his life's position in life. It was the multitude of investments that Edison was forever engaged upon that kept him creative and long in years.

If we have a goal for one variety of climate and its changes, even the weather would bore us, but variety is a wise counsellor and we ought to keep close to her admonitions and suggestions. Those who take no vacations, have no hobbies or favorite sport, stick to its toil

Afrikanders, British, Negroes All Divided in South Africa; National Leaders Worrying

Johannesburg. (CP)—Leaderstartion of the voting rights of South Africa's non-white people are coming more and more engrossed by an apparently endless war of the comparatively small white population to split into two opposing camps.

Prime Minister Daniel Malan, speaking recently of relations between the Afrikaans' and the English-speaking population of the union, said reports of evidence that race relations have deteriorated to an alarming extent."

The Governor-General, Dr. Ernest Jansen, has also spoken of the trend towards division of the white population, whose total of less than three millions is forced not only by the increasing native population but by a vast native population outside the union's borders.

"If one were to believe the newspapers and politicians," he said the governor-general, "cooperation is farther off than ever and racialism is rampant. Personally I believe there is far less real racialism in this country than is often alleged."

Very Rev. Frederick Moore, Anglican dean of the Pretoria Anglican diocese, wrote in an Anglican magazine that South Africa was continuing to descend between English and Afrikaans-speaking people "like a stone" to no purpose to the government and those who do not; and, much more importantly, between black and white."

Critics Busy

Claiming that the government is seeking to entrench itself by "ruthless anti-democratic republic, which will accord rights only to nationalistic supporters, the rapidly-swelling army of critics sets up acclamor at every move the government has directed toward that end. The government and its supporters are not slow to reply.

So far Dr. Malan's policy of Apartheid has not come up to his expectations as an instrument for white racial unity. Instead of separating South Africa's black races from the white and encouraging their progress on separate paths, this policy is viewed by Dr. Malan as "a powerful influence for nationalistic unity among the non-white people."

The latter, Bishop of this city spent yesterday in Port Hope.

Mr. James Falconer of Tweed was in town today.

Royal Canadian Air Force Cuts Time Needed to Train Pilots by Eliminating Frills

Gimli, Man. (CP) — A vast change has been made in the R.C.A.F. flying training in the last few years.

The Air force is combining two big factors—air speed and youth—in modern pilot training.

Air Commodore A. P. Revington, senior R.A.F. liaison officer in Canada, said the air force's new graduates who will serve as pilots for a period ranging from six to eight years, by the age at 28, they will then form a skilled manpower pool, ready for emergency.

The student pilot, who'll face the cockpit of a jet aircraft before he's old enough to make shaky training flights in light planes such as Tiger Moths and Cornells, undergoes Early Training.

Students now start right off with the Harvard trainer, prototypes of propeller-driven fighters.

That was known as elementary flying training is now eliminated. Before the war it took up to about 75 hours' training in light aircraft.

Where elementary schooling was concluded they went into service flying training school. Student pilots now needed out, some going to single-engine planes and others to multiple-engined craft. From this stage they went to advanced training in fighter or large bomber planes.

Now the student pilot begins in his service flying stage. Unlike his predecessor who spent 10 to 15 hours aloft with instructors before soloing, the student of today spends 20 to 30 hours up before making his solo flight.

Fitness Required

The new method eliminates many of the 75-hour elementary flying training and all light craft training.

Student pilots now take their training in three phases, interspersed with ground schooling. They're marked on (1) flying ability, (2) ground school work, and, (3) their fitness for the service.

Pilots training prior to and during the last war were not marked on character and leadership during their student period.

A separate schooling division for character and leadership—study officer discussions, mess and room duties and drill—was the only training for pilots that related to the student training period and further officer development is studied at a separate school.

Another big chance is the "plan" system. The course is completed in specific lessons or "lesson plans". The student pilot has been instructors to take over without wasting time or overlapping in lectures.

South Pacific Islanders Now More Numerous

London, Nov. 10 —(Reuters)— South Pacific islanders, on their way to becoming extinct 100 years ago, now are so numerous they are even crowding Europeans.

A colonial office guide to the British South Pacific islands, published today, said almost all the native peoples are increasing in numbers. Only one reached a total of nearly 500,000.

The islands, ranging from massive volcanic mountains to tiny coral atolls barely breaking the surface of the ocean, are peopled with three main groups, the report said.

These are the Micronesians of the "Small Islands," the Polynesians of the "Many Islands" and the Melanesians of the "Black Islands."

In the Melanesian group, the islanders use pidgin English to overcome the medley of dialects spoken there. Pidgin gave these examples of pidgin: Grass belong face—whiskers; tickey-tickey belong mouth—teeth; Jesus-the-Sun-has moon grammer— banknotes; basket belong trousers—pockets; and paper talk—a letter.

SOMETHING TO DO ABOUT FAT

Every day the public is being made aware of the disadvantages and dangers of obesity. More and more people are learning that overweight can be a detriment to their social status and economic position, as well as their physical well-being. In purely social matters obesity is more of a handicap to women than to men. All too soon, young women learn that overpoundage makes them less attractive and diminishes their chances for marriage. The economic factors of obesity, however, are more apparent among men. Many jobs are closed to obese applicants, clothes are more difficult to obtain and insurance rates are higher. It is also becoming here obvious that overweight is a major health hazard. In fact, it has already been pointed out in this column that obesity is the number one killer of the 20th century.

Obesity is far more common than is generally realized. According to a report made on March 14,1950 at the National Conference on Chronic Diseases, as estimated 25 to 30 per cent of the adult population in the United States is overweight.

It is even more interesting to note that in even a selected group who are not supposed to be in danger of obesity, the prevalence of those overweight runs high. I saw statistics of an organization which was made of 563 persons attending the American Public Health Association Convention last year, in which 40 per cent of the men and 30 per cent of the women were 10 per cent or more above their ideal weight.

From these figures, it appears that while the public is being made aware of more and more of the dangers of obesity, there is still lots of room for a better education. That is why I intend to continue to drive home the unpleasant truths about fat.

How don't go away mad. If I imply anything by my epithets that it is less on you than it is me. I'm on the stout side, too. Perhaps this personality is one of the factors in my favor with many friends (believe it or not) deplore their expanding circumference. If it isn't obviously more than 10 per cent I advise 'em not to fret about it in the least. Because of these simple rules or habits and hints, they'll have everything under control:

1. Carry a few quarter-grain saccharin tablets in your purse, tea, coffee etc., in place of sugar. It has been abundantly proved that any one may take up to 5 grain of saccharin daily without ill effect.
2. Exclude dessert from your way of life. After that you'll have a lot of calories thrust on top not of a square meal because it is easy to purge.
3. At breakfast never more than one carbohydrate. It is pretty stupid to eat, say, a cereal and also roll, toast or hot cakes at the same meal.
4. Invariably a salad, a real salad, before the main course at dinner, and/or as the ideal midday lunch for a sedentary person, with milk or tea or coffee. A real salad is a dish of uncooked fruits, vegetables, herbs, sometimes as you like, even with bits of chicken, ham, shellfish, egg or cheese if to the taste, part of lunch.
5. Without going nutty about it, practice fletcherism in unobstrusive fashion—that is, chew everything a little longer before swallowing the morsel— avoid washing incompletely masticated food down with beverage, and if your masticatory machinery is not functioning at 28 to 32 cylinders, have it thoroughly overhauled by your dentist. If you go about with one or more teeth missing, I'll spell out this time what I think about f-a-l-s-e-t-e-e-t-h.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Grinds Teeth in Sleep

Husband grinds his teeth when asleep. It is nerve racking. (Mrs. W. V.)

I think it is a manifestation of nervous tension. Send for booklet self-addressed envelope and 25c for booklet The Calcium Shortage.

Sorghum Molasses

Is sorghum molasses as rich in iron as ordinary molasses? I have heard there is a lot better. (L. K.)

Answer—Scarcely enough difference in iron content to matter.

Postal Card Puzzles

I am interested in your article, Personal Health. Send further information by return mail. (Mrs. F. H. K.)

Answer—(a) Which article interested you? (b) I cannot reply by postal card. Stamped, addressed return envelope is necessary.

Kindly send literature on varicose veins and varicose ulcers. (A. W. W.)

Found my sister looking and feeling better than for years. She says it's thanks to the Indin remedies. I'd like instructions for taking it. (L. J.)

Answer—Read reply to Mrs. F. H. A. above, and next time inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope. Correspondents who comply with instructions naturally get priority over those who do not.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

The majority of people who enjoy a casual ramble in the woods—tall spotters, amateur botanists, and those who take the binoculars and field guide on a walk—all have a natural setting as a gem lover takes out a jeweller's case—an outfit for the trip is compiled in accordance with the impression that now that November is here all the snakes have folded up. The birds have migrated south. The flowers are all dead. The animals have denned up. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

It is now that wild nature is most exposed. The veils and curtains of the summer have been drawn aside. Depending on what part of country you live in, you are from thirty to sixty species of wild birds who intend to spend the winter with you, and even if you many of them far northern species you will other wise never see unless you go out into the winter woods and fields and hunt them. As for the amateur botanist, one of the basic methods for identifying trees is by their winter buds, and every manual on trees has detailed studies of these buds to make possible distinctions that could not otherwise be made between closely related species of trees.

But it is the mammals that the most revealed by the onset of winter. However skilled a woodsman you may be, you could hunt the country woodlots and swamps all summer and fall, and never see a fox or a rabbit. But once the leaves are down and especially after the first snow, there is scarcely a patch of woods or thicket in all the land of any biggest city that does not contain some thrill for the wary walker with his alert eye.

Before he died, a kinsman of mine who made a great collection of his business, sent for me to talk to him about fish and deer, hawks and lady slipper orchids. I took along books with pictures for him to study in his last bed. "I hate to die," he said, "thinking of all these things I never laid eyes on."

A First-Aid Kit--A Doctor--A Hospital

"Your Hospital"

It is likely the fact that we do not like to spell in our thoughts upon such words as illness, and sickness, that keeps us from giving the consideration to a more or less mysterious community institution -- the hospital. Like books or many other things for us that the average person is inclined to give hospitals only a passing thought until the day when they or their loved ones fall ill. Then the hospital becomes to them the most important building in the community. It would seem like a good idea to pause for a moment to consider just what the community hospital is, who owns it, and how it came into being.

Suppose you were to move to a remote location where you were miles from your nearest neighbor, and many more miles from a town or city. Now, suppose the necessities for living in such a place would be a few medical supplies for use as first aid in the case of unexpected illness or accident. The little kit of aid would represent a measure of security to you. You would feel protected against minor physical ailments.

Modest Beginning

It is quite possible that, as time went on, new neighbors would move in, bringing their first-aid kits with them too and, if the prospects in the area are bright enough, more and more neighbors will appear and pretty soon some young physician will hang up his "shingle" and the basis for a community health program will have been laid.

It won't be long before the community doctor will be taking acutely ill patients into his home because he can give them constant care, and as the number of patients then cared for by the doctor increases, the services of a nurse will be required and pretty soon the home will be too small.

It is at this point that the doctor or some community-minded citizen will suggest that it is about time for the people of the community to provide themselves with a hospital for the care of the sick. The first hospital may be, and usually is, a converted home big enough to accommodate those in the community who are too ill to be cared for at home. But it is their hospital made possible by their combined efforts as members of the community, and they are mighty proud of it.

It is sometimes difficult for us to look at an up-to-date modern hospital and realize that its history back through the first converted home, the doctor's office, and the first-aid kit on the homestead's shelf, but in most cases that is the humble beginning of what lies behind even our largest hospitals. They are the giant oaks that have sprung from the acorns of the past. Some of them are very large, it is true, and, by circumstances, have been forced into the realm of "big business." They employ many people; their expenses are high as they must pay their wages and purchase their supplies on the open market -- but they are still your hospitals. As a community enterprise, they make no profit, have no selfish ambition -- their one and only purpose is to provide facilities for the best in health of the people they serve.

The next time you visit or even pass your community hospital think of it as the "first-aid kit" on your community shelf. Realize that the voluntary board of governors who guide its affairs are people like yourself who have an interest in the health welfare of the community and are willing to give their time and, in many cases, money to make sure that their community first-aid kit is equipped to provide the best possible service. Realize too, that there are problems in running a hospital -- problems beyond the comprehension of any except those constantly engaged in that work.

Your sympathetic understanding and support of your hospital can do a great deal to encourage those who are concerned about the health and well-being of you and your family -- your neighbor and his family.

The Rotary Club on Monday will be host to Kenneth G. Partridge, Brampton, Ont., governor of the 347th District of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the fifty Rotary Clubs in this section of Ontario. He will confer with President C. F. Millsey, Secretary Dr. A. J. Wilcox, and other local officers on Rotary administration and service activities.

Santander--City of Contrasts

(Article 48)

Santander, Spain -- (Special to the Ontario Intelligencer) -- After standing up in a train for over six hours, the sign in the station which read "Santander" was a most welcome sight for me, for it meant the end of a long and tiring journey. It was a beautiful day, and I like to think it was mainly for my benefit since there have been few since then. However, on this day the weather has been decent I have been able to see most of the city, and get used to the peculiarities of the inhabitants. In leaving I shed no tears for although the people have been friendly, the family with whom I boarded most of all, there have been many things which rubbed me the wrong way and made life miserable from time to time.

This city of over 100,000 people is situated on the north coast of Spain and is perhaps noted most as a summer resort as well as a port of call for many ships. It has several large beaches, with the surroundings being one of the most beautiful spots in all Spain. Its main street is broad and lined with modern buildings on both sides. It boasts the largest, modern of hotels, a castle formerly used by the king of Spain, and a university, more famous for its name than for its learning.

Disastrous Fire in 1941

In 1941 Santander was the scene of a disastrous fire which lasted several days and left over 20,000 people homeless. Starting in a dwelling place near the harbor, it swept with great rapidity through the business section and left over one-third of the city in ruins. That is why one sees so many fine buildings and so many still under construction. Unfortunately it might have been better if the fire had burnt out some of the dirty slum areas still in evidence here, instead of the area it did, but such, was not the case. Today you can turn off from the main street with all its clean-looking, up-to-date stores into a side street with some of the dirtiest looking buildings that I have seen in all Europe.

The city has recently undertaken a project for which it should be highly commended.

There are a great number of fishermen here, who never have a great deal of money even when the catch is good. The city has selected a section beside the harbor and is in the process of constructing dwellings for these people. They are very clean and what is more important are rented to the fishermen at a very low price. When one is used to paying for a certain time, the apartment becomes his.

One building is set aside for stores, where necessary goods may be bought at reasonable prices. This arrangement has certainly proved a great boon for the fishermen of Santander.

The Reinforced Concrete

At present there are a great many other buildings going up. One of the things which struck them is that the framework is made of cement reinforced by iron strips, instead of steel girders that we see in Canada. This is partly due to the shortage of steel here, but whether the building is stronger or not, I do not know. Also some of them look as if they have been thrown up rather rather carelessly, as that it is a standard joke here that you go up to one of the workmen and say, "Pardon me sir, but is this building being built or being built?"

Santander has both trolley-buses and street-cars but I am inclined to think they bought the street-cars from some museum, for they are the oldest pieces of junk that I have yet seen. They rattle along, making the most terrible of noises, go careening down the hills seeming without brakes, now and again touching the rails, and in some manner stopping at the required places. It seems the accepted way to catch a street car is to run and jump on as it rattles past. The same thing applies for getting off. You don't wait until it stops; you just jump off when you want.

The Foreign Names

I sometimes think that people here dream about far away places. There is a "Hotel Suiza" where you never see any Swiss, and whose owner has never been to Switzerland. There is also a Swiss Dairy Bar, whose owner runs onto the balcony and pounded away until someone, to whom I am very grateful, cried "oye" which is the Spanish way of saying "Hey, you" and tells him to stop it.

The people of the district who are fortunate enough to own a radio, like to turn it on full blast, an affliction which is prevalent all over Spain. Why each station they can get here is Santander, whose record library is composed of very few records. There is one they use as a theme song for almost every program they have, and I would dearly love to smash it into a thousand pieces. I don't know how many times I have heard this record blaring forth from these radios, but enough to make me want to do something drastic.

Santander is a city of music lovers, but at what times they have their concerts! They either start at 7.30 which is too early or at 11.00 which is too late. The other day I was walking through the park in the morning about 11.30 and here was a concert in progress. I don't know what hour they will think of next.

However there is one thing about which I can't complain. Every day after dinner I can sleep the siesta without worrying about the chickens crowing or the postman thumping on the door. Two hours of peace in an otherwise hectic day.

THIRD FIRE

Southampton, Nov. 9 -- (CP) -- For the third time in 48 years, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tasker have lost their home and contents by fire.

Fire destroyed their small frame home in southeast Southampton early today. Mrs. Tasker and her four children awoke to find the house full of smoke and barely escaped. Mr. Tasker was away.

SISTERS ALL

By JEAN LOVE GALLOWAY

Mothers in the village of Bronte, Ontario, are all upset over a circular they received from the public school suggesting that their daughters not wear slacks to school, the principal has been quoted as saying that, "By giving these instructions to all parents, the belief was that the general tone and appearance of the school and students could be kept at a high standard."

Bronte mothers have been quick to point out that one reason their small daughters go to school in slacks is to keep them warm on chilly damp days. They find slacks a most practical garment for general wear. They also contend that it is not the place of the teachers or the trustees to decide what children should wear to school. They believe the clothes of the child are the responsibility of the parents.

This Bronte incident has touched off the beginning of what could become a topic for discussion right across the country. Now, many parents are against the teen-age vogue of wearing a particular style of blue jeans which resembles the overhauls variety of men's overalls. But the girls themselves are keen on the these because they are held up by fashion experts as the uniform of the ill-covered.

Are Unbecoming

These girls' overalls are definitely unbecoming and most ladies inconvenience to yourselves; yet they always arrive late, are short of both spaces and cartons, provide workmen who haven't had a meal and who act as if they were doing the customer a big favor to move his things.

agree they make the teen-age girl look like a tramp. Despite this, the girls will wear overalls, because they are the "only thing to wear." But thank goodness, style is transitory. Only time can remedy a horrible women's fashion.

We can well see that school teachers and parents alike would object to young girls wearing overalls to school, or any place else except perhaps lashing in a punt at the cottage. But we can't see that a trim pair of wool or tweed slacks are not becoming to a young girl, as well as being most practical and suitable for chilly days and chilly evenings.

We can't altogether understand why the principal and the trustees of a "public" school should be so concerned about keeping "the name, tone and appearance of the students at a high standard," as they describe it. After all, one of the most democratic of our institutions is the "public" school where the children of all may get their education regardless of the type of clothing they wear. Today, slacks for women are generally accepted as proper for general wear, and have long since lost the stuffy stigma which first stamped them as "immoral."

Should be No Discrimination

There is the point too, that if teachers insist on their girl pupils wearing skirts to class, to be consistent, they must insist that boy pupils, wear ties, suit coats and overcoats. Why is a girl denied slacks, when a boy is permitted to wear windbreaker and T-shirt to class? If little men are going to be comfortable and practical in their dress, for that why not little women?

If the teachers and the management of a "private" school want to decree a certain standard of clothing in keeping with their "tone," the parents have the privilege of sending their children to another school which sets its dress standards to suit the parents' tastes. But the "public" school is the state school. And surely all have a right to the opportunity of its teachings, regardless of dress or creed.

BRIDGE ST. JUBILEE S.S.

Jubilee Evening Auxiliary of Bridge Street United Church met for their regular November meeting on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Earle's group served a New England supper at 6:30 o'clock. After supper, Miss Campbell welcomed newcomers and guests and conducted the regular business.

The treasurer's report showed good progress toward the allotment.

Miss Campbell brought a beautiful linen table cloth, donated by the Misses Peterson, to accompany the gifts to Miss Millicent Howse in Angola. This cloth is for use on a communion table in one of the churches in Africa.

A shower of gifts for Miss Howse will be held at the regular December meeting.

Mrs. Calnan read a clever temperance skit entitled "Good Gracious".

Mrs. Clarke read parts of two letters she had received from Japan acknowledging gifts. One was thanks to the Mission Band for gifts sent to an orphan asylum in Tokyo. Miss Clark also told of a number of Canadian-born Japanese girls, who are back in Japan working among their people in Christian Missions.

Miss Grace Kenny and her group took up the study book in an interesting manner.

The Church's Witness

Miss Redfern, in a short devotional, spoke of the witness of the church in the community. This was closed by a beautiful solo by Miss Loretta MacDougall.

Mrs. Roblin told of the splendid work done by student missionaries in establishing Sunday school camps and church membership classes. The congregations are most encouraging.

Mrs. Williams told of Sunday Schools by mail and air, where no other religious instruction is to be had. Last year 45 student missionaries enrolled 700 children.

The work of the Mission fleet on the east and west coasts was also recounted. This wonderful work had been begun in 1765 by Lawrence Coglin.

At present the United Church has a line of seven little boats carrying medical and spiritual help to the little isolated fishing villages along the coasts. This is perhaps the most interesting and useful missionary work.

BAPTIST CHURCH W.M.S.

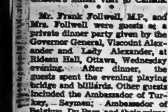
The October meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of Victoria Avenue Baptist Church, was held on Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Myers, North Front Street. There were about 25 members present. The president, Mrs. C. Campbell presided with Mrs. G. Post at the piano.

The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. W. Neal, and Miss Mary Cook led in a brief devotional period.

Mrs. H. Thompson gave the topic of the evening, "Prayers of Dey Heroes and Heroines of Bolivia" telling of the missionaries who are now working on the mission fields there. This was a follow-up of a previous topic which has described the beginnings of the work in Bolivia. Mrs. Thompson's address was interesting and showed that she had done a great deal of reading and careful preparation on her subject.



She closed her remarks with a poem, one verse of which reads: "Only a precious few as the best. But over the world from the East to the West. They've carried His Kingdom with faithful hands Setting it up in a hundred lands, Doing His Word to the uttermost parts Holding the glory safe in their hearts."

Mrs. Campbell extended a gracious welcome to Mrs. Keith Daniel, wife of the new minister at the church, who was present at Mission Circle meeting for the first time. Mrs. Daniel kindly consented to conduct the "Watch Tower", at future meetings.

Miss Lounsberry gave her report about the food box which was sent to India during the month.

Mrs. Neal read a letter requesting that the convention might be held in the Belleville church next spring. After some discussion it was decided to undertake this, subject to the approval of the official board of the church.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hetherington and the social committee.

Rev. Morley Clarke Brings Talk On 'The Three Voices'

"Come Before Winter", was the theme chosen by the Rev. Morley Clarke, of Thomasberg, when he spoke to members of the "Good Companions" Club at their regular meeting last Tuesday evening.

Quoting from II Timothy, the words, "Do thy diligence to come before winter", Mr. Clarke brought vividly before the group the picture of Paul in a cold, dark Roman prison, longing for his friend, and with a premonition that II Timothy did not come before the winter he, Paul, might not be there to greet him in the spring. The scene changed and Timothy, a busy young man was shown facing two alternatives. He could immediately put aside all matters contributing to his busy life and go to his friend, Paul. Or, he might delay his visit to his friend until it was too late.

Put First Things First

And so it is with life; Christian people must learn how to put first things first. Rev. Clarke spoke of three voices—the first being the voice of "Love and Kindness"; the time to show love and kindness, the time to respond to love and kindness, is now. "The voice of Life Amendment" was the second voice mentioned by Mr. Clarke, who said "One can never be more fit than he is now, to begin the task to which God has called him."

The third voice "The Voice of Christ". Christ, is calling everyone to His, sinners and righteous alike. Little children, fishermen, the gatherers, factory worker, bookkeeper, housewife Christ calls everyone.

Mr. Clarke's words were thought-provoking and timely and the thanks of the club were expressed by the club president, Lou Andrews. Before refreshments were served, Harold McNish favored with vocal solos and led in a short sing-song.

The business of the evening consisted of discussion on magazine subscription sales, uses of talent money and bazaar decorating plans.

Montreal Woman Tells American Body Of Women's Part in Preserving Peace

New York, Nov. 10. (CP)—The part women can play in helping prevent war was outlined today before a United States gathering by a Canadian woman.

Causes of war are "hunger and homelessness," said Mrs. Allan Turner Bone, of Montreal, and in offering these "we can help keep the peace we all crave."

Mrs. Turner Bone, recently-elected president of the National Council of Women of Canada, spoke before the American section of the Canadian-American Women's Committee at the annual fall luncheon.

She told of the work of the International Council of Women, which met in Greece this year, and of its stand for peaceful settlement of disputes. But "it agrees it is necessary to rearm to keep the peace" and to uphold the United Nations Charter and the Declaration of Human Rights.

Immediately after the war "the Canadian government was prevailed upon to embark on the finest immigration policy of our times."

"We have brought into our country from 1946 to 1950 between 400,000 and 500,000 immigrants from Europe and Britain.

"The first were wives and children of our service men. Then came the families and relatives of Canadian residents. The next were the homeless from the DP camps of Europe—the Balts, the Yugoslavs, the Czechs, the Poles, the Hungarians, the Italians, the Dutch, the British and finally the Germans."

Then followed the problems of "how to receive them, place them, care for them, get them jobs, houses; teach them the language; make friends; help them with the legal steps of citizenship."

Tells of Work

"This all follows in a fascinating tale of co-operation between government bodies—departments of Labor, Citizenship, External Affairs, Health and Welfare—working with voluntary and professional groups of citizens."

Mrs. Turner Bone told of the work of the National Council of Women which she heads and its federated societies.

The Business and Professional Women's Federation works closely with the International Labor Office striving to improve working conditions, status and wages of women. It subscribes to the doctrine of no discrimination because of sex, race, color or creed.

The Federation of University Women helps spread "international knowledge and understanding, scholarships, to advanced students" and helps professional persons newly arrived in Canada.

The Young Women's Christian Association has collected "thousands of dollars" to carry out relief work in many parts of the world and reviews Y.W.C.A. buildings in Burma and Greece.

The Jewish Council of Women and the Hadassah and B'nai B'rith Societies have done "outstanding work for their own people in Europe and Israel," providing hostels, schools, colleges, hospitals, and training schools.

The Ukrainian Women have been largely concerned with the plights of Ukrainians in Europe, sending clothing, school books, periodicals and Ukrainian-language newspapers.

Club Activities

CHILDREN OF MARY

The November meeting of the Children of Mary was held Monday in St. Michael's High School, Belleville. The president, Miss Patricia O'Grady, read an account of the Blue Army which has been started in opposition to the Red Army.

Father Mcintyre spoke to the girls about forming "Five First Saturday Clubs". Each club would consist of five girls, who would make the five first Saturdays of the Holy Lady of Fatima. Jacqueline Henderson gave a report on the bowling games which had been held during the month. It was decided that the dance which was to have been held on Nov. 8, would be postponed for two weeks.

A highlight of the meeting was a talk given by Rev. Father Dubbery on his pilgrimage to the Shrine of Our Lady of Fatima, in Portugal, and Lourdes, in France.

Refreshments were then served after the singing of two songs by Miss Helen Grant.

C.G.I.T. AND EVENING AUX.

Frankford—A combined meeting of the Canadian Girls in Training of the Frankford United Church and the Evening Auxiliary was held in Lee-Lowery Hall Monday evening. The purpose of the meeting was to officially affiliate the girls' organization with the auxiliary.

A beautiful candle-light worship service was conducted by the C.G.I.T. with leader, Joan McCrea and Misses Carol Wannamaker, Beverly Patrick, Marlene Mann, Beverley Acton, taking part.

In his affiliation service, Mrs. Montgomery, president of the Evening Auxiliary, officially welcomed the C.G.I.T. as a part of their organization, and shook hand with each one of the girls She then presented the C.G.I.T. with a beautiful crest.

Mrs. Greer, of Trenton, spoke to the girls and brought to them a thought-provoking message. A fine program was presented by both members of the C.G.I.T. and the Evening Auxiliary. Refreshments were served.

BUILDING DEBT FREE

Paris, Ont., Nov. 10 (CP) — When the new wing of the Willett Hospital opens to the public next Wednesday, Paris and district citizens will have a debt free building with 32 extra beds. The $120,000 for the building was subscribed by the public and through government and municipal grants.

CAMILLA WILLIAMS, brilliant and rarely gifted young leading soprano of the New York City Opera Company will be the soloist in the Collegiate Auditorium on Monday evening, November 12th in the first of the 1951-52 series of recitals presented by the Belleville Community Concert Associa-tion. The program begins at 8:30 p.m.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

What's the way to happiness?

A widow who is getting along in years has a good question to ask.

When she wrote me, she had just put down her newspaper in which she had read a poem.

The poem advised readers to "drink the happiness of life before it is too late," and specified that "to find a mate" was the best way to do it.

So now comes the widow's very logical question: "How can I find a mate?"

Now it might be more sensible, and perhaps produce quicker results, if she addressed her question to the gentleman who wrote the poem. He may have some definite ideas on how to go about it.

For myself, it seems to me rather useless, as a rule, for anyone to hunt happiness by going after any specific thing, whether a husband—or wife, as the case may be—money, a career, or anything else. It is perfectly true that many people who fasten all their attention on achieving one certain objective often arrive at it. But, equally often, in concentrating on getting that thing they will make them happy, they overlook quite a few very important things whose importance they fail to realize, that in the end, having got what they want, they discover it is not happiness.

On the other hand, a person who has set all his heart on achieving a particular goal may finally find it impossible of attainment and be forced to surrender it, and in so doing experience the bitterness of frustration. Many happiness be might have had.

Make Most of Present

My idea is that the best way "to drink the happiness of life", as the writer puts it, is to take things pretty much as they come along and make the most of those that are within everyone's reach, chief among which are friends. Naturally, it is a wise thing to have some star to which to "hitch your wagon." But to persuade yourself that you can never be happy unless you hold the star in your hand, is almost certain to head for disaster.

To return to the widow who has let the notion of the poem persuade her that she must have a mate in order to be happy. I think it's too bad she is so ungrateful. She says her loneliness is desperate, and getting worse all the time; that she has no one to know or care whether she is home or out, sick or well. She warns me not to tell her to go to church, because she has done so all her life and has "never found sympathy or friendship there." She declares she won't go back —an excellent decision—because she doesn't drink or smoke, and she gets tired of reading or going to the movies. She adds that she dreads Sundays and holidays because she has no one to talk to. Then, taking the poem-writer's advice like a bit between the teeth and charging off, she states that she wishes "like to meet an ex-Canadian lady or gentleman, or a nice American, between the ages of 30 and 70, who is also alone and lonely."

Well, whose advice is she going to follow? If she's willing to try my way of finding happiness, instead of holding out for a mate or nothing, she will start her street by looking around her city for some way to make herself useful to somebody else. The big city near which she lives must be, like every big city throughout the whole country, full of organizations whose reason for existence is to try to make the world a happier place for those in need. If, instead of closing the subject of church by saying she has never found sympathy or friendship there, she were to go to her minister and say: "I have time on my hands. Where in this town can I be useful and do something for others?" she would set her feet firmly on a path that leads directly to happiness. And who knows? Perhaps, eventually to a mate besides!

BEAUTY

Some tips for the men

Practically every man will response to "Hello, Handsome", if a woman is at a party and calls out

If a man is bald and his figure carries a huge tummy, it doesn't matter. It pleases him to be regarded as a good-looking guy.

Since the male of the species plays an important part in the human spectacle, we fancy it might not be amiss to suggest certain improvements that some of the boys might consider.

Women are told time and again that they must always look pretty so as to retain the love of their husbands. Many a husband at breakfast table looking sloppy, with hair scrambled and complexion minus the highlights. But what about Pappy? Look at him on a Sunday morning. Whiskers all over his face Hair on end—if he has any hair. Soiled bathrobe that has been doing duty for y'ars and y'ars because he won't go to the trouble of getting a new one. Feet in worn out slippers that should have been discarded long ago. But where he dresses up! Ah! How nice he looks then! Why not look pretty for Mama and the kids?

One time, seeking information, we asked a hair specialist why so many men are bald when few women are. "I don't know," he answered, "but my guess is that it is because women take better care of their hair. When a man washes his hair he stands under a shower, rubs a bar of soap over his head and stands a moment longer for the soap to flood away— which it doesn't. The shafts are soap-coated, and the scalp as well While the hair is wet he plasters it back, and there it stays. No ventilation. And hair likes a change of arrangement. He slaps the brush over the growth at his temples with such vigor that he dislodges the soft new shafts.

Some men are not as particular about their fingernails as they might be. They clean the eaves, but let the cuticle creep up and cling to the nail fabric. An occasional manicure would be a good investment, especially as nails thicken and look ugly as the years pile up.

A man should carefully consider the color of the clothes he wears. Many a grey-haired man with a pale complexion will wear a grey suit that makes him look all one color. A dark brown or a navy will make his white locks an asset, prove becoming to a colorless complexion.

Helen Blanchard Post Prescribes Visit to Matto Grosso for Ennui

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

New York. (AP)—Maybe you've got the civilization illness. For such as you, Helen Blanchard Post prescribes a visit to Brazil's Matto Grosso jungle.

Miss Post contends it did her a world of good. Recently returned to Manhattan's air-conditioning and 25 stenk dinners after a six month jaunt with jaguars, alligators, tarantulas, man-eating fish, bird spiders and other assorted Brazilian fauna.

Miss Post's first encounter with the primitive Matto Grosso came some 13 years ago when she accompanied a young Philadelphia friend to the jungle for a honeymoon trip led by Leahs Siemel, veteran hunter and guide in the sparsely populated Brazilian state. Shortly afterwards her young friend married Siemel and since then made a home for her husband and their children at the edge of a Brazilian river infested with alligators and bloodthirsty fish.

Boards Freighter

Last February Miss Post boarded a freighter for a lengthy visit with her friends. Even getting to the Siemel's home was a major project. From Sao Paulo she travelled on a century-old mule road—burning rosewood and mahogany—to the end of the line and proceeded by horseback through the dense jungle.

Here she lived in an open shelter thatched with palm leaves, and slept on an army cot protected by mosquito netting. Meals were quite netting.

"Each day would wander in and out during the night," she said calmly. "But they would never bother you. Only the ants and jaguards would leave you alone because they couldn't tell where your head was and were afraid to attack."

Her major discomfort came from the stings of insects. She carefully shook out and inspected her clothing before donning it to avoid stings by the ever-present ant and bug birdspiders.

Learns Photography

She was a hard-working guest. She learned photography by trial and error and returned with hundreds of photographic plates. She fooled around with a tape-recorder and obtained some previously unrecorded animal and bird sounds.

"One of the major problems of jungle living is getting fresh food," she said. "There is no refrigeration or ice, and meat spoils in a few hours. Jaguar meat is delicious. Our basic diet was dried or salted beef, rice and Brazilian beans. Our front yard stables were palm hearts—which involves killing a whole palm tree for one small heart which tastes like something between celery and cauliflower."

The Siemel camp consisted of the family, three Indian families who acted as servants and sentinels, and an assortment of pets, including a monkey, anteaters and peccary pigs.

Bloodthirsty Fish

The system followed if the family elected to bathe in the river was to drop small pieces of raw meat into the water. If a school of Piranhas—small, sharp-toothed fish—did not appear in a couple of minutes, the water was presumed safe enough for bathing. If they did appear, bathing was out—for piranhas have been known to consume a human body in three minutes.

In her spare time Miss Post fished a spell, but soon gave it up. This she supplemented by talking her notes onto tape.

When Miss Post turned into Matto Grosso, she was by occupation a publicist and had been many time as a newspaper woman. Since her return, she has done some writing which has apparently have been widely published.

"I'll spend a few years in a new field," she said. "Now, I'm going around pulling some strings so I can go to India and shoot a tiger."

LIKELY TO ASK FOR AID

Paris, Nov. 9 (AP)—Britain likely will ask for new United States dollar aid to help pay her $13,000,000,000 share in rearming the western defence, an authoritative source hinted today.

Sir Edwin Plowden, British representative on a special North Atlantic treaty organization committee meeting here, is expected to make a formal request for the aid next week, a highly-placed British informant said.

FOUND WHISKEY

Youngstown, O., Nov. 9 (AP)—The coroner ruled yesterday that a four-year-old boy died from acute alcohol poisoning caused by drinking whisky. The child, James Santa, had found the whisky at home.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. CORNELIUS BECKMAN

Married woman's name for cheque-signing

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am a young girl, have married, and my husband is going to open a bank account in my name. Before I was married I signed my cheques Dorothy Smith. But how should I sign my married name on cheques?

Dorothy

Just add your husband's surname to the name you signed before. . . Dorothy Smith Robinson . . . and this is the correct signature for your cheques. There are also two other correct forms for your signature: (1) Dorothy S. Robinson; and (2) Dorothy Robinson. But the majority of married women prefer to retain their maiden-surname in their signature. . . and this form does most conveniently provide an excellent information-name on various occasions.

How to go to the bank to open the account, decide which you can manage best. In this case, for identification, the bank will require you to write for their records the form-of-signature you are to use in signing your cheques.

Various important questions about her wedding plans

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. My maid of honor says that my father is to pay for the flowers and all my attendants. I say that my prospective bridegroom should pay for them. Who is right about this?

2. Do the gowns of all my attendants have to be the same color?

3. I have heard that no jewelry is to be worn by my wedding attendants. Is this true?

4. What am I supposed to do with all my engagement ring during the ceremony?

L. L.

1. Customarily the bride's family plan and pay for the flowers for the bridal attendants. The bridegroom provides the bouquet for his bride, of course, and her bridegroom-to-be purchases flowers for his bride's mother and for his own mother; the bridegroom-to-be for his best man, ushers, and his father and his bride's father. Also, he wishes and if it is the custom of the community, he may provide the flowers for your attendants.

2. Today it is the sensible and artistic custom to have the gowns of all the bridal attendants, the maid (or matron) of honor as well as the bridesmaids, of the same style. This contributes most effectively to the so-important uniformity of the bridal party. But the bouquet of the bonor attendants often varies in color from the bouquets of the bridesmaids.

3. Not necessarily true. Very often, in fact, the bride's gifts to her bridal attendants are something to wear as well. Usually for example, one-strand pearl necklaces, simple earrings, bracelets, or jeweled clips.

4. Usually the bride wears her engagement ring on the third finger of her right hand during the ceremony.

When two sisters register at hotel

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Two sisters made arrangements to take a two-weeks' trip, including the Thanksgiving weekend, and will stay at the best hotels. Should one of us sign the register for both—"Misses Mary and Helen Smith"? S.

One may sign for both. . . but since it is more bolsish today the registering is on individual cards. Each girl's card may ask you to register separately. However, if you wish, one of you may write both your home address on the individual cards.

She should tip for extra services

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have several close friends who live in apartments, however, and I go to see them quite often. Sometimes the doorman calls a taxi-cab for me, and sometimes he will help me when I am carrying a package, or do other little services. I had not thought that I should tip the doorman for this, but last evening my husband told me I should. Who is right?

G. L.

Your husband is right. . . you should give a tip for such "extra" services, particularly if the ones you ask for, such as calling a taxi.

MARIO . . . in his distinctive feature about FOOD . . . What's Cooking?

To find big sweet potatoes you must go to the Fiji Islands.

There monstrous yams grow as high as six feet and weigh up to a hundred pounds apiece. The Fiji Islanders really love sweet potatoes, and make American natives Southerners seem like amateurs in the sweet potato line.

The true yam doesn't grow in the United States, although the moist orange colored sweet potatoes are sometimes sold as yams.

Sweet potatoes are less mealy than white potatoes. Because they are solid and moist, they can be easily made into croquettes or cakes.

A delightful main course can be made with a combination of sweet potatoes and chopped ham, shaped into croquettes and fried. Croquettes can be handled easily without breaking if they are chilled in the refrigerator before frying. Ends of cooked ham or boiled sliced ham may be used in today's recipe.

Ham and Sweet Potato Croquettes

2 cups mashed sweet potatoes
1-4 cup sliced green peppers
Vegetable fat
2 eggs
2 cups finely chopped cooked ham
Bread crumbs
3-4 teaspoon ground cloves
2 tablespoons brown sugar
Salt—pepper
Flour

Cook enough sweet potatoes to make 2 cups when mashed. Do not add milk to potatoes.

Put the green peppers in a saucepan with 2 tablespoons vegetable fat. Saute until peppers are tender.

In a mixing bowl combine the sweet potatoes, peppers, 1 egg slightly beaten and the ham. Mix well. Add the cloves, brown sugar and salt and pepper to taste.

Shape into croquettes. If mixture is too soft, add bread crumbs until mixture is firm enough to be handled or until croquettes hold shape without breaking apart.

Dip the croquettes in flour. Beat the remaining egg with 2 tablespoons water. Dip the croquettes in beaten egg. Dip the croquettes in the bread crumbs. Make sure the crumbs coating covers croquettes completely.

Heat deep fat to 390 degrees or hot enough to brown a cube of day old bread in 40 seconds. Fry the croquettes until medium brown.

Mrs. N. Alexander gave the Scripture reading, the Gospel is All Saints' Day. At this time, the members extended a welcome to the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Gardham. Mr. Gardham responded saying it was a nice introduction to a parish to attend a meeting of the W.A., as the W.A. was the backbone of missionary work.

The secretary gave a short report of the deanery meeting at Bonarlaw. Next year the deanery meeting will be held at Roslin.

Finals plans were made for the bazaar on Nov. 14.

Christmas cards were distributed by the treasurer.

Mrs. Meeks, leader for the evening opened the program. Mrs. J. Bates gave a reading, Mrs. Gray a phonograph selection "History of a Deck of Cards".

Mrs. E. Green offered her home for the next meeting.

A "Name" contest was conducted by the leader.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses and a social time was enjoyed.

Remembrance Day

THIRTY-THREE YEARS ago tomorrow the "Cease Fire" command ended World War I. And on that day we honored those who died to give us peace. Added to that honor roll are those who gave their lives in the second great world conflict. It is not enough this Armistice Day to honor the brave dead of two wars by bowing our heads in prayer.

TODAY THROUGHOUT our world angry voices are thundering without reason—and threats, like lightning, break and crash over the peoples' heads . . . clouds scud along the horizon, sometimes building up to frightening thunderheads . . . Yet, the eternal stars are there — stars of Hope, of Faith, and of Love, now dimmed or hidden by the clouds — now breaking through with a clarity and brilliance and strength that will not be denied.

MAY THESE stars be seen and followed by the wise men of all nations, and may they light the path to peace, with goodwill in the hearts of all men — a warm welcome for their neighbor — and a deep desire for friendship between nations —and a determination to achieve lasting peace.

MAY THIS BE THE PRAYER TODAY OF THE PEOPLE

Sigmund Romberg Noted Composer, Dies Suddenly

New York, Nov. 10—(AP)—Sigmund Romberg, 64, whose operettas and songs are loved by millions, died last night of a cerebral haemorrhage in his Riverview hotel suite.

Romberg wrote such musical favorites as "The Student Prince," "Desert Song," "Maytime," "Blossomtime" and "New Moon." In 40 years he turned out 7 operettas and more than 2,000 songs.

Apparently in good health, Romberg arrived in New York Nov. 2 from his home in Beverly Hills, Ill.

His body was found on the bathroom floor by his wife, Lillian Harris Romberg, whom he married in 1925. Before he collapsed, she said, her husband had not complained of feeling ill.

Romberg once called his music "middlebrow — music too highbrow for a syncopated orchestra, and too highbrow for a jazz conductor."

His music has a mass appeal, with melodic love songs and romantic themes.

Other of his famous operettas are "Rosalie," "Her Soldier Boy" and "The Nine Pardons," featuring the waltz, "Auf Wiedersehen." He collaborated with George Gershwin on "Rosalie" for Florenz Ziegfeld.

Born in Hungary, Romberg came to the U.S. in 1909. Two years later he published his first song, "Memories".

A musical prodigy, Romberg studied violin at the age of seven, on piano at eight. In a few years he had mastered almost every musical instrument.

With the coming of talking pictures, Romberg spent a great deal of time in Hollywood. His film scores included "Girl of the Golden West", "Up in Central Park" and adaptations of a number of his Broadway musical hits.

Romberg is survived by his widow and a brother, Hugo, in Los Angeles. The Rombergs had no children.

Porter Repeats His Request For More Details

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Attorney - General Porter last night repeated a demand for Walter Thomson, Ontario Liberal leader, to give details of "more than $5,000" he received as solicitor for handling Veterans' Land Act sales.

Speaking in support of John Iverniko, Progressive Conservative candidate for Toronto Bellwoods in the Nov. 23 Ontario general election, Mr. Porter said: "The man (Thomson) said he thought he would have a clean slate. A question I asked the other night appears to have made the incident electric. I think it strongly in the public interest that they should learn what sort of transaction the man has carried into with Ottawa."

Mr. Porter made his original demand last week in a speech at Hamilton. Mr. Thomson issued a statement in reply in which he said he handled many Veterans' Land Act cases for only one-fifth of the normal fee.

Mr. Porter also asked last night what there is "a promise, a secret partnership" between Mr. Thomson and the Toronto Star, referring to the prominence the paper gave a Thomson motion that the government passed up $1,000,000 in federal health grants, he said:

"They now are accusing Premier Frost of responsibility for the loss of thousands of people in this country. We cannot take that lying down from a man with his background."

FRANKFORD

Sorry to hear that Miss Marion Wannamaker has been ill for a couple of days.

"Hydro and telephone' conversations are slowly being restored to normal, following the sleet and sleet storm which caused widespread interruption in this district. Numerous trees crashed to the ground, as they could no longer support the heavy load of ice which covered them, taking with them as they fell, telephone and Hydro wires. The following crew of Bell Telephones Limited, were dear hunting in central Hastings, and had to return to Frankford for a short district.

Sincere hope that Mrs. Claude Lee will shortly be around and once again following her recent illness with the 'flu.

Young Adult Group

The first meeting of the Young Adult Group of the Frankford United Church, was held in the Rose-Lowery Hall, with approximately 80 present. Ruth and Jack Beach were in charge for the business portion. One of the largest items of business was the appointment of a nomination committee, which included Sidney and Evelyn Martin, Frank Terry, Claude and Marjorie Moran. They will bring in their suggested slate of officers at the next meeting, November 28.

Various suggestions were offered as to the type of meeting which should be held, and it seemed to be the general opinion that the meetings should be as informal as possible. Enthusiasm ran high throughout the meeting.

Planned recreation, under the supervision of Sid and Evelyn Martin proved most enjoyable. A note of hilarity was added as the prize winners of contests opened their prizes. Winners included Jean Gilmour, Hazel Rowe, Claude Moran, Gene Lohnes and Delbert Badgley.

THOMASBURG

Vanadium

Thomasburg.—The sights which greeted some of the Thomasburg residents last Thursday morning, were anything but pleasant. The older people of Thomasburg and vicinity wonder what they have done, that the younger people feel justified in going about destroying their property. A thought for the day—(and please think) —some day it may be your turn to be victimized, and then, as now, it will seem to be a low down trick.

Views Across Canada

At a meeting, recently, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bridges Eggleton, the Missionary and Maintenance committee of the West Huntingdon - Thomasburg circuit enjoyed a travelogue on "Home Missions Across Canada", as presented in colored slides by Rev. Morley Clarke.

It was regretable that more could not have been and heard these excellent pictures and descriptions of the work of the United Church of Canada.

A Hallowe'en party, sponsored by Thomasburg school staff and pupils, was the source of much fun and mirth.

The program under the direction of the principal, Mrs. M. Harrison, went off to a lively start as the pupils, disguised in every imaginable costume, marched around past the judges, Mrs. M. Clarke and Mrs. H. Elliott.

Several prizes were distributed and as a consolation to others a generous supply of peanuts.

A variety program of choruses, songs, rhythm band and dialogue followed.

Mr. B. Moorcroft, of Madoc, latest addition to the teaching staff, was introduced and, in an impromptu speech, complimented the audience on their attendance.

Mr. C. Carter, chairman of the Trustee Board, spoke briefly on the proclation of the interest taken by the community, and to the teachers and pupils for their entertainment.

After the program closed, refreshments were served by the pupils, a feature which no doubt every will remain to all those who participated.

Mrs. Harry of Owen Sound, is a guest this week of her cousin, Mrs. C. Reid. Her friends wish her a pleasant visit as she renews acquaintances here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Richardson and son, Garry, of Toxboro, were Saturday night guests of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Mac Bell of R. P. Richardson.

Mrs. Geo. Canham, formerly of Wolfe Island, conducted his first service since coming to this charge, in Christ's Church here, on Sunday evening. Due to the recent storm and slippery roads, attendance was not large.

Beginning his ministry in this parish as winter approaches, thus making his work more difficult, he will need all the co-operation the people of this community can give him.

Fuller United Church held its anniversary last Sunday, Mr. Kenneth Stewart was guest minister, for both services, and had near capacity congregations morning and evening. It is a home-coming for Mr. Stewart as he served this field for eight years. A cordial welcome is always extended to him by his former parishioners.

The Frankford choir was in attendance and was greatly appreciated. Especially as they had difficulty travelling over the icy roads.

The Fuller people are grateful for their zeal in overcoming obstacles and giving of their gift of song so generously.

In the passing of Ross, loved husband, father, and brother, the sympathy of the entire community, goes to the Percy McTaggart family.

MANY FOUND LOYAL

Washington, Nov. 10 — (AP)— Solicitor - General Philip B. Perlman said last night that of the 3,885,000 government employees checked by the Federal Bureau of Investigation since the loyalty program started, 99.5 per cent of them have been found loyal. During the four - year period of the loyalty program, he said, 343 persons have been dismissed because of loyalty checks.

Affairs Take Serious Turn In Border Area

Paris, Nov. 10 (Reuters) — Happenings in the Israeli-Egyptian border area has "taken a more serious turn" in the last four months, Brig.-Gen. William Riley, United Nations' chief of staff in Palestine, said today.

In a report to the U.N. Security Council he said there has been an increase in complaints about armed robbery and attacks on Israeli settlements by Arab bands from the Gaza strip.

There had also been complaints that raids were mined in Israeli-controlled territory, while the Egyptians had accused the Jews of making retaliatory raids.

Riley reported conditions were comparatively quiet in the Israeli-Jordan border area.

Incidents have also increased along Israel's border with the Lebanon, where the demarcation line is nearing completion, Riley reported.

He complained Israel still insists that she must control most of the disputed demilitarized zone on Syrian soil.

Israeli police in the zone, acting on orders from outside it, have continued Arab movements and "interfered with freedom of movement of the chairman of the armistice commission and U.N. observers," the report said.

Syrian and Israeli attitudes have prevented the armistice commission from meeting to try to settle problems resulting from the dispute over Israel's Huleh Marsh drainage scheme in the demilitarized zone, Riley said.

Commonwealth Division Took Shock of Assault

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Nov. 10 (CP)— Eighth Army Headquarters today disclosed that the 1st Commonwealth division was the one which withstood last Sunday's assault by a Chinese communist division northwest of Yonchon.

The Chinese, blowing bugles and whistles and supported by about 20 tanks, hit the division in waves for hours Sunday and continued sporadic attacks thereafter.

The brunt of this red assault, due north of Seoul, was borne by the King's Own Scottish Borderers and the Royal Australian Rifles.

The enemy lost heavily, but they captured two hills which they still retain.

The communist tanks and self-propelled guns—probably 76-millimeter—made several appearances within 1,000 yards of the battle line.

The communist armor was engaged at long range by Commonwealth tanks. Allied officers made no claims of damage.

It was even possible, the officers said, that the heavy Commonwealth tanks in the darkness may have engaged red self-propelled guns rather than tanks.

No estimate of communist casualties was released, but they were believed to be severe. Officials at the front said Chinese corpses were piled on allied barbed wire at some points.

In a report from the front line, Reuters correspondent John Dinsdale said 600 British troops of the Borderers suffered heavy casualties in the fight. He said the Britons were outnumbered 10 to one.

Peiping radio, which first identified Commonwealth units in the fight, said two companies of "Tritons were annihilated, with 450 killed or wounded and 25 taken prisoner.

Priest Takes to the Air to Visit 22 Missions

After 18 years of plodding through Northern Ontario's dense hinterland on snowshoes in winter, by canoe in summer, Rev. Gustave Lampron, parish priest of Roman Catholic church at Foleyet, 180 miles north of Sudbury, has taken to the air. The priest will use the trim silver and red Cessna aircraft, donated by faithful sportsmen friends, to visit his far-flung missions, 22 in all, where he ministers to some 3,000 lumbermen, railway employees and trappers. —Central Press Canadian.

The "Windy City" Really Earned Its Title

The unseasonal snow "blitz" which crippled southern Ontario swept on to U.S. where it spent its fury. Chicago was dealt a double blow in addition to snow storm, Lake Michigan, driven by 65-mile-an-hour winds, rose up in all its fury to completely inundate sections of the "windy city." Speck in background of photo, indicated by arrow, is a car submerged under three feet of water which flooded Chicago's Outer Drive. — Central Press Canadian.

Fox Leaves Heavy

(Reports today from Eighth Army headquarters said the brunt of the week-long action, 10 miles north of Seoul, fell on the King's Own Scottish Borderers and the Royal Australian Rifles. The enemy lost heavily but captured two hills which are still retained.)

It became so boring in the Canadian sector that by Tuesday night last night had the Royal 22nd Regiment said a high ridge in front of the Canadian positions.

A Van Doos company under Maj. Bill Sutherland of Quebec went out several thousand yards in bright moonlight—and with a searchlight above the Papunuhon cease-fire conference site clearly visible, far to the west.

Given Perfect Support

With perfect mortar and Royal Canadian Horse Artillery support, it reached the summit, then withdrew.

(The Associated Press reported from 1st Commonwealth division that the Van Doos dug new enemy trenches so deep they were hard to get out of. AP said the raiding party "was given a hero's welcome to its position early this morning.)

The essential factor of the battle-field today is the vastly increased enemy use of weapons and artillery. The Chinese are even firing "rocket panels" similar to those used by the first Canadian army in Europe during the Second World War.

This has altogether changed the complexion of the fighting since earlier this year.

However, the odds still favor the defender, especially if he is well dug in and surrounded by mines, wire and booby-traps as the Canadians are.

A. R. GOLDIE DIES

Galt, Nov. 10—(CP)—Alex R. Goldie, 78, who represented Canadian manufacturers at several international labor conferences at Geneva, died last night. He was manager of the Goldie, McCulloch Company, manufacturers of safes and office equipment, chairman of the board of Babcock Wilcox Steam Power Plant Company and president of the Gore Fire Insurance Company.

SMALL START

Historic records show Canada had a population of 79 whites and an unknown number of natives in 1604.

CANADIANS OFFER

Maj. Vic Jewkes, commander of the Lord Strathcona's, admits the position of his tanks is unorthodox. But, he said last night, "it does seem to have a deterring effect on the enemy—and the tanks are a terrific morale booster for our infantry."

The attack on the R.C.R. fell on an outpost of the company commanded by Maj. Dick Medland of Toronto. The platoon leader, Lieut. Ed Mastronardi of Toronto, fought off three attacks. Bugle-blowing Chinese came in wave upon wave, through gaps blown in barbed wire by bangalore torpedoes.

When the platoon's ammunition was almost gone and the outpost surrounded, Lieut. Mastronardi fought his troops back to the main Canadian line.

Many Chinese Die

Later 43 Chinese dead were found hanging in the wire and hair buried in the outpost position. Many other Chinese were killed in no-man's-land by artillery shells, mortar bombs and shrapnel.

(Earlier reports said Lieut. Mastronardi called for artillery fire on his own position during the time he was surrounded, but his request was refused and the platoon got back to the Canadian lines.

(At one time Lieut. Mastronardi's flare pistol was shot from his hand. When his revolver jammed, he snatched a burp gun from a dying Chinese to continue the battle.

(Pte. Johnny Johnson of Windsor, Ont., calmly stripped two jammed Bren guns in the heat of the action and put them back in service.)

The attack on the Patricias fell on two companies. One was the 2nd Patricias company commanded by Maj. Paddy Ryall, soon to return to Canada. The other was the 1st Patricias company commanded by Maj. Jack George, of Edmonton—spending its first night in the line.

The fighting was at close quarters on both sectors. Next morning 36 enemy bodies were found strung on the barbed wire and uncounted others were in No-Man's-Land.

"This is the way we like it—why go out and chase the enemy when he wants to come in so generously," said Brig. J. M. Rockingham, commander of the Canadian brigade.

However, after the two experiences with the Canadians, the communists switched their attention elsewhere on the Commonwealth division front.

"EXAMINER" HOISTS PRICE

Los Angeles, Nov. 10. (AP)— The Los Angeles Examiner last night announced an increase in the price of its Sunday edition from 15 to 20 cents a copy, effective Nov. 18. The Los Angeles Times made a like announcement on Thursday. Both papers raised their daily prices from 7½ to 10 cents a copy and their monthly subscription from $3 to $3.25 October 1. Increased production costs were blamed for the increases.

News of Trenton

Make Every Day Remembrance Day, Salvation Army's Gardner Advises

Trenton — (Special) — Salvation Army Lieutenant Phil Gardner speaking at the Trenton Legion's annual banquet last night told his listeners that the significance of armistice was to make every day a Remembrance Day instead of treating it with mockery by making a big show of it for one day only. He compared the Legion to the three stages of a growing tree. The Legion, he said, was like a true first rooted on a sound foundation. It branched upwards toward heaven and God, he said, and the best way the Legion will contain to grow is with godly principles to live by. Legion spreads out it renders a service comparable to a tree providing shade for the weary travellers.

Lieut. Gardner warned legionnaires against resting on their laurels. "Shoot straight for the sports", he said, asking them to forget their past achievements. He talked about the glorious future that was ahead of them.

Group Capt. Dunlop, C.O. at the Trenton Air Station, responded to Rcmb. Harris' toast to the armed forces. He opened his remarks by saying that it seemed to him that there were two things important between the Canadian Legion and the welfare of services. One was the welfare of personnel and two was the adequate defence force for Canada. The serviceman was the first responsibility of the Legion after he was out of the service. He praised the Legion for its many accomplishments in rehabilitating armed service personnel. The R.C.A.F. had had a long record, he said, toward welfare for the men while they are still in the defence. He mentioned better housing, pay and clothing the air force had initiated or collected.

"However I feel in comparison these are second, point 2 more important," the group captain said. He related a message from Air Chief Marshall Slemon when he told the world that United Nations were building up their defence, their stability, for the despatch qualities and good opportunities for governing war. To deter a possible aggressor was the best way to preserve our way of life. If we do that we will have a chance to win.

The commanding officer revealed that the armed services had never been in a better position to offer a good career. He pointed out the three main advantages, good steady employment, the leadership qualities and good opportunities for governing war. To deter a possible aggressor was the best way to preserve our way of life. If we do that we will have a chance to win.

"Sunday is Remembrance Day and I think it is appropriate at this time," the speaker said in conclusion.

Mayor Ken Couch proposed the toast to the Canadian Legion.

Archbishop Lyons Dedicates New Huron College

London, Ont., Nov. 10 — (CP) —Huron College's new $1,339,000 buildings were opened officially and blessed and dedicated by Most Rev. John Lyons, Anglican Archbishop of Ontario.

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Monday, Nov. 12

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—The more delicate, artistic and purely mental interests shown favor. Mars and Saturn both urge patience, kindness in laborious work and dealing with groups of people. Military tactics improve.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Excellent outlook this beginning of a new week. Artistic and scientific professions, handling commodities for home and family, foods, all table delicacies, clothing, etc. rate first.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Be especially careful how you plan and how you start week's activities, for hard tasks, matters requiring keen brain work are in order. Artistic things rarely succeed.

June 22 to July 22—(Cancer)—Full, generous day in many ways. Make the most of helpful offerings. Improve the quality of work. Interests you like and for which you have talent especially succeed.

July 24 to August 23—(Leo)—Be mindful of consistency and accuracy in effort, above new particularly. Sudden decisions and changes not prudent. Day can be prosperous with smart management, smooth handling.

August 24 to September 23—(Virgo)—Day should be pleasant bring satisfactory returns if you are patient and don't expect too much, either of yourself or others. The arts, science, study, religion, teaching are first in favor.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—Get an early start if possible for day holds fresh advantages, opportunity to advance yourself, perhaps solidify new holdings and better things generally for community, family and self.

October 24 to November 22—(Scorpio)—Not all suspicious for industry trades, work with machinery, tools, etc. but alert, patience will keep you in right groove. Scientific, artistic professions, domesticity tops.

November 23 to December 22—(Sagittarius)—Mildly friendly for most matters but take along self-control to avoid harmful, needless contention and patience. Avoid too co-operative, tend to your duties and you'll be okay.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn)—If schedule is not too demanding take things in a more comfortable, less hurried manner. You may achieve more this way. Day better for smooth work; carefulness, finesse.

January 22 to February 19—(Aquarius)—One of your best days so far this month make the most of it and accomplish all you can. If your day is free from pressing obligations, do indulge a healthy hobby, some newly useful pastime.

February 21 to March 20—Pisces—Not all suspicious, neither is day restricting. Greatly up to you and what is required by present duties and essential obligations. No need to strain but follow needs carefully.

YOU BORN TODAY: Usually efficient, determined; versatile talents, dependable, especially in emergencies; original thinker, but tend to procrastinate which can be harmful to your happiness and success. Aim to correct this habit now. And be amenable to well-meant suggestions and advice. We can all learn from others, and be good listeners. Hold to self-control and do not permit pleasures precedence over duties. There can be reasonable time for both. Have faith, be cheerful.

4 Youths Given Reformatory Terms for Rape

Toronto, Nov. 10 (CP) —Four youths yesterday were given reformatory terms for raping a 16-year-old girl. Five others were acquitted on similar charges in a different case.

The four youths convicted were charged with raping the girl in a west-central park, Christie Pits, last May. They were sentenced Tuesday.

One juvenile, termed the "admitted leader" of the gang by Mr. Justice G. A. Gale, was sentenced to 18 months definite and one year indeterminate.

His companions Robert Blair, 21, and another juvenile were each sentenced to one year definite and six months indeterminate, Donald O'Brien, 20, the same charge, was given four months definite and two months indeterminate. A fifth youth, a juvenile, will appear for trial Dec. 3.

In the other case, the five youths were charged with attacking a girl, also 16, in a car last May. They were found innocent Tuesday and freed. The youths are William Coutts, 18, Harold Ashby, 18, William Morton, 17, William Bartlett, 18, and Joseph Sweeney, 18.

Girls Hi-Y Club Entertains Staff Members of Collegiate

The walls of the Y auditorium rang out to the mingled laughter, song and words of wisdom, when members and guests of the R.C.I. Friday night. It was an occasion, arranged by Dickson Hall, to foster pupil relations here or for that matter anywhere. Under the presidency of Shirley Alyea, the Girls Hi-Y Club of the school and Y.M.C.A. entertained the staff of the school.

From the opening song by Don Stirling to the final "Thank you" by chairman Miss Alyea, the program was one exemplifying the fine spirit and cordiality existing between faculty and students, inspired by the fine spirit and objectives of the club.

As a tribute to the girls, nearly every member of the faculty was present among the guests who crowded the banquet tables. The excellent meal was prepared with the assistance of mothers of the club girls. Seated at the head table were Principal and Mrs. G. E. Currie, Mrs. Harold W. Wakefield, Mrs. R. Bristol and Miss Jean Shields, Club Advisors; Y.M.C.A. General Secretary, A. J. Davis and Mrs. Davis; Shirley Alyea, Margaret Wakefield, Jacqueline Varcoe, Dr. Howard and Sheryl Sine, Boy Y-Y Club president.

Dr. Bert Howard gave an address on the Beauty and Power of Literature. Complimenting the girls of the club on the success of the teacher-student gathering, Mr. Howard emphasized the imperishable message of literature and the need for an understanding of the message it conveys to bring. He indicated that there were real beauties in literature which should be encouraged reading rather than the trash available in such quantities today.

Civilization, the speaker continued, could be destroyed through loss of its books and libraries, but the finest will remain to be passed on to future generations. The Bible left a revelation of how far mankind had interpreted Child Labor; Stowe illustrated the problem of Slavery. He urged that pupils be taught the invisible in books and the message they endeavor to convey. The challenge to the teacher was to see the soul in great literature and interpret it to the pupil.

Carol Weston proposed the toast to the school to which Principal C. E. Currie replied. He spoke of the cordial relations which existed at all times between teachers and pupils and spoke with pride of the fine scholastic achievement which was increasing with the years in the student body. He predicted an increase in enrolment perhaps to 1,700 pupils in a few years and hoped the great traditions so cherished at present could be carried on by generations as the Hi-Y.

The toast to the staff was proposed by Donna McNish and the response was given by Miss Nellie P. Merry, who said that it was usual that the subject of conversation turned to teachers when students got together, so it was that students were the topic of conversation when teachers got together. If the lives of students were molded by teachers, it was equally true that students influenced the lives of teachers.

Dr. Howard was introduced by Miss Wakefield and thanked by Miss Varcoe. Music was directed by Clifford A. Templer and Lindon D. Read. Appreciation to the girls was expressed by Harold F. Mott, who suggested that rather than an annual event, it be a fitting example of fellowship and goodwill.

B. of L.E. Honors Retired Engineers And Dispatcher

Members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Division 189 honored retiring members and a special guest at the annual banquet staged by the division's entertainment club at Kingsis Centre this week.

Presentations of purses, to the guests of honor and cups and saucers to their wives featured the post-banquet ceremonies with entertainment and dancing rounding out the evening.

Recipients of the divisional tributes were Messrs. Bert Heppard, Andrew Grey, William O. Spring, William Hunter, John Badger, Andrew Taylor, Leonard Woods, William Wrens, all BOLE members and Geo. Wilkinson, retired crew dispatcher.

The presentations were made by Mr. D. E. Fisher chief engineer division. Several Grand Lodge officials were present including Mr. Raymond Carr, superintendent of the Belleville division who paid verbal tribute to the honored guests.

Two-minute Silence

The assemblage observed a two-minute silence to the memory of the late James Whelan and George Secker, division members who passed away during the past year.

Toasts were, proposed to the CNR Motive Power Department, Grand Lodge, Grand International Auxiliary to the Locomotive Engineers and the pensioners.

Fine entertainment featured the evening. Vocal solos by Miss Beverley Buck, Eddie Brown with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Millar received fine ovations as did Miss Jeanne Hollowing piano accordion selections. Miss Buck and Mr. Brown were also heard in duet from "The Desert Song".

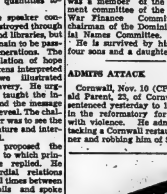
Mr. Albert Clarke acted as chairman for the function with Mr. Harry Drury acting as master of ceremonies. Dancing was indulged in to the music of McAvoy's orchestra. Mr. P. E. Kerr was in charge of this phase of the proceedings. Banquet catering was in charge of Mrs. McKenna of St. Paul's group of the Women's Guild.

Final Success of Red Feather Drive Depends on Door-to-Door Canvass

An overnight spurt saw the community chest campaign reach a figure passing the $18,500 mark or an amount equal to about 33 per cent of the minimum objective. Officials were greatly encouraged by the result and expressed appreciation for the efforts of citizens and workers who made this apparently known note of the urgent plea which had gone out to everyone Friday to rally to put the Red Feather campaign well over the top and to insure the continuation and if possible the extension of the necessary services which the participating agencies provide for everyone regardless of race, religion or financial circumstances.

The executive feels that if any effort is relaxed at this critical stage of the canvass, the possibility of going over the top will be greatly lessened. Recognizing that the last several thousand dollars would naturally be the most difficult to obtain, workers and citizens alike were appealed to for a final push.

Many citizens it had been pointed out, had been good enough to follow the suggestion and send in their contributions, saving hours of time of willing volunteer workers. In a last minute analysis this morning, it was indicated that the success of the campaign depended in large measure on employees and persons covered in door-to-door canvassing. Very little more could be expected from the prospects in the special names group who were approaching the $10-000 mark or 50 per cent of the total contributions. With a few sizeable donations from employees in groups and the individual contributions outstanding, the campaign can be oversubscribed. The picture at the opening hour this morning showed:



The special names total at $8,200. The general canvass $5,275. The employees contributions $3,-065. Total to date $16,500.

LOW SLAMS C. B. C.

Ottawa, Nov. 10 — (CP)—Solon Low, Social Credit leader, complained yesterday in the Commons there is a "shameful" division of time among parties in the political free-time broadcasts on the C.B.C. called "The Nation's Business." Speaking on a motion to establish a special House committee on radio, he expressed hope that the committee will try to, work out a new allocation of time. There was "no fairness" in it now.

Senior Hawks Open Season With Decisive 11-3 Victory Over 'Petes'

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

NOTHING WRONG WITH THAT!

"I don't believe it yet. Shoulda asked for a saliva test of those birds" muttered a disappointed Peterborough fan last night as he climbed more or less disgustedly into his car following that 11-3 shellacking the 1951 senior Hawks (nee Redmen) handed their ancient foes from Peterborough.

From this observer's corner on aerie the ex-Redmen looked like a squad from another city. The entire squad playing inspired hockey from the opening whistle, maintained a terrific clip that the Petes could not cope with. The Hawks swept them off their feet from the start and they never caught up.

Coach Red Doran's checking instructions were obeyed to the letter. We can't remember when the team skated as fast going both ways as it did last night. They swept back in relays matching stride for stride with the Petes and beating them to the punch on several occasions. They checked the Ellistown dizzy, while their goal-tending forays, clicking successfully eleven times, were usually two and three-man affairs.

The Hawks were near poison inside the enemy blueline while the Pete defence did not look near as good as it did last year. The visitors rallied on several occasions but the hard-checking Hawks kept them off balance throughout the most of the game.

Vern Goyer came into his own with five goals during the rout, and we'll still pick him as the best or one of the best players in the group. Coach Doran was the centre of many eyes in his Belleville debut and his every heady-play was caught on immediately with the fans. His goal was a beauty, neatly executed and completely fooling young Tremblay the Petes goalie. The Hawks appeared to show the benefit of the Doran coaching. They never left their checks, skated miles going both ways and taking advantage of scoring opportunities whenever they presented themselves.

But don't sell the Petes short. It's their first game of the season and they have full notice of things to come some-soon, most passing plays in front of the Hawk goal. By the time they hit their stride they'll likely be the same pesky crew that led the group last season, although they did not appear to have the same fire that they showed in their initial appearance here. Their passing was off and they were hurried in their shooting by the hard-checking Hawks lines and defence duos.

The Hawks attacking divisions seem to have an equal distribution of power. The squad wasn't weakened one iota in line changes and all three tries kept up the fast pace that marked the first rush down the ice. A fine inaugural, a regard game but a victorious one and 1,500 fans went home satisfied with the initial effort of what appears to be a well-balanced senior "B" hockey squad.

"FROM HERE, THERE . . ."

Any one serving postal cancellation impressions should see Albert College senior football coach N. A. "Pete" Beach. "Pete" can guarantee you at least 31 different cancellations from his senior grid squad alone. That is how many different communities they represent.

From Harrington Bay, Quebec, on the bleak Labrador coast to Talara, Peru; from Crabtree Creek, Quebec to Coppercliff; from Kenora Falls to Hearst in the Northern Ontario wilds and other distant points come these stalwarts of the college gridiron.

And if human brawn was raised the same as bovine beef, "Pete" has a gold mine dressed in football togs.

The squad averages 180 pounds on the hoof with the line stalwarts averaging 185 pounds. Nice little stone wall for anybody to crash.

"Pete" is on eye-level terms with about three of his players. Fifteen, count 'em, fifteen — tower above six feet in height. Two tip the beam at 5.11 and two an inch shorter. The Lilliputian of the squad is Donald Heafon, Toronto, who is 5.8 and weighs but 125 pounds. He's an end.

The giant of the squad is 238-pound Al. Robins, of Sudbury a middle who played with the champion Red Feather Sudbury Tecks a year ago. He stands 6.1. Then there's star fullback Dave Killoch of Nanaimo a 6.1½ sirpling who tips the scales at 202 pounds. The "beanpole" of the crew is Jim Turpel, a centre from Heron's Bay, near the lakehead, who towers to a height of 6.3½ and weighs but 165.

Pete Armstrong, Ottawa inside is a scant half-inch below Turpel but is filled out to a mere 195 pounds. Lorne Taylor, Timmins, Ont., as fullback weighs 186 and is 6.1.

Most colorful of the squad perhaps is Dick Junius, a 190 pounder from Smith's Falls who stands 6.2. Junius as inside has established all season with the others team. Of junior age, he managed to get in the armed services and saw action in Korea before the military "caught up" with him. Then there's Bert Faulkner, Toronto, a 166 pound half-back and son of well-known Farley Faulkner, formerly of this city. And what hockey players.

Another star of the squad is a Kingston lad Don Shepherd-son, standing six feet and slimmed down to 148 pounds. He is the quarterback of the squad and has been one of its mainstays all season. Six-foot-one Paul Fleck, Oshawa strips at 172 and is a centre.

Not forgetting of course, Milton Moses, Sudbury, the manager, Lanson Reed, London, Ont., assistant manager and the smiling "Pete" himself as coach.

Alberi is in Oshawa this afternoon where they meet the Whitby High School squad for the eastern Ontario senior "B" title. "Red" Townsend's powerful Belleville Collegiate Institute Junior "A" team is also in Oshawa clashing with the Oshawa C. I. youngsters for the eastern COSSA title. Winners of these games meet the western victors for the COSSA championships.

"NOBBER" DAY

Vern Goyer Scores Five Goals In Fast Hard-Checking Game; Petes' Goalie Seriously Hurt

By GEO. H. CARVER
Sports Editor

Maintaining the terrific 60-minute clip the Belleville Hawks inaugurate the senior "B" hockey season before nearly 1,500 fans here last night, handing the Peterborough Petes, last year's group winners, a decisive 11-3 defeat.

The Hawks, blasting a hard-checking brand of hockey, were masters of the situation throughout the contest, scoring three goals in the first period, outscored Petes 4-0 in the second, and 3-1 in the third.

The game was halted fifteen minutes late in the first period when Tremblay, youthful Peterborough goalie, crashed into the boards and was carried off on a stretcher by attendants in a wrist following a Hawk scramble near his goalmouth. He was rushed to the hospital here and underwent an operation. The tendons were joined successfully and the youngster will be all right doctors said.

Scoring Distributed

Vern Goyer picked up where he left off last season and the big Hawk centre had a field day. He scored five of the Hawks' goals and starred on a team that fairly scintillated throughout. The rest of the Hawks' goal were distributed with Coach Red Doran, Bastedo, Wardhaugh, Day, Desjardins and Bennett getting singles. MacDonald was credited with three assists.

The Petes did not enter the scoring picture until midway in the second period, when Fryia blazed a shot past LeFort in the Hawks nets. Wade combined with Mason three minutes later when the Hawks were shorthanded to score Petes second marker. With four minutes to go in the third period, Wade blasted Fryia's pass from well out high in a corner for the Pete's last goal.

The game was rugged with both teams using the body. Checking was hard and Referee Art Casterpon handed out seventeen penalties with the Hawks getting the odd one. Majors were given Sarrett and Mason for a rhubarb in the second period. Tempers flared in the third when seven sentences were dished out by the referee. No fighting resulted, although fights threatened to break out momentarily.

Dogan's Neat Goal

Goyer scored the first goal of the season four minutes from the start of the game on one of his lone sorties. The Hawks uncorked some dazzling speed going both ways and they had a clear edge throughout the period. Coach "Red" Doran brought the crowd to its feet with a picture goal sifting through the Petes defence after taking Bastedo's pass to drive Tremblay out of position. Day scored the third goal in a goalmouth scramble when Tremblay suffered his injury.

The Hawks roared back to the attack in the second heat, Fryia home three goals in nine minutes before Fryia opened the Petes scoring. Goyer slashed in MacDonald's pass from close in, and Wardhaugh scored a picture goal with the Petes a man short when he stickhandled through the Petes' defence to poke the puck past Harding. Goyer got his third with MacDonald helping, then the Petes broke the ice, Goyer and Moher got that one back two minutes later and Goyer on a clearing sallied the big Hawk centre flashed the light with his fifth goal on a brilliant solo rush.

Wade reduced the score to 8-2 but Bastedo and Wardhaugh raced in near the period end to add another Hawk tally.

Closer in Third

Play was closer in the third heat with both teams checking hard and feeling beginning to crop out. The Petes gave Leforr some busy moments with the Hawk goalie kicking them out on several occasions. Harding, too was hard pressed. Goyer hit the post twice while Doran sent the puck skidding by an open corner, Barrett fired home Desjardins pass after four minutes and Bastedo added the final Hawk tally just before West fired home the Petes third goal.

The Hawks skated the Petes into the ice at times, and their victory was by no small measure due to their hard back and fore checking. The Petes passing attack was not clicking and many of their forays were broken up at the blueline.

It is hard to pick stars from the Hawks' other than Goyer Doran, The team as a whole flashed mid-season form and were full value for their win.

Fryia, West, Wade and Mason looked the best for the Petes.

The Teams

Belleville—Goal, Lefort; defence Semark, Schreider; centre, Goyer; wings, Moher, MacDonald; subs, Jones, Desjardin, Barrett, Day, Doran, Wardhaugh, Bastedo, Trumble.

Peterboro—Goal, Tremblay; defence, G. Leonard, E. Leonard, centre, Wade; wings, Mason, Wyatt, subs, Collins, Garner, Floyd, Fryia, West, Mortimer, Dugan, Wasson, Harding.

Junior Ti-Cats Take Eastern Football Title

Hamilton, Nov. 10 —(CP)— Hamilton Tiger-Cats will know tonight whether to buy tickets to Saskatoon or to Edmonton to try for their fourth Dominion junior football championship.

The newly-crowned eastern Canadian champs will head west Tuesday to play the winner of the Saskatoon Hilltops-Edmonton Maple Leaf series. The winner will be decided tonight at Edmonton.

The Tiger-Cats last night defeated Montreal's Notre Dame de Grace 17-0 to win their fourth eastern Canada title. (Two of them were won under the name Wildcats but all four teams were coached by veteran Fred Veale.)

The Montreal team made a poor start last night and Tiger-Cats scored all their points in the first half. In the final half the Notre Dame team pressed close to the Hamilton goal several times but Tiger-Cats held them out.

Despite their win the Hamilton team looked sluggish.

Officials were kept hopping to prevent roughness all through the game. Pat Turner of Montreal was thrown out of the game late in the second quarter for arguing with referee Carman Bush. Later Dick Forrester of Hamilton was ejected.

All three Hamilton touchdowns were won on short plunges through the line, Frank Drilis and Joe Sopinka carrying the ball in the first quarter and Czar Szczesniak in the second. Billy Yole and Joe Kozakowski booted converts.

Ron Land of Montreal team was outstanding and Moe Martin also turned in a good game.

Leafs Can Crowd Top Notch If They Defeat Wings Tonight

(By The Canadian Press)

Toronto Maple Leafs, out to bust a horrible Saturday jinx, go gunning for the league-leading Detroit Red Wings tonight. The game gives the second-place Leafs an opportunity to bite into Wings three-point lead.

If they fail to do that tonight, Coach Joe Primeau may have to join other coaches in buying field glasses to follow the Wings' progress at the top of the heap.

A win for Leafs tonight would bring them to within one point of Tommy Ivan's Red Wings. In the league's only other game tonight, Chicago Black Hawks will meet Montreal Canadiens in Montreal. If K. B.

A Chicago triumph would break a last-place deadlock between Hawks and New York Rangers. Should Canadiens win, they will move into third place, one point in the good over Boston Bruins.

Sloan skated his way back into the Toronto lineup, about the same time as Rudy Migay, injured in a game at Chicago Thursday, learned he'd be out for as long as a month with torn ligaments.

Sloan was out of action for Leafs' two mid-week games because of an ankle sprain suffered in last Saturday's game at Toronto.

Red Wings will show up with their latest scoring threat—rookie Alex Delvecchio. The smooth ex-Oshawa, Ont., junior player has labelled himself as a strong contender for rookie honors.

As for the two teams, so far they're even on three games. Each won once on the other's ice and tied, 2-2, on Detroit ice.

Incidentally, Leafs' Howie Meeker has been a good-natured victim of some hockey needling since his election to the House of Commons as a Progressive-Conservative member.

During a faceoff here Wednesday night, Referee Red Storey, noting Meeker was illegally in the circle, glared at him with the remark:

"Would you kindly keep out of the circle until I drop the puck, your honor!"

DIVORCE FINAL

Cleveland Browns Tackle Eagles In Pro Football Weekend Classic

BY AL COLLETTE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, Nov. 10—(CP)—A top passer tackles a much-improved aerial defence when the defending champion Cleveland Browns meet Philadelphia's Eagles Sunday in the top game of six scheduled in the National Pro Football League.

The odds-makers have made the Browns 14-point favorites and given similar wide-margin edges to New York Giants, Los Angeles Rams and San Francisco 49-ers.

Cleveland took the Eagles 33-16 early in the season with Otto Graham, star quarterback of the Browns, throwing four touchdown passes. Since then Philadelphia's pass defence has become the best in the N.F.L.'s American conference.

However, Graham has kept his deadly eye and hands in pass completion, being connected at 59 per cent of the time.

Browns Lead

The Browns, battling for their ninth shot at the title, lead the American conference with five victories and one loss at the season halfway point.

They are just a step ahead of the up-and-coming Giants (4-1-1) who face Washington Redskins (3-4-0), a team they trampled 33-14 earlier in the season.

Philadelphia (3-2-3) must win this one to stay in contention for the championship. This week they came up with some added strength. Neill Armstrong, a speedy end who jumped to the Eagles from the Bombers of the Western Canada League, returned to the Eagles.

In the third Conference tilt, pace-setting Chicago Bears (5-1-0) are mostly favored to whip Detroit Lions in Chicago's Wrigley Field before some 40,000 fans. A loss would eliminate the Lions from contention. Two weeks ago the Bears snatched a 24-21 victory from the Lions in Detroit, on a blocked kick.

Other games find Los Angeles (4-3-0), breathing down the Bears' necks, meeting Chicago Cardinals (1-5-0) in Los Angeles, Green Bay (3-3-0) at Pittsburgh, Steelers (1-4-1) and New York Yanks (0-6-1) at San Francisco (2-4-0).

The winless Yanks are 13½-point underdogs against the 49-ers. They have lost their star quarterback, George Ratterman, back in the field but it is doubtful whether he'll see much action.

Ratterman, like Armstrong, was reinstated this week in the N.F.L. after jumping to the Canadian leagues.

The matter of T rejoined the Yanks from Montreal Alouettes where he had been playing.

Ratterman will have to [illegible] rookie Bob Celant, a 40-yr dasher, who has become [illegible] fifth-ranking passer since he was given the starting berth at quarterback.

Princess Likes Ice 'Knockdowns'

Charlottetown, Nov. 10 (CP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard, the fiery forward of National Hockey League fame, says that's a bow; then curtsy with dignity.

Princess Elizabeth said yesterday she's one of his fans.

This came out while the Princess and the Duke of Edinburgh were chatting in one of Maritime major hockey league game between Charlottetown Islanders and Moncton Hawks.

Elizabeth referred to the National League method of walking.

She saw between Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers and said it was "a bit unfair." She would have liked to have seen the latter game in which the Rocket scored a knockdown, the Princess told Mrs. Leo Lamoureux, wife of the Charlottetown coach.

The couple watched the first period of yesterday's game, Moncton ended up with a 5-3 victory.

The Duke took a keen interest. He jumped up at the goals. He broke into a wide smile when a defenceman bowled over a couple of opponents.

Queen's U. Seniors Bow to Eagles 11-3

The "birds" of the district senior "B" hockey group are tied for top spot following the two inaugural clashes here and in Peterborough.

While the Belleville Hawks were handing the Peterborough Petes a farcy 11-3 defeat, the Peterborough Eagles downed the Queen's University squad in a similar score in Peterborough.

Hypnotism Helps Vancouver To Second Victory

(By The Canadian Press)

Vancouver Canucks, hopped up by hypnotism, won their second Pacific Coast Hockey League victory in a row by blanking the league-leading New Westminster Royals 2-0 last night.

In the other league matches, Seattle beat Victoria 4-3 and Calgary edged Edmonton 5-3.

Art Munro, professional hypnotist, again took the Vancouver team under his spell before game time and the boys came through again before a sell-out crowd of 5,000. Harry Poole scored both goals in the last period.

Munro first gave Canucks the treatment before Vancouver's game last Tuesday and they came up with their first win in 12 games, a 4-3 decision over Victoria.

Seattle's win over the Cougars last night enabled the Ironmen to take over top possession of second place. Cal Starns, George Armstrong and Bill Hawrish and Walt Szmanski scored the Seattle goal, Bob Frampton and Ed Dorohy counted for Victoria.

Junior B Moguls To Hold Meeting

At long last. A meeting of representatives of the junior "B" hockey group of this district has been called for tomorrow afternoon in Peterborough, Exhibition and schools will be discussed, with the latter likely being drawn up.

Belleville Hockey Association director Bill Cook, and secretary Zeke Beare will represent the Belleville Hawks junior squad.

The meeting is being convened by OHA executive members Frank Buckland, Peterborough and Lorne Cook, Kingston.

Sport in Brief

(By The Canadian Press)

President Frank Shaughnessy of the International Baseball League and boss of the New York Giants "won't have a team in Toronto next year," but will offer sponsor of triple-A baseball appears interested in coming to the city.

In their one season in the International League, Oakes Giants this year finished second last in the eight-team loop. Attendance—about 118,000 — was little better than for the capital's previous year's (in the class B Border League.)

The New York Giants have told me definitely they will not operate a club in Ottawa again," he said in a telephone conversation from New York to Ottawa.

"We are now negotiating with Newark and we have a couple of other offers for the franchise and at present it is only a question of a park," Shaughnessy said.

All-American Jim Thorpe, penniless, underwent successful surgery yesterday for removal of a cancerous growth on his lower lip.

The legendry Indian who won fame as a football, track and baseball star—and last year was named by The Associated Press as the No. 1 athlete of this century—is a charity case at the Lankenau hospital.

His third wife, Patricia, wept as a press conference in a hospital anteroom as she thanked the unnamed surgeon for not taking the operation "the heartbroke," she said.

Thorpe, now a bulky 63 with thin greying hair and heavy wrinkles in his face, won an Olympic decathlon in 1911 and 1912 as the football wonder of the Carlisle, Pa., Indian school.

At Montreal, Leo Dandurand announced last night he had sold his share in the Montreal Big Four athletic club to Harry Hayman, coach and general manager.

Dandurand, who recently resigned as his president, said Hayman bought his share under an understanding reached in 1948 by Hayman, Eric Cradock, Toronto sportsman and broker, and himself.

Dandurand did not mention the amount of the transaction.

Detroit Tigers of the American Baseball League yesterday unconditionally released pitcher Hank Borowy and outfielder Charlie (King Kong) Keller. Borowy obtained Sunday from Pittsburgh in August of 1950. Keller came to the Detroit club in December, 1949, after he was released by New York Yankees.

HUMBLE START

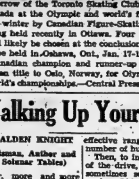
Peter Ramus, the great French philosopher and mathematician who died in 1572, entered a college as a servant.

TO REPRESENT CANADA AT OLYMPIC FIGURE SKATING



Suzanne Morrow of the Toronto Skating Club has been chosen to represent Canada at the Olympic and world's figure-skating championships in Switzerland in February. Selection of the annual meeting held recently in Ottawa. Four or five other representatives will likely be chosen at the conclusion of Dominion championships to be held in Oshawa, Jan. 7-12. They will accompany the three-time Canadian champion and runner-up last winter to the North American title to Oslo, Norway, for Olympics and Paris, the site of the world's championships.—Central Press Canadian.

Walking Up Your Game

BY JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT
(Noted Sportsman, Author and Crack Shot)

Every year, more and more hunters are taking to the field hunting with dogs. And in a majority of the states have shown gradual increases since the close of World War II. With the ample supply of hunters, the game commissions are hard-pressed to keep the stocking in proportion to the game pressure exerted on public hunting lands.

Licence rates have climbed to finance the program and, with the season, the average hunter finds himself a bit harder-hit financially. Ammunition rates are high now and going higher, and the makers of guns and clothing, formerly noted for reasonable prices, have had to raise their prices accordingly.

With this increased competition, and to insure the increased financial outlay, the average hunter, while hunter naturally is up against a good proposition and realize any return on his investment of time and money other than a few pleasant walks in the out-of-doors.

In other words, there is a higher premium placed on hunting efficiency than ever before. There used to be with a diminishing general tendency to, trust to luck.

Few Hunting Dogs

Comparatively few of the hunters in the United States are equipped with dogs trained to capable bird or rabbit dog. They locate their bag each season by walking and shooting and by walking up their game. To do this successfully, you must be in some may think.

To walk up game successfully requires a reasonably thorough knowledge of cover and feeding habits. Going into strange territory, the hunter must be able to read land contours to locate his game. After the first day, all game tends to migrate to safer ground. The birds will head for heavy bottoms and the bunnies are found in the tangled mats of the nearest briar patch.

Perhaps the most unfair game bird to hunt, at least from the hunter's viewpoint, is the ring-neck pheasant. Before the season opens, these birds can be seen pecking and strutting in my back yard, but let one gun go off in the vicinity and they vanish. From then on, throughout the remainder of the season, a man must understand intelligence and know their habits if he wishes to hunt them successfully.

Pheasant Fast Runner

It is it at all possible, a ring-neck will run rather than expose himself by flying. He can run like a streak through the standing party and refuse to flush. But he can be fooled.

South Dakota hunters have developed a system of "pocketing" birds on a drive. After selecting the field they intend to hunt, they send out "beaters" to the opposite end. These guns tend to turn the birds back into the drive which, in turn, flushes them in effective range of a maximum number of hunters.

Then, to increase the efficiency of the drive, the line of drive is sometimes set on a 45 degree angle. This slanted line feeds the birds into a corner of the field. The beaders push back any running birds and they work their way down the line into the corner which is the most escape-proof side of the field. Then the drive and the beaders converge for a concentrated flush within range of all the guns.

Perhaps the most under-estimated target in the country is the cottontail rabbit. To be sure, he can be found readily in the early days of the season. Towards the last weeks, however, the bunny seems to have dwindled to a minimum. Don't you believe it!

Rabbits Become Wary

After he has been hunted and, perhaps, shot at a few times, a cottontail grows to be as deceptive as a pheasant. He will creep belly-down around a drive and never jump. He will sit so close you sometimes have to nudge him out with your foot. Walking up rabbits about 18,000 acres is a little better than for the capital's previous year's (in the class B Border League.)

The New York Giants have told me definitely they will not operate a club in Ottawa again," he said in a telephone conversation from New York to Ottawa.

"We are now negotiating with Newark and we have a couple of other offers for the franchise and at present it is only a question of a park," Shaughnessy said.

All-American Jim Thorpe, penniless, underwent successful surgery yesterday for removal of a cancerous growth on his lower lip.

The legendry Indian who won fame as a football, track and baseball star—and last year was named by The Associated Press as the No. 1 athlete of this century—is a charity case at the Lankenau hospital.

His third wife, Patricia, wept at a press conference in a hospital anteroom as she thanked the unnamed surgeon for not taking the operation "the heartbroke," she said.

Thorpe, now a bulky 63 with thin greying hair and heavy wrinkles in his face, won an Olympic decathlon in 1911 and 1912 as the football wonder of the Carlisle, Pa., Indian school.

At Montreal, Leo Dandurand announced last night he had sold his share in the Montreal Big Four athletic club to Harry Hayman, coach and general manager.

Dandurand, who recently resigned as his president, said Hayman bought his share under an understanding reached in 1948 by Hayman, Eric Cradock, Toronto sportsman and broker, and himself.

Dandurand did not mention the amount of the transaction.

Detroit Tigers of the American Baseball League yesterday unconditionally released pitcher Hank Borowy and outfielder Charlie (King Kong) Keller. Borowy obtained Sunday from Pittsburgh in August of 1950. Keller came to the Detroit club in December, 1949, after he was released by New York Yankees.

Marlies Run Unbeaten Streak to 12, Senior Tigers Win Fifth in Row

(By The Canadian Press)

With a month of Ontario Hockey Association Senior A series action gone by, coach Red Hamilton's Toronto Marlboros have stamped themselves as the team to beat.

The junior Dukes ran their unbeaten streak to 12 games last night defeated Kitchener Greenshirts 8-3 in Kitchener. At the same time, second-place Guelph kept within striking distance, handing Toronto St. Michael's a 6-3 setback while Waterloo Hurricanes edged St. Catharines Teepees 4-3 in a second division battle.

All six O.H.A. senior teams saw action last night, with the pace-setting Hamilton Tigers registering their fifth straight win, 4-3, over Stratford Indians. Other games saw Owen Sound overpower Sarnia Sailors 9-1 and and Kitchener-Waterloo defeat Brantford Redmen 4-3.

Action in the senior loop tonight will find Hamilton in Stratford and the Mercurys visit Sarnia.

Masterwerks Gets Three

Wingers Eric Nesterenko, Marlbores' top scorer, fattened his point total[illegible]last night, scoring three goals. Nesterenko scored a pair and Parker MacDonald, Bob Ingram and Ross Stewart added one each to the Marlboros' cause.

Kitchener's scoring was taken care of by defencemen, with Jim Farrell lighting for two and Simon once.

Ron Murphy, battling Nepean[illegible] for scoring honors, drilled two goals in a space of 13 seconds in the third period, mores. Other goals for the winners were added by Chuck Henderson, Ray Ross, Dave Creighton and Aldo Guidolin.

Senators' Jackie Hair, Raichford and Bill Lee scored for Toronto. Semi-final[illegible] netminding by Norm Defelice earned the Waterloo to eke out their triumph. Defelice stopped 41 shots while compared to 13 by Bud Smith, St. Catharines' goalie.

Teepees built a 3-0 lead on goals by Hank Cleale, Wilf Robertson and Tordy Myles, all in the opening period. Paul Oliver, Gerry Horton and Jack Wood evened the count for Waterloo in the second before Brooker Hallman netted the winner in the finals.

Five in Row

Veteran Tommy Burlington, the top scorer in the senior ranks with 10 goals and three assists to his total in leading Owen Sound to victory. Roy Leckie and Gerry Desmarais added two goals each and others went to Bob Gray, Ralph McCallum and Doug Gillespie.

John Sheddon spolled Bob Gillespie's attempt to run the Oshawa's only goal at 10:13 of the third period.

Kitchener-Waterloo overtook two goal lead, both goals tallied by Don Young, when they scored the winning marker in the final minute. Ken Gamble accounted for the other Redmen's goal while Maurice Leveque, with two assists, Ted Sieklewicz and Doug Verity, with one apiece paced the Hurricanes.

At Hamilton, the Tigers took the fifth game in a row with Doug Maher, Wayne Connelly, Ron Kemp and Frank Liscombe scoring. Bill Stackhouse and Dinny Flanagan scored for Stratford in a game that featured rough play.

Men's Commercial Bowling League

A tremendous triple of 983 including single games of 378-354-351 was bowled by "Lefty" Reid last night in the Men's Commercial Bowling League, constituting the highest three game record for the year. He was followed by Jim Tobin, 864, Jack Young 683, Ernest Fance 721, Ross Hamilton 703 (300), G. Anderson, 722, "Doc" Thompson, 722, Young 683, Belleport 672 (314), J. Doran 668 (306) and J. Tews 804.

Bostaks, Arrow Welding and Welding Gases took seven point wins over Cobourg Orchestras-Adamson and Legionaires while Lloyd Johnson, O'Neil Sales and Courtice Insurance split even and point from Alemite, Moose Lodge and Dairy Brothers. Bostaks rolled high team triple for the year with a sterling 3713 total. Dairy Brothers competition was Star Welding who toppled the Dairy Brothers.

Moose Lodge continue to lead the league with a commanding lead over their nearest rival. They stand as follows. Moose Lodge 26, Star Welding 49, Bostaks 46, Courleys 42, Rockets 38, O'Neil Sales 36, Welding Gases 32, Orchestras-Adamson 27, Belyea Brothers 27, Alemite 25, Mead Johnson 23 and Legionaires 18.

Varsity Must Win Over McGill To Clinch Title

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Allstair Haig could be the most important figure in Varsity Stadium Saturday afternoon.

With a bad field certain, his ability to kick a wet ball may well determine whether his team, University of Toronto Blues, meets McGill Redmen in a post-schedule playoff.

Haig's strong left foot has placed his name beside those of the great wet-ball kickers in Canadian football history. The Montrealers know this as well as his own teammates.

But the Redmen will be out for their first win over the Senior Intercollegiate Union leaders. Union rules say that if the second-place team scores one victory or a tie over the first-place team in the season's play the Union championship must be decided by a sudden-death playoff.

The Blues beat McGill in their only other meeting this season and if they defeat today they'll be up in second place necessitating a playoff. A tie will also force an extra game.

Hope to Bar Cheaper Horses From Ont. Tracks

Toronto, Nov. 10 (CP) — Regulations which bar cheaper horses from competing on Ontario tracks are to be discussed at a special meeting of the Horsemen's Protective and Benevolent Association.

They came under fire last night as well, at an association meeting at which members charged that the Ontario Racing Commission has been making a mistake or acting wrongly through misunderstanding in allowing horses not eligible to purses under the rule to compete in races.

Most members said they abided by the rule. They had sent horses which their opinion were ineligible to start, down the road.

FRANKFORD

Pinpoppers Take Lead In Bowling League

Frankford—The race for first place in the Frankford Bowling League tightened up last night as Thursday night's competition in Trenton. The Pinpoppers climbed into undisputed league leadership, by downing the Hotshots three games. Trenton Ammunition squished the hold on first place, as they won two games, and dropped high total to the Crackpots, Ross Huffman of the Crackpots, with 301 and 691 for the set, joined the Frankford 200 Club with a 215 game. Ed Reinsmith took two games from the Skeeters, but dropped high total. The Pinpoppers, with Jim Tobin and Bombsmob, Doreen Osterhout of Crackpots, 691 for Ladies High Club of the league with a 237 score.

Standing to date:

| Team | Won | Lost | H.T. | Pts. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Pinpoppers | 17 | 10 | 3 | 39 |
| Inkspots | 16 | 11 | 3 | 37 |
| Fireballs | 15 | 12 | 6 | 36 |
| Bobsmobs | 15 | 12 | 5 | 35 |
| Hotshots | 14 | 13 | 5 | 33 |
| Crackpots | 12 | 15 | 2 | 30 |
| Skeeters | 11 | 16 | 4 | 26 |
| Rockets | 8 | 19 | 1 | 18 |

Hall of Fame Favored to Win $60,000 Stakes

By JOHN CHANDLER

New York, Nov. 10 — (AP) — Jamaica race track has the $50,000-added Butler Handicap on its last-of-the-season program today. And Counterpoint, the 4-year-old centerpoint and Hill Prince, the management has come up with a real horse race.

Fourteen were entered for the 1 3-16 - mile event, with the Greentree entry of Hall of Fame and One Hitter the 5-to-1 choice. The race will gross $61,700 if all start, with $43,600 to the winner.

Most of the horses have copped one or more stake races during the year, including the lone filly in the event — Alfred Vanderbilt's Bed O'Roses. This tough four-year-old won the Comely Handicap Tuesday in smart fashion.

The records show that only one three-year-old — Lovely Night—has won the Butler, while older horses since the Butler was inaugurated in 1933. Hall of Fame, a gelding, has three-year-old this year, and was barely beaten by Counterpoint in the Brooklyn handicap last week.

Tornedo Jet and Atkinson rides Hall of Fame, top-weighted for his age at 121 pounds.

Chenier Retains Snooker Title

By WILF CHISLETT
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Winnipeg, Nov. 10—(CP)—A short, dapper French-Canadian who doesn't read because it hurts his eyes was crowned top amateur snooker match tonight after successfully defending his Canadian championship.

George Chenier of Toronto — now City's playing — has been meeting all comers in the art of cue-wielding since he claimed the championship title six years ago.

His fifth defence ended Thursday when he gained a 28-game victory in his best-of-51-game match with Leo Levitt of Montreal. The Toronto player and Levitt won nine games during the two-day playoff.

Chenier, an expert who can make the balls do everything but talk, is acknowledged as Canada's leading snooker player and one of the few who make a living from the game. His chief competitor is the lack of home-grown talent to test his skill.

Tommy Bolt Leads by Stroke In Golf Tourney

By KEN ALTZA

Pinehurst, N. C., Nov. 10—(AP)—Tommy (Thunder) Bolt, who made a habit of playing his best golf late in the year is at it again.

The 33-year-old shotmaker from Houston, Tex., was a stroke ahead of his 50 rivals after 54 holes of the North and South Open Golf Tournament.

Bolt, 37th on this year's tournament money-winning list, was fourth in the 1949 Miami, Fla., open in December, 1948. He tied for 4th there last year and the following week was second in the Savannah open.

It's that time of year again and Bolt is hoping this will be the tournament he makes his first big dollar victory.

Middlecoff, 36-hole leader at 142, slipped to 73 yesterday for 215.

The freckled Tennessean, winner of this tournament while an amateur six years ago, has won six tournaments and finished second in seven others this year.

Five dangerous professionals, including Sammy Snead, British Ryder Cupper from Scotland, were locked at 216, only two strokes off the pace. Jack Johnny Adams were Doug Ford of Hattiesburg, Miss., John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., Bobby Toski of Northampton, Mass., and Julius Boros of Southern Pines, N. C.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Somebody once said the trouble with war is that it killed the wrong kind of people. Similarly one can think of bridge partners.

Take the wrong responses to your doubles. They deny us freedom from fear, the right to believe in rules, and the pursuit of happiness in our ways of bridge life.

After an opponent has opened the bidding, the word double is a signal. It asks partner to take the last bid out with some new bid. So it is known as a takeout double.

A takeout double shows a hand that is as good as an opening bid of one, not as good as a jump overcall or an overcall in an opponent suit; but better than a simple overcall.

An opening bid of one shows a hand that contains five tricks, four high cards, two sure tricks. So a takeout double promises that number of tricks, high cards, and sure tricks.

In answer thereto, partner is not forced to bid if there is an intervening bid. If there is an intervening bid, partner has the privilege of passing.

But if there is no intervening bid, partner is forced to bid something in answer to a takeout double. His answer is anything but a pass no matter how weak his hand, even if it is absolutely worthless.

Such answers follow this order of preference: First, any unbid major suit with at least four cards of any kind; second any unbid minor suit with at least four cards of any kind.

Your south opponent opens with a heart and your west partner doubles for takeout. If north opponent passes, you must take some action with your east hand. This is your east hand:

♣K 8 3 2

Bid one spade. The fact that your spade suit is weak is not an excuse for passing. You must bid it or else.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 10 — (AP) — William Holden doesn't need to worry about his future.

The actor has his next 14 years of employment assured, and with a handsome salary. Holden recently arranged an extension of his Paramount contract.

"I have to do one picture a year for 14 years, plus an option for another," he said. "I also have the freedom to do an outside picture of my own."

Holden, long overlooked in the box-office sweepstakes, is building into a strong attraction.

Morals Attacked

The Roman Catholic Legion of Decency placed a "condemned" rating on "La Ronde," the sexy French film which is expected to have a war's run at a theatre in Beverly Hills.

Incidentally, the Legion is reported proposing a blast at the "low moral tone" of recent Hollywood films. It will probably cite such pictures as "Streetcar Named Desire" and "Place in the Sun" as being too censorable.

Capsule Review

"Quo Vadis" is the most spectacular film since "Ben Hur" and "Lightenforce." But as an epic it hasn't the corn of De Mille — nor the excitement. It is blessed with some highly - competent acting and a well-written script.

The picture is satisfying but not perfect. There are dull sports and too much dwelling on the torturers of the Roman circus. Robert Taylor as the soldier and Deborah Kerr as the Christian maid are forceful and convincing.

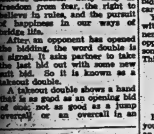
Ma was kind of smiling to herself in her thoughts, saying to pop, William, do you think Lola Lolita is attractive?

Well, if I ever saw her walking down a street I would turn my head, but I probably give her a 2nd glance, pop said. Hasn't she been voted one of Hollywood's 10 best undressed women, or something like that? he said, and ma said, Now William, I'm not discussing her figure. When I say attractive I mean do you think she's good looking? she said.

Well, yes and no, pop said, and ma said, Is that an answer?



It's 2 answers, pop said, for I mean if somthing a certain lack of expression on a woman's face, or she is good looking, but do you think a woman's eyes should express intelligents and her smile at least her in her face pop said, and ma said, I admit that, but just once I happen to be speaking in a general, impartial, more or less impersonal way? Somebody to be perfectly frank, made the rediculus statement that I look like her, ma said.

Oh well, speeking purely from a scientific viewpoint, there are certain women who have all the ear marks of grate bewty, but the only thing wrong with them is that their faces are not on the right people and that's the trubble with Lola Lolita, to be brutally frank, pop said, and ma said, Oh William, dont be so hard on the poor thing.

The latter looks like a radio with no set and has a tone like a violin. Now the concerto has been moved in from of it. To be finished by spring. Quentin's Concerto promises to be unique.

WISHART CAMPBELL'S hobby is bird-watching. CFRB's director of music and continuity is an authority on bird calls. Some birds he knows with field glasses. Some birds have nothing else to identify one night. Wishart heard tapping at the window. Opened it to find a dazed and exhausted Warbler in attendance. He had evidently flown into a picture window. The tapping was Wishart's knuckles on the window pane and, according to the story, the Warbler had recovered and flown on his way.

JANE GREY, CHUM, Canada's Dorothy Dix, answers problem-stricken on her 15-minute daily news and entertaining. Jane says all letters are answered, but only those of general interest are broadcast. In-laws, children, money, illness, religion, loneliness, unpopularity, the accident, old-age . . . the 12th. category: "Other Problems" — are too sad and sordid to be aired.

ENJOYED WATCHING BOD'S SCRAPBOOK from the studio Sunday night. Jean MacPherson, 11 Bloomingdale and his wife drive into the country every weekend, sometimes more than once. Jean's assignment is to find the homey philosophy, humorous reading or poetry that will Bod does with such mastery. Ad-lib background music on the electric organ is cleverly done by Quentin Maclean. Many thanks, Jean and Bod, for one of the top TV Sounds ever heard in Canada. Bod's guests on the Harvey Hazlitt, columnist, Jack Cooney, producer, contribute to the show's success.

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Sunday, November 11

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—No exciting influences shown; quite mild hindering ones from Mercury and Venus warn to be careful in written matters and your attitude toward things generally. First, your church services.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Your Venus suggests care in disposition and avoid much difficulty. Day primarily favors religious devotions, charity, useful social affairs, all good deeds. Enjoy relaxing recreation, too.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Mildly favorable, particularly for doings that please God and our spiritual nature. Rest, pleasant diversion from usual tasks sponsored. Be interested in our armed forces' big for peace.

June 22 to July 23—(Cancer)—As for most of us today, the atmosphere is neither stimulating nor hindering but attention to essentials is urged. Church, care of children and the ill in order, also healthy fun.

July 24 to August 23—(Leo)—May not be the time to seek advancement in position. If work is your schedule today, do your best in whatever duties and you will be rewarded. Start day at church, seek God's guidance.

August 23 to September 23—(Virgo)—Sort of day we all need at intervals to give pause, time for contemplation on other than business and temporal matters. Think of spiritual needs, health-building due recreation.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—Not all favorable for all things but surely no honest endeavor or charitable deed will go unrecorded. Feed your mind and soul as well as body, all three work together in a good life.

October 24 to November 22—(Scorpio)—Best course to follow now will be one of moderation, patience, kindliness, understanding. Do this and you can't fail. Prayer and religious devotions give lasting strength, true comfort.

November 23 to December 22—(Sagittarius)—You will gain more, be happier all told if you quietly go about duties and all activities, and if you are tolerant of others' shortcomings. Enjoy your church, also relaxation.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn)—Neither too helpful nor hindering tendencies here. Study day's obligations, then act accordingly. Try to include some healthy recreation, and go to church for inner comfort.

January 22 to February 20—(Aquarius)—Be consistent in the right things and shun unhealthy restlessness if you would have a good day. Essentials can be done quickly. Start day with religious devotions. Rest, relax, too.

February 21 to March 20—(Pisces)—Can be a non-irritating, really pleasant and relaxing day if you help make it so. No worry or working hard at unnecessary laborious tasks. Pray, read, enjoy a hobby, a public service.

YOU BORN TODAY: Educated rightly and with right spiritual inclinations you can be a highly useful, constructive citizen, popular, respected. May reach top rung of success ladder for you have great talents and capability, plus initiative, tireless energy, ambition and courage. Do not permit hold; never be too self-satisfied albeit do have confidence. The former defeat ambition, cause loss of friends, limit achievement. Humility a great asset, pray for it, and for God's guidance always.

Birthdate: Gen'l. George S. Patton, U.S.A.; Thos. Bailey Aldrich, author; Maude Adams, noted actress.

WHY WE SAY

SINCERE
THANKS TO KATHY RICHMOND SWIMMING CHAMP.

. . . Without wax

Most of us are suspicious of it, but when we say someone is sincere, we mean that he is "without wax." In ancient Rome dishonest builders contractors sometimes used inferior marble in their work. When cracks in pillars developed they were filled with wax. But one without cracks was said to be sincere . . . free from wax. (Thanks to Ruth Weberman, Winnipeg).

CAMPBELLFORD

Sunday School Class Presents 'Cinderella' Puppet Show

Campbellford — A large and appreciative audience was treated to a rather unique form of entertainment on Tuesday night, when girls of Mrs. Bright's class of the St. John's United Church Sunday School presented the story of "Cinderella" in the form of a puppet show. The young and old were fascinated by the antics of the acting dolls.

Cast

The puppets were made by the girls themselves, under the supervision of Mrs. Bright, and were manipulated by strings behind the scenes. They were skilfully handled by the following class members: Daisy and Charlotte, (the ugly sisters), Dorothy Ann Ferries and Gwen Stephens; Cinderella, Janet Cairns; A Page, Shirley Wright; Stepmother, Margaret Nelson; Fairy Godmother, Gwen Jacobs; Prince, Barbara Fox; Nero, Joan Jeffs. As the narrator, Barbara Smith read her script in a clear voice and with excellent expression.

The audience appreciated the show so much that it was repeated and during the intermission between the two presentations tea was served and candy sold. Much credit is due to Mrs. Bright and her girls for their originality and ingenuity in preparing a delightfully different form of entertainment.

Y.P.U.

Campbellford — The regular meeting of the Young People's Union was held Monday. The worship service, in charge of the Fellowship conveners, Fred Nicholas and Phyllis Faber, opened with the Call to Worship.

The scripture selection from Matthew 5, verses 5 to 12, was read by Nancy Darrington. Phyllis read a story entitled, "The White Birds," written by a man who dreamed that while in church he saw the prayers being offered by the people, as white birds. The kind, unselfish prayers of good people wound up to God, while those of irreverent, worldly minded people could not find their wings. After this Dr. Smith spoke on the topic for the evening, "Amos and Hosea", two prophets of the Old testament.

On the program Lois Pethrick gave an enjoyable piano solo "The Loveliest Night of the Year."

The business meeting was turned over to the president Karl Taft. After the roll call, which was answered by 21, the business was taken care of and later games were played.

Three Membership Applications Accepted By Canadian Legion

Campbellford — The regular monthly meeting of Branch 103, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., Campbellford, was held Monday evening with a good attendance, Comrade president Alex MacDonald, presided.

Three new applications for membership were accepted. Plans were discussed for Christmas tree, also a float for the Christmas parade. Letters and souvenirs were received from two members in Korea, James Rogers and Leonard Smith. A number of members signified their intention of attending the Armistice Day service at the branch in Frankford, Sunday, Nov. 11 at 11 o'clock a.m.

The Campbellford Branch will hold their Armistice Day service Sunday, Nov. 18 at 2.30 p.m. The service will be held at the Cenotaph, weather permitting, and in the event of inclement weather, in St. John's United Church. The guest speaker will be Rev. James McAvoy, minister of St. Andrew's Church, Barrie.

A door to door canvass for the sale of poppies will be made by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

At the conclusion of the business, nominations were held for the new slate of officers for the coming year.

HYACINTHS

Dutch hyacinths are a lovely source of color and fragrance in the early spring garden. Striking color effects may be obtained by foreground groups in the shrub and perennial border. Blue and white varieties can be pleasingly combined with daffodils. Set the bulbs about 5" deep in well drained soil and plant as previously described.

Let's do it with DUFFY!

News Guild Fails To Prove Charges

Toronto, Nov. 10—(CP)—Magistrate Thomas Gemmore Friday dismissed a charge by the American Newspaper Guild (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) that the Canadian Press interfered with the formation of the Guild by refusing to permit Guild members in CP's Ottawa Bureau to work in the parliamentary press gallery.

Also dismissed were three other charges — two alleging that the company thus sought to impose a penalty on the employees and to restrain them from joining the union and a third that it discriminated against four employees.

Evidence was heard only on the first charge—that of interference. The evidence on that charge was applied by agreement to the other three.

A charge that the national news-gathering agency failed to make every reasonable effort to negotiate a collective agreement was dismissed yesterday.

Charges Withdrawn

A similar negotiation charge against Press News Limited CP's radio-news subsidiary, was withdrawn by Guild counsel.

The four charges dismissed today alleged there had been discrimination in various periods from early 1950 to Sept. 26 this year, the date the charges were sworn.

Magistrate Gemmore upheld a contention by CP counsel J. J. Robinette that the charges could relate only to any discrimination alleged in the six months immediately prior to Sept. 26.

Mr. Robinette based this argument on a criminal code provision that charges which may lead to summary conviction may only be based on alleged offences occurring within six months of date of swearing.

Magistrate Gemmore said the union had failed to prove discrimination within that six-month limitation.

As in the case dismissed yesterday, no CP witnesses were called in defence.

Guild representatives lately said the magistrate's decision will be appealed.

U.S. HEADS LIST

London, Nov. 10. (AP) — The British Medical Journal said today that smoking dominated by "the Puritan ethic" show the greatest amount of drunkenness. It said that the United States and Sweden, which have experimented in prohibition, "head the list in the first report on alcoholism by the World Health organization as having the highest proportional number of alcoholics, Italy—the great wine-drinking country—having the lowest."

The Outsiders

By Jane Abbott

For her party, he knew. He stood looking down at her. She wore an old sweater, the sleeves pushed above her elbows; a red ribbon tied back her hair. She looked like a little girl playing at scrubbing. Somehow hands wielding the brush had an adult strength and thoroughness that belied her hands. "She's a darn good little housekeeper," he thought with a sudden appreciation of the clean house she kept, the good meals she got together. Given a little more money, she could make a nice home.

"I answered, John. There's room for the kitchen table out here and with a cloth on we won't see it's the kitchen table, and six chairs, if I put two up at each end. . . ."

"You're going to want some money for your party, aren't you, Lyn?"

Marilyn dropped back on her heels to stare up at him in astonishment. She certainly would need some extra money, he took it for granted, and she had not expected him to suggest it! "I'll see. I will," she answered with a little laugh.

"Well, I've worked it out. I'm going to ask Hespeth for a raise at the mill."

Still staring at him, Marilyn got up to her feet, her hand tight on the scrubbing brush. A mill worker. Her lips shaped it but all that came through them was a sharp furious gasp.

John ignored it. "If I have any patients I can take care of them evenings and weekends. And if they don't come, we won't have to worry—there'll be money in a guy earning every hour you see."

Money. He waited. And, as he had thought it would be, the prostrate of it was magic. The fury went out of Marilyn's face, a look of swift considering took its place. John thought he could read it. "What'll I buy first?"

"I don't think it'd take you long to get on to the work," she said, speaking now as though she were urging the idea on him. "I worked quite a bit around machines, summer vacations when I was a pre-med."

"George'll give you some kind of a job, if I ask him. . . ."

John stiffened. He had overlooked the fact that he had to go to Culbert for the job! But he said quickly, firmly, "I'll do the asking, Lyn."

She dropped down on her knees, began to scrub again. The little girl again.

Something turned in John's heart. He'd taken her, not grown up. Perhaps she never would grow up.

"Lyn" his voice came a little thickly. "Guess I've been pretty difficult to live with, these last months. I'm going to try to do better."

Marilyn's hand with the brush moved faster, yet there was a look of stillness about her, as if on guard she waited for something more to come.

But he did not say more; he did not have anything more to say than what he'd said.

Ellis went into the study with her letter, looked down at the familiar sprawling handwriting and wished it had not come.

In these three weeks she had been here she had made a pattern of living for herself. Mornings she spent at the mill, afternoons she read or practised. The piano had been tuned and she had had some music sent up to her from Concord. Almost every afternoon she took a walk up the trail; she had no desire to go down into the valley. Evenings she shut herself in the study with all the lights switched on and pored over the books on the manufacturing of paper which she found on her grandfather's shelves.

She did not often go into the kitchen. Her only responsibility in running the house was to cash a check each week at Pete Strand's for supplies. Hespeth put her meals on the big, dark, dining room table and she ate them there, alone.

There were times when it was not enough. Times when she dropped the book she was reading, aware that she wasn't following a word of it. Then the silence of the big empty house would crowd frighteningly in on her. Times at the office when she saw it a sort of siege and herself only acting a part on a stage as well, either. The manager had told her she was getting on fast but she knew she wasn't. In Ingarfield, perhaps, but that was so little a part of it, even though the manager had said it was everything.

She was following his advice and staying away from the sheds, he was right—until she knew more about it she must leave the running of the mill to him. Though in her heart she knew she was afraid of meeting again the hostilities that had blazed on Hespeth's face that first morning, when she told them a woman was coming to work in the mill.

Hespeth's face had had something of the same look when she spoke of it, soon afterwards. "I hear Auntie Wilson's picking rags at the mill."

She had said only, "yes" in answer, Hespeth had walked away, leaving her to feel in the wrong without knowing why, and that was exactly the way she felt about Annie Wilson picking rags.

She had known families with the old house, yet it still had a strangeness. Once she had caught herself tiptoeing when she was going down the long hall. As if she were trespassing.

She had not seen Chris Cameron since the morning he had buried Major, she was very glad of that, she told herself. She had been, quite needlessly, afraid to affirmed that fact rather often, each time thinking that it was ridiculous for Chris to intrude from her thoughts, only to find him unexpectedly back in them. But even with its moments of emptiness and loneliness and disencouragement, this was better, oh, far better, than that other life she had put behind her—so she told herself.

She broke the seal of the pale blue envelope finally, with a nervous thrust of her fingers.

Her eyes flew across the pages. The letter was typical of all her mothers letters, in the best "Oh my darling!" manner. It recalled childhood incidents, told of changed plans, begged Eliza to return to France and ended with a most revealing bit of information. Percy Trelawn, an old beau, had come back into her mother's life. He'd found her an enchanting house at Cannes where they would do much gay entertaining.

Oh, her mother hadn't changed! The "enchanting" house was merely a new setting for her stage, Percy Trelawn the new leading man!

The old frustration came over her, the old cold disgust. Disgust of herself too, for having been tempted even for a moment to go back. She thrust the letter into a far corner of one of the drawers of the desk.

Hespeth called to her that her lunch was ready and she went out of it. Today the dining room was bigger, and she herself too small in it.

"I met the doctor's wife this morning. In the store. She introduced herself to me. Do you know her?"

"Seen her about," Hespeth said certainly.

"She's planning to have a little supper party next week." In her deprecation, Ellis spoke of it with an eagerness she did not feel; within a few minutes of leaving Marilyn also had regretted that she had said she would go to the party.

But it brought Hespeth to a stop. She gave Eliza a severe look. "You ought to get abouttion't healthy, staying here shut up with yourself, way you're doing. And. . . ." she came closer Ellis looked at her more severely. "You ought to get yourself some new clothes, I looked over whats hanging in your cupboard and there's not a thing fitten for you to wear."

"My clothes are awfully shabby, I know. You see we could buy very few things in England. Where can I find anything around here?"

"There's places in Cranford. Likely that doctor's wife would go with you and show you. You look her."

After lunch Eliza went in to the piano to practise.

Eliza had been fourteen when her mother decided she must have piano lessons outside of the elementary ones she had at school. Someone told her of Carl Friedman and at once Eliza was enrolled with him. Three afternoons a week she went to his studio and, one lesson over, she counted the hours until the next. But it was not the burning ambition in her so much as the knowledge that for that hour and the half hour it took to walk to the studio and back, she would be away from the apartment.

Sometimes Carl Friedman made tea after the lesson and together they drank it and ate sweet, mushy-tasting biscuits.

Those lessons and her hours of practising very happy ones, the only really happy ones she knew.

Until Afternoon . . . After that she could not bear to touch a piano, for every note brought some memory to torture her.

But New Interval was an ocean's width away. She surely was safe from it here. She had sat down at the piano as soon as it was tuned and begun to play.

She began today with Brahms' waltz. She wasn't playing ill well, she knew. It would take months of practising to make up for that long while she had not touched a piano. She let her hands drop from the keys, discouragedly.

"Oh, please don't stop," said a voice behind her. A soft voice, not Hespeth's. A middle-aged woman stood just inside the door.

Eliza sprang up from the piano startled and indignant at such unceremonious intrusion.

"I'm Annie Wilson." Annie came further into the room, smiling, unembarrassed. "It's good to hear someone at the piano again. I stood, here, just listening."

Annie Wilson. The woman who had asked for a job picking rags at the mill. But why was she here?

"Is there something I can do for you?"

Annie Wilson's smile did not alter at Eliza's distant manner. "No, I just wanted to tell you I was glad you'd come back. And that if there was anything I could do for you, I'd be happy to, Or Dave—things about the house, outside. It's hard to get men to do work outside, they're most all in the mill, but Dave will, evenings, or my boy, Ted, if there's anything. I wanted you to know."

Eliza answered in a slightly warmer tone, "That's very kind of you, Mrs. Wilson. Hespeth hasn't spoken of needing any help inside or out, but if she does, I'll remember what you said."

I was walking along with Shorty Judge and Lucky Leroy Shooster, just walking along, and Lucky Leroy quick stooped down and picked something up, saying, Oh boy, just what I needed, pencil with blue lead in it.

Him always trying to sound even more lucky than he really actually is, just to make us feiven more jellis, and I said, Aw, you aint always so lucky.

Why aint I? Lucky said. I bet you cant name any time I was unlucky, he said, and I said, The heck I cant. How about that time you swallowed a dime? Was that lucky? I said.

Sure it was, Lucky said. That dime didn't even belong to me. You'll never catch me swallowing my own money, I'm too darn lucky, he said. Shorty said, Oh yeah, how about the time you walked under that ladder just to prove you couldn't be unlucky if you tried, and the guy painting up there had happened to spill some paint rite then and it landed on top of your head. Wasn't that unlucky? he said.

I should say -i, Lucky said. That paint ruined my new white hat and was very first day I had to wear it, so I never had to wear it again he said, and Puds said, Well what about the time we were playing ball and the ball broke my leg. Dimmick's window and she proved you threw it because she saw you, and your father made you pay for it out of your allowance. I bet you'll even claim that was lucky, he said.

Sure that was one of the luckiest times of all, Lucky said. My mother was so sorry for me she gave me a half a dollar without saying why, and my ant took pity on me and gave me a dollar without mentioning what for, and even my father felt his conscience and raised my allowance the next tim , and he's kept it raised ever nce, he said.

The result being we got so discouraged we changed the subject.

Royal Couple Sail For Home, Hope To Return Again

Welcome at St. John's One of Heartiest of Tour

By JACK BRAYLEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Portugal Cove, Nfld., Nov. 12 (CP)—The royal couple sailed from here at 12:30 p.m. today aboard the Empress of Scotland on the return trip to England after a 16,000-mile tour across North America.

Guns boomed a salute as the Princess and Duke embarked from this tiny fishing village. The royal couple had a last triumphal drive through nearby St. John's on this mild November day.

Then they motored to this village, boarded the tender Menaco and surrounded by a flag-bedecked fleet of 30 fishing vessels moved across a mile patch of rough water of Conception Bay to the big liner that will be their home for the next few days en route to England.

Cruiser Aids as Escort

Escorting the liner on the first lap of her voyage was the cruiser Ontario. She will accompany the royal couple on the last three Atlantic stops—Prince Edward Island, Quebec and Newfoundland.

The Ontario will be relieved at dusk by two British destroyers—Cavalier and Zambesi.

On the first part of their visit, the royal pair got a taste of the Canadian winter's beginning. A wild northwester chilled the bullen waters off this ancient island, which was known as Britain's oldest colony before its union with Canada only two years ago.

It was at St. John's yesterday that Princess Elizabeth said adieu to Canada. She and her sailor prince found a "second home in every province in Canada and hoped to come back again. They will go to England to rest with gifts after one of the most spectacular tours in Canada's history. They received the acclaim of millions—from the many thousands in the cities to the small knots of people at whistle stops.

Show Signs of Weariness

The royal couple took only two brief semi-private outings on their strenuous schedule. At the end of the trip they showed signs of weariness but their enthusiasm remained undimmed.

Their last welcome in St. John's was one of the heartiest of their tour, which took them to Washington as well as across the coast in Canada.

Arriving here from Sydney, N.S., aboard the spick and span cruiser Ontario, they went through a busy round of functions, including participation in Remembrance Day ceremonies.

Their lusty welcome here yesterday was the last and one of the heartiest seir 15,000-mile North American tour.

Arriving early in the morning from Sydney, N. S., aboard the spic and span Canadian destroyer Ontario, they went through a busy round of functions, including participation in Remembrance Day ceremonies.

The Princess, in a country - wide radio farewell message, said she and her sailor husband were taking with them memories "that will always draw us back to your country."

Canada had a great future, "if have seen this future in the eyes of hundreds of thousands of your children and heard it in their voices . . ."

Destiny has given me the great privilege of being able to live my life for their services . . . in these days when the world has given me new strength and inspiration which I shall carry always help me in the future."

Canada Good Investment

The duke gave his farewell address earlier in the town hall. He concluded then by saying he was taking with him a message that "Canada is a good investment."

Earlier in the day the Princess and Duke attended service in the Anglican Cathedral where the Duke read the lesson.

Aboard the Ontario, Canada's second largest warship, the royal couple seemed completely at ease.

They visited the galley, attended a formal mess dinner, and looked in on the junior officers' mess. In the first time we've been together in almost a year and now more than ever we don't want to be split up."

Fire Interrupts Production Of Concentrates

Ottawa, Nov. 12—(CP)—Fire has interrupted production of highly important uranium concentrates at the Eldorado Mining and Refining project in Port Radium, Northwest Territories.

C. S. Lang, president and managing director of Eldorado, a Crown corporation, got the news by radio while in Ottawa for the weekend. He said the crushing and concentrator mill was destroyed by fire Saturday.

He said he would not know until he has made an inspection the extent of the damage or the length of time it will take to resume production of uranium concentrates.

However his report was that only the mill was destroyed.

It would be difficult to estimate the replacement value of the building and contents but it would be in the vicinity of $500,000 fully covered by insurance.

Production from the plant goes almost exclusively to the United States Atomic Energy Commission. Eldorado is one of the main world sources of the rare material.

Mining will continue and the ore will be stockpiled pending replacement of the mill.

"It is a serious loss but will not necessarily interfere with Canada's development," Mr. Bennett said.

Information reaching Mr. Bennett said the fire was caused by a spark from a welder's torch.

Canadian Troops Aboard Ship Observe Silence

Aboard H.M.S. Canberra nearing Korea, Nov. 12— (CP) — Five hundred Canadian soldiers nearing Europe, where 100,000 Canadians are buried, observed a two-minute silence yesterday.

More than 100 German crew members, many of them veterans, stopped work and stood in a hush that pervaded the entire ship.

Then Cpl. Clyde Carty of Saint John, N. B., sounded The Last Post and reveille at a Protestant ceremony under Maj. David Anderson of Montreal.

A four-piece German orchestra played "God Save The King."

Maj. Douglas Gillan of Ottawa read scriptures. A Roman Catholic service was also held by Maj. John Leduc of Berthierville, Que.

The soldiers are part of Canada's 2,500 - brigade to Europe, slated for defense duty under Gen. Eisenhower. Some 2,350 of the 6,000 troops already in Korea is on en route to Germany. The men aboard the Canberra are due to arrive at Rotterdam in about four days.)

Offers of Aid Pour in To Orphaned Family of 11 After Parents Killed

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 12—(AP)—Fifteen-year-old Gerard Moore with his lips and tried to his hardest to be a brave man today.

An automobile accident had killed his parents, leaving young Gerard, as the eldest, the head of a household of 11 orphans.

Offers of aid to the bereaved youngsters were pouring in.

Grandparents and the neighbors stepped in to help. So did persons in far-off cities, some promising assistance.

And in the midst of this Gerard gamely assumed the duties of the manhood suddenly thrust upon him.

"Mom and dad," he said, "bought a house so we could all be together.

"And for the first time we've been together in almost a year and now more than ever we don't want to be split up."

The children's parents, Murray J. Moore, 36, and Mary Jean Moore, 33, were killed in a traffic crash early Saturday.

A car filled with beer-drinking teen-agers crashed into the Moores' auto. Four of the five teen-agers were killed.

As police continued an inquiry into the crash, relatives cared for the 11 orphans in the family's enclosed nine-room Moore home in suburban Pontiac.

The family had moved in only six weeks ago. Prior to that time the Oakland County Juvenile Home had boarded some of the children, they ranging in age from six weeks to Gerard's 15.

The new home, said Gerard, was the "first one that was big enough for all of us."

Gerard said that his dad, master electrician, used all his savings to make the down payment on the new home.

RUSSIA URGED TO RECONSIDER ITS REJECTIONS

Hard-Hitting Address Given U.N. by Pearson

Paris, Nov. 12 — (CP) — Canada today urged Russia to reconsider its rejection of the western plan for disarmament.

Canada's external affairs minister L. B. Pearson, warned in a hard-hitting address delivered before the United Nations assembly that if the east-west split deepens, the western world must be prepared for any contingency and the maintenance of the U N as now known and replacement by regional pacts to preserve peace.

While there are no signs of a Soviet move within Russia, Pearson said, United Nations members should meet any genuine Soviet "change of heart" way or even more than half way."

Pearson, a major policy speech, aplaud with mixed answers to Russia's Andrei Vishinsky, reflected western feelings disappointment at the Soviet foreign minister's sneering attitude towards the arms reduction plan presented last week by the United States, Britain and France.

Pearson said the United Nations remains the last and best hope for peace. "The initiative is shifting from best to last."

He added, however, he is "not prepared to abandon all hope of negotiations within the U. N. for some kind of controlled reduction of the heavy burden of armaments."

Good Relations

Pearson touched on relations between Canada and the United States.

"No country," he said, "is closer to the United States geographically and in every other way than Canada. We have with this the most powerful nation in the world, based on friendship, confidence and mutual respect which are not to some quarters, those of master and servant.

We in Canada occasionally criticize frankly, but I hope, reasonably, the policies and attitudes of our friends to the south.

"This, I think, reinforces the value of the process of criticism of our own free will, we give to her as, with the United Kingdom and France, and with other nations to those countries which are trying to preserve the peace, uphold the principles and the purposes of the United Nations charter. Press To Blame

"That is what we are doing in Korea today, and thousands of Canadians, soldiers and civilians of the United Nations, are proud to share in that high en deavor.

But, Pearson said, "the hastily improvised" U.N. action in Korea has revealed "the real and ominous basis of participation. It has revealed weakness, as well as strength in our collective system.

"International relations are now, to a very real and dangerous extent, centred on conflicts between two great blocs . . . with the chasm between them growing wider, and the efforts to bridge that chasm becoming less effective.

"Indeed, if we took the statement of the Soviet delegate on the Korean question at face value, it would show that the Soviet government has now decided to abandon the effort completely, and to use the United Nations, not for the removal of difference, but merely to vilify, smear at and attack those with whom they disagree."

Premier Criticizes Liberal Suggestion of Temporary Halt to School Construction

(By The Canadian Press)

Premier Frost says Ontario needs schools during this period of rapid expansion and his government will continue to build them.

In a Nov. 23 Ontario general election campaign speech Saturday night in Sudbury, Mr. Frost cited a Liberal proposal that school construction be halted temporarily as an economy measure that would aid in tax reduction.

E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario C.C.F. leader, criticized the government's farm policy in a speech at Hanover and in Owen Sound again challenged Mr. Frost to a public debate on the administration's record. Walter Thomson, Ontario Liberal leader, demanded at Dunnville that the government release a federal report of a survey of the province's mental health program.

Mr. Frost, completing the North Ontario part of his campaign for re-election, said new schools are needed in the face of rapid population growth if children are to have equality of opportunity.

"To say as does the Liberal leader, that we can't afford to do this reminds us that our party is the party that does things for this province. In a great province like this, we are forced to do these things and we are going to give our people the schools they need."

Wants Report Made Public

Mr. Thomson, speaking with reference to the premier's statement last week that the Ontario mental health program is superior to those of other provinces, he asked that the federal report be made public because "therein lies the answer."

He said the election issue is clearly whether the voters of Ontario want his proposed provincial hospital care plan. He again predicted a Liberal sweep in the election and asked that his party be given "a second chance, a new opportunity to inaugurate a great new era of freedom and security for Ontario."

Today he starts a three-day swing through Eastern Ontario.

Mr. Jolliffe, speaking in a farming district, accused the government of giving farmers "a mere assistance of any provincial government. He said it now spends $13 million for health and $13 million for welfare as did the Liberal government spent in 1936. Farm groups repeatedly went "cap in hand" to ask the government for improved marketing and collective bargaining legislation, but all they got were a few minor changes and no major improvements.

He said his party, if elected, will help farmers by establishing a provincial marketing agency, revising the Milk Control Act and extending the agricultural departments activities.

He repeated his challenge, originally issued at age in Parliamborough, for a public debate with Premier Frost on the record of administration. He said Mr. Frost ignored the previous suggestion because he knew the government record would not stand examination in public.

Hasty Pees Form 1st Company Of Infantry Unit for Germany

Quebec, Nov. 12 (CP)—The first infantry unit of Canada's 2nd Brigade sailed today for Europe.

The battalion with a field squadron of engineers, workshop personnel and an advance party of the 79th Field Artillery Regiment left Quebec aboard the 15,000-ton Green Star liner Samaria.

There was little in the way of ceremony. The band of the First Canadian Infantry Battalion played farewell tunes from the deck of the white ship as it pulled away.

Brig.-Gen. H. F. Clark, the Canadian Army's Quarter-Master General, and Brig. Frank Fleury, Commander of Eastern Quebec Military Area, watched the departure.

The soldiers, bound for a Canadian camp set up in the British sector of western Germany, left Camp Valcartier Friday and they will be flown back to their German camp put in readiness by advance parties of the 27th Brigade which sailed earlier.

1,500 Men Aboard

The 1,500 men aboard the Fairless will bring to about 2,300 the strength of the Canadian force in Germany and en route.

Further units within the next few weeks will complete the delivery overseas of the German brigade which Canada is putting at the disposal of North Atlantic Treaty Organization Forces in command of General Eisenhower.

Cities and towns in many parts of Canada are represented in the First Canadian Infantry Battalion made up of companies from the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, Les Fusiliers Mont Royal, the Algonquin Regiment, the Royal Canadian Dragoons and the Carleton and York Regiment.

The battalion's "A" Company, men from the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, is commanded by Maj. G. E. Baldwin, Belleville, Ont. Capt. R. J. Fitzpatrick, Havelock, Ont. The Eastern Ontario troops are from Madoc, Frankford, Belleville, Bancroft, Picton and Wellington.

Admits Slaying Wife

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 12 — (AP) A man walked into police headquarters here today and announced he had slain his wife, then told officers her body was in the trunk of his car parked outside. It was.

Everett Moir, 29-year-old waterloo, Ia., factory worker, blamed domestic troubles for the slaying.

His wife, 29, apparently had been bludgeoned to death, police said. A blood-stained hammer was found in the car.

Alexandria Port Crippled by Big Egyptian Strike

Fayid, Egypt, Nov. 12 (CP) — A lightning strike of 2,000 dockworkers paralyzed the big Egyptian port of Alexandria yesterday.

The strike began when Egyptian workers refused to load Egyptian cotton for Bombay aboard a British steamship.

In Cairo an employees group of Marconi Telegraph Company in Egypt decided at a meeting to stop receiving and transmitting messages addressed to members of the British forces in the Suez Canal zone.

Arrangements have been made by British military authorities for telegrams to be sent through military channels.

Recluse Wants To Know What Fuss is About

Oakland, Calif., Nov. 12—(AP)—A recluse with a strange interest in the atom bomb, national defense and civil defense, today was held for the Federal Bureau of Investigation today—just to be sure he was as harmless as he sounds.

For the last two years Otto F. Maynard has been living in a shack under an approach to the San Francisco Bay Bridge, amid the darndest collection of photographic and written matter the FBI has ever seen.

There were photos of industrial plants and buildings, pictures and cut the atom bomb and hundreds of carefully written papers dealing with civil defense.

And, in the rude shack, police found a complete array of photographic camera, one long-range lens, 33 other pieces of photographic equipment and a photographic magnifying glass.

"What's all the fuss about," the 43-year-old Maynard inquired when police booked him for vagrancy.

Maynard said he lived in the shack because the "rents are too high." He said he is a movie fan and naturally spends all the money he gets for photographic equipment. Police checked and found he worked off and on as an odd jobs gardener and restaurant worker.

They pointed out that his notes on the atom bomb all dealt with its effects; not with its construction. He said they had been taken from civilian defence pamphlets available to anyone.

ALUMINUM PLANT SUPERVISOR HELD ON MURDER COUNT

Accused of Stabbing Wife With Butcher Knife

Kingston, Nov. 12—An argument over the late delivery of a newspaper by her son led to the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Elda Lyons 31, Saturday night and the arrest of her husband, Allen Vernon Lyons, on a charge of murder.

A knife with an eight-inch blade was plunged into the woman's left chest just above the heart, she bled to death within a few minutes.

Mrs. Lyons' son by a previous marriage, Howard, 12, had been delayed in delivering a newspaper to one of his customers. The customer telephoned and complained to Mrs. Lyons. The boy must have spoken sharply to the boy. Her husband, who was in another room, came into the living room and also reprimanded his stepchild.

According to police, Mrs. Lyons then turned on her husband and told him to "mind his own business." The argument became heated and finally led to blows. In the tussle a cradle-type dial telephone was broken.

Shortly before 4 p.m. Sunday, Lyons walked into the police station and told Sergeant Harold Wass he had killed his wife.

Wass and a constable went to the Lyons home at 1 Frontenac Street and found the woman dead on the floor.

Lyons was dazed and almost incoherent when police questioned him. Slumped in a chair in the living room, his wife's body at his feet away, Lyons told police of the argument and the tragic sequel.

The Lyons family moved here from First Ave., Kingston Heights, in a suburban district, about the time it was previously married. In 1946 he married Mrs. Raymond Joyce of Belleville, who had obtained a divorce from her first husband. She was the former Elda Thompson. They had one child, Howard.

Neighbors and friends said Lyons, a veteran of the Second World War, was well liked. He is an employee of the Kingston plant of the Aluminum Co. of Canada. According to neighbors, there had been occasional quarrels between the couple but none lately. Lyons had been employed at a local bowling alley, working nights.

Late Saturday afternoon the Lyons returned home from several hours at a local beer parlor. They were in a jovial mood, according to neighbors. Then came the telephone call from the newspaper customer, and the sound of voices raised in anger were heard by neighbors.

MISSING HUNTER RETURNS

Campbellford, Ont. — Nov. 12 — (CP) — Donald Bennett, 55-year - old farmer, arrived home Saturday after being reported missing on a hunting trip for four days. Bennett's party was based at a camp near Marmora, about 25 miles north of here. He became lost while hunting, struggled through the bush for the night and returned to the camp and remained there until a search party found him.

Churchill Will Visit Washington Early in January

Prime Minister Says Big 3 Meeting Possible

London, Nov. 12 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill will leave for Washington in the first days of January for talks with President Truman, it was announced officially tonight. He will be accompanied by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Churchill's chief adviser on atomic research, Lord Cherwell, and Lord Ismay, Commonwealth Relations Minister, will also make the trip.

The announcement came shortly after Churchill told the House of Commons that the possibility of a high level meeting with Truman and Stalin "should not be excluded."

He said there were at present no plans for such a meeting but there was a possibility when circumstances improved.

New Bid for Peace

Churchill was answering question on when he proposed "to make a new bid for peace by initiating fresh negotiations with President Truman and Marshal Stalin."

Churchill's reply was: "There are at present no plans for negotiations on general problems with the Soviet Union, but the possibility of a high level meeting would not be excluded if circumstances improved."

Labor Member of Parliament Norman Dodds, who asked the question, said: "Millions of people were looking to the prime minister to reduce the icy temperature of the cold war."

Refuses to Comment

Did he know that on Friday Lord Beaverbrook, controversial born newspaper magnate, forecast a Public meeting that Churchill would meet Marshall Stalin? Was this a good or bad forecast, Dodds asked.

Mr. Churchill would not be drawn out. "I have nothing more to add to my answer," he said.

Shortly before Churchill's statement in the commons, a qualified government official had featured the prime minister as willing to go alone to see Stalin if Truman should reject the idea of a big three meeting on world issues.

The official indicated the question of the desirability or a big three meeting would be high on the agenda of the Washington meeting. Churchill will confer over with his cabinet today his projected visit to the U. S., on which he will be accompanied by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Commons said.

Many Subjects

In addition, the president and the prime minister are likely to discuss the whole range of strategic-American political, economic and military relations, including a full U. S. Canadian consultation, and the sound of voices raised in anger were heard by neighbors.

Three Killed Near Glencoe, Car Hits Pole

Glencoe, Ont., Nov. 12 (CP)—A Windsor man, his wife and seven-year-old daughter were killed instantly when their automobile careened off No. 2 Highway overturned and slammed against a telephone pole.

Dead are John Frena, 48, the driver, his wife, Anne, 46, and daughter Anne, seven.

Only surviving members of the family is 19-year-old son John, who drove from Windsor to identify the bodies.

Police said the Frena car had been westbound when for some reason it swerved out of control on to the soft earth shoulder of the road.

The car tipped on its side and crashed against the telephone pole, snapping the pole in two. Impact drove the roof of the car down on the steering wheel and front seat.

Mossadegh Plans To Leave For Tehran Thursday

Washington Nov. 12 (AP) — Gllowing Iranian negotiations took for a collapse by Wednesday of Mossadegh's efforts to mediate the Indian-Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

Premier Minister Mossadegh plans to leave for Teheran Thursday unless British backs down in its determination to retain the billion dollar British Company in Iran. He has scheduled a farewell blast at the British for Wednesday when he will address a special Union meeting of the National Press Club.

Mossadegh, who has been in the capital since he was ousted no sign of backing down on his country's position to boot Anglo-Iranian out of Iran and "run its vast oil properties.

Canadian Navy Still Makes Mystery About Surgeon-Lieut. Joseph Cyr

Vancouver, Nov. 12—(CP)—A Canadian Navy officer accused of being a medical imposter arrived from Japan by international Airport here early today—maybe.

A Canadian Pacific Airlines plane with a full load of United States soldier and a group of Canadian servicemen and dependents said there were three navy men aboard.

But only nobody was saying "yes" or denying—if one of them was/Surgeon-Lieutenant Joseph Cyr of Edmundston, N. B.

The officer, who won praise for his operations on South Korean soldiers while he was serving aboard the destroyer Cayuga, faces an investigation into his identity and his qualifications to practice medicine.

The navy men dodged reporters and photographers. C. P. A. refused to release the passenger list. The immigration office said it had no passenger roster.

Members of the welcoming party said they didn't know what the lieutenant looked like, and they couldn't say if he had arrived aboard the aircraft.

The navy said any information would have to come from Equimalt, B.C., probable site of the investigation. Admiral Jeffry Brock's charges against Cyr. The navy said earlier he would be travel under escort but that he would not be under arrest.

The lieutenant was suspended from duty after New Brunswick authorities announced there is record of only one Dr. Joseph Cyr, now practising in Grand Falls, N. B. Dr. Cyr said his medical identification papers disappeared last winter.

SEVERAL CARS LADEN WITH DEER SEEN ON HIGHWAY

Apparently the hunting is good in the Peterborough area. Travellers returning from that district last night reported several cars, laden with the antlered trophies of the hunt, homeward bound on No. 7 Highway.

ALL THE FREDS GOT THEIR DEER

If your given name is Fred, or any derivation thereof, then grab your hunting rifle and get out into the woods. That is a sure factor in deer hunting according to the latest report on that subject.

It seems that a small party of four hunters went out to Pine Lake, near Gilmour, at the beginning of last week for the above mentioned purpose. Three of these nimrods were named Fred. On completion of the hunt in the wilds, three of the hunters had bagged deer and the other had not even had the good fortune to get a glimpse of one.

The three Freds were: Fred Symons, Fred Greatrix Sr. and Fred Greatrix Jr. The other member of the party was Herb Greatrix.

MRS. ELSIE MARY TRUMP

Following a lengthy illness, Mrs. Elsie Mary Trump, 328 Bleecker Ave., died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Varley. She was in her 82nd year.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Govier, Mrs. Trump was born in England and had lived in Belleville for the past 44 years. She was a member of Christ Church and belonged to the parish guild and other women's organizations of the church. Her husband, the late William Trump, died in 1941.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Varley, one grandson, Robt. J. Varley, both of Belleville, and one brother, Percy Govier, of England. Resting at the Bellevile Burial Company Funeral Home.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

JOHN EDWARD SHOREY (Canniffton)

Resident of Canniffton for the past 81 years, Mr. John Edward Shorey died at the Belleville General Hospital on Saturday following a brief illness.

Born at Newburgh, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Shorey, Mr. Shorey was in his 87th year. Prior to coming to Canniffton he was living at Newburgh.

A former storekeeper, Mr. Shorey was retired. He had been an active worker in the Canniffton United Church where he was choir leader for 30 years. He also took an active interest in sports, being past president of the South Hastings District League and was manager of the Canniffton team for 15 years.

He is survived by his wife, the former Eveliese Palmer, one son, George E. Shorey of Canniffton and one daughter, Mrs. Louise Wannamaker, Toronto; one brother, Pascoe, of Bracebridge, and one sister, Miss Emma Shorey of Newburgh. Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this paper.

W. N. HUGHES (London-Belleville)
(Contributed.)

A widely known citizen and business man, in the person of William N. Hughes, of Wapoos, died in Prince Edward County Hospital on Friday, Nov. 2. He had been in poor health and had suffered three heart attacks on the previous Sunday and was removed to hospital. His passing brought many expressions of regret, as he was a fine citizen who had been active in business and community life.

Mr. Hughes had operated a large general store at Wapoos for more than twenty-five years. He first built a store on his farm, later purchasing the John Mitchell store at the present location. By fair dealing and good service, coupled with obliging and cheerful nature, he built up a large clientele. He was a keen merchandiser.

Mr. Hughes was interested in sports, lacrosse and hockey. He was one of those who were instrumental in giving the youth of that community an opportunity to participate in sports. His car was ever ready to transport players to games. He will be greatly missed especially by these young people in whom he had a keen interest. He was manager of the baseball team and as a youth was active in sports.

Mr. Hughes had served as post master at Wapoos for 21 years. He also gave of his time as secretary-treasurer of the school board. A community leader, he left a lasting impression by a useful life.

Mr. Hughes was the son of the late William Hughes and his wife, Emma Minaker (Dolimage). With their son they lived in St. Louis, Missouri, until the father passed away. Mrs. Hughes and son returned to Prince Edward and she later married John Dulmage. W. N. Hughes' boyhood days were spent at Point Traverse and Woodrous. After his marriage to Barbara Bongard, he moved to a farm at Wapoos, later devoting his whole time to the general store.

Surviving are his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Kearney, Belleville; and Miss Ida Hughes; two sons, Sidney and Bobby. Also surviving is a half-sister, Mrs. Alfred King, of Picton.

The funeral service was held at the Gilbert Company Chapel, on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Campbell, former minister on Creasy circuit of the United Church, was in charge and gave a message of hope and comfort. There was a great profusion of beautiful floral tributes, among which the large concourse of relatives and friends attending the service, testified to the esteem in which Mr. Hughes was held and the sympathy felt for those bereaved. Interment in Wapoos Cemetery.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Varley, one grandson, Robt. J. Varley, both of Belleville, and one brother, Percy Govier, of England. Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

Remembrance Day Parade Largest in City's History

Be-medalled and bereted members of the Army, the Navy and the Air Force with the auxiliary organizations paid their tribute on Sunday to those who paid the supreme sacrifice in two World Wars. It was one of the largest parades ever to be held in this city on Remembrance day. There were more than 1,000 on parade and the streets were lined with citizens watching the veterans march with solid step to the Cenotaph. The weather was provided a cloudless sky.

The parade was under the direction of Lieut. Angus B. Duffy and in column of route marched the color party members of the 9th Anti-Tank Regiment, members of the A.N. & A.F., the Canadian Legion, the wreath bearers, members of the Auxiliaries of the Canadian Legion and the A.N. & A.F., the Kinsmen Club, a flight from R.C.A.F. Trenton Station, the Air Force Association, members of the Civic Departments, the Boy Scouts, Some Cubs and Scouts were in attendance. Bands interspersed in the column were the Salvation Army Band, the Municipal Band of the Hydro Police Band and the Kinsmen Boys' Band preceded by their majorette.

On arrival at Cenotaph, Archdeacon Ardagh, Rural Dean and Padre of the Anti-Tank Regt. opened the service. Rev. Duncan McTavish read the scripture and Major Herbert Honeychurch led in prayer. The trenche hymn of the veterans "O God Our Help in Ages Past" and solemnly accompanied by the Salvation Army Band.

From out the blue yonder came Last Post played by Corbusier Jack Green and the flags were dipped in silent farewell. Again Reveille sounded and back to the Armouries marched a gallant company leaving around the Cenotaph a myriad of poppies in grateful memory of a noble band.

The wreath of the Province of Ontario was deposited by Mrs. Wallace Robertson for the Army, Mrs. F. Parsons for the Navy and Mrs. Nettie Longwell for the Air Force each of whom lost a gallant son. The City of Belleville wreath was then deposited by His Worship Mayor R. T. Potter accompanied by Ald. Don Thomas. Ald. Irving Atkins and Earl Dafoe. From Tyendinaga the representatives are Reeve Percy Moore; teachers Mrs. Lorne Bates and Miss Louise Powers; and trustees Lorne Walsh and Ray Clark. The representatives of Frankford Trenton and Area RCAF public school are the principals in each case. The honorary president is Mr. H. J. Hamilton, Public School Inspector. The presidents of the East and West Hastings District Institutes complete the executive.

Steady Flow of Contributions Raises Hopes Objective May be Reached

A slow but steady flow of contributions to the community chest headquarters at the YMCA over the weekend pushed the total receipts past the $17,000 mark and raised hopes that the minimum objective of $20,000 would be reached within a few days. Officials, however, were not given to over optimism, realizing that only the continuance of every ounce of energy would see the campaign succeed through the existing stage when only a few thousand dollars stands in the way of final success.

Workers were urged to give this final effort every attention they could and to show continued interest and sympathetic support to citizens would be continued to the end.

The executive of the campaign committee will be pleased to date give great praise to workers and a generous public who have made possible such a report in less than two weeks of actual campaigning. It is known that there are still places where contributions remain to be collected, but the feeling is that these will be appreciated in case, any who wish to contribute may have the opportunity of their time in the campaign. Those who have made a second contribution as their way of final success have greatly encouraged the officials.

Special names ..... $9,525
Employees ..... $1,115
making a total of $17,075 or 85 percent of the minimum objective.

The list of contributions appears on page five.

Regimental Colors Will be Deposited At St. Thomas'

A ceremony unique in the annals of military history in this city and not witnessed since the turn of this First World War will take place at St. Thomas' Church on Sunday, November 18th at 11 a.m.

The ceremony is the "Depositing of the Colors" at which the flags of the 49th Anti Tank Regiment (SP) Argyll L.I., RCA will be placed in the church.

The unit is an efficient one in military history and will be part of the ceremonial parade and recipient of the church, will be in charge of the service.

WIND CARRIES COWS

Brisbane, Australia, Nov. 12— (Reuters) — Two cows yesterday were swept up into the air by a tornado which struck the small town of Kenmore, 10 miles from here. One cow was found dead for 50 yards before being dropped unharmed into a gully. The other turned up on the farm 1-2 hours later. The only visible signs that she had been airborne were a few cuts and scratches.

Deseronto Man Coming Home From Korean War

Included in the first draft of Canadian Army Korean campaign veterans being brought home under the rotation plan is Pte. G. Jackson of Deseronto. The draft is presently at sea bound for Canada.

There are 202 officers and other ranks from 'C' and 'D' companies of the Royal Canadian Princess Patricia's and other army units on the draft.

Veterans of a year's service in Korea, the Canadian soldiers are expected in Vancouver about Nov. 13, where they will entrain for Calgary. They will be granted 30 days' special leave plus the travelling time to their home across Canada.

Under the rotation policy announced by Defence Minister Brooke Claxton in August the soldiers were eligible for return to Canada after approximately 12 months service in the Korean theatre of war.

Members of the Patricia's coming home have been in the far east since November and will be replaced by officers and men of the 1st Battalion of the PPCLI (Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.)

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Nov. 12 (CP)—Slightly firmer mid-season support weakened today in early afternoon dealings as prices eased irregularly.

Steels and papers continued as the market's strongest sections with a scattered list of fractional gains. Utilities were firm. Agriculturres, foods, liquors, refining oils, banks, textiles, manufacturing companies, retail stores and miscellaneous industrials held gains and losses in balance. Constructions weakened.

Western oils made little headway but base metals climbed strongly. Falconbridge, Hudson Bay, International Nickel, United Keno Hill and Waite Amulet posted gains ranging from fractions to a point.

Barvue, East Sullivan, Normetal and United Asbestos showed advances to 35 cents.

Senior golds strengthened. Dome, Kerr Addison, Lamaque and Teck Hughes pushed higher while Malartic eased. Secondary issues weakened.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Nov. 12—(CP)—Prices were 50 cents to $1 higher on best cattle, quality considered, at the Ontario stockyards today. Receipts: Cattle 2,300, calves 920, hogs 680, sheep and lambs 430. The holdover from last week was 1,000 cattle.

Good to choice weighty steers sold for $34.50-$38 with a few at $36.50. Common to medium steers and heifers were $27-$32 with good heifers at $32.50-$33.50. Good cows were selling for $27-$27.50 while good bulls were bringing $27-$28.25. Good to choice fed yearlings sold at $35-$37. Common to medium stockers brought $25-$33 with stock calves up to $35.

Calves were steady at $37-$38 for choice quality while common to medium were mostly $30-$35. Grassers for slaughter sold $20-$24.

There were no hog prices established.

Lambs were selling steady at $32.25 for good ewes and wethers, with bucks $31.25. Medium to good sheep sold mostly $18-$23.

Kenneth J. Couch Again Entering Mayoralty Race

Trenton — (Special) — Kenneth J. Couch, mayor of this town for the last five years, announced today that he will be a candidate for the same office at the approaching election.

In a prepared statement, Mayor Couch said he had been approached by each of the members of the Trenton town council with a request to contest the election again.

Mr. Couch said that he was aware that both Councillor Victor Ryan and Councillor Ross Burtt had entertained aspirations to the mayoralty, "and rightly so, in view of their long and faithful service to the town."

But when both his prospective rivals had joined the others in asking him to run again, Mr. Couch said, he had decided to accede.

Another reason which Mr. Couch gave for entering the race again was that there was a great deal of unfinished business which he felt he should deal with.

PRODUCE MARKET

Toronto, Nov. 12 — (CP) — Churning cream and butter print prices were quoted here today at 66 7-8 for churning cream and 66-67 for butter prints.

The egg market opened steady today with prices unchanged.

Graded eggs cases free, delivered Toronto, grade A large 63-66; A medium 55-58; A small 50-51; grade B 54; grade C 45.

Wholesale to retail, grade A large 69-70; A medium 59-60; A small 54-58; grade B 52-60; grade C 50-52.

Butter solids: first grade 65 1-2 (nominal), no prices established on second or western grade.

BURMA SURGEON ACQUITTED

Rangoon, Burma, Nov. 12 (AP) — A special Burmese court acquitted "Burma Surgeon" Dr. Gordon S. Seagrave today of aiding a revolt leader, and set aside his conviction by a high court.

An earlier appeal court already had freed him from jail by commuting his sentence to the seven months he served while awaiting trial. Seagrave sought reversal of the treason conviction so that he could return to his hospital work among the tribesmen of north Burma.

Lt.Col.E.A.Baker Guest Speaker At ANAF Banquet

Lieut. Col. E. A. Baker, OBE, managing director of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind will be the guest speaker at the Remembrance Day banquet-dance sponsored by the Army, Navy, Air Force Veterans Unit, 201, Belleville in the Bridge Street Armouries tonight.

ANAF Provincial Command president Reg. Davey, Hamilton, will propose the toast to the King with branch president W. J. Ford proposing the toast to the "Forces" responded to by Lieut. Col. G. C. McGregor, MC., E.D., commanding officer 9th Anti Tank Regiment RCA (A.L.).

War veterans of the city and district regardless of organization affiliation are cordially invited to attend. The banquet proper gets under way at seven o'clock with dancing starting at nine.

New Medical Clinics Opens

A new medical clinic was opened today when Dr. G. S. Cronk and son, Dr. Bruce Cronk, moved into their offices at 216 McDonald Avenue. This modern building has been in the process of erection since early summer with Douglas Bews as the architect and contractor.

Both of the physicians have beautiful offices in the building with Miss Carol Stanton nurse in charge and Miss Pat Rose as secretary.

Dr. G. S. Cronk will continue his surgical practice while his son will carry on an independent practice in internal medicine. Dr. Bruce Cronk has taken extensive courses in Johns Hopkins University and was a physician to the hospital for two years. He holds a Fellowship in Medicine in that university and has also taken courses at Kingston General Hospital. It is his purpose to open a laboratory in chemistry and blood work and will also do cardiography and diagnose respiratory ailments.

The clinic has a beautiful lounge and reception rooms, while the staff will have the benefit of a separate lounge room for their comfort and convenience. The building is of solid brick with plywood trim.

Slemon Urges Greater Interest In Air Force

It is your duty to take an intelligent interest in the services today and find out what they are doing, what they have, what they are going with it, what they haven't got, what they need, and do your utmost to help them get it. That was the message of Air Vice-Marshal C. R. Slemon of RCAF Station, Trenton, chief of the RCAF training command, to the members of the Belleville Canadian Legion at their annual Remembrance Day banquet on Saturday night.

Air Vice-Marshal Slemon outlined the make-up of the RCAF which includes six commands. These are air defence command, air material command, air transport command, maritime command, tactical group and training command.

The RCAF demobilized very rapidly after the termination of hostilities, according to the speaker, "in fact," he stated, "even faster than the Germans. We went from 250,000 down to 8,000 strength in the period of a few months."

Building Again

"Now we are building again. We could have fallen prey to the temptation to put our efforts into a show window, but we realized and emphasized the logistical sections. The wisdom of this is abundantly apparent today. Today the training command is twice the size of the whole air force two years ago.

"We are also training aircrew and operational squadrons from foreign countries," the speaker stated, "with the result that we have versatility of operation. These new squadrons, the majority of which are fighter groups, are able to operate in any part of the world.

Air Vice-Marshal Slemon stated that a strong bomber element was missing because Canada's greatest effort was the building of including this and maintaining the high standard of living now enjoyed. The United States and "Great Britain are providing this element.

Must Have Air Supremacy

"Are we making the right decisions in setting up the RCAF?" was a question asked by the speaker. "Some say no," he answered, "but I ask you to read of those who speak from experience and then from your own opinions. Learn without question that land and sea operations are not possible without air supremacy."

According to Air Vice-Marshal Slemon "we must know how to employ our air forces against a numerically superior enemy before the bombing forces are mustered.

"It is your duty," he concluded, "to organize and train the RCAF efficiently and economically as possible. It is your duty to take an intelligent interest in what we are doing. If you don't like it, then fire us."

The speaker was introduced by Ron Matthews and thanked by Henry Becker.

Toast to City

Prior to the address, a toast to the city of Belleville was made by Roy Madden, president of the Canadian Legion branch. It was replied to by William Angue, representing Mayor R. T. Potter.

Several groups provided entertainment, including Barbara Dimmick and her dancing class, the Formulaires barber shop quartet, Gerry Jerome and her accordion, Fred Bowen with sketching, and Piper Munro on the bagpipes. Refreshments were supplied to the entertainers.

SOME "FORMIDABLE" COUNTING

A short time ago, the statement was made in these columns that the difference between the population of some of the constituencies which send members to the Canadian House of Commons was so great that, in some instances, a voter in one part of the country has five or six times the voting power of a voter living in another region.

Shortly afterward, Hon. Maurice Duplessis, the premier of Quebec, expressed a similar thought in addressing his weekly press conference in Quebec City. But Mr. Duplessis went further than this newspaper. He pointed out that the federal census takers, who had just finished their task, gave the population of Quebec City as 163,000, although the municipal census takers gave the city's population as 205,000. Mr. Duplessis achieved a masterpiece of understatement when he remarked that the "system used by the federal census takers was not satisfactory."

If it is sustained that the Quebec City municipal census takers were anywhere nearly correct in counting the city's population as 205,000, then it follows that the federal census takers were, to use language only a trifle stronger than that used by Mr. Duplessis, careless. Failure to find 43,000 individuals in a single city of moderate size surely indicates that the federal census takers performed their duties with nonchalance, not to say insouciance.

Since Mr. Duplessis commented on the activities of the federal census takers, Jean Lesage, premier of Quebec City, has decided to ask the federal government to order a recount of Quebec City's population. Mr. Borne accused those who gave the city's population as 163,000 as having made an error which he described as "formidable, hein?"

The word "formidable," as used by Mr. Borne means something different from the same word as used in English. In English, it means something like "causing great fear," or "redoutable." In French, the word means something like "very great" or "of great importance."

Whether he was thinking in English or French, we believe that Mr. Borne was right, and we hope that the federal government will give him the recount he is asking. We hope also that the federal census takers did not employ the same "formidable" methods elsewhere that they used in counting the residents of Quebec City.

INDUSTRY MUST HAVE CAPITAL

There is food for thought in an article published in a recent issue of the employes' publication of Dominion Foundries and Steel Limited. The article, apparently based on labor union research, estimates that a capital investment of $10,000 is required to buy the equipment needed to supply an average Canadian industrial worker with goods.

"How many of us would be working at Dofasco today if each of us were required to provide all the equipment he uses?" the article asks. "Imagine a steelworker paying for an open hearth, a machinist buying a lathe, or an engineer bringing along his own diesel locomotive." The article then goes on to point out that, when the purchase of expensive equipment is needed, the shareholder, the chap who is looking for profits, steps into the picture. If there are to be no profits, no one is going to invest his money in providing new jobs for industrial workers, and business expansion will come to a halt. Not long ago, the Montreal Gazette stated that more than one half of the profits of industry was being taken by the federal government in taxation. This money that is taxed away from the business concerns of the country does not go into expanding the productive capacity of business and industry.

If business and industry in Canada were allowed to retain a larger proportion of the profits which the brains and skill of its executives and workmen produce, many more jobs, and higher-paying ones, would be available. But there is nothing in the budget introduced which means taxes are coming in the near future. On the contrary, the trend seems to be for the government to accede, more and more, to the demands of the gimme-something-for-nothing boys, whose appetites are apparently insatiable.

VIA CHIANG

Before he left Washington General de Lattre de Tassigny was known to DND as a frequent conference at the Pentagon that the 360,000 Viet Minhese troops in Indo-China were "100 per cent equipped," much of the equipment coming from China out of American stocks. This gave rise to the following colloquy.

Question: I want to ask what is that equipment? Is it Western, or Soviet type?

Answer: No, it is all American equipment, such as your equipment of the divisions of Chiang Kai-shek, and they have not exhausted half of what is still available.

When you hear talk about our failure to arm Chiang Kai-shek, and you read of current authorisation of arms for Formosa, it is well to remember this. — (Washington Post.)

PARTY

A few friends in a happy mood,
The joy of laughter and of song.
A table richly laid with food,
And nothing in the world is wrong.

An evening (oh, how soon it ends!)
To all that's pleasant dedicate.
A little gathering of friends
With none to fear and naught to hate,

The quarrels that divide mankind,
Forgotten for a few brief hours
When everything is left behind
That frets and spoils this world of ours.

A party! World that more could be
Than those we manage now and then,
That, as we love our friends, so we Could learn to love our fellowmen.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO
Nov. 12th., 1931

Last night thirteen transients spent the night at the police station and night before there were eleven.

Mrs. and Mrs. D. M. Farrell spent the weekend at Mount Albert.

Mrs. B. Wills of Toronto is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gosnell, Sidney.

Mr. R. Hay, Harriet Street, and Mr. R. Green, Gordon St. motored to Toronto to spend Remembrance Day.

Mrs. A. Wallen, and family have come to this city from Toronto to reside. They have taken up residence on West Bridge St.

Miss Helen Kemp of this city is visiting friends in Lindsay.

30 YEARS AGO
Nov. 12th., 1921

Mr. Pocock and wife of Kearney, Ontario, have returned home after visiting friends here.

The Belleville Rifles formed recently in connection with the Intelligencer and the following officers were elected: Hon. President, Mrs. J. E. Bowell; Hon. Commdt., Judge Wills and William Carney; President, Mrs. Lewis; Vice-President, Lorne Young; Second Vice President, L. Pringle; Secretary, R. M. O'Dell; Treasurer, M. L. Sullivan.

Commencing Nov. 15th., the local letter carriers will have with them a supply of postage stamps which citizens may purchase when mail is delivered to them at their homes. This is a change which will be a great convenience to many persons.

40 YEARS AGO
Nov. 12th., 1911

Mr. S. Ackerman, Moira St., showed the intelligencer staff a fireman's helmet which was worn by his grandfather, Henry Ackerman one hundred years ago in New York City when he was a member of the volunteer fire brigade there and later it was worn by his son, S. D. Ackerman. The helmet saved the life of the original owner when a brick fell upon his head from a considerable height.

Mr. W. Johnson is home from New York City on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson.

Judge Fralick has been appointed Chairman of the Board of Registration for Belleville.

50 YEARS AGO
Nov. 12th., 1901

The total lack of interest taken in municipal affairs by some of the property owners in this city is really astonishing. People who pay from $500 to $800 a year in taxes do not seem to care whether or not they get a fair shake for their money. If the men who pay the taxes do not interest themselves in civic affairs how can they expect others to do so? If everybody would get in the game once and pull for the best interests of Belleville there would be a surprising change for the better before another winter comes around.

Mrs. C. W. Rainbow has left for New York City where she will visit her son, Mr. Charles Rainbow.

THE LOST CULT

It is the year 3051, a hundred years from today.

Professor Henry M. Pludge, an intense, serious-faced young man, is seated at a desk pouring over a large stack of facial magazines. He glances up as the door opens. It is his senior, Chancellor Myron Q. Smedley, a distinguished-looking man wearing a radioactive-proof, double-breasted suit. He looks over Pludge's shoulder and speaks.

Smedley: Coming along satisfactorily, Pludge?

Pludge: Oh, yes, sir. I've completed my research up to the year 1951. Fortunately a large number of magazines were found in an old lead mine and thus escaped atomic age in the year of the Big Blast.

Smedley: Excellent! They confirm our earlier investigations?

Pludge: They do, indeed, sir. (He shakes his head sadly.) The atomblasts appear to have been quite obviously suicidal! Astonishing that it was permitted to go on. They all claim it was for their defense, of course. Poor fools.

Smedley: And what about the culture? Was it a true Decadent period, Pludge? Are you well along in your treatise on life in North America?

Pludge: Nearly completed, sir. It appears there was quite a to-do about a decay in morals. Seems to have been a trying period for everyone. I've already been known instinctively that it couldn't go on forever that way. Still, all that is quite natural. There's just one aspect of life then that I'm unable to orient.

Smedley: Indeed? Something significant?

Pludge: I hardly know, Chancellor. (He blushes and his face flushes.) What baffles me, sir, is the role that was played in those troubled times by the female bosom.

More Than Fad

Chancellor Smedley gives Prof. Pludge a severe look, for Pludge is not fond of men to indulge in the facetious. He notes that Henry is in deadly earnest.

Smedley: Pludge, you don't mean to tell me that you've been studying bosoms? I don't follow you, Pludge.

Pludge: Studying magazines, if you will study these you will note an almost pathological interest in the feminine facade, if you'll pardon the expression. Civilization as they knew it trembled on the lips of extinction—and there was far more attention to the improbable bust than the probable blast. What psychological lesson is implied in this?

Smedley: (Interrupting) Foam padding!

Pludge: "Hidden treasure," one advertiser called them. Indeed, they built-in accoutrements were as secret as the atomic test explosions. Some women only may be found alongside advertisements promising a new life without stays.

Smedley: (musingly) The small diversion before Armageddon. How characteristic of those pre-Blast days!

While he and Pludge muse on this they are joined by the other professors present on earth and as our scene fades we see them intently studying the evidence of the past, small, inscrutable smile on their faces.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Ford Frick

For The Third Time a Baseball Commissioner has been chosen, after many months of mulling the matter over, for baseball is an important position in American sport. It is not an easy job, for it requires intelligence of a high order, great tact and courage and a thick carapace. The new selection of Ford Frick comes like a breath.

Ford Frick has been a fine writer and reporter from his earliest days. He was a good one ten years or so, President of the baseball writers, and he has added to his stature and brought addc. lustre to our national game by his personality and character and admired by all. I first recall him as sports editor of the Colorado Springs Gazette. What a wonderful list of great ball players and executives has come up from the small towns, and obscure positions, to add glory to this greatest of all sports—baseball.

In the appointment of Ford Frick for Baseball Commissioner I have noted that the selection has been universally applauded. That augurs well for the future of this great game. It is going to be desired then the trust and confidence of the fellowman in whatever character at the head of a sport so universally beloved as baseball. We owe much to this sport with pride in the future as in the past.

During the season that has just ended millions of fans have enjoyed baseball to the core and are sure in all leading ball parks, and in the minors as well, were paid for them all. Ball players are fine athletes and they are fine characters as many with families that follow their careers with pride and satisfaction and right here I should again like to pay tribute to those umpires who do so much to keep this game of baseball on a high rating. They always try to be just in all their rulings no matter how hot the opposition to their decisions may be at times.

Long live this great game, and may Ford Frick's career be one of increasing laurels!

Truce Negotiators Make Proposal On Buffer Zone

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 12 (AP) —The United Nation truce negotiators proposed that a cease-fire buffer zone be created wherever the battle line happens to be when a Korean armistice agreement is ready for signing. "Minor and local adjustments" could be made.

An allied spokesman said this would permit the U. N. to maintain military pressure on the communists while agreement was sought on the three remaining points to be decided.

There was no immediate indication of communist reaction. The reds rejected a similar proposal earlier this week.

The reds Saturday submitted a rephrased version of their demand that a cease-fire line and buffer zone be created right now.

The U.N. spokesman, Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuchols, indicated it would be rejected.

Both proposals were submitted in Saturday's afternoon session. Negotiators agreed to meet again Sunday morning at 11 (9 p.m. EST) Saturday.

The U.N. proposal Saturday used the words "minor and local adjustments." Previously the U.N. allies had referred to "adjustments" but "not changes" in the demarcation line.

The new stand apparently meant the U.N. was giving in hope of reaching a compromise agreement by swapping large parcels of real estate.

In effect it also meant the allies were giving up their claims on Kaesong — unless U.N. armies take the former truce-talk site by the time agreement is reached on the remaining points to be settled.

DISORDERS INDUCED BY SUGGESTIONS

Doctors and near-doctors who measure the blood pressure and tell the patient how high or low it is ought to get ten years with this offer for patient behavior: just how many "points" the blood pressure measures in relation to the patient's business. Does a good doctor tell a patient how many eosinophils in a cubic millimeter of blood? If one's blood pressure is lower than "normal" or the ordinary level, it is insignificant as an isolated fact. If the blood pressure is higher than the ordinary, that is probably essential to maintain good circulation. At any rate, if a doctor told me my blood pressure was high and let it go at that I'd hope no further truck with the charlatan. Certainly it is foolish to take any medicine, treatment, diet or other remedial measure purporting to be good for high blood pressure without an earnest endeavor to find out what, if anything, ails you.

A doctor who has had outstanding success in the treatment of cardio-vascular degeneration (heart and artery troubles) carefully avoids the use of such terms as "angina pectoris" and "coronary thrombosis" in connection with the patient. Instead he explains the patient's trouble as—well, he doesn't quote his words but let's say the doctor gives his patient a very simple picture of the situation in language the patient can understand, and everybody keeps reasonably calm.

One wing of the penitentiary holds a number of doctors who discover or pretend to hear a "murmur" in the heart and would like to have it withered committing themselves as to its significance. Some of them get up a hum or blowing sound other than the normal sounds of the heart and, in a few cases, a real anemia when there is no heart trouble at all. Their pickup of a school children six to 16 years of age who have no heart trouble. In too many instances the "valvular heart" obsession has been fastened upon young men and women sons because some incompetent doctor has detected such a murmur and blistered them with it.

As I have said here many times, grown and elderly people up to somewhere between, say, 35 and 50, and the instant one hears a murmur, or thinks he does, like any other living thing can begin to degenerate, decline, atrophy, waste away — wither, shrink or die.

A part of that degeneration one past the prime undergoes is hardening of the arteries. I do not know just when, some years, but my tubing, as Osler called it, used to be large and pliable—as well—at least my arteries are not brittle enough to crack when I roll my wrists downward. A neighborly wife told me recently that her husband insisted on the heart the doctor say something about arteriosclerosis in the course of a physical examination. The young man returned home, resigned his good job, discontinued all activities he had hitherto enjoyed — such as square dancing, golf, gardening—and virtually lay back with hands folded across chest to wait for his arteries to harden. The poor fellow's heart say, but betcha that so-and-so doctor collected a fee for his examination. In all fairness the man's wife, children and friends should have collected, say, $42,321 damages for what the doctor did to his victim.

I submit that it would have been truer, kinder and in keeping with the Hippocratic oath had the doctor omitted comment about his arteries or, if he mentioned arteries at all, had he passed it off facetiously, like this:

"Tell me, young man, how do you do it?"

The young man could hardly make any other reply than:

"Do what?"

"Keep your arteries so elastic and young—have you found the secret old Ponce de Leon sought in vain?"

It will probably burn the doctor up, if perchance he reads this squib, but I'll write a little light lesson something to the advantage of his patients by reading the booklet C V D. On written request accompanied with stamped, self-addressed envelope I will send him or any Doctor of Medicine a copy of the booklet. It deals with heart and artery troubles. Others who ask for it will please enclose 5c. in stamps to cover postage, self-addressed envelope.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

The Rule Works Both Ways

Young woman reports that after a period of being fed in many enrous methods of acquiring a few needed curves she sent me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and asked for the pamphlet How to Gain Weight. In it she read that any one who will take a pint of milk with a slice of plain bread and butter, a spoonful of butter, with or without sugar, each night at bedtime will gain 20 pounds in a year. She did and she has gained 18 pounds in nine months. Now, now dear, I see that she may get too fat. (Signed)

Answer—That's as easy as slick. Just stop the arithmetic. Discontinue the bedtime meal and the pounds will cease to accrue. The rule works both ways. In the pamphlet How to Lose Weight is the answer to your request. If you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope, oh-oh, here goes, no darn it; I omitted to say that any one who will take one less slice of bread at meals or one less piece of cake or as bedtime snack will lose 18 pounds in a year. But it is so. Excepting people who are ill, we who are overweight or underweight owe our weight entirely to wrong eating habits. No use trying to fool ourselves or our friends that it is a fault of "glands" or, "hereditary" or anything other than wrong eating.

THE PACKSACK

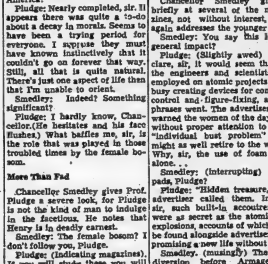
By GREGORY CLARK



The period of greatest danger to human life and limb in motor traffic is now upon us. A great many drivers are in a state of exhaustion. First of course, is the change of season and the onset of winter. Pavements are greasy with rain and sleet; with fallen leaves; with the accumulation of trash and dirt that is characteristic of the first real inclement weather which precede the snow and ice. It takes the average person little time to re-adapt his style of driving from that of summer and autumn to that required by the hazards of the pavement alone.

In addition to the pavement, there is the hazard of engine performance in cold weather. Drivers accustomed to the behavior of his engine in summer and autumn is caught unprepared when, in a particular ticklish instant in by-passing other cars, he steps on his gas and the engine does not respond as usual. It is cold, it misses. It is sluggish. Bang goes another collision.

Then there is the windshield, tires that lost their sharp tread in past summer's merry friction, heavy overcoats that cramp or restrict the easy, unhampered movements of the driver at the wheel, and a dozen other minor matters individually trivial factors entered into the menace of November and early December to motorist and pedestrian alike.

Take the delightful features of driving a car is that it becomes, in time, an almost automatic and instinctive habit, and that conscious effort is very necessary at the onset of winter.

When winter comes, we become naturally cautious and aware. The snow, the ruts, the ice, demand it of us. It is the period of transition that is filled with many possibilities.

A DIFFICULT ART

"Yes," said a country carpenter with whom I talked one day, "carpentering is hard to build." The fact there's nothing harder in all the carpenter's trade than that. Stair building is an art in itself." Stair building is always an art, whether we are building stairs to go from the first floor to the second or trying to contrive something that will lift us from low to high in the realm of character. I believe they can take the elevator and go from the clerkship to the presidency of their company. Others believe that influential men can be put through on the backs and carry them up stairs. The truth of the matter is, however, that if we want to get to the top in anything, we have to build our own stairs, and stair building is always difficult.

We go from poor, hating effort to work, to rich, depending on elevators but on stairs of our own making. If we are to be better than average women and fathers we were last, it will not be so much because some one has lifted us as because we have helped ourselves. We may long for the elevator, or wish for some good friend who will bear us aloft on his shoulders, but the finest achievements in any line by the stair route only, and by stairs we build ourselves.

Stair building is an art, a most difficult one, but it is an art which gives great satisfaction to anyone who with patience masters it.

Better tools because of NICKEL

Hundreds of everyday uses for Nickel have been developed by the Nickel industry through a planned program of research. Today a large share of Canada's Nickel production is being diverted from peacetime uses into channels for preparedness. So the Nickel mine facilities, greatly expanded over the past decade, are again being operated at peak capacity. There is actually more Nickel now being delivered by Canada to the free world than in any peacetime year.

Frames, housings, bearings, gears of machine tools are made of nickel alloys—stronger, tougher, more wear-resistant.

Hammers, wrenches, screw drivers and other hand tools are made of nickel steel to provide increased strength, toughness and hardness with minimum weight.

ST. PAUL'S E. A.

Bancroft — The Evening Auxiliary of St. Paul's United Church held its December meeting Monday night at the new parsonage, with Mrs. Ellis Asher in charge of the business session.

Final plans were made for the bazaar to be held in the church basement on Saturday, November 24th.

Mrs. Harold Watson and Mrs. A. Hewitt, the visiting committee for October, reported on the month of sick visits.

The parsonage committee report was read by Mr. C. A. Eddy in the absence of Mrs. J. N. Brown, stating that $1025 had been spent on furnishings for the new parsonage. The Detlor charge had requested that one of their group represent them on the parsonage committee and Mrs. W. G. Smith, of Detlor, was named.

The women of the auxiliary were invited to take part in a joint social evening with the Afternoon Women's Association on the evening of Monday, November 12, in the church when Miss M. M. Willows and Miss A. Coulter of Maynooth, will show colored slides taken of this area. Mrs. Alexander Smith will speak of her work in Indian Missions in the western provinces.

Following the business session, the members present waxed new hardwood floors, set up furniture and made as much preparation as possible to ready the home for Rev. K. Cutler and his family to move in the next day.

Mrs. H. Watson and Mrs. J. Follis served refreshments at the close of the work session.

CHRIST CHURCH PARISH GUILD

The November meeting of the Parish Guild was held in Christ Church hall.

The members had a busy time unpacking glass and cleaning dishes in preparation for "Open House".

The business period followed when reports were received from the various committees. Mrs. E. Hickey read the correspondence.

There was an open discussion about future programs, many good suggestions were given. A pot-luck lunch will be held at the December meeting.

In the place of the tea and social hour usually held. The members decided to don aprons and get back to work.

FORD AIDS ORIENT

Hong Kong, Nov. 12 — (AP) — A three-man mission of the Ford foundation today leaves for India and Pakistan to start work on the foreign aid grant to the under-developed far east. Chief is Dr. Douglas Ensminger, representative in India and Pakistan; John D. Howard, in charge of international activities, and Dr. Raymond Moyer, former chief of the U. S. economic co-operation administration in Formosa.

Mrs. Doreen Day Tells Women's Canadian Club Of 'Common Cents in Fashion'

Mrs. Doreen Day, promotion fashion director of the T. Eaton Company of Montreal, and internationally known authority on women's fashions, addressed a large and intensely interested audience in Holloway Street United Church, on Saturday afternoon, speaking at the annual luncheon of the Women's Canadian Club on "Common Cents in Fashion".

Two minutes of silence held in memory of the fallen preceded the address.

Mrs. Day, who was introduced by the Club's president, Mrs. E. Hickey, prefaced her remarks by stating that she wished she knew the person who had just been introduced, as so many nice things her been said about her.

"To be in fashion," said Mrs. Day, "is not a frivolous thing, which men may think, but instead is most serious. Fashion directors like it seriously. Fashion has existed from the beginning of the world. It has been studied in the same way as has architecture, or medicine. It is 'learned' not 'found'. Fashion is a style accepted by a sizeable number of people. As other things change so does fashion, but slowly. This is shown in the style of the masculine attire which is slow to take on new ideas. The men of England are the best dressed in the world, showing good taste, which is both useful and appropriate."

The outstanding fashion designers in England are Norman Hartnell and Hardy Amies, who design the clothes for the royal family and for Princess Elizabeth. Victor Stubel for the Duchess of Kent, while Digby Morton sets the fashion for the Duchess of Gloucester and Princess Margaret. These designers including Christian Dior, Jacques Fath, Pierre Balmain and Jean Desses are artists in their own way, which art they put into their clothes, as well as being academic men.

What is Practical?

In selecting styles, a fashion promoter must decide what is practical for the people they desire to help. Styles are conceived in Paris, and digested in London. In the United States fashion industry is the fourth largest, and is nearly as large in Canada.

A person who is well dressed always buys well, looking ahead to the fashion to come in, to be to, and to go out.

Mrs. Day also mentioned the style and appropriateness of the hat, and of the hair. The hair must harmonize with the hat; if the hat is chic and small, the hair needs to be neat and tidy, neither too short nor too long. Regarding dyed hair, Mrs. Day opined that it made the wearer look very much older, she really was and incidentally, she mentioned that a hanging down face was every bit as nice as a lifted-up one, for the twice 20 plus woman.

"Try Before You Buy"

Shopping is not governed by the "pack bag, try before you buy," is a good slogan to use when shopping, as most people have a sense that mistakes, which might be avoided by judicious buying, by applying your fashion to your way of living, this can be avoided. Do not be led away with display advertising in bringing this home, Mrs. Day recited the story of two woman, copying the advertisement picture of the beautifully attired wife, meeting her two-pip military husband at the door. Instead of a lovely remark regarding her beauty, the husband of everyday life, is most likely to say: "My—I'm hungry; what have you got for dinner." "Go please shop and buy, not just buy", concluded the speaker.

Prior to the luncheon, a most delightful prelude of organ selections was rendered by Mr. Clifford Tempier, who at the last moment most courteously assented to supply. Two of the lovely selections, out of the many, were: Handel's "Largo", and "Golog Home".

Appreciation Tendered

Appreciative thanks were tendered to Mrs. Day by the past president, Mrs. J. W. Doyle, for a most interesting, amusing, and sparkling address.

Mrs. Hickey also tendered a vote of thanks to Mr. Tempier; for his fine music; to Mrs. Everett Fairman for her great assistance with the tickets, etc., but not least, to the Woman's Auxiliary of Holloway Street United Church, for a most delightful luncheon.

Minerva Chapter OES Installs New Officers

Friday evening members and visiting members from the surrounding district were present at the installation of officers of Minerva Chapter, No. 138, O.E.S., held in the Masonic Temple, Foster Avenue. The auditorium was attractively decorated for the occasion.

Jewels Presented

Mrs. A. Little, W.M., and Mr. L. Hunt, W.P., expressed their appreciation to the officers and members for the happy and successful year they had enjoyed and wished for the new elected officers every success. They were presented with gifts and jewels from the chapter as a tribute to their faithful and efficient services.

Conducting the beautiful installation ceremony were Mrs. F. Wilson, as installing W.M. and Mr. B. Orr, as installing W.P., assisted by Past Worthy Matrons and Patrons.

Mrs. Ann Davidson, Mrs. Lill Jordan and Miss Muriel Jobson were soloists.

LIONESS RUNS AMOK

Dublin, Nov. 12 — (AP) — A three-year-old African lioness escaped from her trainer and a 16-year-old boy, and terrorized a whole suburb of Dublin yesterday before she was shot by policemen. The lioness was one of three belonging to a circus wintering in suburban Fairview. The trainer told police, he was feeding the animals when one of them jumped through the cage door.

MARIO ... In his distinctive feature about FOOD . . . What's Cooking?

Pecans belong to the hickory nut family. They are the most important nut tree grown in the United States. During the autumn pecan harvest over 35,000 farmers are hired to gather pecans in Texas, which, with Oklahoma is the pecan rewrite of the world.

Pecans are a rich nut containing about three quarters fat. Their meat is tender and subtle in flavor. In quickbreads, candies and desserts the pecan is the nut aristocrat.

Try pecans in the crust of sour cherry cobbler. This is a dessert of fruit baked with a shortcake crust.

The amount of sugar in a cobbler varies with the kind of fruit used. Today's recipe calls for 1-2 cup of sugar with the fruit. This amount can be varied up or down depending upon the tartness of the fruit. The shortcake dough is the moist type which is not rolled but merely patted or spread to fit the pan.

Sherry Nut Cobbler—Serves' 6.

1 No. 2 can sour pitted cherries
2 tablespoons corn starch
1-2 cup granulated sugar
Salt
1 cup cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon granulated sugar
2 tablespoons shortening
1-4 cup chopped pecans
1 egg
1-4 cup milk

Preheat oven at 375 degrees.

Drain the cherries. Reserve the juice. Mix together the cornstarch and 1-3 cup sugar and salt. Add a few tablespoons cherry juice to make a paste. Gradually add the balance of the juice, mixing well.

Heat the juice over a small flame until mixture thickens. Remove from the heat. Stir in the cherries. Pour cherries and juice into a baking pan.

Sift together the flour, baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon sugar. Cut in the shortening until pieces of shortening are the size of rice grains. Add the chopped pecans.

Combine the beaten egg and milk and add to the flour mixture, stirring only until flour is dampened.

Spoon or spread the dough evenly on top the cherries. Bake until top is brown about 30 to 40 minutes. Serve with sweetened whipped cream if desired.

Women's Institute

CHATTERTON W.I.

Chatterton Women's Institute held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. Floyd MacInnis with an attendance of 11 members. The subject was "Home Economics and Health", with the latter part "Health" being used.

Roll Call "How thoughts influence our health", was well answered showing how thoughts might not be so bad, if they were not harbored and put into action. One might think about his work or his misfortune or his sorrow and harbor it until worry come along and he develops a headache, upset stomach, and a general upset of nerves and everyone in the household has to suffer.

Business consisted of plans being made for attending the conference at Stirling Community Hall, the topic being, "We Call it Human Nature", and the banquet also at Stirling Community Hall on 21st.

A donation of $10 to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind; an invitation to the Halloway Church bazaar, on 21st, was received and accepted.

A paper on appendicitis, its causes and what to do for it, and what not to do was read by Mrs. Berson Mitts, and a paper on "Allergic Reaction" was read by Mrs. Albert Carson dealing with such subjects as "Hay Fever" and "bronchial asthma", and skin diseases.

Mrs. Don Rose and Mrs. Floyd MacInnis favored with instrumental solos. After the meeting was closed refreshments were served.

Jack Dean, Andre Bedard Hurt In Trenton Truck-Tractor Crash

Trenton — (Special) — Since Friday the Trenton policemen have had more than their share of trouble. However, most of the accidents they investigated has been of a non serious nature.

Driver Jack Dean, 63, of Jamieson Avenue, Toronto, and passenger Andre Bedard, same address, were sent to the Trenton Memorial Hospital suffering from injuries received in a truck-transport crash at the Dufferin and Dundas Street intersection Friday.

Dean sustained a concussion while Bedard who was almost thrown clear through the windshield received multiple cuts about the face besides a displaced bone in his left wrist. Numerous stitches were needed to close Bedard's wounds. The driver of the transport, Joseph D. Sheppard, Toronto, escaped without injury.

The transport had just started to move west after the traffic signal showed green when the bakery truck, moving south down the hill, struck the right front fender knocking the tractor northacross the highway. The bakery truck was greatly demolished.

From the marks on the highway police gathered that the driver of the bread truck lost control, swerving into the north lane into the path of the transport.

Yesterday the two men who were injured were released from the hospital.

Legionnaires Pay Tribute To Departed

Trenton — (Special) — Members of the Trenton branch of the Canadian Legion and a large number of citizens paused with bowed heads in front of the cenotaph at Fraser Memorial Park yesterday to remember the men who had given their lives in both world wars.

In the Legion hall preceding the cenotaph ceremony, Col. Benjamin Ormes of the Salvation Army chose words from the scripture as the theme of his address. The former padre with the Australian forces in Egypt and France during the First World War comforted war mothers with passages from the text: "No Man Liveth Unto Himself and No Man Dieth Unto Himself".

Chaplain Rev. A. S. McConnell, rector of St. George's Anglican Church, Trenton, presided during the service. Rev. D. C. MacLean of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church read the scripture.

Buglers from the Trenton Training Command band sounded the Last Post and Reveille.

The gathering, with the Lions Club boys' band providing the music sang the National Anthem followed by the placing of wreaths on the monument. WO 1 John Silver recited the benediction as the service closed.

Eighteen Killed In East Canada During Weekend

(By The Canadian Press)

Eleven traffic fatalities brought the number of persons killed in eastern Canada to 18 during the Remembrance Day weekend.

A Canadian Press survey early today showed three persons drowned and two persons burned to death. One was fatally stabbed and one killed with a rifle.

Ontario had 11 violent deaths and Quebec six.

Two persons killed in Ontario during the weekend were not identified. The bodies of a man and woman were found in the burned-down watchman's hut at a housing development north of Toronto, burned beyond recognition.

At Kingston, Mrs. Elda Lyons, 31, was stabbed to death in an argument. Her husband faces a murder charge.

Three members of one family were killed in an auto accident near Glencoe, Ont. Dead are John Frena, 48, of Windsor, his wife, Anne, 48, and daughter, Anne, 7.

Francis Rice Jr., 22, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., was fatally injured when his car rolled over near Oakville. Two pedestrians were killed crossing streets: Mack S. Carpenter, 73, at Ottawa and Walte Kwasek, 24, near London.

Boat Capsizes

Harold Johnson, 20, of Chatham, and an Indian guide, Mike McGregor, 40, of Manitoulin Island were drowned when their boats capsized.

Two-year-old John William Leuge fell into a creek and drowned in Rawleigh township near Chatham.

In Quebec, three persons were killed when the taxi in which they were riding overturned in a field near Lacadie, 30 miles south of Montreal. They were Lib3 Gendron 24, and Jeannine LaFlamme, 21, both of St. Johns, and Gilles Lariviere, 23, of Iberville.

Richard Wise, 19, of Montreal was fatally injured when his car rammed a tree near Cascades, 30 miles from Montreal. Mrs. C. Fisher, 50, died at Montreal of injuries suffered when hit by a truck.

Burglars Loot Canning Firm At Trenton

Trenton — (Special) Sometime Saturday night or Sunday morning, thieves entered the main office of Stokely - Van Camp Canning Company here by taking off a storm window.

They made off with a calculating machine, an adding machine, a large flashlight and a time clock.

They overlooked a box of cash on top of the safe, containing more than $100, receipts from Saturday sales.

Police believe this burglary was the work of a gang who broke into the company's Whitby office several weeks ago.

Mrs. E.D. Hilton Injured by Car

Trenton — (Special) — Mrs. E. Darling Hilton, Trenton, was sent to the Trenton Memorial Hospital for examination on Saturday following an accident with a taxi on Saturday. Mrs. Hilton, walking north was crossing Dundas street at Front street when she was hit.

Ross Ostrum, driver of the taxi told police he had been stopped behind a truck at the intersection and when the light changed he moved ahead and swung around the corner.

Holseys Prove Unlucky Hunters

Trenton — (Special) — How unlucky can a duck hunter get?

The other day veteran shooter Arthur Holsey, senior, along with his son Arthur drove up to the latter's cottage on Lake Ontario to find a plump black duck sitting on the verandah. The feathered prize only took to the air, according to the disappointed sportsmen, after they had alighted from the car.

"It was the one day of the season that neither of us carried our shotguns," lamented the elder Mr. Holsey.

Archie S. Lewis Named President Scout Association

Former secretary Archie S. Lewis was named president of the Belleville Scouts Association at the annual meeting held in Kiwanis Centre on Friday evening.

Other officers are:- honorary president Col. P. H. Wills; past president C. N. Nicholson; vice-president, O. Owen; honorary vice-president, F. Bell; secretary, W. N. Hurst; treasurer, F. Lancaster; executive members, A. Simpson, R. L. Angus, Ted Hall, Ted Jass, L. Maraskas, A. Symons, J. Watson, W. Doyle, W. Finkle, C. Logate, J. Phillips, F. Sprague, P. F. Halloran. President Lewis and W. Hurst were named delegates to the provincial council.

Reports and presentations featured the meeting with Executive Commissioner A. Mortlock, Ottawa, as the guest speaker.

Commissioner Mortlock presented Scout Donald Miller, 8th Belleville Troop, with a letter of citation from Provincial Commissioner W. H. J. Tisdale for service rendered in connection with saving a victim of a car accident from further injury and possible loss of life. Cub Gary Hiltrop, 8th Belleville Pack also was presented with a citation letter for quick thinking in the rescue of a little girl, who had fallen in a waterfilled excavation.

The secretary's report commenced on the upswing in scouting during the past year, 11 paid tribute to the 5th Belleville Troop which had shown marked progress with a handful of people.

Assistant District Commissioner Don Allan reported that while the membership numbers was small last year, the awards of proficiency badges had increased threefold. The association now has five King Scouts as compared with one a year ago. Three of the troops had reached between 90 and 100 per cent of their objectives.

Need Meeting Places

Wolf Cub assistant district commissioner Phil Alcorn stressed the need for more meeting places for the boys as the Cubs had increased from 189 to 317 during the past year. Three of the packs had achieved their target of Plan Achievement during 1951.

Annual Apple Day netted $363.79 an increase over a year ago, Treas. Frank Lancaster reported. Summer camps costs were less despite high food prices, a credit to those in charge of organization.

Field Commissioner Art Jackson presented Cubmaster Joe Irish and Mrs. Irish, Belleville Cub Pack and Assistant District Commissioner Phil Alcorn with proficiency certificates.

Argentines Vote To Continue Peron Regime

By ROMAN JIMENEZ

Buenos Aires, Nov. 13—(CP)—A sweeping majority apparently returned President Juan D. Perron to power as Argentina's ruler for another six years in an orderly, record-breaking election yesterday.

Leaders of the Radical party-main opposition group—said this morning Peron's victory was assured on the basis of government figures and on the unofficial partial vote count.

With about one-third of the votes counted, the interior ministry announced early today that Peron had a total of 1,503,161 votes to 718,253 for Dr. Ricardo Balbin, Radical party candidate.

The pro-government press hailed Peron's victory as a vote of confidence by the people. It said his final majority will be bigger than in his first election in 1946, when he polled 55 per cent.

Radical leaders charged that women voting for the first time in an Argentine general election, were the main instrument in the Peron victory.

The opposition claimed there

An appeal to the association to enlarge the area of its jurisdiction to include Foxboro, Avondale and possibly Point Anne was made by Field Commissioner Art Jackson. The matter will be discussed by the new executive.

Efforts to secure a new district commissioner to succeed Angus Duffy so far had not been successful, Past President Nicholson told the association. Several people have been approached but thus far no one with the required qualifications has been contacted.

Talk on Scouting

Guest speaker Commissioner Mortlock got a big interesting talk on Scouting, stressing the point that Scout training enables a boy to think and act quickly in an emergency, also equips him to become a better citizen.

"Belleville," he said, "had a fine record for increased membership and if all Canada could do the same the number of Scouts and Cubs would be increased from 117,000 to 180,000." He urged the association to keep the boy in front and not to think in terms of boys in (a) own jurisdiction but those of the province and the Dominion.

The speaker was thanked by Mr. Nicholson. The Ladies' Auxiliary under the convenership of Mrs. Reeds O'Connor served refreshments.

Hunters Report Deer Plentiful In Some Northern Districts

Gangs of hunters returning from the northern woods are reporting varied degrees of luck. Some gangs have reported very poor luck with only one deer having been shot for a five-or six-man gang. Other gangs batted the full 100 per cent with a deer for each man.

Falling in the latter category were two ten-man gangs made up mostly of men from Belleville and immediate district.

One gang from Belleville district hunting in the Gilmour area had a deer for each man of the gang and with a seven licence also got one for the camp. Another ten-man gang hunting in the Hardwood Lake district east of McArthur's Mills also got a deer for each man.

This gang reported a foot of snow on the ground covered with a crust which would hold up deer, even the larger bucks. The gang returned on Friday night after getting their full count.

Best Hunting Season

Bruce Smith said it was the best 'nunting season he had enjoyed in 12 years, claiming that he had never seen anything like it.

Snow two feet deep which had fooled the deer into believing winter had arrived was given by Mr. Smith for the success of his gang. He said the deer were "on the move" starting to yard up for the winter.

Dr. F. R. Ross, one of the hunters whose group had tough luck during the first week, returned to his hunting camp today after spending the weekend in the city. He reported heavy snow conditions in the woods north of Maynooth.

Balanced Budgets benefit every citizen of Ontario

- ONTARIO has no sales tax, in contrast to other provinces—no personal income tax.
- ONTARIO'S taxes are designed not to increase cost of living and largely come from services rendered.
- ONTARIO'S combined gasoline tax and motor licenses are lowest in Canada. Gasoline tax is 2 cents lower than some other provinces. This tax enables Ontario to collect millions of dollars from the 6 million cars which visit Ontario yearly.
- ONTARIO in 1950 and 1951 has been able to make tax reductions—a record in Canada.
- ONTARIO has a record of eight consecutive balanced budgets introduced by the present government.
- ONTARIO'S strong financial position has enabled it to make contribution of $100 million annually to assist our municipalities.
- ONTARIO'S credit is high in the markets of the world enabling us to finance great projects such as Hydro and other development plans.

Senator Johnson Says Desert Atomic Bases in Britain, Stop Giving Money Donations

Washington, Nov. 12—(AP) — Senator Edwin C. Johnson (Dem. Colo.) said today the United States ought to abandon any atomic bases it has in Britain.

Johnson, a member of the Senate-House of Representatives Atomic Energy Committee, said there is "no excuse for making the British people a target" for an enemy attack. He suggested American bases in the British Isles might provoke an attack.

Johnson told a reporter that in any event no consideration should be given to such bases in any study of whether the United States should extend additional financial help to Britain.

Waste Money

Prime Minister Churchill suggested last week that the United States give the "fullest consideration" to Britain's need for further dollar aid for her rearmament program and her limping economy. A London source said a request for about $300,000,000 in new aid would be made. Churchill presumably will press his request when he comes to Washington sometime in January to confer with President Truman.

Churchill said Britain has "every need and right to seek and receive" American help because "we took peculiar risks in providing the principal atomic base for the United States" in east England. The prime minister added that as a result Britain had placed itself "in the very forefront of Soviet antagonism."

Johnson said, however, that the issue of additional financial assistance for the British "will have to be considered strictly on its own merits—divorced entirely from the matter of atomic bases." He added:

Should Be Cautious

"We should be very cautious in extending more aid. The help we have given Britain in the past has only aggravated her long-range problems."

Johnson indicated criticism of the socialization program of the Labor government, which Churchill's Conservative party ousted from power in the recent elections.

During the weekend, Senator McKellar (Dem. Tenn.) also took a dim view of more United States dollar bid to Britain.

McKellar, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said the United States "has been exceedingly—I might say excessively — liberal in furnishing money to Britain." He said he hopes Churchill won't seek more because "our own people have an excessive load of taxation to bear —the largest ever borne by any people."

Nineteen of 26 Hunters Isolated Reach Safety

Webbwood, Ont., Nov. 12 (CP) —Nineteen of 26 hunters isolated when the Spanish River and Lake Agnew 14 miles north of here from over Tuesday, reached safety during the weekend after abandoning their equipment. Seven others were still in the bush.

The hunters were trapped on the north shore of the lake when ice prevented them using boats in which they originally crossed. Most of those who escaped crept across the rubbery ice to safety.

Names of the seven still isolated are not known but they are believed to be from Blenheim and Chatham. The 19 who reached safety were from Sarnia, Watford, Bracebridge. Three different parties of hunters were trapped.

Tom Kemsley, 68, of Sarnia, walked across the ice of the lake Saturday afternoon with Bill Kelly and Cec Waldeck also of Sarnia. Jack Galloway, George Houston and Earl Dixon, all of Sarnia, found their way out by crossing an unfrozen section of the Spanish River on a raft of logs.

Fell Through Ice

Callum fell through the ice on the way across but the safety rope and a 10-foot poll he was carrying saved him from going under the ice.

Another party was composed of William Tingey, 76, and his son, Clifford of Bracebridge; George Beer and Tom Young of Espanola.

The trapped hunters lived in makeshift shelters while they were stranded, and lived off the food they had with them and deer and partridges they shot. The seven men left behind the ice barrier are believed to have a number of deer and to be in no danger of starving.

Provincial Police aided some of the men to escape. A tug owned by the Kalamazoo Parchment Company was used in an effort to reach some of the men but could not break through the ice.

Those who escaped left behind their equipment. "They (the seven men left) told us they wouldn't come out without their deer or their equipment," said Provincial Police Corporal Harvey Lapp.

WILL TRAIN REFUGEES

Paris, Nov. 12 — (Reuters)—A college to train refugees from eastern Europe to take their places in their home countries, if and when communism is driven out, opens today near Strasbourg. The College of Free Europe is an offshoot of the Franco-American Free European University in exile in New York City. It will be housed at the Chateau Robertsau, six miles from Strasbourg.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

JUNIOR "B" ORGANIZE

Four teams will form the junior "B" hockey group this season it was decided at a group meeting held yesterday in Peterborough. The loop will include Belleville Hawks, Lindsay Kinsmen, Peterborough Oddfellows and Kingston Victories. Oshawa gave notification it would not enter a team, and Whitby did not make application.

Both the Peterborough and Lindsay delegations objected strongly to the Kingston entry at first, claiming finances would not warrant the long haul to Kingston. However after a lengthy stalemate the troubled waters were calmed when Kingston's Stan Jackson told the meeting he would arrange nearly all Peterborough's and Lindsay's away games with Kingston on Saturday nights. The Peterborough-Lindsay delegates agreed to this and the four-team loop was born.

The squads will play twelve games at home and the same number away with the group opening with Peterborough at Kingston on Saturday November 17th. The Hawks juniors will open here against Peterborough on Monday November 19th. The following Wednesday they are in Peterborough. The rest of the schedule appears elsewhere on the sports pages.

The Lakeshore Intermediate "A" Group also got under way at the same meeting with Lindsay, Port Hope, Cobourg, Bowmanville and Lakefield forming a five-team loop. Frank Buckland, OHA executive member was on hand to convene the meeting said an intermediate squad from Belleville had applied for entry. It is presumed the team referred to is the Glen Roys, although no official representative was present. Nothing was said about the Belleville team's chances of stiff opposition. The Glens will be contacted with reference to playing a home and home series with Port Hope and Cobourg during December. Lindsay refused to take part in this series.

SCHOOLS TEAMS WIN GRID TITLES

Coaches "Red" Townsend, Belleville Collegiate Institute, and George Beach of Albert College locked horns in defence of COSSA football championships to their respective bells on Saturday. "Red's" powerful junior squad defeated the Oshawa C.I. youngsters by an 18-6 count while the collegiate senior contest headed by Jack Sears, easily took the measure of the Whitby High School squad by a 21-0 score.

The games were played under the "world's worst" football conditions, to quote Bob Townsend. The teams slithered and sloughed over a gridiron covered with powdery snow, and marked out with sawdust and coal-dust. The ball was greasy and the underfooting "terrible".

Belleville's big score had little trouble with the Whitby squad and should give a good account of itself when it meets the western division team for the COSSA senior "B" championship next Saturday.

Farmer, BCI backfield star paced the squad to victory over the Oshawa crew after trailing in the early minutes of the game. He scored two T.D.'s, one a 65 yard gallop in the third quarter after intercepting a pass from Oshawa's Kingsters quarterfiend, for the junior "A" championship struggle next Saturday when they meet Port Colborne, the winners of the Georgian Bay-Niagara Falls district.

JOB WELL DONE!

Like NHL officials, referees of the Ontario Hockey Association have their instructions to nip any symptoms of roughhouse tactics in the bud. Referee Ain. Casterton, Kingston who handled the arbiter's chores Friday night in the Hawks - Petes game said afterwards that such is the case, and he gave ample evidence of obedience to instructions. Casterton clamped down the official thumb at the first sign of impending hostilities. He sent seventeen sinners to the boxes gave and although a couple of minor cases of distasteful brushes out, he always had the situation well under control. He "looked" a fine job and neither team lodged any complaints.

Not even a protesting boo or catcall came from the crowd of near 1,500 when fingers were waved off. Some of their teammates attempted to argue but Casterton was firm in his decisions and that was that. Dick Fitzpatrick won his spurs in his debut as an OHA linesman. "Fitz" looked like a veteran out there, and they tell us he has that rule-book until he can quote it backwards, and that includes advertising.

MINORS AWAY!

It would seem that the minor division of the Belleville Hockey Association has a job on its hands. Some 274 — count 'em — 274 hockey youngsters reported for registration last week in the juvenile, midget and bantam divisions. And there's nearly 200 peewee moppets champing on the bit waiting their call for action.

Forty-eight juvenile-age players have registered for the four-team loop which will send an entry into the OMHA juvenile playdowns. In the midget division, 90 hopefuls have completed applications and these will battle for positions on one of the squads in a six-team league. In the bantam category 138 pint-size players will vie for spots on one of the squads in the six-team loop. And there are a lot to come. Those players who could not attend the registration get-togethers are requested to report next Saturday morning at the arena. Those who received application forms are asked to return them fully completed to Jack McNab's Sports Centre, Front Street by Wednesday, November 14th. Remember, by Wednesday.

Don Stanton, Drury Denyes, Walter Best and "Boller" Lloyd labored hard last week trying to complete registration of the three leagues. It is hoped that peewee leagues will be operated on outdoor rinks this year.

Scullers Thump Bengals 21-7; But Fail to Overcome Margin; Western Title Decided Today

By JACK SULLIVAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

The usually-jovial Annis Stukus and studious Frank Clair probably are reeling as long as a Monday-morning wash today as they ponder the woes of a football coach. Both are perplexed by weekend developments.

At Regina, the Roughriders mauled up the last-of-three western Canada finals at one game each with a 12-5 victory over Stukus' Edmonton Eskimos. And what bothers Stuke is the manner in which they did it—by discarding their powerful aerial threat and relying on what was believed to be their least effective offensive weapon, a ground attack.

At Hamilton, Clair's Toronto Argonauts practically pushed Hamilton Tiger-Cats out of Civic Stadium on with the second of their total-points Big Four semi-final two-game series. Hamilton's win was an also-ran role—they lost 24-7 in the slush and ice to Toronto Varsity Blues last Wednesday and stepped out of the Grey Cup picture by a 31-28 margin on the round.

Two Titles Decided

Two titles were decided in the weekend action.

At Sarnia, the all-Canadian Imperials won the Ontario Rugby Football Union title and a spot in the eastern Canada finals with the Big Four winners. The imps, going into the game with an eight-point deficit in the home-and-home total-point series with Toronto Balmy Beach, rallied over the Beaches 26-7 to take the round 41-30.

The University of Toronto Blues turned back the challenge of McGill University Redmen 11-7 to win their first intercollegiate championship since 1948. The other eight-game at Kingston saw Queen's University Gaelf end the season on the short end of 20-13 score to the Univ. of Western Ontario Mustangs.

Eskimos also had last chance at Regina this afternoon. They won the opener at Edmonton 15-14 and now it's back-to-back to devise ways of stopping Coach Harry (Hinky Jack) Smith's two-way Roughies.

'During the season, Eskimos enjoyed a big edge with a total yardage of 3,000 on the ground against 1,456 for the Riders who relied principally on the firing arm of quarterback Glen Dobbs to send them to the top with Edmonton and Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Dobbs Again

Saturday, Dobbs tossed only six and had one completion for 31 yards against 10 out of 18 by Edmonton's Frankie Filchock for a yardage gain of 214. On the ground it was Roughriders by a 170-49 edge with Bob Sandberg, Smiley Glasser and Del Wardien charging through the Edmonton defence for big gains.

Great Performance

At Hamilton, Clair's Argos put up one of the greatest one-lease performances in years. The defending Big Four and Grey Cup champions knocked away at the Hamilton 17-point lead in the first half and then powered through for a converted touchdown and two singles in the third stanza to lead 21-2 on the game and 28-26 on the round.

Hitting high on what appeared to be the greatest second aerial of the year in Canadian sport and sparked by the tremendous forward passing arm of quarter Nobby Wirkowski who completed 30 of 52 tosses they whomped the Tiger-men numerically with an explosive offensive that stunned the 15,000 crowd.

Then the Tigers got up off the ground for a 50-second aerial offensive that shot them into the lead with; only minutes remaining in the contest. Second string quarterback Bernie Custis turned the trick with Spider Gibson completing the drive, taking a 30-yarder behind the Toronto line.

That was the ball game and the series although the scullers battled to the final minute and only a pass interception behind the Hamilton line by Bob McDonald saved the day.

The Riders, rested since Nov. 3, go to Hamilton Wednesday and close out the home-and-home total-points series at Ottawa Saturday.

Varsity Blues Defeat McGill Redmen To Win Intercollegiate Grid Title

Toronto, Nov. 12 (CP)—University of Toronto Blues, climaxing one of the best season's in the College's gridiron history, Saturday won the senior intercollegiate football championship by beating McGill University Redmen 11-7 in the "big game" of the college campaign.

Bob Masterson's powerful and well-drilled team rose to the occasion to turn two of Redmen's six fumbles into two payoff scores and prevent a Montreal squad from forcing a sudden-death playoff for the crown.

Redmen, beaten 15-7 earlier in the season by Blues, tried desperately with a fourth-quarter rally to turn the tide but Varsity held and Redmen had to be satisfied with the runner-up role for the third successive year.

Blues Undefeated

The Blues, who finished last in 1949 and third the following season, captured the championship they last held in 1948 by sweeping through their six-game schedule without a loss. The only game they didn't win was a 13-13 tie against the University of Toronto Ontario Mustangs, who held the title the last two seasons. They also scored three-pre-season exhibition victories.

On Saturday outside wing Jimmy Bell recovered two McGill fumbles deep in the Redmen's territory and the Blues marched for touchdowns in the first and third quarters, both scored by the hard- running McFarlane who played the full 60 minutes.

B-'l converted one of the majors and the Blues led 11-1 before one of Varsity's 6 fumbles sent the Redmen on the way for a touchdown in the fourth quarter. Dave Caldwell recovered the fumble at his Toronto 27 yard line and Cec Findlay pushed over from the two-yard-line for the major, which Dave Tomlinson converted. Gene Robillard, who kicked seven second-string single, accounted for the other McGill point.

ST. PATS WIN

Ottawa, Nov. 12 (CP)—St. Pat's College of Ottawa, playing in ankle-deep snow and slush, Saturday defeated McDonald College of Montreal 7-0 in the wind-up game of the Ottawa-St. Pat's only victory of the season.

Denies Rumor Waterloo Juniors Will Fold Up

Waterloo, Nov. 12 (CP)—W. H. Timmins, chairman of the Waterloo Area Commission last night denied rumors that this city's Ontario Hockey Association Junior A team will fold, but admitted that the Hurricanes may have a new coach soon.

Bob Kinnear has been coach of the Hurricanes since they entered the league last season but recently has been under fire by Waterloo fans for what they feel is inadequate coaching.

Last year the Hurrcs finished last in the 10-team loop and are presently mired in eighth place.

Speaking for the commission, Timmins said members of the commission have been severely criticized by Waterloo hockey enthusiasts who did not approve of Kinnear's coaching. He said that since the people would not attend games while Kinnear was coaching the club must either fold or "make a change."

The average crowd this season numbers 600.

Marlies Run Unbeaten String to 13; Stratford Hawks Tigers 5-2 Setback

(By The Canadian Press)

For 20 minutes—one period—it looked as if superstition and odds had finally caught up with the high-flying Toronto Marlboros Ontario Hockey Association junior A series leaders.

Waterloo Hurricanes, with some stellar netminding by Norm Defelice and a goal by Chuck Wood, took a 1-0 lead in the first period.

The junior dukes caught fire in the second, however, rapping in six goals and then scored a 10-2 win, running their unbeaten streak to 13.

A Remembrance Day crowd of 4,186 saw Toronto St. Michael's, held scoreless for two periods, explode for a 4-2 victory over Kitchener Greenshirts in the opener of a Sunday twin-bill at Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto. Windsor Wins First Saturday night Windsor Spitfires captured their first game of the season, defeating Barrie Flyers 6at Black Hawks won over St. Catharines Teepees and Oshawa Generals downed second-place Guelph Biltmores. The scores were identical, 5-3.

In G. F. A. senior action Saturday, Stratford Indians handed the pace-setting Hamilton Tigers a 5-2 setback at Owen Sound Mercurys piled up a 6-2 win over Sarnia Sniders.

Chuck Wood and Connelly connected for the Hurricane scores.

The opener of the Sunday doubleheader Kitchener take a 1-0 first period lead on a goal by Orv Tessier and enlarge it to 2-0 as Greg Hicks scored in the second.

Oshawa Wins Third

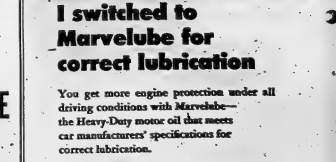
St. Michael's took over in the final frame as Bob Sabourin, with two, Marc Reaume, Murray Costello and Bill Lee scored.

Two goals by Bob Dunham and one each by Larry Thibeault, Jack Miller and Al Arbour gave the Spits their third win in 13 tries. They remain in the league basement, however.

Hillary Menard, Don McKenay and MacDonald potted the Barrie tallies.

Guelph strengthened their grip on third place in the league by whipping the Teepees. Tommy Fyles led the Call scoring with two counters with Bill McIntosh, Pete Conacher and John Skewer chipping in one each. Buddy Boone, Frank Mahovlich and Gerry Foley tallied for St. Catharines.



Oshawa's surprising win over Kitchener was their third straight but they remain in ninth place in the ten-team loop. General secretary-manager Bobby Shrosbree starred in the Oshawa win.

Four Ties and Last Ten Games Renew Overtime Demands; Four Stalemates Over Weekend

(By The Canadian Press)

President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League will quote you reads of figures to prove that the 10-minute sudden-death overtime periods aren't a solution to tie games. But the advocates of these extra sessions might argue it's worth a try following the weekend results.

Three games ended in ties, making four in the last ten games.

The league-leading Detroit Red Wings participated in three of the four—a 4-4 tie at New York Wednesday and a 3-3 stalemate against the Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday and at home against Montreal Canadiens last night.

The other was played at Boston Sunday where 13,121 fans, the largest hockey crowd in nearly two years at the garden, watched the Bruins and Leafs get 60 minutes in a draw. In other games, Canadiens whipped Chicago 4-2 at Montreal Saturday and New York Rangers made it 3-2 over the hapless Hawks Sunday.

Wings Earn Draws

The weekend action left Detroit with 21 points, one more than Toronto and five ahead of Canadiens. Boston, a threat most of the still-young season, holds the fourth slot with 13 and Rangers out.

follow with 10, two up on Chicago.

The Red Wing draws were well-earned. They came from behind a 2-0 deficit early in the second period at Toronto Saturday, stepped in two and yielded only the late Bob Bolingall tally with less than four minutes to go.

And they roared from behind 3-0 Sunday to gain the point with one marker in the second and two in the roaring third stanza.

At Boston Sunday, Harry Watson put the Leafs ahead at 10:37 of the second period and only about 2 minutes later Fred Hucul made it 1-0 on assists from Jim McFadden and Al Dewsbury.

Rookie Wally Hergesheimer broke that deadlock late the third and Edgar Laprade made it 3-1 at 7:48. Bill Mosienko reduced the count to two but Boston pulled goalkeeper Harry Lumley out of the nets late in the last minute but a solid Ranger defence held them

Albert College Defeats Whitby 21-0, Qualify for Senior B COSSA Final

In a lack-lustre game played on a snow packed field in Oshawa, Albert College Senior 'B' gridders won their tenth game of the year and thereby qualified for the COSSA final by beating Whitby High School by a score of 21 to 0.

The game opened with Whitby kicking off to Albert, the kick was short and Armstrong, inside wing for Albert fell on the ball at the Whitby 52 yard line. On a series of line plunges and one forward pass from Shepherdson to Hobbs the visiting squad marched the ball down to the Whitby three yard line, from where Lorne Taylor slanted across outside middle, behind some nice blocking by Robins and Justus for a touchdown. Shepherdson missed the convert.

Whitby received, and after two smacks at the line by Bob Wood, kicked, Hummel and Hobbs the Albert ends broke in fast and blocked the kick which Bert Faulkner fell on. Elliot made five through the line, a pass was incompiete and Albert kicked with three men onside, recovering their own kick on the Whitby 16 yard line, a smash at the line by Taylor got four yards and then on an extension around the right end, Bert Faulkner went across for a touchdown, which Shepherdson converted.

Play Even in Second

Albert's kick off was short, and Justus rattled through the Whitby blockers and picked up the ball, but was downed in his tracks. Albert made yards on plunges by Taylor and Elliot, but were forced to kick when Bill Duncan was trapped 15 yards back by Pete Irwin the Whitby end.

After the change of ends at the quarter, play was very even, the heavy going on the half-mushy snow was taking toll on the strength of both teams. Late in the quarter, Albert again ran in the quarter. Albert again started to march when Lorne Taylor intercepted a Whitby forward pass meant for Irwin. Scott and Elliot plunged successfully and Don Shepherdson picked up 12 big yards through center, after an end run by Duncan which netted 8 yards. Shepherdson sneaked across for Albert's third touchdown which he was not able to convert.

The second half started slowly, with Whitby showing much more drive and striving hard to get into the running. Gwynne Barnes and Bob Ward both picked up nice yardage through the line, and Irwin snagged a forward pass for yards, but on an exchange of kicks and a Whitby fumble, Albert got the ball at centre field. At this point Lorne Taylor managed to break through the line behind some nice blocking by Joy, Armstrong and Justus, and shook off the secondary and tertiary tacklers, then eluding the safety man went across for a touchdown.

Whitby continued to press in the fourth quarter on some nice running by Bob Asling, and plunges by Irwin and Barnes, but all their gains were negated when Albert first intercepted a pass, then a few downs later recovered a Whitby fumble. With the ball on the Whitby 40, Larry Buck, Albert quarter broke Dave Scott into the clear around left end, and Scott, scattering tacklers right and left got up to the Whitby one yard line before being forced out of touch by Asling. Albert took three smacks at the line, but couldn't budge the Whitby boys, as the game ended.

Teams

Whitby High School: Fallaise, Ward, Backman, Patterson, Archibald, Wilcox, Howley, Jernyn, McLean, Mendyk, Borchuk, Barnes, Roberts, Robertson, Goodwin, Smyth, MacDonald, Hodgins, Lintner, Irwin, Barlow, Hall, Reed, Hiscocks, Puckrin, Asling.

Cleveland Browns Nip Philly Eagles

New York, Nov. 12 (CP)—The American conference lead, if not the championship itself, will be at stake next Sunday when the defending champion Cleveland Browns and New York Giants tangle at the Polo Grounds in a National Pro Football League headliner.

Only one team has given the Browns consistent trouble since they joined the N.F.L. in a year, and that's the Giants.

New York won two out of three from Cleveland last year, but lost a post-season playoff for the American conference title by two points. It was even closer in their meeting this year, with the Browns winning 14-13 when the Giants got an extra point.

The Browns have won five straight pro tilts, four of them in the All-American Conference before it disbanded.

Giants Beat Redskins

Cleveland (6-1-0) held tight to its slim lead yesterday by nipping Philadelphia Eagles, 20-17 with a second-half rally while the Giants (5-1-1) were trouncing Sammy Baugh and Washington Redskins 28-14.

Meanwhile, Los Angles Rams pulled into a tie for first place in the National conference by smashing Chicago Cardinals, 41-28. The Rams (5-2-0) now are all even with Chicago Bears (5-2-0), who lost their first game in six years 1- Detroit Lions 41-28.

In other games San Francisco scored in the last minute to turn back the winless New York Yanks 10-14 and Pittsburgh defeated Green Bay 28-7.

Edmonton, Sasky Riders Clash Today For Western Grid Championship

Regina, Nov. 12—(CP)— The western football championship race goes right down to the wire today with the winner between the evenly - matched Saskatchewan Roughriders and Edmonton Eskimos going fast for the Grey Cup playoff. The kickoff is at 1:30 p.m. (3.30 p.m. EST).

In a startling reversal of tactics by both clubs, the Eskimos defeated Eskimos 12-5 Sat, to send their best-of-three western final into a sudden-death third game. Eskimos won the opener 15-11 at Edmonton.

"Different Today"

Riders won Saturday on a running attack and stout line play. Eskimos' most potent weapons all season. Edmonton used a passing attack, which in other games was always Saskatchewan's chief threat.

"We beat them at their own game," said Rider coach Harry (Black Jack) Smith. "It was block and tackle all week in practice and my players themselves proud at it Saturday. The line was terrific.

"The Riders had it mentally. They're up now. If they stay up, we'll win it all."

In the Eskimo camp, coach Annis Stukus remarked:

"We were beaten in the spot where we considered ourselves strongest—in our front wall.

"The Riders had the fire. Our guys may have been a trifle overconfident. If so, they'll be in a different mood today. It's one game now."

Edmonton's two starting guards, Jimmy Gibbons and all-star Mario de Marco, came out of the Saturday game with injuries but both are expected to play today. Quandamatteo suffered torn neck muscles while De Marco may have fractured a couple of fingers on one hand.

Hamilton Rolls Over Oshawa 12-1

Peterborough CI Wins COSSA Title

(By The Canadian Press)

Peterborough Collegiate downed Oshawa 36-0 Saturday at Peterborough to win the football championship in the Lake Ontario district of the Central Ontario Secondary Schools Association championship for the second consecutive time. The Peterborough school meets the winner of the Niagara Falls-Georgian Bay district here next Saturday in the championship final.

Lewicki Stars For Pittsburgh, Scores a Pair

(By The Associated Press)

Danny Lewicki, left winger of the Pittsburgh Hornets, is making a bid to return to the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League.

The Leafs recently sent Lewicki down to their American League farm club in Pittsburgh. Yesterday he scored two goals for Pittsburgh as the red-hot Hornets nipped the Cincinnati Mohawks, 3-2. The triumph was Pittsburgh's 12th in 13 starts.

Cleveland's defending champion Barons remained six points behind Pittsburgh by downing third-place St. Louis, 4-1. The Barons scored four times in the second period on goals by Steve Wochy, Fern Perreault, Joe Lund and Fred Thurier to win.

Meanwhile, the Hershey Bears pulled six points ahead of the Buffalo Bisons in the eastern division by swamping the Indianapolis Caps, 7-2. The Bears rammed home five goals in the last 13 minutes to clinch the game.

Buffalo dropped a 6-2 decision to the Providence Reds. Jack Stoddard and Jack McGill scored two goals apiece to lead the Reds to victory.

Tommy Bolt Wins Golf Tournament

(By The Canadian Press)

Tommy (Thunder) Bolt, Durham (N.C.) professional, saved his best round for the finish, a three-under-par 69, for a total of 283 to win the North and South Open Golf Tournament yesterday by three strokes over John Barnum, husky Grand Rapids, Mich., pro.

Bolt's first major victory brought him the top prize of $1,500 in this $7,500 tournament at Pinehurst, N.C., on rounds of 71, 72, 71, 69.

Former Masters champion Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N.Y., closed with a five-under-par 67 for 287.

BCI Juniors Trounce Oshawa 18-6, Meet Pt. Colborne for COSSA Title

By DON DOLAN

At long last a football team representing the Belleville Collegiate has advanced to the COSSA finals. That team is the B.C.I. juniors and they earned the right to play for the title by downing Oshawa Collegiate 18-6 at Oshawa on Saturday afternoon.

Despite the fact that the sun was shining and the weather was warm, the entire gridiron at Alexandria Park was covered with a blanket of snow, making it necessary for both teams to stick to a running attack. This was to be a game in which the team with the strongest line and the swiftest backs would emerge victorious. And that is exactly what happened.

Dominated Play

Except for the first few minutes when a fumble of an Oshawa kick in the Belleville end zone resulted in a touchdown by Parry and a convert by Graham, the red, black and blue clad boys from the shores of the Moira never took a back seat.

After that one converted score by Oshawa, the B. C. I. team started to roll and piled up first down after first down. In fact, when they scored only a single point in the first three periods that being on a kick by Ted Soule, the Belleville team outplayed their opponents by a wide margin. In case you are interested in statistics the winners rolled up twenty four first downs as compared to only eleven for Oshawa.

George Farmer who was outstanding throughout the game, tied up the game early in the fourth quarter as he romped over the Oshawa goal line from about seven yards out. Seconds later, Farmer gave the Belleville team a lead which they never relinquished as his convert attempt was good.

Ran 50 Yards

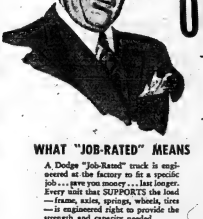
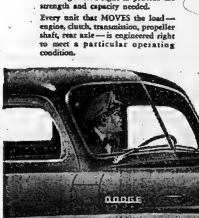
Farmer was the payoff man on the winners' second score as he intercepted an Oshawa pass and raced some fifty yards for the TD. Once again Farmer converted. The final score of the game came about when Buddy Batchelor fell on a loose ball in the Oshawa end zone for a touchdown. Belleville's defence managed to stop the last desperate attempt by Oshawa and B. C. I. walked off the field with a well-earned 18-6 victory.

The thing which impressed us the most was the great team play, the great spirit and the great will to win that had been instilled in these boys by coach Fred Bradley. It is true, one or two boys including George Farmer and John Batchelor made numerous long runs for the fast-moving backs; the passing duo, Doug. Meyers, McDonald and Farmer ripped off huge chunks of yardage; the quarterling all round leadership of John Baker played no little part in making possible a Belleville victory.

So, next Saturday it's Port Colborne here at the C. O. S. S. A. title.

When raked about his team's chances in next week's game, Coach Bradley had this to say, "our team shown the drive and spirit that they showed in today's game, I am fully confident that they will bring the C. O. S. S. A. junior football championship back to Belleville.





Oshawa C. I.—Parry, Whatley, Sheather, McEachran, Vincent, Towns, Richards, Fisher, Sutherland, Pascoe, Brodie Graham.

WHAT "JOB-RATED" MEANS
A Dodge "Job-Rated" truck is engineered at the factory to fit a specific job . . . gave you power — gas economy — and longer. Every unit that SUPPORTS the load — frame, axles, springs, wheels, tires — is engineered right to provide the strength and capacity needed.
Every unit that MOVES the load — engine, clutch, transmission, propeller shaft, rear axle — is engineered right to meet a particular operating condition.
Whether your loads are big or little, heavy or light . . . your roads paved or rough, level or hilly . . . there's a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck engineered to fit your job.
If you now have too much power or capacity for your particular job, the surplus is being wasted — operating costs will be high. If you have too little power or capacity, the excess strain on your vehicle will result in heavy maintenance cost.
With a Dodge truck that has every unit from engine to rear axle "Job-Rated" — factory-engineered to haul a specific load over the roads you travel and at the speeds you require — it stands to reason that your operating and maintenance costs will be reduced.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Horrible nightmares come from living a partner who does not respond to your takeout double! Facts like having somebody on a tall ladder out from under you.

A double for a takeout shows a hand that is as good as an opening bid of one. It asks partner to bid something if the next opponent does not intervene with a bid.

When partner responds with a bid of what kind of a bid should you select? His first choice is to name any unbid major suit with at least four cards in it.

The size of the cards in that bid major suit makes no difference. But there must be at least four of them. If there are less than four cards in it, an unbid major suit should not be bid.

Suppose partner has no such unbid major suit. Only then should he respond with a big unbid minor suit. If that suit is diamonds, at least four cards must be in it, regardless of their size.

Suppose an opponent starts with an opening bid of one club or one diamond and your partner doubles. With no intervening bid, your response is one heart with this hand:

♥9 6 3 2
♦8 6 3 2

Suppose an opponent opens with one spade or one no-trump and your partner doubles. With no intervening bid, your response with the same hand is two hearts.

Suppose an opponent opens with one heart and your partner doubles. With no intervening bid, your response with the same hand is two diamonds. You have a unbid major suit with at least four cards.

The fact that you must go to the level of two should not restrain you. The fact that your hand is weak does not release you.

Don't give me that stuff about your hand being too weak to respond. You are too weak to bid.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 12 (AP) — Jane Wyman, currently starring in two hit movies—one a farce and the other a weeping drama —has further shown her versatility by becoming a singing star on records.

Jane has been called back for a repeat picture with Bing Crosby attempting to learn some secrets for her success, I asked:

"Could it be that long apprenticeship you served at Warners?"

"What else?" she replied. "That sort of thing pays off, you know. Why, do you realize that since Bette Davis left the lot, I am the oldest gal left there? I started there in 1935."

Tried Them All

In those days Jane did everything, from musicals to westerns.

"Man, those old pictures were something! I was laughing the other day about something that happened in a picture with Frank McHugh. . . I had a scene in which I was supposed to run through the room. Those pictures couldn't even afford rugs; they just painted the floor to look like rugs. Well, I came running in, slipped and slid the length of the room."

'Famous'

Her current film is reminiscent of her earlier days, since she plays a musical star and displays in a modified strip tease.

Jane's new career as a recording artist happened by accident. "It was Bing's doing," she explained. "He asked me if I would to come over to Decca and cut a disc of 'In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening.' I said 'are you kidding.' But he wasn't and so we did the thing together."

One record led to another, and now she's being hailed as a "Dinah Shore of Tomorrow."

"Well, let's say 'the Dinah Shore of the Day Before Yesterday,'" she corrected.

Win Western Title

(By The Canadian Press)

Edmonton Maple Leafs capitalized on the breaks Saturday night to win the western Canada junior football championship with a 17-12 victory over a fighting Saskatoon Hilltop squad at Edmonton. Leafs will play host to Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Canadian junior final next Saturday.

PANTHERS BLANK RAMS

Kitchener - Waterloo Panthers blanked Stratford Rams 6-0 of Kitchener Saturday to retain their Ontario Rugby Football Union Junior championship in a sudden-death final.

Henry Couch berged over for the only point-of the game, which went unconverted. Henry Holdenmeyer booted a first quarter single accounting for the other Panther point.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

(By The Canadian Press)

Sidney Lumsden of New York Rangers scored the winning goal and assisted in another Tuesday night as he edged Chicago Black Hawks 3-2. Ken Mosdell of Montreal Canadiens tallied once and assisted in two more goals as the team romped Chicago Black Hawks 6-1.

Lumsden's goal, at Toronto Saturday Leafs, who scored the first National Hockey League goal Saturday with Bob Solinger minutes later and pulled his team into a 3-3 tie with Detroit Red Wings.

Comedy Team Sues Movie Firms

New York, Nov. 13 —(CP) — The film 'comedy team of Bud Abbott and Lou Costello is suing two movie companies for $5,000,000 allegedly due them from profits of old films and damage to their artistic reputations.

The comedians filed suit yesterday against Universal Pictures Company, Inc., and Realart Pictures, Inc., under their non-professional names of William A. Abbott and Louis Cristillo.

They charge that Universal "schemed to cheat and defraud them" under an agreement to pay them 50 per cent of the net profits from their movies.

Also, the pair said, Universal—over their protests — cut their full-length films down to shorts for showing in "cheap places of entertainments" such as saloons and nickelodeons. As a result, they said, their artistic stature suffered.

Van JOHNSON CAME TO PICTURES AFTER UNDERSTUDYING GENE KELLY ON BROADWAY IN "PAL JOEY." HIS STAGE SALARY AT THE TIME WAS—$35 PER WEEK!

Gianna CANALE WAS "IMPORTED" FROM ITALY FOR THE ONLY FEATURED FEMININE ROLE IN "GO FOR BROKE!" THE FORMER BEAUTY CONTEST QUEEN WON THE PART AFTER DOZENS OF ACTRESSES HAD BEEN TESTED HERE AND ABROAD.

Robert PIROSH WON AN ACADEMY AWARD FOR THE SCREEN PLAY OF "BATTLEGROUND." FOR M-G-M'S NEW G. I. DRAMA, "GO FOR BROKE!" HE WENT A STEP FURTHER—HE NOT ONLY WROTE THE STORY BUT ALSO DIRECTED IT!

AT THE BELLE — Belleville is going for "Go For Broke," the way they went for "Battleground," the film is continuing today and Tuesday, with a funny Tom and Jerry Cartoon.

AT THE CAPITOL — Ruth Roman, who appears in part of the film as a blonde, co-stars with Steve Cochran in "Tomorrow Is Another Day," the new Warner Bros. action drama which debuts at the Capital Theatre tonight. On the same program, "Flame of Stamboul," starring Richard Denning. Both features are first Belleville showings.

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Tuesday, November 13

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—An agreeable attitude will bridge you over the rough spots, smooth out wrinkles. The day's good indications embrace all your sound efforts to be smart and reasonable.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Restore dreams, ideals, make efforts very worth while and be your natural self. Today and immediate future hold infinite promise to those deserving. Keep your sense of humor.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Put forth your best personality, it will play big part in advancement. Watch outside influences in money, personal and business matters. In p.m. relax some; don't disregard health needs.

June 23 to July 23—(Cancer)—Auspicious planetary aspects. But be not gullible or foolish with finances, security values. Check tendency to criticize or override anyone along your way.

July 24 to August 22—(Leo)—Fine day for "the likes of you" quick thinking, keen-observing ones. However, ponder before acting, and prejudged you don't know so many answers, and new knowledge will quickly come your way.

August 23 to September 23—(Virgo)—Be careful about expenditures, signing contracts, making loans, new ventures. You may be inclined to heed others advice against your good judgment. Check well before acting.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—Excellent opportunity for business, investments, partnerships where details are well known and ideas are sound. Be not ready to take the word of the first opinionist, make inquiries.

October 24 to November 23—(Scorpio)—Accept daily schedule as a duty, get the exhilaration of the best ambitions and propositions under your skin. You have much for which to thank God. Inner contentment means much.

November 23 to December 23—(Sagittarius)—A good day for all worthy planned and ably run endeavors. Fall in with the surge of purposeful do-ers, be thrilled with your chances and you can make good gains and earn reward.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn) — Bright prospects. Ready yourself with proper information, healthy clear judgment and no bias; success will be yours. Use your talents and initiative properly; be above-board in all.

January 22 to February 20—(Aquarius)—Moderately favorable but a day in which you will have to work hard and smartly. Certain things could obstruct, watch all mediuma, keep thinking processes clear, alert to advance.

February 21 to March 20—(Pisces)— Some influences that may or may not tend to bother you. Guard against impatience, impulsiveness, worrying. Keep clear of dissenters, trouble-makers. Step ahead in business, romance.

YOU BORN TODAY: Have magnetism that properly used can help a great deal in business, profession or social life. You have dignity, keen insight, sense problems long before others have half analyzed them. Sometimes too determined. That determination can be a boon to your efforts in reaching high goals if directed carefully. Fond of the good things in life, are generous, fun-loving. Watch budget as extravagance won't cut in. This Zodiacal sector has given excellent chemists, business managers, doctors, teachers, artists.

FRANKFORD

Sheila Patrick, Beth Bonisteel Win Speaking Awards

Frankford — The annual Public Speaking Contest of the Frankford Public School was held in the Community - Memorial Hall Wednesday evening. Due to adverse weather conditions, and several other activities in the village on the same night, the crowd wasn't as large as anticipated. However, those who attended have nothing but praise for the contestants.

Mr. Bates, principal of the public school, spoke to the audience, outlining the purpose of the contests. The pupils were then introduced in turn by their leader, Yvette Cheese.

Betty Bates, of Grade 8, spoke on her movie idol, "Alice Faye." Her talk was most interesting and brought out many points in the life of this screen star.

Beth Bonisteel, also of Grade 8, gave the story of the ill-fated "Titanic."

Darrel Bates, of Grade 8, spoke on the newest province, "Newfoundland."

Ursula Elmer, of Grade 8, gave a pleasant little talk on "Ronnie and Rollie Soulsby."

Ian Finnigan, of Grade 7, told about his "Trip to Northern Ontario."

Sheila Patrick, of Grade 8, spoke on the radio and newspaper commentator, "Lowell Thomas."

Patsy Palmateer, of Grade 6, chose as her topic, "A Picnic."

David Storne, of Grade 6, spoke on "Puppy Days".

Aria Woodcox, of Grade 6, concluded the speaking with her story of "The Merchant of Venice."

During the intermission between speakers, Misses Lorraine Arnott, Sue Anne Wright and Shirley Adams favored with piano solos.

The judges, Mrs. Bennett, Mr. Merrilles, Mr. Mangus and Mr. Duncan were judges for the contest. Results were tabulated by Mr. Hogg. Mrs. Bennett spoke briefly and appreciatively, to them a few valuable pointers in public speaking.

Each contestant was presented with a silver dollar from the Lions Club, the presentation being made by Mr. Arthur Duncan, past president of the club.

Speaking Winners

The winner of the senior division was Miss Sheila Patrick, who was presented with a silver cup given for this division. Winner of the Junior Cup was Miss Beth Bonisteel, who was presented with a book. Both awards are made annually by the school board.

Miss Sheila Patrick represented Frankford Public School in Belleville on Friday night, November 9th.

Congratulations are extended to the two winners on their victories. To all speakers, highest compliments go on their fine efforts.

Frankfordites motoring to Trenton this last week, have found it almost impossible to believe their eyes. The section of road between the C.N.R. subway and the town limits north of the power house has actually been repaired to such an extent that drivers of cars proceeding over the area are able to do so without wearing parachutes. For many months this portion of the road has been in an appalling condition, and a number of automobiles have been badly damaged because of this fact.

Mr. A. C. Bates, principal of the Frankford Public School, and his family had a narrow escape Friday morning, as coal gas fumes from their furnace filled their dwelling on King St. Mr. Bates' son aroused the family, complaining that he "was floating on air." Their other son complained of a violent headache. Mrs. Bates was overcome with the gas before the house could be cleared of the deadly fumes. Fortunately, although all of the family suffered some effects of the gas, no serious illness is reported.

MCGILL WINS TITLE

(By The Canadian Press)

University of Toronto's senior soccer tea medefeated McGill 4-3 Saturday, but lost the championship of the eastern division of the Intercollegiate Soccer League by a round score of 5-4 for McGill. Blues edge Saturday at Toronto was not big enough to overcome the three goal lead McGill amassed when they won the opener of a home-and-home series, 5-3.

TWEED

Bert Jones Wins Gold Trophy For High Cheese Score

Tweed — Mr. Bert Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Jones, of Tweed, was awarded the R. J. McFarland and Son gold trophy for the highest total score in the Quinte District Cheesemakers' Association competition.

Before leaving Tweed a few years ago the Black River Bridge cheese factory, owned by Bellefeuille and Gourly, Mr. Jones made cheese at the factory in the Lodgeroom district.

At a banquet held for the cheesemaker last week Mr. Jones was also awarded the trophy for the best inside factory conditions and the best outside factory conditions; second prize for workmanship, second prize for cooling room and cheese on hand and percentage for first grade.

Bert has always been a high scorer in cheese competition in this part of the district and while at Victoria factory was always a prize winner at Tweed Fair and other cheese exhibitions. Mr. Jones is president of the Quinte Cheesemakers' Association.

Injured at Rugby Game

While playing rugby at Tweed High School last week, Bruce Woodcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Woodcock, Tweed, had the misfortune to break his right arm. Fractured just below his elbow. He was taken to Belleville hospital, where his arm was placed in a cast. This was the second accident this fall to befall while playing rugby. David Jordan received a leg injury to his back a few weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Luffman and family moved into their new home at Portage Du Fort, Quebec, after spending a week's holiday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Luffman, in town.

Mrs. Thomas Whalen, of Belleville, visited her father, Mr. Jos Hughes, and brother, Mr. Ed Hughes, in town, during the week. Her father, now in his 90's of age is still enjoying excellent health and is Tweed's oldest resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Connor, of Toronto, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pringle, of Arden, and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Connor, of Tweed.

BURR'S

BURR'S W.A.

Burr's — The November W.A. was entertained at the home of Mrs. Floyd Huffman on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. C. Hough presided and was assisted in the devotional by Mrs. F. Burkitt.

A busy business session ensued. The copper contest came to a close with well over $50 collected in 1945 and 1947 pennies. The dime cards were also handed in and totalled a nice sum, which was voted to the local Salvation Army for Christmas cheer. The copper contest supper will be served the latter part of this month at Allisonville Hall. Mrs. F. Osterhout invited the December meeting to her home.

Program consisted of three readings given by Mrs. F. Burkitt, Mrs. K. Blakely and Mrs. Ross Burr.

The storm was devastating here with many trees escaping without loss of limbs and in many cases the whole top was taken. The Hydro was out off and in for immediate area but telephone service is all since Wednesday and likely to be so for some time due to so many broken wires and poles. The road was blocked to traffic Wednesday till afternoon by telephone poles.

Mrs. K. Van Cott is spending several weeks at Simcoe.

Mrs. A. Foster and baby Nancy Diane on returning from hospital are at the home of Mrs. Foster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bonisteel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Diggins arrived at the home of their son, Omar, and Mrs. Diggins, on Tuesday, after spending the summer near Wasaga Beach.

Mrs. C. Telford has been under the doctor's care for several days. All join in wishing her a speedy recovery.

Several from this locality are in the northland for the hunting season.

Mrs. B. Ainsworth is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sheldon, of Athens.

The auction at the farm of Mr. Fred Morton was well attended, with quite a number going from this way.

Mr. Stanley Werden, Christian St. was feted at a birthday dinner on Friday evening by the family, Mrs. E. Anderson, Belleville, and Mrs. R. LaFontaine, Detroit, were among the guests.

Friends of this district were sorry to learn of the painful accident suffered by Mrs. H. B. Anderson, Wellington, when she fell, breaking her shoulder. All join in hearty get well wishes for her.

THREE MINERS KILLED

Dunseldorf, Germany, Nov. 10.— (Reuters) — Three former coal miners were killed yesterday when the walling of a mine gallery collapsed.

BLOOMFIELD

Ross Foster Tells Of Project Winning Trip to Ottawa

Bloomfield — On a recent Wednesday morning, about 40 Project winning club members of Prince Edward and Hastings Counties along with Mr. Don Taylor and Mr. Stone, their agricultural representatives, enjoyed a bus trip to Ottawa.

Everyone rolled out of bed around 5 a.m. and met the bus at Cheese Square, Belleville at 6.30 a.m. we drove to Madoc and on to Ottawa by Highway No. 7 arriving about 10.45 a.m. Our first visit was to the Experimental Farms where a classmate of Mr. Taylor's kindly acted as guide, explaining everything to us. We were taken through the magnificent gardens where lovely 'mums and roses still bloomed. Then the experimental plots were visited, the various types of silos and stuff the manure, and various farm implements which was interesting.

"Our picnic refreshments were enjoyed still more when the Department of Agriculture supplied us with chocolate milk.

Sightseeing

After lunch the group was taken through the Royal Victoria museum of Natural History and the Art Gallery. Queen Mary's carpet was viewed with interest, as enjoyed the pictures at the National Art Gallery, especially the original paintings by Walter Thompson. From there we went to the Parliament Buildings where we were particularly interested in the library, Senate chambers, and the Peace Tower. Some lovely paintings were admired at the Parliament Buildings. Some time was also spent in listening to the debate.

Meet M.P.'s

"The boys and girls were all introduced to Mr. George Purtin, M.P., for Prince Edward-Lennox, who in turn introduced Howie Meeker, youngest M.P. for Canada and popular member of the Toronto Maple Leaf hockey team. Mr. Meeker gave an interesting talk saying he was also from the farm and had won prizes but nothing like the trip we were enjoying that day. He stressed the fact that if you wanted anything badly enough and was willing to work hard enough you could win. That was how he got to be professional hockey player and also a member of Parliament, but he said he enjoyed his work in parliament more than anything else. 'Aim high,' was his slogan and he certainly has been successful.

"We came back to Brockville, where we stopped for supper and home by No. 2 Highway.

Thanks Tendered

"I, on behalf of the group take this opportunity to thank the Kiwanis Club of Belleville and their representative, Mr. Finkle, and all who made the day such a successful success. It was one of the most enjoyable days I ever spent. One car load from Bloomfield even arrived home in time to take in the last act and hours of the Junior Farmers' taffy pull at Bloomfield town hall. What a day. Of course it rained in the afternoon but it didn't dampen our spirits. Not a mishap, except we nearly left our press secretary behind when we went to mail a card in the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa, but fortunately she was missed just as the bus started, so everyone arrived home safely, tired, but happy, after a very full day."

MARMORA

Representatives Canadian Legion Visit Local Schools

Marmora — In conformity with annual custom, representatives of Marmora Branch, No. 227, Canadian Legion, visited local schools on Friday morning, November 9th, Friday to Remembrance Day. This year, President Clayton Bedore, veteran of the Second World War and Padre W. J. Cottrell, veteran of the First World War, were the chosen delegates visiting schools in this order: Marmora Public, Marmora High and Marmora Separate. The former gave the principals poppies for later presentation to students while his comrade gave short addresses on what "Remembrance Day" commemorated. The president also took poppies to Deloro where Principal Fred Stewart, of the public school, distributed poppies at his school and also at the Separate School, thanks to Miss Wurm and her pupils for contributing their talent to the evening's entertainment.

3rd. Anniversary

Madoc Kiwanians and their wives and visiting Kiwanis, numbering nearly 90, attended the 3rd. anniversary of the presentation of the charter to Madoc club on Friday night at the banquet held in Blue's dining hall.

Toastmaster was Mel Osborne, Lieut.-Governor of Division No. 8, who gave a worthwhile address on Kiwanian, their qualifications, duties and achievements." Lt.-Governor Osborne was introduced by Dr. R. R. Beatty and appreciation extended by Greg. Murray, Musical Parties

The musical part included several vocal numbers by Miss Phylis Beatty, accompanied by Stanley Hawthorne, a number by the Madoc Kiwanis Sextet, accompanied by Mrs. Hulin and instrumental by Bob Wigle.

The toast to the ladies was proposed by Dr. Fraser and replied to by Mrs. J. Watson.

The fish trophy for the largest pickerel caught in Moira Lake was presented to the winner, Ken Thompson, on behalf of the club by Ken Holmes.

Several presentations were made during the evening to Mrs. F. O'Riordan and Mrs. W. Hulin by President J. A. Watson. Miss Phylis Beatty also received a gift in recognition of her services to the club since its organization, a bouquet of roses was presented to her by Kel Kincaid.

Mrs. J. A. Watson, Mrs. Osborne and Mrs. Dick, wife of the president of the East York Club, Toronto, were recipients of gifts presented by George West.

Lucky number prizes were presented by Charles Jones, while flowers were given to the ladies present by past president George Duffin.

The president-elect of Madoc Club, Wesley Hulin, spoke briefly as did W. Dick, president of East York Club, Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gillespie left this week to spend the winter in Florida.

Miss Helen Tumelty, of Toronto, spent a few days in Madoc during the week.

Mrs. Hillis Fowlie and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fowlie, of LaSalle, Ont., are spending a few days with J. A. and Mrs. Watson.

MARMORA

Marmora — Miss Gladys Gehan has returned home from a visit with friends in Trenton.

A well attended dance, sponsored by the Catholic Women's League, was held in Sacred Heart Hall, Marmora, on Friday evening. Music was furnished by the Marmora Melody Makers. Refreshments were served.

Mr. John Bonter is a patient in Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. Robert Sanderson, of Cannington, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Sanderson.

Mr. Glen Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Phillips, of Marmora, has been appointed manager of the Dominion Store at Gravenhurst, Ont.

Zone Commander Percy Gray, of Deloro, and Deputy Zone Commander Clayton Bedore, members of Marmora Legion attended the zone executive meeting at Stirling on Sunday, October 28.

Mr. W. J. Cottrell visited Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Baker, in Peterborough, on Friday.

The Outsiders

By Jane Abbott

Annie said eagerly, "you might like a flowerbed! Flowers always seem company, I think. I've more coming in a cold frame. I've found so. Last spring I gave some to Chris Cameron to set out and he said he liked them about."

"If Chris Cameron liked them—" Eliza said, quickly, her first coolness back in her voice, "I don't think I'd care about giving here. I'd rather keep the place just as it is."

Ankle looked over her room, her face lighting with some appreciation that was all her own. "It's a lovely old house," she said softly. She did not seem to say it to Eliza. She turned to the door. "I'll have a little visit with Hespeth before I go down." With that she went out of the parlor.

Eliza did not go back to her practising. She went into the study and picked up a book she had been reading earlier in the afternoon. She had a disturbing feeling of having refused to accept something other than pebbles.

Those chasms the valley people had feared were beginning. First, a woman picking rags in the shed and Annie Wilson and all women. Then, the young fellow, the doctor from outside, come to work in the mill. In Goulin, like the rest of them, except that his was new, Culbert had put him at the digester. The fellow was shutmouthed about why he had left his doctoring to do it. No one knew.

The evening after Annie Wilson's call, Eliza asked "who is Annie Wilson Hespeth?"

Hespeth appeared to be considering whether she would answer that or not. Then she said: "She was born and raised here. As nice and pretty a girl as ever there was. Taught the school for a year. Then she and young Robert, your father, fell in love. I wouldn't say there was set words of it between them but it was so that they were in love-eyes, one knew. Everybody saw it filling. Old Elisha looked on, her like she was a daughter. She came and went here at the house like she was. Then, young Robert went off—'twas his father's idea he should see something of the outside—and he come back with your mother."

Eliza said: "Hespeth, you took care of me sometimes, when I was little, didn't you? Didn't you make some dolls for me out of clothespins?" Her voice, her eyes, begged Hespeth to say it was so. "The first morning I was here—I looked into that old cupboard up in my roof that I played house in. I had a Michael and Matilda and the dolls you made were the children."

"So you do remember," put in Hespeth warmly. "I doubted you would! Yes, I made those dolls. You were abed with the measles."

"Where are they, Hespeth?"

"I put all the truck that was in that cupboard in a box after your mother went off with you. It perished your grandfather to see it 'round. The box's been up in the attic ever since."

"I'm going to get it!"

"Some 'nit tomorrow's time enough."

"No, no, tonight." Eliza was at the door.

"Then I'll fetch it down. The attic's all in order and you'd make a litter of things hunting it."

Eliza was the young one again, from the way Hespeth spoke. "Bring it to my room, Hespeth! I want to put it all back in the cupboard."

Hespeth brought the box to Eliza's room and stood watching, while Eliza, down on her knees, took off the lid.

"Here they all are!" she cried, cuddling the dolls into her lap.

"Not a speck of dust on 'em" observed Hespeth.

"Here's the furniture! At least I played that it was furniture, didn't I?"

"That square of wood was your stove."

"And someone made these beds out of pieces of wood—was it you Hespeth?"

"'Twas your grandfather. I can see him now, sitting out on the back step, whittling."

Suddenly Eliza put one hand over her eyes; the other stayed around the doll Michael.

Hespeth thought she was crying. She had to blink something that might have been tears out of her own eyes. But Eliza lifted a dry face.

It wasn't in Hespeth's vocabulary to express the yearning that swelled in her breast. She said what she knew to say with some brusqueness. "You're tired. You leave those things in the box 'til tomorrow and get to bed."

She went to the bed, turned down the covers, fattened up the pillows with a vigorous shaking.

"There— it's ready for you. I'll heat you the milk and bring it up. You'll sleep, good then."

It was different, the next day, between them.

"Hespeth, I'm going to eat my breakfast with you, here in the kitchen!"

"Well, if so you want it."

"Lunch and supper too."

"Saves steps," said Hespeth.

There was a companionable note in each one's voice.

For Marilyn Stewart everything was most agreeably different. John was out of the house all day long and when he was home he did not go around with that look of waiting so that he might jump down her throat.

She had her party to plan for, too, and that was exciting. She wrote a little note of invitation to Jeremy Penny, her face twisted into a grimace as she wrote it. One to Chris Cameron with the same expression. One to George, considerably warmer in its wording. She entrusted them to Pete to deliver. They're invitations to a little party I am giving for Miss Forrestal," she told Pete, so that these natives would know it by evening.

She cleaned every corner of the house. If it rained, that evening they'd have to eat inside and no one was going to see it dirty.

Every day she watched for George Culbert to pass. She saw him once and ran to the steps but he only waved a hand at her and went on by.

Eliza called her on the telephone and asked her to drive to Cranford with her and that was proof that they were going to be "like that." Marilyn held up two fingers, light together and regarded them gloomily.

They drove to Cranford the next day. Eliza suggested that before they began their shopping they have lunch in the Cranford Arms. Marilyn told John later, "I was in dollar and a half lunch, John! She insisted that I was her guest. Anyway, she'd taken me along to advise her on what she should buy, so I guess I had a good lunch coming to me!"

She went on, her voice high with marvelling. "She really doesn't know a thing about clothes; she says she's never given them any thought. If I had her money! We went into the bank before lunch and she cashed a check for three hundred dollars. But she turned down a perfectly stunning dress— said she wouldn't feel herself in anything so fussy and she went and got the plainest thing—not that I'm sorry! My new dress will look much smarter, next to the one she bought. . . what are you smiling like that at?"

"You kid." And with the smile still on his lips he went into his office.

Marilyn ran into the bedroom She'd take a minute before she started supper to look at her new dress.

Back in the kitchen she went over her day in happy retrospect. There were some things she wasn't going to tell John! Those things about herself she'd made up—she usually hadn't meant to put a bearding school into it, but, somehow, it had come in. That was after Eliza'd asked she'd only gone to private schools." "Tell her that I went to work when I was fifteen in a five-and-dime? Never!

She had elaborated, in all fairness she considered, on John's background, too. "His family goes way back—Dutch, you know, one of the first families along the Hudson. Owned acres and acres. They've still got a lot of their money. John'll come into it when his mother dies. But he won't take a penny now. And I think that is splendid of him, don't you?"

She made the little speech she had prepared in explanation of John's going into the mill. "John thought he was getting soft, you see. Needed to do some good hard work. George—I call him George, I know him so well—gave him the job to please me. George's a perfect dear, don't you think?"

Eliza laughed. " I haven't thought—"

"Well, you'll find out he is. And compared to Chris Cameron. . . "

GARDINER TO TRY TO NEGOTIATE NEW FOOD AGREEMENTS

Will Visit Rome to Talk With U.K. Delegates

Ottawa, Nov. 13 — (CP)—The possibility arose today of fresh Anglo - Canadian negotiations for the sale of Canadian farm products to the food-short United Kingdom.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner indicated this in the Commons last night when he disclosed that he plans to discuss food sales with officials of the United Kingdom and other countries at an international agricultural gathering in Rome.

He plans to leave for Rome Monday next and return about Nov. 26, stopping off in London on the way back.

Mr. Gardiner, speaking in the throne speech debate, made it clear the change of government in the U. K. had influenced him to attend the Rome gathering, the annual meeting of the United Nations food and agriculture organization. He understood the new British ministers of food and agriculture were keen on trade and felt it would be well to meet them.

Canada now has only a few food agreements with Britain, comparable with the contracts during the war and early post-war years. Present agreements cover bacon, eggs and apples. There are none for pork, beef, eggs and poultry, all Canadian products, nor are there contracts of a few years ago.

Drew Suggests Plan

Mr. Gardiner made his announcement in response to a suggestion by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, that Canadian farmers be told how the British austerity program, with its possible reduction in purchases from Canada, might affect production plans.

The Progressive Conservative leader also urged the government to call a conference of agricultural farm leaders, including the interim ministers of agriculture, to consider what should be done to help western producers. They faced "very real disaster" because of the slow movement of grain.

Mr. Gardiner said that problem will be discussed when he attends a meeting of western wheat pools in Regina this Friday. It also will come before the annual federal - provincial conference here early in December.

Hinting that some federal assistance for the west, he said the government is considering western crop conditions. "But you could not say just now what might be done.

ADMITS LIABILITY

Kitchener, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Total of $2,500 in damages was awarded in Ontario Supreme Court yesterday to three traffic-accident victims.

Mrs. Mary Beckman of Hespeler was awarded $1,000; Mrs. Barnard $290; and her husband $775. The accident occurred Sept. 25, 1950. Gerald Coyle of Toronto, the defendant, had previously admitted his liability.

Frost Heckled in Hamilton; MacOdrum Says Toronto Star Has Made Deal With Thomson

(By The Canadian Press)

Premier Frost was heckled last night for the first time in his Nov. 22 Ontario general election campaign but he countered swiftly with a brief review of his labor policy.

The incident occurred while he was speaking to a gathering in the industrial city of Hamilton.

"I can truthfully say that we have a greater degree of industrial peace in the province than ever before," he said in a speech at the three-quarter mark of his 45-speech campaign.

"If you say you're telling the truth, you're lying," shouted a heckler from the back of the hall.

Mr. Frost said labor had shown its confidence in him by inviting him to arbitrate last summer's strike by the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) at the Hollinger gold mine in Timmins.

The Progressive Conservatives had adopted collected bargaining as basic policy upon coming to power in 1943 and since had passed laws to provide basic standards applicable to both organized and unorganized labor.

Tie-Up Charged

C. Gordon MacOdrum, Progressive Conservative candidate for Leeds, told a campaign meeting in Brockville that there is a tie-up between the Toronto Star and Mr. Thomson. He said also that Mr. Thomson has promised to repeal the Ontario Labor Relations Act if elected.

The Act, passed at the 1948 session of the legislature, provides that charity trusts may not hold more than 25 per cent of any business. Its provisions are retroactive to 1947.

(Mr. Thomson was quoted Monday in the Toronto Telegram as saying that the Toronto Star secret deal between the Star and me. No newspaper has attempted to dictate to me.)

Premier Frost is scheduled to speak in Hamilton this afternoon and tonight in Welland and Niagara Falls. Mr. Jolliffe speaks tonight in Kingston. The campaign moves into eastern Ontario with addresses at Perth in the afternoon and in the ridings of Prescott and Russell at night.

CHURCHILL WINS FIRST TEST VOTE BY MARGIN OF 39

Labor Fails in Attempt To Halt Repeal of Act

London, Nov. 13 (AP)— The House of Commons last night gave Winston Churchill's new Conservative regime its first vote of confidence, beating down by a 39-vote margin a Labor attempt to halt repeal of steel nationalization.

The House, voting 320 to 281, rejected an opposition amendment regretting that the Speech from the Throne opening parliament had promised an end to government ownership of the steel industry, which the previous Labor-controlled House had voted.

The Throne Speech is written by the cabinet in power and outlines its program. Return of steel to private ownership was a major pledge of the Conservatives in the Oct. 25 general election.

The Tory regime was bolstered during yesterday's debate that it plans to introduce by Feb. 1 a bill denationalizing steel. The former supply minister, George Strauss said Labor will oppose the bill at every stage. If the Tories do take the industry out from under government ownership, he said, he shall seek to restore it at the "earliest possible moment" Strauss added.

Approval of the Labor amendment would have been a vote of assignation of Churchill's government. Labor has only a 5 - man over-all majority of only 18 votes in the members of the full House. Churchill decided the promised support of the six Liberal party M.P.'s, however, and several Labor members were absent.

The defeated amendment also declared that the people have announced intention of removing certain restrictions from the nationalized trucking industry.

The Labor government nationalized British steel industry just February after a long fight in Commons. Although ownership of the companies has been vested in the government, little has been done to bring the industry under actual state control.

Hunter, Deer Meet Head-On, Animal Escapes

Copper Cliff, Ont., Nov. 13 (CP)—Walter Rutherbird of Canton, O., met a buck deer head-on in a bush trail 20 miles west of here. He grabbed his rifle and fired.

"It staggered, then lowered its head and charged me," he said today. "I jumped to one side . . . The animal plowed right into me through my tent and carried it about 30 feet into the bush."

In the bush in sleeping bags, were Rutherbird's hunting companions, Clayton Harrow and William Sayer, both of Canton.

Said Harrow: "Walter's shot wakened us. We heard him shout and then a hurricane hit the tent.

When the tent snagged in a tree, the buck apparently freed itself clear and crashed away into the bush.

Assembly Refuses To Give China's Seat to Peiping

Acheson Makes Blistering Attack on Chinese Reds

Paris, Nov. 13 — (AP) — The Soviet Union today ran into a series of rebuffs in the United Nations General Assembly, the Assembly refused to consider giving China's seat to the Peiping communists, agreed to take up a western plan designed as a first step in reuniting Germany, and decided to consider a Yugoslav complaint of hostile Soviet actions.

The vote against considering the Chinese representation question was 37 to 11, with four members abstaining. It followed a sharp clash between Dean Acheson, United States secretary of state, and Foreign Minister Vishinsky of Russia.

Acheson told the 60 - state assembly "Our minds revolt" at the thought of giving China's seat to a regime "now engaged in killing the countrymen of at least a score of the nations seated here."

Under Indictment

He said the Chinese communist government was "under indictment" as an aggressor in Korea and urged the delegates to defer postponement of the question for this session to "enable us to go on with our business without further obstruction."

Acheson, in a blistering attack on red China, objected to consideration of the question at the very time when its international conduct is so low that it would be "impossible for responsible men to raise it to the general level of barbarism."

Vishinsky, who spoke first, insisted that the Nationalist Chinese had no right to represent China and, moreover, the assemblies had no right to decide not to discuss the issue this year.

The assembly, moving toward adoption of its agenda, also:

1. Agreed, without dissent, to consider diverse disarmament plans presented by the Russian Big Three and the Soviet Union. The western plan included a census of atomic weapons under U.N. supervision. The Russian plan called for the summoning of a conference outside the United Nations.

2. Defeated a Russian attempt to force off the agenda a long-standing charge by Nationalist China that the Soviet Union is guilty of aggression in China.

The vote on the German question was 47-6 with two abstentions. The assembly rejected the contention of Andrei Vishinsky Soviet foreign minister, that the German problem was none of the assembly's business.

Investigate Conditions

The Big-Three plan, as explained by Dean Acheson, would set up a commission of the United States and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain, calls for the establishment of an impartial international commission to investigate whether conditions in both West Germany and communist-ruled East Germany are suitable for holding elections.

Both Acheson and Eden said it is designed to lead to eventual unity of Germany, and was introduced at the request of the West German chancellor, Konrad Adenauer.

"I beg to differ," Vishinsky said in a slashing attack on the plan. . . . Germany, Britain and the United States want "first and foremost to perpetuate the dismemberment of Germany," he said.

Vishinsky claimed that establishment of such a commission would violate both the U.N. Charter and the Potsdam Agreements.

Assoc. Wants Govt. to Pay Municipal Taxes

Toronto, Nov. 13—(CP)—The Ontario Property Owners Association last night called for legislation to allow government property to pay municipal taxes.

A resolution, one of several passed at the O. P. O. A.'s 15th annual conference, said: "Resolved that all exemptions from real property taxation enjoyed by the Crown, by corporations directly or indirectly controlled by the Crown, or by any other institutions or organizations be abolished."

The property owners also called on the provincial government to "relieve real property of the burden of payment for any part of the Oct. 6 settlement." They asked also for "progressive and substantial" control of rents "to encourage private enterprise in supply the normal demand for rental housing."

William J. LeClair of Ottawa was re-elected president of the association at the annual Property Owners Associations. Jamieson Bone of Belleville and De Le Bruere Forlier of Quebec City, were named honorary vice-presidents.

Mr. Bone and Alfred J. Bender of Kitchener were among those elected to the board of directors.

COMMANDO TRICK FAILS

Toronto, Nov. 13 — (CP) — A lesson in commando tactics last night sent Charles Mooney, 19, to hospital with a deep knife wound in the abdomen. Police said Mooney and a companion were demonstrating commando holds to each other in a suburban Weston store. William Cowlzl, a clerk, held a five-inch knife which Mooney grabbed to remove. In the scuffle the knife was torn into Mooney's stomach. Police said no charges will be laid.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Nov. 13 (CP) Synopsis: One week ago today Ontario was in the grip of a severe cold snap, and the mercury dipped to a record breaking one below zero at Centralia airport near London.

There has been a marked change in the weather picture since then. Mild weather and heavy rains and showers over the forecast regions have brought a flow of warm moist air in which severe local thunderstorms were reported last night. Similar mild and wet conditions occurring at anytime over Ontario today and tonight.

Elizabeth, Philip Sail for Home Across Storm-Tossed Atlantic As Canada Says 'Au Revoir'

Fierce Storms Showing Signs Of Reaching End

Rome, Nov. 13 — (Reuters) — Devastating storms which have killed 148 persons in the last month today showed signs of reaching an end.

Unparalleled in recent Italian history, the storms and floods spread from the north to almost the entire country. In the last week, 50 were killed in northern Italy. In the Sarno River industrial valley, floods still cover large areas and threaten the ancient twin cities of Piacenzo and Cremona.

The Po River burst its banks at Pavia, near Milan, last night, killing three and burying almost 1,000 acres of cultivated land.

The government is expected to set aside a $40,000,000 relief fund to get the stricken areas throughout Italy and Sardinia back on their feet.

A married couple was killed near the east coast last night when a howling gale sent the bell tower of a church crashing through the roof of a house.

Seven persons were missing after the Tyrrhenian sea swept away by flood currents near Leghorn.

A landslide near Domodossola on the Swiss border blocked the international Simplon and main road. Other landslides cut the international route from Genoa to Chiasso.

In neighboring Switzerland, flood waters from Lake Maggiore were reported rising today, with parts of Locarno under more than six feet of water.

In Lugano, flood waters from Lake Lugano were three feet deep in the city's centre.

BOYSWAIF HOPEFULLY

Clarence, Mo., Nov. 13 — (AP) Three small boys are waiting hopefully for $12,500 which they found in a fruit jar. They'll get the money in about 11 months if no one proves ownership. The boys — Larry Foster, 9, Kenny Smith, 8, and his brother, Mack, 6 — found the jar Oct. 5. They were told yesterday it will become in case of fingers - keepers Oct. 5, 1952, if the loser doesn't appear.

U.N. Wants to Keep Pressure of War On Reds Until Armistice is Signed

Tokyo, Nov. 13 (AP) — The United Nations' command made an about-face in the Korean cease-fire talks.

Once it wanted the cease-fire line drawn immediately along the current battle front.

Now it wants the line drawn after other points leading to the signing of a complete armistice be settled.

Why the switch?

The U.N. fears that the communists would take advantage of a cease-fire line drawn now to get out of the jam they're in, and to defy over the questions to be considered after such questions such as the return of U.N. soldiers they now hold as prisoners of war.

The U.N. wants to keep the pressure of war on the reds, to keep them discussing the sleep treading to the signing of an armistice. That's the difference between a cease-fire and an armistice?

A cease-fire is a cessation of of fighting for a special reason.

An armistice is an agreement upon, signed-on-the-line document stabilizing the cease-fire and not making it permanent until the armistice is broken or a peace treaty is signed.

The U.N. command says that if any cease-fire line is agreed upon now—however temporary it might be—no allied soldier will be left in much enthusiasm about crossing it.

Thus the allies would be robbed of their most valuable weapon in forcing the reds into agreement on other disputed points.

The U.N. command feels it must have some way of withdrawing over the reds to prevent endless bickering without result. That's why the threat of continued war.

Still in fact discussion by negotiators is the question of enforcing the cease-fire, the exchange of prisoners of war and recommendations to the governments concerned on both sides.

All undoubtedly will be rough nuts to crack.

In any case, the U.N. command says, the war must go on—because continued war is the only road to peace in Korea.

Prime Minister Churchill to Visit Ottawa After Talks With Truman

London, Nov. 13—(Reuters)— Prime Minister Churchill has accepted an invitation from the Canadian government to spend two or three days at Ottawa after talks with President Truman at Washington in January, it was announced today.

The length of the prime minister's stay in North America is still to be announced. So far it is known only that he will leave Britain in the first days of January.

Authoritative quarters here could not say tonight whether Churchill will address a joint session of Congress during his Washington visit. They merely commented he would naturally be anxious to meet any wishes which the president might have.

Churchill's visit to Ottawa will give him an opportunity to discuss the Korean situation with Mr. Lester Pearson, Canadian secretary of state for external affairs.

Included in the responsibilities of both countries under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Many of the problems to be discussed by Churchill and Truman at Washington—including the British economic crisis — may also have an important bearing upon the subsequent Ottawa talks.

Cheese Factories Asked to Make Separate Listings

As the balance of October cheese should be listed and sold on this week's cheese exchanges, the Ontario Cheese Producers' Marketing Board has asked that factories list on their exchange their October and November cheese separately. This is very important so that all October made cheese can be shipped this week, thus making it possible for them to be serviced for export before the general market closes.

The Marketing Board also announces that it will support the market for cheese produced in the Province of Ontario covered by their scheme at the minimum negotiated price of 36 cents per pound F.O.B factory, provided the cheese is stamped 'Canada' and is subjected to grading.

Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Honor Fallen Comrades In Observing Remembrance Day

"Remembrance Day reminds us not to forget the sacrifices and efforts made by those who gave their lives. As we stand together so should the English-speaking nations of the world, even freedom to protect the liberties we have." Lieut.-Col. Eddie A. Baker, MC, OBE, managing director of the Royal Montreal Institute for the Blind, Toronto, said here last night.

Speaking to 400 members of Unit No. 201, Army, Navy, Air Force Veterans, their wives and guests at the unit's annual Remembrance Day banquet in the armories, the sightless veteran said by their unity and purpose veterans can help heal the ulcery troubling other nations and help spare them the war to the peace and freedom "we treasure so much."

Recalling the dark war days, Col. Baker said "Canada lost 40,000 lives in the first great conflict and 38,000 of our sons gave their lives in the Second World War."

"On a day like this we remember them. There are many of us who never forget them every day of the year."

Others to whom who might have died if it had not been for sympathetic comrades, and friends and relatives, Col. Baker said. Many were injured who today do not realize their condition and are under care in institutions.

Lest Sight in France

Referring to his own disability Col. Baker lost his sight (he was wounded in action in France), he said "it had a slight effect on me. It did make a major change in my outlook, but I feel very sympathetic when I meet others worse off than me; I am grateful I have been spared the load others have to bear. Their courage and fortitude is an inspiration to me. They have given to the home and in spite of frustrations and difficulties their chins are up."

"The courage of these men," Col. Baker said, "has been an inspiration to those who have never smelled powder, but who have sympathy for them."

Blinded soldiers, he said, showed what could be done when they came back to civil life. Even paraplegics, the bravest of all, have chosen to help those in civil life.

"We went to war to protect our freedom. In having gone through the horrors of war we can come back and by dedicating to better our way of living then war has contributed something to our way of life."

Warns Against Materialism

He warned against materialism which has crept into the "neighborly spirit" which sense help others merely for the dollar. "The pioneer days," he said, "saw everybody helping everybody else. Materialism can undo much that has been done and it is now hand-in-hand with the Christian spirit."

"While some in the world enjoy a good standard of living, a real one not," Col. Baker said. "We should do what we can to encourage and point the way to those more poorly off than we, and unless we do, we can never say we have done all we can to preserve the peace. We should be a good neighbor and anticipate the call of others desperation before it reaches the breaking point."

Col. Baker was introduced by Major Bert Wells, chairman of the evening who also expressed the veterans' appreciation.

Impressive Note Struck

An impressive note was struck during the two minutes silence which followed the preliminary observance of remembrance given by Major H. Honeychurch, Salvation Army who spoke in place of the Rev. Father J. J. Buckley, unable to be present.

The large crowd rose to its feet as the lights dimmed in the auditorium. There was a tense silence as a pale light shone upwards on a gleaming white cross on which hung the tin helmet of a soldier. At the base of the cross a bugler sounded and a wreathed poppies offered colorful contrast. Nearby at a small table was a vacant chair symbolic of those "unable to be present."

Following Chairman Wells opening address Major Honeychurch offered the invocation. Comrade Reg. Davey, president of the Ontario Provincial Command ANAF, Hamilton, proposed the toast to the King, Comrade Art. Callaghan, president and dent in place of President W. J. Ford who was unavoidably absent proposed the toast to the "Forces" with Lieut. Col. G. C. McGregor, MC, commanding officer 8th Anti Tank Regiment, RCA (AA), Trenton, represented the Army, responding.

Guests Present

Among the guests present were, besides Col. and Mrs. McGregor, Comrade Lieut. Col. H. LeGrow, representing the R.C.A.F.; Lieut. Addison Lloyd representing the Royal Canadian Navy, and Mrs. Lloyd; Frank Follwell, M.P., and Mrs. Follwell; Elmer Sandercock, M.L.A., and Mrs. Sandercock; Comrade Davey, Alderman Harry Rollins, Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. Baker church. Also at the head table were vice-president and Mrs. A. Galbraith.

The banquet was served by members of the ladies auxiliary of the branch under the supervision of President Carl Lundberg. The tables were tastefully and appropriately decorated with small red poppies and flags.

Following the banquet and ceremonial, dancing was enjoyed by veterans, their wives and guests to the music of Dan Fairman and his orchestra.

Assault Proves Costly to Three Local Youths

Assault of a police officer can prove costly it was learned today by three local young men who were assessed fines and costs amounting to $55.25 each after they pleaded guilty in magistrate's court on two separate counts.

Edward Cole pleaded guilty to assault of a police officer and to assisting a prisoner to escape from police, while Gordon Murray and Melbourne Barrage pleaded guilty to assault and also to taking part in an affray.

The assault charges the men were fined $10 and $19 costs as well as $4.25 restitution, and on the affray charges the fine was $5 with $17 costs. Default of payment will mean one month in jail.

Charges against the three men arose out of an affray which took place on Front Street early on the morning of October 31.

The court was told by Inspector Clair Hayes that Police Constables Cook and Parker had been patrolling on Front Street, when they came on the affray and disorderly fighting. As one of the men was being put in the police cruiser Cole tried to rescue the prisoner the opposite door allowing the prisoner to escape. In the mix-up the two officers were assaulted, their uniforms being messed up and a watch belonging to one of the constables was broken.

Obituary

LATE VALENTINE JOYCE

The funeral of the late Valentine Joyce, who died at the Hastings County Home on Friday last was held from the Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home on Monday afternoon. The service was conducted by the Rev. W. R. Merrick, who also said the last rites in Victoria cemetery.

Pall bearers were Harold Scully, Orley Parks, Arthur Shannon, Franklin Larkin, Joseph Shannon and Russell Glass.

The late Mr. Joyce was born in Tyendinaga Township, 84 years ago, being the son of the late Patrick and Ellen Joyce, and he lived in that community all his life. He has no surviving relatives, his wife having died one year ago.

WILLIAM RANKIN GRAHAM (Edmonton—Trenton)

After an illness of some duration William Rankin Graham died at the Trenton Memorial Hospital on Monday evening. He was a resident of Edmonton, Alberta, for many years but six weeks ago came to visit with his daughter, Mrs. Alfred Jackson of Murphy's Point, Ont., and he was taken ill here and removed to the hospital.

He was a member of the 1st Presbyterian Church in Edmonton and fraternally was a member of I.O.L. of Edmonton. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. James (Fay) Gathlaith of Edmonton, Mrs. Milton (Kathleen) Wood of Darwell, Alta., Mrs. Alfred (Marjorie) Jackson of Trenton and one son, Hamilton Graham of Edmonton.

CLIFFORD ROSS McTAGGART

Thomasburg— The funeral of the late Clifford Ross McTaggart was held from his home Thursday. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mordfor Cleaver assisted by Rev. Gray, Rev. G. Crabbe, Edgerton, a former pastor.

Many messages brought comfort to their hearers, and Mrs. Clarke's solo "Some Day We'll Understand" seemed a fitting accompaniment to their words.

The large company of friends and beautiful floral tributes attested to the esteem in which the late Mr. McTaggart was held. Interment was in Thomasburg cemetery.

New Warehouse Will be Used For Dairy Show

The 1951 edition of the British Empire Dairy Show held annually in the city will be held in the new warehouse at the premises of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association.

The cheese show, being held in conjunction with the 24th annual convention of the Central Ontario Cheese Makers' Association, will be held on December 5th and 6th in the recently completed cheese storage building on Mill Street at the waterfront. The convention meetings will be held as usual at the Hotel Quinte.

Mr. J. L. Irwin, honorary president of the cheese show, stated today that entries are starting to come in and a larger exhibit than that of last year is expected for the show. New this year will be a special class for rindless square cheese for which $50 prize money is being offered.

All told cash prizes will amount to approximately $1,700 in addition to trophies and other awards. Special Prize Offered

Over $2,000 Needed by Community Chest to Reach $20,000 Quota

The Red Feather Campaign of the Belleville and District Community Chest had reached a total of $17,770 at a late hour this morning after two complete weeks of effort on the part of over 200 workers while still over $2,000 short of the very minimum objective required by the four participating agencies to meet their deficit, officials were confident that at least this amount would be obtained in the next few days.

At a executive meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. it was decided that no good purpose could be served by allowing the campaign to drag on and consume indefinitely the time of campaign volunteers. It was believed that a final quick effort on the part of the workers, with the co-operation of the public, should finish the campaign officially this week. Those citizens who have not been solicited or have not subscribed are urged to get in touch with their respective solicitor as soon as possible. Workers are requested to finish the last few calls during the day and make their complete returns no later than Thursday.

While it is known that there are outstanding amounts which may still require several days before they can be obtained, it is expected that even after the official close this week there will be contributions trickling in for several days. There are several streets in the city from which no campaign returns have been received. Some employees returns are still outstanding and a number of unsolicited several in the special names group are yet to make contributions.

District Drama Groups Share Acting Course

A busy weekend for many members of the Trenton Drama Club and the Belleville Theatre Guild began last Friday evening when Mr. Arthur Clare of the Community Program Branch gave the first of a series of talks on all aspects of acting and dramatic work. Emphasizing that he was not going to lecture, Mr. Clare soon had his audience working along with him as he taught them the elements of breathing and relaxation. A long session on Saturday evening followed by two more on Sunday and a final one on Monday, sufficed to cover virtually the entire field of theatrical endeavor, including the development of acting and direction as well as staging, lighting, make-up and costumes.

While not pretending that in this short time he could turn each member of his audience into a finished actor, a procedure which, of course, takes years of study and practice, Mr. Clare succeeded in pointing the ways in which members of drama groups could profit from most rapidly while still retaining the maximum amount of fun in the doing. In fact, fun in acting, he emphasized, was the main thread running through the whole series, and to judge by the evidence of the Belleville Police Department, and those who donated the use of cars for the occasion,

IN MEMORIAM

GARDINER — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Stillman Gardiner, who passed away November 13th, 1949.
Sad and sudden was the call
Of one so dearly loved by all.
It was bitter grief, a shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear.
To think you could not say good-bye
Before you closed your loving eyes.
Two years have passed and gone;
But time will never cancel crime
Your memory from our hearts.
Sadly missed by Mrs. Gardiner, remembered by wife and the family. N13

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Nov. 13—(CP)—Stock market prices moved upward today in early afternoon dealings. Balanced support and selling pressure held industrials trendless at the opening.

Industrial trading was slow, but speculative activity attracted moderate interest. A scattered list of base metals and western oils showed large turnovers. American Yellowknife was again active. Volume for the first three hours was 1,344,000 shares.

Western Oils eased from early gains. Calmont, Calvan Consol. dated Pan Western, Security Free, Seiburn and Vulcan retained small gains. Also Petroleum, Jupiter, model Oil, National Petroleum, Security Free, Tower and Superior dipped.

Base Metals traded irregularly. Consolidated Smelters climbed $1.50 while Noranda and United Keno Hill added fractions. Anacon Lead, Quemont, Hudson Bay and Sherritt-Gordon edged higher. Chromium jumped 30 cents while United Asbestos dropped 30 cents.

Senior Golds were firm. Giant Yellowknife Kerr Addison, Lake Shore and Teck Hughes strengthened. Secondary issues showed little trend.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Nov. 13 (CP) —Prices were firm at Monday's advance at the Ontario stockyards here today. Receipts: Cattle 360, calves 190, hogs 1,000, sheep and lambs 170. The boldover from Monday was 1,900 cattle mostly stockers.

Medium to good weighty steers sold for $23-$25. Commons-medium light steers and heifers sold $22-$23 while good heifers were up to $23.50. Medium to good cows brought $20-$27.50 with common cows confined to $20. Common bulls were $22.50-$26 while good bulls made $27-$28. Good to choice fed yearlings were selling $35-$37 with medium selling downward to $30. Common to medium stockers were $25-$33 with good stock calves $34.

Veal calves were steady at $37-$38 for choice, while common to medium brought $23-$33. Heavy calves were not selling.

There were no hog prices established.

Lambs were selling steady at $22.25 for good ewes and wethers with bucks $21.25. Medium to good sheep brought $16-$22 with culls selling downward to $10.

Use of Films For Community Work Outlined

Miss Idys Booker, of the community program branch of the Department of Education and Mr. Charles Weir also of the department attended the recent meeting of the Belleville and District Film Council at the Corby Library to outline plans for an extensive film workshop that is designed especially to give leadership in the community through the numerous uses of films. Miss Booker, who devotes much of her energies to the organizing and conducting workshops throughout the province, is very keen with the help of her assistants to give a clear demonstration of using films purposefully to the occasion.

The proposed workshop is to be held late in January. With representatives from the film councils of Picton, South Hastings and Belleville and Trenton, Miss Booker prepared the program to meet specific local needs embracing the general topics of Leadership with Films, Program Planning, Sources and Effective Use of Films, Availability of Films for Various Discussion Groups, How to Use Films and Filmstrips in the Classroom, and several other topics. The program is left flexible enough to answer problems of those who are attending. The workshop will deal mainly with discussion and forums.

Asked to Attend Workshop

The president, Mr. E. J. Chard, expressed the appreciation of the members to Miss Booker for her efforts and comprehensive workshop plan. Mr. Chard urged the many people present to bear the good news to their respective organizations and have them in turn encourage all interested men in film leadership to attend the workshop.

During the business portion Mr. Ron. Ward, N.F.B. representative, mentioned that he would try to procure the new and most timely film "V for Volunteer" to show to the council typical volunteer workers in the community. He suggested that a booklet be prepared describing the history of the film council and the service it is striving to render to the community and district. Upon a motion from Mr. J. T. Davis a block system for Christmas films is to be set up during December to give a better and more uniform service to Christmas parties and concerts. The president described the special order for Christmas, children's and cartoon films available at the library during December.

For the program, Mrs. Wanda Sine introduced the film discussion with challenging remarks on voluntary service in the "Red Feather Campaign" and left the thought-stirring questions: In which direction is Canada's social system progressing? Should all social service expense be incorporated in taxes?

Mr. Ron Ward then showed the film "Who Is My Neighbor?"

Following the filming, Mrs. Sine conducted a lively discussion with voices from over twenty organizations participating. Several representatives added considerably from the background of their community work —Miss Booker of community programs, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lockett of Children's Aid Society, Mr. R. R. Macklem, Inspector of Public Schools; Mr. and Mrs. D. McKinnon of the Juvenile Court and Mr. J. T. Davis of the Chamber of Commerce. During the discussion refreshments were served. The appreciation of the group was extended to Mrs. Sine for her fine leadership and to Miss Olive Hubbs for preparing the refreshments.

Mr. Ron Ward screened two films and the council ordered a most delightful one, The Littlest Angel. Mr. Bill McCormick described the course for projectionists now in progress at the library. Since the meeting, fifteen organizations are being trained through the kindness of Sister Mary Verda, Mrs. Wanda Sine, Miss O. Delaney, Mr. E. J. Chard, Mr. B. Frink and Mr. H. Gooding.

Newly-Renovated Parish Hall Will be Opened Thursday

Under an extensive program of alterations during the past six months, the newly-renovated Christ Church parish hall will be officially opened Thursday afternoon and evening when the various church groups will hold a combined bazaar and social gettogether.

During the evening the renovated building will be dedicated by Canon J. B. Creeggan, rector of Christ Church.

A complete transformation has been effected at the parish hall and little, if anything, remains to remind of the former interior. Gone is the main floor auditorium and stage and the open balcony. In its place are two complete floors planned to fit in more conveniently with the various phases of church activity. W. A. Watson, local architect planned the alterations which were done by the Tatham Company.

The main floor now consists of the Sunday school room which can be divided by a sliding curtain for holding classes. When the stage was is a lecture room and kitchen. It can be divided. Lockers are provided for all church groups.

Modern Kitchen Installed

A modern kitchen, complete with electric stove, panboard, electric range and shining sink, is provided for the readying of meals and lunches. A dumb waiter connects the kitchen with the floor above. Also on the main floor is an office for the church secretary.

Three separate stairways lead to the added second floor which has been fitted as the auditorium complete with stage. Special lighting is provided for the stage. Most of the smaller church group meetings will be held in the auditorium.

Ceilings and upper walls of all the rooms are of acoustically treated wallboard. Lower walls are of plywood finish and floors are covered with battleship linoleum. The artificial lighting is indirect incandescent.

Three Shades of Green

The general color scheme is three shades of green, ranging from very light green for the upper walls and ceilings and darker shades for the lower walls and floors. Heating is by hot water with separate thermostatic control.

First of Beaver Aircraft Ordered By U.S. Delivered

Toronto, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Production Minister Howe today turned over to the United States the first three of 100 Beaver aircraft ordered by the U. S. Air Force. He announced that a bigger and better plane is in the making.

In a ceremony at the De Havilland aircraft plant, where the Beaver is under construction, Mr. Howe said the success of the utility aircraft has set the government, in co-operation with De Havilland, to work "on a bigger and better plans of similar design."

"The prototype of this new King Beaver is nearing completion," he said in a speech prepared for delivery at the plant.

He praised the talents and ability of Canada's aircraft designers and builders and observed that both the Beaver and the CF-100 jet fighter "are the result of seronautical experience and background not generally appreciated outside Canada."

One-Third of Canadians' Payrolls Comes From Trade With Foreign Lands

By FORBES RHUDE
(Canadian Press Business Editor)

When you get your weekly pay cheque make a bow to Canada's foreign trade.

For, no matter what you do, it is estimated that one-third of what you earn comes from the purpose of buying and selling with other countries.

Some think that the average Canadian doesn't realize to what degree foreign trade pays for his groceries and luxuries; that even many of those engaged in it do not realize its importance.

Speakers to the current annual meeting in Toronto of the Canadian Exporters' Association have something to say about these tendencies, and what to do about them.

John E. Marsh, general manager of the C.E.A. told the meeting yesterday, in reference to exports:

"It takes only a few short months of neglect to destroy the work of years and the very large expenditure of money.

"While I condemn ourselves (the exporters) for not putting enough emphasis on export, may I also suggest that the government show more imagination in selling to Canadians the importance of export and how dependent we are upon it.

"This association will have to do more—emphasizing that it is a very long, difficult and expensive undertaking to become thoroughly established in world markets."

And Quintin J. Gwyn the association's president, said:

"The refrigerator in the home, the vacuum cleaner, the radio and a hundred other items that make the difference between mere subsistence and a decent standard of living, are indirectly the result of Canada's vast stake in international trade."

Speaking to the association's annual dinner last night, Health Minister Martin forecast that Canadian exports this year will approach $4,000,000,000 with imports about $4,250,000,000—both records.

If foreign trade is that good, why is there concern? It is not, except in a minor way, because we are temporarily buying slightly more than we are selling.

Rather, the worry results from the nature of our export trade. For one thing, more than 69 per cent of our sales are to the United States, and Mr. Marsh commented:

"Our dependence on the U.S. market (grateful as we are for it because without it our export figures would be pathetic) is at once our greatest temporary asset and the greatest menace to our future autonomy."

One reason for the high proportion of sales to the United States is that Britain, the rest of the Commonwealth and Empire, and Europe, have not got our kind of money (dollars) with which to buy from us; and we are not buying enough for them to supply them with our kind of money.

Mr. Gwyn urged: "We must strain every effort to ease this problem in our own interest."

Mayor Couch Explains Why He Seeks Re-election

Trenton (Special)—Announcement by Mayor Kenneth J. Couch that he would again stand for election in the coming election came as a surprise yesterday to the citizens of Trenton. Throughout the last year Mr. Couch is council and among business friends had often repeated that 1951 was his last term. Mr. Couch's release to the press explains why he changed his mind.

"Six months ago I stated that at the completion of five years as mayor of Trenton I would step aside and provide the electors an opportunity to select someone else to serve as their chief magistrate, It has proven to be a statement easier made than to be lived up to.

"In the last month and increasing as nomination draws near, people of all walks of life have brought pressure upon me to offer myself as mayor for one year more.

"I have withheld my answer until now as I realized that once the River Front scheme was returning back. Some of the reasons advanced have been very difficult to ignore.

"In the last five years 80 per cent of my evenings have been devoted in the best interests of the town of Trenton, not to mention the hours spent during the day. If I have succeeded in raising the status of Trenton in any way the hours were well spent and I am happy to have been of service to the town for which the future holds so much.

"I cannot overlook the fact that every member of my council has insisted that I carry on. I knew that Councillors Burtt and Rae had aspirations to the mayor's chair, and rightfully so. They both served Trenton long and well. When they approached me together, frankly admitting they would oppose each other, but if I would remain, to use their own words, they would both be behind me politically," you cannot ignore such confidence.

"Another influence is the fact that negotiations that have been under way for a year re the Bata-Frankford road and more housing for Trenton are just in the development stages and I would not be happy to see any change in the present plans.

"There are other items of great importance which Trenton needs and which can be provided in 1952. These will be dealt with nomination night."

POLICE BLOTTER

Smash and Grab thieves last night broke their way into a car owned by Chas. Hiscott of Lesdale with a suitcase being stolen. One of the rear door windows in the car was broken. Police later found the suitcase and contents at the rear of the J. B. Boyce and Sons lot on Front Street.

A railway employee, Paul Faraway, reported that a boarding car had been entered with personal articles valued at approximately $25 being stolen.

CASE OF MISGUIDED ZEAL

The recent death of Brigadier General D. G. Draper, one-time head of the Ontario Police force, recalls the days when Draper first sprang into world prominence in public affairs, at least, when it first appeared as an important factor in Toronto.

In the early and middle nineteen-twenties, the Communists used to hold meetings in Queen's Park, near the University of Toronto. Chief Constable Draper, who hated Communists, used to send his men to these meetings with instructions to "break them up." Whether they received specific instructions to use whatever methods they liked or not, it was apparent that Chief Constable Draper did not care much who got hurt, as long as the Communist meetings were disrupted and the audiences scattered.

Probably ninety per cent of those who assembled to listen to Tim Buck and the other orators of the day cared nothing about the doctrines of Karl Marx, and most of the remaining ten per cent were interested only in an academic way. A large proportion of these audiences were university students and their instructors, nearly all of whom regarded Communist doctrines with contempt or amusement.

But the policemen had their orders from General Draper, whose good judgment was unequal to his zeal. The policemen used their blackjacks freely against the crowds assembled to hear the latest message from Moscow. Mounted police were also used to intimidate people who were no more Communists than the police themselves.

There were many "incidents" which, in the light of the effects of the Communists to pose as a persecuted minority. One of these, those who were attending the university at the time will recall, was the action of one particular policeman in clubbing an elderly university professor who was on his way to Queen's Park after having delivered a lecture on Etruscan art or Latin literature or something of the sort.

With the unintentional but very effective help of General Draper and his aides, Communism increased in Toronto until it was able to elect members of the city council, school board and provincial legislature. Although it has taken something of a setback in recent years, Communism is still strong enough to elect its man frequently in parts of Toronto.

All of which goes to prove that you cannot change a man's beliefs, political or otherwise, by pounding him over the head with a club. Such treatment is only likely to strengthen his beliefs, whatever they may be, and at the same time to arouse in him a determination to get even some day.

IS INDIA DESTITUTE?

It was announced in Ottawa last Friday that the government of Canada, had decided to give $10,000,000 worth of top quality wheat to India. The purpose of this donation, we are told by those who are not in authority over us, is "to help strengthen south and southeast Asia against the threat of Communist aggression."

According to a news item from London, England, the maharajah of Mysore, one of the richest men in India, has just purchased six Rolls-Royces at a total cost of $168,000. These vehicles, we are informed, were made to order and equipped with silver door handles, silver door hinges, ivory and gold fittings. Each has his silk embroidered upholstery with the maharajah's antique Dresden china tea set and a deep-freeze locker.

We are curious to find out just how much the maharajah of Mysore has contributed toward "helping strengthen south and southeast Asia against the threat of Communist aggression."

If the taxpayers of Canada can give the Indians $10,000,000 worth of wheat, surely the maharajah should be expected to help out a little also.

VITAMIN PILLS NEEDED

Of the ten provinces of Canada, only Saskatchewan continues to decline in population, as is shown by the latest edition of the Canadian Almanac. In 1931, Saskatchewan's population was 921,785. - In 1941, it was down to 895,992. Last year, it was down again, to 874,000.

Not only have more people left Saskatchewan than have gone there in recent years, but the total number of births is also down in that province, it is shown elsewhere in the Canadian Almanac.

Why should the population of Saskatchewan decline and its number of births drop, while every other province in the country is showing heavy gains? It is known that Saskatchewan was not so generously endowed by nature as Ontario or Quebec, but it is also known that Saskatchewan is similar in climate, soil and resources to Alberta, which has grown mightily in recent years.

Whatever the trouble is, it is obvious that there is something wrong with the fat, rectangular province where the wheat grows. Perhaps ailing Saskatchewan should seek medical advice from some reputable physician.

FORTUNE HUNTER

He was on his way to fortune and he had no time to spare,
It was a glorious autumn morning; there was beauty everywhere,
But he had a few appointments
—most important, one and all
And he couldn't spend a minute on the glory of the fall.

He was on his way to millions!
Well, my one or two or three,
Had to get them and to keep them, after which, I fear, would be.

So, he toiled at home and office more intently than he knew,
And forgot about the doctor who said rest would do him good.

One day the doctor told him!
"There is little I can do.
You have earned yourself a fortune, and, some stomach ulcers, too.
You have made a lot of money,
but since health you cannot buy
You will live on milk and crackers and take powders till you die."

LOOKING BACKWARDS

CLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO
Nov. 13th., 1931

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Tucker, Trent Road, will celebrate the 50th. anniversary of their wedding on Nov. 10th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cracknell, Yeomans Street, have returned home after a motor car trip to Saginaw, Mich., Bay City, Mich. and Flint, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Casey, Foster Avenue, have returned home after spending several days in Toronto.

Mrs. W. H. Doran and Jack and Ford, are spending a few days in Kingston.

Mr. William Quinn and son Fred spent yesterday here with Mr. and Mrs. William Quinn, William Street.

Ernie Hall veterans are busily engaged with hammer and saw at their hall on Front St. where extensive alterations are being made.

30 YEARS AGO
Nov. 13th., 1921

Sunday last was the 74th. anniversary of the founding of John St. Presbyterian Church.

A correspondent writes to the Intelligencer advocating that the city take over the land in three or four installments as it would be easier for the taxpayer to pay and would give the city ready money instead of borrowing it at high rates.

The officers of the Belleville Curling Club for this year are as follows: Hon. President, R. J. Wray; President, Dr. Morley Platt; Vice President, W. N. Ponsalar; Secretary - treasurer, Hugh Hopkins; Executive Committee, Messrs. Duff, Stock, Backus, Iler and Hurley; Management Committee, Messrs. C. Gartley, Claire, White and Elliott; entertainment committee, Messrs. Gilbert, Adams, Fisher and Charles Symons; Representatives to the Ontario Curling Association, R. J. Wray; alternate, J. A. Kerr.

At the local branch of the Bank of Commerce a memorial bronze tablet upon which are the names of seven members of the staff, who went overseas in the Great War, was unveiled on the 11th. inst.

40 YEARS AGO
Nov. 13th., 1911

The Cronk Block at the south east corner of Front Street and Victoria Avenue was destroyed by fire which broke out shortly before eleven o'clock last night. The entire building was gutted and the goods and fixtures of the building's owners occupying stores in the block were destroyed. The firms are Chesler's Clothing Store, Smith's pool room and bowling alley and Gray's Confectionery Store. The Intelligencer building situated nearby had a narrow escape; the fire wall at the side of the building and the firemen's help with four streams of water at the back and side saved the building. As a slight expression of the work done by the firemen the publisher of the Intelligencer sent a cheque for $100, for the firemen's fund to Fire Chief Campbell today.

Today is the 54th. anniversary of an important event, namely the opening of the Grand Trunk Railway from Montreal to Toronto. The Grand Trunk was then a small affair and for many years it was run at a loss. It is now prospering and is one of the greatest railway systems in the world. Mr. Charles M. Hayes is the present General Manager.

50 YEARS AGO
Nov. 13th., 1901

The special committee appointed by the city council to consider the report on the street railway matter met and decided to recommend to the council that the railway be purchased from the Bank of Montreal for the sum of $6,750, and that the city pay $2000. on account, the money to be taken from the elevator fund now in hand. The committee was composed of Mayor Graham, Ald. N. Baldwin Falkiner and Ald. George Wallace.

Mr. W. F. S. Johnson, son of Mr. J. W. Johnson of this city, registered recently at the Canadian Government's office in Paris. He spent six months in England and France and is now in Ireland. On the 16th. inst., Mr. Johnson will leave Galway on the new steamship, Commonwealth, of the Dominion Line.

MUTT AND JEFF

Looks like a cold, long winter but I don't care. Just going to sit here in my easy chair until spring, studying the strange personalities of Albert and Jinx.

You could search the kennels of the world and never come across two dogs as completely unlike. They are both black and right there the similarity ends.

I often think, as we set out for a stroll, that it's like being accompanied by a dapper boulevardier from Paris, on one side and, on the other, a drowsy hillbilly from the Ozark ridges.

Albert's name is given the French pronunciation ("Albear") and while this seems to have been a whimsicality of his former owner it is singularly appropriate. If a black Cocker can be said to be Continental, that's Albert. He is the Adolphe Menjou of the canine world.

Albert's coat appears to have been creased and pressed, his ears around our house ever doubts which dog has the Toni) and his self-attention gives him distinctly worldly look to them. Indeed, he is the only dog I've ever known who could smoke a cigarette holder.

Some day an "autopsy will doubtless confirm my suspicions that Albert's stomach contains entirely or tightly coiled springs. He never walks anywhere. He struts, minces, sashays, but never, if in a hurry, he's shot from a cannon.

There's a great deal of contrast about his personality that convinces us his mother must have been frightened by a French poodle.

He vibrates from his cold black nose to his stubby tail when he's excited and the sight of the caramel sundae eyes melt into an expression of unbearable melancholy.

He's constantly aggravated by his own inhibitions and barks excitedly at squirrels, tree trees and passing airlines. He is forever on some fascinating scent, forever eager for investigation. He's the first before the fireplace, it requires a mere whisper of his name to have him at your feet, quivering.

The Lazy One

Alongside this small, immaculate dynamo, the natural-born terror of Jinx is even more noticeable than it usually is.

Jinx is a Labrador, going on eight months and approximately the size of Citation. If she grows any more I am going to throw a saddle on her. All Labs look pretty much the same, but she has taken a startling resemblance to the dog drawn by James Thurber and, like Thurber's dog, Jinx is famous to be gazing off to the horizon.

Her mother is a beautiful working retriever, but so far Jinx has shown neither the talent nor the inclination to justify her breeding. Her one great accomplishment is the art of relaxation, combined with an amiable approach to life that is the envy of every onlooker.

I am something of a sloth, myself, and I envy the amazing gift of Jinx for loafing. It seems sometimes seems that all she wants to do is grow, like a chrysanthemum.

It's fascinating to see her, nose close to the ground, on the scent, purely as a hunting print, searching for some place to lie down.

This she does in the manner of housemaid's knee, torn for when Jinx lies down it is as if someone had punctured her. She collapses in a boneless heap. You can almost hear the hiss of escaping air.

None of the many facets of Albert's personality are evident in Jinx. She confronts the world with two expressions.

One is a look of baleful geniality which comes from her bottomless pit of affection for everything in the world and, especially for food and children.

The other is a perplexed frown which she wears when something is beyond her understanding. which, for practical purposes, is life.

She will stand for a good five minutes frowning intently at a grasshopper and then eat it, or forever if she were not overcome by the need to lie down for a short rest.

On The Trail

Curiously enough, the two dogs get along together marvelously. Albert has grown a little tired of playing with Jinx, whose idea of a frolic is to fall heavily upon him, but when I take them for a walk through the woods each is in his own kind of fun.

Albert is everywhere, scurrying through the bushes, barking sharply at falling leaves, inspecting everything, investigating almost everything in his fashion, running back occasionally for a kind word to keep up his courage.

Jinx lopes along, slightly off centre, and invariably carries a stick. Every so often she will frequently trot on ahead up the path, crouch the moment she sees a bird. It no longer surprises me to round a bend and come upon her lying on her back with her feet frowning at a blade of grass or a toadstool, her long whip of a tail pounding the ground.

I sometimes sit down with her to have a cigarette while Albert patrols the area for the last little disguised disgust.

They are as different as dogs can be, yet good companions both, and I look forward to a long and rewarding winter with them.

THE MALADJUSTED PERSONALITY

Success in rowing boat straight arises from the ability to pull with equal force on both oars. Just as soon as a person is to pull a little more on one oar than on the other, the boat begins to turn. If we keep pulling on one oar altogether and pull harder with the other, the boat goes around in a circle.

Psychologists are telling us a great deal these days about irrational and maladjusted personalities. The science of mental hygiene is undoubtedly overemphasized, and the psychologist and the psychiatrist claim to know all the answers in many fields where neither they nor anybody else has been able to give satisfactory answers to any considerable number of pressing questions. But the twisted and maladjusted personality is nevertheless all too common in the world.

Largely he is the victim of too much of some one particular thing. He may be the victim of too much leisure, or too much work, or too great a love for money, or too much selfishness, or a devastating sensuality. His life keeps going about in a circle rather than in a line pulled away on one oar all the time instead of keeping his life in a straight line by balancing the powers between two oars.

Psychologists claim they know the value of balance and acclaimed it. They were the world's wisest people.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

FEAR THOUGHT

Some forty years ago a book was published by Horace Fletcher on "Happiness" in which he brought out the contrast between fear-thought and fore-thought. He said many wise and sensible things that are as true today as then. Looking over his book, that I long ago read, I came to this statement: "What humanity is suffering from is a restriction of affections, and an effusion of fears. People are afraid of being frank and therefore cultivate the sulks, suffer and become ill from the repression."

Fear is a natural thing, but it should not possess any of us. The fear habit can wreck any of us by bringing on ills that never would have touched us otherwise. If only the fears in the world could be eliminated there would be no reason for great armaments, for no nation would be afraid of the other. There would be mutual respect.

Fear in this world is the great destroyer of the joy, energy and happiness and of success in-life as well. The fearless have a plan of life and allow no one to divert them from their set purpose. They are interested only in constructive ideas. All fears are destructive.

Fear enters the mind when there is no faith and no confidence. There can be no harmony in the mind with fears within it. Only by casting them out can there be peace and a hopeful attitude. All fears are negative. They have no place in a happy, healthful mind. Jesus Christ in His ministry was forever admonishing His followers to "fear not", under all circumstances.

It is only when we do away with all fears that we work and the faith and confidence begin to think constructively and have the faith and confidence to go ahead and overcome all obstacles in our path. Clear thinking is void of all fear. Freedom from fear could change the world! It has changed many a human being and placed him on solid ground. No heart can be troubled with all fear cast out.

Fear is a habit that is self-imposed, like any other bad habit. It is not to our well-being. Why barter with it? Non-fear gives sparkle to the eye, spring to the step and ozone to the soul!

Canadian Helps To Save Mastiffs From Extinction

London, Nov. 13 — (Reuters)— A Canadian dog-breeder, Mrs. Hyacinthe M. Meillat, has helped to save the world English breed of mastiffs from extinction in the United Kingdom.

Mrs. Meillat of Heatherbelle Kennels, Victoria, B. C., heard an appeal from the old English Mastiff Club for help in restoring the breed's numbers. She sent a dozen of which remained in Britain two years ago.

She then sent over two puredog dogs and a bitch, with this request:

"Let me have two back when you have started successful breeding."

The Mastiff Club now has met Mrs. Meillat's request.

The breed, though never numerous, has had a steady following throughout the centuries by certain families. The Leghs of Lyme Hall, Cheshire, have bred mastiffs ever since Sir Piers Legh was guarded by one when he was wounded at the Battle of Agincourt in 1415.

A full-grown mastiff weighs about 175 pounds.

CRYSTAL BALL STUFF

My doctor tells me I am in my menopause and need a course of hormone injections. I am afraid I have never missed or been early or late in a period, which occurs every 28 days. Having read of the ill effects of hormone injections I hesitate to submit to them in view of the lack of any disturbance of my health... (Mrs. A. E.)

At the moment I can't conceive of an abnormal or an irregularity of any sort which would require "shots" of hormones, glandular products, vitamins or medicines, but nevertheless it is possible that administration of one or another of these substances by injection may be necessary or justifiable in exceptional instances.

If, as you say, young woman, you have no particular irregularity or complaint, tell me, for Pete's sake, how in the world did you get in the waiting line at the doctor's office? You write a letter which reflects better than ordinary intelligence, or here you are, with the rest of the—the customers I have characterized here often resorted to get myself in bad in some quarters, namely, the "quack specialist's" shop for "shots" at $5 per, of medicine which should be given only in the form of dose it it were taken in the ordinary manner.

One successful charlatan—successful in the popular sense of the word, that is, from which supplies a lucrative business in the medical field, has not one office girl but three, and has turned so the suckers will think they are nurses, and the three girls keep a constant line of customers coming for "shots"—while the doctor plays golf or goes fishing. Knowing him well enough to know that he has explained this whether he doesn't have to, nights thinking about the people he has exploited in that way. He laughed comfortably and then turned halfserious and declared that he believes a person who is tired or weary from the daily cares or responsibilities gets a great "lift" from a shot of thiamine (B1) than from a dose of it by mouth. Of course I could not question the man's right to believe whatever he likes—and obviously he likes the "shot" business.

Remember, now, knuckleheads, I'm giving here merely my personal opinion of the administration of medicine, vitamin, mineral, gland extract or hormone by injection under the skin, into muscle or directly into a vein. If you get into a hassle with your doctor about this, don't expect any further support from me, I tell you here what I think about it.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Electric Blanket

Husband has diabetes and gets very cold at night. I know you don't recommend a heating pad, I wonder if it would be all right for him to use an electric blanket. (Mrs. E. H.)

Answer—Yes, or a heating pad, or a hot water bottle, or a hot iron or anything else to keep him warm may be convenient.

Your fine health advice has helped me in many ways through the years. I am now nearly ninety. 73 inches tall and weigh 250 pounds. I feel well, on the job every day, but they tell me I should reduce. (R. S. B.)

Answer—Don't you believe 'em. For people over 18 and under 70 I have a pamphlet How to Lose Weight, also a booklet How to Stop Reducing. For the pamphlet send 5c, stamped, self-addressed envelope; if you want the booklet, also, include 25c for it.

Bad Breath

What can one do about mouth odor or bad breath? (Mrs. L. M.)

Answer—Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c for booklet How to Breathe. It contains a chapter on bad breath.

Consult a Chiropodist

Nine-year-old daughter complains of her feet hurting her. She ran barefoot a good deal last summer. Is it callus or corns? (Mrs. K. E.)

Answer—I suggest you take her to a chiropodist for treatment.

THE PACKSACK

Two aged-ladies, survivors of a well-to-do and prominent family of thirty years ago, are living still in the beautiful old house that has been in the family more than half a century. Due to their failure to keep up with the difficulty of getting domestic help of the old-fashioned and devoted character, the house has grown a little, but is still a masterpiece of good wood, good brick, good workmanship.

Lately, the old ladies, telephoning into a local electrical domestic world solution, got two men to come and put up storm screens and install the storm windows.

It is pitiful to see what these useless, headless men did both to the interior and exterior of the old house. They installed storm sash which caused the windows to be nailed up, or were obliged to take, a little pride in their jobs, have been battered and banged into place, showing hammer bruises, and with screws where prying metal tore edges off; some of the sash has been installed upside down, and the screens are wrenched and scarred with the hammers or screw driver. Encouraged by having put up the storm sash, which dates back maybe twenty years to the days when workmen either took

CCF Party Holds Election Meeting In Village

Bancroft—"To be workable a health and hospitalization plan must be established by a co-operative peoples' government", stated Arthur Williams, former CCF federal south member for Ontario, when at a party rally in Bancroft Saturday night. "Eighty-four years of Liberal and Conservative rule in Canada have not yet produced us a national health plan, yet Sweden and Denmark have had successful socialized medical schemes for the past thirty-six years," he continued.

Using an oratorical style similar to that of Aneurin Bevan, former cabinet minister in the Labor government of Great Britain and former co-worker of the speaker in the Welsh coal mines, Mr. Williams struck at both the Provincial and Dominion governments for their failure to provide socialized medicine.

Praising the CCF government of Saskatchewan and the Labor government of Great Britain he continued, "Carping critics of the linguistic journals continually try to ridicule these governments because they have brought health services within the reach of the masses. The Saskatchewan health plan is the finest in the world, so fine that the premier's political leader is trying to get it in Ontario."

Critical of Thomson

Walter Thomson, provincial leader of the Liberal party and the man who defeated Williams in the federal election of 1948, was the subject of many of the speaker's remarks. "In the past few years and four months in Ottawa Mr. Thomson has never expressed one word about a health plan in the federal house and has never publicly asked his party when it would implement its previous health promises of 1948."

To show that funds were available for this project he quoted continually the surpluses of both the governments of Premier Leslie Frost and the budgets of Hon. Douglas Abbott. Again speaking of Mr. Thomson's statements he said, "Why does Mr. Thomson not mention Abbott's surplus of $500,000,000 in six months when he spends so much time criticizing Frost's surplus of $100,000,000 in three years?"

"Abbott is outrunning Frost in his budgets" was his conclusion.

Ernest Gibbs, CCF candidate for West Hastings dealt with old age pensions and the difference between the prices paid to the producers and the price paid by the consumers for a number of everyday necessities, and meat in particular.

Corresponding Reduction Claim

"Although the price of hogs paid by the processors has dropped from 40 cents to 29½ cents during the past five months there has not been a corresponding reduction to the retailers" said Mr. Gibbs. However he admitted that at one time or another the retail price might have dropped one cent per pound.

"The CCF party advocated an old age pension of $60 a month, plus a cost of living bonus", said Mr. Gibbs. For this his audience to remember the CCF policy on this subject and they would realize that the present measures was something that had been advocated by the late J. S. Woodsworth over twenty-five years ago. In speaking of the type of pension that will be introduced for people over 65, in January 1952 both Mr. Gibbs and Mr. Williams quoted a liberal slogan from the last federal election, "Vote Liberal and abolish the means test."

Arthur Whitehead, CCF candidate for East Hastings, talked about our present labor legislation and the current machinery for settling industrial disputes. He asked the gathering to see that a large number of representatives of the working people were in parliament so that a number of the loopholes in our present labor legislation could be plugged.

The main speakers was introduced by A. Elliott of Belleville.

Fred Brethour of Bancroft was chairman. His brief talk touched on why the CCF was a party of the working people and why it was necessary for the people to support it. After a collection to pay the rent of the Canadian Legion Hall for the evening the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Charge Husband In Fatal Stabbing of Kingston Woman

An argument over her son led to fatal stabbing of Mrs. Elda Lyons, above, 31, and the arrest of her second husband, Allen V. Lyons, 34, on a charge of murder. Neighbors of the Kingston, Ont., couple said the pair quarrelled repeatedly in the past. Death came to Mrs. Lyons minutes after her husband, a veteran of Second World War, plunged a knife with an eight-inch blade into her side. —Central Press Canadian.

Winter Fair Will Run Until November 21st

Toronto, Nov. 13—(CP)—The Royal Agricultural Winter Fair opened here today and from now until Nov. 21 blue ribbon beef stock and top-grade farm produce will hold the spotlight.

Farmers, stock breeders and agricultural experts from many parts of Canada and from neighboring sections of the United States will throng the coliseum on the exhibition grounds of Toronto's western waterfront. Mingling with the farmers will be hundreds of city folk, many of whom grew up on farms.

For the top-hat crowd and for the ordinary lover of good horseflesh, the horse shows will be staged in their usual magnificence, with afternoon and evening performances most days.

Other attractions include a flower show, a display of tropical fish, exhibits of latest-type farm machinery, a cat show and various special displays.

On the eve of the opening, officials announced that some 3,000 exhibitors had sent 17,000 entries altogether to compete for upwards of $142,000 in prize money.

Production Minister Howe will address more than 1,000 persons tonight at the annual dinner and later in the evening will formally open the fair.

As in past years, crack teams of international horsemen will provide much of the horse show color. The feature this year will be the Cadre Noir, all-officer cavalry unit from the French military academy at Saumur with a history dating from the days of Louis XV.

In addition, jumping teams from the United States, Canada, Mexico and the Republic of Ireland will compete for the International Challenge Trophy.

Judging of the grand champion steer and the King's Guineas steer in the beef classes is scheduled for the big arena Nov. 19.

BROKEN IN THREE PLACES

Arlington, Va., Nov. 13 (AP)—Marjorie Walker broke her left leg in three places while dancing the Charleston Sunday night. "The band just let loose with some music like the Charleston," she said. "My left leg went one way and then another, and I collapsed in a heap."

Doe eyes looked into Irish eyes, and Patrolman Flaherty put away his revolver. He had been ordered to shoot "Stumpy", a pet deer, because her leg was was broken. Instead he called a vet. who set "Stumpy's" leg, using aluminum splints.

Tough Admiral Faces Political Complexities

Naples, Nov. 13 — (AP) — A tough admiral is trying to build an international defense line in the vital Mediterranean amid political and military complexities.

Admiral Robert B. Carney of the United States, a veteran of the Pacific war, has started the job with a demand for a full buildup of atomic weapons in this second European front.

He has surrounded himself with officers who look to the future when, they say, they will have Europe's highest potential ground force, backed by heavy air and seapower.

At the moment Carney can count only upon the 70-ship United States Sixth fleet for important offensive power, the command area is a jigsaw with obvious gaps of responsibility and authority

He is charged with defending the western Mediterranean and Italy. At sea, his boundary runs from an eastern line slanting between Cape Madapan in southern Greece to the Tunis-Tripoli border in North Africa. On the west, the boundary is in the Atlantic south of Spain.

Malta and Gibraltar are specifically excluded. Its headquarters at Naples has been created yet for international protection of the eastern Mediterranean where the Russian eye the Dardanelles.

Strategic air power is not under his command, although prospective bomber fields in this area are of top importance. He is charged with aerial defense of north Africa, but has no French troops. He supplies American forces in Trieste, but does not command them.

On the ground, Carney has five Italian divisions assigned to his command. Their fighting qualities "represent our biggest problem" for the present. But Carney says progress is being made to create an effective Italian army with some American equipment and officer-training.

Referee's Forum Here Thurs. Night

The Ontario Minor Hockey Association referees' forum gets under way at Kiwanis Centre on Thursday evening of this week instead of Wednesday as was formerly reported. The forum will be addressed by NHL referee Maurice Walsh, and starts at seven o'clock under a change in time.

Finland Attacks Inflation By Reducing Major Taxes

Helsinki, Nov. 13 — (Reuters) — Finland's coalition government is trying a cure for inflation which usually leads to bankruptcy.

But many neutral observers here believe the unorthodox medicine will work.

The cost — of — living index is more than 10 times as high as before the Second World War. Instead of increasing taxes to mop up surplus money chasing too few goods — as other countries have done — Finland is reducing them.

Instead of increasing food subsidies to keep prices down, the Finns are abolishing the subsidies, confident that food will nevertheless become no more expensive.

Whereas other inflation-stricken countries increase the bank rate to encourage saving and check spending, the Finns have lowered theirs.

The experiment is officially described as the stabilization plan.

An economic truce was declared last May to allow the Agrarian - Social Democrat coalition government and the labor organizations to draw up the stabilization plan.

Wages Tied to Index

Its great advantage is that it stops with a jerk the mad race of rising wages chasing rising prices.

Starting this month, wages are tied to a new cost-of-living index so that they go up only as prices rise. Wages paid during the economic truce are considered as basic. The basic cost-of-living figure is calculated from current prices.

The People's Democrats, a merger of communists and left-wing socialists, attack the plan as a swindle. They argue that current prices are higher than those pertaining during the truce, and that the workers therefore have actually received a cut in their real wages.

To compensate for this, the government has reduced taxes and lowered the maximum prices which dealers may charge for some goods such as clothing, fuel, rubber and cattle fodder.

Rents have been frozen and childrens' allowances increased.

"The government claims it can reduce taxes and still balance the budget because of Finland's flourishing export trade. Foreign buyers are begging for newsprint, paper and cellulose. And the prices of Finland's exports have risen faster than the prices of her imports.

Mrs. G. Curry Entertains At Birthday Dinner

A happy time was spent last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Curry, 23 Stone Street, when Mrs. Curry entertained the members of the family to a birthday dinner in honor of Mr. Curry's 33rd birthday.

Miss June Tanner had the distinction of carrying the lighted birthday cake to the dining room table and placing it before the honored host. As the cake was placed, all stood and sang "Happy Birthday to You", after which, Mr. Curry, with one "puff" extinguished every candle.

Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. Nick Zillnski, of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McGrimmon and son, Bill; Mrs. June Cole, and Miss June Tanner, all of this city.

Following the dinner, a pleasant time was spent in reminiscing about past times.

Catholic Women's League Hears Speaker in Support Of By-Law for Recreation

The regular meeting of Catholic Women's League was held Tuesday evening in St. Michael's High School, John Street, with Mrs. J. E. Boyd, presiding. Very Reverend D. B. Carroll, director of C.W.L. was present and introduced Mr. T. J. Furey, who spoke in support of the by-law regarding an increase of funds for municipally-owned recreation, etc. which has been doing such a splendid job during the past year. This by-law will be voted on at the forthcoming municipal election and it is to be hoped all interested parties will support it and thus guarantee the health and happiness of the many children who will all benefit thereby with added supervised recreational facilities.

The 1st vice-president reported sold up membership now stands at 432 with 60 still outstanding and 16 new members. This is very encouraging and shows that this is Catholic Book Week and all are urged to inspect the display in St. Michael's Academy and possibly order a few as Christmas gifts. She also mentioned the inauguration of the new P.T.A. unit for St. Michael's High School, with Dr. F. B. Ross as president. This association will hold a "Hallowe'en" party and dance at K. of C. later in the month. All are invited to attend.

Treasurer Replaced

Mrs. A. Wilkinson has replaced Mrs. Carr-Brant as treasurer, however, she was not present for this meeting. Corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. Whalen had sent 13 letters out during the past month. She also read several acknowledgments. Mrs. J. Vitale reported 41 patients had been visited at General Hospital during October. Mrs. McHugh will be visitor for November. Mrs. Wilson reported there are 56 subscribers to Bliss Cross in the league group. Several had dropped out since increase in rates.

VON representative, Mrs. J. Lynch was present and stated to date 334 visits had been made by Victorian Order Nurses during September. Twenty-nine nurses were spent assisting Department of Health at St. Michael's Academy and Holy Rosary School. Mrs. F. R. Ross, who has replaced Mrs. Cushing as chairman of hospitality committee, reported regarding the afternoon tea held at the home of Mrs. Rashotte, last month. This was a successful event. During Mrs. Glen's absence through illness, Mrs. McIntyre is filling in hospitality committee. A letter of thanks was received from Miss Kathleen Morrell who is attending Normal School at Peterborough.

Letters Read

The secretary read letters from the diocesan convener of education and spoke regarding citizenship and legislation. It is requested that by-laws be studied and support given to worthy ones; also to become thoroughly conversant with what is going on in municipal, provincial and federal fields. It was also asked that new citizens be helped to become familiar with the laws. Reverend L. B. Carter

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

It's dangerous to fan an old flame.

Figuratively speaking, there are many things of beauty with fire, but one of the most foolish is for a married woman to stir up the embers of an old romance. I refer to a letter before me from a girl who has so much at stake that I find it hard to believe she could have been so foolhardy as to let the situation which threatens her arise.

She writes:

"I'm nineteen, and have been married for two and a half months. My husband and I are very happy together, yet I can't seem to forget a fellow I was engaged to before I married. I was very much in love with this fellow before I met my husband, but it seemed we always found something to argue about. During one of these arguments we broke up, and haven't seen each other since.

"Then, about a month ago, I received a letter from him, and that letter did something to me I can not explain. It almost made me feel that I was fallin in love with him all over again. Could it be that I've been in love with him all the time and just thought when I first met my husband, that I loved him when I had forgotten this other man, yet really hadn't?

"Anyhow, I answered his letter and we continued to write to each other. But the trouble is, both my husband and this fellow are in the Air Force, and in his last letter F. said there was a possibility he would be transferred to this station. I'm afraid that F. may give or show the letters to my husband. Another thing—my husband I are expecting in March or April! What shall I do?"

There is, of course, only one thing for this woman to do now and that is to write a final letter to F. asking him to destroy her letters and not to write to her again. If he is not merely a mischief maker or an immature, sentimental boy, he will accede to her wish, for he will see that what it all comes down to is the happiness of three people—a woman, her husband, and her unborn child. Don't Look Back

It may be "a woman's privilege to change her mind," but there are certain important decisions which nobody—man or woman—can take lightly. One of these is the decision to share your life with another person. Once you have made that decision, it is your responsibility to do your utmost to make a go of your life together. And, of course, you won't succeed if you keep looking back over your shoulder at something you once relinquished because it didn't seem as good to you as your final choice.

This girl had perfectly good reasons for not having made her other choice. Didn't she say that she and F. were always arguing? Couldn't this mean that there must have been many things on which they could not agree? And is it likely that two people who can not agree will have a good basis on which to build a lasting relationship?

I believe this girl's dilemma grows out of a romantic idea that many a young woman has, namely, that there is one person—one and one only—who is destined to be her soul-mate, her affinity. This is the notion behind "love at first sight", or a love that one can't forget or get over.

I do not meant to imply that one can always or easily get over a love affair. I am sure, however, that people can be sexually or romantically attracted to more than one person.

The point is that once having made the decision to cast her lot with someone she does love, it is the duty and privilege of this young woman to build a life of comrade interest upon that love. For it is the life together, its joys and sorrows, that will count in the long run. The first flame of romance may have died down, but if she will fan the fires well, she can keep a warm, steady and dependable one going.

Fashion Flashes

ALWAYS IN THE picture for late afternoon wear is the nicely tailored silk shirt. Pure silk faille, in a warm red shade, is used for a pretty suit. The jacket, with interesting pocket detail, is lined with sky blue taffeta to match the under-facing of the skirt hem.

THAT ETHEREAL look is nicely attained by a short evening gown, the skirt fashioned of layer upon layer of pearl gray nylon net, the gathers set in points below a smooth waistline. A tiny gray pearl and cut-steel-bead embroidered bolero covers the deep strapless neckline.

COMING BACK nicely is fox, but in the silver rather than the platinum shades. Something new and beautiful is sapphire fox—blue-gray shade with a pearly silver glint—that will be available in limited supply next spring.

WHAT A CHANGE has come about in cardigans and sweaters! Metallic yarn and seed pearls beautify a bulky woolknit sports sweater made with push-up sleeves and a convertible neckline.

HIGHLY PLEASING, and right for almost every type and coloring, are the new champagne shades in furs. Blush shades are available in every type of fur from lapin, through closer-to-mink, to beaver and nutria—not forgetting a wonderful newcomer to many women: Canadian otter. The latter fur takes the blood shades exceedingly well and has a soft, silky look that surely belies the tough properties of the skins.

IT IS EASY to combine skirts and blouses for an endless variety of smart costumes. Charming with a silk or velvet skirt is a sweater-top blouse of black or wool lace, scattered with rhinestones all over the front and on the short sleeves.

IDENTIFY FIRE VICTIMS

Toronto, Nov. 13 (CP)— Police said today the victims of a weekend shack fire here have been tentatively identified as Walter Sozowy, 38, and Anne Biernaski, 45.

Sozowy was a recent immigrant from Italy.

Dr. C. D. Farquharson, coroner, said there will be an autopsy. Police said they did not know the cause of the fire, why the couple Did not escape, or why the bodies were badly burned when the small wooden shack was hardly touched.

BEAUTY

Cave women did not have to worry about cellulite.

Hip-heavy girls! Do the goose step!

Perhaps life in prehistoric times wasn't so terrible. Cave women probably had their troubles sweeping the living room floor with twigs and having the kids scared by wild animals, but you can make a safe guess that they never had to worry about too much adipose upholstery ruining their figures. Climbing cliffs, scrambling over rocks and helping the old man lug home the trophies of the hunt must have kept their figures trim and supple. They did not fall victims to the limousine shape or develop protruding hips, as happens nowadays.

Some of our heavyweights became that way because of soft living conditions. They are too free with the good things of the table, can't bear the thought of healthgiving exercise. If they had caught fat cells young, the reports of the bathroom scales would not now be causing them to give notice to walls of anguish, look at every slender girl with envious eyes.

A hard-working man can stoke up on groceries to his heart's content. If he expends enough energy he will not put on weight. Individuals who are active, who move quickly, and whose bodies are carried properly, seldom line up with the over-stuffed contingent.

An even distribution of fat isn't as trying a beauty grief as when the fat is confined to some particular region, leaving other areas of normal measurements. The hips seem to be a common hoarding spot for fat. To annihilate these adipose panniers, it is necessary to exercise. By building up strong muscles, the padding will evaporate.

The woman who has not been active must start her exercises slowly. Increasing the time devoted to them each day until she can get through them without fatigue.

We offer a simple exercise that is especially helpful to the woman whose proportions are normal above the waistline, but whose measurements below are too ample to make for a harmoniously-outlined body. Its purpose is to reduce the hips, tighten abdominal muscles and slenderize the upper thighs. It is the goose step. It will inspire amusement in the family circle, and that's all to the good in these days of uncertainty and alarm.

Stand tall. Tuck in the chest. Pull in the tummy until you have a neat nip-in at the back of the waist. Keep the legs rigid. Place the hands on the hips; then march. Toes straight ahead, lift your feet as high as you can as you proceed along a straight line. Pull hard on the muscles of the leg; that is what does the business. No wavering, no wobbling.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Who gives a girl her hope chest?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I already have several articles (a set of dining-table linens, cloth and napkins, and hand towels and guest towels, and kitchen towels) which I have embroidered with my initials, and with which I would like to start a hope chest. I am not engaged, but I do "go steady" with a young man whom I like very much. Who is supposed to give a girl her hope chest, her parents? Or could a boy friend buy it for he?

Gloria B.

A girl's parents may buy her a hope chest at any time she wishes to have one, either before or after she is engaged. Or, the girl whenever she wishes, may buy her own hope chest and begin to collect linens and so forth in it. A boy friend should not give her such a meaningful gift . . . this would be quite out of order. But when she becomes engaged, her fiance may give her a hope chest.

The rule of courtesy applies when cards are hand-signed

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

To settle a discussion, will you be an kind as to answer this question: When one person is signing the Christmas cards for the family (the wife for her husband and herself, for example, or a daughter for her widower-father and herself, or one sister for two or three sister, and so forth) whose name should be written first? Or is there no rule about this?

Ruth K.

Yes, there is a special rule about this . . . the rule of courtesy. The rule of courtesy is that the person signing the cards publicly puts her or his name last. That is, the wife signs John and Mary. The daughter signs, for example, Robert Bill and Anne. The sister (Ruth) signing the cards for all sisters, writes Jessica, Beatrice, and Ruth.

Where to place fork for salad served as first course

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When the salad is served at the beginning of a meal, either at luncheon or dinner, where should the salad fork be placed?

Dolores H.

The silverpieces should be placed in the order in which they are to be used, beginning with the silverpiece farthest from the plate. Forks should be placed at the left of the plate. Therefore the salad fork for the salad served as a first course should be the outside silverpiece at the left of the plate.

HOW DO YOU SCORE ON THESE HELPFUL WAYS TO SAVE?

No groping in the dark, if you—
- ☐ Set records
- ☐ Sparkle your "specs"
- ☐ Use luminous paint

Save stumbling, fumbling! Outline door edges, switch plates with luminous paint. Likewise, why not sparkle your "specs" with new Kleenex eyeglass tissues? Big enough, strong enough, lint-free—and they serve one at a time!

To "save" salad bowls, avoid—
- ☐ Termites
- ☐ Soaking

Wooden salad bowls "wooden" warp, if you'd avoid soaking them. Scrape, dunk quickly in cool water; dry with Kleenex and stash away in a dark place. You can't beat Kleenex for K.D. duty. Soft, strong Kleenex soaks up moisture, grease; saves time, trouble.

Rotary's Efforts For International Good Will Lauded

Rotary Clubs in 82 countries throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace. That was the message of Kenneth G. Partridge of Port Credit, Governor of District 347 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club following a conference with club officers, directors and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 7,200 clubs in their own communities to promote this objective, Mr. Partridge explained, over a six-year period Rotary International is spending $1,500,000, principally to create better understanding among the people of different nations.

204 Fellowships Awarded

One of the ways in which this money is being spent is on Rotary Foundation Fellowships, which enable outstanding graduate students to study for one year, in countries other than their own, as ambassadors of good will. Since this program was established in 1947, 204 Fellowships have been awarded to students in 43 countries with grants totalling more than $700,000.

"Devoted to service, Rotary provides a common ground for 350,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of nationality or political or religious belief," the District Governor emphasized.

In his introduction of the speaker, Mr. Caulder, past district governor stated that in his many years of Rotary service he had never seen anyone with more desire, ability, or willingness to serve than Mr. Partridge. "He has prepared for the job as no previous district governor," added Mr. Caulder.

Newton Thompson thanked Mr. Partridge on behalf of the club for "the best address that I have ever had the pleasure of listening to in this room."

Several Guests

Guests and visitors attending the luncheon included Past District Governor Harry S. Binks of Ottawa, J. F. Miles of Sydney Nova Scotia, Willard Ives of Picton, and H. V. McLean and G. H. Cook of Belleville. They were introduced by Arthur Francis and welcomed by president Doug Miller.

With Harry Gourley at the piano, a lively sing-song was led by Jack Deacon.

Dr. Harry Burn and Frank Falk were introduced to the club as the newest members present.

Wilfred Holmes, who has recently undergone a serious operation at the Belleville Hospital, is recovering successfully, it was announced. A letter was read from him in which he extended his thanks for the flowers received from the club.

A birthday rose was presented to David Martin by Harold Parker on behalf of the club.

washed down its deck and wetted the children.

The end of the royal tour started auspiciously with a triumphal farewell at nearby St. John's under sunny skies and in unseasonably mild weather. But when the royal party arrived at this little fishing village the storm was at its fury. A nor'wester whipped stinging cold rain down the bald grey slopes of Gray Man's Beard, the big mountain to which most of the little fishing cottages cling precariously.

And in all the tempest, a hardy band played lively tunes and choir sang "The Squid Jigging Ground". An informal honor guard of fishermen fired off their rifles to make the whole show a typical Newfoundland send-off. Then they presented the Princess with a bunch of yellow roses and a box of codfish.

She and the Duke stood in the rain and waved appreciatively as the Manoeo edged into the narrow channel between the pier and a ledge of rock boiling with white angry water.

Fishermen Sing

The rain-soaked crowd of fishermen and choristers sang "Auld Lang Syne" as the vessel started to make way. The Princess sought some protection under the apron of the wheelhouse but the Duke stayed in the open, hatless, returning the farewell and smiling.

Reporters watched what effects the rough passage had on the Princess. But she came to the upper boat deck with sprightly ease, her cheeks rosy and smiling. She said goodbye to individuals who had been with the tour for some time and then boarded the big liner whose lofty decks were lined with passengers getting a glimpse of the royal pair and snapping pictures.

The Princess watched with obvious care from the exposed position of the flying bridge as her 200 pieces of baggage—including her presents— were taken through a big hatchway. Then she waved at the noisy chorus from the draggers, trawlers and schooners until she was out of sight.

In the Princess' hand was a message from Prime Minister St. Laurent telling her and her sailor husband they had "a secure place in Canadian hearts."

Elizabeth and Philip, standing alone on the bridge looked happy. The royal tour had been a success.

GARDINER TO TRY

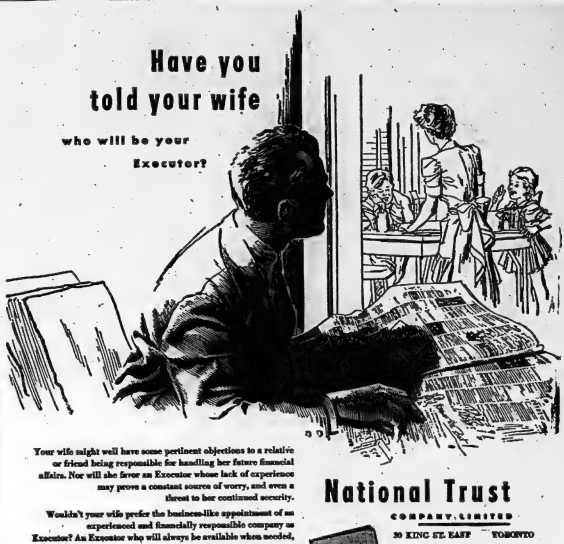
As for the twin problems of food production and food sales, he promised the farmers would be encouraged to produce more as soon as a market could be assured.

Mr. Drew suggested the government consider legislation to make the king and all members of his royal family Canadian citizens. It would be a "happy gesture" from a country with an important role to play in the Commonwealth.

At the same time, he disclosed that his party will support a Social Credit motion, tantamount to a motion of non-confidence in the government, criticizing the government for "failing" to increase war veterans allowances at this session.

Ross Thatcher (CCF-Moose Jaw) urged the government to tackle the housing problem with more vigor and suggested no prospective home builder should have to put down more than 10 per cent of the cost of his home.

John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge) proposed that Canada assist the U.K. by extending almost unlimited credit for the next five years. The money could be earmarked for the purchase of Canadian goods and other commodities.



Col. A. J. Brooks (PC—Royal) repeated a demand for the setting up of a permanent committee on veterans affairs. It could study the problem of pension raises.

Tour Gave Royal Couple Real Insight Into Lives And Times in Canada

By JOHN LEBLAC
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Nov. 13—(CP)—It was a story-book visit, but it was down-to-earth enough to give the royal couple a real insight into life and times in Canada.

As they sail the Atlantic today on the way back home, Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip have encyclopedic recollections of the rarified, sparkling Canadian panorama that passed before them on the 26 days and thousands of miles of their tour.

They saw villages and big cities from coast to coast. They saw Canadian industry and Canadian recreation. They ate almost every typical variety of Canadian food. They fished, enjoyed winter sport as Canadians do. They sampled the whose long gamut of Canadian weather.

And above all they saw and met the people—and the youngsters particularly—who set up one rolling cheer from the Atlantic to the Pacific such as perhaps wasn't even equalled on the 1939 tour of Elizabeth's royal parents.

As a reporter who travelled with the royal couple for about two-thirds of their journey through Canada, it's tough for this writer to try and pick out the high spots of the tour. There was a high spot almost every day.

Montreal will be remembered for the biggest welcome, with Toronto not far behind. But who's going to say which was the warmest?

Memories of Quebec

There are memories of old Quebec and its habitant reception; of free-and-easy Kapuskasing in the Canadian bush, with its mill-hand mayor doing the honors; of Winnipeggers cheerfully smashing down police lines; of the little British Columbia town of Chilliwack in the Rockies, with its massed school children, and Riverside, Man., an isolated prairie settlement where between 50,000 and 70,000 materialized at the airport from the country for hundreds of miles around.

For spectacle, there was the miniature Calgary Stampede, in snow-flurried bitter cold. Or perhaps the natural amphitheatre of Toronto's Riverdale Park, with the princess and prince winding their way through some 25,000 youngsters while parents carpeted the valley slopes above.

There was Ottawa losing its capital-city dignity to go overboard for the royal pair. And the other capital, Washington, turning out in droves for the royal guests and handing them its unqualified approval.

Kids Got Biggest Kick

Perhaps over anything on the whole procession, the visitors and the aids got the biggest reciprocal kick out of each other. All along the line, it was a children's party. Not that the oldsters weren't there, but it was the youngsters who really put everything into their welcome.

In this fast-moving indoctrination into Canadian life for the girl who is expected to be Canada's queen some day, she and her husband got a good look at several facets of basic Canadian industry. They examined a paper-making plant at Kapuskasing, an oil refinery in oil-rich Edmonton, a shipyard building warships and an airplane plant at Montreal, a basic steel mill at Sydney, N. S.

All in all, the trip gave princess Elizabeth a pretty clear view of Canada and Canadians. It was swift-moving, kaleidoscopic and necessarily on something of a deluxe basis. But the princess and prince saw a good cross-section of Canada. Even more important to a few million Canadians, they saw the prince and princess.

Housing Contract Of $1,234,900 Given McFarland

Ottawa, Nov. 13—(CP) Crown-owned armouries, which have been producing at a snail's pace because of a lack of contracts, will shortly boost production to full capacity on orders to provide $21,700,000 worth of ammunition for Canada's forces.

The defence production department announced the contracts today, in detailing total orders granted at more than $82,000,000 placed with Canadian defence producers in the Oct. 1-15 period.

The government's arsenals, in Quebec and Ontario, have been producing mostly for foreign account. The $21,700,000 worth of Canadian orders marks the first major step to speed up the arsenal production for the Canadian forces.

Arsenal officials said a few months of tooling up will be required to get the plants ready for the big contracts.

Eventually, the contracts will require addition of another 1,000 workers to the 2,500 already employed by the plants.

The plants are located at Lasalde and Lindsay in Ontario and at Valleyfield, St. Paul L'Ermite and two at Quebec City in Quebec. A seventh plant at Longueil, Que., has been turned over to Sorel Industries Ltd. for the production of 105MM. howitzers.

Details of the type of ammunition to be produced were not disclosed, but it appeared likely that ammunition for small arms — including the American Garand rifle — artillery shells and even depth charges will be included.

Officials estimated that it may take a full year to complete all of the orders.

Among other major contracts placed was one to Babcock-Wilcox and Goldie - McCulloch Ltd. of Galt to turn out $3,500,000 worth of steam-heating equipment for use in Canada's shipbuilding program.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

QUEEN'S TOMORROW!

Queen's University senior "B" puckists make their 1951-52 debut in Memorial Arena tomorrow night when they face the hot Hawks in the second clash of the group schedule. Queen's while the weak sister of the group last year tossed the proverbial monkey wrench into the playoff machinery of some of the squads, and they're liable to start off causing trouble here tomorrow night. They're a big hearty squad, not averse to tossing their torso around at all and sundry who come their way, and the Golden Gaels should cause not a little low-lane excitement when they clash with our "birds" tomorrow. Jerry Wagar, former Belleville lad'g'buck was the shining light for the stades in their seasonal debut against the Peterborough Eagles last Friday night, scoring all three of the Gaels' goals.

Coach "Red" Doran is not letting up in the stiff workout system and he has the Hawks pinfeathers protruding in an effort to keep them in high gear. His conditioning workouts showed plenty of results in the Hawks sustained offensive and defensive action last Friday night for the "Birds" were fluttering at the same speed at the final whistle as that which propelled them from the barrier at the "They're Off" signal.

The Hawks came out of the game scathless except for a few minor bumps and bruises and Jerry Desjardins' clip in the chin which necessitated a stitch or so. They're all ready to go tomorrow night in the quest for their second win of the season.

JUNIORS OPEN NEXT WEEK!

Doran will now concentrate on his lines and plays for the opening of the junior "B" group which gets under way in Kingston on Saturday night when the Peterborough Oddfellows meet the Kingston Wing. The group opens here next Monday night with the Oddfellows providing the opposition for the junior Hawks, and it should be quite a debut.

Doran's beardless buckaroos have flashed speedy in their practise sessions while their line plays are being rounded into shape. Sherrier, Hawkins, Doran, Strahan, Hulle, Carey, are some of the speed merchants of the club with Bob Wilson, Peter Green being the mainstays behind the blueline. Just who Doran will start in goal is conjecture at the moment although likely Bobby Green will get the nod for the inaugural.

TITLE-QUESTERS!

Two of the best school gridiron teams in years to represent this city in the Central Ontario Secondary Schools Association football playdowns will go to the post next Saturday in quest of COSSA championships. Coach Pete Beach's husky Albert College senior "B" team which emerged undefeated ruler of the Whitby high School group on Saturday clash with the strong Dunnville H. S. squad for the title while the Belleville Collegiate Institute's powerful junior aggregation under the tutelage of Coach Fred Bradley take on the Port Colborne junior squad for the junior "A" championship.

Bradley who has done a fine job in rounding his juniors into championship form is fully confident the BCI younkers can take the measure of the western Ontario champions. He feels they have the power-drive and ability to bring home the first championship becon in years to B.C.I.

Over in the senior bracket the collegians from Albert face what probably is the stiffest test of their seasonal career in the Dunnville squad. Thoggeller hunkies have compiled an enviable record this season, winning ten of their eleven starts, their only defeat occurring at the hands of the Campbellford High School team near the end of the season when they edged by a 7-6 score.

Albert came out of the Whitby game with no injuries and Coach Beach will send them through light workouts this week preparing for the titular tilt. They will leave early Saturday morning for Dunnville stopping off at Hamilton for a breather. The game gets under way at 2 p. m. with Toronto officials in charge.

BOOMED AS GREAT PROSPECT

Alex Delvecchio, 20-year-old, 180-pound, 5 foot 11 inch center, who joined the Detroit Red Wings recently, enters the N.H.L. with many of hockey's most astute observers singing his praises. Jack Adams, Detroit manager, calls Delvecchio the greatest prospect he's seen since Gordie Howe entered the Red Wings camp. Delvecchio, who was born at Fort William, Ont., played for Oshawa Generals in the O.H.A. Junior A League last season where he compiled a total of 120 points. He had been playing with Indianapolis Caps of the American Hockey League before the Wings summoned him to the fold and in his last game with the Caps he assisted in four goals as the Caps edged Providence in overtime, 6-5.

Carter, Aragon Meet Tomorrow In Title Bout

Los Angeles, Nov. 13 (AP) — Comparatively quiet settled today over the rivals for world lightweight champion Jimmy Carter of New York and Art Aragon, the challenger from Los Angeles, on the eve of their 15-round fight for the title.

Today is Aragon's 24th birthday. But whatever celebration there will be depends on the outcome of the match and it won't be off until tomorrow night, regardless.

The usual expressions of confidence came from the handlers today.

Somebody's Wrong

Declared Willie Ketchum, veteran manager of Carter: "My boy is in fine shape. We didn't come out here to drop the championship."

"My Art is ready. We'll win the title." So promised Aragon's manager, Jimmy Roche.

The match will be the first title defence since the 27-year-old Negro from Gotham stunned the boxing world with a 14-round knockout over Ike Williams in New York last May.

Both fighters planned to limit activities today to mere exercises. Aragon, who generally finds it difficult to scale down to the 135-pound limit, apparently is not worried about this problem. Carter is a natural lightweight.

SKATING TONIGHT

BELLEVILLE MEMORIAL ARENA

Glen Dobbs Paces Winners With Two Passes, Touchdown, In Drama-Packed Grid Battle

Regina, Nov. 13 (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders brought the western football championship back to Regina yesterday to end a 15-year title drought for this prairie wheat farming centre of 70,000, smallest city in Canada supporting a professional football club.

Triple - threat quarterback Glenn Dobbs led Roughriders to a heart-furging 19-18 triumph over Annis Stukus' Edmonton Eskimos in the deciding game of their three-game western football final which went right down to the last minute. It capped an uphill fight for the Riders, who dropped the opener 15-11 in Edmonton and won the second game 12-5 here Saturday.

Seek First Grey Cup

Roughriders now go east to meet Ottawa Roughriders, Hamilton Tiger Cats, or Sarnia Imperials in the Grey Cup final on Nov. 24 at Toronto's Varsity Stadium. They still seek their first Grey Cup.

It was all Dobbs yesterday. The six-foot, four inch American, voted most valuable player to his team in the Western Football Union won the game on his long passes and booming punts.

Dobbs completed 10 of 19 passes for 262 yards. Two went for touchdowns by end Jack Nix, former New York Yankee, and fullback Bob Sandberg. Dobbs went over for his team's other major and scored a single on a rouge. Riders' other point came on two converts by big end Rex Ellinger, from New York Giants, and a rouge off an Ellinger field goal attempt.

Eskimos, who did almost nothing until the final quarter when they scored three majors to Saskatchewan's two, came back valiantly within an ace of fulfilling coach Stukus' pre-season prediction of "this is our year."

Edmonton's two brilliant Negro backfielders, little Roland Miles and lanky Jim Chambers, scored a touchdown apiece along with all-star fullback Mike King. Stukus converted all three.

Miles made a one-handed catch in the end zone for his major and Chambers scored on a 2-yard plunge over the line. Dobbs' pass to his on Bob Paffrath's lateral off a kickoff catch.

Two interceptions of Frankie Filchock passes deep in the Eskimos end by Saskatchewan's Ken Charlton and Sandberg in the fourth quarter, both of which led to Rider touchdowns, were the turning points of the game.

Three interceptions of Dobbs' five fumbles (only one recovered) and lack of a consistent ground attack hurt Eskimos' chances.

Beat Team on Play

But Riders were the best team on the day's play. Whenever Dobbs wasn't in control, which wasn't often, his Eskimo foes and 70-yard punts drove the Edmonton back deep into their own end.

A capacity crowd of 13,000 in Taylor Field saw Riders get an 8-0 lead in the first three quarters, largely on an 48-yard touchdown pass to Nix.

Just when they appeared hopelessly beaten, Eskimos came alive in fourth quarter which produced 22 points as play swung back and forth, the lead, fast gridiron in spectacular fashion.

Dobbs said after the game he wanted to win it more than any other he had played in during a brilliant career in which he smashed many American professional records. Dobbs:

"It's the fans. The people up here have been terrific. I played college football and had a turn at the pro game. I was in Los Angeles a long time and nobody cared much about the footballers off the field. I came up here and every door was open to me. The other boys who came up will say the same thing. We had to win. The fans deserved it."

Crowe Figures Ottawa Riders Will Beat Cats

Ottawa, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders, whose best play of the season to date has been drawing a bye out of the first part of the triple-tied Big Four football playoffs, are rested and ready for Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

The team will be at full strength, with all injuries and bruises healed. Coming against a Tiger team which has just finished a gruelling home-and-home series against Toronto Argonauts, they carry the odds. They last beaten Hamilton in three out of four starts in regular season play.

At Full Strength

Yet there are some fans who feel the Riders may be just a little too rested.

Last night they held their first outdoor workout since they lost to Toronto Argonauts in the last scheduled league game, Nov. 3. A snowy field has kept them indoors, and they have kept their workouts in the Ottawa Collegium, which confined them to calisthenics and light run-through of plays.

As the team prepared to leave today for Hamilton and the first game of the home-and-home, to-be-point series, there were conflicting quotes on the prospects. "We know they will be a lot tougher," said J. P. (Jimmy) McCaffrey, manager of the Ottawa club. "In many ways, we'd have preferred to meet Toronto."

On the other hand, Clem Crowe, the Rider coach, who scouted the Toronto-Hamilton series was qualitative:

"There isn't any doubt we'll beat Hamilton," he told a reporter. "We've got a better team."

Eyeing the Grey Cup, the Ottawa club sent its last year's coach, Wally Masters, to scout the final playoff games between Saskatchewan Roughriders and Edmonton Eskimos.

Gil Turner Ready to Meet Kid Gavilan

Philadelphia, Nov. 13 (AP)— Gil Turner feels he has passed all the tests necessary for a fight with welterweight champion Kid Gavilan.

The 23-year-old Philadelphian won his 25th and most convincing triumph of his ringtown career last night when he threw so many punches at Bernie (Big Dago) Docusen, the clever Little Filipino decided discretion was the better part of valor and quit in his corner.

Docusen refused to come out for the seventh round. He told ringside physician Dr. W. G. B. Terry he had had enough. And in his Convention Hall dressing room, the New Orleans veteran said Turner was just too good for him.

"I had nothing left. Turner is everything they said he was. I wouldn't have believed one man could throw so many punches if I hadn't felt them."

Turner, who weighed 148 1-2 to Docusen's 146, said his opponent has done everything asked of him. The powers who run the fight business told the rising young welter he had to best Docusen decisively. So Gil stopped Charley Fusari and like Williams.

Then they said for him to beat a boxer. Last night he slaughtered one of the cleverest welterweights in the business, the 24-year-old Docusen who almost won a 10 pound crown from Ray (Sugar) Robinson in the latter's prime.

Five Ties Dwindle Wings Lead, Players High in Points List

Montreal, Nov. 13—(CP)—Detroit Red Wings fought to five deadlock in as many games last week to see their lead in National Hockey League standings dwindle to three points.

However, Detroit players managed to push their way higher in the individual scoring list to make things hot for Montreal Canadiens —among the better marksmen so far this season.

Detroit has nine players among the 23 leading point-getters, while Montreal has five, all bunched near the top. The nine other spots are divided among players of the four other N. H. L. clubs.

Ted All But Chicago

Having tied all clubs but the Chicago Black Hawks last week, the Red Wings now have 18 points for seven wins, two defeats and five deadlocks. The first Detroit-Chicago encounter since Oct. 18 will be next Thursday in the Motor City.

Three points behind the Red Wings are Toronto Maple Leafs with a 6-4-4 tally, while Canadiens hold a toe-hold on third spot with 14 point. The Habs, who played the highest number of games, 15, have a single-point lead over Boston Bruins who played three games less. New York Rangers follow with 10 and Chicago is in the basement with eight points.

Montreal's Maurice (Rocket) Richard continues to lead the way in three departments. He shares the top-scoring spot with teammate Elmer Lach, has the highest number of goals and, a less enviable achievement, is most penalized player.

Richard and Lach have 15 points each. Richard has a pace-letting 10 goals and five assists while Lach has two goals and has set up the highest number of plays 13 assists.

A Bostonian and two Torontonians are deadlocked with 11 points for third place. Adam Brown of Boston was joined in that spot two weeks ago by Toronto's Sid Smith. A newcomer this week is Toronto's Ted Kennedy.

"HIGHWAY ROBBERY!"

CRIED MR. DUDGEON

Imagine! A hold-up on Highway No. 11 in broad daylight! That's the fix Mr. Dudgeon was in.

Seems he couldn't believe that cold weather would ever steal up on his car. But it did—one cold morning while driving north on his way to an important business call. You see, he put the simple, economical step of safeguarding his car's cooling system against cold weather freeze-up.

The radiator frose, and a great burst of steam rushed from under the hood. So there he was—hold up for a week while his car fix. Little wonder he cried, "Highway robbery!"

His pride was hurt—his pocketbook too. You see, his biggest business asset—his car—freeze frozen. You late to call the cops, Mr. Dudgeon. But next time call on your neighborhood Shell Dealer. Call on him early.

MOREL

Be safe, be certain—have your Shell Dealer install Shellzone permanent Anti-Freeze today or first thing tomorrow! Only one shot per car, in winter, for winter-long trouble-free cooling system protection. Shellzone is an ethylene glycol type anti-freeze; noncorrosive and non-boiling. One filling lasts all winter long!

Only at SHELL SERVICE STATIONS do you get a signed guarantee that your car is protected against cold weather damage.

Happy Riders Draw Sights on Cup; Esky's Stukus to Retire From Game

Regina, Nov. 13 (CP)—Coach Annis Stukus, whose Edmonton Eskimos were eliminated from Grey Cup contention yesterday by a spine-tingling 19-18 loss to Saskatchewan Roughriders, announced up the loss this way:

"All we lost was just a ball game."

Having to lose after coming so close to victory was tough. But the 37-year-old placement-kicker de luxe, who will relinquish his coaching job to return to a sports-writing career in Toronto, took it all in stride.

"This was still our year in the west," he maintained, obviously referring to his forecast before the season opened that "this is Eskimos' year."

"We helped fill every park in the conference and in Edmonton we drew the largest crowds of all. Yes sir, it was still Edmonton's year, even though we didn't win the title."

Stukus took over the new Edmonton entry three years ago and brought it to the conference final in the last two. When he signed this year he said it would be his last. He's sticking to that decision and Frankie Filchock, his quarterback this season, is expected to take over for him.

Sport in Brief

(By The Canadian Press)

President Bob Moran of the Big Four football union's Toronto Argonauts said yesterday playing coach John Kerns will be signed as a full time line coach for the next season "if a proper replacement can be found."

By a proper replacement, Moran means an outstanding American middle must be obtained for next year. If Clair comes up with two American tackles, Kerns will devote his job to coaching.

Moran also disclosed that quarterback Nobby Wirkowski and halfback Ulysses Curtis will return.

The Canadian Boxing Federation ordered Roy Wouters of Montreal to defend his Canadian middleweight title against Jummy Langston of Vancouver in the coast city.

The decision of the C.B.F., meeting in annual convention at Quebec, followed a dispute between the two boxers after they signed a contract to meet for the 160-pound crown in Vancouver.

Evidence brought before the convention showed Wouters attempted to change the site of the bout to Montreal. The Vancouver promoters and Langston refused the transfer.

At Cincinnati, O., David Cecil, 16, died in hospital yesterday of head injuries suffered in a high school football game. Two operations were performed Saturday for removal of a blood clot which apparently formed after he received a blow on the head. The boy lapsed into a coma and never regained consciousness.

Rocky Marciano's knockout of Joe Louis yesterday earned the undefeated Brockton, Mass., belter the October award in the Hickok professional athlete of the year poll. The announcement was made in New York.

Marciano barely nosed out Bobby Thomson, whose last-inning homer won the National League pennant for New York Giants. Rocky received 41 first-place votes and a point total of 122 from sports writers on the panel in Regina, Nov. 12 (CP) —It was a madhouse, Saskatchewan Roughriders whooped it up in typical Western style. Some of the injured of previous games were on crutches; others in plaster casts. They jubilantly yelled: "The Grey Cup is next." Some cried with joy.

This was Roughies' dressing room after a spine-tingling 19-18 victory over Edmonton Eskimos yesterday in the final game that gave them the Western Canada football title and a crack at the Grey Cup.

Roughriders no sooner got off the field when they bundled coach Harry Smith off to the showers, clothes and all.

"You were wonderful, boys. There may have been better football games than that one today, but nobody ever played as hard as you did. I'm proud of you all."

Quarterback Glenn Dobbs was as happy as a kid with a new toy. The all-star import whose kicking had kept the run all afternoon, said he never wanted to win a game as much as he wanted to win that one.

"It's the fans. The people up here have been terrific. I played college football and had a turn at the pro game. . . nobody cared much about the footballers off the field. I came up here and every door was open to me. We had to win. The fans deserved it."

Dobbs looked across at big Toar Springstein, the tackle who has played so long in a Rider uniform.

"What a pair of games that guy played," Dobbs said. "I'm telling you he was killing them out there."

"It was team work all the way. We couldn't have got anywhere without that line and our backs played up to them."

Jack Wedley, formerly of Toronto Argonauts and a great defensive end, took it all in stride. Grey Cup games aren't new to him. Before coming to Riders this year he played in five Dominion finals for Toronto Argonauts and was on the winning side each time.

Want to Be a Goalie Like Sawchuk Then Spurn Bread, Spuds, Movies, TV

Detroit, Nov. 13—(AP)—Twenty-two-year-old Terry Sawchuk, Detroit Red Wings' heavyweight all-star goalie and rookie award winner last season, said today it was one thing to know where his bread is buttered and quite another to eat it.

"I'm down to 198 pounds," he said, "the lightest I've been in three years—and that's no accident. I reported to training camp at 220—ten pounds more than my rookie weight—and I could see that didn't enhance my popularity with the boss, Jack Adams."

It wouldn't. The possibility is strong that Adams would never have traded away Larry Lumley to make room for Sawchuk if Lumley wasn't inclined to put on weigh too easily.

Glenda Eveyshi

"I wasn't going to let that happen to me," said Sawchuk. "So I put on a sweat jacket and laid off the bread and potatoes and I feel fine. Last year I sort of got tired near the end of a game. No more."

For a big man Sawchuk has remarkably quick reflexes. He has a unique low-crouch on screen shots. And he guards his eyesight as zealously as Rogers Hornsby used to when he was the best hitter in baseball.

"I stay clear of movies and television screens during the season," he said. "And I don't read any more than I have to. Four years ago, when I was with Omaha in the U. S. League, I nearly lost the sight of my right eye from a high stick. I had three stitches taken in the eyeball. It was bandaged for three weeks. I said to myself then: 'What am I going to do ,or a living?' I had no answer. I still wouldn't if I couldn't play hockey."

This young bull moose from Winnipeg hits the sack plenty. He takes a three-hour nap from 4 to 7 the day of a game. And he's back in bed an hour after the game is over.

"If I play the game over in bed," he said, "but I won't pick up a paper."

The player who worries him most is Maurice Richard of Montreal.

"He has a great shot," he said, "and he shoots every chance he gets. It's a heavy shot, hard to handle. I like my steep, but sometimes that Richard keeps me up wondering what I did wrong."

Michigan State Week's Top Team

New York, Nov. 13—(AP)—Michigan States yesterday elbowed Tennessee out of the No. 1 spot in the weekly Associated Press poll of United States college football with 55 of the 158 first-place votes from sports writers and sportscasters.

Humbling Notre Dame 35-0 Saturday, the unbeaten Michigan State eleven ended Tennessee's three-week reign. The victory shot Michigan State from fifth to first with a total of 1,316 points.

Tennessee led the poll in the first two weeks of the season. Then California took over for a week before Tennessee moved on top.

Tennessee drew 49 firsts and a second-place total of 1,155 points to beat off a strong challenge by Illinois' Big Ten leaders.

He's lying six feet deep. He'll cause no no more trouble. He's gone to his last sleep. He passed my takeout double.

If your partner doubles for a takeout, he asks you to bid. If he's bid intervene and you have a weak hand, there is absolutely no excuse for you to pass. You must bid.

It is possible that you may not have a trick. And yet you must bid. It is possible that you may not even have a suit to bid. And yet you must bid a suit.

What is your first choice at opening? Any unbid major suit with at least four cards of any kind in it. With none such, your second choice is any unbid minor suit with at least four cards of any kind.

With none such of either, your third choice is to bid clubs if that suit has not yet been bid. From if you have less than four clubs on your hand, clubs is your bid in no trump.

You see, the takeout double forces you to bid something if no bid intervenes. It asks you to show an unbid suit or at least four cards, if you have one. Without one, you must still bid something.

So you must give your partner some sort of a signal that you do not have a four card or longer unbid suit. You do so by bidding clubs, the lowest ranking of all suits.

Suppose an opponent starts with an opening bid of one heart and your partner doubles. If the next opponent passes, there you are with the hand you see here:

♥ 6 5 3
♦ 7 4 2
♣ 9 8 6

You have no unbid major or minor suit with at least four cards. You must not pass. So this is where you are forced to bid two clubs. And you may find your partner without a club in his hand.

Does that scare you? Do not let it. If partner has enough for a takeout double, he is prepared for your two club bid. Give it to him.

Victoria Wins Over Stampeders

Calgary, Nov. 13—(CP)—Victoria Cougars opened their first swing through the Prairies with a 7-4 victory last night over Calgary Stampeders to move into a third-place tie with Saskatoon Quakers in the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

Bob Frampton paced Cougars with three goals. Joe Evans, Dougie Anderson Flori Goegan and Eddie Dorohoy each scored once.

Bill Moe, Norm Larson, Frank Arsenault and George Agar scored for Calgary.

Australia Wins Over West Indies In Cricket Series

Brisbane, Australia, Nov. 13—(Reuters) — Australia beat the West Indies by three wickets today in the first cricket test match to decide world cricket supremacy.

The result was in doubt until almost the end, but a spirited sixth-wicket stand of 64 by Graeme Hole and bowler Ray Lindwall virtually clinched matters for Australia.

West indies scored 216 and 245, Australia 226 and 236 for seven.

Australia got off to a bad start this morning, losing the wickets of star batsman Arthur Morris, Keith Miller and Neil Harvey for only 41 runs before the spin bowling of Alf Valentine and Sonny Ramadhin.

But then Lindwall and Hole pulled the game around, Lindwall scored 29 before being bowled by Ramadhin. Holt and Doug Ring knocked off the 11 runs needed for victory. Hole was undefeated for 45.

There are four more tests to be played.

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma was looking at the movie page in the paper, saying to pop, William, I'm very much intrigued by a picture called Molly and I.

I'm toying with the idea of writing a few letters tonite, pop said. Some niles just seem ideal for writing letters. I cant explain it, but I always think of them as letter writing evenings, and this is one of them, he said, and ma said, The screen play was written by Dickson Sokoloff, the same man who did Robert and Jerl. I know you didn't think mutch of that picture, but I'm sure it was only because you couldn't keep awake, she said.

Nothing nourishes a man's conscience like catching up with his correspondenti,pop said, and ma said, as a matter of fact the critics all agree that Dickson Sokoloff hasn't turned out anything better than Robert and Jerl in the passed 8 years. The children were just wonderful, and if you'd only stayed awake you mite of stopped insisting that a child actor's place s in the home. This picture Molly, and I is a sequel to it and shows the same children allitely older, she said.

A man that expects to get letters without writing any himself is just a frustrated idealist, pop said, and ma said, It's in Technicolor.

Just tonite of all niles, what an unfortunate coincident that this happens to be a letter writing evening, pop said, and ma said, Oh, the picture isn't on now, it's not even released yet.

Yes gods, the unnecessery suffering in the world, pop said. And he started his 2nd cigar and didn't write letters.

Movie Column

BY BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 13—(AP)—The Barrymore clan is adding another member to its acting dynasty—beautiful, brunette Dolores, who is willing to work her way up from the ranks.

If you're interested in family trees, you should know that Dolores is the daughter of Dolores Costello and John Barrymore, the niece of Ethel and Lionel, the sister of John, Jr., and the half-sister of Diana.

Until recently, her sole occupation was being a housewife and mother at her modest Hollywood apartment. But then the Barrymore blood began to prevail.

"I had never thought about being an actress," said Dolores, who is 21. "I have never acted in my life, although I have taken drama in school. But my brother John has been after me for two years to give it a try, and I decided it might be worth the chance.

"Even though I have never acted, I think it comes naturally to me because I have always liked to pretend, And I have always enjoyed keeping busy with a variety of interests. Now that the baby is a year old and I have learned to do housework — I literally couldn't boil an egg when I was married — I find I have too much time on my hands. I though of doing model work, but I think acting will be more stimulating.

"I'm willing to take any role to keep busy. Naturally I wouldn't be sorry if stardom would come. But my acting would never be more important than my home life."

Dolores said her family was delighted with her decision, especially her mother, "who always wanted me to be an actress." She also received the approval of her Aunt Ethel, who acts as coach and guide to young members of the family. She wanted to call herself Blythe Barrymore, the first handle coming from the real family name, Blyth. But her agent vetoed that and she'll be known professionally as Dolores Barrymore.

AT THE McCARTHY — Frightened by a prowler, Evelyn Keyes gets accumstomed to the nightly visits of police radio officer Van Heflin, who has more than her welfare at heart. This dramatic scene is from the fast-paced melodrama, "The Prowler," closing tonight at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. Second feature is "Revenue Agent" with Douglas Kennedy and Jean Willes.

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wednesday, November 14

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—Although your Mars is ill, today's benefic strong influences from Venus, Jupiter and Saturn can be garnered and helpful to your efforts in all honest fields. Be soundly acquisitive.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Most encouraging rays; especially for your specific talents and work for which you have trained, studied. Personal affairs can increase happiness. Do your share to make this day positive.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—May not have all the brightness you'd like today but you will have bountiful returns for intelligent, steady application at your honest schedule. Finances, private interests elevated.

June 22 to July 22—(Cancer)—A peak day. Get out your ambitions and most ingratiating manner that you may reap full benefit from good aspects abundant now. Art and regular business, also other heavy work favored.

July 24 to August 22—(Leo)—Your Sun's configuration indicates some restraint. It may not be easy to gain advancement in some things but day on whole is very favorable for most business, money and private interests.

August 23 to September 23 — (Virgo) — Your Mercury says be more careful in things written, making agreements and the like. But don't let this hold you back in sturdy endeavor, for day needs unction, push.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—As with Taurus, generous day, many fresh advantages, perhaps long-sought expansion in certain matters. Be eager to keep up with best of them, you can, if you don't sell your talents short.

October 24 to November 22—(Scorpio)— Stimulating, benefic, with some admonitions about disposition and things requiring vigor. Then need extra patience, understanding. Much can, should, be done in all honest affairs.

November 23 to December 22—(Sagittarius)—Very helpful, profitable day, in many ways. Jupiter and other planets beneficially aspected. Speed ahead with due plans and program, sane tempo, of course. Respect health needs.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn) — Propitious Saturn and Moon configurations for a bright and in many ways remunerative day. Industry, trades, building; machinery, tools; medicine, science and our military advance.

January 22 to February 20—(Aquarius)—Be watchful in unusual matters. Would be incongruous to change schedule or methods running smoothly unless for assured improvement. Sound investments, children's interests deserve care.

February 21 to March 20—(Pisces)— Some indifference to shipping, matters of strictly confidential nature, but on whole day can be profitable for business and finances if you manage things rightly. Add a clever trait, or two.

YOU BORN TODAY: Artistic temperament; capable all-round. Inclined to be unyielding, maybe too forceful at time. Your magnetic personality and likeable bearing can be helpful aids in business as in social life so do not let any strong, forbidding tendencies override your finer traits. Could be skilled mechanic, perhaps first-rank surgeon, physician, dentist, scientist. Great energy and courage. Are generous, charitable and above pettiness. Do shun worry and emotional upsets, harmful to health and success.

Birthdate: Robert Fulton, inventor of the steamboat; Sir Chas. Lyell, noted geologist; Veronica Lake, actress.

Telegram Says Liberals Would Repeal Gifts Act

Toronto, Nov. 13.—(CP)—The Telegram today quoted Walter Thomson, Ontario Liberal leader, as saying a liberal government would repeal a section of the Charitable Gifts Act which affects the Toronto Star.

The Telegram said Mr. Thomson's statement was made in an interview at his Pickering, Ont., farm. The Charitable Gifts Act was passed at the 1949 session of the legislature and provides that charity trusts may not hold after 1946 more than 10 per cent of any business.

"It is generally known," says the Telegram, "that repeal of the Charitable Gifts Act, passed by the Frost (Progressive Conservative) government to block evasion of successful duties, has been the main objective of the present executives of the Star ever since the measure was passed in 1949."

During the campaign for the Nov. 22 provincial general election, Attorney-General Porter has suggested there may have been a secret deal between Mr. Thomson and the Star regarding repeal of the act.

The story, by reporter James V. Nicol, quotes Mr. Thomson as saying in the interview: "There has been no secret deal between the Star and me. No newspaper has attempted to dictate to me."

The Telegram says Mr. Thomson was asked to say definitely what stand he would take on the act and that he replied:

"Legally the Charitable Gifts Act is wrong and morally it is wrong. I will be repealed. We have always been against that any will speaks for a man who is dead."

The Telegram said Mr. Thomson argued that no man's will should be affected by legislation passed after his death and that he added:

"If that is permitted, we can jumble up the whole destiny of a nation and destroy the pertinence of wills."

Opponents of the act have said it was aimed at overthrowing the will of J. E. Atkinson, Toronto publisher, whose will established a charity foundation for the Toronto Daily Star and the Sunday Weekly. The papers are now being operated by the Atkinson Charitable Foundation.

(Premier Frost said in the legislature it was considered by the Treasury Department "for the purpose of protecting the public and preventing charitable trusts having control of great wealth which they could use for other charitable purposes.")

Eldorado Making 'Cobalt Bombs' To Fight Cancer

London, Ont., Nov. 13 — (CP) — About six more cobalt bombs will be constructed by Eldorado Mining and Refining next year for use in Canadian and American hospitals.

Production of the bombs — the latest weapon in the world's fight against cancer — will be speeded up. More are planned for 1953.

The first such bomb was turned over to the Ontario Cancer Foundation at Victoria Hospital here yesterday. It was developed at the Canadian government atomic laboratories at Chalk River, Ont.

Basically, the cobalt bomb will be used for cancer treatment in the same manner as X-ray and radium, its radiations, aimed at the root of the disease, will be used to destroy cancer cells. These cells are more sensitive to radiation and grow far more rapidly than healthy tissue, and hence, are the first to be destroyed.

The bomb itself is a small portion of the London cobalt 60 enclosed in a massive lead case. Cost of installation was $50,000. And X-ray installation to do comparable work would cost $120,000 to $150,000 while an equally effective amount of radium would cost many millions of dollars.

Construction of the radio-active unit was limited because Canada's atomic pile at Chalk River was the only one "at this side of the Iron Curtain" capable of producing radio-active cobalt, and only a few pieces of cobalt could be made radio-active each year.

Orders for the bombs are coming in from many parts of the United States and Canada.

21-Gun Salute Marks Farewell To Royal Visitors

Aboard Empress of Scotland, Nov. 13 — (CP) — A 21-gun salute from the cruiser Ontario marked Canada's farewell to her royal visitors last night as Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh relaxed on the first day of their ocean voiage home.

Promptly at sunset the Ontario and the Canadian destroyer Micmac, which had steamed alongside the luxury liner Empress of Scotland on the first stage of her journey, wheeled about in the stormy Atlantic and headed back to port.

Due to the 37-mile-an-hour wind, the pipers were granted a request from the Ontario that the custom of "cheering the ship, with the navy crews lined up along the decks, be abandoned.

The royal couple watched the Ontario and Micmac take their leave from the wheelhouse on the bridge of the Empress. The princess, wearing a brightly - colored kerchief, filmed the scene with a movie camera as foam swept over the bows of the two ships, one on either side of the royal vessel. The duke snapped still pictures of the ceremony.

The couple relaxed on their first evening aboard ship, but plan to play a little deck-tennis today if the storm abates. They will also look at some films of their Canadian visit — two newsreels and a color film.

As the princess and her husband made their way to their cabin after the departure of their Canadian escort, they visited the ship's cocktail bar. The only customer — a solitary tourist of the five-man detail accompanying them to London by royal invitation — sprang to attention.

Phillip allowed him back to his drink with the friendly query, "Enjoying a cocktail, one?"

The princess also was quick to set her fellow-passengers at ease. As they left the bar without pausing for a drink, a group of passengers in the lounge rose at the royal approach.

"I think we ought to relax," the princess said, and the passengers resumed their seats.

BECAUSE... "Tired out" feeling and backache are often due to urinary irritation and bladder discomfort; and for over half a century Dodd's Kidney Pills have helped relieve tired times here in the Dodd "get-up" feeling by stimulating the kidneys. Get Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. Look for the blue box with the red band. You can depend on Dodd's. 143

The Outsiders

By Jane Abbott

She would have liked to go to enlarging on the comparison but Eliza had said, in a funny, kind way, "Robert Frost — isn't he written poems about New England people? Let's go into a bookstore while we're in town."

Jeremy Penny lived with the Hesketh across from the school, in a small room under the eaves, ceiling so low she could touch it without stretching her arms. There was one window round, much like a porthole and so small in the peak of the gable that she could see out of it only when she was standing up. There was a narrow bed, a pine bureau, a pine table and a hard pine chair. But bare and uninviting as it was, it was exactly as Jeremy wanted it.

All through childhood she had shared Roland, her older brother by 15 years. Their mother had died when she was five, their father a year later, and they had gone to live with their Aunt Florence in Rochester. And because then, Roland had talked to her, secondary, finding a home where just the two of them would live together. The dream of it had grown as she grew; Roland, writing his mystery stories and she, grown up, cooking the things he liked, looking after him, typing his manuscripts.

Two years ago, on one of his trips to New York to see his publishers, he had found a house, outside of Great Neck, Long Island. They had moved into it, and Jeremy had thought Heaven could offer no more of bliss than was hers, settling new and old furniture, planning, marketing, cooking. They would live there always, and always.

Then one evening Roland had said to her, "I'm going to marry Zhanya Cren, Jeremy. You'll have two of us now to take care of."

But she wouldn't; she would not live with them, not a day, not an hour! She had hated Zhanya Cren even before she met her, Roland, for doing this to her. She would go so far away from the world they were in as she could go.

She would not take a penny from Roland so she had to do something to support herself. Reading in a newspaper of the critical shortage of teachers in New Hampshire, she had applied to the State Board for a position and had been assigned to the grade school in New Interval. That she hated teaching made it more the thing she should do.

She had come to the valley, to the room under Mary Abel's roof and had settled down to a life dedicated to unhappiness. She was 21 years old, looked older than that with her thin, tight face, and, at the same time, younger.

She did not get Marilyn's invitation from Pete until the afternoon before the day of the party for the rumor, that she had not gone into the store. She shrank from asking for mail, knowing that the only letters she would get would be from Roland. Though she had told him he must think of her as dead, he wrote to her now and then and in each letter as though he were only annoyed by the attitude she'd taken. Once he'd written, "snap out of your peeve Sis—you've too much sense." A peeve! She always was sick for days after one of his letters.

She read Marilyn's note, tore it up. She wouldn't go, of course. She wasn't interested in meeting this Elias Forrestal, in meeting anyone. She'd send an answer to Mrs. Streeter by one of the children the next day.

She wrote it in her noon hour on Tuesday. "I regret that it is impossible for me to accept your kind invitation, Jeremy Penny."

She sat there lunch, startled out to return to the school, the note in her pocket. Crossing the road she met Chris Cameron.

"Grad day isn't it, Miss Penny?"

"Yes, it is." Though she hadn't noticed that it was. One day was like another.

"Too nice a day to spend in school."

"Yes, it is," she repeated over her shoulder, for she had walked past him.

"Oh just a moment, Miss Penny."

She turned unwillingly.

"You're invited to Mrs. Street-Sale-supper party—will you let me stop for you?"

The unexpectedness of it, the directness of it and Chris' friendly smile combined to throw Jeremy into utter confusion. Her blood rushed up into her throat, closing it. She got out a stammered "thank you," but no more.

"Fine," declared Chris Cameron with pleasant heartiness "Six-thirty's the hour, isn't it? I'll stop quarter after. And thanks for saying I may."

He walked on then, and Jeremy went across to the schoolhouse, her knees shaking under her, the tightness still in her throat.

Eliza dressed for the party with some dread and some anticipation. The latter she did not analyze, but the first was familiar—a leftover from her mother's parties and her mother's chiding glances, her mother saying afterwards "couldn't you have been a little more alive, darling? I wanted that new man to like you and you were wooden tonight!"

She never had had a party of her own. Now and then her mother had suggested that she invite some young people in but she hadn't—Betty had been so one she cared enough about to invite.

Hesperh stood in the door, watching the progress of her toilet, every now and then nodding her head in approval. Eliza put on the new dress.

"That color suits you," said Hesperh.

"I've worn green more than any other color, I think." Eliza was buttoning the dress and suddenly her fingers were still. She had worn an old jersey dress of almost that same shade of green those days in Altemont. Peter had asked her to wear it.

Her instinct was to take the garment off. She put her hand to the top button, then dropped it. That was over—nothing of it could reach her, here in New Interval.

"Who's going to be at your party?" queried Hesperh.

"The girl who teaches the school here and George Culbert. Doctor Streeter of course, and Marilyn . . . and Mr. Cameron."

Hesperh said, "well you look all right," and went away from the door.

"Let's get off to a better start, next time." Though she knew Chris Cameron would meet again —this would be the next time.

"Why you dislike him intensely!" she cried it aloud, with indignant positiveness, to the girl before her. But she saw the color flame high on those cheeks in the mirror.

George Culbert was coming up to drive her down to the party. Hesperh did not approve of that. "Don't see any need of him to come. You've your car."

"He has a letter he wants me to read. He forgot to give it to me this afternoon when I was at the office."

That Eliza should offer this explanation, half apologetically, was significant of the new relationship between them.

"It could wait 'til tomorrow" observed Hesperh darkly.

It could of course. Eliza had not thought of that. George Culbert had come out to the city just as she was about to drive out of the mill yard. "Oh, Miss Forrestal, I've a letter for you to read. It slipped my mind until this moment. How about letting me drive up for you and take you down to the Streeters'? I'll bring the letter along with me."

He was a little late in coming and profuse in his apologies. He came into the hall, went on, without any invitation, into the study as he had the same time taking an envelope from his pocket. "I remembered to bring this — want to read it?"

Eliza took the letter but she put it down on the desk. I don't think we should keep Marilyn waiting."

Marilyn, is it, as soon as this? Well, if we can't keep her waiting, read it in the morning. It's from the Bendley outfit—the big paper mills down in the state. They're angling to buy up the valley, here."

He laughed at her puzzled look. "I'll explain it all to you tomorrow. Never mix business with pleasure is my motto. This your coat?" He nodded toward the light coat Eliza had put over a chair. "Allow me!" He held it for her, his hands lingering for a moment on her shoulders.

The hour or her party come, everything was going wrong for Marilyn. Her table did not look like the pictures r e had studied in the magazines, the food she had read, was—well, skimpy. If she had some of those made-up cocktails to serve first, no one would notice what they were eating, but she'd known better than to ask John for the money to buy them! She had spilled some cream on her dress, taking the top off the bottle. And there were thunderheads showing over Spruce Hill.

John had come home late from the mill. There was an accident over there," he had said in explanation.

She had said "you weren't the one, hurt! You know I had a lot of things for you to do!"

"I took the man home."

Marilyn was too irritated at the moment by other things to care that anyone had been hurt.

"Well, don't stand there—hurry and change your clothes and bring out that straight chair from your office when you come."

She had hoped that George Culbert would come first; if he did she would give John something to do inside the house and so have a few minutes alone not come.

5,790 ALLIED WAR PRISONERS SLAIN BY REDS

Agree or Break Off Truce Talks Reds Challenge

Enemy Wants to Stop Fighting Says U.N. Officer

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 14. (AP)—Communist negotiators challenged the Allied today to agree to cease-fire line in Korea now or break off the truce talks.

Brig.-Gen. William P. Nuckols, official United Nations spokesman, said the challenge was ignored in a welter of words that marked today's five-hour armistice session.

He said the challenge was made by Chinese Maj.-Gen. Hsieh Fang, member of the red's two-man subcommittee.

Hsieh's challenge came during a wrangle over whether a military demarcation line and buffer zone should be established now, as the reds insist, or whether the question shall be postponed until other armistice questions are settled.

Refuse To Agree

Hsieh's allies refuse to agree formally to a line now, because they say that would establish an immediate cease-fire. This, they say, would take military pressure off the reds and enable them to stall on other armistice terms.

Hsieh called this "fantastic talk."

"If that is the course you choose to follow," he said, "then why not stay a war?"

Nuckols released other quotations from the red delegates to show:

1. They want to end the fighting now, in the air and on the sea as well as on the ground. A U.N. communique said this became "unmitigatedly clear".

2. The reds say there will be no armistice unless the Allies agree to setting up a military demarcation line and buffer zone now.

3. The reds agree that establishing a buffer zone now would fix the battle lines "in fact."

4. The reds conceded that once established, a military demarcation line should not be changed later.

Four R.C.M.P. officers are in St. Jerome, some 30 miles north of Montreal on the fringe of the Laurentians, to work on the case.

It was learned that large stocks of cash, sealed in safety deposit boxes which the robbers pointed open, included thousands of dollars in United States funds. One informant said at least $41,000 in U.S. currency was in the looted vaults.

Red Leaders Call 170,000 Miners Out on Strike

Strike leaders insisted that the walkout was non - political and was only to back demands for resumption of free health benefits which the government has told the miners must pay for to help fill social security funds.

Non-communist unions, whose strength is much smaller than the reds, opposed the strike.

The strike came as France was pleading for additional coal from the United States to help make her re-armament furnaces and as the French unions pushed toward an all-time record production of 54,000,000 tons for the year. A stoppage of any length would rule out that goal.

Loot Obtained In Bank Robbery Near $500,000

Montreal, Nov. 14 — (CP) Loot obtained in the robbery of a Banque Provinciale branch in St. Jerome, Que., during the weekend of Nov. 3 may total as much as $500,000, it was learned today.

Four R.C.M.P. officers are in St. Jerome, some 30 miles north of Montreal on the fringe of the Laurentians, to work on the case.

It was learned that large stocks of cash, sealed in safety deposit boxes which the robbers pointed open, included thousands of dollars in United States funds. One informant said at least $41,000 in U.S. currency was in the looted vaults.

Board Agrees With Parents School Is Lousy

Toledo, Ont., Nov. 14—(CP)—Toledo school board agrees with Toledo parents that Toledo public school is just plain lousy.

So lousy, in fact, that the building had been closed until Nov. 19 to eliminate the lice.

Last Friday parents went on strike against sanitary conditions in the two-room school, attended by some 60 pupils. They kept their children home in protest.

The two teachers, principal Dorcas McDougall and Mrs. Edna Greenhorn, resigned to support the strike. They said they'd return to work only when the lice are gone.

Parents stormed a school board meeting Monday night to report almost every day in Toledo (pop. 200) had become lice-infested at the school.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Nov. 14 (CP)—Synopsis— A lowering of pressure over Lake Superior on this morning's weather map, is bringing an end to the warm weather of a week ago day. The strong southwest winds prevailing over Southern Ontario by this storm are bringing cooler air over the province during today. The afternoon temperatures in this air are from 35 to 45, and skies are generally cloudy. In central regions the cool air may give some snowflurries tonight and Thursday. In extreme Northern Ontario the storm has given several inches of snow, and it is still snowing.

CANADA AND U.S. WILL CRACK DOWN ON RACKETEERS

Extraditable Offences Now Include Fraud

Ottawa, Nov. 14 — (CP) — Canada and the United States have moved to crack down on international stock racketeers.

Prime Minister St. Laurent disclosed in the Commons yesterday that the two countries have agreed to add to their list of extraditable offences fraud and use of the mails in fraud committed in connection with transactions in securities.

This will give authorities in both countries a new weapon in pressure Canadian stock promoters—centred principally around Toronto—who thrive by defrauding gullible American investors in bogus stock deals.

The agreement, by way of supplementary convention to the Canada-U.S. extradition treaty, was signed here Oct. 29 and becomes effective on ratification by the U.N. Senate, now adjourned to January. Canadian law requires no such approval, but the proposal will be submitted to parliament for consideration.

Mr. St. Laurent's announcement overshadowed debates on government motions to establish a committee on defence expenditures and to appoint an agricultural marketing board.

Long Negotiations

The extradition agreement results from drawn-out negotiations between Ottawa and the U.S.

The Americans originally sought the right to extradite Canadians who might have broken any of the security laws or any of the 48 states. Canada insisted offences must be those which are recognized in Canadian criminal law as well as American law.

The two countries finally agreed to add these offences to the extradition treaty:

1. Obtaining property, money or valuable securities by false pretences or by defrauding the public or any person by deceit or falsehood or other fraudulent means, whether or not any such person is named, or any fraudulent means would or would not amount to a false pretence.

2. Making use of the mails in connection with any fraudulent device or intended to deceive or defraud the public or for the purpose of committing any of the offences mentioned.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner, introducing the legislation for the establishment of an agricultural products board, said it would not have the poker, such as was held by wartime boards, to compel farmers to produce more but it would only receive the products when the price offered by it were higher than the prices in the regular market.

Opposition speakers generally welcomed the legislation.

Brewin Says Thomson Makes Big Appeal to Moron Vote; Frost Hits High Tobacco Tax

(By The Canadian Press)

Ontario hydro's financial outlays are under attack by provincial Liberal leader Walter Thomson.

He told Glengarry voters at Alexandria last night that hydro "will be a billion dollars in debt before the 60-cycle conversion program and the St. Lawrence power project are completed."

At Niagara Falls Premier Frost, in his third speech of the day in the campaign for the Nov. 22 Ontario election, urged a search of census records to "rid the red tape" involved in older persons gaining proof of age to qualify for old-age pensions.

Touring northern Ontario, C. F. Leacy K. B. Jolliffe told a Sudbury audience that the Ontario government has pursued a systematic policy of "starving" northern Ontario municipalities of their share of revenues from northern mining enterprises.

Wants Cost Revealed

Mr. Thomson said Ontario taxpayers should be told the estimated cost of the present cycle change-over scheme. He declared the hydro has been operating financial statement is usually released in April of the following year, but the 1950 statement has yet to be released.

He suggested if the total costs of the conversion plan were added to the $600,000,000 for the St. Lawrence power project "the hydro will be in debt by a billion dollars."

Premier Frost's administration in 1949 had claimed the cycle change would cost only $191,000,000.

They have completed 19 per cent of it now and it has cost them $40,000,000," said Mr. Thomson.

". . . we should know where this money is coming from, where they are borrowing from, what interest, when they are going to start to pay it back and where they are going to get more."

Premier Frost, speaking of the new federal old-age pensions which start on Jan. 1, said: "It is unbelievable that old people should be sending their family bibles to Ottawa and elsewhere when it is all so unnecessary."

The premier, in another speech at Simcoe, tobacco-belt centre, criticized the federal tax on tobacco. He called it "a first-class example of the power to tax being the power to destroy."

Earlier in a recorded broadcast over Toronto's CFRB and a network of Ontario stations, the premier reviewed his party's policies on housing and hydro-electric power. He said Ont. wa the way to attaining its ctive of construction of 50,000 ses a year in the province.

Mr. Jolliffe declared that revenues derived from provincial taxation of northern mining enterprises are used for "political manipulation in the north country."

Cabinet ministers travelled to the north during election campaigning with promises of grants for development, but between elections, northern municipalities were told that more was spent on them than was derived from taxation.

He promised that if elected his party would hold a series of provincial-municipal conferences to negotiate "in good faith a fair deal" for Ontario municipalities.

Appeals to Morons

Another C. F. speech was made at Port Hope, where Andrew Brewin, former president of the Ontario C. C. F., said that Thomson's dishonest appeal to most blatant shamless appeal to the moron vote.'

At Windsor Theresa Casgrain, Quebec C. C. F. leader, said the vote for either the Liberals or Conservatives would indicate approval of the "terrifying cost of living which faces us today."

Premier Duplessis was also spoke at Welland, goes to eastern Ontario today for speeches at Bowmanville and Belleville. Mr. Jolliffe speaks at Brantford.

Mr. Thomson also spoke at Ottawa, Rockland near Ottawa and at Hawkesbury. Today he continues his tour through Renfrew ridings. At Hawkesbury last night he said that if a Liberal government is elected Dr. Louis Lebel Bonneau of that district will be a minister of his cabinet. Dr. Chas Bonneau is the Liberal candidate for Prescott.

Prince Charles, 3, Celebrates Birthday at Clarence House While Parents on Way Home

London, Nov. 13—(Reuters)—A sturdy, squarely-built young man who will one day be king of England celebrated his third birthday today.

He is Prince Charles, son of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, next in line for the throne after his parents.

The royal parents were in mid-Atlantic, homeward bound from their Canadian tour. But only Charles will have a birthday helper from that just the moment.

His nurse, Helen Lightbody, will switch on a phonograph in the princess's nursery when which the princess recorded before she left for Canada.

The day will be a busy one. After breakfast—orange juice, porridge, a boiled egg and fruit—, there is a mountain of presents to open.

Princess Elizabeth is giving him three wood-and-tin toys, a tractor, a steamroller and a dump truck. Other presents are from members of the royal family. Queen Elizabeth, who calls "Gramps"), Queen Mary ("Gran Gan"), and Princess Margaret ("Margot").

Later in the day a dozen or so children of various royal relatives will turn up for a party. Charles will have a second birthday party in Edinburgh, where his parents arrive home, laden with more boxes of presents for him from cities and organizations all across Canada.

Made Self-Reliant

Life for young Charles Philip Arthur George is said to be as much as possible like that of any other son of a well-to-do English family. The staff of nurses and footmen who look after him and his younger sister Anne, 15 months, have orders to encourage him as much as possible the fact that he is "different."

This is aimed at making him self-reliant and overcoming the self-consciousness which might result otherwise.

A nurse (and a plainclothes detective) takes him for his daily outing in downtown Green Park. But if too big a crowd spots him, he is hustled off to the royal wagon and taken to some suburban park where he can play with other children without being recognized.

The staff must never call him by his real name. Instead, Charles (his mother forbids Charlie).

Nurses are Firm

Discipline is strict—firm. For example, not long ago Charles scattered coal from the fireside box all over the floor. Then he was made him pick it up again.

The system seems to be working because Charles looks a normal as any three-year-old on his public outings.

He waves from the car window imitating his mother, when the crowds cheer. He is popular with the London crowds.

Last year visitors at Clarence House with a sober "how do you do," though he usually follows up with a giggle and a quick game of tag.

The Prince is big for his age. And except for a short bout with a catarrhal cold, he hasn't been ill since birth.

Charles himself violates the baby-talk convention. He has learnyld to salute in the army manner, and he is quite indifferent to pomp. He is fond of the man who repairs the plumbing, the gardener, the woman who pushes the vacuum cleaner, and reserves a big one for the Grenadier Guards.

TORNADOES STRIKE DAMAGING BLOWS ACROSS WIDE AREA

Twisters Kill at Least One and Injure Seven

Chicago, Nov. 14 (AP)—A series of tornadoes and violent electrical and wind storms struck across wide areas of the mid-continent today.

The twisters killed at least one person and injured seven others. Property damage was expected to run in hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The mid-November storms lashed most of the United States midwest. Heavy rain hit many areas. Winds of 100 miles an hour whipped across communities in the path of the tornadoes, which struck in Illinois, Missouri, Indiana and Kentucky.

Weather forecasters attributed the severe storms to the clash of cold air against the warm southern air which had extended over the midwest the last few days.

Scores of homes were damaged. Communications were disrupted, trees uprooted and traffic slowed in many cities and towns.

The federal weather bureau at Chicago said at least two or three tornadoes struck in Illinois Nov. 1 as follows:

Americana, 5:15; Turks, 46; British, 10; Belgians, 5; other U. N. troops, 75. There was no specific mention of Canadians.

Storm Will Bring Cooler Weather

Toronto, Nov. 14—(CP) — The Dominion Weather Office said today a low-pressure area is moving northward across 15ke Superior, bringing heavy snow to extreme northern regions of Ontario.

Upbound shipping, waiting for the storm to pass, anchored in Whitefish Bay at the lower end of the lake.

Similar low-pressure area will bring an end to warm weather in southern Ontario. In central regions, cooler air may bring snowflurries tonight and Thursday, the weather office said.

250,000 Korean Civilians Also Atrocity Victims

8th Army Says Killings Cover Period Since War Started

Pusan, Korea, Nov. 14 — (AP) — The head of the United States Eighth Army's legal section today said communists have killed at least 3,790 United Nations soldiers — prisoners — about 2,500 of them Americans — and some 250,000 Korean civilians in atrocities since the start of the war.

Col. James M. Hanley, chief of the legal section, Eighth Army, said in a statement that the count of military prisoners slain did not include South Korean troops. He gave no estimate of these, but indicated the number was about twice that of other U. N. soldiers killed by red captors.

Civilian men, women and children were slaughtered, Hanley said, without trial or even a formal death sentence.

Hanley accused the reds of making a "mockery" of the Geneva Convention on treatment of prisoners of war. The United Nations, he said, cared for the reds it captured "in complete accordance with the Geneva agreement."

"None of the communists war prisoners have been killed by us," he added.

Hanley broke down the killings attributed to the communists since Nov. 1 as follows:

Americans, 2,513; Turks, 46; British, 10; Belgians, 5; other U. N. troops, 75. There was no specific mention of Canadians.

Severe Quake Rocks Valley In California

Eureka, Calif., Nov. 14 — (AP) — A severe earthquake rocked the Eel River valley 45 miles south of here at 12:40 a.m. (3:40 a.m., EST) today.

It broke a window in the Humboldt Times building here and hurled merchandise from the shelves of stores in Fortuna, six miles south of Eureka.

But at the little Eel River town of Scotia, where the quake centred, the telephone company reported, "I know of no damage."

The tremor threw one of the pens off the seismograph at the University of California's station at nearby Ferndale.

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Owen Sound, Ont., Nov. 14 (CP)—Frank Teerkort of Walkerloo, victim of an unusual hunting accident, died in satisfactory condition in hospital in Walkerton today after an operation Tuesday.

Teerkort fell from a ladder while helping to hang the carcass of a bear. One of the buck's antlers pierced his back.

CROSSES INTO URUGUAY

Montevideo, Uruguay, Nov. 14—(Reuters)—The Hungarian news agency reported yesterday that a Belgian scientist named Paul Charles Kin De Roodenbecke, said to have been working on atomic projects in Argentina, had crossed into Uruguay. The agency said Roodenbecke left Argentina for political reasons.

Party Change in British Commons More Subtle Than Meets the Eye

London, Nov. 14. (CP)—Looking down from the press gallery on Britain's new House of Commons produces a strange sensation. Everything's changed, and yet everything is the same.

The difference, of course, is small enough. Conservative victory in last month's general election meant that the two big parties traded places in the House of Commons. The Conservatives picked up the government benches, which Labor filled for the last six years, the displaced Socialists took the cold side benches.

But the process, something subtle happened. Something more than a transfer of political power, something far deeper. The slogans and the sayings of the controversial years changed, too. Now the Conservatives sound like Socialists and the Socialists like true ambulatory accents.

The transformation is greater than that usually induced by a change in parliamentary status. The Conservatives just picked the wrong time to come back to power. No matter how much Prime Minister Winston Churchill longs to live up to his gye-election promises to "set the people free," he has to maintain a Socialist-seeming apparatus of regimentation to deal with the present financial crisis.

Last week, the government reluctantly had to increase controls and to admit that the time is not yet ripe for restoring the Liverpool Cotton Exchange.

Tory discomfiture was dabbed home by Mrs. Barbara Castle, the good-looking left-winger who is a member of ex-Minister Aneurin Bevan's group. She referred to the reluctant Conservative policy, making it the current Socialist line of force-feeding since the days of the suffragettes.

This week's opening of parliamentary conflict on the ownership of the steel industry and trying to put the socialists in a similar upside-down position. Opposing the Conservative motion to "denationalize" the industry, Labor spokesmen have been forced into some of the arguments the Conservatives had used in opposing nationalization.

With perfectly straight faces, the socialists argued that "over-denationalization" would create uncertainty in the industry — the same point that Churchill had stressed in his long and losing struggle against nationalization.

The effect has been such that the House of Commons correspondent, if he happened to be likely to fold and merely listened to the arguments, might be excused for thinking he was back in one of the earlier post-war parliaments.

TRUCK-CAR COLLISION INJURES PASSENGER

A collision between two vehicles at the Bridge and Church Street intersection early last evening caused property damage amounting to approximately $200 and injuries to a passenger in one of the vehicles involved. The passenger, Rita Sutton, suffered a bruised knee and a bump on her forehead.

Mr. J. Ambramsky, 195 Bridge St., was driving south on Church when his vehicle was in collision with a truck owned by Gourley Motors and driven by Bill Dyer, 19 Bettes St. The injured woman was a passenger in the last named vehicle.

K. VIVIAN RE-ELECTED DIRECTOR OF ASSOC.

Kenneth R. Vivian, Shannonville garage operator, was re-elected regional director of the Ontario Garage Operators' Association at their annual convention held last week in Toronto. As regional director he will represent the Hastings and Prince Edward Branch of the Association. This is Mr. Vivian's third term in the office.

UNIT OMITTED

At the Remembrance Day Service held on Sunday last, the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets were one of the smartest units on parade. In taking the last to the column swung past, their names were inadvertently omitted. This Sea Cadet Corps is one of the finest in Eastern Ontario and is officered by former naval personnel, who take a great interest in their welfare.

MRS. FAULKNER'S PAINTINGS DISPLAYED

Among the paintings currently on display at Farmer's Gallery, 37th Street, New York, is a group of water colors executed by Phyllis Iona Faulkner while vacationing in Mexico last summer. The exhibition will extend until the end of November.

Mrs. Faulkner's own studio is located on Church Street in Belleville, and her paintings are well known locally.

SEEKS INFORMATION OF WOMAN RELATIVE

An inquiry has been received by the Ontario Intelligencer from William Sly of 13 Kings Terrace, Kings Road, Birmingham, 14, England, as to the whereabouts of Kathleen Sly (nee Gordon Sly), formerly of Warminster, Wiltshire, England.

She was last heard of at Warminster in the early twenties and in Canada.

PREMIER L. FROST SPEAKS HERE TONIGHT

Hon. Leslie Frost, Premier of Ontario, will address a public meeting at 8.00 p.m. tonight in the Belleville Collegiate Institute.

Other speakers will be Hon. Wm. Goodfellow, Welfare Minister, Hastings Sanderson, M.P.P. for Hastings West, Roscoe Robson, M.P.P. for Hastings East, and North Hastings, and the conservative candidate for Prince Edward-Lennox.

BATTERY PLANS FOR REUNION

Plans for the 1952 reunion of the 34th Battery RCA Association will be laid at a meeting of the association executive being held in the gunners' mess, Bridge Street Armouries Monday evening, executive member Jimmy McKenna announced today.

MRS. ALETA OGILVY HEADS AUXILIARY

Mrs. Aleta Ogilvy was elected president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Canadian Legion Branch No. 160 at Wellington at the annual meeting. Other officers are first vice, Mrs. Dorothy Preston, second vice, Mrs. Helen Greenfield; secretary, Mrs. Beatrice Smith; treasurer, Mrs. Francis Tuttle, standard bearer, Mrs. Irene Hudson, executive committee, Mrs. Agnes Findlay, Mrs. Norma Guernsey, Mrs. Muriel Callow; sick committee, Mrs. Katharine Cunningham Mrs. Marjorie Bowerman, Mrs. Beulah Graham.

NAME OMITTED FROM PROGRAM

Through an error in preparing the lists, the names of Jack E. "Joe" Kelleher, one of this city's war dead, was omitted from the printed program published for the Remembrance Day ceremony on Sunday. "Joe" Kelleher, well known in the city, was killed in action on March 24th, 1945.

Many Factories Close Operations For the Season

Despite a very favorable fall for pasture conditions and the still ample holding up well, many factories in the Bay of Quinte district have ceased operations for the season.

This was indicated at the weekly meeting of the local cheese exchange when representatives of at least seven factories said their plants had closed for the season. These included factories at Foxboro, Stirling, Enterprise, Evergreen, West Huntingdon, Sunnybrook and the Eclipse, all being in the immediate Belleville district.

Several veteran cheese makers have also indicated they are giving up cheese making, it is stated. Reasons cited include ill health as well as acceptance of more remunerative jobs in other lines of work.

Campaign Drive Nears Objective

With the official closing of the Red Feather Community Campaign for Friday, returns at noon hour today showed subscriptions of $18,450 or an amount of $1,500 short of the minimum objective.

Canvassers are then there are a minimum of close to 900 prospects from whom no donations have been received. If the expected response is received from these citizens who have been subscribers in the past the campaign would go well beyond the goal.

Because of the shortness of time citizens are requested to send in their donations to the Community Chest office or to the Chest office to have a volunteer call. This co-operation will greatly assist, in the closing of the campaign but not before it has been declared a complete success.

The special names report is $10,350

Seven-Man Party Gets Deer Quota

Another seven-man hunting party returned from the north woods in the McArthur's Mills district in North Hastings report 100 per cent luck with a deer for each man being shot. The party shot seven deer.

Included in the party were Tom Horton, Milt Phillips, Bill Flunder, Jean Fukarek and Jeff Flunder, all Roy Woodley, all of Belleville, and Charles Aside of McArthur's Mills.

The party reported they were in their camp area but they had no trouble making their way through the bush as a number of their gang broke trail with No. 11 boots. Another member of the party with the name of Flunder, rifle failed to shoot a deer. Maybe the deer heard him say what he was going to do if he saw one.

Demand for Export Cattle Eases

Bay of Quinte district farmers are reporting a falling off in the demand for export cattle. It is reported in the weekly crop report published by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Cattle prices are also easier at local livestock sales, it is stated.

Most farmers will have an ample supply of feed for the winter. Good home hay has been selling at from $9 to $10 per ton while good quality baled hay bringing up to $20 per ton.

Dr. Faulkner Will Speak On Behalf of A.B. Duffy

Dr. George Faulkner, speaking on behalf of Angus B. Duffy, Liberal candidate in Hastings West, will be heard over the local radio station on Thursday evening on the prepaid hospital plan advanced by the Liberal leader, Walter Thomson. Dr. Faulkner, will speak at 7.30 p.m.

John McComb, M. Moore Win 2nd Year Grain Judging Club Contest at Royal Winter Fair

The South Hastings second year Grain Judging Club team, composed of John McComb, of Belleville, R.R. 5, and Merle Moore, of Springbrook, which took first place at the elimination Grain Judging competition this year at Guelph, has achieved first place at the Royal Winter Fair, in the National Contest, being the first team to bring this honor to Hastings County.

Much credit is due their coach, A. Oliver Dalrymple, Agricultural representative, and his assistant, Frank Stone, both of Stirling.

John McComb and Merle Moore, accompanied by the other contestants, are now being entertained by the Canadian Council of Boys' and Girls' Club Work, at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto. On Thursday of this week, they will be entertained at Chateau Laurier, Ottawa and on Friday received at Rideau Hall by the Governor-General.

PLANS TIEUP

London, Nov. 14—(AP). The BBC said last night it plans an international television tie-up with France. But it acknowledged it is slightly worried. The BBC intends to use plays, operas and sporting programs, with perhaps a dash of cabaret entertainment. "But the cabaret may be a problem," a BBC official said. "There may be too much French co-la-la by our standards."

Icing and Heavy Clouds Hamper Aerial Search

Wiesbaden, Germany, Nov. 14 (AP) — Heavy icing and thick pea-soup clouds today hampered the aerial search for a missing United States Air Force flying boxcar feared down in the mountains of southeast France with 36 American military personnel aboard.

More than 60 planes, including some from U.S. air bases in England, took off at dawn to look for the big twin-engined C-6 transport. It disappeared yesterday while flying 30 passengers and a crew of six from Frankfurt's Rhine main airport to the big U.S. supply base at Bordeaux.

The plane was last heard from shortly before noon yesterday over the Moulins area of central France, 160 miles southwest of Paris. Air force officials feared the big ship might have hit a mountain peak.

Thick fog blanketed mountains in that section yesterday. Aerial searchers last night could find no trace of the missing transport.

The search was concentrated on a 40-mile-wide strip between Dijon and Bordeaux, with some planes scanning the sea off the southwest French coast.

Two ground-rescue crews—one from Wiesbaden and the other from Paris—were en route by car to the southern France region where the plane may have crashed.

At Clermont-Ferrand, near the Mont Dore ski area where residents said they heard what might have been a plane crash yesterday, French search parties said today they had found no clues during an all-night search.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Nov. 14—(CP)—Stock market prices held firm today in early afternoon dealings. Industrials opened slightly higher following yesterday's moderate decline.

Agriculturres, foods and manufacturing companies formed the market's strongest sections. Papers, constructions, refining oils, banks, textiles and miscellaneous industrials held gains and losses in balance but liquors and retail stores weakened. Utilities and steels dipped sharply.

Scattered burst of activity in speculative mining issues relieved otherwise dull trading. Volume for the first three hours was 1,206,000 shares.

Base Metals recovered about half their early losses. Consolidated Smelters, East Sullivan, Chromium, International Nickel, Silanco, Steep Rock, Mackeno and United Asbestos showed declines ranging from pennies to about 40 cents.

Western Oils traded irregularly.

Senior Golds were mixed. Dome and Lake Shore added fractions while Kerr Addison, Tech Hughes and Wright-Hargreaves eased. Secondary issues showed little trend.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Nov. 14 — (CP) — At the Ontario stockyards today quality was generally plain cattle. Prices were steady on dull trading. Receipts were 450, calves 140, hogs 260, sheep and lambs 130. The holdover from Tuesday was 1,600 cattle mostly stockers.

Common to medium light steers and heifers sold for $24-$32. Medium to good cows were $25-$27 while good bulls sold for $27-$28. Common light bulls were downward to $23. Common to medium stockers were bringing $25-$32.

Veal calves were steady at $37-$38 for choice while common to medium calves were selling at $30-$33. Canner calves were $25-$32.

Hogs were steady at $25-$26 for grade A with sows $24 dressed.

Lambs were $32.25 for good ewes and wethers with bucks at $31.25. Common to medium sheep brought $11-$16.

PRODUCE MARKET

Toronto, Nov. 14. (CP)—Churning cream and butter prins prices were unchanged from today.

There was a good demand for all grades in early trading at the egg market. Prices were unchanged.

Graded eggs cases free, delivered Toronto, Grade A large 66; A medium 64-5; A small 61-52; Grade B 54; Grade C 45.

Wholesale to retail, Grade A large 69-70; A medium 60; A small 56; Grade B 58-60; Grade C 50-52.

Buyers Protest 'Canada' Stamp On Local Cheese

A protest against federal government regulations calling for the stamping of all cheese intended for export with the word "Canada" was heard at the regular weekly meeting of the Belleville Cheese Exchange Tuesday evening.

Buyers stated there was objection to domestic cheese being so stamped as the blue ink went through the bandage and had to be scraped from the cheese. This resulted in a loss of cheese, it was stated.

"People just do not want to eat blue ink," was the comment.

Mr. W. E. Baleman, director of the Ontario Cheese Producers' Association, said his association did not want the stamp but it was called for by regulation if the cheese was intended for export.

The general feeling was that the matter should be taken up with the department with a request that the practice be discontinued. However, no action was taken on the matter.

Mr. W. R. McCreary commended the Marketing Board for its decision to support the Ontario cheese price at 36 cents per lb for cheese made after October 31st. He said if the board had not supported the price cheese would sell in Ontario at the same price as in Quebec—31 1-2 cents per pound.

A total of 1,669 November cheese, including 853 colored were offered on the board in addition to 299 October cheese. The Marketing Board took all the October cheese and the 806 white November cheese, as well as 110 colored. The price was 36 cents.

Wartime Puppet President Holds 2-to-1 Lead

Manila, Nov. 14—(AP)—Nationalista candidates headed by the wartime puppet president of the Philippines today held a 2-to-1 lead over the administration's Liberal party slate for nine Senate seats.

But only a trickle of returns had come in from Liberal strongholds. Approximately four-fifths of the vote from Tuesday's bloody election remained to be counted.

Unofficial returns showed the lowest Nacionalista candidate running ahead of the top Liberal in the race for eight Senate posts for six-year terms. Philippines senators are elected at large. The eight highest win.

A separate contest was held to name a ninth new senator to fill the last two years of an unexpired term in the 24-man Senate.

Complete unofficial returns from Manila and scattered regions from the provinces gave 380,180 votes to Dr. Jose P. Laurel, head of the Nacionalista party and wartime president under the Japanese.

Bottom man on the Nacionalista slate, Jose Locsin, had 200,711 votes to 161,253 for the highest Liberal, Teodoro Evangelista, secretary of education. President Elpidio Quirino's brother, Antonio, was sixth among the Liberals.

The count included almost no returns from 10 normally - Liberal provinces with approximately 1,500,000 votes.

Nacionalistas and Independents showed unexpected strength in contests for provincial governors. They led in 14 provinces; Liberals in 23.

Another brother of the president, Eliseo Quirino, had a 4-to-1 lead over Governor Perfecto Faypon, seeking re-election in Ilocos Sur. President Quirino suspended Faypon election night on charges brought by Eliseo Quirino.

Violence during the election campaign cost the lives of 110 Filipinos. About half the deaths were blamed on communist - led Huk rebels who threatened death to those who voted.

Salvador Matias, mayor of Pandi who was jailed by the army on charges of aiding the Huks, was defeated for re-election.

British Freighter Stranded in Bay

Richmond, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP) — The British freighter Tacoma Star was stranded in San Francisco Bay today after 15 crew members refused to sail without a shipmate and were accused of mutiny by their skipper.

The ship — out of London—was scheduled to sail at 5:30 p. m. yesterday for Los Angeles en route to Liverpool but Ian MacGibbon, 24, of Gainsborough, Lincolnshire, hadn't shown up. Capt. Frank Hambidge, said he would sail without MacGibbon and 14 men walked off the ship.

Three hours later, just before the ship pulled out, MacGibbon boarded the ship. Mates on the ship refused to let him get off. He jumped back onto the dock.

Richmond police were called and the men were jailed as "en route to immigration officials" — a technical holding charge.

Captain Hambidge then pulled out and anchored off Treasure Island to await word from British Consular authorities.

A spokesman for the men said the men refused to sail because the crew already was shorthanded.

27th Brigade Will Complete Move By Christmas

Ottawa, Nov. 14—(CP)—Movement of Canada's 27th Brigade to Europe will be completed before Christmas, the last group of the 5,500-man force sailing from Quebec Dec. 13.

The first group of 350 troops of the brigade to form part of Gen. Eisenhower's western defences is already in Europe. Another 1,500-man force, which sailed last Monday, is expected to arrive in Rotterdam Nov. 21.

Subsequent sailings include an 800-man force Nov. 19, a 650-man force Nov. 28, a 1,200-man force Dec. 8 and a 700-man force Dec. 13.

A small work party went to Europe last month to prepare winter quarters in the Hannover area of Germany where the Canadians will be stationed.

AUTO INSURANCE
$28.50 IN SASKATCHEWAN
$116.00 IN ONTARIO
SO SAY THE C.C.F. ASSOCIATIONS OF HASTINGS.

TRUE?
Well, ask anyone if in his own line of business $28.50 will buy $116.00 worth and he'll say,
"It's a Phoney Somewhere",
SO IT IS IN THIS CASE.

WHY . . . Because

1.—Many residents of Saskatchewan carry two automobile policies as the government plan which they are FORCED TO CARRY does not give them proper protection.

2.—The Saskatchewan Government Basic Policy contains a "joker" in the form of $100.00 deductible clause on all coverage, the like of which is not permitted to be unloaded on the unsuspecting public in any other province.

3.—The Auto rates in Ontario are based on locality, claims and use of the car whereas everybody pays the same in Saskatchewan. A rural province like Saskatchewan cannot possibly have the accidents of a highly concentrated area like Ontario which has more people, more roads, more automobiles and many times the tourist traffic.

4.—The Saskatchewan Auto Policy is not the world's best policy nor is it the cheapest. Several Belleville Agents represent a Company which is underselling the Saskatchewan Government right in their own province.

5.—The Saskatchewan Government according to their own figures lost $196,000 last year on their automobile insurance. So even those who don't drive autos may be called upon to pay part of the premiums for those who do.

6.—The Legislative Research Committee of North Dakota, after studying the Saskatchewan Auto Scheme, advised against such a system and went on to say "Compulsory Automobile Insurance produces — does not prevent—automobile accidents. The entrance of the State into a compulsory insurance program does nothing to remedy the defect of compulsory insurance but adds another negative influence — more politics and a MONOPOLY.

7.—The Saskatchewan Government charged a basic fee of $4.50 to $10.00 depending on the make of car plus a personal premium of $1.00 per driver which is a compulsory fee paid by each motorist when buying his license. This must be added to the "package policy" premium to arrive at the true cost.

8.—The premiums quoted in the C.C.F. advertisement of November 5th. as applicable to Ontario are more than twice what is charged by Belleville Agents. For instance a farmer in Hastings County using his car for pleasure and business use can buy public liability, property damage, collision, fire, hall, riot, theft, transportation, explosion, wind, falling aircraft and flood for as little as $30.00 per year. The Saskatchewan C.C.F. policy apparently costs $28.50 plus the basic charge and the special tax on each driver. There is really no comparison.

AN ACCURATE ASSESSMENT

In a speech which he made at the nomination meeting at Madoc last Thursday afternoon, W. J. Henderson, member of the House of Commons for Kingston City, made some observations about price controls.

Mr. Henderson stated that, when the members of the House of Commons were asked to vote on whether they favored price controls, only 19 of the 262 representatives of the people voted in favor of imposing such controls. "These figures give you an idea about just how anxious the people of Canada are for price controls," Mr. Henderson was quoted as saying.

Mr. Henderson then explained the difficulties which would be encountered by the government if it should undertake to impose price controls. If the retail price of an article were to be controlled, Mr. Henderson stated, it would be necessary to control the farmer who produced it, the processor, the distributor, and the workmen engaged in handling it all along the line.

We believe that Mr. Henderson assesses public opinion correctly. A good many people are willing to have price controls, as well as all sorts of other controls, for other people, but not for themselves. Those who do not want to be controlled outnumber those who are willing to be controlled and regulated by about one hundred to one.

INFORMATION WANTED

British sources have released the information that, for every two British immigrants who came to Canada during 1950, one Canadian went to take up permanent residence in the United Kingdom. The number of British immigrants to Canada during the year was 13,434. The number of Canadians who went to Britain was 6,970.

Statistics showing the number of Canadians who departed for the United States during 1950 are not immediately available, but it is highly probable that there were far more than 6,000 or 7,000. Even when the figures are released, they will not tell the entire story, for a good many Canadians cross the border illegally. (Uncle Sam is lax about sending Canadians home, as long as they behave themselves.)

There has been a great deal of ballyhoo in this country in recent years about the number of immigrants arriving. But very little has been said about the number of emigrants departing. Are more going out than are coming in? If so, why?

McCANN SHOULD KNOW

What is the Canadian dollar worth today, as compared with what it was worth in pre-war purchasing power? Most estimates, including those made by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, place it somewhere between 50 and 55 cents. But Revenue Minister J. J. McCann, who should know something about such matters, thinks that it is worth even less than 50 cents.

In expressing his belief that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation should be given more money to spend, Mr. McCann was quoted by the Montreal Gazette as follows:

"Because of the changes in prices, the real size of a $25,000 transaction today is only about the equivalent of a $10,000 transaction in 1936 when the act (Canadian Broadcasting Act) was passed."

Mr. McCann, it would appear, believes that today's dollar will buy only about as much as 40 cents would before the war.

HE'S FROM ORILLIA

At least one large newspaper persists in referring to Hon. Leslie Frost, the prime minister of Ontario, as a "native of Lindsay."

Maybe Lindsay would like to be able to claim him, but the fact remains that both Hon. Leslie Frost and his deceased brother Cecil were born in Orillia and raised in that pretty little town on the shores of Lake Simcoe.

Mr. Frost's father, the late William Sword Frost, was one of Orillia's most prominent citizens for many years and served several terms as mayor.

Mr. Frost senior was one of the first public men in Canada, if not the very first, to advocate daylight saving time. So frequently and so vigorously did Mr. Frost urge the adoption of daylight saving time that he acquired the nickname "Daylight Bill."

HOW TRUE!

Politics is defined by R. M. Harrison, the Windsor Daily Star's ace columnist, as "the art of obtaining money from the rich and votes from the poor, on the pretext of protecting each from the other."

A good many people will agree with Mr. Harrison, although few of us can express their thoughts so clearly and vigorously.

"JUST A DOG"

"Just a dog," a stranger said
As he saw it stricken dead.
"Just a dog!" implying this:
'Twas a creature none would miss.
But the truth much deeper lies.
He has been a blind man's eyes;
Been his comrade night and day,
And it's not too much to say
Dog and blind man share a life.

Closer joined than man and wife.
For, the wife at home must stay
When the husband goes away,
But together always
Dog and blind man — come what may!
Eyes and ears, companion true
Every minute all day through.
Faithful guide through dark and fog
So much more than "just a dog."

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ON ACCEPTING

We must each accept life for what it is to us. Regrets and complaints are useful purpose. Marshalling our own potentialities we have but to do and to dare to go forward and the farther we are able to go the more we are inspired to go further.

What a wonderful array of blessings have accepted from our inheritance, be it poverty, ill health, an unhappy environment, yet who have risen above each or else conquered each through an inspired will and faith. Many a one can look back upon his youth and thank God that he was born poor and had to struggle for every gain ahead. We only appreciate the things that we earn through accepting, in good heart, whatever comes our way to master.

Every difficulty is a challenge. By steeling ourselves to accept whatever faces us we come to know God for which we are best capable, and so gain confidence and courage to handle any emergency when it arrives. This gospel of acceptance may evolve itself into our best asset.

Changes and emergencies are forever arriving in all our lives. Their acceptance, willingly, and without complaint, becomes the key to their happy handling. Defeat in anything is never a pleasant thing to endure, but it may be only a way-station to a great victory! Learning to accept whatever each day may bring forth can well be the preamble to a happy philosophy of life.

The good sport accepts his defeat and the victory of his opponent — magnanimously. None of us loss all the time. Through of every color await us all — splendid. Never should we ever lose hope. A continual happy outlook keeps light within the heart. None of us have to live in darkness as our abode.

Each one of us has his own selective capacity. We need only to accept that which we believe will be good for either whether of mind or body. Our thoughts are our own, and it is our privilege to accept the thoughts of others or to reject them. Always we accept even the weather in good grace!

Police Forced To Use Tear Gas

Montreal, Nov. 14. (CP)—Police last night were forced to use tear gas bombs to disarm a woman who brandished a revolver and threatened to shoot when they tried to serve a court warrant.

Police said Mrs. Gertrude Roy, 46, shouted "I'll shoot if you come near me" when they tried to serve her with the warrant on the street in front of her home.

The police returned later with tear gas bombs. Opening the front door, they threw three of them into the premises. The woman struggled out with her eyes streaming, and the revolver still clutched tightly in her right hand.

Police overpowered her and placed her under arrest.

She will be arraigned today charged with frightening police with a dangerous weapon.

WAR ON WOLVES

Goderich, Ont., Nov. 14—(CP) —Ashfield township has declared war on wolves. A total of eight wolves have been killed in the area in the last six weeks. Robert Howard yesterday brought in four of the animals—the largest single bag in the hunt.

HEALTHY POISON

I once read that the only effective antidote to a certain lethal type of poison is the quick administration of another and equally lethal poison as a counter-active. A dose or one was nullified by a dose of the other, although, ideally each would be fatal.

Something of the same order is true, also, of opinion in these trying days and that is why I'm more than mildly interested in the inane Canada speaking tour of Scott Nearing.

It's now a year or more since someone interested in my education, sent me a subscription list to receive a modest periodical known as "World Events."

This is published in Washington, D.C., by an apparently improverished group of Nearing's admirers. It is conducted entirely of Nearing analysis and interpretation of how things are going in the sad old world.

In all that time I've not read a sentence by Scott Nearing that was critical in any way of Russia's actions in the gang-fight of post-war politics. Not a single paragraph denouncing something less than a purely objective commentator and, indeed, friendly attitude can be traced, in part, to his writings. Hence there are many more apt to turn to him for the other side of the story.

Even the mighty few exceptions the pundits and experts and editorials of the daily press are so much alike that they might be the same ruthless bias, I am convinced that Scott Nearing is poison too. But he's slightly less deadly than those where between the two—between the New Deal and the publishers and this "un-American" writer—lies a healthy outlook.

Two Examples

The latest copy of "World Events" is beside my typewriter. I find I agree with more than I disagree.

Nearing's comments on the Japanese peace treaty, for instance.

I took first to the poison of the North American writers who covered that strange signing-bee in San Francisco and stillow of "Well, we put one over on Uncle Joe this time."

Surely Nearing's analysis makes more commonsense — that with half the world unrepresented, among them the three most important nations of Asia (China, India and Russia), this treaty can lead only to "war situations rather than peaceful solutions." I don't give a hoot-in-hell whose "line" it is, that's the view that seems sensible to me.

I agree with Nearing, too, that American big business, with its appetite for profit and the hand on the controls of both American political parties, is a constant threat to peace.

"Bigger and bigger government orders—for arms, the building of military strength." That, Nearing believes, is capitalism's answer to the boomburst cycle.

"If West Europe had rejected the U.S. offer of aid and if there were no rearmament at home, North American economy, barring a major war, would have bogged down in a catastrophic depression in 1947-48," he writes. "It was a case of a U.S. boom through arms production or a U.S. bust without it. That is the desperate situation in which those who people the peripheries capitalism's one-country find themselves in the autumn of 1951."

Some of the coloring of Scott Nearing's poison shows through the bottle. He believes that American capitalism is greedy and want—a Third World War to maintain the profit system.

I'll take issue with him so long as the American business cycle is determined by arms production that is the same.

For Balance

I cite these two samples of Scott Nearing's views (and his message to Canadian audiences) to indicate why I think he's worth reading, and that is needed, in my opinion, to balance the one-sided picture to which we are so constantly exposed.

Even the newspaper editorials, by and large reflecting the view of business, picture Russia menacing the world with sickles, and hammer, crouched in readiness behind an "iron curtain."

Almost daily, standing over there on the left, pictures the United States oligarchy in pursuit of profit—and consolidation of the United Nations where necessary, and with an "iron ring" around the Soviet orbit. Certain quantities, isolate, boycott and eventually destroy communism.

Both views contain the poison of half-truth, but when taken together they may be considered as evidence, as points of view, in forming the individual opinion—and that kind of opinion, in my mind, is the last real hope for peace.

I wouldn't trust Scott Nearing's opinion as far as I could throw him. There's a shrill-and-crone tone creeping in any reading of opinion that says one side is wrong and the other side is right. Anyone who can read knows that there are great wrongs on both sides.

So I take both poisons for antidotes.

FOLLOW YOUR CALLING

Some people have the false idea that because Christianity encourages humility and meekness that it therefore is a faith only for the unsuccessful, the failures, and that it tends to make anything of themselves and seek in religion a consolation for their own inadequacies.

Of course one need only glance at the lives of such great figures as the Bible, Charlemagne, Washington, Lincoln—men whose lives have stamped the course of history—to see how false such an idea is. Christianity not only encourages but demands that men make something of themselves.

Everyone knows Jesus' parable of the wealthy man who left home, giving each of his servants a sum of money. When he returned, he richly awarded the two who had used the talents they were given to make more. But the servant who buried his talent and did nothing with it was cast into the outer darkness.

Everyone has been given some strength or ability to be used. Paul Tournier, the famous Genevese, once wrote: "Follow your calling— for, however various your talents may be, you can have but one calling capable of leading you to happiness and renown. Follow resolutely in the one straight path before you. It is that of your good angel; let neither obstacles nor temptation induce you to leave it. Bound along it if you can; if not, on hands and knees follow it."

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

The United States, as the motion pictures and the stage demonstrate, has some of the finest looking girls and men in the world. But it is a well-known and seldom mentioned experience among Canadians that when they cross the line into the American cities, they are a little staggered at the number of really ugly people they see on the streets. In Canada, we have a fair proportion of decently people, both male and female. But in cities like New York, Buffalo, Detroit, and so on along the border to the Pacific Coast, you will see without question some of the choicest examples of human ugliness to be found anywhere on earth. Gargoyles, gorillas, weird, misshapen, ungainly male bundles, strings and ragtails of humanity that are all the more conspicuous because of the United States' loud dedication to beauty, chic and charm.

These unfortunates are doubtless not a product of the American climate or way of life. They are, in fact, the exact opposite to those days in American history when, in the latter quarter of the last century, the United States was ravenous for population to meet the demands of its expanding economy, its railroads, its steel mills, its Klondikes and its empires in every field. Most of Europe and the Middle East came to the United States in poverty and they were induced by any and every means to come. They were paid to come. And among those who came were a great many misfits, unfortunates, defectes, by-products of the Old World's unbelievably nasty poverty and despair, who joined the emigration in high and pitiable hope of finding a better life. Some of these were handicapped by nature. A desperately ugly person always has two strikes on him, in the game of life.

Canada's climate has, perhaps, worked in our favor as regards the selection of our immigrants. It has frightened off, in years past, all but the hardiest and the strong. Given sturdiness and strength, even an ugly man has a chance of marrying a pretty woman. And so our breed has improved in looks. Over the border, you can see they are still paying for the industrial greed of the nineteenth century.

Personal Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Signed Letters, Not More Than One Page, or 100 Words long, Pertaining to Personal Health and Hygiene, Not to Disease, Diagnosis or Treatment, Will be Answered by Dr. Brady if a Stamped, Self-Addressed Envelope is Enclosed.

IMPARTIAL OBSERVER DESCRIBES HIS EXPERIENCE

In the summer of 1949 my inguinal hernia had gone to the point where repair had to be made...I decided to have the repair done by the injection method.

I did not miss one day, or even one period of my teaching. I do not mean to say that I had absolutely no discomfort or inconvenience. I had both. But I was never incapacitated; and I was able to keep all my engagements and commitments.

In 1952 I had a repair of inguinal hernia on the other side, by surgery. Both jobs have been complete; never a recurrence. But I have vivid recollections of the acute pain I suffered for years following the first job, from adhesions. It was not only acute pain. It was acute fright, lest I had somehow strained the wound open.

I have no hesitance in recommending injection treatment, provided it is done by a competent man. Part of the test of his competence is his knowledge when the method is suitable.

Only repair is not always indicated. It has had three severe tests. The first was when it was still under observation although truss regulations were relaxed, so I was at the moment without a truss and had to make a running high jump. I was scared by the sight of patients on crutches. Two months later I was struck by a car and buried a few feet through the air. Suffered a painful and lasting injury to my shoulder, but the hernia repair held. The past summer on a European trip I frequently carried very heavy pieces of luggage. No damage. I think it is a success.

(Signed)

Now I (Brady) expect many if not most physicians who read this item will scoff at it and some will be indignant. But I probably cooked it up. I haven't the correspondent's consent to reveal his name, but I'll undertake to obtain it if any reputable physician questions the report.

What a lot of good doctors don't know—how can they know when the medical literature is so carefully screened to keep the public from the ill-advised (infection) treatment of hernia from them—what too many good doctors do not know. Only a few method fills four or five chapters of the leading textbook on Hernia, by Leigh F. Watson. M.D., 3rd edition published by Mosby. Most of the remainder of the book is devoted to the surgical treatment of hernia, the patient (infection) problem, as of course a standard and authoritative textbook should be. But I commend the work to doctors who wish to give their patients the best possible service—the kind of service the correspondent describes in his report. It happened that he suffered less after injection treatment than he did after operation, but aside from that difference, which is not usual, he never missed a day or even an hour at his job. That is usual; indeed it is the feature which makes the injection treatment the method of choice.

Notice that the correspondent recommends injection treatment "otherwise called ambulant or ambulatory treatment, meaning that the patient continues at his regular work or ordinary activities while under treatment) provided it is done by a competent man. Also he observes that part of the doctor's competence is his knowledge when the method is suitable. In a considerable number of cases his method is not applicable at all.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Hemorrhoids and Backache

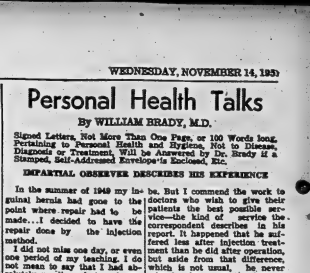
Grateful for your recommendation of Dr. ——— for ambulant treatment of hemorrhoids. The treatment was quick, no serious discomfort and proved highly satisfactory. Moreover, since the hemorrhoids were cured I—who I have no more backache and can now do my housework as well as ever. Before the treatments on many mornings my back and so sore I could hardly straighten up, and I had to quit my work for a week or so. ... (Mrs. B.M.D.)

Answer—Thank you. Such low backache as you describe is often due to internal piles, and victims of piles often suffer from soreness of piles. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet It is Stupid to Suffer From Piles —it is especially so when the only real cure is so easy to be had.



Every one should know that a doctor can't tell whether piles are present or absent in connection with the aid of speculum. If the doctor has not made such an examination his opinion that you have or haven't piles isn't worth two cents.

Doctors and Friends

I have a fibroid the size of a walnut. The doctor says it is harmless but a friend tells me. (Mrs. H. J.)

Answer—And what does the kind of doctor you know about it? Be guided by your doctor's advice, unless you believe Tom, Dick and Harry know better about such things.

Allied Planes Deal New Blows To Rail System

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Nov. 14 (AP)—Allied planes today swept North Korean skies without challenge and dealt new blows to the crippled communist rail system.

Far East Air Forces said B-26 light bombers destroyed eight locomotives in pre-dawn raids. Ten others were reported destroyed in the 24 hours ended at midnight Tuesday.

Allied fighter sweeps through MIG Alley in northwest Korea before noon Wednesday failed to turn up any communist jets. It was the fourth straight day the reds refused to tangle with U.N. planes.

U.N. ground forces Wednesday threw back two company sized red probing attacks on the western front and scattered a communist platoon on the eastern front.

An Eighth Army Wednesday evening communique said there was no other significant action along the front.

Allied troops Tuesday beat back two vicious red attacks at opposite ends of the line.

Late Tuesday night the reds used about 18 tanks in a moonlight assault west of Chorwon on the western front. Red Inkerbymen followed under cover of mortar and artillery fire.

The Chinese communists were driven off after a 25-minute battle. At least two of their tanks were claimed destroyed.

On the eastern front, allied troops counted 618 North Korean bodies on the battlefield after hurling back a co-ordinated attack by five red battalions.

An allied air force pushed about 5,000 yards ahead of U.N. lines above Kumhwa on the central front. Four allied tanks were damaged by red fire, and only one was recovered.

Trade Minister Howe Opens Winter Fair

Toronto, Nov. 14—(CP)—Termed by Trade Minister Howe "the parliament of Canadian agriculture," the Royal Winter Fair was officially underway today.

Colour and ceremony sparkled at the opening last night of the world's biggest annual indoor fair. Today the program features judging of light horses, sheep and swine.

Mr. Howe, who opened the fair at the first session of the Royal Horse Show, said earlier at the annual banquet that he did not think the new restrictions placed on imports by Britain "will involve any major dislocation of Canadian trade."

Exports to the United Kingdom had already been reduced to essential goods and most Canadian goods now sold there rated high priority, Mr. Howe said.

Some 9,000 persons were on hand for the horse show. They saw the Mexican team take the first round in international jumping competition, which continues for the eight-day run of the fair. The United States team placed second and the Canadian third.

A big first was registered for the 23rd annual fair when European countries appeared in prize lists in 1st seed, grain and hay judging. One French farmer won six awards and a Swedish entrant took five prizes in competition with Canadian and U.S. agriculturists.

The famed Cadre Noir—Black Troop—of French cavalry gave its first display of fancy riding. The eight troopers, wearing black and gold uniforms, guided their mounts through intricate formations to music to the delight of the crowd.

Practical Joker Nearly Crippled By Fusilade

When the cook shouted "a deer is swimming in the lake," hunters at silver Lake Lodge rushed for their guns, tore outside and started to blaze away according to a story from Peterborough.

The boys anxious to make a quick buck slung a fusilade of lead at the deer swimming some 500 yards away but no one scored a hit. If they had there would not have been any venison steaks for dinner.

It seems a practical joker had rigged a deer's head on a plank so it would float, then tied a fishing line to it and reeled it in, across a corner of the lake.

Seems also, he forgot that the clever the deer's head got in him the closer the bullets. But both he and the deer escaped unharmed.

Belleville Makes Good Impression On New Manager of Royal Bank

QUINTON H. COOK

Quinton H. Cook, recently-appointed manager of the Royal Bank of Canada branch here believes in first impressions.

This tall friendly accessor to the late Irvin Hedley is firmly convinced that he and Mrs. Cook are going to like Belleville and that means they will.

In fact, the city is not exactly strange to him, although his acquaintanceship with it is purely that gained from glimpses while passing through.

Now that he has established here and has had the chance to get closer to things, he "knows" Belleville will live up to its reputed "The Friendly City."

Tall, well-built and this newcomer to banking and business circles of the city will make many friends with his affable, friendly manner. He has that rare quality of making strangers feel immediately at home as though they were friends of long standing. He will be well-liked in the city.

Born in Kerwood, Ont., near Strathroy, Mr. Cook started his banking career in the tiny village serving later in Chatham, Woodstock and Brantford. He was attached to the supervising department of the bank in Toronto for two years prior to assuming the managership of the Aylmer branch where he remained for twelve years.

He is a past president of Rotary, former president of the Aylmer and district Chamber of Commerce, and ex-treasurer of the Aylmer and East Elgin Agricultural Society a position he held for five years. He is an honorary member of the RCAF officers' mess at Aylmer and a member of the St. Paul's United Church board of stewards for the past eight years.

Formerly interested in hockey and baseball, Mr. Cook now confines his sports activities to the ancient and honorable game. He is a member of the St. Thomas Golf and Country Club also that of Tillsonburg.

Mr. Cook married the former Audrey M. Trudell, of Tillsonburg. They have no children. They will reside at 187 John Street, here and by strange coincidence Mr. and Mrs. Cook's home was located at 187 South John Street in that town. They expect to move up permanent residence here on December 1st.

Mr. Cook is extremely proud of the fact that he is the first manager to occupy the manager-ial chair in the handsome new edifice of the Royal Bank at Campbell and Front Streets. The new offices, he said, will be completed within the next three months. Much interior work is yet to be done although the staff has now occupied the new premises.

Statement Given To Police Admitted As Evidence

Toronto, Nov. 14 — (CP) — A statement to police in which Ralph R. Boehner, 23, is alleged to have said he "took a swing" with a knife at his friend, Gerald Guy Ouellette, was admitted as evidence yesterday at Boehner's trial for murder.

The former merchant seaman is charged with the spring-knife slaying of Ouellette on the night of July 28.

Friends of the accused testified he was "quite drunk" on that day. Witnesses said the slaying followed a quarrel over a baby sitter. John Durant testified he saw the accused bothering Ouellette and Betty Taylor.

Ouellette, Durant said, told the accused to leave her alone. Later, outside, he said he saw Boehner appear to punch Ouellette in the stomach.

Ouellette, Durant testified, shouted that he had been stabbed.

Many Cases of Blindness Due To Preventable Causes Kinette Club Members Told by Speaker

A great deal of blindness is due to preventable causes, and 60 per cent of it could be corrected if caught early, F. T. Timmins, field secretary, National Institute for the Blind, Kingston told the Kinette Club Monday evening.

He quoted "B.B." guns, sling shots and even snowballs as potential danger factors to eyesight, adding that the Institute has inaugurated "Prevention of Blindness" programs in the public schools in an effort to offset these dangers.

The speaker reviewed the origin of the National Institute which started he said following the trenching of 190 blinded Canadian soldiers by the First World War at St. Dunstan's, London. At that time there were no facilities for treatment in Canada. These men returned home and decided to do something about it with the result the N.I.B. is now a reality with some 18,650 members.

Mr. Timmins, quoted John Milton's "It is not so miserable to be blind as it is to be incapable of living with that blindness". He urged all to consult an eye specialist early for danger signals.

During the business session each Kinette was invited to assist with the monster social night also with the sale of Kinette "really-truly doll" during Christmas week.

Jack Bews, president of the Friendship Club of Kingston entertained with accordion solos "Lady of Spain" and "The Lovelies Night of the Year." He received a fine ovation.

The club unanimously endorsed the purchase of another Electrolene Talking Book machine for the Institute with possibly another purchase being made in the new year.

Five guests were present and Kinette Algie Meyers introduced three prospective members. Kinette Molly Cushman was sergeant-at-arms with Kinette Gertrude Gourley song leader. The guest speaker was introduced by Kinette Mary Colling with thanks expressed by Kinette Dorothy McNaught.

MILK PRICE INCREASES

Fredericton, Nov. 14 (CP) — A one-cent-a-quart increase in the retail price of milk, effective Friday, was announced today by M. H. Lister, chairman of the New Brunswick Dairy Products Commission. The present price in the province generally is 19 cents and in Saint John 20.

MORE UNEMPLOYED

Ottawa, Nov. 14 (CP)— Unemployment in Canada increased by 6,600 in the first two weeks of October. The labor department in its fort-nightly review of the employment situation reported last night that applications at National Employment Service offices at Oct. 18 totalled 161,000 compared with 134,800 at Oct. 4.

Senior Regent Ruth Minzs presided over the regular meeting of the Women of the Moose in the Moose Hall on Thursday evening.

Recorder Gladys Ritch read the minutes of the previous meeting and communications.

A letter was received by the chapter from James W. MacDonald, director of Home-making to Moosehearts acknowledging the bankies which were sent by Moosehearts chairman, Emily Jeffery. These bankies were turned over to the girls in the elementary cottages who are glad to receive them.

A card was received from Past Deputy Grand Regent Alice McKelvie, regretting the lodge's absence as Brantford. She ended wishing the chapter success.

Money Donated

A sum of money was donated by the chapter to go to a co-worker of the chapter, whose husband has been ill in the hospital for some time.

A first aid kit will be assembled by Home-maker Marg. Mallette, for use in the Moose Hall at all times.

Thanks were extended from Jr. Regent Louella Bull, to all those who had worked and donated to make Saturday night in Port Hope such a success. About 33 Women of the Moose and Loyal Order of Moose, went to Port Hope by bus to attend a banquet. A wonderful time was had by all which meant the evening was a huge success.

Thanks were received from Graduate Regent Emily Jeffroy to all who had worked so hard and so willingly to make Moose-heart Day such a happy and fruitful event.

An activity meeting was held in the Moose Hall on Sunday afternoon with Norman G. Hoyt presiding.

Visitors were present from Port Hope and Peterborough.

Grand Secretary, Norman Boyd, gave an interesting talk on "Moosehearts" and "Moosehavens". Elderly people, who do not wish to go to Moosehaven when they are unable to support themselves, are given an allowance each month, amounting to $63. Men and women, who go to Moosehaven are supported for the balance of their lives, and the wives and children of deceased members of the Loyal Order of Moose, are taken to Moosehaven where they are taken care of.

The regular activities meetings were planned including time and place for all succeeding meetings. Every third Saturday of the month a social evening will be held in different cities with all lodges and chapter participating.

The hostess of the afternoon was co-worker, Luella Downes, who was assisted by Florence Carroll and Lena Council.

The table was arranged with white linen cloths, centred by attractive display of bachelor cottons in low black vases. The refreshments were served buffet style, and consisted of sandwiches, and colored iced cakes. Those who served were: Junior Regent Louella Bull and the treasurer, Nellie Scrymgeour, and presiding Senior Regent, Ruth Minzs, and the hostess, Lucila Downes.

An invitation was extended to Belleville Loyal Order of Moose and to the Women of the Moose to a turkey supper to be held in Peterborough this month. All lodges and chapters were invited.

Earlier in the afternoon, a wreath was placed on the cenotaph by Sr. Regent Ruth Minzs with Recorder Gladys Ritch and Junior Regent Louella Bull as escorts.

Appreciative thanks were tendered the hostess for a delightful afternoon.

French Fashion Industry Unfirm, Wants Subsidy

Paris, Nov. 14. (AP)—In spite of crowded salons, and busy workrooms at the half-dozen top Paris fashion houses this season, the French fashion industry is wobbly.

The Dressmakers' Syndicate has asked the government for a substantial subsidy to help cover expenses of putting on seasonal collections.

Fashion circles confirm the industry is having a hard struggle. A few of the bigger houses are getting a lion's share of the business. Few women who go to see a collection actually buy.

The fashion syndicate offers this explanation of what makes the simplest street dress cost at least 30,000 francs (about $225): taxes $44; cost of labor $43; Social Security for Labor $18; saleswoman's commission $12. Out of the $108 left must come the cost of material and trimmings and the expenses of the collection before the dressmaker sees any profit.

The syndicate has also asked for reduction of taxes on their sales.

But present prices will not go down, the dressmakers assert, they will only be spared some of the large losses they regularly suffer on models especially made for collections and never sold. They are made for mannequins whose figures are far from standard.

"The only hope for lower prices," says a syndicate spokesman, "is that the dressmakers themselves will cut production costs by internal economies and reorganization. The solution is fewer fittings, less detailed work and better planning."

In effect, the "boutique"—or seamlessly-to-wear — departments which nearly all fashion houses have started are already doing just this. The prices are less than half those of "haute couture" or high fashion models.

SHANNONVILLE W.A.

Shannonville. — The monthly meeting of the W.A. of Shannonville United Church was held at the home of Mrs. L. W. Scott, on Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. E. R. Vivian, welcomed all and opened the meeting, with Mrs. Scott at the piano.

Mrs. Stanley MacDonald read the Scripture lesson from Matthew 22, and Mrs. C. Clarke read the devotional leaflet, "Judas, the Betrayer". In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. C. Mastin, Mrs. W. D. Robertson gave the report of last meeting.

It was decided to buy a long mirror for the church hall and some new silver. The usual donations to the Sunday School: the M. and M. Fund and Fred Victor Mission were voted to be sent by the treasurer, Mrs. C. Clarke. These are given annually out of the funds on hand.

Mrs. Stanley MacDonald and Mrs. Frank Dootson were appointed to bring in the slate of officers for 1952.

The president expressed appreciation to the hostess for opening her home for the meeting.

Following the close of the meeting, Mrs. Scott served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. K. R. Vivian, on Dec. 13.

CZECH VERY GRATEFUL

New York, Nov. 14 (AP)—The cold world's 1,000,000 displaced person stepped ashore here yesterday. Alexander Ranezay, 47, a Czech, arrived accompanied by his wife and two daughters, Lydia, 21, and Erika, 16. "In our gratefulness," Ranezay told a reception committee, "there is only one thing he would still like to ask: Please don't forget those who are still behind."

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Don't let rushing get you down

I have a pathetic letter from a young wife of eighteen who is in her third pregnancy. One baby died, and she has a little girl of two.

Her husband, twenty-five, works in a foundry. They live in the country a nine-room house without many modern conveniences. The wife complains that she works hard all day keeping the house clean, and that when her husband comes home in the evening, he is too tired to show any interest in her or in the children.

"I try", she writes, "to do everything in my power to make him happy, but he is through the time of life that I am going through." By this, she evidently means that her husband has grown beyond the point where he enjoys the kind of good times she likes.

A pretty sad letter to come from a girl of eighteen, isn't it? And many of you will, no doubt, see in it the point I so often make in writing to fifteen or sixteen year olds who see no reason why they shouldn't get married if they happen to believe themselves in love.

Well, it's too late to give this young woman that particular piece of advice. But must we merely tell her to lie in her bed now that she's made it? Or can we offer her some constructive suggestions and a bit of encouragement?

Overly Conscientious

It's possible that this girl's trouble has come about through being overly conscientious in one area of her life. She has a strong sense of duty and an uncertain sense of values. She feels somehow that she is being cheated, but she is afraid to trust her natural feeling that life has more to offer than tending a nine-room house and looking after the physical needs of her husband and child. She knows it's her duty to do the housework, but she feels, and naturally, that she should have fun, too.

Well, maybe we could straighten out this dutiful wife by pointing out to her that it is also her duty to see that both she and her husband have their recreation and fun; that unless they have it, their marriage will be bleak and miserable, and her husband will never recapture his old vital interest in her.

A very wise wife and mother once gave me a piece of advice that might be appropriate to this situation. She told me that the secret of keeping house successfully was to know when and where to shirk. A woman, she said, can make a fetish out of housekeeping. She can sacrifice herself, her children and her husband on the altar of neatness and spotlessness. Well as she knows that a night at the movies could forestall a quarrel or an attack of nerves, she will refuse to let the dishes stand in the sink to make the 7:30 show. And she will insist on doing the last bit of ironing even though she is so ready to drop with fatigue that she can hardly greet her husband with the welcoming happy smile that is his right to expect when he comes home in the evening.

Have Recreation

So my advice to this young couple is to set aside a time for recreation and to let nothing but illness or an emergency interfere. There must be some nights, perhaps weekends, when the husband is not too tired to go for a drive, or to a show, or to have a few friends or neighbors in for a game of cards or friendly talk and simple refreshments. A man of 25 is still young and vigorous, and capable of enjoying life. And if his wife keeps up her appearance, and does not look and act like a household drudge, he should well respond to her femininity and charm.

A home should be more than a place to keep clean. It should form the centre of family life. It should be a place where people feel warm and comfortable and at peace. It should not be a prison to which a woman feels chained by drudgery and routine cares. It should be a place she can freely leave when she feels the need of change and recreation, and to which she freely returns because she knows it is a haven and a shelter for herself and her dear ones.

Spanish Inspiration

By ALICE ALDEN

SOMETIMES the much-touted Spanish influence is expressed in just a bit of braid or fringe. But once in a while comes along a magnificent costume that owes much of its beauty to Spain. Patullo-Jo Copeland designs a truly beautiful evening costume that bears this stamp. The black velvet cape is lavishly embroidered in jet beads and silk braid in the mode of the bull-fighter's cape. The dress, to match the cape lining, is of toreador pink silk satin with shoulder straps that criss-cross over the draped bodice.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

She should understand difference between announcement-announcement party and engagement-celebration party.

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My parents plan to announce my engagement very soon, at a buffet dinner on a Sunday evening. Although many people do know that my engagement will be announced at that time, I feel that I should notify them personally, and would appreciate your advice on the correct procedure for this. What kind of note should I write, what kind of note-paper should I use? Or is it mother and dad who should send these notes?

In other words, do we stress that it is an engagement-announcement, or should we omit this, and just invite them to come to a party at such-and-such a time, and then later in the evening announce the engagement?

M.

You seem to be somewhat confused as to the difference between a party to announce an engagement and a party to celebrate an engagement. I judge, however, that primarily this party was planned to announce your engagement . . . and so, even though some of your friends know of your engagement, your mother and father should send all invitations merely to a party, then at the party announce your engagement.

(a) This announcement may be made as the guests arrive: your father and mother stand first in the group to greet the guests, with you next to your mother and your fiance standing next to you. As your mother greets a guest, she says (looking toward you), "Here is Madelin. . . and (looking toward your fiance) her fiance, George Hall."

(b) Or, if you prefer, your father may announce your engagement later in the evening, by rising and proposing a toast "To our daughter Madelin. . . . and to her fiance George".

(c) Or you may announce the engagement simply by wearing your engagement ring for the first time in public on this evening. . . . then, as the guests notice it, the news will spread!

She's too, too anxious about getting in touch with this boy

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Last week I met this boy at a party. He asked me for my address and said that when he came to our town, he would come to see me. As he forgot to give me his address would it be proper for me to go to see his brother and ask him for his address? Or should I wait for him to write first? I would like to continue my friendship with him, as I think he is a very attractive and fine boy. I would like to write to him first so that when he comes to our house he will not feel so much like a stranger. But my mother says that I should wait for him to write first. Is she right or wrong?

Troubled Lou.

Never maul a meat ball.

Meat balls must be handled carefully or they will break in two and sometimes disintegrate completely. If you stir them carelessly or let them bounce around in a vigorously boiling sauce, you will have meat sauce rather than meat balls.

To help in retaining their shape, egg and breadcrumbs are added to the chopped raw meat. If the balls are pan fried, they tend to break apart when turned. A better idea is to place them under a broiler flame for browning.

Meat balls first browned and then simmered slowly in sauerkraut make the kind of hearty fare one expects in cold fall weather. The seasoning vegetables used in the meat, such as onions and green peppers, should be chopped extremely fine to blend with the meat. If the egg is well beaten, it will tend to make the meat balls light and fluffy.

Meat Balls and Sauerkraut
Serves 4 to 5.

1 lb chopped beef
Salt
1-2 cup finely chopped onion
1-4 cup finely chopped green pepper
1-4 cup bread crumbs
1-4 cup water
1 egg slightly beaten
2 lbs. sauerkraut
1-2 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon celery seed
2 tablespoons vegetable fat

In a large mixing bowl put the beef, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1-4 cup of the finely chopped onion, green pepper, bread crumbs, 1-4 cup water and egg. Mix well.

Shape into balls about 1 inch in diameter. Put the balls in a shallow pan. Place under a moderate broiler flame. Brown on all sides.

Drain the sauerkraut. Put the sauerkraut in a heavy saucepan with the boiling water, vinegar, sugar, celery seed and vegetable fat.

Add the meat balls to the pan. Cover the meat balls with sauerkraut. Simmer over a slow flame, stirring frequently, about 1 hour.

If too much liquid remains with sauerkraut, remove the lid and cook until excess liquid evaporates. Add more sugar or vinegar if desired.

World's Fastest Twosome in Teamwork

The fastest-known bomber and fighter in the world — the Boeing B-47 Stratojet and the North American F-86 Sabre — are shown together in flight for the first time over Kansas. The sleek ships, both record breakers, are in service with the U.S. air force. The Stratojet, weighing 185,000 pounds and capable of more than 600 miles an hour, is powered by six G.E. J-47 jet engines. The Sabre, which has proved more than a match for the red MIG-15 over Korea, is powered by a single G.E. J-47. It holds the official world's speed record at more than 670 miles an hour. — Central Press Canadian.

J. Burnett, District Officer, Speaker at Legion Banquet

Marmora — The annual Remembrance Day dinner under auspices of Marmora Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion was held in the banquet room of the Royal Hotel on Monday evening with Comrades of the Legion and of the Ladies' Auxiliary and other guests participating to the number of approximately 100.

Clayton Bedore, president of the Branch was toast master, "The King" having been honored, some community singing was indulged in with Canon J. M. Brownlie at the piano. The toast to the Canadian Legion was proposed by past president Major Percy Grey who sketched the growth of ex-service men's organizations since the Armistice of 1918, particularly dealing with the history and growth of the Canadian Legion until as it is of the British Empire Service League.

Guest Speaker

In a neat speech past Zone Commander Wilbert Mumby, of Tweed, who is past president of Marmora branch, introduced the guest speaker, District Commander J. Burnett of Cobourg mayor of that city.

"The work of the Legion", he said, "was an important subject and one that we don't spend enough time with. Its young members are not taught enough of its early struggles. The legislation for the Legion has been put into effect through the Legion's recommendation. The Canadian Legion is 26 years old this month. The men of the First World War were sent back to Canada to be assimilated into an economy not ready to receive them and at first the veterans suffered from maladministration and even dishonesty.

Voice of Returned Men

The Legion became the voice of the returned men. Pensions were taken out of politics and he hoped they would never be put back into politics again. The Legion has it in its own hands whether or not to keep the things it has gained, the strength, power and influence to demand they shall continue. Never time the Legion appears in public it is going to be judged by the public. If a branch turns out only 25 per cent for a parade, it will be judged accordingly as having a weakened influence. Attendance at church parades was to be greatly encouraged.

The speaker then mentioned that there were 5,100 branches of the Legion in Canada and 1,100 auxiliaries. There were 360 branches and auxiliaries in the United States acting under the Canadian Legion.

Drumhead Service

He urged the members present to keep in touch with preparations for the district rally and drumhead service next summer and hoped wherever it would be held that the 56 branches of the district would be represented by a total of 2,000 on parade.

Commander Mumby closed with this injunction. "Let each one of us accept our responsibility and carry out our duties so that when it comes our turn to pass on to our reward, we shall cross the valley of the shadow, mount the hillsides of the Hereafter and pass out on the wide plains of Eternity, there to meet those who have gone on before unafraid and unashamed".

In proposing "Fallen Comrades," past president Norman Hipson impressively recited a poem.

Pipe Major Harry Anderson, of Havelock, played "Flowers of the Forest" and "Reveille" with two minutes silence being observed between.

The president then expressed thanks to all who had helped to make the banquet a success, and called upon Zone Commander Percy Grey to present a past Zone Commander's badge to Comrade W. Mumby.

The toast "Ladies" was submitted by Branch Chaplain W. J. Cottrell the gathering responding with "Good Night Ladies".

The event closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Arena Commission Fires Team Coach Of Hurricanes

Waterloo, Nov. 13—(CP)—Bob Kinnear, coach of Waterloo Hurricanes of the Ontario Hockey Association's junior A circuit, was fired last night by Waterloo Arena Commission.

Norman (Dun) Cook, manager of Waterloo Memorial Arena, who came here from Kitchener was named to succeed him.

Decision to oust Kinnear was reached after a joint session of the arena commission and Waterloo city council. Council simultaneously approved a loan of $7,000 to the arena commission to help in operations and defray expenses incurred by Hurricanes.

W. H. Timmis, chairman of the arena commission, said the change was for the welfare of the community. He had backed Kinnear "to the hilt" when his contract was up for renewal, but now he was convinced a change was needed.

Herbert Klashu, commission member, said he canvassed 11 players and all felt Kinnear was a good coach.

Timmis replied: "Harold Cotton, chief scout of Boston Bruins, with whom Hurricanes have a working agreement, told me differently."

Peron Assured Of Huge Majority

Buenos Aires, Nov. 13 (AP)—Juan D. Peron today was apparently assured the almost-unanimous support of Argentina's Federal Congress and 14 provincial governors during his next term—1952 to 1958—as president.

Provisional but almost complete unofficial returns from Sunday's elections showed that Peronists candidates swept the board for the 30 seat senate and took all 14 provincial governorships.

Government forces also were assured complete control of the lower congressional branch, the House of Deputies. The chief opposition party, the radicals, apparently won only 14 of 149 seats Results so far indicated no other opposition party will be represented in Congress.

With almost 80-per cent of the vote counted in the presidential race, Peron had 4,008,370 and the radical candidate, Ricardo Balbin, 2,134,077. Candidates of the other six parties participating were nowhere near them.

The Peronistas in the last congressional elections won all places in the senate, in the House, which then had 157 members, the radicals won 43 seats.

Sunday's election was held under a modified law which abolished the old system of voting-at-large for a number of districts in each province. Under the former system the radicals should have won 41 seats in the House in Buenos Aires, instead of the six they now are getting.

CANNIFTON

Canniffon—On Sunday morning a fitting remembrance Day service was held in Canniffon town hall at the cenotaph conducted by Rev. W. R. Merrick. Those taking part in the service were Mr. Fred Mitchell, reeve of Thurlow township, and Mr. Earl Dafoe, clerk of Thurlow township. Mrs. William Insley of Point Anne, was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. H. Farnham at the piano.

Two minutes of silence were observed and the bugler, Mr. Claud Mollison of the Salvation Army sounded the Last Post and the Reveille. Mrs. Frank Guay, Carmel, placed the government wreath at the cenotaph.

All's Quiet on New York Waterfront

A longshoreman sits and reads the story of the end of the dock strike as his fellows began unloading overseas that had piled up on the New York docks. The 35-day-old strike ended when the rebel strike leader, Gene Sampson, agreed to send his men back to work on all piers on condition that those who took part in the wildcat walkout would not be discriminated against in hiring. — Central Press Canadian.

Thank Offering Service

On Sunday evening at the United Church the annual thankoffering service was held with Rev. L. Scott of Shannonville, as guest speaker, who delivered a stirring message with much food for thought.

The choir, with Mrs. H. Farnham at the piano, rendered three numbers, The full choir singing in splendid style a fine selection; a quartet "Be Still My Soul" with beautiful harmony was sung by Mrs. Harry Pound, Miss Meribeth Holgate, Mr. Manley Mitchell and Mr. Cecil Gibbs. Miss Leila Drew in her lovely soprano voice sang "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked," which was effective.

The altar was adorned with two large pots of bronze 'mums and a basket of mums, brought by Mrs. Anderson and Miss Elsie Smallborn. The thank offering was gratifying.

4TH THURLOW

4th Thurlow—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dvorsloski and children of Toronto, were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garrison.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grills and children, of Stirling, were recent tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Martin.

Miss Audrey Ritz, of the Belleville General Hospital spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ritz.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Osborne, of Lonsdale, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garrison.

Several neighbors held a bee on Friday for Mr. Bert Martin and did fall plowing.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ritz and children were Sunday tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sheffield, of Picton.

SHANNONVILLE

Home-School Holds Successful, Costumed Hallowe'en Party

Shannonville — Throngs of children and 40 adults successfully disguised themselves as pirates, cowpunchers, South Sea Islanders, scarecrows and many other more or less questionable characters to make this year's Home and School Hallowe'en party a tremendous success.

The children were divided into three divisions, pre-school, junior and senior and four prizes were awarded in each division, six boys and six girls receiving prizes for outstanding costumes. Prizes were also presented for the best male and female costume in the adult class.

Prizes Awarded

Pre School Division: Girls, Paulette Fuller and Vicky Sero; boys, Barry Richman and Andy Sword.

Junior Division: girls, Sandra Reid and Marjorie Ann Barclay; boys, Stevie Sword and Donnie Pringle.

Senior Division: girls, Shirley Green and Helen Houston; boys, Clair Brant and Dougie Dafoe.

Adult Division: Mrs. Wellis Howard and Mr. Keith Crisp.

Mr. Borland and Mrs. Priest, the senior and junior teachers, conducted a lively program of contests and games, all in keeping with the spirit of Hallowe'en.

A special committee of Home and Schoolers had prepared a generous package of Hallowe'en goodies for each child in attendance and the refreshments committee served refreshments to everyone.

After a happy evening of bobbing for apples, pumpkin pie eating, contests for blindfolded participants, and much fun and laughter, teachers and parents alike agreed their Hallowe'en celebration had been entirely successful.

Euchre Party

Unfavorable weather resulted in a small crowd in attendance at the first euchre party of the season sponsored by the Home and School Association here. Therefore, the prizes were as follow: Ladies, Mrs. Ruth Rickman, Mrs. Helen Lonie; low, Mrs. Margaret Smith. Men's, Mrs. Bertha Reid, Mrs. Fred Woodend; low, Mr. Franklin Green.

Lone hand prize, Mrs. Bertha Reid.

JOHNSTOWN

Johnstown—Mr. Winfield and Douglas Harder have gone deer hunting at Lake St. Peter.

Public Relations Of Three Services Put Under Fire

Ottawa, Nov. 14 — (CP) — George Hees, progressive Conservative leader, suggested yesterday that the federal government "fire some of the present grandiose" who have been issuing those glowing stories from the defence department on the state of Canada's preparedness.

His spoke before the commons adopted a resolution establishing a committee to investigate defence expenditures.

J. D. Shaw (SC-Red Deer) said the committee should make a full investigation of the public relations of the three branches of the armed services.

Mr. Drew said the people of Canada have been told that "we have the best aircraft, the best engines, the best guns and the best bazookas, and so on . . .

"Most of the things about which we have been given glowing descriptions are not yet in production in Canada."

After referring to "greatly publicized rearmament," Canada is in a position of "tragic weakness."

Mr. Drew added:

"A great starting point in meeting this problem, and meeting this problem with full knowledge of the facts, would be to fire every one of those propagandists who have been issuing these flowing stories from the Department of National Defence, National Finance Chiefs.

"Remember, we have an effective procedure by which the people of Canada can be told what is being done, when our units have the kind of equipment they should have, when they are doing the kind of training they should be doing under conditions of this kind, when their numbers are adequate for the task with which they are confronted, then let the trained representatives of the press of Canada, those units, see their training and see their equipment.

"They will tell the people of Canada the accurate facts, as they have been doing for years when they were given the opportunity.

"All the action and all the worry of that group of men who have been employed strictly for propaganda purposes has been to mislead the people of Canada as to what the facts actually are. What we want to know, what the people of Canada want to know, is this: What is the situation in this grave period, the gravest period Canada has known outside the periods of general war.

"A good point also would be to make sure that when the units are equipped, when they are put through their training and when they are carrying out their demonstrations, no part of that training and no part of their equipment shall be withheld from normal inspection by members of the press of this country—unless it is something obviously of a very secret nature."

Mr. Shaw said that in his opinion too much money is being spent by the public relations branches of the three armed services.

"There is a great real of duplication and there is a great deal of material going out to certain newspaper publishers that often is not published because of the fact that it serves no useful purpose in that particular community," said Mr. Shaw.

BORN IN CAMPBELLFORD

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 13—(CP)—Col. George Hunter Ogilvie, 91, one of the few remaining veterans of the northwest rebellion, died yesterday.

Born in Campbellford, Ont., he was a member of the second class to be graduated from Royal Military College, Kingston, in 1882.

Col. Ogilvie served as sergeant-at-arms of the Ontario legislature from 1924 to 1934. He retired in 1938.

CAMPBELLFORD

Hunters Will Remember Season As One of Few Deer, Many Mishaps

Campbellford — Among the Campbellford deer hunters who will long remember the 1951 season as one of the worst in years, is Donald D. Bennett, who was the centre of interest locally on Saturday, when he failed to return to his own hunting camp and, efforts to locate him were unsuccessful. He had strayed from his hunting camp 13 miles north of Marmora.

When Mr. Bennett failed to return Friday night, members of his party became worried. Saturday morning Russell Young, a member of the party, got to a telephone so notify relatives, that the man was missing.

Arrangements were made to organize a search party from Campbellford and a jeep was hired to transport the men into the bush. Provincial police of the Madoc detachment, as well as Campbellford police, were alerted to aid in the search.

Later in the day Mr. Bennett walked into his own camp. He denied being lost but said that while hunting on the previous day apart from others in the party, he had travelled a considerable distance from his camp. As darkness approached, Mr. Bennett found the going quite heavy and he thought it advisable to travel another few miles to the site of another camp which he knew, sooner than attempt to travel the much greater distance to his own camp.

Spent Comfortable Night

Apart from being tired, from his long tramp through the bush he was none the worse for his experience. He had spent a comfortable night in the neighboring camp, but was unable as yet word back to his friends as to what had happened to him.

There was a great feeling of relief when the people of Campbellford learned that the search party had been called off and that Mr. Bennett was safe.

The second party of Campbellford hunters and their wives have been surround since Wednesday on an island in Lake Weslemkoon about 85 miles north of Campbellford.

Could Not Reach Mainland

The heavy snow storm and the below - freezing temperatures made it impossible for them to reach the mainland. The ice was too thin to walk across, and yet too thick to use their motor boat. Their predicament was not serious however as they were quartered in a good house with plenty of fuel and provisions. They had two deer among the 10 in the party. The party managed to reach the mainland by boat on Sunday and are back in Campbellford now.

Another Campbellford hunter, H. J. Taylor, was rushed to a Red Cross Outpost Hospital at Bancroft earlier when he suffered an attack of appendicitis. The ailing appendix were removed and Mr. Taylor was confined to hospital for a few days. He is at present back in Campbellford. Another hunter suffered a fall in the bush, injuring his leg. All in all, hunters from the area will long remember the 1951 season as one of few deer and many mishaps.

CARRIED FROM HOUSE

London, Nov. 14. (Reuters)—Two policemen carried a protesting 51-year-old woman schoolteacher from the House of Commons last night after she and some 300 of her colleagues staged an "equal pay for women" demonstration in the lobby.

Miss Sarah Ramon of London, said that although she was an arthritic cripple she had been roughly handled by the police.

Miss Ramon and teachers —most of them women—went to the House to see their parliamentary representatives after holding a protest meeting advocating equal pay for women.

Nine Hunters Reach Safety Minus Deer

Webbwood, Ont., Nov. 14—(CP)—Nine men, the last of 28 hunters trapped for a week north of Agnew Lake, reached here yesterday after what they termed "the worst hunting trip in history".

Six of the men plunged through soggy ice about a third of a mile from shore as they crossed the lake, some 30 miles north west of Sudbury, by skidding their boat over the ice. They climbed back into the boat after the ducking then reached shore by chopping a channel with axes and paddles.

After reaching safety, the six returned to get the other three men and part of the group's equipment.

The men are Reg, Ernie and Arthur Pardo, brothers from Blenheim; Charlie Slocombe and Carl Pickering of Blenheim; Denis Bigley and Jack McPhail of Chatham; William Spence, Ridgetown; and James McTavish of Nantwood.

They said they had abandoned five deer at a camp 3½ miles up the Spanish River and that other hunters from Sarnia, Bracebridge and Espanola, who preceded them across the dangerous ice during the weekend, left behind $5,000 worth of equipment.

ORDERED TO LEAVE

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 14 (AP)—The newspaper Journal D'Egypte reported yesterday that Kurt Emmengger, a Swiss free-lance correspondent, has been ordered to leave Egypt "because of the evidence of lack of faith in his articles."

All But Seventy Of 400 in Prison Now Released

Vancouver, Nov. 14 (CP)—All but 70 of 400 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors sentenced to the Federal penitentiary in neighboring New Westminster 18 months ago now have been released, it was announced last night.

Geoffrey Andrew, vice-chairman of the consultative committee on Doukhobors, said the latest group of five left the prison yesterday.

The Sons of Freedom sect members were sentenced to an average of three years in prison following an outbreak of violence in and near Krestova, in the interior of British Columbia. They were charged with arson and mude parading.

Twenty-one Doukhobor women are still in prison in Kingston, Ont. They refused to go east because B.C. has no facilities to handle female prisoners sentenced to terms of more than two years.

Mr. Andrew said decision on whether the other prisoners will be released before completing their sentences depends on their "willingness and attitude to conform to the laws of this country."

He said he was unable to comment on the status of the women held in Kingston.

GIVEN TWO YEARS

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, Nov. 14—(AP)—The editor of the communist newspaper Imprensa Popular was sentenced to two years in prison Monday for publishing a letter which, the court ruled, caused friction between Brazilian and United States armed forces. Pedro Motta Lima, the defendant, published a letter purportedly written by a U.S. army officer criticizing the Brazilian army.

Miss Eileen McBride Gives Educational Talk at Institute Meeting on 'Human Nature'

Rawdon.—On Friday afternoon last, about 40 ladies gathered in Stirling Community Hall and enjoyed an educational lecture "We Call It Human Nature", given by Miss Eileen McBride, under the sponsorship of Stirling; River Valley; Chatterton and Pine Grove Institutes.

This was a free service given by the Women's Institute branch of Ontario. It was regretted that more young mothers in charge of small children and those of school age did not avail themselves of this free education which is so badly needed in this topsy-turvy world; there was also a great deal of helpful ideas for older people. The lecture was free to all institute members and their friends.

Fifteen members from River Valley; seven from Pine Grove; four from Chatterton and eight visitors were present.

"Human Nature".

Miss Eileen McBride, a gifted lecturer, gave a two hour talk on various phases of the theme, "We Call It Human Nature", explaining how, by careful study and application, individuals can learn to change their food habits. It is the same with their various characteristics. In today's world, nearly all magazines are publishing articles on physical needs and nutritional needs; but it is the emotional needs that are crying for assistance.

"In the space of ten years, we find that children have much better growth and are taller already because they have been given much better food as their mothers have learned what the various manufacturers have prepared along the lines of scientific feeding. But the mental health of Ontario is below par. Mothers and fathers do not understand their child's needs and in many cases, they are not properly adjusted themselves. Here is a big field for study, and the fact must be accepted that there are a lot of emotional people who are in need of special help."

Neurotic Phase

Miss McBride graphically pictured various phases, of Neurotic individuals giving illustrations of how these people get upset and worry themselves into a 'dither'. She urged parents to teach their children, in their early years, the value of kindly relationships with other children and that by helping others in need, you always help yourself.

People who are over 50 must still continue to grow up; if the mind is not fed, it will slide backwards. A visit to Forest School, High Park, Toronto, between April and October, was urged.

The family is the most important factor; the baby needs to feel secure; it needs to be loved; it needs a schedule suitable to its own physical requirements; not a schedule where all babies are fed every so many hours regardless whether or not they are hungry.

Part of Teacher

The school teacher has her part to play; it is essential that the child's first teacher understands children. If she is not the proper type of individual, a child's whole career can be ruined. A school teacher must be endowed with a good fund of common sense so that she won't try to pattern each child in the same groove.

Young people also need considerable vocational guidance as well as parental direction. Older people need security, kindness, a feeling of being wanted, a chance to help with small household duties, and it does no harm to ask elder people for advice, as they have had far greater experience. Whether an individual is eight months of age or 80 years old, he or she needs emotional security.

Religious Faith Needed

Then, too, all need some kind of religious faith to carry them over the rough spots of life. Miss McBride also gave some splendid concrete ideas of adaptability in the art of everyday living. Often mother is over-tired upset or busy. The child knows nothing of this; he does not understand what is wrong, so that is when he "cuts up" and the child is punished for something that is no fault of his. It is the same when Dad comes home from the office; he expects the children to be quiet so that he can relax.

Children should be allowed to share responsibility; the care of old people in the home; what can be done to make new Canadians good citizens; the value of sharing confidences were also stressed. Miss McBride also gave illustrations, which she had gleaned from various discussion groups in Canada, United States and England to prove her points. One lady said, in a meeting, in the United States, that she had never gotten over the shock of being told at school that her father had sold his farm and that the family were moving to a new community. Her parents had neglected to take her into their confidence. A child must be taught that difficult situations arise which must be faced as they are but a part of everyday living. No one should demand too much of a child. Parents who demand of a three-year-old the behaviour of a six-year-old, show their own immaturity.

Helpful Advice

Helpful advice was given for folk who are discouraged; for those who have mother-in-law in their home; how to overcome inferiority complex; how to build up self-worth in individuals; the danger in systems of fear, anger and anxiety; how to analyze prejudices; how to help the child overcome the fear of a dog. The speaker explained why children and older folk throw a tantrum in order to get their own way, as well as a host of other items.

Taking time for proper rest was also stressed and the need of avoiding upsets over paltry details. Take your rest and keep in good condition even if in doing so, there remains dust on the furniture. You don't think you have to go everywhere, do everything that others do, or hold office in all the clubs; chose wisely; use the funny side of life and have a sense of humour; and when giving assistance to others, be a sympathetic listener. If in charge of church meetings, put several members on the committees and give them work to do and have as many as possible participating in the program.

Given Attention to Children

Pay more attention to your children and help them find pleasure in every day living; it will pay dividends when they have homes of their own.

Miss McBride closed her talk with mentioning special methods used to help the mentally ill and some discussion took place on some phases of the lecture.

Mrs. Louis Rodgers, 2nd vice-president of West Hastings district, welcomed the guests and introduced the speaker. Mrs. Roy Bush expressed appreciation to Miss McBride for her worthwhile effort as people spend most of their time living with themselves and with others. Mrs. Hiram Rodgers had charge of the singing.

Mrs. A. B. Finkle, district secretary, tendered thanks to Stirling Institute, the hostess branch.

Following the close of the meeting, three members from each of the branches served refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, and tea, followed by a social half hour.

Striking Contrast

Troops of the 1st Battalion of the P.P.C.L.I. humorously noted the difference in marching temperatures between the Yukon and Korea. They have tacked up a sign which reads, "Sweetbriar was never like this!" Sweetbriar was the code name of a joint Canadian-U.S. exercise in the Yukon. These soldiers recently arrived in Korea to replace members of the 2nd Battalion. Left to right, are: Pics. Clarence E. W. Cook of Victoria, Ont.; Donald B. Henderson of Toronto; Gerry Hutchcroft of Cardinal and Claire M. Evoy of Wallaceburg. — (CP from National Defence.)

CENTENARY

Centenary—Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawrenson on the birth of a baby girl.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Woods were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Carleton and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Slingerland and Sandra.

Mrs. J. Sargent Sr., and Mrs. M. French have left to spend the winter months in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Only eight families took advantage of the free photo by Paramount Studios which was held at the church on Friday last.

Congratulations to Miss Ruth Slavin on placing first in the Sidney public speaking contest on Friday night at Wallbridge; Miss Caroline Daugharty placed second.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Jones, Marilyn and Jimmie, Aikens, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bradford, Carole and Wayne, Belleville, attended Centenary anniversary services on Sunday and were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Hart.

Rev. A. E. Baker of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, gave two inspiring sermons at the morning and evening services on Sunday.

The choir rendered special anthems at both morning and evening services. In the morning Glen Daugharty sang a solo, "Beside Still Waters." The church was beautifully decorated. A special "thank you" goes to Mr. D. Holton for the lovely 'mums of every color which banked the front of the rostrum as well as those placed in baskets and vases throughout the church.

Centenary school children received a holiday Wednesday due to the weather when the school was without heat or lights, proving the old proverb "It's an ill wind that blows no good."

Mr. G. Sills and Mr. M. Waite are enjoying their annual "hunt" in the north country.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pitcher and Judy, Crankhorn, and Mr. and Mrs. Maitland Harder, Johnstown were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Harder.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Christopher and children were Sunday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christopher, Trent Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Calvert and Anna, Crankhorn, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Robbin. Mr. and Mrs. W. Jones Albert spent the dinner hour on Thursday at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sutherland, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Hubbs enjoyed the chicken supper at Mount Pleasant, Rawdon, recently.

Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aikens and Ted were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Denyes, Wesley; Mr. and Mrs. Casey, Ketcheson, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jeffray, White's; Mr. and Mrs. Don Best and Deborah, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lee and Stephen, Belleville.

Mrs. Harold Ives, Toronto, was an overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Christopher on Wednesday.

Rev. A. E. Baker was a guest on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bey. Miss Estelle Wellman was a guest also at the same home.

"Five Roses All Purpose Flour is my favourite for cakes and cookies. I have used it all the years I have been married and I am really proud of the wonderful results this All Purpose flour gives."

Mrs. John E. Ross, Moncton, N.B.
"Five Roses All Purpose Flour is economical to use, for I find all of those all purpose flours I have tried are not nearly as good for baking. I use it for all my baking — and the results are always excellent. I certainly recommend Five Roses!"

Mrs. J. H. Ross, Alliston, Ontario.
"Five Roses All Purpose Flour is my favourite for cakes and cookies. I take a great deal of pride in baking my own foods and have learned to depend on this All Purpose flour. The savings, which are important today, are truly remarkable."

Mrs. A. D. Ross, Amherst Co., N.S.
"Five Roses All Purpose Flour is my favourite — and it has been for many years. There is nothing like this All Purpose flour for perfect baking results — every time. I am delighted to use and recommend Five Roses for better baking."

Drew Against Sending Forces At This Time

Ottawa, Nov. 14—(CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said yesterday that Canada, instead of sending defence forces to Europe at this time, should concentrate on the training at home of fast, hard-hitting, mobile mechanized units.

He told the Commons that Canada and the United States should supply the equipment needed to arm the men available in Europe. Canada should concentrate on the training of units that could be moved quickly to trouble spots.

Mr. Drew spoke before adoption of a resolution establishing a 26-man committee to investigate defence expenditures. The resolution was welcomed by members of all parties.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, and F. D. Shaw (CS—Red Deer) said similar committees had worked efficiently during the last war.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said the committee would not be asked to decide on matters of policy. Its duty would be to see that value is being obtained for money spent on defence.

Mr. Drew, a veteran of the First World War, said it is obvious that "the ultimate issues as to world peace or world war are going to be decided" in Europe and the Middle East rather than in Korea.

The latest issue of Brassey's armed services year book discloses that the Russians have 14,800,000 trained men who could be put into the field within 60 days. The Russian navy had some 380 submarines and another 120 under construction.

The western world was faced with the fact that it must make every man and woman in uniform much more effective than their counterparts in the Russian armed forces.

Brigade Well Trained

The Canadian brigade in Korea and the brigade going to Europe were well trained, but he did not think they represented the "highest possible hitting power per man."

Mr. Drew added:

"It would seem that economy of effort would suggest that those forces which have the lowest hitting power per man and can be raised near the danger spot, should be raised there whereas the forces which must be moved a long distance should be forces with the highest possible measure of hitting power.

"Every single man that is moved thousands of miles away from Canada involves not only the movement of that man and his equipment, but also a commitment to move food, supplies, ammunition and all the other requirements of the men in the field over thousands of miles, which, in the event of war itself, would be threatened by the most modern aircraft and the most modern submarines.

Simple Approach

"A simple rational approach to this problem suggests that here in Canada we should not be training the mass formations with low individual hitting power; we should be training fast hard-hitting armored units, with the highest possible hitting power per man. We should also be concentrating so we have been told we would concentrate, on the air power which can be moved with the utmost safety to any danger point, or for that matter any part of the world.

"With this situation in front of us, it seems clear that the United States and Canada each, in proportion to its own productive capacity, must, in very considerable extent, be the arsenals of Europe, and also to a substantial degree the rest of the world as well. . . .)

"That being so, it would seem that our effort should be directed to supplying the weapons and equipment of all types needed for the land forces in these critical areas where the men can be raised, armed, equipped and trained, while we concentrate on compact, hard-hitting and extremely mobile forces which can make the most effective use of the transportation supplies available, whether by air or by sea."

DRAWS LIFE TERM

HALLOWAY

Young Couple Feted by Community

Halloway.—Last Tuesday evening the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hubble, (nee Sills), gathered at Bethel-Zion Hall and presented them with a miscellaneous shower. Mr. Lee Ketcheson acted as chairman for the occasion.

A fine program, consisting of a piano-mouth organ duet by Mrs. Gordon Foster and Mr. Foster; and a reading by Mrs. Richard Cranston.

Mrs. Clifford Ray read the address which stated how happy the assembled company was to be able to express their appreciation of the bride's willingness to assist in all church and social activities of her faithfulness to the Sunday School and the Young People's Society, and to the W.M.S., and W.I., and hoped that she would make many new friends in the new community to which she was going. The bridegroom was also congratulated on choosing a life companion possessing such excellent qualities, and extending to both their best wishes for happiness in the years ahead.

The address was signed on behalf of the people of Bethel-Zion Community by Hazel Tufts, Margaret Cranston, Miss Foster and Helen Tumuge.

Following the address, Burton and Bessie were presented with a shower of lovely and useful gifts for which they graciously expressed their appreciation.

LENGTHY LABOR

Samuel Johnson labored eight years with the help of six clerks to issue in 1747 the plan of his monumental English dictionary.

CAMPBELLFORD

Lloyd Zubrigg Noted Pianist Delights Audience

Campbellford—Lloyd Zubrigg, noted Toronto pianist, treated a large and appreciative audience to his piano stylings and technical skill on Wednesday evening, when he appeared at the theatre concert conducted by the Semaryde Chapter of the I.O.D.E. His numbers were roundly applauded and he was generous with his encores.

Francis DeCarrol, a vocalist from Campbellford, who is always popular with local audiences, rendered several classical numbers, accompanied by Mr. Zubrigg at the piano. His vocal numbers were well received, and he was called upon repeatedly for encores.

The Campbellford Chorallane, under the direction of Mrs. A. G. Watson added a lighter touch to the otherwise heavy, or serious program, with their choral numbers. Mrs. George Nicholls accompanied the chorallans at the piano.

The proceeds realized from a collection will be used for the local hospital fund.

MADOC

REMEMBRANCE DAY SERVICE

Madoc — The Remembrance Day service November 11th was held in Madoc armouries and at the Cenotaph with a large crowd in attendance.

The chairman was reeve John A. Kincaid, the service was opened by singing "O Canada" (a version made for Remembrance Day) this was followed up by the familiar hymns "Unto the Hills."

Rev. J. F. Lane, pastor of Trinity United, had the responsive reading of the Psalm with prayer by Rev. T. Harvey Good, Rector of the St. John's Anglican Church. Rev. M. W. Heslip of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church read the Scripture lesson.

An address on "Remembrance Day" was given by George White M.P. veteran of World War I. This was an outstanding address and one to be long remembered by those who were privileged to hear it.

A quartet of Messrs. Hughes, Rothwell and Mrs. Hulin and Smith, sang McCrae's immortal poem in music in "In Flanders Field" which was beautifully rendered. President of the Madoc Legion, C. J. Lough, announced and presented the wreaths to be placed at the Cenotaph to John Armstrong for the Legion; Robert Bristol for the village; Mrs. Charles Whytock for the Women's Institute and to H. Govier for the Province of Ontario who headed by the color party, marched to the Cenotaph, where with the Veterans, the Legion and B Co. of Hasty Pees, Major J. J. Naylor O.C. of parade. The flag raising was attended to Veteran W. Hawthorne Sr., Last Post and Reveille by W. Aylesworth.

At the Sunday morning service in Trinity United Church, flowers in memory of Madoc boys who fell in the World War II were placed on the altar by Miss Ella Adams. The mixed quartet again sang McCrae's "In Flanders Field", the pastor Rev. Mr. Lane, chose as his subject "Sacrifice" in keeping with Remembrance Day.

Decade of Success Enjoyed by Farrar's Home Furnishings

This week observing its 10th anniversary in business in Belleville, Farrar's Home Furnishings, 38 Bridge Street, East, has come a long way since the opening of its first small store on Front Street just ten years ago.

Just a decade ago Mr. B. B. Farrar, proprietor of Farrar's Home Furnishings, with a bit of help from his father in Trenton, went into business in this city "on his own." Prior to then he had acted as purchasing agent for his father's furniture business.

And "on his own" meant just that and in addition it meant that he was all alone. That is all alone with the exception of a part-time clerk who assisted Mr. Farrar in the store. The store proprietor did his own deliveries at night after store hours.

Had Much Experience

But "Burt" as he is popularly known today, had a wealth of experience in the furniture retail business behind him. His father before him had been in the furniture business at Tweed and in Trenton and Burt was quick to learn. And so the business expanded.

Not many years had elapsed before the Front Street store was entirely inadequate for the volume of business handled. More room was needed and Mr. Farrar purchased the Bridge Street block where his business is now located. The site was where the former Quinte Cafe, and the Fralick Radio Service were located.

Extensive alterations were made to the Bridge Street building and three years ago the business was moved to the handsome new store.

As an indication of the growth of the business, the staff has increased from one part-time employee until now there is a total of nine, including the proprietor.

Store Staff

Two of the present employees were with the store on Front Street. They are Robt. Michaud, now store manager, and John Tomaso, office manager. Other members of the staff include Mrs. Margaret Ketcheson, bookkeeper; Jim Rose, general sales, and Jim Fox, shipper. Deliveries are under the direction of Mr. Fox and Allan Kaiser.

Farrar's Home Furnishings, is a family business. Two of Mr. Farrar's sons, Larry and Albert, are associated with the store being in charge of the record bar.

Branching out from a general furniture business, Mr. Farrar and his store manager, Mr. Michaud, last year opened Tiny Tot Town, a store catering exclusively to children's clothing and furniture. The store is operated entirely separate from Farrar's Home Furnishings and is managed by Mrs. Michaud. Sales help include Mrs. Eric Rickett and Mrs. Fern Vandervoort.

Opening of Tiny Tot Town developed from the belief on the part of the owners that children's clothing and furniture could be handled more satisfactorily through a specialty shop outlet. Everything needed by a moppet up to 12 years is handled at the store.

Large Display Space

In addition to the main Farrar store where living room, dining room and kitchen furniture is displayed the firm has an additional 2,500 feet floor space at the rear where bedroom furniture is shown exclusively.

Some of the top name lines known in furniture are handled by Farrar's Home Furnishings. These include Gibbard, Peppler, Andrew Malcolm, Vilas Rock Maple, Dielcraft, Braemore, Snyder and Sklar. Lane and Boshart cedar chests are handled.

A full line of Philco, R.C.A. Victor and Sunshine radios and radio phonograph combinations are handled as well as Crosley-Shelvador refrigerators and other kitchen equipment.

Determination and Initiative Marked Extensive Business Career of Founder Of Farrar's Furniture Ltd., Trenton

"Strictly cash" may be the modern way to operate a business but many of today's prominent business firms built their success on a partial credit basis. One such firm is the Farrar Furniture business at Trenton, formerly operated by Albert Farrar, father of Burton Farrar, proprietor of the Belleville store of the same name.

"I trusted everyone who asked for it," Mr. Farrar recalls, "I got bitten a few times, but most ones are honest if they intend to pay at all."

As a business man Mr. Farrar possibly had more than his share of ups and downs but a determination to win through stood him in good stead. His initiative to be business wise was apparent as milk for his father in the Tweed district. Following were ventures in grocery retailing, in the furniture and undertaking business; then in real estate and again back in the grocery and furniture field.

But Mr. Farrar tells his own story in connection with the 10th anniversary of B. B. Farrar Furniture in Belleville. His story follows.

"I was born in the United States of Amerika of Irish, Dutch and English extraction, and came to Canada in 1888 with my father and mother, settling in Tweed.

"My schooling was in Tweed public school and at my father I had from six to 12 cows and a couple of acres of garden truck. It was a case of getting up at 6 a.m., to help milk the cows and deliver to the morning customers, getting to school late but that did not matter.

"The first hour was arithmetic and I never could remember when I couldn't do my home work at this in at most, 15 minutes. Outside of that I was never much good in school.

"The noon hour was my play time and what I learned in that hour I had it all to myself. After school, we again started for the milk route and the delivery of milk and vegetables started all over again. We all went to bed at nine o'clock. I bet those who might say that up until the time I left school do not remember seeing a milk bottle.

Pitchers Were Milk Bottles

"Pitchers, set out between the doors, with possibly a spoon dish over the top, a quart or pint measure to take the milk from a can in the wagon to the pitcher on the back verandah. These were our only utensils. Lots of times I'd possibly blow on the dust that had gathered in the pitcher while it was sitting there.

"My delivery was made with a dog trained to draw the wagon or sleigh as the case may be. Snow increased, two dogs were needed. I will remember when dad bought an old horse for $10. Were we over up in the world then! A few horse hairs got mixed with the dust in the pitcher but that did not matter.

"At 15 years of age my schooling ended, when I had passed the entrance examinations. Business increased and mother made soft soap from hard wood ashes. We bottled and sold horse-radish along with our other business.

"I drove a horse and wagon from Tweed to Belleville market to pick up the plants, vegetables, and groceries for a week to add to the line that we carried.

Started Grocery Business

"Then we rented a small space about eight feet wide and 50 feet long on Front street to start a grocery business. Our first stock was one barrel of vinegar, lone box of laundry soap and one case of corn starch. Ah, was that ever a proud day!

"But, being young, and many were going west to grow up with the new country, I also went west and worked in the harvest for 30 of days, getting a free ticket home. I had seen the world. However, I went again the next year and stayed for two years; railroading, lumber camps, coal mines, ice packing, lumber mills, returning home in 1903 in the autumn. I had taken a homestead in the west and came home only for a visit.

"That was my downfall. I met and married the present Mrs. Farrar and never had money enough to leave Tweed again for years. Wages were $1.00 a day for ten hours work, or if you were man enough and could hold up your end, you got $1.10.

First Home Cost $500

"I bought my first home for $500 then at $25 down and $5 a month. The latter included interest and principal with the interest being 6 per cent.

"The day that I got the job at the dynamite factory at $50 a month with no lost time I was sure in the money. But, as my family was growing and my wife was having trouble making the $50 go around, I took a job gathering eggs for my father at one-half cent a dozen, driving through the country each forenoon. My work at the dynamite factory being all night work (6 p.m. until 7 a.m.).

"My father had sold out his grocery business, and the store being empty, I rented it at $10 a month. I ordered $5 worth of groceries from the old Robertson-Nickle and "Company (with no down payment) and could not pay the freight on it until payday at the dynamite factory. I started in business for myself in the fall of 1909.

"My wife, myself and the three children moved upstairs over the store. My father bought McNair's Furniture business in May, 1909, and there was an undertaking and picture framing end of the business.

Learned Undertaking

Mr. Logan bought the picture framing end of the business, and as father did not want to do the undertaking, I agreed to help out at a small fee. Matt McNair was our teacher and he laid me on an old door and then showed me how to put the dead in their coffins. With the help of my good wife, who worked side by side with me in the grocery, I made a success of our business.

"About 1912 a new law came into existence that undertakers had to pass an examination and get a certificate to bury the dead. Father paid the bill and I took a short course in Toronto under R. W. Stone who had started a school for that purpose. I came home with an armful of books and went back the following year and passed my examinations. I believe that I got 97 out of 100. George Cobley, of Trenton, was also in that class.

"In 1914 I sold my grocery business and bought my father's business. Well I can remember the first two weeks. My profits was just exactly $1.65 and I had a wife, five children and also a man at $12 a week and a horse to feed. Burton, the youngest of the five children, is the present owner of the Belleville store.

Cashes In On Credits

"In desperation one day when my father came along, I asked him what he would take to sell in the store if I decided to go away for a few days. "Old mags and boys cannot set their wages," was his reply. "What's your offer? I offered him one dollar a day which proved satisfactory and he asked me what I was going to do. I did not tell him but left him to take over for the time being.

"I drove to Sulphide, five miles away, had a real good talk with some of my old grocery customers there and sold $5 worth of furniture. No notes, no down payment, just a word of honor agreement to pay so much each payday.

"My hired man and my father both told me that I was crazy and really I thought so myself but started in drag out the furniture. And what a lot that stock of stuff did days!

Complete Service

"In the meantime, the man to whom I had sold my grocery business had failed and as my father's interest and equity were in the building, I found myself with a grocery as well as furniture and undertaking business. And my advertisement in the weekly newspapers always read "Farrar's: We Furnish You From the Cradle to the Grave".

"In 1918 I sold my grocery business to a brother-in-law and my furniture business to Mr Albert Blakely. I was going to California, to Oshawa, and I don't know where else. Anyway I ended up in Oshawa around the time of the boon after the First World War.

"I had two brothers-in-law who were carpenters and I started to build houses for sale. I was sure that I was going to be a millionaire. Well, I made a job gathering eggs for my father at one-half cent a dozen, driving through the country each forenoon. My work at the dynamite factory being all night work (6 p.m. until 7 a.m.).

MR. AMOS CAIN

Mr. Cain is a director of the firm of B. B. Farrar by appointment, and has sold furniture to three generations of Farrars. He originally sold to Mr. J. Farrar in Tweed; then to Mr. A. A. Farrar in Trenton, and now to B. B. Farrar in Belleville. Mr. Cain is a representative of many nationally known furniture lines.

ance and I had to face what was left.

"Work was hard to get that fall, there was no working man's relief, and several came along and said that they would work if I would give them groceries. I ordered one-half barrel of flour and springs from a Toronto firm and I am sure that one-third of the business we did in Trenton in those days came from Belleville and Point Anne. We had easy terms—$1 down and $1 when I catch you.

Good Salesman

"Burton did not seem to be doing so well in school so one day I asked the principal about it. "What do you expect to be buyer for of that lad?" he asked. "A doctor", I replied. "You would be making a darn poor doctor and spoiling a good furniture man," he said.

"I stored him what mark I think so and he said, "Four times I've had him in my office and before I got down telling him how much he needed an education, he ended up by getting interested in some of your new furniture." That day ended Burt's education.

"I asked him what he intended to do when he became grown and he replied that he intended to work with me in the furniture business. I told him that he couldn't work in the store but would have to take orders, deliver and collect bills in Belleville and Point Anne.

"That suits me", he replied and so he started at $15 a week, paying his mother $5 a week for board. He never ever came out to be a doctor. He could sell more furniture and collect better than any man I had ever met until then. Gradually I took him into the Trenton store as buyer because he was young and understood better the wants of the younger generation.

Rented Belleville Store

"Year after year I suggested that he start in Belleville for himself, but he still wanted dad at the helm. At last I rented a small store in Belleville and put him into it on a salary and commission basis with the idea of course, that this was to be his own store. I believe that had I told him so on the start, he would never have gone.

"Several months after, I went to Belleville and called him into the bank. I told the bank manager that the Belleville store owed the Trenton store $6,500. I'm selling this to Burt, lock, stock and barrel for $6,000. He must buy a $5,000 government bond from you and when that is paid for, he is on his own.

"I will always remember the look I got. Those eyes of his doubled in size. He said that he would buy a government bond but he did and paid every nickle of it in a short time.

"I sold the Trenton business to a son and son-in-law a few years later and there ended that portion of the family history; Jay Farrar followed by Albert Farrar, then Burton Farrar and his son, Albert Farrar, Junior, who is in the store with him."

Gibbard Furniture Co. Well Known Across Canada

Included among the better lines of Furniture carried by B. B. Farrar's is the famous line of Gibbard's.

Gibbard's are of course located in the town of Napanee, and have been a tradition in that town for over one hundred years.

The history of this company has been an interesting one going back to 1835 when John Gibbard started making furniture in a small way. For over a century furniture has been built by Gibbard craftsmen in Canada's oldest furniture factory. More than fifty years of service is the record of some of the workers who today are guarding the quality of the product which made the name of Gibbard a byword with Canadian home lovers for over 100 years. The Gibbard plant is one of the most modernly equipped furniture factories in Canada, and one out of every four in the Gibbard plant has been with the company for over twenty-five years.

Farrar's Features Famous Vilas Furniture Line

"The perennial popularity of Maple has its very natural roots in the instinct of the Canadian people to cling to their own traditions.

"The fine designs and careful workmanship of the famous master cabinetmakers of early American Colonial days are faithfully reproduced in every piece of Vilas furniture. The pride of expert craftsmanship is in its beauty of line, carefully selected woods and deep, soft finish.

"You may choose Vilas "Brandford" Furniture for any room in your home with full confidence that you will always be proud of its lasting good taste."

Agent Recalls 'Good Old Days' Of Country Sales

Three generations of the same family carrying on in the same line of business is rather unusual, especially so when the representative of a supply firm has supplied all three of the generations.

This is the case with the Farrar Furniture Company, three generations of which have dealt with Mr. A. L. Miller, manufacturer's agent for well-known furniture lines.

In connection with the 10th anniversary of Farrar's Home Furnishings in this city, Mr. Miller has written to Mr. Burt Farrar recalling the "good old days" when he supplied both his father and his grandfather in the Tweed district.

"I just noticed from a letter that you are running a 10th anniversary sale, Burt," Miller wrote.

"This came home very vividly to me for I called on your grandfather, known to us as Jay Farrar, in Tweed, and several nights your dad and I drove out in the old country with a horse and buggy to show and sell parlor suites and couches. This was the Monkey line and also the Peppler line which I still have".

"I do hope you will have a real success, as not many can have a third generation in the line of business.

"I hope you have a son as understudy to carry on."

Occasional Tables Add Grace, Charm to Home

Occasional tables are "Lovely to Live With". Charming and useful occasional furniture has long been admired and sought after by people in all walks of life. Imagine if you will, your living room without complement of small tables—just upholstered chesterfield and chair, and a livelihood to a home. They make entertaining a joy and are a constant admiration of friends. Choose your occasional tables wisely—they will serve you well.

From a small begining in 1938, Dielcraft has now become the largest manufacturer of occasional tables in Canada and offers to homemakers a wide choice of period or modern pieces exquisitely finished by master cabinet craftsmen.

B. B. FARRAR — BELLEVILLE
OFFERS A SPECIAL
SALE OF THE FAMOUS VILAS SOLID ROCK MAPLE FURNITURE

Vilas Maple is gaining wide-spread popularity. The maple selected is so hard in texture it is almost impervious to the mars and blemishes incidental to daily use in the household. The "add-a-piece-plan" of Vilas offers a distinct advantage to those who prefer to select their purchases from "open" stock, when desired.

Individual Pieces

CHAIRS . . $11.95
REFECTORY TABLE . . $47.50
CORNER CUPBOARDS $59.50
WELSH CUPBOARDS $84.50

In all Vilas Solid Rock Maple Furniture the proportions, the pegged construction, the hinges, the drawer pulls, in fact every detail, is carried out true to the traditions of the early Colonial designs.

The rich mellow finish is obtained through the use of oil stains, combined with genuine furniture lacquer of the highest quality. All drawers have centre guides and dustproof divisions. Corners and edges are "worn" by a special sanding process to simulate age and wear.

Vilas Maple
Solid Rock Maple
Bedroom Suite

Rich, mellow finish with centre guides and dust-proof divisions in all drawers. All the charm and symmetry achieved by the early master craftsmen are retained in Vilas Solid Rock Maple Furniture, which will, doubtless, long continue to be the choice of discriminating people.

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

A male sewing circle broke up in a row the other night. All because east failed to bid in answer to his partner's takeout double. East held this hand:

♠ 9 5 7 4
♦ 9 7 4
♣ 10 6 4 2

Both sides were vulnerable. South opened with one diamond and west doubled. North passed. East is now forced to bid. The fact that east has nothing but a bunch of rags does not let him out.

His first choice of bids is any unbid major suit with four or more cards. He has such a suit in spades. He should have bid one spade even if he thought the roof would fall in on him.

But after some deliberation, east passed instead of bidding one spade. South also passed. And there it was at a doubled contract of one diamond with the south as declarer.

East feared any bid he made in that spot might be doubled for a serious penalty. He knew that one diamond doubled was not a game. So he did not see how much harm could come to his side if he passed.

South made the one doubled diamond bid and three extra tricks. That paid 40 points for one diamond doubled, 50 for fulfilling and 200 points for each of the three overtricks. Which gave south and north 690 points.

West had a powerful hand. If east had replied in spades, his side could have made a game in that suit. Which would have paid 120 points for four spades and 500 points for the rubber; total 620 points.

Thus, because east passed, his side paid 690 instead of collecting 620. That was a swing of 1310 poured down a rathole. Even if figured in big measurements, it's quite a spread.

Naturally, west put up quite a howl. He went into a detailed list of reasons why a player with such judgment should never use any.

Finally, he jumped on east with this question: "Why did you pass?" East started "I thought" and west interrupted: "What with?" That broke up the game.

COAL MINERS STRIKE

Paris, Nov. 14—Reuters—Nearly 30,000 coal miners struck today in a communist-led protest against a government decision to make them contribute towards social-security costs.

Listen to Robert Temple over CJBQ Tonight at 10 p.m.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 14 — (AP) — Gene Autry today blamed "lazy stars" as part of the reason for a decline in movie business.

"This business was founded on the star system," said the cowpoke. "I think a star should promote himself as much as possible in every available medium. They should tour the country regularly and help build themselves into top attractions. Personalities have always maintained this business and big names can bring it back to its peak.

More for Less $$.

"But too many stars are laying down on the job. Not only do they not try to sell themselves in other mediums, they even neglect the movies. A lot of them are content to do two pictures a year for a cut of $200,000. They complain the government will take the money if they make any more.

"Maybe the government will take the money. But I say these stars would be better off making four pictures a year at $50,000 apiece. In that way they could bring down the cost of their pictures, and the studios could make more profit. And the stars would get before the public more."

Hard Worker

Gene is perhaps the hardest-working film personality. During this year, he will have made six feature pictures and 52 half-hour television shows, and he appears all over the country, performed on a regular air show and made many records. In addition, he produces another TV series and manages his many financial interests.

"I started work early in life, and I like it," he admitted. "Besides, I feel that if you are going to have a successful career in show business, you should do everything you can to keep yourself before the public."

Canadian-Born Baritone Given High Tribute

New York, Nov. 14 (CP)—Born George London, who made his debut with the Metropolitan Opera Company in Aida last night, is hailed today as one of the greatest singing actors opera-goers have ever known.

The high praise for the Montreal-born baritone comes from Virgil Thomson, music critic of the New York Herald-Tribune, after the performance opening the Met's 1951 season.

Thomson says of London, who sang the role of Amonasro in the revamped version of Verdi's grandest of grand operas:

"George London is already a great baritone star in the grand manner. Beauty of voice, perfection of musical style and a stage power—both by personal presence and by dramatic skill—of the very first order are his.

"Last night he took his place among the greatest singing actors we have any of us known or remembered, and he did it without seeming effort or immodesty, so natural and authoritative were his presence and his art."

The New York Times' critic, Howard Taubman, refers to London only as "a star of the Vienna opera" and one of two singers making their Met debut in Manager Rudolph Bing's second season.

Taubman devotes most of his review to the change in the traditional Met first-night audience, the ticket-price situation, and the changes made under Bing in staging Aida.

Taubman noted the influx of young faces and brown faces in the first-night audience. Missing were many of the old guard who traditionally contributed to the season's start.

Thomson says the newly-decorated and newly-clothed Aida gave the 6th-season opener a "spectacle and a musical performance of unusual distinction."

The debuts of London and Elena Nikolaidi, who sang Amneris, were "handsome."

Among the many dinner parties before the opera was one given by Senator Charles B. Howard of Shawinigan, Que.

28,000 ENGINEERS STRIKE

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Nov. 14 (Reuters)—Twenty thousand engineers in Belfast shipyards and engineering shops struck yesterday in support of their claim for a wage increase of £1 weekly.

AT THE CAPITOL — Bob Hope and William Demarest are riotously funny together in Paramount's picturization of Damon Runyon's "Sorrowful Jones," which comes Thursday to the Capitol Theatre. Bob has the title role and is co-starred with Lucille Ball in this heart-warming comedy about Broadway life. On the same program "Passage West," Color by Technicolor, a Paramount picture, and having its first Belleville showing, starring John Payne, Dennis O'Keefe and Arleen Whelan.

AT THE McCARTHY — Teri Duna is cautioned to keep silent by a Korean soldier in this scene from "Korea Patrol," first feature film about the war in Asia, opening today at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. Second feature presents Alec Guinness and Stanley Holloway in "The Lavender Hill Mob."

No Food Bonus For Christmas

London, Nov. 14—(Reuters)—Britons will have to forego their usual Christmas bonus in rationed foods this year, but will have their normal weekly bacon allotment increased from three ounces to four, Food Minister Gwilym Lloyd George announced today.

Last Christmas the socialist food ministry allowed each person an extra six ounces of candy, 1¼ pounds of sugar and four ounces of shortening for the holiday season.

The general food situation does not permit any increase, the food minister told the House of Commons. He expected to keep the sugar ration up to the present 10 ounces a week a person.

SHARED JACKPOT

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 14 — (Reuters)—Mrs. J. MacLean, a florist, today pulled off a fabulous longshot. With mathematical odds stacked 9,999,800,001 to 1 against her, she won both first and second prizes in the New South Wales State Lottery. She shared the first prize of $13,440 with a friend. The second prize of $2,240 she split with her family.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

QUEEN'S TONIGHT!

Although we have not contacted Coach Red Doran, it is not likely there will be any change in the senior Hawks' line-up tonight from that which opened the season last Friday night with that neat and nifty 11-3 victory over the Peterborough Petes. As a matter of fact the greater majority of fans who saw the game agree that Doran distributed his offensive and defensive power so admirably that the team's ice strength was not weakened by the change of lines.

True two goals were scored when one line was out there but a reminder by Doran to tighten up on defensive tactics halted any further goal-getting when the trio went into action again.

The Hawks showed quite clearly the benefit of pre-season workouts under coaching, but don't run away with any fancy ideas they're going to romp through the creep like they did through the Petes in that inaugural. They may have had the jump in condition as the Petes but 'tis a long tough road to Playoff Hill, and the Hawks will strike a few ruts, bumps and pot-holes before the knoll comes in sight.

The Petes were savvy off their regular fighting form but it is only a matter of time and a game or so under their belts before they become the dangerous potent crew that won the group honors last year unless we are badly mistaken, and the paper power proves to be just that.

The Eagles showed flashes of potency too in their sanctioned against the Queen's University students the other night and according to Manny Perdue, the Peterborough sentimer, the feathered flock from his village is as strong if not stronger than last year.

Keith Montgomery is apparently back from his shopping tour and certainly announced in the same uniform as last year. His shifting from the left wing to the centre of the Eagles' defence while the first line shock troops were the clever Joe Rechetta flanked by Bill Crowley and former Oshawa hockey - baseball star George Brabin. The second line has Bert Hill with Dusty Rhodes and Bosco Winnell at the wings, and Freddy Mortimer centres the third platoon with Jim Wilson, Toronto import and one Reg. Stewart. Perdue says the Eagles will have a fine goaltending team with Tony Mortimer and one Moon Weetion who played real fine for the Dominion champion lacrosse squad last season in the second string defence.

The Hawks see further action here tonight with the Queen's crew which was coached by Johnny Carr-Harris, or are they?, here as special guests. The Hawks' must take this one in order to keep pace with the Peterborough Petes who garnered four points with their win over the students the other night. In fact both Peterborough and Hawks are one game ahead of those tilts. Come in quite handy, do these four-pointers and one of these games could easily mean the difference between a playoff spot and oblivion. However don't be surprised if some of these days the four-pointers become a thing of the past. You figure that one out.

However, the Hawks should add a couple of pelts tonight to the two they have tucked away, unless that outstanding performance of last Friday night was a flash in the pan and there is no reason to believe that. Friday night they make their bow to Kingston fans in the Community Centre where they meet the Kingston Sacs, (presuming that is the correct name) for the first time this season. Incidentally the Kingston team swings into action for the first time tonight against the Eagles in Peterborough.

A REMINDER!

The OMHA Referees Forum moves into Belleville tomorrow (Thursday) night where it will hold forth at Kiwanis Centre starting at seven o'clock. Accordjng to OMHA officials, executive members Sam Curry, Tweed and Bert Hick, Lindsay will be in charge of the forum with NHL official Maurice Walshe acting as instructor. Walshe is a graduate from the ranks of the OMHA and is well qualified to handle the instructor role. He is well-known in these parts having officiated as an OHA referee on several occasions.

LOOK OUT FOR THE SCOTS!

Scotland is fast becoming a producer of hockey talent. Three players of the Scottish Hockey League first saw the light of day in the land of the heather. The trio of Scots parading in the NHL are Adam Brown of Boston and New York's two Jims, Conacher and Ross. Brown was born at Johnstone, Conacher at Motherwell and Ross at Edinburgh. With the exception of Scotland has been the birthplace of more N.H.L. players this season than any other country. Ray Barry, Boston and Pete Babando, Chicago, born in the U.S.A., Pentti Lund, Boston, born in Finland and Jim McFadden, Chicago, born in Ireland, are the only players other than the three Scots not born in Canada.

TWO JEWISH PLAYERS IN N.H.L.

For years the National Hockey League lacked a player of Jewish extraction, but the 1951-52 season finds not one but two Jewish players in the League. They are Hy Buller of New York Rangers and Larry Zeidel of Detroit Red Wings. Both are defencemen and both were born in Montreal. Buller was brought up in Saskatoon, Sask. Alex Levinsky and Max Kaminsky are other Jewish players who performed in the National League back in the thirties.

Crowe Crows, Voyles Boils; 'Got Better Team' Says Clem; 'Love That Mud' Retorts Carl

Hamilton, Nov. 14 (CP)—Hamilton Tiger-Cats, who defeatigstated to Toronto fans last week that they like the messy going, will tr eight at home today when they meet Ottawa Rough Riders in the first game of the home-and-home total-points Big Four final. The Civic Stadium grounds are a mess of mud.

The forecast is more rain this morning and clearing by evening—after the (1:45 p.m. EST) game.

Riders, who ended a three-way tie with Toronto Argonauts and the Cats and drew a bye in the first final round, arrived last night and immediately squelched any ideas that the club has suffered from its 10-day layoff. "Just the contrary," coach Clem Crowe said. "I definitely think that the rest has helped us considerably."

Passing Duel Out

The Tiger-Cats, who squeezed into a first round berth with two points 31-28 edge over the Argos last Saturday, will be at full strength. Only question marks are Gaudaur, Jack Carpenter and Vincent Scott, who has the limp but they will be out there.

Any fears of a passing duel between the Cats' Sparkle Stadiski and Ottawa's Tom O'Malley appeared to be out due to condition of the field. Crowe said he would far rather play on a dry field but officials aren't a bit happy about it.

The Cats proved they were mudders with a 24-7 decision in the first semi-final game in the slush and ice at Ottawa Stadium last week. And a return to that form would put them the betting favorites this afternoon.

Ottawa, which has beaten Tiger-Cats in three of four starts in regular season play, expects a tough battle but Crowe makes no bone about the outcome.

"There isn't a doubt that we'll beat Hamilton," he said yesterday. "We've got a better team. If we lose we'll have no alibis."

The second game will be played at Ottawa Saturday with the winner meeting Sarnia Imperials, Ontario Rugby Football Union champions, for the Eastern Canada title next week. The date and venue will be set at a meeting here tonight.

Sport in Brief

(By The Canadian Press)

There's no hope of laying the Canadian Rugby Union's $15,000 tarpaulin on the Varsity Stadium grounds until Friday at the earliest, stadium officials said yesterday at Toronto. They are waiting for the field to dry out after an all-day rain.

If it were put down now, the field would be greasy for the Nov. 24 Grey Cup final, stadium superintendent Harry Griffiths said.

Griffith's comments were made after president Myer Inzky of the C. R. U. said at Montreal that the tarp may be rolled out at any time now.

Saskatchewan Roughriders, western Canada football champions, will leave Regina Sunday and will arrive in Toronto Tuesday morning, giving them two full free days before the Grey Cup final Saturday.

The Regina team will stay (at Lakeside Court) in suburban Toronto.

American colleges, alarmed lest football be caught in the swirling sports scandal are swinging into action to clean up college sport on a sane basis.

Yale university eliminated spring football practice. Williams, Wesleyan, and Amherst did it last week. More reforms can be expected to follow.

Taking significant of all, the American Council of Education has named a committee of 10 college presidents to investigate the intercollegiate sports problem.

The idea is to make football a college endeavor, and keep it under strict college control.

At Providence, R. I., Robert Crocker, 23, of Braintree, Mass., a jockey's agent, surrendered and pleaded innocent in Superior Court yesterday to an indictment charging him with offering money to a jockey to influence the outcome of a horse race. He was the fourth defendant to be arraigned since a grand jury returned 12 indictments made six men, after its investigation of alleged attempts to fix races at Rhode Island tracks.

Crocker was released on $3,000 bail.

At Brisbane, Australia defeated the touring West Indies cricket team by three wickets in their first test which ended here yesterday. The West Indies batsmen ran up scores of 216 and 245 in their two innings but Australians 226 and 236 for seven wickets.

At Okayama, Japan, the American All-Stars were beaten 3-1 yesterday, the first time an American professional baseball team ever lost a game to Japan. The victors were stars picked from eight teams in Japan's Pacific League the same team that held the visiting Americans to a 2-2, 11-inning tie last week. The Americans have won 12 games, tied one and lost one.

Ottawa may have an entry next season in the eight-team class C Quebec Provincial Baseball League, it was indicated today. President Ivan Dugas of the Sherbrooke Athletics, league champions, said the Ottawa house interview that preliminary discussions have taken place regarding the transfer of his club's franchise to Ottawa.

Hat-Trick Snipers Feature Junior, Senior Games

(By The Canadian Press)

It wasn't hard to pick the stars in the Ontario Hockey Association last night. There was a three-goal scorer in every game.

Orv Tessier scored three as Kitchener - Waterloo moved back into fourth place in the OHA junior A race, defeating third-place Galt Black Hawks 3-2 before 2,546 hometown fans.

Shiris now trail Galt by two points.

At Hamilton, veteran Ab Conlin fired three for Tigers, all in the last period, as they downed Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen 4-3. The win enabled Tigers to increase their senior A league lead to three points over the idle Kitchener Indians.

Last season's Allan Cup champions, Owen Sound Mercurys went down to a 5-3 defeat at the hands of Brantford Redmen as Don Oberholtzer got three for the winners.

Rough play featured the junior game. Kitchener defencemen Jack Farelli, centre of a player dispute recently between the two teams, drew 34 minutes in penalties with a rugged display against Galt mates.

Shiris led all the way. Frank Toyota opened the scoring 1-0 lead in the first period and Red Novak made it 2-0 in the middle session before Tessier took over. Winger Pete Conacher potted both Galt goals.

Alfie Childs Through

Jim Pernfuss scored with only 25 seconds of the game gone for Kitchener-Waterloo. With goalie Bert Hurley playing strong, and at times sensationally, the Dutchmen maintained the 1-0 lead until Red Kenney tossed in the count early in the final period. Conlin then roared through for his three goals and the Mercurys fell.

It was announced that Alf Childs currently aspiring to a political career, made his last appearance as goal for Hamilton. He will be replaced by Al Bennett, former Stratford junior.

Both goalies sparkled in the Brantford-Owen Sound game. Keith Truscott, Redmen's netminder stopped 34 shots, including 16 in a torrid first period. Rival goalie Bob Clifford made 32 saves, 14 coming in the opening frame.

Besides Oberholtzer, Joe Holota and Wally Hnatiuk scored for the winners. Mike Bukachevski, with two, and Buck Forslund were Mercury marksmen.

(By The Canadian Press)

The New Westminster Royals made more are on top of the Pacific Coast Hockey League. They regained sole possession of first place by blanking Tacoma Rockets 6-0 last night as Edmonton Flyers took fifth place alone by defeating Victoria Cougars 6-2.

Royals now have a two point lead over Seattle Ironmen, who were idle last night.

Ken Ullyot scored two of the New Westminster goals, Roger Roberge, Gordon Fashowey, Amy Dufault and Bob Paul got the others.

At Edmonton, Colin Kilburn, Frank Kubasek, Johnny Repath, Nels Podolsky, Pop Backer and Bill Pettinger scored for the Flyers. The Victoria goals were counted by Joe Medynski and Roger Leger.

Jimmie Carter is Slight Favorite Over Art Aragon in Titular Bout

Los Angeles, Nov. 14 (AP)—who blasted Ike Williams out of Fight fans moved closer to bedlam today as champion Jimmy Carter of New York and challenger Art Aragon of Los Angeles prepared to battle tonight for the world lightweight title.

Cal Eaton, promoter of the 15-round attraction, remained confident that all or most of the arena's 16,400 seats would be sold, with seats ranging in price from $20 to $5.

Television fans, excluding the southern California blacked-out area, have no problem. They'll see it free over the CBS network, starting at 10 p.m. EST.

Carter Favored

Carter, the 27-year-old Negro efficient if not quite as lethal as the deposed Williams.

Carter is no mean puncher, either. In 69 fights he has scored 21 knockouts.

Aragon, the golden boy, is no boxer. He's a hitter. At times he looks awkward, but all times is dangerous with either hand.

He has scored 32 knockouts in 64 matches, and like Carter, has been stopped but once.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

Beehm's George Sullivan who scored his first goal of the 1951-52 campaign to serve his team from a 3-0 deficit by Chicago.

Beehm's Wednesday who scored Chicago's second goal against Boston which proved to be the winning tally.

Yankees Grown Rich With 30 Years Slicing World Series Gold Melon

By JACK HAND

New York, Nov. 14—(AP)—No wonder you see all those Yankee ball players parking their flashy convertibles in front of expensive mid-town restaurants.

They make enough in World Series money each year to keep an average Joe going. With the Yanks it's habit-forming, this World Series business.

In the last 31 years the New York American League club finished out of the first division only once—in 1925. Each of the first four clubs in each league gets a slice of the World Series melon.

Red Patterson of the Yanks and his battery of adding machines, whilling away the baseball season by running up totals on the Yankee dough, came up with a staggering bank balance.

Paid Wars Total

Starting in 1921 when Miller Huggins won the first Yankee pennant, the New Yorkers have been paid a total of $3,515,-906.46 from the series pot o'gold.

Closest to the Yanks $1-year-total are St. Louis Cardinals but they have less than half as much—$1,614,810.50.

Patterson's neat little machine comes up with this bank balance for Yank players since 1921:

|---|---|
| 18 pennant winners | $3,055,397.14 |
| 8 second place clubs | 133,702.04 |
| 5 third place clubs | 96,311.23 |
| 1 fourth place club | 11,589.42 |
| Total | $3,215,908.46 |

Obviously no ball player has been around for all the gravy. Frankie Crosetti, now a coach, has been with the Yanks since 1932. He has taken home enough to keep the Crosetti home well supplied with vegetables—about $70,000 in extra money.

Not far back is Bill Dickey, another coach of the present Yanks and one of the all-time great catchers in his day. Joe DiMaggio is close up too, without even counting the 1951 season's salary.

Of the oldtimers Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig drew the heavy sugar. And manager Joe McCarthy and coach Art Fletcher didn't have to pay the income tax of the later players either.

On the head of all shares (the usual split) the average addition to each Yankee pay check during the last 31 years is $3,053.13.

Manuel Ortez Hangs Up Gloves

Los Angeles, Nov. 14 (AP) — Manuel Ortiz, who ruled the world bantamweight division from 1942 to 1950, has decided to hang up the gloves.

Ortiz, now a retund 33, was tabbed to meet Ray Famechon in Paris Dec. 3 but said yesterday that he is quitting the ring for keeps.

He won the bantamweight title in 1942 from Lou Salica; lost it to Harold Dade of Chicago in 1947, and regained it 64 days later; and last year in Johannesburg, South Africa lost the crown to Vic Towell, the British champion.

HOLIDAY FOR HUNTING

Gore Bay, Ont., Nov. 14 (CP)—Stores and banks were closed in this Manitoulin Island town Tuesday. It was an official holiday proclaimed to allow all citizens to go deer hunting.

Mohawks Snap Losing Streak, Trim Flyers 5-2

St. Louis, Nov. 14—(CP)—Defenceman Pat Egan scored three goals to lead Cincinnati Mohawks to a 5-2 victory over St. Louis Flyers last night and snap a three-game losing streak.

The victory boosted the Mohawks into a third-place tie with the Flyers in the western division of the American Hockey League, each with 14 points.

Ian Mackintosh scored the other two goals for the Mohawks as 3,163 spectators saw the Flyers' losing skein extended to four straight games.

Sid Finney and George Milligan scored the Flyer goals.

North Bay Hawks Strengthen Club

North Bay, Nov. 14 (CP) — North Bay Black Hawks of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association senior A group have announced the signing of Rick Hogg, a member of the 1946-49 Barrie Flyers team.

He will make his initial appearance against the Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds Saturday night.

Hawks, without a regular goalie, also said that Don Wilson, who started the season with Windsor Spitfires of the Ontario Hockey Association junior A league, has been working out and may be signed to a North Bay contract.

GOOD CURLING

Galt, Nov. 14 (CP) — Some exceptional curling was witnessed as play in the Early Bird Bonspiel continued yesterday.

In second round of the little trophy event, G. Mulvey of Fergus defeated N. Hinsey of Galt 13-11 and Belmore's C. H. Renwick rink downed the Kitchener foursome of H. E. Ebenhol 15-2.

WINS POTATO AWARD

Walford Station, Ont., Nov. 14 (CP)—The world potato king crown yesterday came to Arthur Thomas Hartwick of this small community near Sudbury "when I wasn't looking."

The Green Mountain potatoes which brought him the title at the Royal Winter Fair yesterday were a variety which had been raised by his father. Hartwick said he had been trying since 1937 to win the potato prize.

He grew the potatoes in a 3½ acre plot which he plants every year. One year, a yield of 777.7 bushels and acre won him a prize for having the largest pre-acre production.

Red Sox Start Player Deals On Big Scale

Boston, Nov. 14 (AP) —Now that the Boston Red Sox have made their first 1952 move—a four player straight swap with the Chicago White Sox—general manager Joe Cronin and Lou Boudreau, the new pilot, indicate they will do much more player dickering during next month's baseball meetings.

They did not need owner Tom Yawkey's fabulous bankroll, obtaining outfielder-first baseman Don Lenhardt and veteran pitcher Randy Gumpert in exchange for young southpaw Chuck Stobbs and rookie infielder Mel Hoderlein.

But they indicate they have their multi-millionaire boss primed to top all rivals for such needed catching strength and a competent second base replacement for retired Bobby Doerr.

Be More Deals

"There'll be more deals soon if we can strengthen our catching and infield weaknesses without giving up too much," Boudreau said.

"Lenhardt should do us a lot of good," Boudreau declared. "He's a long righthanded hitter who should be able to add 30 points to his .265 average playing 77 games in Fenway Park.

"And Gumpert will be a great help in relief. Now we will be able to save Ellis Kinder for the late innings. Frequently Ellis was called on too early in the games last season."

Boudreau figures that Lenhardt will come in handy at first base if Walt Dropo continues in his 1951 slump. The new Red Sox manager is indicated that versatile Billy Goodman may be the answer to his second base problem.

Both Boudreau and Cronin regretted giving up Stobbs, who drew a $35,000 bonus when the Red Sox signed him as a Norfolk, Va., schoolboy sensation in 1947. Last season he had a 10-9 record while being plagued by asthma.

Neither Cronin nor Boudreau would comment about slugger Ted Williams' place in their plans for next season. But both emphasized that Lenhardt, an experienced left fielder, was not obtained as a replacement for their $125,000 star, who is rated expendable but only for two or more vitally needed topflight players.

Louis' Taxes Nearly Paid Off; Not to Retire

Tokyo, Nov. 14 (AP) — Joe Louis said today his income tax situation is "just about cleaned up."

But he added that he has no plans to retire.

The former world heavyweight champion arrived by plane for a series of boxing exhibitions in major Japanese cities. A portion of the gate receipts will go to charity.

The Brown Bomber will meet volunteer opponents in the exhibitions. Four U.S. Navy men have been picked.

Several hundred fans greeted the Louis party at Haneda airport. He toweled over the Japanese who pressed eagerly forward.

A reporter asked him if he was going to keep on fighting just to pay off back income taxes.

"Not at all," said Joe.

"It's just about cleaned up."

About his future plans, Louis said, "I'll make up my mind about those things when I get through with these exhibitions here in Japan."

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars.

For Thursday, November 15

March 21 to April 20— (Aries)—Don't just philosophize, put that good figuring to good use. Reality must be realized. And we all are accountable for misuse of God-given talents. Watch for new opportunities.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Move forward, but consider nothing done till it is actually finished. And keep out petty thoughts, criticizing. Your true talents rebels against these and their unhappy after-effects anyway.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Directness of purpose, authenticity, suffering patiently setbacks will bring greater benefits than imagined. Study the personal side of matters as carefully as the business or monetary.

June 22 to July 22—(Cancer)—With proper study, electronics and research as your poignant aids, things will look up more favorably from every angle. Your day should be filled with the joy of doing things well.

July 24 to August 22—(Leo)—Approach tasks with understanding, accuracy of facts. Otherwise there will be foolish waste of effort and time. Consider the wishes of loved ones and superiors; both better your way.

August 23 to September 22—(Virgo)—One doesn't ever need to feel down because of lack of early education; there are all sorts of ways and means offered for self study and advancement; to the highest. Today says, "tact!"

September 24 to October 23 —(Libra)—Puzzling factors' All hazards are temporary, and he who does something about correcting rehabilitating, striving any worthy way will change obstacles to easy go on a success basis.

October 24 to November 22 —(Scorpio)—Don't dwell on economy, get busy looking up your interesting activities or projects. Put your buoyant self back of what you do, and you will be happy, it not immediately successful.

November 23 to December 22—(Sagittarius) —Colorful, inviting day. It can culminate in fine gains for you, yours, and the interests close to you, if you put your best foot forward, consistently and with cheerful heart.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn) — What we like or want is often the opposite to what we get or should have. So don't be disappointed if things don't always "pan out." Life runs as it does for our best: be the philosopher.

January 22 to February 20—(Aquarius) — Act with clear thought, unhampered by worry or fears; make decisions with care, and hold courageously to them, except where you feel some better way is shown. Good day for deeds.

February 21 to March 20— (Pisces)—Possibilities galore for your talents and leanings. But you must also carry along with you sturdy decision and faith in your projects or purpose. Calm, studied action urged.

...YOU BORN TODAY have many good characteristics, and a few faults (who hasn't) to correct. Innately kind, generous, sympathetic, vigorous is a fault at times. Guard not to be fooled by flatterers (you may sense their flattery, but may overlook their real insincerity), and be careful about whom you take into your confidence. Don't be overmeticulous, neither fail into the opposite category of carelessness about being prompt and accurate. Many noted surgeons, writers, religious, military and industry leaders and explorers born in Scorpio.

Birthdate of Vincent Astor, financier; Wm. Pitt, Earl of Chatham, statesman; Sir Wm. Herschel, famed astronomer.

The Outsiders

By Jane Abbott

But Jeremy Penny and Chris Cameron came, on the tick of half-past six—and together, like gelling. Chris looking very different in city clothes—really distinguished, Marilyn admitted, against her will.

John pulled the chairs from the table and they sat at the other end of the porch while they waited, Jeremy Penny not saying a word, and John and Chris talking, of all things, about eagles' nests. Chris Cameron had found one up on the hill back of his place.

Marilyn sat where she could watch the road and see Eliza's car when it came in sight, or George, on foot.

But it was George's car that came along. Eliza was with him —as if he were a date! Rage shook Marilyn to her toes.

"Well, here you are at last!" She did not care that her voice had a sharp edge.

"I'm awfully sorry we're late," said Eliza.

"Blame me folks. I was detained." Though George Culbert did not say it with any regret. "Hello, everybody." He waved a hand over the little group.

Marilyn introduced Eliza to Jeremy and John. Then to Chris.

"Or have you met him?"

Eliza did not answer. Chris held out his hand and she took it, after a slight hesitation.

The party began. But it did not go on as Marilyn thought a party should, with everyone laughing and making wisecracks, all at the same time. Right off John asked Eliza if she thought she was going to like the climate here and she said she would and George said wait until winter came and Chris Cameron said the winters were the best of all the seasons, and then they went on about weather.

Jeremy Penny ate, with her eyes on her food most of the time. Every now and then Chris Cameron drew her into the talk and she would look up and say something and then look down again. Whatever Chris Cameron sees in her," she thought. Maybe it's salving the harrassing soreness of her own spirits with scorn for Jeremy. "She's not that good."

George said presently, a little loudly to claim their whole attention, "y'know, this is interesting, when you think of it! The six of us here—we're like these fellows in the war who drifted on rafts together for weeks on end before they were rescued. Isn't that so?"

When no one agreed at once that it was so, he enlarged a little on it. "We're all stuck here—one or two more from the others until we get here—and now here we are, a tight little cooperation in ourselves." He lifted his coffee cup. "Here's to us!"

Marilyn drew forward to the edge of her chair. "We'll play a game!" There was a suggestion of desperation in her voice. "Did not those men on the rafts kill time by talking about what they wished they had, like big beefsteaks? Didn't they George? Well, we'll play that—one of us think of what he'd like most to have in New Interval and the others guess. Oh, you give the first letter of it! I'll begin—You thinking about something and the first letter is M."

John's sister had played such a game at some of their small parties in Kingston. She had thought it horribly boring but—anything, now, to liven things up.

"That's easy! Movies!" guessed George Culbert, promptly, laughing. But, at least he was speaking to her and not Eliza! Marilyn flashed him a bright look.

"You're so clever—give us a letter, now, yourself."

"Well, let me think." George assumed the manner of humouring a child. "I have it, N. At least the first word of it begins with N."

"Neon lights!" ventured Eliza after a few moments in which no one offered a guess.

"Say, that's darn good! It is that. A whole lot of them strung over the front of a night spot and a good floor show inside. Take over bright girl."

Eliza looked a little confused. "I don't know what . I'd like most to find here. I haven't been here long enough. Please 'mention one else. . ."

"Well, you give us one Jeremy" said Marilyn, a little acidly, seeing the game going flat, like everything else.

"Me? Oh, no."

"Come along, Miss Penny" urged George Culbert. "Reveal your innermost desires! I'll bet, if you're truthful, it's to find a nice boy friend here!" He winked at the others.

Red flamed to Jeremy's temples. She stammered "I'm not—I wouldn't . . I'd rather . . ." Then she floundered into silence.

"How about finding a central heating plant in the schoolhouse some cold morning," suggested Chris, smiling encouragingly at her.

Jeremy drew an audible breath of relief. "Why that's what I would like to find!"

Marilyn sprang up from her chair. There was no one going on with the silly guessing. "I'll get some more coffee."

George might follow her into the kitchen, to help.

But he did not move. She heard him say, "by any chance, Miss Penny, are you related to the Roland Penny who wrote The Body in the Corn Crib?"

She did not know he'd ever read a book!

She heard Jeremy say "No," But in a funny voice and when she went back to the table with the hot coffee the men were talking about the book, and Jeremy was sitting, looking down at her plate, her face as white as a sheet.

They went on talking about books then, mystery stories and why anyone read them and which were the best and then about other books and Eliza looking all alive and joining in. . .

"Well, if that's the end of a good time!" Marilyn propped her elbows on the table and sipped her coffee.

George appeared to know as much about books as they talked about as the others. "He's showing off to Eliza!" Marilyn told herself, her jealousy growing. Once when Chris spoke of a book Eliza would defer — something about New Hampshire —she saw George take a little black notebook from his pocket and write down the name of it and then smile at Eliza as much as to say he'd order it tomorrow.

Then suddenly the talk turned from books. George asked "that accident at the mill, Culbert—is it likely to shut down work for any time?"

"What accident?" The managing director looked up, his face quickly from him to Chris Cameron.

"You don't know about it?"

George Culbert stiffened. "I had to go to Cranford this afternoon, on business. It couldn't have been a scene defect in the machine rather than his clumsiness? I thought he was considered a very competent man."

The ugly look in George Culbert's eyes was for Chris, then. But he answered smoothly, "I'll know all about it tomorrow. And we're not very polite are we to bring up shop like this, at a party? Know any more games, Marilyn?"

Marilyn shook her head, letting her expression say that she would not play, even if she knew any. But diversion came from outside—a loud clap of thunder rolling up through the valley and then another.

THOMASBURG

Thomasburg— The sympathy of the entire Thomasburg community goes out to the Geen family in their time of sorrow. To Madeline and her two little daughters, Joyce and Barbara, so suddenly bereft of husband and father and to Mrs. Margaret Geen, who through a long period of time has borne the cares of a large family, so courageously.

At the manse this week, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke have as their guest, Mr. Clarke's sister, Mrs. Mallory, of Trenton.

Mrs. C. Reid and her cousin, Mrs. Garry, of Owen Sound, are visiting this week at Mrs. Reid's brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. C. Mullet of Crookston.

Several of the Thomasburg hunters have taken advantage of the season and gone north. The weather has not been favorable for hunting and the dreams of juicy venison steaks, . . . by their families and friends, may be only a dream.

Slaughter of U.S. Prisoners Shocks Army Command

Figures Released Without Knowledge of Top Officers

Tokyo, Nov. 15 (AP) — The reported communist slaughter of some 5,000 American prisoners of war today shocked general headquarters from top to bottom.

Col. James M. Hanley, chief of the war crimes section of the Eighth Army, said he divulged the figures because he thought American soldiers at front ought to know what they are up against.

In an exclusive interview in Pusan, Korea, Hanley said the story about the "wanton murder" of American prisoners should have been put out a long time ago."

Apparently no one knew he was going to make the statement in front of all Gen. Mathew B. Ridgway, who was duck hunting. Preparing Announcement

General headquarters officers are preparing an announcement for release tomorrow to clarify "the basis for some of Hanley's figures."

Even Gen. James A. Van Fleet commander of the Eighth Army in Korea, said he had no advance knowledge. He declined comment.

Hanley, chief of the war crimes section of the Eighth Army, released the startling total yesterday at a press conference in Pusan, Korea.

What Hanley did was total all the reports and estimates of communist atrocities since the beginning of the war.

These figures came from captured reds, escaped U.N. prisoners, civilians and allied agents operating behind communist lines.

In some cases the bodies actually were counted. Many of the massacres had been reported long before.

One high officer greeted the announcement with "hopeful skepticism."

"I am just hoping that our estimates are too high," he said. "I am keeping in mind that the enemy knows how dear to America every captured airman or soldier is and that every captured American is extremely valuable bargaining material for armistice negotiations."

"All I wanted," Hanley said today in Pusan, "was to let the G.I.S. know what the Chinese are doing and let them react to the communist propaganda."

He said that last September he submitted a memorandum to the office of the Judge Advocate General of general headquarters in Tokyo asking authority to tell the story. Only early this past month, he was notified the story could be released.

Delayed by Reports

Allied troops generally had presumed the Chinese had treated well their prisoners better than the Nazis had. Nazis massacred an estimated 3,000 Americans early in the war.

This fear was fed by the Chinese red strategy of releasing American and British prisoners in small groups last winter when the fighting was raging at its highest peak.

An Allied spokesman said the incomplete tally of atrocities shows "a record of brutality and barbarism unique even in the communist world."

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Nov. 15 (AP)—Synopsis: The storm over Ontario moved across Lake Superior on Wednesday. It was weakening rapidly as it moves northeastward into Quebec. In the wake cooler air has spread across Ontario and light snowfalls are occurring over northern and central sections of the province.

An area of unsettled weather is developing over Texas and will move northeastward today bringing a threat of rain to the Great Lakes region tonight and Friday. Present indications are that the rain area will remain south of the lakes but cloudiness will spread over southern forecast regions tonight. Seasonable temperatures will prevail throughout the province tonight and Friday in contrast to the unusually mild weather of the past few days.

Missing Toronto Teacher, Divorcee Held in Chicago

Chicago, Nov. 15. (CP)—A former Toronto school teacher, who federal authorities say faked his own "murder" so that he could desert his family, today was scheduled to appear before a deportation hearing.

Federal officials yesterday seized Alfred P. Greene, 39, on a deportation warrant. District Director Marcus T. Neelly said Greene has been living illegally in the United States since August, 1950. His wife and two children live in Toronto.

Greene was arrested after Mrs. Beatrice Reason, the 32-year-old four-time divorcee who is the "other woman" in the case, asked him to call at the immigration office, Neelly said.

Mrs. Reason, an Australian, was already in the hands of the immigration authorities when she made the request. The deportation hearing will be held if the two have no valid defences against it.

Neelly said Greene admitted faking his own murder to "make it easy for my wife to understand my disappearance." His wrecked car, bloodstained, was found with papers from his wallet, was found in Toronto Aug. 9, 1950.

A week later, according to Neelly, Greene said he took an advertising job in St. Louis.

(In Toronto, Greene's wife said last night she is willing to take her wandering husband back.

"Things will be different if he comes back," she said in an interview. "He's not a bad man. He was a good husband and a good father until he met that woman."

(Mrs. Greene said her husband was under a lot of strain at his work as a high school coach and said: "I think it affected him mentally.")

Neelly said the hearing will determine whether the two will be allowed to leave the country voluntarily, will be deported, or will be required to remain here.

Will Not Take Husband Back

Toronto — Mrs. Alfred Greene said today she would not take her errant husband back under any circumstances.

That contradicts what she was quoted as saying last night when she learned of his arrest in Chicago.

Greene, 39, a former high school teacher Alfred P. A. Greene, and four-time divorcee, Beatrice Reason was cleared up with their arrest in Chicago. They are held on illegal entry into the United States.

Princess Elizabeth's Farewell Letter Hopeful of Seeing Canada Soon Again

Ottawa, Nov. 15 (CP)—Princess Elizabeth, in a farewell letter read to the Commons Wednesday afternoon, said she hoped to be back in Canada before long.

The letter, dated Nov. 14 at St. John's Nfld., and addressed to Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, follows:

"Dear Prime Minister,

Before leaving I want to tell you how grateful my husband and I are for your kind and your colleagues for having given us so great an experience on this journey across Canada. Everywhere we received on all sides has far exceeded anything we could have believed possible, and we have been given a picture of the rich variety of Canadian life which we shall never forget, and which has interested us profoundly.

It has given us infinite pleasure to have had the chance of meeting and talking to so many Canadians in every walk of life, and we have been happy to have had with us on various parts of our journey your colleagues in the cabinet. Their advice has been invaluable, and we have much enjoyed getting to know them personally as well as having given us an insight into Canadian affairs.

I hope that you will convey our thanks and appreciation to all members of the three services who have done so much to make our visit a success. We are very glad that we made it possible for us to travel in two ships of the Royal Canadian Navy, and the air aircraft of the Royal Canadian Air Force; we know also how much the army has done at all times for us. Our visits to Army, Navy and Air Force establishments impressed us greatly and we are proud to have been saluted by so many guards of honor of all three services throughout the length of our journey.

I am sure I need not tell you that this, our first visit to Canada, has made us wish to come back before too long to see more of the country and its people. I shall look forward to that. I will soon have the chance of meeting you again.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) Elizabeth.

WAR VETERANS' ALLOWANCES MAY BE INCREASED

Govt. May Give Pension Boost of About 30 P.C.

Ottawa, Nov. 15. (CP)— The slow but steady build-up of parliamentary pressure for an immediate increase in war veterans' allowances moved apace in the Commons yesterday.

The Social Credit group rallied fresh support for a motion, tossed into the lingering Throne-Speech debate last week, which criticizes the government for "failing" to compensate burned-out veterans for increased living costs.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, pledged his party support for the motion, tantamount to one of non-confidence in the government, and individual Progressive Conservative speakers joined in the call for higher allowance payments.

The government has promised to raise veterans' pensions generally, but hasn't indicated just when or how much. Unofficial reports say the boost will be 30 to 35 per cent. The allowance, paid to veterans unemployed apart from service, is $40 a month for single veterans and $70 for married.

Rose to Challenge

Cruickshank (L—Fraser Valley), Joliet those criticizing the government for its inaction, but said he could not support the motion because he had faith in the administration's promise to increase the pensions.

Action Pledged

Along with the pensions' issue, the Chamber discussed the South Saskatchewan irrigation project, with opposition speakers criticizing the government to launch the development without delay.

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, supported his party's motion for a $100 monthly boost in veterans' allowances he raised to $85 a month for single and $100 for married. This would cost not more than $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 a year.

Mr. Coldwell, while supporting that motion, stressed the need for the early start on the South Saskatchewan project. The government had been slow in appointing still another commission to review the work of past exploratory boards.

Accused of Short-Changing

Mrs. George Hees (PC—Toronto Broadview), accusing the government of "short-changing" the veterans and their dependants, claimed that it would face a fighting opposition if it did not bring down pension increases.

Julian Rogers (PC—Quebec North), a veteran of the First World War, suggested the government set up three committees of the veterans, and suggested the permanent defence program is not adequate.

Frost Tells Meeting Ontario People Taxed Less Per Capita Than in Any Other Province

The Ontario government is taxing the people less per capita than any other provincial government in Canada, Hon. Leslie Frost, prime minister of Ontario, told an audience of about 850 persons, in the Belleville Collegiate auditorium, Wednesday night.

"And during the eight years that I have been provincial treasurer, we have had a balanced budget every year," Mr. Frost added. "This is the first time in Ontario's history that there have been eight consecutive balanced budgets. Next year is going to be the ninth."

"The Conservative government of Ontario does not levy any income tax, or any sales tax, or any tobacco tax, or any other nuisance tax, although the province has to pay some of these, or all of them, in the other provinces.

"While keeping your taxes down and balancing your budget, we were successful in greatly increasing the services which your government provides for the people.

Increased Health Services

"We have increased Ontario's health services from an expenditure of $10,000,000, which is what it was the last year the C.C.F. came into power, to $41,000,000 last year.

Dealing with Belleville and Hastings county Mr. Frost stated: "In the last eight years, 20 new school services were elected, school grants in this county totalled $1,800. Last year, your government gave the schools of Belleville $71,000 in grants.

"For the whole county of Hastings, here are the education grants: $190,000 for the last year a Liberal government was in power. In 1951 today, under your present government, just under $1,000,000 a year.

Other Services Quoted

"Here are some more figures. Under the administration which preceded us at Queen's Park, total grants to municipalities were equivalent to 12 mills on the dollar. Today, they are equivalent to 35 mills on the dollar. In 1943, provincial grants to Hastings county equalled $6.30 per capita. Today, they equal $31.50 per capita, and as you know, the population has increased a good deal."

Mr. Frost then dealt with the increase which his administration had made in hydro service. "We have more than doubled the service which hydro renders to the people," he said. "In Hastings county, this service has been more than doubled. The number of rural consumers in Hastings has increased from 1,100 to 2,700."

"Turning to hospital accommodation, Mr. Frost said: "We were the first government in Canada to make capital grants to hospitals. We have made 1,650 additional hospital beds available in Ontario.

Two Hospitals Opened

"In this district, you know that one new hospital has been opened at Bancroft and another at Trenton. You know also of the projected addition to the Belleville hospital. Within the last year or two, 117 more hospital beds have been provided in Hastings county. Grants to hospitals in Hastings county have been raised from $9,000 a year, when we came into power, to $35,000 last year.

"There had been a great deal of talk during the current election campaign. Mr. Frost said, about "hospital plans". "Some may think that providing hospital plans is more important," he said, "but we believe that providing hospital beds is more important. While others have talked about plans, we have been providing the beds, and not in just this part of the province."

Commons Radio Committee Postpones Study of Giving 6¼ Million Grant to C.B.C.

Ottawa, Nov. 15. (CP)—A. D. Dunton, CBC chairman, said today an improved financial situation will enable the CBC to improve its coverage in smaller and quarters in various parts of Canada.

Mr. Dunton was the first witness to testify at the newly-established radio committee of the Commons.

The committee decided to postpone study of a government proposal to provide parliamentary grants of $6,250,000 a year to the CBC.

Mr. Dunton said there are many improvements he has been planning necessary.

It would to improve its coverage, particularly in outlying areas. This would require relay stations in some localities, new transmitters in others and the linking of private stations to CBC network in addition to other Material Shortages

Arrangements have been made for a micro-wave link from Buffalo, N.Y., to Toronto and Montreal via Ottawa.

The line will link Canadian stations with the American TV network.

Mr. Dunton said that possibly the next move will be to extend the television service to Windsor, Ont., out from Toronto and to Quebec from Montreal.

Possible Next Move

The next move might be to establish a network, Mr. Dunton said, but this would be supplied with programs filmed in Toronto and Montreal.

Later TV stations would be established in other populous areas.

Mr. Dunton told the committee there had been charges that some CBC broadcasts were "discussional". The programs were not named and he asked the committee to look into the charges.

The committee was furnished with transcripts of seven broadcasts by Dr. W. Line of the University of Toronto, Dr. Bertrand Russell, Dr. Gordon Chisholm, and Dr. Anna Freud. Mr. Dunton said there were some complaints of a smart nature about the broadcasts but the favorable comments outnumbered the complaints 10 to one.

ROYALTY NEARING HOME

On Board the Empress of Scotland, Nov. 15. (Reuter)—The Empress of Scotland, bringing Princess Elizabeth and Prince Duke of Edinburgh home from their Canadian tour, was less than 450 miles from Northern Ireland this afternoon.

The liner was making full speed in good weather. There was a steady breeze and a moderate sea.

The princess and her husband are due to arrive at Liverpool early Saturday morning.

NOT LIKELY U.S. WILL GRANT AID SOUGHT BY IRAN

Americans Want Oil Issue Settled First

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP) — Officials here think it unlikely that the United States will grant Iran large scale financial help to Iran as long as the Iranian-British oil dispute remains unsettled.

Some dribblets of American dollars did probably will go forward, but the big ones have expressed Iran from bankruptcy may chaos.

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh said yesterday that he has asked President Truman support for "immediate financial aid" to help the Iranian government during its quarrel with Britain. Aides said he wants a total of $120,000,000 during the next 18 months.

But responsible American officials said it is extremely unlikely Iran will get anything approaching that amount because the flow of Iranian oil is blocked to the west.

About $24,000,000 can be given outright under the mutual security program, and $16,000,000 under the government's export-import bank. This was offered more than a year ago.

Believed Too Small

To draw on this credit, however, Premier Mossadegh's government must satisfy the bank that it can repay such a credit. With oil royalties from Britain and American firms cut off, Iran's revenues are believed too small to guarantee repayment.

American financial and political policy-makers appear to feel that giving Iran all it asked would encourage the government to continue rejecting offers for a compromise of the oil quarrel.

But minimum financial help with an American eye to how to prevent a possible communist-led revolt.

Mossadegh plans to leave Sunday for Egypt before returning to Tehran. He is expected to propose a united front with the Egyptians in the their common fight against Britain.

In a speech yesterday he scolded the western powers for what he called its failure to present "a complete and correct interpretation" of Iran's drive to nationalize the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

LENGTHEN SESSION.

Pittsfield, Mass., Nov. 15 (AP) That legislators of Massachusetts and the Saturday holiday in United States schools seem destined for the same time as the little red school house. A report by a special legislative group was made public last night forecast a lengthened session under the present 180-day schedule, 37 Saturday morning sessions, and the legislature's use the present school day by 1½ hours.

Third Missing In Accident Near Severn Bridge

Mix-up in Orders Cause Of Crash Says Official

Severn Bridge, Nov. 15.—(CP)— Two trainmen were killed when two freight trains collided near here Wednesday night. A third man is missing. Six were injured.

The Canadian National Railways trains both extra freights, collided when the 20-car southbound train pulled into a siding to let a crack passenger train the

The dead: Clarence Hueston, 70, Northland; go through conductor, and Royce Recvie, Cedar Brae, fireman.

J. D. Brown, Gravenhurst, brakeman, is missing.

The injured:

Conductor J. Fraser, Toronto; brakeman W. Fitzgerald, brakeman D. W. Morreau; fireman V. C. Lambert, Allandale; engineer F. A. Bumstead and Engineer K. F. Mann.

Released From Hospital

Fraser, Fitzgerald and Lambert were released from hospital after treatment for lacerations and bruises. Bumstead remained in hospital at Orillia, 10 miles south of this Muskoka district community.

The C.N.R. corrected earlier reports that a freight train and a work train were involved. It said both trains were extra freights. One was bound south, the other north. The locomotive on each overturned.

The momentum of the crash carried some of the freight cars forward to smash over the wreckage of the engines. Passenger trains north were being rerouted through South Parry.

C.N.R. superintendent W. B. Edey said the trains collided after a mix-up in orders. They hit at a speed of about 25 or 30 miles an hour on a siding as the Northland passed on another track.

Rescue workers cut the bodies free from the wreckage with acetylene torches. They pinioned under the overturned locomotive today for trace of the missing firemen.

Mass of Wreckage

Doctors, hurried to the scene in ambulances from Orillia, worked in darkness and through heavy steam to treat the injured. A dozen doctors were pulled three storeys high atop the overturned engines, forming a pyramid that loomed impressively in the red lights of railway flares.

Wrecking crews heaped piles of shattered lumber from the splintered box-cars to light a bonfire to help in the search for the missing man.

Lambert 28-year-old fireman on the northbound freight, said he did not see the other engine until it was 50 feet away. "It was on us before I could open my mouth," he said.

Winter Sketches What Canada Doing To Build up Preparedness Program

Boston, Nov. 15 (CP) — Although the population of the United States is only 11 times as large as Canada's, U.S. production of defence goods is 18 or 20 times larger, Raymond Minister Winter of Canada said today.

The United States for a variety of reasons is a wealthier country than ours with a more favorable higher productivity per head, Mr. Winter told the Canadian Club.

Also a greater percentage of the total revenue had to be used to administer and govern the country. Governments and administrations, railways, telephone lines, postal services and so "hundred and one other things" had to be provided on a per head of population.

Canada in a half hour's talk prepared for the governors' session of the New England-council sketched what Canada is doing to build up its defence preparedness program.

He suggested if defence effort comparisons are made, they should be in terms of the gross-national income which reflects $5,000,000,000 barrels.

Canada is building potential production levels greatly in excess of what it could handle now without seriously interfering with the drop of a hat.

"Our program includes 14 destroyer escorts to be produced during a period of three years," minister said. "We are, however, building facilities for the production of the propulsion machinery that would be capable of producing at more than this rate in a single year."

Aircraft plants were being built capable of producing at a trebling present output of engines and airframes.

Mr. Winter said like yours now is emerging from the tooling stage," he said.

Speaking of Canada's natural resources, he said it an economic method can be found for extracting oil from Alberta's Athabaska tar sands, the country's oil reserves would exceed the present total known world reserves

Mix-up in Orders Cause Of Crash Says Official

All 36 Aboard Missing U.S. Transport Dead

Chambon - Sur - Lac, France, Nov. 15 (AP) — Rescue crews today found the shattered, snow-encrusted wreckage of a missing United States Air Force transport plane 5,000 feet up a mountain pass in southern France all 36 aboard were dead.

American and French rescuers began bringing the battered, burned bodies of the 30 passengers and six crew members — all U.S. military personnel — down the side of the mountain where the twin-engined flying boxcar crashed Tuesday.

Rescue teams who fought their way up snow-and-ice-strewned, 6,000 foot hills south of Paris said most of the fire-scarred bodies were battered to bits by the crash.

The plane itself appeared to be in one piece, with only small bits of wreckage scattered over about 30 square yards. Its two engines had buried themselves into the snow-encrusted soil and the fuselage apparently had burst open.

A team of French soldiers first sighted the wreckage just after dawn. They had trekked afoot and on skis all night, through a three-foot snow layer, to reach the crash scene. Later they were joined by 10 U.S. Air Force rescue workers.

Earlier reports that a French plane had first sighted the wreckage and directed rescuers to the area proved erroneous, although both French and American planes had been combing the area constantly.

TWO BELLEVILLE MEN JOIN FIGHTER SQUADRON

WO2 J. L. "Joe" LaChance and Sgt. Gedeon L. Grant of Belleville are included in the group of 32 officers and men from the province of Ontario who left to join personnel of 410 "Cougar" fighter squadron who sailed for Europe from Halifax, N.S., aboard the aircraft carrier H.M.C.S. Magnificent on October 30.

The squadron, equipped with its own Canadian-built F-86 Sabre jet aircraft, will carry out further training in England before proceeding to the continental Europe to form part of the RCAF air division, which will operate under General Eisenhower.

During recent interviews all members of the Cougar squadron indicated that they are looking forward to their new experience in Europe. They will arrive in England approximately the middle of November and will immediately become part of the RCAF Fighter wing which was recently formed in the United Kingdom.

Fifteen Cases Listed for Action In Supreme Court

The non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court are in session at the county court house this week under The Honorable Mr. Justice Barlow. Fifteen cases are listed for action including 10 divorce actions.

First case on the docket to come before the court was a civil action brought by the Industrial Molasses Corporation against the Empire Hanna Coal Company.

The damage action resulted from the loss two years ago of a large quantity of molasses into the Bay of Quinte when an intake pipe leading from the company to a large molasses storage tank in the waterfront became broken. The molasses company claimed that piling of coal on the dock by the coal company caused the pipe to become broken.

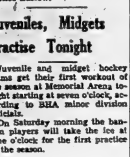
Judgment was reserved by Mr. Justice Barlow.

Soccer Champions Receive Trophies At League Smoker

Presentation of trophies featured Bay of Quinte Soccer League smoker at the gunners' mess of the Royal Canadian School of Artillery at Picton on Tuesday night.

The Trenton Challenge Cup was presented to the Batawa team, winners of the series by Wright Linet, D. Hanley, Trenton Legion Depot. The trophy donated by the Tip Top Tailors, Trenton, was won last year by the Northern Lights team.

The Batawa team also was presented with the Belleville Charity Cup now known as the Bill Harvey Trophy.



The beautiful Kent Trophy was awarded and presented by the Picton Gunners, newcomers in the league last season, which, it was stated, would have begun the "rookie champions" if politics and Hanna Coal depleted the team's ranks. The trophy emblematic of the Bay of Quinte Soccer League title was accepted by Walter Heron, team captain.

Major Winters, on behalf of Lieut.-Col. J. Fisher commanding officer of the RCSA spoke briefly, thanking the sponsors of the various trophies and hinting that the armed services might be unable to enter a team next year.

Juveniles, Midgets Practise Tonight

Juvenile and midget hockey teams get their first workout of the season at Memorial Arena tonight starting at seven o'clock, according to BHA minor division officials.

On Saturday morning the bantam players will take the ice at nine o'clock for the first practice of the season.

Urban and Rural Trustee Assoc. Meets in City

Over 50 representatives of 20 school boards in the Bay of Quinte district convened in the City Wednesday for a district meeting of the Urban and Rural School Trustees Association. Chairman of the meeting was Arnold C. Campbell of this city who is district chairman for the Eastern Ontario Association.

Representatives were present from school boards of the Belleville area in Northumberland, Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox counties.

The delegates registered at the Belleville Collegiate early in the afternoon and then went on a brief tour of inspection through the school and to Queen Elizabeth and Prince Charles public schools. The meeting sessions were held in the auditorium of Prince Charles school.

The program included addresses by George Wishart, member of the Belleville Board of Education; L. A. Kelly public school inspector, and by R. W. Phillips, of B.C.I.

Mr. Wishart's address was on the topic "What are we going to do about teachers' requests for more salary," while Mr. Kelly addressed the meeting on "School board participation in curriculum revision." Mr. Phillips talk was on "How agriculture is taught in urban centres."

Discussion groups were organized by Harold C. Seldon. The resolutions committee presented its report during the evening dinner served by the ladies of Holloway Street United Church.

Belleville Girl Has Chat With N.Y. City Mayor

It isn't often that a Canadian girl gets the opportunity to chat for more time with a big city mayor, but just that was the experience Sunday of Miss Florence Walden, of this city, who attended the Remembrance Day ceremony at New York City.

Through Commander Jas. W. Irving, aide-de-camp, responsibility it to arrange for all parades in the Big Town, Miss Walden was given a seat on the reviewing stand and following the ceremony was presented to all the dignitaries, including Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri.

"I met so many people, but my greatest thrill was meeting the mayor of New York," she writes. "I thought it would just say 'How do' but had quite a chat with him and found him to be very charming and friendly—everybody was amazed he talked to me so long—and I was really thrilled". She said the mayor talked principally about the veterans.

Miss Walden said she was quite impressed with New York and also by the Remembrance Day program which took place at the Eternal Light, Madison Square. Miss Walden, an office employee of the Ontario Intelligencer, concluded a report of the Remembrance Day program proceedings.

Mr. and Mrs. Walden left for a holiday in Florida motoring south with Commander and Mrs. Irving.

109 Hospitals and Additions Provided in Last Six Years, Frost Tells Trenton Audience

Trenton—(Special)—At no time during his 20-minute talk here last night did Premier Leslie Frost mention the name of the Liberal leader. He did, however, refer to the opposition and then only once when he compared his government's accomplishments of providing hospitals and hospital additions against the Hepburn administration's record.

Speaking to packed committee rooms and a crowd that had gathered outside, Mr. Frost asked his listeners to make a trip to the Trenton hospital and take a look at it, because that one hospital represented more hospital building progress than the Hepburn governments accomplished altogether in nine years. "Those people who talk about hospital plans are the reason why we have such a shortage to contend with today," the Premier declared.

Mr. Frost pointed out that in six years his government had provided 109 new hospitals and extensions.

The premier said he figured he was a close friend of the Trenton mild-mannered Liberal M.P., Elmer Cock as a "good advisor over the years". Both sat on the platform behind Mr. Frost.

When the premier talked about the Prince Edward Liberal candidate, Norris Whitney, he predicted he would be a member of his legislature colleague in turn.

Mr. Frost explained that his government worked for the people as a team. "I don't believe before you as a one-man government. We pool our thoughts. There is nothing done which is not after consultation. That will always be the case. We want to do what the people's party. The strength of our democracy is our people. No province or nation is greater than the people who go to make up our province."

Mr. Frost went on to tell what his government had done for the people of Ontario.

He related that people of Switzerland had approached him recently with a proposition to loan money to the province.

He said the Swiss were prepared to invest hundreds of millions of dollars to develop the basic industries of Ontario. They were interested in iron, copper and asbestos deposits. They knew that Ontario was a land of vast resources. "Right in your own municipality science has made large iron deposits available to the world," the Premier said in obvious reference to the iron ore at Marmora. He said that millions were being spent to develop the Hastings county deposits.

Mr. Frost said that while the Swiss bankers were convinced that Canada had great possibilities they were not more interested in the people. That is why they are coming to Canada, he said. Unrest and uncertainty in their own country has forced them to seek elsewhere for secure investments.

Mr. Frost thanked the minister of welfare and told his listeners that Hon. William Goodfellow deserved a great measure of credit for the pension plan affecting 300,000 people between the ages of 65 and 70 on January 1 of the new year. He told of the enormous amount of money for education to give Ontario children the benefits of progressive life. He mentioned free school books the government was providing $3 for each public school child in Ontario.

Touching Hydro, Mr. Frost stated that Ontario had been provided to many more Ontario people in the last six or seven years.

"Those are some of the things we have done. The standard of living in Ontario stands out in Canada and all over the world.

No Bundle of Promises

"We are not going out before the people with a bundle of promises, but we approach you with the bundle of accomplishments. Go out and tell the people what we are doing. That is why I ask you to help me in the next few days.

"If you do that I think you will be happy. Don't forget we are going to win."

Mr. Frost said he didn't want to oppose Trenton. "I intended to come and be with you. I am very glad that the mayor came down and offered me a welcome here. The premier promised to stay longer the next time he visited Trenton.

Mr. Frost congratulated Trenton on its fine hospital and apologized for not being able to be on hand officially this morning.

Member of the legislature Elmer Sandford introduced the premier. Councillor Donald Sutherland was chairman at the meeting.

Set-up for Bay of Quinte High School District Outlined

A total of 28 public school board and high school board members will look after educational matters in the city next year as the result of the creation of the County of Quinte High School District.

With the formation of the new high school district the city will revert to having the two school boards instead of the combined board of education which will be dissolved at the end of this year. Present membership of the board of education is 21 members including one member appointed by the Separate school board.

Under the new system of two boards, one to look after public schools and the other to look after high school matters, each board will have 14 members. Members of the public school board will be elected, while members of the high school board will be appointed by the various municipalities comprising the high school district. This board will also have 14 members.

Public school board members will be elected at the forthcoming municipal election, the election to be made under the city ward system. Each ward in the city will be entitled to two representatives on the school board although such representatives do not necessarily have to live in the ward which they represent.

The 14-member Bay of Quinte High School District Board will be comprised of six members appointed by city council, three from the township of Tyendinaga and Ameliasburg, and one each from county council; the public school board and the Separate school board.

Red Feather Fund Requires Final $1,000

At noon today collection in the Red Feather Campaign had reached an amount of $18,910 only a few hundred dollars additional in the past twenty-four hours. Officials are confident that the total minimum objective of $20,000 would be reached but had hoped that this amount would be more subscribed so that services of the agencies would not need to be limited. With only another full day before the official closing of the Community Chest drive, the executive recognizes that only a last strong effort on the part of those still to turn in a subscription will put the campaign over the top.

Officials ask that the public and business firms heed this urgent request so that no agencies may be closed successfully. Where it will be necessary for firms or individuals to postpone their donations for a few days, it is hoped they will not overlook this moral obligation but will get them in as quickly as possible. Every last dollar is necessary for the welfare of these organizations and the general public benefit.

The total of $18,910 reported today is divided as follows:

|---|---|
| Special names | $10,660 |
| General canvass | 5,725 |
| Employees | 2,525 |

Obituary

BABY ROLAND LYLE RODGERS

Roland Lyle Rodgers, three-months-old son of Frank H. Rodgers, of R.R. 2, Belleville, died suddenly on Wednesday in Belleville General Hospital.

Surviving are his parents and one sister, Lorna Jean. The funeral was held this afternoon from the Duffin Funeral Home, Stirling with burial being in Stirling Cemetery. Rev. H. V. Walker officiated.

LATE PTE. G. T. BARLOW

Services for Pte. George Thomas Barlow, 22, killed in Korea, in fighting in May, were held in Deyoma Beach, Florida, on Monday, November 12th, with Rev. Paul Edris of the Presbyterian Church officiating.

American Legion Post 50 conducted graveside services at Bellevue Memorial Park with Chaplain Allan H. Brown officiating.

Pall bearers and honor guard were composed of men of the National Guard and American Legion colors were used for the flag ceremony.

Pte. Barlow was the son of Mrs. Minnie Barlow and the late Arthur Barlow of Belleville.

ARTHUR FREDERICK DAWE

Picton—The funeral of the late Arthur Frederick Dawe was held from the Baptist Church on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 14th, under the auspices of Boulter LOL 288.

Mr. Dawe was born at Moneymore, Hungerford township, and moved to Picton at an early age. The greater part of his life was in association with local undertakers, latterly with the Corbett Company.

He passed away suddenly on Monday morning from a cerebral hemorrhage after only a few days illness. He was in his 64th year. Interment was in Cherry Valley cemetery.

Stresses Need Of Keeping Older Breeding Cows

The importance of dairying retaining some of their older cows as breeding animals if they intend to remain in the dairy business was stressed to roughly 200 Bay of Quinte district farmers at a special dairy meeting held at the Belleville Livestock Sales barn Wednesday night.

The speaker was John C. Thompson, director of livestock research for the Ralston Purina Company at St. Louis, Mo., who discussed all phases of dairy problems and stressed the importance of proper feeding.

Mr. Frost said that while many that with high prices for milk-ing cows a breeder may make more money by selling his milkers to the United States market, but he stressed if there was any intention to remain in the dairy business, older cows were needed for breeding and raising a dairy herd. Milkers sold at four to five years had barely paid for themselves, he said.

Discusses Proper Feeding

In his talk Mr. Thompson went into detail on the proper feeding and care of the dry cow, the calf, the heifer and the milking cow. He also told how to prevent milk fever, assured sterility and breeding troubles and how to get top production without running cows dry.

Although basically a Holstein man, Mr. Thompson has worked with Jerseys and with Ayrshires. Graduate of Ohio State University he was for a time milking herdsman, Mr. Thompson taught animal husbandry for five years and also worked for a time as a Jersey Cattle Club fieldman. He is now responsible for all Purina livestock research.

Last night's meeting was sponsored by J. S. Mackenzie and Son.

Bit of Neglect Proves Expensive For Truck Driver

The face of a righway transport driver was red this morning when as result of a little neglect on his part in leaving the motor on his market square for the better part of two hours.

The driver had parked his semi-trailer loaded with 15 tons of goods on the market square on the night. This morning he backed his tractor beneath the trailer and then moved the tractor ahead without checking to see if the tractor had been secure.

The front of the loaded trailer crashed down onto the pavement and a hoist was necessary to raise the trailer before it could proceed on its way.

The driver happened to be the boss of the transport firm.

IN MEMORIAM

FITMAN — In loving memory of our dear mother, Caroline Fitman, who passed away November 15, 1950. One year has passed since that sad day
When our mother dear was called away.
In silence she suffered, in patience too
Till God called her home to suffer no more.
In our hearts her memory lingers
Sweetly, tender, fond and true.
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Sadly missed by daughters Muriel and Pearl. 2118

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Nov. 15 — (CP) — Stock market prices climbed strongly today in early afternoon dealings. Industrials opened slightly lower but the first hour support reversed the trend.

Utilities showed a broad list of fractional advances. Refining oils showed a majority of gains while foods, banks and textiles drew firm support. Agriculturals, steels, liquors and miscellaneous industrials were mixed while manufacturing companies dipped sharply.

Base metals eased. Hudson Bay and International Nickel slipped fractions. United Asbestos dropped 30 cents while East Sullivan, Chromium, Normetal and Quebec Copper weakened. Consolidated Smelters and Steep Rock edged upward.

Western oils traded irregularly.

Senior golds showed few gains to three points, juniors developed little trend while prospects held gains and losses in balance.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Nov. 15 — (CP) — Trade was dull at the Ontario stockyards today. Receipts: cattle 180, calves 10, hogs 70, sheep and lamb 50. The leftover from Wednesday was 800 cattle mostly stockers.

A few common to medium stockers sold from $21 to $21.

Common calves were selling at $25-$30.

Hogs were $29-$29.25 for Grade A with some $24 dressed.

Lambs were 50 cents higher at $32.25 for good ewes and wethers with bucks $31.25. There were no sheep sales reported.

25 Divisions Poised on Borders Says Yugoslavia

Paris, Nov. 15—(AP)—Communist Yugoslavia charged today that Russia's satellites have 25 divisions poised on her borders, threatening world peace.

Speaking before the United Nations' general assembly, Foreign Minister Edvard Kardelj claimed this was almost double the number of troops the satellites—Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria—had stationed there two years ago. The figure, he said, did not include the Soviet troops in those countries.

The charge was part of an 11-point indictment Kardelj presented to the 60-country assembly to back up Yugoslavia's complaint of hostile acts against her by Russia and other eastern European countries—once her allies but now her bitter enemies.

Kardelj said Russian aggression against Yugoslavia was part of a worldwide series of Soviet acts which threaten the peace of the world. He cited the war in Korea as another example.

Kardelj called on the assembly "to recommend to the Soviet Union and other countries of the Soviet bloc . . . to use all means for the peaceful adjustment of the outstanding problems existing between them and the federated peoples' republic of Yugoslavia."

He also suggested that a meeting of President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill, Prime Minister Stalin and France's Premier Rene Pleven would be a "positive step" towards peace.

Grandparents Will Look After Orphaned Children

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 15. (AP)—Charles Moss, 73, and his wife, Stella, 68 today shouldered the responsibility of taking care of their 11 orphaned grandchildren.

The children—sons and daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Moore —were orphaned when their parents were killed in an automobile crash Saturday.

The elderly grandparents will close their own home and move to the seven-room home that the Moores bought six weeks before their deaths.

The children were placed in care of their grandparents by Judge Arthur Moore yesterday. He named two uncles Richard E. Moss and Arthur Mercure, as guardians.

A trust fund, started for the orphans by neighbors, already exceeds $2,000.

Judge Moore rejected all pleas for adoption of the children, but said the children—ages from six weeks to 15 years—could visit the John Rhodes family in Pittsburgh as weekend guests during the next two months.

The Baby drove here in hope of adopting the whole Moore brood.

FIGHTS MADDENED DEER

Barrie, Ont., Nov. 15 — (CP) — Nicholas Staykowski said today he fought a 240-pound deer maddened by rifle wounds for a half-hour before fellow hunters killed it with a jackknife.

Staykowski wounded the animal. He followed its trail through deep snow for about a mile and missed with his last two bullets. The deer charged. Staykowski dropped his rifle and held the deer's antlers until he received aid.

Support of Angus Duffy Urged Upon Folk at Marmora By A.B. Collins of Belleville

Marmora — Owing to the very inclement weather a small crowd greeted the Liberal candidate Angus Duffy at the Marmora town hall on Tuesday evening. Mr. Fred Johnston acted as chairman and after a number on the bagpipes by Mr. MacDonald, introduced the first speaker, Mr. A. B. Collins, K.C. of Belleville. Mr. Collins urged his listeners to follow the example of the late Dr. Faulkner who did such a good job of organizing back in 1934 and won the election. He said what was done in 1934 could be repeated in 1951 and Angus Duffy, who is a man among men deserved that support. He said Mr. Duffy had served in several organizations in the city of Belleville and was a gallant soldier in the Second World War. Prayer is a good thing, but elections are not won by prayer but by hard work and everyone must work and Mr. Duffy can be elected by team work and organization.

Regrets Small Crowd

Mr. Harold Seldon was then introduced and expressed his regret at the small number present. He said Mr. Duffy's worst enemy was apathy and urged his listeners to take an interest in the election coming up on November 22. He said the electors had a great privilege in being able to stand up and criticize their government which was not allowed behind the iron curtain and other countries in the world. He said Mr. Duffy was a man capable of sizing up a situation and getting things done. He was not apathetic in his call to the army when his country needed him, nor his gallant work overseas. He was held in high esteem by his men. He explained the hospitalization bill, and said when sickness came to a family, the sting was taken out of it when they knew every one was helping to pay that hospital bill of hundreds or possibly thousands of dollars and he could not see anything impossible about the contributory system of hospitalization. He said the election of Mr. Duffy would be lost unless every one does a little missionary work and watch the enemy apathy.

Follwell Speaks

Mr. Frank Follwell, M. P., then took the platform and spoke well for Mr. Duffy, who has given service to his city and service to his country. Under fire he had shown his gallantry and brought back his boys to build up this country.

He touched on the old age pension plan, which Premier Frost would now make the people of Ontario believe that he deserves the credit, which is not the case. He criticized the Hydro situation in the rural districts where the people were not getting a fair share. He hoped the people of West Hastings would all do their best to elect Angus Duffy on next Thursday.

Explains Hospitalization

Dr. George Faulkner then addressed the meeting and explained the hospitalization plan and said it was with the Frost government that such a plan was impossible and it would be a great aid to all and make it possible for all to secure the benefit.

The candidate was then introduced and he criticized the government on the housing, school, hospitalization and taxes. He said the members had been doing only their normal duties but had not shown leadership. He believed in fighting for what was right and the government had failed in the housing and relief from taxes. He could see nothing impossible about building hospitals and he foresaw the hospitalization plan as a wonderful thing for future generations.

Plans Regular Meetings

If elected, he will hold regular meetings during the year, when the people would have a chance to discuss their needs and would be able to criticize him as well as praise him.

Dr. Faulkner further explained the hospitalization plan in answer to some questions asked by the chairman, and after another number on the bagpipes, the gathering dispersed.

James Schram New President

Bancroft, Nov. 15 (Special) —James Schram, principal of Lake St. Peter Public School, was elected president of the North Hastings Public School Men Teachers' Federation during their annual meeting in Bancroft on Friday. Other officers elected were vice-president, Elwood Junkin of Whitney; treasurer, Laurier Hook of Birds Creek; secretary, J. W. C. Hutton of Bancroft.

Rubinoff Gives Short Programs At City Schools

Rubinoff and his violin, accompanied by Prof. Alexander at the piano played this afternoon before a packed house at the Collegiate to the immense enjoyment of everyone in attendance. Previous to the afternoon performance, Rubinoff and Prof. Alexander made a tour of several of the schools of the city including St. Michael's, Queen Alexandra, Queen Victoria and Queen Mary. They spent from 30 to 45 minutes in each school entertaining the children.

Ticket sale has been brisk but there are still a few choice seats available for the evening performance. Mr. Rubinoff is appearing under auspices of the Kiwanis Club.

Obituary

MRS. MARGARET ELIZABETH PARKS

Following an illness of two years, Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Parks, 23 Meyer Street, died in the Belleville General Hospital this Thursday morning. She was born in Appleton, 67 years ago, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Baird. Previous to moving to Belleville four years ago, she resided for some time in Almonte. She was a registered nurse and on the staff of the Belleville General Hospital.

A member of the Alliance Tabernacle, she is survived by two daughters, Margaret Maude and Dorothy Jean both at home. Her husband, Roy W. Parks, died some years ago.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

$90 Realized From Poppy Sale

Bancroft, Nov. 15 (Special) —Approximately $90 was realized by the sale of Remembrance Day poppies, conducted in town by a committee under the leadership of Henry Phillips of Branch 181 of the Canadian Legion. Under the supervision of Scoutmasters Stapley and Philips the Boy Scouts conducted a door to door sale on Saturday morning and a street sale in the afternoon. Previous to this sale of wreaths to local merchants was handled by a committee of legionnaires. The profits from the sale have been earmarked for the Legion welfare fund.

RAIN, RAIN GO AWAY

A decade or two ago, when people who called themselves rainmakers first appeared on the horizon, mostly in the drier areas of western Canada and the United States, they were greeted with ridicule.

But in more recent years, modern scientific techniques have been employed by the rainmakers, and there is at least some evidence that they can deliver the goods. A few years ago, the Ontario department of lands and forests tried rainmaking in a final desperate effort to halt an exceedingly destructive forest fire in northern Ontario. A few hours after the liquified or solidified carbon dioxide (which the rainmakers need had been released amid the clouds, a heavy downpour of rain ended the fire.

During the summer of 1950, New York City was having trouble getting enough drinking water because drought had greatly lowered the levels of the reservoirs from which the city draws its supplies. The city authorities engaged a certain Dr. Wallace E. Howell to make rain.

After Dr. Howell had performed his rites, the rain fell, and fell in such volume that some streets were ruined, bridges washed out and business halted in many of the smaller communities around New York.

Now a group of individuals and municipalities have banded together, engaged counsel, and are suing the city for $2,135,000 for the losses they suffered from the heavy rainstorms of late 1950.

Meanwhile, Rainmaker Dr. Howell is remaining cautiously in the background. Perhaps he too may be sued for inducing more rain to fall than some folk wanted, however much his clients may have been pleased with his services.

MONEY TO LOAN

The governments of eleven other countries which have borrowed money from Canada at one time or another still owe her a total of $1,900,000,000, according to Arthur Blakely, Ottawa correspondent of the Montreal Gazette.

Britain was the biggest borrower, according to Mr. Blakely. During the last fiscal year, the British reduced their debt to Canada to $1,400,000,000 by paying off about $40,000,000.

Total receipts from the eleven countries have been $838,900,000. Russia, which owes $8,992,000, paid $2,866,000 on account. Czechoslovakia made payments totalling $3,354,000. China paid $757,000 during the fiscal year. At the end of last March, China was $2,446,000 in arrears in the payment of principal and interest and the Canadian government had agreed to defer payment until December 31, 1952. Norway, which owes a total of $21,000,000, has been repaying her loan more rapidly than she is required under the loan agreement.

To a layman who is not familiar with the high finance, the sums collected do not seem to be impressive alongside the amount that has been loaned. One billion, nine hundred millions of dollars loaned out means about $140 for every man, woman and child in Canada. Since by no means every man, woman and child in Canada is a taxpayer, the amount which has been loaned by Canada represents about six or seven times $140 for every taxpayer, or about $840.

ONE THRIVING BRITISH INSTITUTION

In the midst of all the gloomy stories which emanate from Great Britain about economic conditions in the land from which most of our ancestors came, it is refreshing to be able to record that there is one British institution which is not only weathering the storm, but is even making substantial progress in its pre-war status.

That institution is "The News Of The World," a weekly newspaper published in London. Although it is competing with half a dozen dailies and a dozen weeklies in London alone, "The News of The World" boasts that it is the largest weekly newspaper in the world, and that its "net certified sale exceeds 8,000,000 copies per issue." There is probably not a community of any size in the English-speaking world where at least a few copies of "The News Of The World" are not sold. During the war, due to newsprint rationing and other difficulties, "The News Of The World" was down to four pages weekly. - Gradually it crept up to six and later to eight. Now, it is publishing ten pages weekly.

"The News Of The World" doesn't bother about high-brow stuff, but give its editors and reporters a really brutal crime or a genuinely shocking scandal to work on, and they can make the journalists of Canada or the United States look like amateurs.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

Nov. 15th., 1931

On an average between 16 and 20 fox skins are received daily at the Ontario Government's Employment Bureau on Campbell Street, for men to do odd jobs. The capacity to make a little money is thankfully received by the men who are urgently in need of it. There are men to take care of many more jobs than are coming in at the bureau.

Herring have started running in the bay and the first real haul was made yesterday when some 300 pounds were handled at the fish warehouse. Many in Belleville have been looking to the fall months to their annual feast of fresh herring, and to take part in a pail-away a pail or keg of them for the winter months.

Mr. Harry Smith of Bancroft when hunting in the York River district, shot a large black bear recently.

30 YEARS AGO

Nov. 15th., 1921

This is Telephone Week here and up to last evening 364 visitors have been escorted on a tour of inspection of the plant and offices. The visitors were much interested in what they saw and appreciated the courtesy of the management and staff.

The large elm tree on Front Street in front of the Hastings House has been cut down by city employees. The tree was planted in the year 1840 by Mr. Neil McArthur, a former well known business man here. It is to be regretted that it was found necessary to do away with the beautiful tree, the place looks empty and unattractive without it.

Dr. H. W. Whytock, M.O., of Madoc, will leave shortly for England where he will spend some time in post graduate study.

40 YEARS AGO

Nov. 15th., 1911

The survey of the line for the C. N. R. is now being made through the city.

Mr. Harry Gay is spending a week in Trenton.

Dr. W. J. Gibson has returned home from Philadelphia, Pa., where he attended a convention of surgeons.

Mrs. Job Lingham is spending some time at Preston Springs, Ontario.

Mr. W. J. Magrath of Edmonton, Alberta, formerly of Belleville, is here on a short visit.

Mr. Wallace Robb of Montreal, formerly of Belleville, spent the weekend here with friends.

The Rev. R. C. Hagrave, Rector of Christ Church, was the special preacher at St. George's Cathedral, Kingston, on Sunday.

50 YEARS AGO

Nov. 15th., 1901

Mrs. Bender of Toronto, formerly of Belleville, is visiting friends here.

Mr. William Tuskey of Tyendinaga township, has returned home after spending several months in the St. Prevtoes of Manitoba.

Dr. David R. Lasier, formerly of Belleville and a graduate of Queen's University, Kingston, has passed the examinations of the Medical Council of British Columbia; he headed the list of those who wrote the examinations.

Mr. Joseph Mills has returned home from Nort Dakota where he spent the past three months.

The Hon. George W. Ross, Premier of Ontario, spent the weekend here with friends.

From our file copy of this date, ten years ago, 1891, we quote the following interesting item: "Edison's great invention, the phonograph, is now on exhibition at Riggs' Music Store, Front Street. The machine will be here for several days and selections are played at five cents each.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

NATURE BOOKS ALIVE

Henry Beston once wrote that nature is a part of our humanity, and without some awareness and experience of that divine mystery man ceases to be man." More than any other books in my library I somehow turn, again and again, to those written by lovers of the vast and intriguing world of nature. They are books alive! Among my favorites are those by Thoreau, W. H. Hudson, Archibald Rutledge, John Kieran, Louis Halle, Jr., Viscount Grey, J. H. Fabre, Edwin Way Teale, Henry Beston, Donald Culross Peattie, Richard Jefferies, John Burroughs, Malcolm MacDonald and William Beebe. These names, however, embody but a mice small handful of the well worth while writers who have glorified the beauty and wonder of all nature. I have never heard of, or read, a dull or uninteresting book by any of these writers that I have named, has written.

And now I add a new book to my nature collection, a book that I have been awaiting for a long time, as it has been shaping in the author's mind for years. Now it is an achievement — Edwin Way Teale's "North with the Spring"— a most wonderful book for the real reader with him from the lower shores of Florida to the boundary of Canada. Here is a naturalist writer who is as expert in the art of photography as he is in words.

In the reading of Mr. Teale's book it is as though you traveled along with him, enthused over what he saw, listening the while to his talk as though he were in your home narrating his experiences. You will learn about the flowers, animals, birds, trees, towns and unique localities that this enthusiast for God's open garden tells about in this fascinating book. You go along with the author on his 17,000 mile journey and are sorry when it is over!

I believe that this is the only book anyone has ever written following the creeping of Spring from the lower to the upper end of the Eastern part of the United States. "North with the Spring" is so varied and so rich in its observations and revelations that it is impossible to adequately give it its due in so short a space, but it is a classic in naturalist lore.

WITH THE MAIL

Description by a man who has just seen his first Seattle television program in Vancouver.

"I was at my neighbor's last night to marvel at his new television set. He's spent so much money on boosters, aerials and special equipment that it would have been cheaper for him to lay his own coaxial cable from Seattle. As it was, the football game we were supposed to be watching looked like two men in polka dot suits playing checkers in a blizzard."

Supposing Scotland went communist, would Scots in Canada be able to display any pride or affection for their native land? If they heard of any good news from the Old Country, would they be wise to talk about it?

That's the question put to me by a Chinese-Canadian who asks — and pardon the good reason to —be anonymous. He writes about it this way:

"My odd situation, I am strongly anti-communist, a member of a Liberal group. Yet myself, and most Chinese in Canada, constantly receiving reports of great progress in China, information that is not to be found in newspapers. We are a minority group. We dread being smeared as communist if we try to maintain our old ties with the place of our birth. Is there no safeguard that Canadians are given only the bad news.

"I think that is happening there is obviously real progress. Cost-of-living is under control as it never was under the Kai-Shek regime the little man at last getting a chance for a decent living, particularly as the results. There are no longer beggars in China.

"Take the matter of Chinese communism here in the land of plenty are becoming convinced that in China all is not as it seems. Why is none of this information printed in the papers?"

Mostly, I suspect, because it is not available from any other sources but the propaganda mills. Still, there is much that could find its way into the daily press. Particularly the news of Madame Soong Yat-sen through Manchuria, for example, was eminently newsworthy but never saw the light of print in anything but left-wing journals.

L. B. Daniels and W. G. Gibson have a beef.

"We note that in one of your recent columns that you say the real Canada isn't "a bunch of dressed-up Indians or a businessman mayor in a new ten-gallon Stetson or an endless corridor of faces for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police," but from a grandstand full of kids chanting 'Home on the Range'!

"Hell's bells, man, that certainly isn't Canada. Its Calgary—C-A-L-G-A-R-Y. And while we're on the subject, stranger. Them's fightin' words."

I'm millin', pards.

Alf Boyle, of South Burnaby, has some advice for me and my six White Leghorns.

"If you are serious about chicken raising," he writes, "I can give you a secret tip on how to double the supply of eggs without buying expensive laying mash. You won't have to put your hand under the chickens to get the eggs, all you have to do is as follows:

"Cut a hole in the bottom of the trap. From this hole you have a chute, on a slight incline. Pad this chute with wool so that the eggs will roll down gently when the hen lays an egg. It will drop down the hole in the nest, then the chickens will peck at the egg it has laid and doesn't see any egg. The hen will keep laying and sitting again and lay another one.

"You have my full permission to use this."

I am so new and bewildered in this chicken business that I hardly don't know if all is kidding.

-A large number of letters from the ladies about my plan to put aside the temptations of easy cooking and serve a typical note from Mrs. V. Anderson:

"As a fellow-sufferer, I agree wholeheartedly with your anti-can-and-carry idea. But the flaw to such logic, as any woman could tell you, is that you would not save that money.

"You'd go to that show at the end of the week instead of devoting the time to cooking. Since you couldn't have any part of it you'd have to give yourself other little treats to take your mind off how miserable you are. By the end of a month you would be right back where you started. Whereas if you have a bill to meet you will pay it and then be forced to do without for a few mornings."

Finally today my thanks to S. K. Welch of Victoria Hearing Service in Vancouver. I wrote recently about a woman who has difficulty getting a job because she was wearing a hearing aid. Now Mr. Welch has volunteered to provide her at no cost, with a new type of accessory said to be almost invisible.

I've passed your letter along to the lady, Mr. W—and thanks very much.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Being obliged to move from a house in which we have lived for 15 years, every member of my family has been aware of the enormous collection of personal junk that each of us has collected over the years. Bookcases, bureaus, dressers, closets are packed and stuffed with incredible amounts of miscellany of clothing but of trinkets, knickknacks, gifts that afford value as to why they have been kept. The men are worse packrats than the women. Books are stacked and piled all over the house, and there is the usual complement of tools, tackle, gear, boxes half full of meaningless junk; piles of sheet music, magazines hidden away from the cleansing hand of women; furniture down cellar, half hidden by carefully placed old boards.

Moving day is a gala one for the Veterans' salvage outfits and the Salvation Army. The question arises: what happens, in the end, to all these thousands of tons of trivials private property that men and women accumulate over their years? There are not enough second-hand stores in any city, town or village to do a fraction of it. When death winds up a family, and the old house is broken up, only a small portion of the furniture, books, ornaments, pictures, china, linens is accepted by the relatives and friends. The junkmen come in trucks, and cart away the accumulated of it, for a song.

Nobody wanted it. It all goes somewhere. In the junk world, there is a great clearing-house through which all go by the with the antique shops and ranging down through repair shops, rummage sale shops, thrift shops to second hand stores to the waterfront where they bale up rags and paper.

Gaze about you, in the warm privacy of your own home: look tenderly on your precious possessions; your favorite chair, your pet picture, your best-loved vase or silver tray. You can't take it with you. Some outer stranger, maybe two thousand miles from here, will have them for a bargain, by-and-by.

Strength for the Day

By DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

THE CHARACTER OF GOD

The English word "character" is derived from a Greek word "almost identical—"charakter". Originally the Greek word meant the tool which a sculptor used in fashioning a statue. Finally it came to mean the image itself. This word is used only once in the New New Testament, in the first chapter of the Epistle to the Hebrews where the word "character" is translated "express image". Jesus is the express image of God.

Jesus is the image of God. Jesus is the characters of God. There are undoubtedly many things about God which humans could not possibly understand because they have no capacity for understanding things outside the comprehension of the five senses. These attributes of God are nowhere set forth either in the Bible or in the life of Jesus, except by hint and implication. But the things human beings can understand — namely, power, righteousness, love, unyielding purpose, eternal persistence—these characteristics of God are set forth in Jesus, who is God's "character" or "express image."

Let us not be guilty of that modern superficiality which regards Jesus as one of the history's great figures. He is all that and more. He is the "charakter" of God.

CORONARY TROUBLE? HAVE SOME COFFEE

From what a good many correspondents tell me—not what they ask me—I gather that it is well established among the Yankee Wiseacre population—you know it—that a little more know ass much or a little more about such things than an "ordinary" doctor or "the doctors around here" if you happen to live in a community where the trick specialists and the clinic racketeers have not as yet knocked over all the suckers—I gather that coffee is bad for the heart.

Study and experience, however, have convinced me that coffee is not only harmless but good for many adults who have heart trouble, especially those who have coronary disease.

Caffeine, the alkaloid or active principle of coffee and/or tea, is one of the best heart stimulants, either in an emergency or in the long pull. This is generally recognized by real doctors. Indeed the restorative value of hot black coffee in fainting spells, collapse, shock or exhaustion is second only to the magic of the brandy flask in reviving heroes and heroines in nineteenth century novels.

The red book What to Eat and Why( for which send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope) contains a chapter How to Make Coffee an Win Friends.

The reasons why one with heart trouble may not enjoy coffee are not revealed by the near-doctors and quere-doctors who dreamed up the prohibition. From my own study, observation and professional experience I am convinced that the use of coffee as a daily beverage is generally not only harmless but beneficial to the well being of adults. Children under sixteen years of age should not drink coffee, tea or cocoa. I believe caffeine, theobromine (the alkaloids in coffee, tea or cocoa) are generally harmful to children.

Caffeine, like the alkaloid or alkaloids in tea and in cocoa seems to dilate the coronary arteries and thus to increase the supply of oxygen to the heart muscle. This explains the uniform beneficient effect of coffee drinking if the individual is subject to coronary insufficiency (arteries supplying the heart itself fail to deliver enough oxygenated blood to maintain good function) or myocardial degeneration (heart muscle impairment, slow heart failure).

My sympathy and condolence to all the poor geeks who would like the cheer one can get from good coffee but deny themselves the enjoyment just because some near-doctor tells 'em "Ah-ah! Mustn't!"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Year-Around Allergy

By following your advice to supplement my diet with Ca and D the year around I have found complete relief from the allergy which for years gave me almost cons'ant trouble. (Mrs. H. P.)

Answer—Send stamped self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Relief For Allergy.

Facial Scars, Acne Pits, Wrinkles

With the progress of medical science why isn't some method developed to get rid of many of us with racial scars, acne pits, wrinkles and so on? (W. D. M.)

Answer—I described a method in this column. It is called "controlled face peeling." Send stamped self-addressed envelope and 25c for booklet Cometic Blemishes.

Medical Colleague

I take the liberty as a colleague to say my patients cannot agree with your statement that it is rank trickery for a doctor to prescribe by telephone. I believe I can give my patients reasonably good advice to follow until I can come. However, I cordially commend your constant effort to combat fear in the minds of your readers. This feature makes your column unique. (M. D.)

Answer—Thank you, doctor. Send me a note or two of an instance or two of advice you give over the telephone without peril to the patient. I'd like to cite such instances in order to be fair about it.

Charitable Gifts Act Good One Declares Premier Frost In Addressing Meeting in City

The Charitable Gifts Act was a good act, which applied to everyone alike and "was intended to see that money willed to charity really went to charity," Hon. Leslie Frost declared to an audience of more than 900, in the Belleville Collegiate auditorium Wednesday night. The part of Mr. Frost's address which dealt with the Charitable Gifts Act, the Toronto Daily Star and Liberal Leader Walter Thompson was partly made extemporaneously and partly read from a prepared statement, copies of which had been previously issued to each of the persons who "covered" the meeting.

One of the policies of the government which he headed, Mr. Frost emphasized, was to give "broadest possible exemptions from taxation to charities and charitable institutions, also to give similar exemptions from taxation to monies which were willed to such charities by philanthropically minded individuals."

Purpose of Act Explained

One of the purposes of the Charitable Gifts Act, Mr. Frost explained, was to see that, if money was left to charity, the money really went to charity and was not diverted to some other purpose.

"Supposing someone who has a very large sum of money dies and does not leave anything to charity," Mr. Frost explained, "the law says that this estate must pay over a certain sum to the crown to be used for the people's welfare. But if someone who has large estate dies and leaves all or most of his estate to charity what is left to charity is not taxed.

"I believe that this is a fair principle and I believe that all fair-minded people will agree that it is.

"When a will is made saying that money is to go to a charity and when it is really intended the money should go to the charity, the executors of that estate do not have any trouble with the Charitable Gifts Act.

Quotes Mason Case

"Such a case was that of the late Wm. E. Mason, who also owned a controlling share in the Bowmanville Star. Mr. Mason was a millionaire also. He was a very fine friend of mine and a very highly valued advisor of myself and my colleagues.

When Mr. Mason died, he left his money to charitable organizations. But before he died he stated at all there about the Charitable Gifts Act. George Miller, who had been the late Mr. Mason's advisor, and who was one of the executors of his will, did not object at all to the Charitable Gifts Act, because Mr. Mason really had left his money in that estate to charitable enterprises."

The following is the text of the prepared statement about the Charitable Gifts Act which Mr. Frost read:

Surprising Statement

"To my the least I was surprised to read the statement made by Mr. Thompson in Belleville, Monday as a result of proddings from Mr. Porter, that the Charitable Gifts Act would be repealed. This is the first time the Liberal leader has mentioned the matter, since the act has made 150 speeches in the last year. It is not mentioned in the Liberal platform. This issue is not fully and completely submitted to the jury of the people in Leeds county only a few days ago and the act was overwhelmingly sustained with the greatest majority ever given to a candidate in this riding.

"It is plain that but for the prodding of Mr. Porter it is not planned to say nothing about this matter but that, in the event of the Liberal leader securing office of power, the verdict of the people of Leeds would be reversed without any reference to the people of this province as a whole. This issue was quite the only issue by the Liberal members of the house and the Toronto Star in the Leeds by-election. Since that time I have never heard them mention the matter in the house and until the day before yesterday it was not mentioned by the Liberal leader or his followers or by the Star during this session.

Money Pours In

"At the time the Charitable Gifts Act was introduced some of the same fantastic distortion of the facts, as is being attempted, are indulged in. It was said that it would destroy charitable contributions in Ontario. We now have nearly three years of operation of it and I am able to point to the record—tens or millions of dollars have poured into charity. Never in the history of the province have great estates contributed so heavily for charitable purposes. The will of the late Mr. Bickell provided for $14,000,600 just the other day. The will of the Laughlin foundation for medicine has come into being, together with countless others.

"In my days as treasurer I have widened the exemptions for charities and also for those who left gifts to help any charity, including the Atkinson Foundation, in work they were doing for charity. In fact, I have been glad to commend certain things the Atkinson Foundation has done for charity. I will do so in the future. But that must not make me blind to the support given to the people, to see that the money which is in this foundation and these foundations is used for the purposes for which the people gave it through their treasury department, namely for charity.

Provide Wide Exemptions

"Under our Succession Duties Act we provide very wide exemptions for gifts to charity. Let us all bear in mind that when an estate goes beyond its exempt the exemption of tax is in effect a gift to charity by the people of Ontario. The gift goes to the charity of the person's choosing. For many time there is an exemption, it means that the people of the province are making a donation to a charitable cause. It is right and proper that as taxpayers we should see—and the treasurer of the province should see—that these gifts of the people do go to and are used for charity.

Two Problems to be Met

"The Charitable Gifts Act deals with the type of charitable foundation where the capital is left in trust and where the charities to be benefitted are not named. In other words where they are left to the trustees to name from time to time. There are two problems to be met. The first is that the business operated by the foundation is really run in a businesslike way and that it pays the charity a return certain not less than could be obtained from trust securities. And further that the business is not allowed to degenerate into a mere way that money is actually in the business by way of the exemption. The exemption is not given for the purposes of operating a business; it is given for the purpose of charity. Secondly, because there are no objects of charity specified and it is not possible for the courts to decide what they will do with the money, there should be more interested in the trust other than government agencies, and it is highly undesirable that government agencies should meddle in the operation of business.

Principle Sound Claim

"The purposes of the Charitable Gifts Act are simply to provide that where charitable foundations desire to operate a business the charitable organizations should be decidedly named which would have the powers of shareholders in an ordinary company is one that the business be run in a proper way and that the directors and managers do not take out unreasonable amounts, and all other things relating to the operation of the business. The charities, for instance, might be the universities of this province, other charitable foundations and the like. The principle is the thoroughfare of one and there is no reason in the world why it could not be worked out.

Bill Made for Protection

"The purpose of the bill was simply to protect the people's money, to see that it was really used for charity and that it was not used as a cloak for greed and the avoidance of succession duties taxes; in other words, that the charitable objects must be honest ones.

"Please remember that in a Mason foundation, which was named objects of charity they continue for all time. The trustees have the fullest power and the trustees nominate their successors. They are a self-perpetuating corporation and into such may go the hundreds of millions of the people's money.

"You may ask the question:—Has the government the power for which a trust was created? This was very much interested in last night's evening papers reading of the finding of the delegates to the Canadian Welfare Council, which was held in Lakeshore Labor Council, which by the way received support and which unanimously endorsed a report condemning the Toronto Daily Star for its recent campaign of provincial election news. In the light of the misrepresentations made by correspondents, by some very eminent clergymen. One of these gentlemen I believe was the United Church, said: "I am a reporter and I am not going to give your opinion of the one-sided way in which it has been presenting information." The same clergyman said: "it is a good thing to have a paper that is not prejudiced coverage. As long as men are selfish and self-seeking irrespective of their religion, the world will always be this distortion."

Mr. Frost said that he had directed that his papers be conducted for the benefit of the public and that he was opposed to the dissemination of the news." Mr. Frost said: "I am not a liar and it is therefore apparent that in these four intervening years his trustees have been misled by those who told them to do that I can call as a witness any newspaper which does not support me to prove that their dissemination of news is not true and that it is not fair to be distorted and it is slanted, unbalanced and one-sided.

Claims Bill Good One

"I just ask the people of Ontario, if trustees can forget that direction do you not think it is probable that they have forgotten the objects for which the people of Ontario gave them some $8 or $10 million by way of exemption? The job I have as treasurer or Ontario is to see that trustees do not forget, and to see that the objects are not set aside from political parties and governments which make sure that your money now and 25 years from now and 50 years from now is used for charity. As long as I am in office I will see that that is done without fear or favor. When I first introduced legislation three years ago it affected the work of a few, and friend of mine, William Mason of Sudbury, who by the way operated a newspaper, the Sudbury Star. His trustees were delighted with the bill and have worked wholeheartedly in carrying out the objects of it. At time I introduced the bill I did it without fear or favor and I did not consider the impact on the Mason trustees. But they happened to be believers in good government and supported me from the start.

"The Charitable Gifts Act is a good bill. I'm satisfied of it and good. It applies to everybody. It is a safeguard to you and it is a safeguard to a testator to see that his money really goes to charity."

Indian Welfare Champion Dies In North Ontario

Cochrane, Nov. 15 — (CP) Magistrate R. R. Tucker, champion of Indian welfare in Northern Ontario, died here today. He had been in poor health for some time.

A magistrate for nearly 30 years, Mr. Tucker became known as the "flying magistrate" of the northern Ontario wilderness. He was almost a legendary figure as patrolled on foot or by canoe the judicial beats in the world. He took the white man's justice to the Indians of the north. For more than a quarter-century, the Indians looked to him for guidance.

Born at Manitowaning on Manitoulin Island, Magistrate Tucker was a member of a family prominent in Upper Canada. After he settled in Cochrane, much of his time was spent fighting for his Indian friends. One of his projects was obtaining medical service for them.

During the Second World War, he gained international attention for his outspoken insistence on strong defence bases in the Hudson Bay area. His persistent and his efforts, a string of air bases was built through the sub-Arctic.

Frost Says Liberals Planned Secrecy on Plan to Repeal Ontario Charitable Gifts Act

(By The Canadian Press)

Premier Frost says the Liberals planned to go through the Nov. 22 Ontario general election campaign without revealing their plans to repeal the Charitable Gifts Act if they gained power.

In a Belleville address last night, the Premier said he had been surprised to read a newspaper story Monday in which Walter Thomson, Ontario Liberal leader, promised to repeal the act. The revelation had come about as a result of "prodding" by Attorney-General Porter.

The Charitable Gifts Act, passed at the last session of the legislature, provides that charity trusts may not hold more than 10 per cent of any business. It was made retroactive to 1946.

Mr. Thomson, speaking at Perth last night, said the reconstruction Party of Ontario Hydro Commission has bogged down and is costing twice as much as the government would admit.

E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario C.C.F. leader, pledged at Brantford to establish a women's bureau if the Ontario C.C.F. is returned in his party wins. His aim would be to help housewives in their opposition against women in industry.

Thomson Charges Indifference

Mr. Thomson in his speech in Lasark riding, said Liberal administrations in Ontario from 1934 to 1943 were responsible for construction of more hydro lines than the present Conservative Conservative governments have been.

He said the government has been indifferent to health and welfare needs. "They have built up a surplus rather than build hospitals. By our standards hospitals in Ontario are inadequate, outmoded and understaffed. Immediately we need 25,000 more hospital care plan would mean security from worry and poverty resulting from sickness.

Mr. Thomson, in a speech at Renfrew, said he had been asked for Ontario Provincial Police if his party won.

"We will build the best police force in the world here in Ontario. We must pay them more. We must pay them for the service we demand of them. These are the men we have engaged to protect us and they must be a well-paid force, looked up to throughout the community. They must be able to look their place among the leaders of the community."

He said a Liberal government might go into the housing business as a last resort in the battle to alleviate the shortage of homes.

Jolliffe Critical

Mr. Jolliffe criticized the premier for saying Labor considered him its friend because he was invited to arbitrate a gold mine strike last summer. The invitation had actually been issued because Mr. Frost put himself on record as favoring the voluntary revocable check-off of union dues and labor was challenging him to "come across and back up his stated views."

The C.C.F. leader described Mr. Thomson as a political opportunist "who worked his way through a lot of political doors without knocking."

George H. Challies, the Ontario cabinet minister in charge of hydro, said in Renfrew that Morrisburg that 60-cycle conversion in central and western Ontario had only cost $27,000,000 so far, not $40,000,000 as claimed by Mr. Thomson, and $13,000,000 of that amount had been spent on fixed assets.

Mr. Challies also said the hydro commission's 1950 report was handed down last March. Mr. Thomson had said it had been overbrought down yet, though usually issued in April.

In distant future, arrangements were completed yesterday for front-line balloting by Ontario soldiers. Every vote will be completed in time for the results to be cabled to Toronto Nov. 22 including those from constituency totals.

Premier Frost speaks in Napanee and Cornwall in eastern Ontario, Mr. Jolliffe in Hamilton and Mr. Thomson in Toronto.

FROST TELLS

Road Grants Outlined

Mr. Frost then read figures on provincial road grants which indicated that the grants being given by the province now were much greater than they had been when the Conservatives were returned to power eight years ago.

"They have accused us of squandering money," said Mr. Frost. "Who is squandering money, services and more of them to the people is squandering money, then we have been guilty of squandering it. I will mention just another example of what we have been doing. It is the case that we have helped to open a new school at the rate of one every week for the youngsters of Coe Hill equality of educational opportunity with the youngsters of Toronto and every other part of the province.

Referring to the time when he was first elected to the provincial legislature, when a Liberal administration was in power, Mr. Frost said: "I was disappointed when I entered the legislature first, fourteen years ago. They said we did not spend any more power. You know what they did.

Double Power Output

"Well, in the last few years, we have more than doubled the amount of power available and still that is not enough. New rural electrification projects completed between $60,000 and 700,000 in the last few years.

"To carry out these plans of expansion, we had to go into the New York market to borrow money. We have done so twice. The people we approached in New York knew that old Ontario's credit was good and that we were used the money to increase our productive capacity.

At the beginning of his remarks, Mr. Frost said: "I am by no means a stranger in the city of Belleville. It is not far from here to where I live. It is always a pleasure to me to visit this part of the country around this historic Bay of Quinte.

Elections in Every Riding

"It was around here that the first of our people went into office ago. You might almost say that it was in this very region that our great province was founded.

At another point, Mr. Frost emphasized that the Conservatives have a candidate in every constituency. And every one is a real candidate, we have no token candidates, like some people have. I want you people in this area to know Hastings-Frontenac-Lennox and Whitney, because they are needed at Queen's Park."

Ontario is growing "very rapidly" at present, Mr. Frost stated. As an example of this growth he mentioned the development work being done on the iron ore deposits at Marmora. "Over $10 million in low-grade steel corporations is spending $10,000,000 there," he said.

Great Developments in North

"There is great development also in the north country there. There are many fine little towns growing up, in fact, in places where there was nothing but wilderness only a few years ago. Sleep Rock is just one of these towns that I have seen. And there are some bigger ones too. Sudbury is one of the bigger ones. So Sudbury the nickel and copper industry employs thousands of men. One pioneer employs about 12,000 around Sudbury alone."

Chairman Harry W. Rollins, a former mayor of Belleville, was introduced by Premier Frost as chairman of the meeting. Introduced by Mayor E. T. Potter. Others who spoke briefly were Mrs. Wilfrid Weldon, Progressive candidate for Prince Edward-Lennox, Elmer Sandercock, Conservative candidate for Hastings East, Elmer Sandercock, Progressive Conservative candidate for Hastings West, Jack McNee, of Hamilton, president of the Young Progressive Conservative Association of Ontario, and Hon. William Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare.

WEDDINGS

BEAN—CUMMINGS

Marmora.—At Sacred Heart Church, Peterborough, last Saturday morning, Mary Constance Reg.N., daughter of Charles L. Cummings, of Peterborough, and Lieutenant Patrick Bean, son of the late Mrs. Cummings, became the bride of Lieut. Dooglde W. Bean, R.C.O.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bean of Toronto. The ceremony was performed and the Nuptial Mass celebrated by the Rev. Dr. F. M. Grant. Bronze and yellow chrysanthemums were decorations on the altar table.

Wedding music was played by Mr. Herbert Michel organist, and during the signing of the register, Miss Helen Cummings, sister of the bride, sang "Panis Angelicus".

The bridal gown was fashioned on princess lines of velva-ray over slipper satin with bow trim on collar and sleeves, ending in points over the hands. The gathered skirt extended into a train. A matching Juliet cap held her fingertip veil of silk tulle and she carried a prayer book topped with gardenias and baby 'mums. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Josephine Duggan, as bridesmaid, was wearing a strapless gown of moss green net over taffeta and Miss Jill Hagy, acted as maid of honour, a similar gown in copper tan shade. Both were matching shoulder veils and braided halos of net and taffeta. They carried nosegays of matching color 'mums.

Groomsman was Lieut. James Gaffney, R.C.O.C., and the ringbearer was small Leonard Hynes. Ushers were Isaac Hill and Charles Cummings, brother of the bride.

Receptions were held afterwards at the Empress Hotel and the bride's home. Guests were received by Mrs. Michael Cummings, sister-in-law of the bride, dressed in royal blue taffeta with hat of white feathers and wearing a corsage of Talisman roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore Gainsborough blue taffeta with matching hat and corsage of red roses.

Lieut. and Mrs. Bean left from Malton Airport on the flight to New York City, where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride travelled in a wine velvet dress and matching hat with winter white coat and black accessories. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

They will live at 111 Duchess Avenue, London, Ontario.

NEW MATERIAL COMING

Montreal, Nov. 15 — (CP) — Shifting material that can be washed without losing its crease soon will be available at a relatively low cost.

A chemical concern (Canadian Industries Limited) is experimenting in new nylon-type fibres known as dacron and orlon. Production was started this year.

The manufacturers claim the material will wash under the bathroom shower with just a bar of soap and will retain pleats and creases, drying rapidly due to its moisture resistance. The cost will be the same as for first-grade wool.

Grand International Auxiliary Holds Attractive Bazaar, Tea

Surrounded by an atmosphere redolent of Christmas, the Grand International Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, yesterday afternoon held their bazaar and tea in St. Thomas' Parish House, 'mid a galaxy of evergreen, boughs, huge bows and silvery bells.

Each member, guest and friend was most graciously welcomed both by the warm handclasp of the receptionists, Mrs. F. Kerr and Mrs. J. Muirhead, and the friendly smile of the treasurers, Mrs. Grace McIntyre, Mrs. Margaret Crozier and Mrs. Mabel Welch.

On the one side were the various tables, each with its own manner of distinctive decoration of the Auxiliary's emblematic colors of red, blue, mauve and white, while on the other side of the room was the tea room, matched off by graceful loops of red, white and mauve which wound from pillar to pillar, and inside, the guest tables and the long tea table. Each little table, covered with a snowwhite cloth, was centred by a silver candle-holder bearing aloft one tall candle, either in mauve, white, red or blue, reminding the members of the significance of their colors, and those not inside the fold of the G.I.A. of a garden of flowers.

Attractive Tea Table

The tea table with its white damask linen cloth, centred by a crystal bowl of pink carnations, (emblematic flower of the auxiliary), and asparagus fern, was flanked by tri-branched candelabra with white and pink tapers, and was most attractive. Those who presided over the silver services were: Mrs. C. Gymer and Mrs. M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. E. Reid and Mrs. S. Orne; Mrs. M. Barlow and Mrs. D. E. Fisher; Mrs. M. Fairbairn and Mrs. C. J. Fisher.

Those who served included: Mrs. E. Batchelor, Mrs. G. Grey, Mrs. A. Stairs, Mrs. L. Hynes, Mrs. M. Boyd, Mrs. M. Petty, Mrs. E. Wilson, Mrs. G. Brown and Mrs. E. Spring. Those who replenished the often emptied plates of dainty sandwiches and pretty one-bite cakes were: Mrs. B. Clarke and Mrs. W. Mercier.

Convening the grocery baskets with their many items of canned goods, white and brown sugars, catsup, tapioca, breakfast cereals, jams, creamettes, soups, cleaning aids, jelly powder, baking powder and pumpkin pie filling, and many other household needs, were —Mrs. M. Wesley, Mrs. I. Robinson. Each of these baskets which was prettily covered either with silver or red paper, would go to the holder of the lucky ticket. Sheer-white Christmas Cake

The homecooking table, convened by Mrs. M. Farren, and Mrs. Gladys Robb, assisted by Mrs. P. Hammett, Mrs. L. Jordon, Mrs. E. Fisher and Mrs. F. Hart, was the 'mecca' of the bazaar with its great, snow-white Christmas cake, surmounted by a tiny red Santa Claus. "This gem of the culinary art would become the property of the lucky holder of the winning ticket. Around this lovely 'highlight' were the lesser lights of delicious looking cookies, fruit tarts, tempting date squares, pumpkin pies just out of the oven sending off that 'comehither' aroma; carrot pudding for Christmas, chocolate cakes, some the loaf type, others of the layer type drenched in pink icing and shredded coconut, jellies, fruit cakes, red of catsup, and a long, white cake with white frosting covered all over with tiny bits of maraschino cherries. All lovely and ready to be eaten.

Over the fancy work tables were choice articles so exceptionally nice for gifts. These consisted of lovely bibs and white hot-pads made with blue rose centres, embroidered chair or chesterfield sets, crocheted lace for pillowslips, knit mitts, tiny pot-holders, and dolls like little crocheted dresses; crocheted flower basket in yellow and white—a dainty gift—dollies in many patterns; and a tiny baby doll sitting so quiet, gazing about with a happy smile, no doubt the supply nursing bottle beside her accounted for the satisfied look; and a pretty knitting bag of a light colored material floral patterned, and lined with silk, having a wide handle to slip over the arm. The convener of this attractive display was Mrs. D. Vanstone and her co-convener, Mrs. A. McGee; assisted by Mrs. S. Morgan and Mrs. R. Hall, Mrs. E. Mohr, Mrs. P. Bush and Mrs. H. Sargent.

Flower Gardens of Aprons

The apron table was like a flower garden with its many colored aprons, some in white organdy with lace pocket, green sateen band and bordered with a two and half inch band at the bottom of mauve organdy; a terry towel apron, just the right thing for wash day; a red bathroom apron with blue wash cloth in the pocket, nice to use when giving junior his morning tub; a large, tiny checked blue and white gingham apron; another overall of tiny pink roses on a blue background with a frill at centre front bottom was very nice, and so many others, in pink and blue, and yellow; a Dutch apron of pink with its band of pin stripes in rainbow colors running across the middle and another at the bottom in pin stripes of greens, mauves, yellow and pink, caught the eye. Here, too, were little aprons for kiddies, and all manner of dolls' clothes hung around on lines. There were flannelette pyjamas, nighties, bunting bags, tiny panties, dainty negligees, little dresses of taffeta in brown, mauve, yellow, red and white, glistening with sequin trim; and then one of the loveliest trousseau sets for the doll bride, in white, glistening satin, all trimmed with the finest of lace—just right for a fairy princess. In charge of these articles were Mrs. M. Callaghan, Mrs. C. Bunnett, assisted by Mrs. A. Graham, Mrs. L. Quirt, Mrs. G. Cathers and Mrs. A. Taylor.

An attractive bazaar and dainty tea bringing credit to the convener, Mrs. R. Fisher and co-convener, Mrs. S. Pigden, and to all the many who assisted so faithfully and so willingly.

The Christmas cake was won by Miss S. O'Reilly; the doll's trousseau by Mrs. J. H. Fargey, and the grocery baskets by Mrs. L. Grey, Mrs. W. Muirhead, Mrs. G. Wilson, Mrs. C. Henley, Mrs. Sheffield and Mrs. E. Pigden.

St. Margaret's Guild Holds 'Snow-Man' Bazaar and Tea

A "Snow-man" bazaar, under the auspices of St. Margaret's Guild, was held yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of St. Margaret's-on-the-Hill.

The many guests were welcomed by Mrs. Arthur Page and Mrs. John Godwin, Guild president.

The decorations in the church hall, carrying out the Snow-man theme, were reminders that the Christmas season is not too far away.

The handiwork table displayed a large assortment of hand-knitted woollens, dolls' clothes, aprons, and other useful articles, while the cake table literally groaned under a lavish supply of cakes, pies, delicious puddings, cookies, bread and buns.

Great Attraction

The fish pond proved to be a great attraction for the children and the parents post equally so for the grown-ups.

The tea table was centred with red and white carnations and silver spray and flanked by candelabra with red and white tapers. Those pouring tea during the afternoon were, Mrs. Arthur Page, Mrs. R. Cole, and Mrs. Donald Leeming. The guests were seated at small tables, each table with its bouquet of carnations, encircled with green.

The great success of the bazaar was due to the committee chairman, Mrs. D. A. Kaye, Mrs. L. J. Seymour, Mrs. J. L. McGregor and Mrs. G. H. Carveth.

Mrs. W. A. Bowley acted as ticket treasurer. The free door prize was won by Mrs. C. W. Fraser, 294 Victoria Avenue.

Mrs. L. Reid Heads Neighbors' Aid

The Avondale Neighbors' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Smith, for their November meeting, with a good attendance.

Mrs. Hudson opened the meeting with a sing-song. An Armistice prayer was offered by the president, and poems, "Faithful to Society" were read by Mrs. Robson, Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. W. Denyes.

Reports were given and business discussed.

Slate of Officers

The following slate of officers was brought in for 1952:

President, Mrs. L. Reid; vice-president, Mrs. J. Anger; secretary, Mrs. M. Windover; correspondng secretary, Mrs. Knight; flower convener, Mrs. A. Clare; treasurer, Mrs. S. Lough; pianist, Mrs. K. Bird; assistant pianist, Mrs. J. Chambers; press reporter, Mrs. M. Robson.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. F. White.

Program committee held an auction sale, each member bringing an article, the proceeds from the sale netted $18.87.

Mrs. Heath provided the draw, with Mrs. Elvidge being the winner.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and the lunch committee. A social half hour was enjoyed.

A Message to the Electors of Hastings East Riding!

The present Government does not stand before the electorate in this campaign, with an armful of promises, nor upon a platform of assurances constructed expressly for the purpose of a general election.

The Frost Government comes to the people with a great program, which has already been carried out. It has a record of accomplishments, quite unparalleled in the history of this province, and plans which are already in effect, will create a new era of progress and make for a greater Ontario.

Here's What The Frost Govt. Has Given You

- Free Text-Books for school children up to Grade 8, saving parents two million dollars and aiding needy,
- Two million dollar centre to fight cancer.
- Hydro expanded, 160,000 new consumers.
- Farm Marketing Board set up to give farmers a fair deal.
- 12,000 additional hospital beds provided.
- Pensions for those at 65 (with Means Test). Only province in Canada so doing.
- Pensions for all at 70 in co-operation with Federal Government.
- Lowest Provincial Taxation of any province in Canada.

KEEP YOUR DATE WITH PROGRESS, ON ELECTION DAY

The coming election is a very important one for the people of Ontario. It is necessary that good government be continued in these challenging times! I will be your candidate at the polls and trust I will be given the same support that I have received in the past. While serving the people of Hastings East, I have tried on every occasion to meet the needs of ALL the people. I will endeavor, if elected, to give you the same good personal service as in the past.

Premier Leslie Frost and his Government will continue to provide legislation, favorable to the common good of all our people.

MADOC

St. John's Anglican Church W. A. Holds Bazaar and Tea

Madoc—The annual bazaar and afternoon tea sponsored by St. John's Anglican W.A. of Madoc was held on Thursday afternoon in their new parish hall.

A most cordial welcome was given to the visitors by Mrs. Claiend Barton at the door and Mrs. T. Harvey Good, the rector's wife.

The hall was decorated with lighted Christmas trees which gave it the atmosphere of the Yuletide season so near.

The gift and apron table was presided over by convener Mrs. J. Miles, assisted by Mrs. Everett Alexander.

The homecooking table was ably looked after by convener Mrs. Theo Rose, assisted by Mrs. Harry Tufts.

Pouring tea at an attractive dining table, with a lace cloth, tall lighted tapers and floral centre was the president, Mrs. R. T. Nevler.

Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Felix O'Riordon and Miss Waring served the guests at small tables centred with flowers. Mrs. Gilbert Tennyson and Mrs. Jack Baker presided over the tea table. A very pleasant afternoon was spent by the guests, while to the W.A. the proceeds were most gratifying.

Women's Institute

PLAINFIELD W.I.

Plainfield—The regular meeting of the Plainfield W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Marshall. Meeting was opened by the usual prayer by the president, Mrs. Grant Kerr.

A letter acknowledging the donation of money to the Unitarian Fund was read by the secretary, Mrs. Prindle. Canvassers were appointed to collect for the Blind and an auction sale was planned for Nov. 15 to be held in the church.

Mrs. Percy Ray the guest speaker gave an interesting account of the conference at Guelph. She said "the W.I. should have an efficient recording secretary and get the report in the paper early. The Institute is important and we should advertise ourselves."

No Time to Criticize

Mrs. Garnet Denyes prepared a paper on the motto "Boost your Society." She mentioned many ways of doing this. She said no woman should be too busy to spend one afternoon a month attending the W.I. meetings. If we have good ideas we should help by handing them along to the program committee and make our programs more interesting. If each lady does her part she will have little time to criticize others.

Readings by Mrs. S. Parks, Mrs. Prindle, Mrs. Fred Hall were given.

Mrs. C. Emerson read one of Nellie McClung's poems entitled "Higher Education."

A social half hour was spent following the close of the meeting.

DRY COUNTRY

Saudi – Arabia, comprising nearly four-fifths of the Arabian peninsula does not have a single lake or river.

New Light on Prayer

Most people would pray more if they felt they knew how,—and knew how prayer could really be effective. Many today feel that their own lives, and the world at large, sorely need help that human effort has not brought.

They see that somehow the answer to life's perplexing problems must be sought where power and intelligence have their limitless, beneficent source—the realm of God.

Today a remarkable book, the Christian Science textbook is reverently revealing a wholly new understanding of prayer, and meeting humanity's need.

SCIENCE and HEALTH

Women's Activities

WOOLER UNITED CHURCH EVENING AUXILIARY

Wooler — On Tuesday evening the Evening Auxiliary of Wooler United Church met in the church parlors with guests from Tabernacle and Codrington in attendance. The president Mrs. Charlie Nelson, extended a hearty welcome to the visitors. A two minute silence followed the reading of a poem by the president.

After the minutes had been read by the secretary, Mrs. N. Crosby, the business was discussed.

During this period a nominating committee was appointed as follows, Mrs. Mac Anderson, Mrs. Wilbur McColl and Mrs. Lolomd Redcliffe.

Mrs. Douglas R. Fox sang "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer," Miss Helen Bentley read the "Average Man's Prayer" and Mrs. James Putnam the Scripture lesson.

A colorful and interesting film on the Study Book "Lakes to Northern Lights" was shown by Rev. W. G. Fletcher, Mrs. H. Ewing sang "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

While refreshments were being prepared, a sing-song and games were enjoyed by all.

Fashion Flashes

LOOK ABOUT and you'll note that the skirt carries the major interest in most dresses. Yiers of silk taffeta, with finely scalloped edges over inlays of silk organdie, makes up the widening skirt of a beautiful afternoon dress. The organdie is used for the simple bodice top, shoulders and sleeves.

A SURE SELLER with almost every woman who tries it on is the cap of velvet, fur felt or velours, quite simple save for five pedded prongs studded with rhinestones or other jewel-like stones. The prongs curve softly down one side. Looks like the hat success of the season.

COMFY as all get out are those lounging outfits of corduroy. Tapered slacks of solid tone corduroy topped by a tattersall printed corduroy vest makes for a smart outfit. The waistcoat has a cuffed horsehoe neckline and gold buttons. Goes nicely, too, with a blouse and a separate skirt for general wear.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE of the full or slim line for your suit. In the latter category is a slim-line suit of coffee brown worsted flannel. The slim jacket buttons to a point that rises between the high-placed collar, and a stitched band encircling the lightly padded hips. The slim skirt has a pleat in back for easy motion.

Legion Honors Comrade Becker Before Departure

A group of "Old Sweats" and younger veterans of Branch 30 of the Canadian Legion gathered at the Legion hall on Coleman Street last night to pay honor to H. N. Becker, manager of the Bank of Montreal, who is leaving shortly for London, to take over an important branch of the organization. Since coming to Belleville, Mr. Becker has entered whole-heartedly and enthusiastically into all work of the legion and on behalf of the branch he was presented with a Lazy Boy chair and ottoman, while his good wife, Mrs. Ruth Becker was given a bouquet of roses. The president of the branch, Leroy Madsen presided at the social function.

In making the presentation, Mr. Madsen stated there were two distinct types that belonged to any institution, the one who was content to pay his dues and let work and the other who joined to do work. "In a short time," said Mr. Madsen, "you have become about to lose its most enthusiastic member in the person of Comrade Becker. "Since coming to this city he has taken an active interest in the work of the legion and this branch has prospered under his advisory capacity." The speaker said he knew that Mr. Becker did not want all these nice things said about him but the members felt they could not let the opportunity pass without telling him how much he has been appreciated.

A Real Friend

The president said that Mr. Becker had been a real friend to every veteran and that he was behind anyone who was right and would tell you straight, when you were wrong. "His capacity for work was unbounded," said the speaker, "despite the fact he was a busy man in other walks of life. He will be missed in this city in the social, civic and business life but we will always remember his wonderful work in the legion and on behalf of his comrades in this branch we ask him to accept this small token of our esteem."

Good Reption

Mr. Becker in reply stated that something he had tried to do in his was to help old soldiers and encourage young kids in recreation. He stated that during his life in the bank, which began in Travistock he had found there were good people in every community, that he had visited and that Belleville was no exception. In speaking of Sheikids, Mr. Becker stated that the community had to make green spots, where kids can play because if you keep them playing they will be out of trouble. "One boy in the penitentiary for ten years will cost the government more money then all the parks you could build" said the speaker. He quoted an incident in the city where the Recreation Commission gave $285 for the purchase of leather and the articles that the kids made brought in a revenue of $225 so you see, the kids were kept busy and still were useful.

Praises Legion

The speaker stated that all organizations were grand things to join but the Legion was the best of all. "No country will survive without fighting men and God willing I shall always help a veteran". Mr. Becker advanced the thought that all veterans should be banded together for the good of all, especially in our own country. In closing he stated he was glad to serve and will carry on till the end. He sincerely thanked the legion for the beautiful gift and it would always be a reminder of the happy days spent among old comrades.

Mrs. Matthews and Everett Liddle spoke briefly, Mr. Matthews speaking of the sacrifices made by Mrs. Becker in allowing her husband so much time away from his home, while Mr. Liddle spoke of the fine contribution Mr. Becker had made to the Poppy committee. At the close of the speeches the members enjoyed a social evening with their guests.

BOTH LEGS FRACTURED

Philadelphia, Nov. 15 — (AP)— Two policemen yesterday found Clinton Crawford, 36, crouched on a doorstep with both legs fractured. He said he was run down by a car. When a policeman notified Crawford's relatives, he was asked: "When did Clinton get out?" Crawford admitted later that he had been injured in a jump to freedom from Moyamensing prison.

TAKE $14,000,000

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 15 — (AP) — Taxes and depreciation in five years have pared almost $14,000,000 from the estate of the late Sand-len magnate, Charles S. Woolworth, a court audit revealed yesterday. The audit shows federal inheritance taxes on the $16,417,524 estate of more than $8,000,000, withPennsylvania state's share adding $1,774,774. Depreciation leaves the net estate worth $2,513,864, according to the audit.

TWEED

Russell Ruttan Disposes of Interest In Memorial Park Service Station

Tweed — Russell Ruttan has disposed of his interest in the service station at Memorial Park, Tweed, to John and Ray Gaffney of Tamworth, who have already taken possession. They will continue to operate the garage as well as the service station.

Mr. Ruttan will join the H. J. McFarland Construction Company staff and will be engaged in the operation of machines for road construction. The Gaffneys will also act as local district dealers for the International Harvester Company. They will still continue their interest in the Tamworth community.

Klondike Party

The Tweed Klondike Club was appointed recently to represent the Blind Institute for this immediate district, and will be in charge of all future canvasses to the Institute.

Receipts from special canvass: $246.50; Tag Day $71.08; Klondike donation $264.42; other donations making a total of $350.00.

A cheque for this amount has been forwarded to Blind Institute headquarters at Kingston as Tweed contribution. The Klondikers wish to thank all those who donated so generously also to the ladies of the city who did the canvassing as to the high school girls who helped on tag day.

The Tweed branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society received a fine response to their appeal for funds from the people of Tweed and surrounding district.

Secretary Treasurer Mrs. J. J. Laffman, has submitted the following report.

Local canvass $490.90, collection at annual meeting $12.37, total $503.27 less expenses for stamps, etc. $1.90. Total submitted to Bible Society headquarters at Toronto $501.47. W. S. Gordon, president, Rev. F. F. Downing, vice president, and Mrs. Laffman, secretary treasurer, desire to express their appreciation to all contributors and to the fine co-operation given by the collectors.

Completes Building

Cartha Cassidy proprietor of Tweed Hardware and Electric has completed the new cement block addition at the rear of his store. The new building will provide much needed storage space for refrigerators, stoves and other electrical appliances. A new oil heating system has been installed and the heating and repair department has been removed to the rear permitting more floor space in the front for the display of electrical appliances. Mr. Cassidy's growing business necessitated the new addition. The work was completed by the Jos. Rashotte Lumber and Contracting Company.

NOW—AN OPEN SECRET

"That cup of tea at Muriel's put about seven pep lbs.—I could have hugged her, I was so weary shopping."

"Yes, it was good, too—I know!, I've got her secret."

"Oh?"

"Yes — Mother Parker's Orange Pekoe."

"That's a coincidence! Only yesterday Aunt Belle was praising Mother Parker's Tea."

"Says she just loves the Quality and convenience of their Tea Bags."

U.S. Intervention In Iran Oil Row Still Rejected

Washington, Nov. 15 — (AP)— Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh personally explains Wed., why Iran has spurned urgent United States pleas for a compromise settlement of the bitter Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

Despite a worsening financial crisis at home, Mossadegh—who has postponed his departure—seemed certain to affirm his government's determination to nationalize and operate the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. He spoke before the National Press Club Wednesday.

Meanwhile, an announcement that Mossadegh will stay on until Sunday instead of leaving by air tomorrow raised a thin possibility that some last-minute improvement in the negotiations might have developed. There was no direct word from Mossadegh.

The ,72-year-old Iranian leader was also disclosed to have appealed to President Truman last Sunday for American financial aid to tide his country over the impoverishment caused by loss of oil revenues.

The State Department formally declared yesterday that it separats talks with Mossadegh during six 21 days here had failed to discover any "new basis" for a solution to the wrangle with Britain.

Aides said Mossadegh is far from discouraged at the continuing stalemate. They say he is confident he can quiet growing opposition among his political foes when he reaches Tehran.

Iran now refuses to hire any of the British technicians who formerly operated the Anglo-Iranian oil installations. Deputy Premier Hussein Fatemi told a reporter.

Mossadegh first offered to keep them on as employees of the nationalized Iranian Oil Company, before they were evacuated in September.

Finally technicians must be brought in to replace the Britons, he added, if the west wants to advise Iran on operation and management of the properties.

DID NOT SAVE MEAT

Lakeview, Ont., Nov. 15—(CP) —"And the price of meat yet" moaned Mrs. William McCrae yesterday when she saw her family's supper — a seven-pound roast — sitting charred and black on the stove. A paper boy, noticing smoke billowing out of the kitchen, while Mrs. McCrae was shopping, called the local fire brigade. They saved the house but not the meat.

DOUBLE UNEMPLOYED

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 15—(CP)—Influx of European immigrants has doubled the number of unemployed people registered with the National Employment Service office here. At present, there are 500 men and 343 women who cannot be placed, as compared to only 250 men and 165 women at this time last month.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE TORONTO DAILY STAR

The position your paper has taken and the great publicity you have given to the charges of neglect of the aged and the callousness charges of the leader of the Liberal party in this election prompts this open letter to you, for the sole purpose of giving the public the true facts and an insight into the record of this man Thomson.

He was elected to the federal parliament by the people of Ontario County to serve them and them alone for the duration of the life of that government. Listed below are a few of the votes he was present for, incidentally out of a total of 102 votes during his term of office, he was absent for fifty nine of them.

THE RECORD

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1 | Voted AGAINST removal of Means Test for Old Age Pensioners | Sept. 19th, 1949 |
| 2 | Voted AGAINST a Commonwealth Trade Conference | Feb. 28th, 1950 |
| 3 | Voted AGAINST Selective Price Controls | April 18th, 1950 |
| 4 | Voted AGAINST a motion that Communist activities be outlawed in Canada | May 9th, 1950 |
| 5 | Voted AGAINST Price Controls and Subsidies | Sept. 2nd, 1950 |
| 6 | Voted AGAINST Motion asking Government to combat inflation and rapidly rising cost of living | Sept. 5th, 1950 |
| 7 | Voted AGAINST Federal Aid for Education | Feb. 22nd, 1951 |
| 8 | Voted FOR increased Excise Taxes on household essentials etc. | June 7th, 1951 |

This then is the record of concern for the public which the man you have been championing has placed on the books.

Of course the job of being an elected member of parliament only paid $6,000 per year so we cannot feel hurt that he would regard it as just another promise and go out to collect the $232,000.00 from the Department of Veterans' Affairs by doing some legal work for the Land Act. His pledge to represent the people was just another promise as carelessly made as his present day pledges.

In spite of Mr. Thomson Ontario will be paying its share to the aged without the Means Test and will continue educating our youth.

MARMORA

Legion Holds Remembrance Day Service

Marmora.—Saturday was Poppy Day in Marmora and Deloro with teen-age girls selling poppies under the auspices of Marmora Branch, No. 227, Canadian Legion. The sale netted almost double the amount of last year.

Displays in the windows of the store of Clinton Nickle and Tom Paranuik reminded passersby of the fallen from the district.

Dead Honored

On Sunday morning, members of the Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary paraded to St. Andrew's United Church for the annual Remembrance service. En route, the parade halted at the Memorial Hall for the greater part to proceed to the church for the opening of the service there, while a small number remained to deposit wreaths and observe the two minutes' silence. Later they rejoined the parade within the church.

The parade was in charge of president, Clayton Bedore. "The Last Post" and "Reveille" were sounded by Comrade G. Brooks, outside the church.

Rev. G. D. Young, B.A., B.D., who officiated at the service spoke on "The Two Minutes' Silence" and emphasized the fact that the sacrifices made in the World Wars, were but instalments towards the price to be fully paid for peace. The choir rendered Joseph Barnby's "For All the Saints", as the anthem.

At the conclusion of the service the parade returned to the Memorial Hall, to salute the tablets beneath which poppy wreaths had been placed and then proceeded to the Legion Hall for dismissal.

Wreaths were deposited at the Memorial Hall by the following, Canadian Legion, Major C. Nickle and R. Provost.

Ladies' Auxiliary, Canadian Legion, President Mrs. C. Bedore.

Province of Ontario, Albert Bartlett, Life member of Canadian Legion.

Marmora Village, George Osborne, for Reeve V. M. Lynch.

Marmora Township, Pat President, W. M. Regan for Reeve Irwin McCoy.

Marmora Chapter I.O.D.E., President Mrs. W. M. Regan and Mrs. H. English.

Local Branch of I.M.M.S. Union, President C. Paranuik.

At Deloro Hall, wreaths were placed under the memorial plaques there by R. G. Walsh, general-manager of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company Limited; C. H. Bunkard, reeve of Deloro Village and Thomas Brawley, manager of the Deloro Trading Company.

WHITE'S DISTRICT

White's District—Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jeffery and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Meyers attended the cemetery meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jones of Trenton, on Tuesday evening.

The Bay of Quinte Women's Institute met at the home of the president, Mrs. Cecil Jeffery, on Wednesday afternoon. The guest speaker, Miss McBride, spoke on "Human Relations," and brought many interesting facts to the members. Due to the sleet storm and the cut off of hydro and telephone service much inconvenience was caused.

Mrs. Donald Rush and son of Bayside, were Friday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Rush.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bowers attended the reception for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vine (nee Lorna Fair), at the Orange Hall in Wallbridge on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sandercock; Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Thrasher; Mrs. Jas. Sandercock and Mr. Donald Sandercock attended the wedding of Mr. Bob Sandercock in Toronto on Saturday afternoon and the reception which followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hitz, Carolyn, Kathryn and Arnold of Thurlow, and Mrs. M. Denton of Belleville, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jeffery.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bowers, Marilyn, Audrey and Donald were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parker of Campbellford.

Remembrance Day

White's and Wesley congregations joined in a fine Armistice Day service at White's Church on Sunday afternoon with Mrs. W. A. Jeffery as pianist.

"The 23rd Psalm" and "God Our Help in Ages Past" were used in the service. The Rev. A. C. McCallum used Revelations 2:10 as his text for his discourse on those fought on Flanders Field and in World War II and especially for those who did not return. He gave tribute to the Sunday School teacher, when at the age of 10 years, he chose his profession. Abraham Lincoln credited his mother with his success in life. He said, "Mothers, teachers and Sunday School teachers should be honored as well as the Unknown Soldier, for their influence is great."

The November meeting of the Bayside Woman's Missionary Society was held at Wesley Church on Thursday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Clifton Rush, presiding over a worthwhile meeting, the theme being, "The Church Serving the Nation." The Scripture Psalm 67 and Mathew 22:37, was read by Mrs. Mooney.

"Credo of a Canadian" and "Whosoever Believeth Shall Have" were read by Mrs. Young and Mrs. Meyers.

Mrs. Denton, of Belleville, the Christian Stewardship secretary of the Belleville Presbyterial, gave many fine thoughts. She said "Being a steward of God is a great privilege. We must not only give our money but our time. We can be missionaries in Canada." A lively discussion followed.

It was decided to take a donation to be said at December meeting for 50 cents. Each member is to give a $1 donation and if possible a "White Gift" to be sent to Erikdale Hospital in Manitoba. Mrs. Jeffery offered her home for the annual meeting.

The study book, "From Lakes to Northern Lights," was taken by Mrs. Walter Jones. "The Church in the Little Place" told how services were held in the home and in church.

Mrs. Fred Wilson of Belleville, 1st vice-president of the Belleville Presbyterial, brought a message from the Fall Rally, stating that all members and especially the 1st vice-president of the local auxiliaries should endeavor to obtain new members. She also requested a larger attendance at the next rally, saying a friendly atmosphere prevailed and that the guest speaker and other speakers were worth the effort. From Mrs. Mills' report of finances she suggested an increase in givings to exceed the allocation of $1.00 per. She also mentioned the meeting of executives of W.A. and W.M.S. Presbyterials in Belleville and told of the building campaign for a new United Church School in Toronto.

Mrs. Rush moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Denton, and Mrs. Wilson, for their help and their kindness in attending.

The offering was dedicated by Mrs. Denton.

STIRLING

Council to Raise Required Funds For New Station

Stirling—Village Council will raise the required funds for the erection of a new hydro electric station. A letter tabled from the local Hydro Electric Commission at Monday night's council meeting suggested $15,000 as the amount required, with interest at four and half percent. Reeve Wells announced that the local commission has been assured by the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission that the new substation would be ready for use by December of this year. During the winter months the local hydro system will be fed through both the old and new sub-stations with the complete cut-over being made in the spring.

A letter tabled from R. Bruce Bell relative to cars parking in front of his driveway and on the south side of Front Street set off a lengthy debate on parking in the village. It was the general consensus that enforcement of the local traffic by-law was the only solution to the problem. A special meeting of council will be held at a later date to either amend the present by-law or pass a new traffic by-law.

Concurred in Request

Council concurred in a request from the township of Marmora and Lake that the Ontario Department of Highways be urged to extend Highway No. 14, which passes through the village from Marmora to Coe Hill according to a letter from the above township, the suggested new highway would open up a new section of Hastings county for tourists as well as for mining interests.

The Boller Inspector's report on an inspection of the boiler in the county service building was tabled from the General Insurance Company. The boiler was reported in good condition.

Clerk F. R. Mallory reported that no appeals had been received against the assessment roll for 1952. Consequently it would not be necessary to hold a court of revision.

Several accounts were passed for payment.

DICKENS' HOME

The house in London where Charles Dickens lived from 1837 to 1839 now is headquarters of the Dickens Fellowship.

3RD HILLIER

3rd Hillier — Miss Joyce Benway and Miss Mary Brick of Kingston spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benway.

The members of the Hillier Institute will entertain several other Institutes on Thursday evening at Hillier town hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Goodmurphy entertained company on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Wright, Hillier spent Sunday with Mr. Wright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dalnard and boys, Donald and Gordon.

Miss Joyce Benway and Miss Mary Brick spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Ross Benway.

The canning factories settled with the farmers on Monday for the season's crops.

Milk is going to Clover Dale Cheese and Butter Factory every other day.

Mr. Charles Benway and Mr. Harry Pettingil attended the Masonic banquet at Consecon on Friday evening.

Free School Books For The Kiddies

"Equality of opportunity is the beacon and goal of our people," said Premier Leslie Frost announcing free text books for every child in elementary schools of Ontario. Here the Prime Minister is shown with the school books of the four children of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Black, Toronto, who attend Lord Dufferin public school in the Ontario capital. The children: Gloria, aged 9, Barbara, aged 8, Douglas, aged 7 and in grade 6; and Ronald, aged 13, grade 7. Their father, who served five years overseas with the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps in world War II, has been in Korea as a corporal with the 2nd Royal Canadian Regiment for the last 18 months. "You don't know how much it means to my budget not to have to supply the books for our children," says the mother.

Rev. A. L. Sisco Speaks On 'Sacrifice' At Memorial Service

Tweed — Remembrance Day services were observed in the different churches throughout the village on Sunday. The Tweed branch of the Canadian Legion held its annual Memorial morning service at the cenotaph in Tweed Memorial park.

All ex-servicemen joined with the legion in this service.

The padre, the Rev. F. F. Downing spoke briefly after which a wreath was placed on the cenotaph in memory of their fallen comrades in Two World Wars. From the cenotaph the Legion marched to St. John's United Church where service was conducted by the minister, the Rev. A. L. Sisco, B.D.

On entering the church, a two minute silence was observed. Invocation and the Lord's Prayer was offered followed by the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

The senior choir sang as an anthem, "Soldiers of Christ Arise" and the junior choir sang "God of Our Fathers."

Mr. Sisco extended a hearty welcome to the Tweed branch of the Canadian Legion who were present at the worship services on this armistice day.

He chose for his subject "Sacrifice."

Sacrifice Made

He paid a tribute to those who had made the supreme sacrifice. He spoke of the sacrifice the men had to make when they enlisted to fight for king and country. "They did it cheerfully, did it that we might live, they gave their very best, their lives."

"Our soldier dead knew much of suffering and sacrifice. Mothers had learned to sacrifice when they gave their sons to fight for king and country. We too will be called on to suffer if we will be Christ and His Kingdom and surrender ourselves for the common good of others. We assemble ourselves at the cenotaph that we might remember. We forget—Lest we forget."

"When a man changed his clothes for a uniform, he made a choice, of self surrender and sacrifice. His cross is still above us and it beckons us to follow through love and brotherhood that this which has been done, should not have been done in vain."

A large congregation had assembled at the church for this remembrance service.

DOUCETT RECOVERING

Ottawa, Nov. 15 (CP)—George Doucett, Ontario Highways Minister, underwent a successful operation yesterday to mend a right hip fractured in an automobile collision last Thursday. Dr. J. C. Sands, who performed the operation at the Civic Hospital, reported Mr. Doucett in good shape, but said he probably will be laid up for another month.

STIRLING

St. Paul's Honors Deceased Members By Memorial Service

Stirling—Last Sunday morning in St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, an annual memorial service for deceased church members was held under the guidance of the pastor, Rev. A. E. Baker, U.E., who based his message on the theme, "Wherefore".

Endowment Directory Dedicated

The Endowment Directory was dedicated at this service and is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. (Ben) Hanna, of St. Paul's. It is made of solid oak, hand carved and is designed to initiate a Sacred Trust Fund. This directory will be erected in the main entrance vestibule of the church. The minimum designated gift in this trust fund is $50. Mr. and Mrs. Hanna unveiled the directory and made the presentation, while Mr. George Carlisle made the acceptance address.

Fine Music

Mrs. A. E. Baker A.R.C.T. presided at the console of the organ and the service opened with a Litany by Schubert. The offertory interludes were "Requiem in Pace" and the postlude was Schubert's "Marche Solenelle".

The royal junior choir sang, "God Be In My Head—W. Davies and the senior choir rendered W. D. Sharks famous selection "Who Are These In Bright Array."

Mrs. Cecil Macklin and Mrs. George Hessman sang "Morning Land" by Phelps.

The processional hymn "The Lord Is My Shepherd", and the responsive lesson, "Souls of the Righteous," was followed by the clerk reading the names from the burial register and the "In Memoriam" is as follows:- Roy Lancaster, Jennie Rebecca Chambers, William John Richardson; Frederick Nelson McKee; J. Arthur Blair; William Edward Fitchett; Maggie Rosetta Hanna; Eva Edith Potter; Eliza Rowatt Connolly; Bertha Marshall Rose; Walter Themes Atlantic Barker and Marjorie Lavina Heath.

The service closed with the rendition of "We cannot think of them as dead who walk with us no more."

HEAD

Head — Mr. John Freeman, of Tweed, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Freeman.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fobert, of Oshawa, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Buckley.

Mrs. Ann Williams is seriously ill at her home here.

Some of the Knights of Columbus attended the meeting in Belleville on Sunday.

The sleet storm of last week disrupted the hydro and telephone lines and broke many branches from the trees.

Messrs Gerald Brennan and Ken Kehoe attended a birthday supper in Belleville on Sunday evening.

Miss Margaret Kelly spent the weekend at her home in Chesterville.

MADE GOOD HAUL

Toronto, Nov. 15 (CP)—A cat burglar ransacked second-floor bedrooms in the home of Gordon Fairley last night and escaped with $12,000 worth of jewelry, $700 and two automatic pistols.

Police said Mr. Fairley, president of Hotel Holdings Ltd., was dining with his family downstairs during the burglary.

Huge New Chemical Industry Taking Shape in Edmonton To Employ Natural Resources

Edmonton (CP) — A huge new chemical industry is taking shape in Edmonton as an offshoot of Alberta's wealth of oil and natural gas.

Important chemicals not at present produced in Canada will be manufactured out of by-products from the nearby oil refineries. Wood pulp from British Columbia will be processed into yarn and staple fibre.

First in the field is Canadian Chemical Co. Ltd., an affiliate of Celanese Corporation. It is spending $54,800,000 on 300 acres of buildings on what a few months ago was a wheat field.

The former will use propane and butane gases, available at the refineries only a few miles away, to manufacture chemicals, most of which now must be imported from the United States.

The cellulose acetate division will turn out the yarn and the staple fibre, as well as large quantities of the raw materials of these textiles which will be exported for final processing elsewhere.

This raw material is cellulose acetate flake. About 25,000,000 pounds a year of the stuff will be turned out — 15,000,000 pounds to be processed at the Edmonton plant and the remaining 10,000,000 pounds to be exported.

Two-thirds of Edmonton's quota will go into staple fibre and the remainder into yarn.

Wood pulp for the acetate flake will come from an affiliated mill at Terrace, B.C., on the Prince Rupert-Edmonton line of Canadian National Railways.

A second plant, to cost more than $10,000,000, may be built by Canadian Industries Ltd. Montreal executives of the firm have been in Edmonton conferring with Mayor Sidney Parsons on a site for the project.

Canadian Chemical's plant, overlooking the North Saskatchewan River, six miles east of the city, will be ready early in 1953. A work force of 500 men is pushing construction under severe winter conditions. Two thousand will be on the job next summer.

The plant will have two main divisions, technically called petro-chemical and cellulose acetate.

Chemicals to be made from propane and butane include products now imported such as pentaerythritol, used in military explosives and in resins employed in manufacturing plastics and paints; methanol, used in anti-freeze and as an auxiliary fuel in piston-type and jet aircraft engines, and N-propyl alcohol, the largest-volume alcohol used in the United States as a brake fluid and at present not available in Canada.

Others are propylene glycol, used in printing inks, textile products; alcohol used in the United States used as a cooling agent in liquid-cooled aircraft engines, and diisopropylene glycol, used in printing inks, textile processing and in specialty oils and greases.

Fuel for heating and generating power for the huge plant will come from Alberta natural gas wells.

No details of the C.I.L. project have been announced. The company has taken a five-month option on a 300-acre site one mile east of the city. Dr. J. H. Shipley, development manager, and D. H. G. Littler, chemical department manager, both of Montreal, declined to comment on the company's plans when in the city last week.

New Zealand Said Paradise For Bachelors

By J. C. GRAHAM
(Canadian Press Correspondent)

Wellington, N.Z., (CP) — A New Zealand member of parliament, J. J. Maher, put young men on their mettle by claiming that under present conditions of wages and hours New Zealand is a "paradise" for single young men.

Maher said that a man about 23 or 24 years old, contemplating marriage, should be able to have £1,000 ($3,000) in the bank "without denying himself too much and still having a good time."

"We find young men dispairing their earnings instead of buying a home," he said, "and then going to the state for a home. It is a poor outlook and young men who do that are taking a good girl down."

One 23-year-old, earning $36 a week, declared that from him an absolute minimum of $15.a week for living expenses. In addition he paid about $180 a year taxes, $150 for clothing and about the same for holidays. That left about $600 a year as the maximum he might save, and he said this was a good deal less when he was younger and not earning as much.

Another man, 22, who neither drinks nor smokes, said he had saved carefully for three years and now had $900 in the bank. He said he would be lucky to have $1,500 by the time he was 24, let alone $3,000.

Four Farm Families Honored By Government of Alberta For Outstanding Achievements

Edmonton, Nov. 15 — (CP) — The Alberta government today awarded four farm families to the province's coveted "master farmer" award.

For a third year, the Social Credit government announced agriculture's honors list — the Master Farm Family Awards entitling each family to $1,000 cash, an engraved plaque and a name plate for the farm entrance.

Agriculture Minister D. A. Ure said the awards are for "good farming, right living and clear thinking." Thirty-six nominations for the honor were scored on 27 factors ranging from conservation practices and business management to family and community life. The winners:

John G. Poroznl of Willingdon, a district northeast of Edmonton settled at the turn of the century largely by Romanian Immigrants. Poroznl in 1928 inherited the acres, a log cabin and a $2,000 mortgage. Today he operates a prosperous grain-livestock business, his holdings have grown to 800 acres — and the mortgage is just a memory.

Victor Watson, who farms 1,-800 acres near Airdrie just north of Calgary. He is one of Alberta's leading growers of registered seed and captured the cate championship at Toronto's Ex hibition Fair in 1938. His family came west from Harwood, Ont.

Preserves Alberta

John W. Hosford, an Irishman who started in South Edmonton 33 years ago with 160 acres and four scrub cows. Today he has a herd of 90 registered Holstein dairy cattle and his 800-acre farm is one of the most modern in the district.

Floyd Gilkyson of La Glace in northern Alberta's Peace River country. With little capital, he built up in 20 years a fine beef herd in Canada's youngest agricultural region.

Alberta began choosing master farm families in 1946. The aim of the awards is to discover and honor those whose activities reflect the advantages of the farming vocation and the dignity of rural life.

The title goes to the whole family, because in making the awards every facet of farm life is considered. The things-are considered as well — as shining barns and well-managed fields.

The Gilkysons, for instance, pride themselves on a herd of 15 frisky Shetland ponies, kept on the farm mainly because the Gilkysons, whose parents came to Alberta from the United States middle west, and their three sons have a great affection for the friendly little animals.

Forest Is Example

Mr. Poroznl is cited as an example that a farmer with little formal schooling can become a leader in his calling. Mr. Poroznl had only a grade III education. But he has learned everything he can about agriculture and community affairs. Every year the Poroznis toured Ontario and America, visiting farms and experimental stations to pick up ideas.

NEW WING OPENED

Paris, Nov. 15— (CP) — The Willett hospital's new wing, costing $120,000, was officially opened here yesterday. The wing provides 36 beds. Fifty-three per cent of the cost which also took care of alterations in the old building, was provided by the Ontario government.

THIEVES CAME IN

Barrie, Nov. 15—(CP)— Ross Monger took his two big police dogs out the back door to exercise them. Thieves entered the front door and ransacked the house. However, they took nothing of value. It was the fifth break-in in the area in two days.

Anglo-Canadian Relations Will Be Reviewed

London, Nov. 15 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill's visit to Canada will entail general review of Anglo-Canadian relations, an official spokesman said Wednesday.

Although no firm agenda has yet been worked out for the prime minister's early visit to Ottawa, it can be said the Conservative party hopes a new approach will be sought to problems facing the two countries.

During six years of socialism, Conservatives were frequently critical of what they deemed to be a rather laconic Labor government attitude toward Canada.

Among the many topics which will undoubtedly come up in the future structure of the commonwealth. Ambitious Conservative proposals, outlined more than two years ago, a commonwealth charter, include the formation of a sort of commonwealth supreme court—to supercede the Privy Council and to sit in turn in all commonwealth capitals.

A permanent commonwealth secretariat and closer linking of commonwealth defence were also suggested.

Canada in the past has indicated she is chary of any such specific devices, preferring the great flexibility of the present association.

A spokesman for the prime minister said there are no details on how long Churchill will stay in Ottawa. The informant also said it was too early yet to comment on British press reports that the premier while in the United States, will spend a few days in Miami, Fla., as guest of Canadian businessman Col. Frank Clarke.

Clarke, a Toronto-born pulp and paper magnate, is a close friend of Churchill.

Prime Minister Says Information To be Available

Ottawa, Nov. 15 (CP)—George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, is urging the government to speed up answers to questions placed on the Commons order paper and passed by the house as "orders for returns". This is the method by which members obtain information of government activities, expenditures and such.

He observed in the house yesterday, that when the last session prorogued there were 43 such questions unanswered and seven of them had been on the order paper at various times since Nov. 14, 1949.

John Diefenbaker (PC— Lake Centre) added that he was particularly interested in an order passed six months ago asking for information on legal fees paid in Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg since April 30, 1951. He said he knew it was a big job /but six months should be sufficient time in which to complete it.

Prime Minister St. Laurent agreed that the returns were long overdue and he would make it his "personal duty" to see they were brought down "with due dispatch."

PAINTINGS SOLD

New York, Nov. 15. (AP)—Paintings belonging to Marion Davies, silent film star, and longtime friend of the late publisher, William Randolph Hearst, brought a total of $624,810 at an auction last night. Miss Davies, in whose Beverly Hills Calif., home Hearst died, August 14, was married October 31 to Horace Gates Brown, a sea captain.

France Slashes Dollar Imports By 40 Per Cent

Paris, Nov. 15 (Reuters)—The French government Wed., decided to slash dollar imports by 30 to 40 percent.

Rene Mayer, vice-premier and finance minister, persuaded the cabinet to set the total import figure for the dollar zone at $500,000,000.

Mayer indicated to the cabinet France was in for serious belt tightening, the spokesman said.

The spokesman said French dollar imports from June, 1950, to June 1951, were $850,000,000.

Frenchmen will be pinched for coal, gasoline, cotton and newsprint due to the import dash, the cabinet spokesman indicated.

France's dollar reserves are believed below $200,000,000 compared with a pre-war backlog of $1,500,000,000 and a post-war average of $400,000,000.

France's trade deficit for the first 10 months of this year was 252,000,000,000 francs ($720,000,-000) or twice what it was for the corresponding period in 1950.

Mayer will go before parliament Friday to spell out what is expected to be a new austerity era for the country.

The cabinet will meet again tomorrow to fill in details of the announcements and to decide if the cabinet will take its life on the issue—that is, ask a formal vote of confidence on the program.

Thieves Cut 100 Yards Wire From Main Cable

Oshawa, Nov. 15 (CP) — The main telephone cable between Toronto and Montreal was put out of commission at 3 a.m. Wed., when thieves cut 100 yards of wire from the circuit at Pickering.

Bell Telephone Company men worked eight hours to restore service.

Every repair squad from Toronto and Oshawa was put to work. The circuit was cut near Frenchman's Bay road in Pickering township.

At 3 a.m. the thieves, shielded from the highway by a railway embankment, climbed a telephone pole and cut through a wire holding up the three-inch-thick, lead covered cable.

Five telephone poles fell with the cable. As they cut through the lead, an automatic alarm flashed on in the telephone company headquarters.

Police were called out. Scarboro police arrested men travelling in a truck. Telephone workers found coiled piles of the cable at the break.

Workmen today estimated the cable taken by the thieves was worth more than $1,000 for its lead and the 226 pairs of copper wire coiled inside.

Miles of temporary wiring were used to link the break today.

RAWDON

Mrs. B. Morton Entertains Baby, Mission Bands

Rawdon.—Mrs. Burton Morton, leader of Wellman's Baby Mission Band and Wellman's Baby Band, entertained both groups with their mothers at her home on Saturday afternoon.

This is their final meeting for 1951 as the Mission Band has held 11 meetings and the Baby Band two meetings in this year.

The president of the Mission Band, Miss Annie Dracup, presided and gave the call to worship. Miss Muriel Morton presided at the piano and played quiet music and all sang, "All People that on Earth do Dwell".

The Good Samaritan

Miss Janet Tompkins read the Bible Lesson as found in St. Luke telling "the story of the good Samaritan."

Miss Marlene Haggerty read the story of Dr. Both and his work in connection with Overseas Relief in Japan.

The Mission Band prayer was read by all the children from the blackboard and this was followed by silent prayer, the Mission Boxes and a special prayer for the leader.

Miss Margaret Dracup gathered the offering for both organizations and this included mite-boxes and autumn thank-offering envelopes and the total was approximately $20 and was dedicated to the cause of mission.

The leader, Mrs. Burton Morton, delighted the children with the last chapter of the study book, "Where the Carp Hammers Fly!", after which Miss Mary Chumbley gave her report.

Mrs. Burton Morton superintendent of Mission Band and Baby Band then took the chair and conducted the business.

It was decided that Mrs. Byron Seeley and Mrs. Jack Dunham be appointed auditors for the two Bands.

The children of the Mission Band sang a welcome song to the Baby Band members and their mothers and the mothers gave a special prayer in unison.

Diplomas Presented

Misses Jean Tompkins and Rosa Dracup formed an arch through which Doreen and Donald Maybee passed and then they were heartily welcomed into the Mission Band by the president and leaders and then Doreen and Donald were presented with their graduation diplomas.

The group sang "Away in a Manger", after which Miss Annie Dracup was presented with her Mission Band Life Membership certificate by the leader. The gift of this Life Membership was made possible through the generosity of Mrs. Fred Thrasher, who has always been interested in Missions. The special lettering on the certificate was the work of Miss Gladys Clarke.

Officers Elected

The election of officers for 1952 followed with three re-elected—president, Miss Annie Dracup; treasurer, Master Charles Nix and pianist, Miss Muriel Morton.

The new secretary will be Miss Marlene Haggerty.

The newly elected officers took their places and Mrs. K. Tompkins and the other folks sang "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee", after which Mrs. Burton Morton conducted the installation ceremony.

Each Mission Band child was given a written set of 15 questions on the year's study book. These will be reviewed by the teacher and at Christmas each child will be given a book mark with their year's record.

The assistant leader, Mrs. Carman Nix, conducted a series of interesting games.

The children were served apples and cookies with a cup of tea for their mothers.

The two Bands at Wellman's have had a profitable year under the guidance of Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Nix and they will be of great assistance to the treasurer of Belleville Presbyterial.

VOTED HOLIDAY

Paris, Nov. 14—AP—The United Nations yesterday voted itself a 10-day Christmas-New Year's holiday. The assembly will hold its last session Dec. 22 and will reopen Jan. 2.

FRANKFORD

...itizens Band ...akes Part In ...emorial Service

Frankford—A simple but impressive Memorial service was held in Frankford Memorial Park Sunday morning, under the direction of Legion President Cecil Madill, and Chairman Arthur Southworth, chairman of the Legion Parade Committee of the Frankford Branch of the Legion, Reeve Spencer was chairman.

The citizens of Frankford had their first turn at the new Frankford Citizens Band. The village has not had a citizens band since 1945, when the post-war military with the Hastings and Prince Edward Reserve unit. At the conclusion of the war, it was disbanded. Although during the years that followed, the band gave a creditable showing on this, their first public appearance.

Following the singing of the traditional Memorial Hymn, "O God Our Help in Age Past," and "Past" and "Eternity" were rendered by Bandmaster Charlie Fletcher. The period of silence was observed in respect for those whose names appeared on the cenotaph.

The Frankford Branch of the Canadian Legion placed two wreaths, Canada's Memorial Day ring the 1914-18 wreath, and Comrade Max Crewe placing the 1939 wreath. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion presented a wreath which was placed by Mrs. Harvey. The village of Frankford wreath was placed by Councillor and Veteran Carmen Thrall, the Batawa Veterans wreath, by Gordon Fisher, himself a veteran, the Lions Club wreath, by president Preston Jones, while the Band wreath in memory of departed bandsmen who saw service, was placed by Roy Lockwood. The Sidney wreath was placed by Reeve Lee Wells, and the Government wreath by Mrs. Charles Conley, and Mrs. Arthur Little placed a private wreath in memory of their son.

Brief Address

Chairman Reeve Spencer then called on Deacon Vanderwater, of Sidney, who brought a brief, but stirring Memorial address. Thus, the strong bond of fellowship that was confirmed last August between the village of Frankford and the township of Sidney was further strengthened, as both Sidney and Frankford joined in this joint Memorial service.

The crowd at the Memorial service was for a time quite small, with the regular church and Sunday School services taking a number who would have otherwise been there. However after the United Church Sunday School was dismissed close to two hundred members joined those paying tribute to the martyrs of two great fights for freedom.

MADOC

Eastern Star Installs Officers

Madoc — On Monday evening members and visiting members from surrounding districts were present for the installation of officers of Madoc Chapter O.E.S. No. 143 in their chapter room, Madoc. PRODUCE IRRITABILITY

Toronto, Nov. 15.—(CP)—Noise may produce irritability and fatigue and contribute to chronic insomnia, suburban New Toronto council was told last night by John E. Goodwin, assistant professor of hygiene at the University of Toronto. His report was made after complaints of noises from a car factory were received.

CAMPBELLFORD

Rev. James McAvoy Conducts Memorial Service at Cenotaph

Campbellford — Rev. James McAvoy of Burobrae Church was guest speaker at the Legion memorabrance day services conducted at the Cenotaph by the Canadian Legion Branch 105, on Sunday afternoon.

A large number of people from the town and surrounding district turned out on a bright, warm fall day to pay tribute to the dead of two wars. Campbellford Branch 105 of the Canadian Legion marched in a body, led by the Campbellford Citizens' Band in their new uniforms. Following were the color party of the local Legion and of the Frankford branch as well as standard bearers of the Ladies' Auxiliary of both branches.

Members of the Frankford Branch of the Canadian Legion helped swell the ranks of the marchers. Members of the local clergy including the Rev. A. E. Toombs of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. D. M. Smith of St. John's United, the Rev. H. S. Staples and the Rev. James McAvoy of Burobrae were in charge of the devotional portion of the service.

Mr. McAvoy told the large crowd of the heritage of freedom that was theirs, bought for them with the lives of many young men of the community who had fallen in combat. "They have thrown the torch to us, it is our duty never to fall them," he said.

The Citizens' Band played for a number of hymns which the entire group sang. Wreaths were placed on the Cenotaph by Legion members, town officials, and private individuals. "Last Post" and "Reveille" were sounded by bandsmen Walter Lowe, Elmer Kelly, James Baker and Bob Nicholls.

WOOLER

Wooler — Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thompson, of Toronto, visited Mr. and Mrs. Harold Steinburg over the weekend.

Miss Aldythe Arthur, of Belleville, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Arthur.

Mr. and Mrs. Don White and son, of Peterborough, spent the weekend with Mrs. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. McMaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peister have returned from a motor trip to Kingsville and Port Dover.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mitchell, of Peterborough, were weekend guests of their grandmother, Mrs. Easterly.

Mrs. R. Putnam and Mrs. Erven Scott were in Brighton on Thursday attending the trailing, given for leaders of the Hoofmakers' Club.

Mrs. Ethel Darling suffered a dislocated shoulder when struck by a car as she crossed the road in Trenton on Saturday.

Mrs. Neil Nelson and infant son have returned home from the Trenton Memorial Hospital.

Messrs. G. and Karl Austin were forced to return from their hunting camp on Wednesday to repair their telephone lines that were broken by the sleet storm. Hydro lines were out of commission also.

Beatrice Kay Consaul, of Frankford, spent the weekend with her grandmother, Mrs. W. A. McColl.

Doris Bentley had her tonsils removed on Tuesday at the Trenton Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. R. Redcliffe spent a few days in Trenton last week with her daughter, Mrs. Graham and family.

Mr. Paull and family moved into Mr. R. Putnam's house on Monday.

Last Thursday was a memorable day in Wooler for that evening the electric street lights were turned on for the first time.

The Wooler girls who are taking the course in "Cottons May be Smart" met at the church Sunday School rooms on Saturday afternoon for their fortnightly meeting. Refreshments were served by the leaders Mrs. R. Putnam and Mrs. Erven Scott.

Remembrance Day was fittingly observed in the United Church on Sunday morning. Miss Aldythe Arthur of Belleville, rendered a solo. Appropriate hymns, a two minutes silence and sermon by Rev. W. G. Fletcher were features of the service.

St. Paul's Remembrance Day Service, Impressive and Colorful

A most impressive and never-to-be-forgotten "Remembrance Service" was held Sunday evening at St. Paul's United Church Stirling. The large edifice was filled to capacity with guests from all walks of life, while a large number of members of the church occupied the gallery seats while chairs were placed in the side aisles to accommodate the huge crowd. People came from Brighton, Tweed, Belleville, Prince Edward and Trenton and all near-by places.

The service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. A. E. Baker, U.E., who carefully had planned the arrangements for this outstanding service. Special printed programs were used with the hymns as it was interdenominational.

On the corner was a picture of "In Flanders Fields," with a copy of, "We Will Remember Them."

Special Address

The special address was given by Lt.-Col E. A. Baker, O.B.E., Croix de Guere, veteran World War I and director of Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Col. Baker spoke of the appreciation of so many to attend this Remembrance service and said, "We tonight are remembering those who paid the supreme sacrifice in World War I, II and in Korea.

He took his audience back to his boyhood days when his grandfather showed him pictures of other wars which meant nothing to him, and then the challenge which came to the young men and women of his generation in 1914. "Those young people faced that challenge and tonight you are remembering those boys in Stirling and district who gave their lives for your freedom."

The speaker told of the boys who returned, severely handicapped and who have put forth great fortitude and courage in order to carry on their everyday work. Very often these chaps are misunderstood and very often those who should remember, forget.

Adjusted Lives

Col. Baker came home to start life afresh without the sight he prized so highly and he gave a graphic picture of how he himself and many others, including amputation cases, had learned to adjust their lives and develop at least one talent. He asked the audience "Do you think that the boys who lost their sight, their arms, or legs, can forget!" There was a silent hush at this point and a tear in many an eye and Col. Baker continued, "Do the people in the communities round about, those who had no war connections, do those individuals remember or do they say 'Oh it's no concern of ours'."

Col. Baker spoke of pioneer days when each neighbor helped the other, life wasn't so easy then but in these days the world is growing more materialistic; many individuals think more of their property and of themselves and they forget those in the world who need help.

Preserve Country's Freedom

Every Armistice Day there are more people to remember, these people were willing to sacrifice their lives and carry on the difficult and dangerous jobs of war, Col. Baker paid tribute to the skilled doctors and nurses who made it possible for so many to come back. He spoke of those homes where pictures of the soldier boys hang on the wall and hoped all would catch the spirit of patriotism and loyalty and self sacrifice in order to preserve our country and all the freedom it stands for.

The flag-draped altar, gift bouquets of golden and white mums and two memorial wreaths added a note of beauty.

The right of the church was filled with a large number of members of the Hastings and Prince Edward reserve army from various points in the two counties under the direction of Lt.-Col. J. M. Porritt, M.C., and his assistants.

An R.C.A.F. detachment from Trenton, commanded by Flight Lieutenant McDonald, with the arrangements in charge of Warrant Officer First Class John A. Silver, R.C.A.F.

Zone Commander Percy Gray, Jr., of Marmora, was in charge of the Legion Zone parade.

Silver Cross Mothers

On the left were seated the Silver Cross mothers, next of kin of the boys, representatives of all levels of government with practically all of Stirling, Rawdon and Sidney councils in attendance, members of parliament which included Frank Foliveli, M.P., the fraternal societies, I.O.D.E., Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, press and other representatives.

The choir loft was filled to capacity with members of the Junior choir and the full Senior choir and they sang an anthem "Land of Hope and Glory" by Elgar.

Mrs. A. E. Baker, A.R.C.T., presided at the console of the organ and the service opened with "Pomp and Circumstance". by Sir Edward Elgar. Mrs. Baker gave an offertory interlude "Chant of Dead Heroes" by Gaul, and a Highland lament entitled "Flowers of the Forest" in closing.

Following the organ prelude, two trumpeters from Trenton, gave the fan fare and the large audience sang "O God Our Help In Ages Past."

Color Party

The color party, under the direction of Sgt. Charles Barrard, entered with their beautiful colored flags composed of Leonard Taylor and Oscar Thurston, of Tweed; Kenneth Emery and Jack Herman, Marmora, and Stanley Hoyle and George Noble, Stirling.

The choir chanted "The Lord's Prayer" and Col. Roscoe Vanderwater, D.S.O., read Revelation 7: 9-17.

Rev. W. H. V. Walker, minister of St. Andrew's, Stirling, read the international prayer that peace and happiness may be established among all peoples.

Reeve Harold Wells, Stirling, extended a welcome to all who had gathered for this auspicious occasion.

Following Col. Baker's message all sang, "The Supreme Sacrifice" and then Mr. F. Houblin, president Stirling Branch Canadian Legion, unveiled the new honor roll.

This memorial (a white marble tablet) was originally a part of the Holy Table of the Stirling Methodist Church. It will now perpetuate the memory of those, who, in serving, died for freedom and true liberty. Once they worshipped in this place. Their memory will be hallowed here and their sacrifice will be an inspiration to all who enter the church. A suitable lighting arrangement at the top outlines the names carved on the tablet of those who made the Supreme Sacrifice in World Wars I and II.

The Glorious Dead

Mr. R. A. Patterson read the names of those who made the Supreme Sacrifice 1914-1918, which were: Arthur Harrabin; Sidney Sanford; Norman Payne; Alex Conley; Fred Conley; Morley Richardson; Percy Kennedy; C. Delbert Rogers and Arthur Conley; and Mr. George Heasman placed a memorial wreath beside the tablet.

Mr. Russell West read the names inscribed 1939-1945: H. Coolidge Ashley; Donald Stapley; Ivan H. Martin; John Wood and Ray Shipley; and Mr. K. F. Mayhew placed the memorial wreath, followed by the memorial prayer by Col. Baker.

At this point, the lights were dimmed and the R.C.A.F. trumpeters sounded "The Last Post".

Following a period of silence, William Aylesworth rendered a bass solo, "In Flanders Fields." As Mr. Harold Hagerman turned the spotlight on a realistic picture of white crosses representing a cemetery with poppies strewn about as Col. Baker removed the large flag which had previously covered it and this realistic picture will long remain green in the memory of those who were privileged to attend.

"Reveille"

The trumpeters again sounded "The Reveille" as the lights came on and Warrant Officer John A. Silver gave the "Lines of Commemoration."

Mr. George Carlisle, clerk of the session, extended thanks and appreciation to all who had made a contribution to this memorial service.

All sang "Abide With Me" and the National Anthem after which the color party led the members of the R.C.A.F. and Hasty Pees to the church entrance.

Following the church service, the officials of St. Paul's United Church entertained all the guests in the church dining hall where sandwiches, cookies and coffee were served.

Everyone was loud in their praise of the splendid arrangements for this outstanding Remembrance service.

BIG COUNCIL

The city of Glasgow is governed by a council of 113 members, and sends 15 members to parliament.

Remembrance Day Service Held In Legion Hall

Bancroft — Remembrance Day was observed in town when ceremonies were held in the Canadian Legion Hall and at the war memorial on the bridge over the York River on Bridge Street West, on Sunday afternoon. Rev. G. Smith and Rev. W. Smith conducted the indoor and outdoor services.

Led by flag-bearer Fred Delyea the parade, consisting of "A" Company of The Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, representatives of the women's services of the armed forces and a large group from Branch 181 of The Canadian Legion, marched from the hall to the bridge via Hastings Street, 2nd Lieut. Ted Delyea was in charge of the local reserve army company and the legionnaires were led by vice-president William Lavallee.

Wreaths were placed on the cenotaph by Mrs. Ed. Vardy and Mrs. Simon Bowers, as representatives of the mothers who lost sons in the two world wars. Last Post and Reveille were played by Kenneth Bowser.

Riders Snatch 17-7 Victory From Hamilton In Last Minutes Of Game

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

WANTED, AN ADDING MACHINE

If the senior Hawks maintain their present city of piling up scoring points, it would keep them an adding machine well de in the radio-press gondola. Twenty-six goals and twenty-two assists in two games is not only a short cut to writer's cramp on the part of scorers but it raises hob with 25c pens, not to mention a room or so of the newspapers pulpwood product.

That is what the Hawks have compiled since they embarked on this senior "B" cruise, claiming eleven via the Petes route and baking the remainder from the luckless Queen's University crew. They were credited with nine assists in the first tilt and last night fattened their averages with 14, thanks to the student squad.

Vern Geyer paces the pack in the scoring division with nine goals and four assists, getting five against the Petes and slamming home four more last night. And the points are well distributed. Nearly every member of the team has something to his credit and last night Gerry Desjardins was the only Hawk that didn't feather his nest with a scoring paint. Gerry was in there lots of times but no luck.

The Hawks again came through with a fine exhibition of fore-and-aft checking. They showed plenty of speed the most of the time although the game lagged occasionally with the Hawks getting a few penalty plays out of their system. The Gaels were fast and not averse to using the body and its various parts. In fact neither were the Hawks and Referee Pete Nye was doing a terrific job the most of the night and dishing out twenty sentences. It was evident the "umps" did not intend to let matters get out of hand and the slightest breach of hockey etiquette sent an erring player to the hoosegow. Good fun, if not quite clean.

TEN DOWN — ONE TO GO!

Hamilton's Tiger Cats leaped from their lair snarling and clawing at the Rough Rider "upstarts" from Ottawa's football carnival yesterday, but when the mud and roo had resumed normalcy, there was a huge knot twisted in the Tiger's tail while a ripper-kiri-ing here at Rytown barbarous went home chortling. From Toronto's Argonaut camp where mothballs are scenting football roar, rose echoes of "We got That Same Feeling."

Which only goes to show there is a tinge of wackiness in football as well as other sports. Last week when the Bengals slapped a 17-point deficit on the Prides of Toronto there were those that said it was in the Bengal's bag. Seventeen points! Phooey. The Four Horsemen couldn't overcome such a margin. What happened eh? A raging Hamilton team slammed the Tigers so far back in their lair they met themselves coming out, cut down the margin, overcame it and should have won the tilt.

Now it's the Ti-Cats turn. And by the same token don't think Saturday's game is in the bag. A well-known sensiawer. These Cats will have their claws sharpened, their hackles high and tails awirch. They're up against the wall the same as Argos were last week, and anything can happen. Ten points don't mean a thing, it seems, especially in these days of high-geared football when the money goes with every down. It should be a bitterly-fought struggle up there in the shadow of Mill Hill, but it will believe it will be a battle of the Riders for the Grey Cup.

REGINA YIPPEE!

There should be high jinx, lusty and shrill Yippy-I-Ays, ten gallon chapeaux, and silken-garbed cowgals in Tawranta come Grey Cup finals time when the Saskatchewan Rough Riders meet the best the effete East can produce along pigskin-chasing lines.

But the best the wheat-buckaroos can bring probably will not top the cowboy, cow, pone and general wild-and-de-dam that featured the now famous Calgary Stampeder invasion of Hog Town a few years ago. Brother, that was a show. The roisterous rambunctious Calgarians, from millionaire oilmen to cowhand lawyer were all brothers under the skin and cowboy garb and more "eastern" cowpokes came into being that weekend than the flaming west ever saw in the good old days when men were men, drew from the hip and the gals helped 'em drink it.

Square dances at three ack emma. Cowrals, and what color and apparel, doey-doeing with weak imitations of Tovarnie Hopalong Cassidys who never went farther west than Oakville; "ritzers" and "wilts", bazjos and "yiles - harps" twanging till dawn. Then the game and a Calgary victory. Toronto went wild. Twill never see such sights again.

However Regina will be in town well represented, but it is doubtful if the wheaters celebrations will climax those of the courtiers from King Lear's domain. Toronto will be packed to the rafters with not only football fans but thousands of non-ticket holders there in anticipation of a metropolitan rodeo like that of the Stamps. Should be a neat, nifty and gaudy show when these football Lochinvars amble into the Queen City. Save that seat in the Press Club, Art!

ROCHETTA BREAKS LEG!

Joe Rochetta, star Peterborough Eagle centre, suffered a broken leg in the first five minutes of the Eagles - Kingston game last night in Peterborough. The loss of Rochetta will be a severe one to the Eagles for he was one of their best goaling aces as well as a potent all-round player. His many friends in the senior "B" circuit wish Joe a speedy recovery.

Incidentally the Eagles defeated the Kingston Sas's team by a 7-5 score in the latter's first appearance of the season. Looks like Coach Stan Scrutton has got something down east o' here.

Trailing 7-1 in Last Quarter Ottawa Delivers K.O. Punch With Three Fast Touchdowns

By JACK SULLIVAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Hamilton, Nov. 15—(CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders, with no place to go but up after their bottom-spot Big Four Football Union showing in 1950, have taken a deep bite into the eastern Canadian championship and a place in the Grey Cup finals.

They did it after six minutes of football Wednesday, known hereafter as the day of the big steal, with an uninspiring 17-7 over Hamilton Tigers in the opening of their home-and-home total-point interprovincial final. The windup is scheduled for Ottawa Saturday, then the eastern final and then the Grey Cup classic Nov. 24.

Ten Point Cushion

That 10-point cushion should be sufficient to put Riders into the easiest kind of workout against Sarnia Imperials, Ontario Rugby Football Union champions, next week. From there, unless the all-Canadian lumps have hidden power, it is Saskatchewan Rough-riders a week Saturday at Toronto's Varsity Stadium.

It was a so-so ball game yesterday with Tiger-Cats leading 7-1 and only six minutes remaining in the game. Then, helped by a disastrous Tiger-Cat fumble, the rested Riders got an eye full of final by a draw out of the hat, penned up with a three-touchdown drive.

That 18-point outburst showed the 10,000 disgruntled Hamilton fans why Riders ended the season in a three-way tie with the Tiger-Cats and Toronto Argonauts. But it was Spider Gibson, 190-pound Tiger-Cat flash, came up with the play of the afternoon.

With Riders in possession on their own one-yard line in the second quarter, Joe Asquital tore at the Hamilton line. He was stopped by Gibson who perpetrated daylight robbery by snatching the ball from his arms and galloped over for Hamilton's only major, converted by Tip Logan.

Cool Cagey Tumble

From then until the 54-minute mark, it appeared that the exhausted Tiger-Cats might go to Ottawa with a six-point edge. Quarter Bernie Custis, an import from Syracuse University who was downed for big losses throughout the game, fumbled on his own 25.

The suddenly-alert Riders pickled up the loose ball, pounded over for a touchdown and added two more majors before the gun loomed in the gloom.

Custis was tabbed the goat of the game while hero roles were taken by Benny MacDonald,21-year-old half who bulled over the Hamilton line for two touchdowns, and Ottawa's quarterback, Jackie Parker, converted one of Ottawa's touchdowns.

An overnight rain made it heavy going at the start on a mud-coated field but a strong crosswind and an unreasonable warmth of the sun turned it into a fast-playing area before half time.

Riders advanced 106 yards through the air on 13 completed passes of 23 tossed by quarter Tom O'Malley. Custis completed five of 10 and Bob McDonald, young Tiger back, connected with the only one fired by him to give Hamilton a yardage gain via the aerial route of 104.

Riders had a 13-10 edge on first downs and gained 170 yards along the ground against 162 for Riders.

AVERT CATASTROPHE

Brockville, Ont., Nov. 15 (CP) — Firemen crept to within a few feet of a red-hot gasoline storage tank to put out a fire which late yesterday threatened the west end of the city.

The blaze was at Imperial Oil Company's waterfront depot. It burned for two hours. Thousands of gallons of gasoline and oil threatened to explode.

Police said a "major catastrophe" was barely averted.

Princeton Coach Calls for Ban Of Bowl Games

By WILL GRIMSLEY

New York, Nov. 15—(AP)—The 1950 "coach of the year", Princeton's Charlie Caldwell, called for the outlawing of all bowl games today while the men who direct college athletics plunged headlong into the battle against football over-emphasis.

Caldwell, whose Ivy League Princetonians have won 30 straight games, defended the merits of spring practice and said the sport would have no problems with commercialism if post-season games were eliminated.

"If a team is good, it goes to a bowl and gets money to buy players so it can keep going to bowls," the coach added.

Meanwhile, there were these other developments on the bristling college football front:

1. The council of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, called a meeting in Chicago for Monday and Tuesday to draw up a definite program for the control of athletics.

2. Twenty-one of 31 schools in the mid-western area okayed recommendations of the N.C.A.A. to restrict the two-platoon system, bowl games and spring practice. Every member of the Missouri Valley and big seven conferences except Missouri and Iowa state was included on the de-emphasis list.

3. Presidents of the 13 southeastern conference colleges decided to meet in Birmingham Sunday to "discuss how we might better keep the athletic program under control."

Vancouver Loses To Seattle 5-3

(By The Canadian Press)

It was too good to last but it was nice while it did.

No one expected Vancouver Canucks to maintain their defeated streak in the Pacific Coast League for long after going 17 games without a win.

Last night the Canucks' period of success came to an end after four straight games without a defeat. Seattle Ironmen beat them 5-3 with the aid of misfired strategy by the Canucks coach, Murph Chamberlain.

In the other games, Saskatoon Quakers edged Victoria Cougars 2-1 to move into a second-place tie with the Ironmen and New Westminster trounced Tacoma Rockets 5-2.

Carter Wins Unanimous Decision Over Aragon to Retain Light Title

By BOB MYERS

Los Angeles, Nov. 15 (AP) — World lightweight champion Jimmy Carter and challenger Art Aragon observed continuation of celebrations today.

Carter enjoyed a round of victory rounds after successfully defending his crown in a bruising 15-round fight last night. Aragon the slightly tarnished golden boy of boxing here, in more subdued fashion belatedly observed his 24th birthday. It was two days ago but he had planned to combine it with a victory celebration.

Carter All the Way

But Carter belted out a unanimous decision over Aragon flooring him twice and leaving him well beaten at the end. Both scored 154 1-4.

Referee Mushy Callahan and Judge Frankie Van gave the fight to Carter by an 11-point spread. Judge Joe Stone put the Gotham veteran ahead by 13 points.

Paid admissions totalled 7,251 and gross receipts, including $35,000 for television rights, were $109,463 at least $20,000 less than had been expected.

Aragon, as cocky as ever, and fresh, took the play in the opening rounds. But he ran into a bristling left hook that floored him for a three count in the sixth round, and he took a severe beating in the last four rounds. It left him with one eye almost shut and the other cut and bloody.

Aragon, as game as they come, absorbed fearful punishment in the late rounds, particularly in the 12th when Carter had him virtually out on his feet. But he refused to go down again until the 15th, when another left decked him for a one-count.

Carter's manager, Willie Ketchum of New York, said: "We won over Aragon last August despite the decision against us, and we proved it tonight." The Golden Boy was given a split decision in the non-title summer meeting.

This was Carter's first defence of the title he won last May from Ike Williams.

Senior Hawks Rout Queen's 15-2 For Second Straight Win

Students Stage Plucky Fight But Are No Match for Winners; Goyer Paces Pack With Four

Coach Red Doran's flying Hawks thrashed through to their second straight senior "B" victory in Memorial Arena here last night defeating the hard-fighting Queen's University squad by a 15-2 score before a crowd of 800 fans.

The game proved nothing much more than a stiff workout for the home-ers as they ripped home six goals in the first period to a [illegible] and Gaels scoreless while firing home four in the second bout and topped it off with five in the third while the students got their last goal of the game.

Fulton Averages

The Hawks scoring averages were fattened considerably with Vern Goyer scoring four goals and getting as many assists; Doran and Mosher scored a pair each; with Schneider, Gaetz, Trumble, Day, MacDonald, Barrett and Wardaugh getting singles. MacDonald was credited with three assists with the entire squad racking up 39 points.

Queens scored the first goal of the game late in the first period when Roberton drove home Downey's pass from close in. Their second counter came in the third with Bowers firing home Robertson's pass.

Never in Doubt

The issue was never in doubt from the time Goyer, big Hawk centre, faring the opening gun at 1:44 and Mosher and Barrett slung home two more in quick succession. The Hawks were complete masters of the situation throughout but the Queen's crew never gave up fighting and they gave Maurice LaPort a few serious moments.

McIntyre in the Queen's nets deserved any stars being tossed around. He threw back a huge pile of rubber during the game despite the fact fifteen pucks landed him. Georg Wagar, Roberton, drown were the best for the students.

Twenty Penalties

Referee Pete Ryt, Peterborough, kept close watch on both squads, handing out twenty penalties one of them a misconduct to Dugan of Queen's. The teams split the sentences, all but one being for minor infractions. The game was not the rugged type but Ryt promptly sentenced any player committing anything that in a lot of cases would have got by.

The Hawks maintained the speedy, both-ways checking that characterized their first tilt with the Peterborough Petes. "Robber" Day was fairly dyeing with the rest keeping pace. Goyer and Coach Doran paced the crew, but the rest were not far behind the centre ice stars.

The Hawks pay their first visit to Kingston Friday night when they clash with the Kingston SAC in a senior "B" game.

The Teams

Hawks—Goal Lafort; defence, Trumble, Schneider; centre, Goyer; wings, Mosher, MacDonald; subs, Gonah, Stewart, Pearce, Desjardins, Day, Wardaugh, Barrett.

Queen's — Goal, McIntyre; defence, Bartlett, Sweetman; centre, Wagar; wings, Brown, Roberton; subs, Brown, Slater, Dunn, McCormack, Bourgeous, Murray, Dugan, Cleland.

Tiger Cats Will Not Play Under Floodlights

Hamilton, Nov. 15 (CP)—Manager Art McCreacy of the Hamilton Junior Tiger Cats said Wed. night his team will not play under floodlights in the east-west junior Canadian football final at Edmonton Saturday.

"None of that," he said. "We just got word from a friend in the west today, who told us if they wanted a night game, they'd ask for it."

Ti-Cats will be seeking their fourth consecutive junior title when they arrive in Edmonton Friday morning for their final game.

Coach Fred Veale received word yesterday that Kent Phillips, chairman for the Western Inter-Provincial Juniors, had asked a night game.

Jem Hutton, secretary-registrar for the Hamilton Club, said: "It's tough enough making a long trip to the east and plunge right into a game, without floodlights making it tougher."

Draw Master Plan To Create More Major Loops

New York Nov. 15—(AP) — Baseball is drawing up a master plan to create more major leagues. Realigning 16-club or 18-club versions of the current majors as "entirety unsound," a special committee has outlined plans for a new "open" classification by which entire sight-seeing leagues might qualify as majors.

Exact steps leading from "open" to major still must be worked out. But the major-league special committee on Pacific Coast League problems promises the plan will be ready before the minor league meetings at Columbus, O., in early December. It's still in the proposal stage.

The P.C.L., waging a vigorous battle against the player draft, would qualify for "open classification. The new plan would provide a measure of draft relief by letting players exempt themselves from selection.

This could mean a major league on the Pacific coast within a few years time. The "open" classification could be reviewed within five years. It is explained as a preliminary step to major-league status.

To qualify, a league must have the approval of at least six clubs, remove salary limits, submit full data on stock ownership, the financial stability of each club, show an average attendance of 2,250,000 in seven years and a TV policy to show an aggregate population of 10,000,000 and combined park capacity of at least 130,000.

CRU Officials Turn Down Sarnia Demand

Hamilton, Nov. 15 (CP)—Officials of the Canadian Rugby Union and Big Four League yesterday turned down a proposal from Sarnia Imperials concerning a guarantee for the Dominion Canada football final.

Sarnia, a counter-proposal will be presented to Imperials, Ontario Rugby Football Union chairman said.

It was learned unofficially that Sarnia has agreed to play the eastern final either at Varsity Stadium in Toronto or at the home of the Big Four champs providing a $7,500 guarantee was met. The game this year was to have been held on the club's home field.

Officials decided that the sum asked for by the Imps was out of the question and a new proposal was drawn up.

The meeting was attended by C. C. Lawson, Big Four president, Myer Insky, C.R.U. president, Tom Allison of the C.R.U., Ralph Cooper, Hamilton Tiger-Cats president and Jim McCafferey and Eddie Emerson of, Ottawa Rough Riders.

Rangers Goal in Last Minute Earns One-All Tie With Leafs

(By The Canadian Press)

Soft-spoken Frank Boucher, whose pet grievance is the ban on the 10-minute sudden-death overtime periods in the National Hockey League, is on solid ground today. His New York Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs played off Madison Square Garden ice after 60 minutes, last night another 2-2 enamor of the books.

Boucher, whose argument is that the overtime should be reserved because the fans—he mentions specifically Ranger fans—want it, is an expert on the subject. Last night the Blueshirts set an N. H. L. record with 31 drawn games and this season they've had three in 13 games of the still-young 1951-52 season.

Now in Fifth Place

A newspaper poll was taken last year and Ranger fans voted for return of the overtime, discarded in the war years because of travel restrictions. And Frank, who tries hard to please the people who pay the bills, couldn't convince the N. H. L. brass to go along.

A crowd of 8,263 witnessed last night's deadlock. The single point, salvaged by a New York goal 43 seconds from time, sent the New Yorkers into fifth place, one ahead of Chicago Black Hawks.

But Boucher would rather risk a loss in overtime than to send the Madison Square Garden customers home hitting to themselves about the 60 minutes of hockey that served nothing, except that on the night the Blueshirts were equal to the second-place Leafs.

It was the fifth tie and the fourth on the road for Joe Primeau's Leafs.

It was 1-1 going into the third period on goals by Toronto's Cal Gardner and Rangers' Eddie Slowinski and the Leafs appeared to have the victory in the bag when Sid Smith made it 2-1 with only nine minutes remaining.

Rangers pulled goalkeeper Chuck Rayner out of the nets with 54 seconds to go and six men up and the strategy paid off when Pete Conacher netted the count on his first goal of the season.

There's one game on tap tonight at Detroit with the Red Wings entertaining Montreal Canadiens, the Hawks. In their first five starts this season, Red Wings showed they can't beat the six players they sent to Chicago by registering an easy 6-1 triumph.

Major Leagues Draft List Has 4,683 Players

New York Nov. 15 (AP) — For $10,000—a good day's hot dog and beer take—any big league club can have Joe Page, the guy reliefer of the 1947-48 champion New York Yankees.

Fireman Joe and 4,683 other players are on the draft list for Monday's grab bag at Cincinnati. Others are displaying unusual interest in the bargain basement sale.

Here's how the draft works: The last place club in the American League—the St. Louis Browns, naturally—gets first pick of all eligible minor leagues. Then the Chicago Cubs, last in the National. And so on through the New York Yankees, No. 15, and the New York Giants 16th and last.

Last year majors drafted 28 men for $268,500. Prize pick was Morris Martin, the ex-Brooklyn lefty who wound up with a fine 11-4 record for the Philadelphia A's.

Hornets Blast St. Louis 8-3 To Retain Lead

(By The Canadian Press)

Frank (King) Clancy's Pittsburgh Hornets rested securely atop the American Hockey League standings, blasting St. Louis Flyers 8-3 last night, for their 13th victory in 14 starts. The Hornets have 26 points.

Bobby Hassard fired a 10-foot shot past goalie Red Almas for the first Hornet score with almost nine minutes of the first period over. Six minutes later Pete Backor scored his first goal of the season to put Hornets ahead 2-0. Other Pittsburgh scorers were G. Hanigan, Frank Mathers and Chuck Blair.

St. Louis tallied twice in the second period while Hornets were racking up four more points, one a sensational shot from mid-ice by rookie Frank Sullivan.

It was the fifth straight loss for the Flyers.

Three more goals were scored by Al Baccari, Glen Sonmor and Pat Lundy.

Al Syvenuz, the Warriors downed Cleveland Barons 3-1, goal at 7:44 of the second period gave the Buffalo Bisons a 7-4 victory over the Providence Reds.

Tigers Crushed By Dutchies 12-2; Bilts Edge Barrie

(By The Canadian Press)

For the first time in more than a decade, Art Childs was on the sidelines last night when Hamilton played.

The veteran goaltender announced Tuesday that he had made his last appearance in a Tiger uniform. He is currently aspiring to a political career, contesting the Hamilton district riding of Wentworth for the Progressive Conservatives in the Nov. 22 Ontario elections.

Last night the Tigers, Ontario Hockey Association Senior A League leaders, suffered a humiliating 12-2 defeat at the hands of Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen. The loss cut Hamilton's lead to one point as second-place Stratford Indians downed Sarnia Sailors 7-4 in Stratford. The Dutchmen took over third-place Barrie Flyers when they blanked Stratford.

OHA Junior A series contests went according to form last night with second-place Guelph Biltmores edging Barrie Flyers, resting in seventh position in the 10-team league, 7-3. Sixth-place St. Catharines Teepees trounced the cellar-dwelling Windsor Spitfires 10-3.

A scheduled Waterloo Jurri-Jurri-Waterloo series contests game had been postponed until tonight. It will be the only game slated in the OHA.

Sport in Brief

Don Scott McEwen of Ottawa last night was named winner of the J. W. Davies Trophy as the outstanding Canadian track and field man for 1951.

The announcement was made by Tom Lord, chairman of the National Track and Field Committee of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

McEwen, Canada's No. 1 Olympic prospect and now a star of the University of Michigan's' track team, won the award easily over Bill Parnell, last year's winner, and Jack Hutchins, both star British Columbia middle-distance men, and Ed Bretta of Toronto, Canada's leading pole vaulter.

At New York a $300,000 damage suit on behalf of the widow of George Flores, welterweight boxer fatally injured in the ring, was filed in state supreme court yesterday against the International Boxing Club of New York and Madison Square Garden as promoters of the bout.

Attorneys for Elaine Flores, 18, the widow, said she held that Flores was mismatched and that facilities and equipment for the bout were unsafe and inadequate.

The 20-year-old Flores died four days after he was knocked out in the eighth round of a bout with Roger Donoghue in Madison Square Garden on Aug. 29.

The action seeks $250,000 for personal injuries to George Flores" and the same amount for damages "on behalf of his wife."

Jack Gelineau, former Boston Bruins goal-tender, yesterday signed a contract with Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League. Gelineau confirmed the report at Montreal last night. Named the National Hockey League's outstanding rookie in 1949-50, Gelineau left the Bruins this season in training camp at Hershey over salary differences.

Sale of Buffalo Bisons International League baseball club franchise to Detroit Tigers was reported at Buffalo tonight to be virtually concluded. Lew Horschel, Bison treasurer, announced: "I understand the Buffalo baseball club franchise has been sold to Detroit interests with the real estate properties remaining under local ownership."

Pittsburgh — The Pittsburgh Pirates of the National Baseball League gave veteran Pete Reiser his unconditional release yesterday.

CANADA'S TOP MALE QUARTET, THE COMMODORES

From front they are: Harvard Reddick, Carl Tapscott, Donald Parrish and John Ringman. All are veterans of the "Navy Show," in addition to singing as a quartet each is a soloist in his own right. Leo Lighter, their accompanist, also is concert pianist. Appearing on the same program are "The Video-ettes," Art and Mabel Guinness, an amateur husband and wife team of Swing and Sway fingers. This entertainment is sponsored by Belleville Presbytery Young Peoples' Unions of the United Church, in Bridge Street United Church, Friday, November 23rd, at 8.30 p.m. Tickets $1.00 from Leslie's Dress Store or Y.P.U. members. Proceeds for Y.P.U. Camp Quin-Mo-Lac.

Movie Column

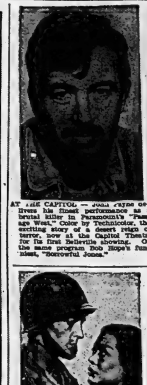
By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 15 — (AP) — Sonjatrese Dinah Shore offers the theory that wise wives are working women.

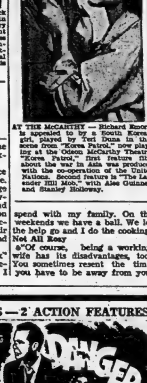
Miss Shore is prejudiced, since she obviously is a working wife. She is the happy spouse of George Montgomery, the intrepid cowpoke and furniture maker, and the mother of Melissa, going on four. She combines these functions with a flurice — weekly air show, a two-a-week TV show, and occasional movies.

"I think it's wonderful to work" she glowed. "It makes me appreciate so much more the time I spend with my family. On the weekends we have a ball. We let the help go and I do the cooking. Not All Easy



"Of course, being a working wife has its disadvantages, too. You sometimes resent the time you have to be away from your family."

But she feels the advantages outweigh the drawbacks. "George and I . . . have a vital interest in each other's work, and that makes for happy marriage.



"Some husbands might not like the idea at first, but I think they would learn to appreciate it," she continued. "They would find that each other's work, and that makes they have much more interesting wives."

AT odd CAPITOL — Joan Fontaine drives in the most performance as a brutal killer in Paramount's "Passage West," Color by Technicolor, the exciting story of a desert reign of terror, now at the Capitol Theatre for its first Belleville showing. On the same program Bob Hope's funmates, "Scared Stiff."

AT THE McCARTHY — Richard Emory is surrounded by a South Korean girl, played by Teri Duna in this scene from "Korea Patrol," now playing at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. "Korea Patrol," first feature film about the war in Asia was produced with the co-operation of the United Nations. Second feature is "The Lavender Hill Mob" with Alec Guinness and Stanley Holloway.

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, November 16

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—Most useful lines of work, social and community activities are favored but it may not be a day for quick achievement or money gains in new, unfamiliar matters. Be shrewd and hurried.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Be sensible in money transactions, buying, trading, real estate, all business involving assets, handling others' finances. Aim to finish completed tasks, make ready for next week.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Can be profitable day if you keep emotions and any hampering agencies under control. Don't seek the lions's share and you will be more pleased with returns. Work faithfully.

June 22 to July 23—(Cancer)—Your Moon's position stresses self-control, patience. Don't notice carelessness, even ingratitude, of others. Day excellent for familiar matters, your duties, and being cheerful.

July 24 to August 22—(Leo)—Sort of precision-lacking day. You can make it fruitful or just let things ride, depends greatly on how you conduct self and activities. Be vigorous, but also content with small achievement.

August 23 to September 22—(Virgo)—Mildly favorable aspects. Ideal for readying desk, bench or house for next week's interests, work. You need not fall behind today, neither strain too hard for desired gain. Be steady.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—Not all favorable for big gain or showy accomplishment but keep at your tasks faithfully, especially the special ones, and you will do all right. Fine influences for familiar affairs.

October 24 to November 22—(Scorpio)—Neither too encouraging nor restraining. If you are ambitious and have a heavy program, you can pitch in overcome the slow, or moody tendencies. Keep familiar matters running smoothly.

November 23 to December 22—(Sagittarius)—Go easily, carefully, especially in delicate matters, partnership money obligations are involved, or agreements. Where possible finish incompleted tasks rather than start new ones.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn)—May not be able to achieve as planned or wished but don't let this deter you from trying things advanced which could improve your schedule or methods. Make this day better.

January 22 to February 20—(Aquarius)— Much the same for you as for Scorpio and Sagittarius today. Be guided in action by the urgency of matters and demands of your position. Don't dally with non useful things, or time-wasters.

February 21 to March 20—(Pisces)—Sensible care stressed in all issues to avoid needless error, having to retrace steps. Unless imperative or truly advancing, do not start new undertakings till others are finished.

YOU BORN TODAY are deliberate in action, usually determined, but innately fair, just. You are practical-minded, ambitious, confident, not easily beaten in disputes or other competition. If educated and spiritually developed (and you should improve these constantly yourself), you can become very successful in your life's work. Don't place too high value on temporal gain and recognition Always keep in mind life's true values, the lasting ones. Be patient, and enjoy diverting wholesome fun.

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma was driving me home from downtown after the circus and some man yelled something driving passed, and ma said, That's the 2nd man that called me in that unpleasant manner. What's the matter with them? I'm not making any wrong signals or anything. I wish they'd stop. The car has been bumping in a very irritating manner, and that's quite enough to put me in bad humor.

Well G, ma, maybe that's just it, maybe they've been trying to tell you you have a flat tire, I said, and ma said, Oh dear, I hope not.

And she pulled up at the curb and we got out, and one tire was as flat as it could get, and ma said, Oh dear, I couldn't change a wheel if you paid me a million. I hope I can find a munkey wrentch, she said.

What's that in the back of the car, and I said, What's you going to do with it, ma?

I'm going to stand here holding it helpfully, he said, there is no more pitiful distress signal than a munkey wrentch in the hands of a woman. Some nice truck driver is sure to stop and change this wheel for me, she said.

Only none did, and ma started to lift the munkey wrentch agenst the rim of the wheel to look even a inch or distans, and after a while another lady stopped her car alongside, saying, Well, what a pleasant and unique way to see a woman handy with tools. My car seems to of developed a most annoying nocking sound, and I'm afraid to drive it any ferther. I'm sure you'll know what ails it, and give it a little twist and turn with your munkey wrentch, she said.

I'm afraid you flatter me, but I'll be glad to take a little walk with you to see if we can find a loose ellusion mechanic, ma said.

The result being I walked in the car till they came back with a man in jeans and shirt while overalls, and he changed ma's wheel and fixed the other lady's sock.

30 RUSSIANS KILLED

Berlin, Nov. 15 (Reuters) — The anti-communist information bureau reported yesterday that 30 Russian soldiers were killed and about 60 injured when Soviet planes dropped live bombs on a group of tanks during manoeuvres near Stein, East Germany, Oct. 8. The private organization's report could not be substantiated.

Serious Charge Made Against Western Ontario U

Montreal, Nov. 15 (CP) —The University of Western Ontario will come under the scrutiny of the Canadian Council of Churches executive following charges by the secretary of the Student Christian Movement that the college bars religious representatives from its campus.

The charge was made yesterday by Rev. H. L. Puxley of Toronto, a delegate to the annual meeting here of the council and secretary of the national students organization.

Mr. Puxley's claim was made during discussion of the low ebb of Christian knowledge among the general public and among students. Speakers taking part included Dr. A. W. Cooke of Qualicum Beach, B.C., Dr. Winnifred Thomas of Toronto and Rt. Rev. A. R. Beverley, Anglican Bishop of Toronto.

Dr. Puxley said:

"I've waged every kind of possible warfare to change the situation at the University of Western Ontario as this problem is more important so us than the cold war or the Iron Curtain."

The cold doesn't mean students are prevented from joining the S.C.M. or professing their religion but "it means that any one with a religious message is not given access to the campus."

Bishop Beverley suggested that the matter be referred to the executive of the council for investigation and the council adopted the motion.

Dr. Cooke said there is "a tremendous proportion of the common people who have little or no interest in their churches One finds an appalling ignorance of what churches stand for and the aims of Christianity."

Mr. Puxley said 70 percent of non-Roman Catholic students claimed no church connection and of the remaining 30 percent "only a minority make any active profession of the faith."

Dr. Thomas suggested that churches divert some of their mission funds for work among students and the council adopted a motion recommending that churches raise their allocation to the S. C. M. by 25 percent next year.

HISTORIC CASTLE

Hurstmonceux Castle in Sussex built in 1441 and carefully restored in later years, is believed the finest early brick building in England.

Berserk Man Held by Police After Gun Fight

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 13 (AP) —A berserk man held his own in a running gun battle with scores of police for 3½ hours last night before he was subdued by bullets.

An estimated 5,000 persons swarmed around a three-storey apartment house to watch.

When the siege was over, police found Dale Emery, 33, lying in a blood-soaked cot, a bullet wound in the chest and buckshot in his back.

Emery's condition was reported as "poor."

His wife, Lillian, 30, told police she had been held captive in the apartment from last Thursday until Monday, when she escaped.

"He had been drinking steadily and was constantly fingering his guns," she said.

Police were called after Emery began shooting and cursing.

400,000 Parade In Anti-British Demonstration

Cairo, Nov. 15 (CP)—An estimated 500,000 Egyptians Wed. joined in a "holy" anti-British demonstration, then folded their banners and began to disperse peacefully.

As 100,00 watched, the 400,000 marchers paraded through Cairo to King Farouk's Abdin Palace, marking a day of mourning for 50 Egyptians killed during a month of violence over Britain's refusal to quit the Suez Canal zone.

As the parade through heavy police lines entered the palace square the crowd obeyed police instructions and began to drift slowly away in small groups.

The marchers, like the 100,000 who paraded peacefully at Alexandria yesterday, were under government orders to keep silent.

The parade was led by aging Prime Minister Mustapha El Nahas Pasha. Press reports said he marched against the advice of doctors.

Other political leaders, members of parliament, judges and lawyers also were in the head of the huge but disciplined procession.

Wafd Amin El Hussein, the former grand mufti of Palestine, marching along as did delegations from Iraq, Pakistan, Indonesia, Morocco, Afghanistan, Tunis, Jordan, Palestine and the Sudan. Also in the parade were some 300 Moslem high priests and representatives of Egyptian Christian sects.

FORCE RELIEVED IN JUNE

Wellington, Nov. 15 (Reuters) —Prime Minister Sidney Holland announced today that New Zealand's "force serving in Korea will be relieved by June 1, 1952." An immediate call would be made on volunteers to replace the present force, he said.

Church Union Subject of Study By Churchmen

Montreal, Nov. 15 (CP)—Most Canadian churchmen agree they should work towards church union in Canada through the Canadian Council of Churches. But the body's annual convention yesterday showed there is some disagreement about how the job should be done.

One group wanted to hold annual conventions every two years with frequent regional conferences to promote church union. Another party felt annual conventions provided a better chance for church men to get together for action.

The council adopted by a 30-4 vote the plan for a general meeting every two years with regional conferences in between some debate. Then it empowered its president, Dr. William Barclay of Toronto, to set up a committee to study the possibility of giving the council wider powers.

The council also heard an appeal from Dr. Barclay for help from this country for the world's 77,000,000 homeless people.

He described such help coming from several presbyteries in the United States where congregations have adopted at least one refugee family and provided home, furniture, food, clothing and work until settlement is complete.

The Outsiders

By Jane Abbott

As the thunder sounded, there was a concerted move to rush everything from the porch into the kitchen. In the kitchen no one tried to talk above the almost continuous roll of thunder. Ellen went to a window and stood there, watching the storm and Chris Cameron joined her but they did not say anything to each other.

"John, that window is the office that leaks."

It would take John a little time to stuff a towel into the cracks in the frame, as he'd done in other rainstorms.

John left the room. She moved close to George, slipped her hand into his pocket. It was a game they'd played before—he'd put his hand in and squeeze hers or bend her fingers back or tickle her palm. But now he drew away from her, muttering from a corner of his mouth, "cut it out, Lyn."

John came back into the room. "No damage—rain's coming the other way."

Then the storm stopped as suddenly as it had broken. Chris said to Jeremy "think we'd better take advantage of this and walk along home?"

George brought out Elisa's coat and his own. "A swell party Mrs. Streeter."

"I enjoyed it ever so much. Thanks for inviting me," said Elisa.

Marilyn forced a show of gaiety.

"Try I'll be seeing you both soon!" But after they had gone she stood very still at the kitchen table, picturing the intimacy of their ride through the dark. She'd only ridden with George in daylight, when anyone could see.

John picked up the alarm clock and began to wind it. At the ringing sound it made, Marilyn swung around on him.

"You won't need to set the alarm very much longer! What you said to George—the way you said it."

John put the clock down on the table. "Even if I lose my job at the mill, I won't be sorry I said it—the way I said it." He spoke the harsh tone he had, then "going to wash these dishes? I'll dry."

"I'm leaving them —I don't want to look at them now!"

John came around the table, close to her. He moved to put his hand on her shoulder, then let it fall to his side. "Just what is there between you and Culbert?"

The unexpectedness of the question, and the tone in the way in which he asked it threw Marilyn into confusion. Though, after the night, she could say in all truth, "there's nothing," she wouldn't for that would be acknowledging it to herself and she was not going to do that—not yet! She loosed her head in a little show of defiance. "I don't know why you're asking me that, now!"

"One time is the same as another. I'm not blind, Lyn. I saw the way you looked at him tonight. Will you answer me? Is there anything?"

She drew in a little breath. "If I do like him, It's your own fault!"

John said "probably it is" and turned and walked out of the room.

"Look at the stars—how close they seem," said Chris as he and Jeremy looked up the road.

Jeremy looked up at the night sky, spread with stars, but she could find no voice to comment on their brilliance. A wretchedness of spirit, worse even than that which she had suffered when she left Elisa, filled her.

That He she had told—it had come out almost before she knew she was going to speak it, though that didn't make it less a lie or less frightening.

Chris talked of the telescope he planned to have at his place some day. "When I get it rigged up, you must bring your children to look through it."

Her throat closed tighter. If he knew, he wouldn't ask her to come and look through his telescope! When he knew . . .

That would be her punishment —to confess her lie to him. He'd have no alibi for her when they were playing that silly game, and her from showing herself up a perfect fool! Nine to her all through the horrible evening. And now he was going on talking and not noticing that she couldn't say a word.

But she wouldn't tell him until they got to the Abels' home. She wished it were twice as far away.

Too soon they reached the path that led to the house. "Got a key" asked Chris "or don't they lock their doors?"

"I guess—I don't know—I've never been out at night."

Jeremy had stopped on the path, her face averted. "Mr. Cameron, I've got to tell you. " Her voice choked and she had to wait a moment to go on. "I told a lie to everyone tonight. I am related to Roland Penny. He's my brother, but I don't want anyone to know, so—so I said what I did."

She waited then with tensing head and fast beating heart, for his contempt. Never, never again would he speak to her with that nice tone in his voice!

But Chris said gently, "you poor kid—it can't be easy to deny a brother."

She lifted her head, her thin face, close to his, illumined. "You don't despise me? Oh, you've you're wonderful!" With that she turned and ran from him up the path to the door.

Chris waited only long enough to see the door shut behind Jeremy and then went on toward the Notch. "The kid's in some pretty tough jam with herself," he reflected, "Hiding up here from that brother, if I'm not mistaken." That would explain the tight look on her face, the almost furtive manner, that had made him wonder about her, feel sorry for her, after their first meeting. It had been an impulse springing from that pity that had led him to ask her if he might stop for her to go to this party.

"One good talk might straighten things out for her!"

Then he laughed, though there was no amusement in the sound. He was thinking of himself as the one to give the good talk, of course. Moved to it, as he'd been that day John Streeter came to his place. The old habit lifting its head again.

He did not regret that occasion with John. He had an idea he had bolstered him up some, and he felt rather certain that no other such moment would come up between them again. But with Jeremy, it might be very different.

Elinor Grammer had told him he was "wonderful" in the same over-emotional way Jeremy had cried it out, there in front of Abel's.

His concern for Elinor Grammer, that first day she had come to his study in the parish house of St. Stephen's, had been as impersonal as the concern he felt now for Jeremy. She was about the age of Jeremy, as off-the-beam. From the pulpit he'd urged his parishioners to come to him with their problems—"Did I think I was God?"—and Elinor had come. Her trouble was that she did not believe in anything; she had tried and tried, and she couldn't, she had told him. It was his first year of ministry; he'd seen it a God-sent opportunity to prove himself a worthy shepherd.

She had come again and again. She had claimed he was helping her. Then, after a few months, he had found it wasn't God she really wanted.

She was small and appealing and lovely, in a fragile way; it gaged to her.

First Bottle Showed This Man Syntona Was Different

Amazed as Herbal Compound Helped Stomach and Other Health Troubles Almost Immediately — Tired Feeling, Headaches, Dizziness Gone—Praises It Highly.

MR. J. CHARLES DICK

In recent years ailing people of all ages have turned to Syntona Herbal Compound for relief from common health disorders. Thousands of men and women tell how it aided stomach distress, food without indigestion, and overcame the headaches, dizziness, rheumatic pains, sleeplessness and tired, rundown condition. Mr. Charles Dicy, Thorndale, Ontario, found this to be the case and now he says:—

"I had stomach trouble for the past few years and consistently suffered with indigestion, gas, heartburn and nausea. I couldn't eat anything I seemed to get no nourishment from what little food I did eat and felt weak, tired and nervous. Then, too, I could rarely sleep well at night and got sick headaches and had dizzy feelings whenever I stooped over. Backache and rheumatic aches and pains set into my limbs, joints and muscles.

"I tried various kinds of medicine without getting any relief until I started taking Syntona and from the very first bottle I knew this medicine was different. It helped my stomach and at once I began to eat with a relish, my gas, soreness and heartburn ceased, my appetite improved and my cause has bothered me. Now even the headaches, dizziness and rheumatic pains do not bother me. I sleep soundly at night and feel better than I did for several years.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Belleville at DOLAN THE DRUGGIST. Find out how it can help you, too.

Elizabeth Thanks Tour Officials

Ottawa, Nov. 16 (CP) —Princess Elizabeth, in a letter, has paid tribute to the officials who had charge of the arrangements for the Canadian tour of her Royal Highness and the Duke of Edinburgh.

Text of the letter:

Now that our long journey twice across the continent is finished I want to tell you how grateful my husband and I are to you personally, to your colleagues in the special committee that has been in charge of the arrangements, and to all who have had a hand in the organization and execution of the tour, and how much we admire the job that has been done.

I know very well how much work you all had to do during the last months, and I think that the skill and care of everything has displayed is worthy of the highest praise.

We have been carried many thousands of miles in the train, in naval ships, in aircraft and in motor cars with comfort and safety, and I am sure that on no previous tour of this nature have all these means of modern travel been so skilfully blended and handled.

Throughout our journey we have constantly admired the bearing and attention to duty of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the provincial and city police. We know how much extra strain their hours have placed upon them and we are deeply grateful to them for all they have done.

I know too the enormous amount that has been done by those responsible for the press and publicity, and how skilfully they have carried out their work.

I am glad that we have had the chance of thanking personally many of those who have planned and carried out the arrangements for this tour, but I know that there are many more whom we have not had the pleasure of meeting, nor the chance to thank; may I ask you, therefore, to give to everyone our thanks, and admiration.

GOOD NEWS, KIDS

Ottawa, Nov. 16 — (CP)—Good news, school kids:

D. J. Byrnes, public school inspector for Glengarry county, told regional teachers meeting today that keeping children after school is an outmoded form of punishment.

A school is not a jail, he said. And children should not be made to think it is by making their punishment take the form of detention.

ASKS WARMER WELCOME

Ottawa, Nov. 16 — (CP) Maj. E. D. Fulton (PC — Kamloops) said yesterday in the Commons there should be a more hearty welcome for troops returning from Korea to show them Canada really welcomes them home.

Defence Minister Claxton said Canadian troops came home mostly in such small groups that it is difficult to give them the welcome that we should like to give them."

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Nov. 16 (CP) —Synopsis: The indefinite type of pressure area that was noticed over Texas on Thursday morning has developed into a well-defined storm, by this morning. It is centred near 200 miles south of Lake Erie and is moving rapidly northeastward. Associated with the storm an expanding area of rain and snow covers the eastern United States and Ontario counties bordering on the low lakes. Over the remainder of Ontario the weather is cloudy and cold and snowflurries are occurring in most sections.

Ottawa, Nov. 16—(CP)— The Bell Telephone Company of Canada, granted authority to boost Ontario and Quebec phone rates temporarily by about five per cent, today requested a still further boost on a permanent basis.

The new application was filed with the board of transport commissioners shortly after the board announced higher rates affecting 1,700 phone subscribers in the two central provinces.

The temporary boosts, it was estimated, would give the company about half the $13,000,000 additional revenue asked in an application heard before the board Oct. 24. The new application seeks another $2,080,000 to cover higher taxes. This would be incorporated in the company's application for permanent boosts, expected to be heard before the board within the next few weeks.

The $2,080,000 additional revenue would be derived from heavier charges on residential and business phones.

Residential Phones Up

Under today's increases granted by the board, residential phones will go up between 15 and 25 cents a month and business phones between 15 and 60 cents.

The company originally requested increases of between 25 and 75 cents a month for residential and 75 and $3 a month for business. Under the new application, these proposed increases would climb between 30 and 85 cents a month for residential and between 85 and $3.35 for business.

Today's temporary increases, which may give the company about $8,000,000 a year in additional revenue, will:

1. Boost the local phone-booth charge from five cents to 10 cents in large cities.

2. Increase residential and business phone rates five per cent.

3. Increase long-distance rates by five cents for calls to 25 cents on the basic three-minute charge.

Case Heard Oct. 24

The board heard the case Oct. 24 when the company argued its need for an immediate $15,000,000-a-year boost on Ontario and Quebec rates.

The company asked for increases in residential phone charges of between 25 and 75 cents a month, on business phones, between 75 cents and $3 a month.

The company application said it did not want long-distance rates increased. It felt that if these were increased business would decline.

However, the board in its judgment felt that all segments of the service should bear a share of the extra cost.

Atkinson Estate Trustees Issue Statement on Position of Star

Toronto Nov. 16—(CP)—Trustees of the estate of the late Joseph E. Atkinson today issued a statement setting out the Toronto Star's position on the Charitable Gifts Act of Ontario.

The statement was signed by the five trustees: Joseph S. Atkinson, H. C. Hindmarsh, Ruth Atkinson Hindmarsh, Alexander Stark and Frederick L. Tate.

It said the act is not an issue in the election campaign because sale of The Star is not imminent and there will be ample opportunity for legislation next year if errors to decide whether it should take place.

In view of statements by Premier Frost, campaigning for re-election of his Progressive Conservative government, "it is necessary to set down the facts."

It is the belief of the trustees that the Charitable Gifts Act should be amended, not repealed, and that the present provisions of sale should be removed."

The trustees believe that the act should provide that if the property is being mismanaged or if the trustees are failing to perform their trust that then, and only then, should the trustees be removed, or a sale take place; and we believe that the courts of this land are the only proper forums to decide such vital issues."

Since Mr. Atkinson's death the trustees had turned over to the foundation a capital amount of $3,250,000 and there will continue to be available annually for charitable purposes $3,000,000 a year.

RECREATION LACK FOR CANADIANS CAUSES CONCERN

Opposition Presses Govt. for Facilities

Ottawa, Nov. 16 —(CP)—The Conmoco expressed concern yesterday for the plight of the soldier in Korea with no place to go when his line duty is over.

Opposition members, many of them veterans, pressed the government to provide more recreational facilities for Canadian troops in that embattled far eastern peninsula and won from Defence Minister Claxton a promise that their suggestions will get careful consideration.

But he repeated what he had said once before—that conditions in Korea are vastly different and very different from the facilities for recreation which it wasn't possible to set up the same welfare and auxiliary services.

All of the recreational services of the United States and the United Kingdom were available to the Canadian troops and that the high Canadian officers there had asked for additional facilities. Everything that could be done, he would be done.

He also developed on preliminary study of legislation making a number of technical amendments to the act.

The chamber also discussed bills increasing federal annuities to $1,400 a year from $1,200 and declining with public printing.

Maj. George Hees (PC—Toronto Broadview), a veteran of the Second World War, said boredom and discontent—not fear—be the soldier's worst enemy. In Europe during the last war, there had been places where the soldier could go when on leave, but in Korea he had "simply no place to go."

Similar views were voiced by:

Capt. Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South) said that Canadian soldiers don't have to go to the Americans or the British as "charitable institutions" when they came out of the line. They should be able to go to a Canadian canteen.

Lt.-Col. J. M. Pinard (PC—Lapointe) suggested Canada might set the pattern for auxiliary services in Korea.

Capt. Howard Green (PC—Vancouver-Quadra) said he had been disappointed with entertainment in Korea. Soldiers lacked proper entertainment. Some said they could not get Canadian cigarets and were short of reading matter.

Premier Frost, touring Eastern Ontario, spoke in Napanee and Cornwall and said his administration can handle better than anyone else the problem of the impact of federal taxation on tax fields it has developed and municipal governments operate.

J. B. Jolliffe, Ontario CCF leader, asserted in industrial Hamilton, that the government is shifting the burden of taxation from the big corporations to the shoulders of already-burdened home owners.

Today the premier will be in Ottawa, Mr. Jolliffe in Toronto and Mr. Thomson in Napanee and Kingston.

Discusses Platform

Mr. Thomson, speaking in support of 17 Toronto and district Liberal candidates, discussed his platform with special reference to his proposed provincial hospital plan. He said the provincial program will be financed largely from increased stumpage dues.

"Our last Liberal government made $3,000,000 a year in stumpage dues, but at present there is absolutely no profit coming from this source. We propose to turn stumpage dues into profits and thus finance this program which will benefit everyone in the province."

Mr. Jolliffe declared that if the government is re-elected, the income-owner's burden will be increased. He said the CCF was unwilling to increase provincial taxation by taking municipalities most rising costs and the municipalities will have to make up their shortfall by boosting taxes on real estate.

Taxes were being increased because the ability of income-owners to pay. The premier was "destroying home ownership in Ontario."

Mr. Frost said his Napanee audience that a strong government is needed to meet taxation problems

4-Point Disarmament Plan, Prohibition of A-Weapons Proposed by Russ Delegate

Paris, Nov. 16 — (CP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky laid a new four-point disarmament plan before the United Nations Assembly today, including a call for absolute prohibition of the atomic weapon.

The plan calls for:

1. A commission to be set up to draft a convention before Feb. 1952, outlawing the use of atomic energy except for civilian purposes.

2. The U.N. assembly to recommend the United States, Britain, France, China and Russia to conclude an agreement to reduce their armaments and armed forces by a third within one year of making such an agreement.

3. Reconsideration by the assembly that all nations submit official information on the extent of their forces and armaments, including atomic bombs and bases on foreign territories.

Such information should be given not later than one month after the assembly recommends the banning of atomic weapons.

4. An international control organ, under over-all control of the security council, to supervise the banning of atomic weapons, the reduction of arms and the arms census.

The western plan for disarmament submitted last week called for a world arms "census" and verification, to be followed by fill the bill" he said.

progressive reduction. Atomic weapons would have been dealt with under U.N. resolutions for their control.)

Vishinsky said his four new points were in addition to the four he made in his first "peace plan" last week.

These were:

1. Immediate cessation of hostilities in Korea, withdrawal to the 38th Parallel and withdrawal of foreign troops within three months.

2. An international conference on the reduction of armaments and the banning of atomic weapons with the establishment of international control of these measures.

3. Membership of the Atlantic Pact was incompatible with membership of the U.N.

4. Conclusion of a peace pact between the U.N., Britain, France, China and Russia.

The Soviet Minister, loudly applauded as he took the rostrum, then attacked the western plan. He called it "monstrous."

He spurned the plea of the small nations to reconsider his rejection of the western plan. "It does not

Ontario Liberal Leader Tells Rally in Massey Hall Victory Certain in General Election

(By The Canadian Press)

Walter Thomson, Ontario Liberal leader, last night stormed traditionally Tory Toronto and told a Massey Hall gathering of 2,000 persons that he's sure the Liberals will win the Nov. 22 Ontario general election.

"Ontario is going Liberal again," he declared to the turbulent rally that from time to time erupted in outbursts of heckling. In an apparent reference to the hecklers, he said many persons are afraid of the prospect of the Liberals returning to Queen's Park, "but all they can do about it is keep coming to meetings like this and they're the empty barrels that they are."

Premier Frost, touring Eastern Ontario, spoke in Napanee and Cornwall and said his administration can handle better than anyone else the problem of the impact of federal taxation on tax fields it has developed and municipal governments operate.

J. B. Jolliffe, Ontario CCF leader, asserted in industrial Hamilton, that the government is shifting the burden of taxation from the big corporations to the shoulders of already-burdened home owners.

Archbishop Roy Leaves Tokyo Sunday for Home

With Canadian forces in Korea, Nov. 17 — (Saturday) — (CP) — Archbishop Philippe Roy, Roman Catholic bishop of Quebec and bishop of the armed forces, leaves Tokyo Sunday on return to Canada.

On the same Canadian Pacific Airlines plane will be Brig. Paul Bernatchez, temporary head of the Canadian military mission in Tokyo, Lt. Col. Jean Allard, (Big Jim) Stone, commander of the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Archbishop Roy left Vancouver July 16 to visit Canadian troops in Korea and Japan. He was accompanied by the senior Roman Catholic chaplains of the three armed services.

Brig. Bernatchez in December will take over Quebec army command with headquarters at Montreal. He succeeded in August he will be promoted to major-general but that time—the first promotion of a French-Canadian to that rank since 1940.

Lt.-Col. Stone's position has been replaced by the 1st battalion of the Princess Patricias, under the station schools to overcome Korean veterans to Canada at set intervals, returning them with fresh troops from Canada.

SWALLOWED POISON

Berlin, Nov. 16 (Reuters)—A man alleged to have stolen enough poison to kill 200,000 people" and then swallowed it swallowed strychnine yesterday when police came to arrest him. Police said the man said he meant to steal narcotics.

and other problems. His government had great plans in operation. Its relations with other governments were good and had the ability, the knowledge and the experience to get things done.

Mr. Jolliffe said the party elected the platform with George Challis, minister without portfolio in the Frost government, as chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, who said the planned St. Lawrence hydro development on the Canadian side of the river will be paid for entirely by Ontario, with the federal government taking care of the seaway project. The additional power would bring expansion in industry "beyond our expectations."

TWO OF THREE ESCAPED CONVICTS ARE CAPTURED

Found in Box Car At Farnham, Quebec

Farnham, Que., Nov. 16 (CP) —Two of three convicts who escaped from county jail at St. Joseph de Beauce Wednesday night were captured in a railway box car here last night.

Picked up were Rene Larche, 39, Ottawa, and Delphis Hamel 26, Quebec. Police said they did not know where the third man, Jean-George Ethier, 33, Montreal was hiding, but it is possible that he is in the neighborhood.

Police said they had been watching the railway yards for the men and that a provincial policeman and a municipal constable captured the two during the night.

It is thought that the trio might have separated at Sherbrooke.

Farnham is about 45 miles southeast of Montreal.

The trio had been sentenced to 9 to 12 years in penitentiary on the lash for armed robbery in 1949.

Vishinsky Given Dove of Peace At U.N. Meeting

Paris, Nov. 16 — (AP) —Soviet Foreign Secretary Andrei Y. Vishinsky was given a live, white dove of peace today as he entered the U. N. assembly chamber.

Vishinsky took the dove with him to his desk in the hall. Photographers and reporters crowded around after a smartly dressed representative of a French "council for peace organization gave him the dove, which the communists have adopted as their own symbol of peace.

He shook hands with her and grinned broadly.

Then, deciding to give it to the black cat of the Palais De Chaillot, the Soviet Swedish delegate, Allan Vought, referring to the famous black feline — a symbol in Europe of luck — which often crossed the rostrum while Foreign Minister Anthony Eden was speaking on Monday.

"Oh, no," said Vishinsky, "that is my colleague."

After balancing the bird on his hand, Vishinsky handed it to an aide who took it out of the assembly hall.

KILLED INSTANTLY

Selma, Ind., Nov. 16 — (AP)— Four-year-old Arthur Anderson, Jr., accidentally discharged both barrels of a 12-gauge shotgun into his five-year-old playmate's chest yesterday, killing him instantly. Charles H. Weesner, Jr., was the victim of the accidental discharge.

Many Canadian Veterans Tasting Comforts After Months in Korea

Vancouver, Nov. 16—(CP) — Canadian veterans of Korea have a tough enemy—tougher than the Germans said many of the veterans were tasting Canada's comforts again today after months of action in Korea.

A contingent of 302 Canadian fighting men yesterday poured down the gangplank of the United States transport Pvt. Joe P. Martinez. Most were Royal 22e regiment overseas nearly one year ago.

Many were met by friends and relatives who had not known they were in the area. A special train is taking the easterners towards their home.

Following the leave, the soldiers may get their discharge. But the army said 20 per cent of the group still like the fit of khaki and have signed with the permanent force. Others are expected to re-plist at the end of their leave.

The majority of the men are members of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

A reporter asked Pte. Albert Miller of Owen Sound, Ont., "who's tougher, the Germans or the Chinese?"

"I'd rather fight the Jerries any day", said Miller, and most of the men interviewed echoed his words. They said the Chinese reds were smart, tough and tricky.

"They're darn good fighters," Miller said, then he added as he looked around at his buddies: "but so are we."

The Korean terrain was described as worse than Italy.

An estimated 6,000 persons watched the Canadians march the small parade route to the saluting base. The 2,000 American soldiers aboard the troopship, destined for Seattle, traded good natured wisecracks with the Canucks as they raised their platoons.

But when the order "quick march" came, they raised a mammoth cheer for their fellow-veterans.

$300 Million Project For Navigation Only

Canada Will Undertake Construction Alone

Ottawa, Nov. 16—(CP)— Transport Minister Chevrier today gave the Commons notice that on Monday he will propose the establishment of a special government agency to build the St. Lawrence seaway.

The agency, forecast in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the session, will be called The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority.

It will have power to build and operate the waterway between Montreal and Lake Erie, to set tolls for shipping and to borrow up to $300,000,000.

Latest cost estimates on the seaway are that the federal government would have to spend between $250,000,000 and $30,000,000 on the navigation phase of the project if the United States government does not participate.

The U.S. government's entry into the plan has been stalled for many years by Congress. The Canadian government has decided to go ahead alone if the U.S. cannot join.

The proposed seaway authority will not participate in building the power development of the seaway, estimated to cost around $400,000,000.

This would be undertaken by the province of Ontario and the appropriate United States authority which would share the cost and the 2,200,000 horsepower of electricity from the international rapids section of the river.

Two Destroyers Pick up Liner In Atlantic

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Nov. 16 (Reuters)— Two destroyers from Britain picked up the liner Empress of Scotland, with Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh aboard, off Northern Ireland about noon today.

On sighting the royal liner, the destroyers, Crossbow and Zambesi dressed ship with the royal ensign at the masthead and swung into position to escort them home from their North American tour.

The Empress of Scotland with Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh aboard, off Northern Ireland about noon today.

Londoners are expected to give the royal couple a welcome Saturday afternoon as they drive from the railroad station to Buckingham Palace.

FIREMAN INJURED

Chicago, Nov. 16 — (AP) One fireman was injured last night when a $1,000,000 fire swept through a seven-storey mattress factory on Chicago's south side. Flames destroyed the Superior Sleeprite Corp.

500 Canadian Soldiers March Through Streets

Hannover, Germany, Nov. 16 (CP) —The first full units of Canada's 27th Brigade drove last night through streets lined with fraternizing lighted shop windows to launch their concerts as part of Europe's growing military wall against communism.

Darkness had descended before the 500 soldiers, warm in battle dress, greatcoats and full kit in the mild November night, marched off a parade square into permanent German barracks situated 40 miles west of the nearest Russians.

The half-hour trip from Rotterdam through the green fields of rural Holland and Germany and such cities as Utrecht and Osnabruck, brought them to the area where they will spend the winter in the final phases of training for participating in Exercise Lionheart next year.

As the smart looking soldiers from ordnance, medical and other support units left the British military train and marched through the station—battered by allied planes but since rebuilt—probably 1,000 Germans civilians stood watching in silence.

Canadian officers who have been here for some weeks said the Germans have shown considerable interest in the arrival of the Canadians. Newspapers have been playing up their arrival.

The soldiers arriving today came through the area where the Canadian army operated during the war.

The service was held in Trinity Anglican Church with the Rev. R. C. Secker, rector of Stirling and Frankford, presenting the candidates.

OFFICIALS SAY HUNTING SPOTTY

While a number of hunting parties have been and are getting their quota of deer, the hunting generally is spotty, a Department of Lands and Forests official said today.

While a party in one section will shoot its quota, another party in another area will get fifty per cent. "The next few days will see the situation reversed," he said. Bags vary from forty to sixty to 100 per cent in various sections of the deer-hunting country.

CASE ENLARGED FOR TWO WEEKS

Appearing on a charge of having carnal knowledge of a 13-year-old girl, Robert R. Powell, 19, of Niagara Falls, the case enlarged for two weeks when he appeared in Magistrate's Court before Magistrate T. Y. Wills Thursday. The charge was laid by provincial police at Belleville on complaint of the mother of the young girl. Powell was brought back from Niagara Falls to face the charge.

NEED ASSISTANCE TO HANDLE TEAMS

With the bantam hockey teams turning out for their first practice tomorrow morning at Memorial Arena, minor hockey officials are looking for more assistance to handle the six teams. Players of big "teams, or any others who are willing to help the BHA minor hockey people with their job are asked to report to the arena a few minutes before nine o'clock. Practice will start at nine, it is stated.

POLICE BLOTTER

Vacated only a matter of weeks ago, the windows at the former old people's county home in the east end of the city are already becoming a target for missile smashers police were informed last evening that they had been smashed at the building through windows being smashed but nothing else was reported damaged.

City council has authorized the hiring of a caretaker for the former county home until some disposition is made of the property by the city.

Police requested two panhandlers to leave the city. One man was stopping people on the street asking for the price of a loaf of bread, the other went a bit further than panhandling and was caught shoplifting in a local novelty store. Several pairs of shoe laces were found on his person.

ANCIENT FESTIVALS

Eisteddfods, or festival of music and poetry, have been held in Wales for more than 1,000 years.

Only Few Ballots Cast at Advance Polls in City

Only a very few ballots were cast at advance polls in the city which are open Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week to accord voter for the provincial election next week.

There are two advance polls in the city this election, one at 300 Station Street, and the other at 19 Dundas East in the city hall, named "poll 1 a new one this year. Two other advance polls will be operated in the riding one at Marmora and the other at Bancroft.

Returning Officer for Hastings West, Mr. Orlah "Sandy" Lumsden, stated today that only 16 voters cast their ballots at advance polls in the city on Thursday, thirteen of these votes were at the Station Street poll.

The big advance vote was expected on Saturday according to Mr. Lumsden.

Those entitled to vote at advance polls are those who would ordinarily be out of the city on election day in the normal course of their business or occupation. These include commercial travellers, railroaders and others whose work takes them out of the city.

Noted Violinist Entertains Club

Rubinoff, his famous violin, and Prof. Makofka, piano accompanist, entertained the Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon, held in the Kiwanis Centre on Thursday.

For the Kiwanis Club he played "The Warsaw Concerto" and "Brahm's Lullaby," the former of which he considers to be the foremost English composition in the musical world today.

His parting remarks to the Kiwanians were "May God bless you and may God bless good old Canada."

Several other guests were present at the luncheon including Les Lennox, A. E. Mey, George Whitman, Howard Brooks, James Allen, Jack Kuntze, "Scotty" Malcolm, Herbert Fraser, Arthur Baldrick, C. D. Lundy, and Bill Finkle. They were introduced by Dick Kuntze and welcomed to the meeting by President Everett Fairman.

Toy Repair Shop

It was announced at the luncheon that the Boy Scouts would be operating a toy repair shop in the Kiwanis Centre from now until Christmas under the direction of Don Allen. Anyone with repairable toys was urged to contact Mr. Allan. These toys will be repaired and forwarded to the Salvation Army for distribution.

Bill Wills spoke to the club also on the forthcoming blood clinic. He stated that 250 quarts were needed from the city of Belleville to handle was casualties and to be used in other districts. The blood clinic, he added, will be at the Kiwanis Centre on the 29th of November, both on the afternoon and in the evening.

Sympathy was extended to "Bud" Punchard, by the club president in the loss of his father during the past week.

Taylor Franklin announced that a choir festival will be held on November 28th.

The attendance prize, donated by William Brown, was won by Ray Roblin.

Opposes 40-Hour Week

Ottawa, Nov. 16 — (CP) — Jean Francois Pouliot (L—Temiscounts) said last night in the Commons that he is opposed to the 40-hour week. He said: "If we have trouble in this country it is because people are getting lazy and are afraid to work."

BOTH WORTH PLENTY

Paris, Ky., Nov. 16 (AP) — This ad appeared in the Paris Daily Enterprise yesterday:

"For sale — Two Kentucky-Tennessee football tickets. I will trade for a small farm in Bourbon County. For information see or call Walter Talbott."

The Kentucky-Tennessee tilt Nov. 24 has been a sell-out for months.

On the other hand, land is expensive too. It brings from $300 to $750 an acre.

Obituary

JOHN WESLEY BELNAP

(Kemptville)

Following a short illness, John Wesley Belnap, of Rosmore, died in Belleville General Hospital, early this Friday morning. He had been a resident of the community all of his life being employed as a fisherman. He was well known and highly respected in the district, was a member of the L.O.L. in Redneerville, and was a trustee of the United Church of Rosmore.

He was born in Ameliasburg, 83 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Belnap. His late wife was the former Henrietta Wilson. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Mabel Russell, Rosmore, Mrs. William (Hazel) Brickman, Trenton and three brothers, Raymond, of Rosmore; Elwood, of Belleville; Frank of Rosmore; as well as one sister, Mrs. Stillman Root, Rosmore. He also leaves four grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, Campbell Street, the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

WILLIAM F. BONTER

Marmora —After an illness of short duration, William Frederick Bonter died at his home in Marmora on Tuesday. He was born in Rawdon township, son of the late William Bonter and his wife, Margaret (Plaskett) and was in his 81st year. His early life was spent here until he went to Rawdon, where he was carried on a grocery and furniture business.

Residing at his Frankford business, he went to Netherhills, Sask., where for a short time, he carried store for about twenty years. He was also in business in Saskatoon for a short time. He next engaged in prospecting in Northern Manitoba for a few years. He and two brothers staked a property, which is now a very rich mine, but owing to the depression in the west, they were unable to complete the development work and abandoned it.

About twenty-five years ago he joined his brother John in operating the limestone quarries property just north of Marmora village. They developed a large business. A few years later he purchased a lot at Malone, now operated by his son, W. F. Bonter Company, which he carried on as a personal business for several years. He made contacts with the paper mills for large quantities of chalk marketed here and also sold it for other purposes. The business became a large and prosperous one and future prospects are bright.

Married Four Times

The late W. F. Bonter was married four times. His first wife Mary Barton of Rawdon township was married to him and died a year after their marriage. His second wife was Orpha Hogle, also of Rawdon township. They had two children, a daughter Margaret, who died in infancy, Priscilla, of Clarkston, Ont., and one son, who passed away at an early age. Later he was married to Mrs. Minnie McWilliams (nee Minnie Allen), of Carlton Place. His fourth marriage was to Mrs. Clara Hamilton (nee Caverley) who survives him.

Deceased is also survived by three sisters and four brothers, they are Mrs. Jane Airhart, Marmora; Mrs. Susan Meehan, Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Mrs. Charles Lumniss, Marmora; John and George of Rawdon and Richard of Marmora village and Arthur of Fenwood, Sask.

The funeral will be held this Friday afternoon proceeding from his late residence on Big Gill St., to St. Andrew's United Church, where service was conducted by Rev. L. G. Craig.

The funeral was under the auspices of Lodge A.F. & A.M. No. 32 of which deceased was a member for many years, assisted by Marmora Lodge No. 222.

Interment was in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

Rubinoff Gives Varied Concert Before Large Audience in BCI

By EUGENE LANG

For the second time in the space of four years the Kiwanis Club of the city presented the popular and well-known violinist, star of stage, screen and radio, David Rubinoff in a recital of favorite pieces, known to young and old alike. Mr. Rubinoff appeared twice before large audiences during afternoon and evening, in the Collegiate auditorium, besides appearing throughout the day at five public schools during the morning. Assisting him as accompanist and associate artist was Prof. Alexander Makofka, pianist.

During his career in the U.S.A., Rubinoff has appeared as soloist with many popular band leaders, comedians and personalities having, to his radio audience, hence his name is well known to practically every radio listener. He has given popular concerts continuously during the past eight years throughout the U.S.A. and Canada.

He is the proud possessor of a renowned Stradivarius violin, reported to be worth $100,000 and one which has had a varied history in its many years throughout Europe since it was created by the famous Cremona Maker, Antonio Stradivarius in 1721.

Popular Selections

His choice of selections for his recital was one which was sure to appeal to the taste of the masses, containing as it did a wide range of aesthetic value contained therein. It must be mentioned also, that he has a rare command of his instrument, and is capable of producing many unusual effects, from the sublime to the ridiculous. Combining his technical gifts and his supreme quality of tone vibrato, it is no wonder that he can perform adequately any composition required of him. His amazing dexterity and control are too well known to require further comment from the writer. On several occasions he produced a remarkably smooth and mellow tone, and at other times, a series of sounds of rasping and disconnected phraseology.

His entire program was made up of arrangements and transcriptions of solo and orchestral works, (with the exception of two numbers) that were better left in their original form. Giving the benefit of the doubt to the arranger and performer, these transcriptions would have been better if some degree of taste and discernment had been shown in the thematic and schematic thoughts and intentions of the composers.

But it is apparent that the arrangements rendered were without any due thought to the intrinsic beauty of the compositions themselves, with the result that, instead of any thought of purism and sensitive definity the numbers were made to sound like mere pieces of hashed, mutilated, ambiguity, lacking sense of balance, proportion of contrast and even projection necessary between soloist and accompanist, especially in the case of violin and piano music, a "must" that should be strictly adhered to.

Displays Ability

The two works that fared the best were the "Hora Staccato" of Dinicu-Heifetz, a native of Roumanian folk song of rhythmic and melodic appeal, and the popular "Souvenir" of Drdla. Two other compositions that were Rubinoff sure-fire applause lissens were the Nina Variations on the popular song "Don't Fence Me In" and his own composition "Fiddling the Rails," both executed with great agility and surety by Mr. Rubinoff, in these four compositions Mr. Rubinoff displayed both his musical ability as a performer and intellect as a composer, all works being very nicely done (excluding the unnecessary circus type grimaces and shadow boxing between violinist and pianist) and warmly received by the large audience in attendance.

Premier performances were listed on the program for such numbers "Warsaw Concerto" of Addinsell, "Clair de Lune" of Debussy, and "Rhapsody in Blue" of Gershwin. The first and last mentioned works, along with another "first" violin solo rendition of the Chopin Op. 53 "Polonaise" were a decided descration due to the message set forth by these compositions in the original compositions, and added nothing but confusion. The "Clair de Lune" fared some better, but Debussy said all that could be said in the original piano version, so why ruin an otherwise beautiful work.

Sloppy Piano Tricks

The assisting pianist, Prof. Makofka, played four numbers, all transcriptions, and poorly delivered and executed none at that. For instance in De Falla's overplayed "Fire Dance" even the rhythm was distorted, to the final measures beyond comprehension. Prof. Makofka should have played at least one original piano selection, instead of the numbers chosen, meaning one that could show his pianistic abilities. He is credited with the largest memorial repertoire of any living pianist—that is definitely debatable.

In conclusion it must be stated that there was entirely too much stamping of feet by Mr. Rubinoff during his playing, undesirable that even the most uninitiated listener was overly aware of it. Why? Other violinists don't resort to such eccentricities.

All in all, it was apparent that either Mr. Rubinoff was playing down to the audience, no original fault, in view of any type he sing given, or he was not capable of attempting such masterpieces of which he has been lauded by hundreds exist. It was a good light for which not one to remember for many hours after leaving the auditorium.

Regiment Will Deposit Colors On Sunday

On Sunday morning an armed military officer will walk to the door of St. Thomas' Church, draw his sword and knock on the door with its pommel. The doors will open and the warden of the church will ask his pleasure. The officer will seek permission to deposit the colors of his regiment in the church. It will be granted.

That is but part of the ancient ritual that according to British military tradition, marks the depositing of regimental colors in holy edifices.

The colors of the famous Argyll Light Infantry, well-known regiment of this city, now designated an artillery unit the 8th Anti Tank Regiment (SP) RCA (ALI) will be deposited in St. Thomas' Church on Sunday with all the colorful impressive ceremony that attends the ritual.

The 8th Anti Tank Regiment will hold a church parade prior to the ceremonies. The service will be conducted by Hon. Major Archdeacon Ven. Arthur Smith, chaplain of the unit.

The general public is cordially invited to attend the ceremony to witness the ceremonies, at 11 o'clock on Sunday.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Nov. 16 (CP) —Trimmer early afternoon support today pushed stock market prices from a sharp noon decline. Industrials opened mixed but turned downward within the first hour.

Foods showed a scattered list of gains to form the market's strongest section. Retail stores drew firm support while utilities, steels, liquors, banks and miscellaneous industrials held gains and losses in balance. Agriculturals and rectifies weakened while papers, constructions, refining oils, and manufacturing companies dipped sharply.

Western oils weakened steadily after a brief opening rally. Canadian Collieries, Canadian Atlantic, Kroy, Model, Central Explorers, North Canadian Oils, Scurry and Vulcan ported declines to about 20 cents.

Base metals made little headway. United Asbestos, which closed $1 lower yesterday following published unofficial reports of low ore values, regained half its 40 cent morning loss. Consolidated Smelters slipped fractions.

Senior golds posted five losses ranging from pennies to 50 cents to new 1951 lows, prospects and holding companies weakened.

Lower Cigaret Sales Cause Plant Lay-offs

Montreal, Nov. 16—(CP)—More than 300 tobacco workers were laid off by Imperial Tobacco Company Limited at their Montreal plant today because many Canadian smokers have reduced their cigaret purchases.

A total of 150 girls and 61 men was involved in this morning's staff cut, according officials of the Tobacco Workers' International Union.

A company spokesman for Imperial said the lay-offs were due to sales resistance and the company's concern over increased inventories.

The company spokesman said the Montreal plant produces a large proportion of Imperial's output for distribution in all provinces but Newfoundland. Although sales resistance is sharpest in Quebec, it is general and widespread throughout the country.

The heavy fall in sales in Quebec was said to be due to two factors.

Largely because of taxes, the price of Canadian cigarets is higher here than elsewhere in Canada, and Quebec's geographical position makes smuggling of United States cigarets more widespread.

The R. C. M. P. announced the day that they had seized about 330,000 smuggled cigarets at Hemmingford, Que., last night and arrested Jean Marc Gravelle, of St. Jean de Martha, near Joliette.

Ottawa Dairies, Union Oppose Cash-Carry Milk

Ottawa, Nov. 16 — (CP) — Major dairy companies and union representatives lined up today in opposition to a cut-price cash-and-carry system of milk distribution begun by one small Ottawa dairy.

M. J. Scoble, secretary - manager of the Ottawa Milk Distributors Association, said the cash-and-carry system would entail no saving so long as deliveries had to be continued on some routes. The association is urging adoption of a three-a-week delivery system to cut distribution costs.

His statements followed an announcement by a small Ottawa dairy, (Stinson's Dairy Ltd.) that it would supply milk to stores to be sold on a cash-and-carry basis at 17 instead of 19 cents a quart. Jack Carson, assistant manager of the dairy, said response to the cash - and - carry setup had been very good."

itable causes. The foundation paid out 4a charity $290,000 and had commitments of $153,000 for a total of $440,000.

The trustees voluntarily inaugurated the practice of publishing annual operating statements so the public as well as the government would know the foundation's position.

The Toronto Star Limited, as a commercial organization publishing newspapers, did not receive any special tax consideration. In the year ended last Sept. 30 it had paid in realty and corporation taxes more than $1,000,000. Because the papers were left to the charitable foundation, Mr. Atkinson's estate escaped about $5,000,000 in succession duties. Against that the statement set the transfer of $3,850,000 in capital to the foundation and said the amount is added to each year.

Fund Executive Hopeful Quota May be Obtained

At noon today the Red Feather Campaign had reached a total of $18,100. The executive is still hopeful that before the official closing this evening the balance will be obtained, but recognize that the critical stage is still the last few hundred dollars. The public, business people and employees are urged to do their full share in getting in their contributions. Some of these, because of circumstances, will be delayed but this should not deter anyone from making a donation. The headquarters at the Y. M. C. A. will be open for several days to clean up the details of the campaign.

WHY THE CHANGE?

Will this country continue to be known as the Dominion of Canada, or simply as Canada? The present federal government seems to entertain feelings of hostility toward the euphonius title "Dominion of Canada," as well as toward the adjective "royal."

Only recently, the Dominion Elections Act was changed to the Canada Elections Act; the Dominion Lands Survey Act became the Canada Lands Survey Act. The word "royal" has disappeared, or is disappearing, in such expressions as "royal mail." Only about a week ago, Prime Minister St. Laurent announced that this country was no longer the "Dominion of Canada," but simply "Canada."

There are several different stories as to who chose the title "Dominion of Canada." Some say it was Sir John A. Macdonald. Others say it was Sir Leonard Tilley. But there is no dispute about the title having been chosen by the delegates from Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia who were assembled in London to discuss with the British government the details of the British North America Act. One of those who were later to become known as the Fathers of Confederation came upon the following verse in the seventy-second Psalm: "He shall have dominion from sea to sea and from the river to the end of the earth."

The word "He" as used in this verse of the psalm does not refer to the king of England or any other temporal ruler. Whoever read that biblical verse and was inspired by it must have had a prophetic vision, because a century ago, Canada did not stretch from Atlantic to Pacific, although it does now. But when the Fathers of Confederation were deliberating about the new land's status and its title, Canada did reach from the Gulf of the St. Lawrence to the end of the earth (the north pole.)

The Sudbury Daily Star believes that the "dominion" part of Canada's title is here to stay as long as the British North America Act is with us, unless Section 3 of the British North America Act itself to prove its point, as follows:

"It shall be lawful for the queen (Queen Victoria) by and with the advice of Her Majesty's most honorable privy council, on addresses by parliaments of Canada, on and after the day therein appointed, not being more than six months after the passing of this act, the provinces of Canada, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick shall form and be one dominion under the name of Canada; and on and after that day those three provinces shall form and be one dominion under that name accordingly."

Lawyers may argue and politicians may wrangle about whether we are "the dominion of Canada" or not, but most laymen will probably agree with the Sudbury Daily Star that as long as the title "Dominion" is authorized by the act by which the country was founded, it has a strong claim for recognition.

Besides, the word "dominion," especially when it appears in such phrases as "the first of the great dominions," has a fine, sonorous ring which makes us want to preserve it for use by people who will be here long after certain disruptive influences are forgotten.

MOTOR INDUSTRY PAYS

During the first nine months of the current year, the Canadian automotive industry paid out $117,145,000 to the federal government in sales and excise taxes.

During the same nine-month period, total wages and salaries paid by the Canadian automotive industry were $502,817,000.

In other words, the automotive industry is paying more in taxation than it has left to pay in wages and salaries. The foregoing figures do not take into consideration the other taxes and wages paid by the automobile companies were also subjected to income tax and other forms of taxation.

AFTER BIGGER GAME?

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill said the other day that he will "pigeonhole" plans made by Defence Minister Emanuel Shinwell, in the recently-deceased British Labor government, to adopt a .280 calibre rifle for use in the British army.

Mr. Churchill's remarks indicated that he favors either the .300 Garand used by the Americans or the .303 Lee Enfield which the British now use.

Maybe Mr. Churchill prefers a bigger gun than Mr. Shinwell because he is going after bigger game, or perhaps because he is a bigger man.

I TAKE A WALK

"Oh, I should be sit work," said I.
"It's such a pretty day," said she.
"There's not a cloud in all the sky.
I thought you'd take a walk with me.

"If you would take me by the hand
There are some shops nearby," said she.
"And sit the windows we could stand
To see whatever we could see.

"And maybe we could find a shop
Where chocolate candy you could buy,
And there it would be nice to stop,"
I ought to be at work," said I.

The little girl began to cry.
And tears are weapons that I dread.
"I ought to be at work," said I,
"But I will take a walk instead."

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

Nov. 15th., 1931

Muskrats are building their houses low according to a resident of Thurlow township. This is said to mean that the winter will be mild. If the muskrats build their houses high above water level a hard winter sets in early and continues late according to our Thurlow resident. The truth of this will be known by next April — so make a note of it.

Mr. R. I. Shapiro is spending a few days in New York City.

Miss Margaret Hudson of Toronto, formerly of this city, will leave shortly for Jamaica where she will spend the winter months.

Mr. Jack Norris spent the weekend in Ottawa.

Miss Irene Allen is visiting friends in Toronto.

30 YEARS AGO

Nov. 15th., 1921

A local branch of the Ontario Trustees' and Ratepayers' Association has been organized for the Inspectorate of South Hastings, Trenton and Belleville with the following officers: — President, G. A. Bennett; Vice President, Fred Robinson; Executive Committee, — Arthur McGie and Fred S. Deacon, Belleville; N. M. Mayhew and W. Abbott, Trenton; C. H. Foster, Deseronto; George Pollard, Frankford; Percy Mott, Sidney township; C. W. Pitman, Thurlow township; Byron Emmons, Tyendinaga township. A meeting will be held in the town hall at Cannilton on November 23rd., and will be addressed by prominent educationalists from Toronto, and an evening session will be held in the high school at Belleville. Trustees, ratepayers and others interested in the schools are invited to attend.

A campaign will be commenced next week to raise the sum of $5000. for the local Y. M. C. A.

40 YEARS AGO

Nov. 16th., 1911

Mr. Harry Pringle has returned home after spending a few days in Ottawa.

Messrs. J. W. Johnson and W. C. Mikel, K. C., addressed a political meeting in Cobourg on Wednesday evening.

Messrs. Sam Weddon, Fred Hart, W. C. Reid, George Harris and W. Jeffers Diamond are attending a meeting of the Ontario Horticultural Society in Toronto.

Mr. W. J. Magrath, a former resident of this city and for the past five years a resident of Edmonton, Alberta, has been asked to run for the office of mayor in that city.

The Rev. J. S. McKay and Miss McKay of Neemuch, Central India, are the guests of Mrs. D. V. Sinclair, Willetts Street.

50 YEARS AGO

Nov. 16th., 1901

Mr. J. S. McMurrery, who left here a short time ago, is now organist and choirmaster of the North Main Avenue Baptist Church in Scranton, Pa.

At a meeting of the Belleville Hockey Club which was held at Hotel Quinte the following officers were elected: Hon. President, Z. Gus Porter; First Hon. Vice President, W. D. Chisholm; Second Hon. Vice President, J. V. Jenkins; Third Hon. Vice President, Thomas Lewis; President, W. J. Thomson; Vice President, Harvey Beatty; Secretary, Herbert A. Fish; Treasurer, F. Dolan; Manager R. Parker Parker; Executive Committee, — Dr. A. E. MacColl, William Carrow, Charles N. Bulman, P. Flagler, A. Carroll, W. Haslip, W. B. Deacon and Harry Burrell. It was decided to enter two teams in the Ontario Hockey Association; one in the Intermediate and one in the Juniors.

DANGEROUS DRIVER

Verenciging, South Africa. (Reuters)—Mrs. Dulcie du Toit was charged with assaulting a man by driving a car at him and he had to jump a wire fence. While the assault charge was dismissed, Mrs. Toit was fined for negligent driving.

BIG CONGRESS

Barcelona, Spain — (Reuters) — About 40,000 rooms in hotels and boarding houses in this district have been reserved for delegates to the 35th International Eucharistic Congress here from May 27 to June 1 next year. At least 150,000 visitors are expected.

Marines Attack Birthday Cake

The situation was well in hand, insofar as these U.S. Marines in Korea were concerned, as they crossed the 38th Parallel of a birthday cake while celebrating the 176th Leatherneck birthday. The setting was a battle-scarred ridge on the fighting front. Shortly after the picture they cut loose on the enemy with a heavy artillery barrage. — Central Press Canadian.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TAKE TIME!

Every worth while achievement has always taken time. Good things last. The early American homes we sought after because they were built to endure far beyond the life of those who built them. In the old furniture, made by hand, there lingers the invisible love and painstaking pride of each creator.

It is an inspiring sight to watch a workman take his time to do any thing whatever he attempts. You can see in his very pose the interest that he takes. Flaws may not be visible but in time they creep to the light and are discovered. They never can be permanently hidden.

People who take time to renovate their minds, to give them a change of scene, or to engage them with varied work, have the more efficient minds. People who take time out for recreation or for periodic vacations make the best workers, for their minds are not cluttered up with worries and unfinished business.

If anything is worth doing at all it is worth taking pains with and completing in the best way one knows. There is never but one right way, though there are always endless wrong ways. It pays to take time and do the thing right.

By taking time waste is eliminated. Work which doesn't have to be done over by some one else. We pay ourself in pride when we do a thing as a thing is done best possible manner. Others pay us, too, in the fair that they get out of something that we have made or done.

The old Illuminated manuscripts are eagerly sought after by those who love beauty and skill. It took time to make them so beautiful. Love went into them, for which the creators were not paid. The great frescos and old masters in painting took time — many of them took years to complete, but they will live for so long as beauty exists.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

You can employ the science of phrenology in driving your car. Look at the back of the head of the driver in front of you.

If his head is close-cropped, like a toad, with close set ears and a short neck—avoid. He is an arrogant and lawless driver. He is liable to tramp on his brakes suddenly, to swing to look in a store window as he passes. He is likely as not to turn from the left lane to the opposite another car, in doing which he will probably find difficulty with oncoming traffic, and have to jam on brakes. If you honk him, he will give you the arrogance and fury, and blame you, of course.

The next safest type to diagnose by phrenological art is the tall, pallid, lanky type, with long neck and jug ears. These are the methodical type (who believe in progressing by jerks, by stop-lights, they start very slowly. Their reflexes are slow. It takes them a few seconds to realize that the light has really changed to green. Then with long and fumbling as their heads, they grope about for the controls in the middle of the confusion in motion. Block by block, they proceed in fits and starts, never getting bolly, now slackening down, to roll along at a leisurely pace. They polish-fender erratic drivers. One thing in their favor is, if you do bump them, they are not apt to sue. Most all others while you rant, swallowing your own spittle.

Big heads as a rule are masterful and reckless drivers. Small heads are likely to be timid in the obvious thing, whatever it happens to be at any instant in ceaseless change of traffic.

Alas, it is only with men drivers that you can apply this technology. With their hats and their hair-dos, women succeed in concealing their head shapes, so that it is safest, with women, to avoid either science or intuition.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

DEFEAT OFTEN LE ADS TO VICTORY

Many a defeat in history was in the light of later events, turned into a victory. I have just been reading about General Mac-Arthur's flight from Corregidor. This looked like a retreat, but it was really a great victory.

We celebrate the Battle of Bunker Hill, but Bunker Hill was a defeat for the colonial troops. On the other hand, the Battle of New Orleans was fought after the peace treaty with Great Britain had been signed, terminating the War of 1812, and so the Battle of New Orleans was a wasted victory. On both sides during the war between the states, great victories were preceded by many shocking and disheartening defeats.
